

BURLEY RESIDENTS ENJOY GATHERINGS

Activities Enliven in Cassia County Seat as Cooler Weather Approaches

BURLEY, Oct. 2 (Special to The News)—Social activities enliven considerably as the cooler weather approaches in the Burley vicinity. Clubs have resumed work for the winter, with receptions and membership drives. The women's divisions of the various churches are all planning for special welfare work and church fellowships. Several card parties have been enjoyed during the last few days.

One of the pretty affairs of the early fall season was the bridge tea given by Mrs. Fredrick Cunnard at her home Thursday. Friends invited were Mesdames Bert McCulloch, E. Nichols, Lorin Lewis, John Brooks, Irel Gudmundson, F. D. Burdette, W. Christensen, Arde Anderson, H. E. Denn, R. L. Pence, A. M. Solomon, E. F. Wilson, George Tuckson, Thomas Taylor, Dave Taylor, and Beth Taylor.

Four tables were arranged for the bridge games and an enjoyable afternoon was spent. The home was very attractive with baskets of fall flowers. The dining table was made attractive with a crystal chandelier with bright flowers and tied with a large bow of maline in pastel shades. A dainty two-course lunch was served at the close of the afternoon. Prizes were given at each table to the one holding high score. Mesdames E. Nichols, Irel Gudmundson, Lorin Lewis and A. M. Solomon. The Presbyterian Ladies Aid society held an interesting meeting Thursday at the home of Mrs. E. C. Stephenson on Miller avenue. There was a large attendance of members. Mrs. MacLaughlin was a guest. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. E. M. Cline. Mrs. E. M. Thomas had charge of the afternoon devotion. It was decided to conduct a rummage sale Saturday, November 7, when overcoats and wool quilts will be offered at a low price for the poor. It was also voted to have a lunch served at the church this month—with Mrs. L. B. Underwood as chairman.

Mrs. B. B. Arthur was appointed chairman of the reception of the new members of the Paul school board. Mrs. C. M. Oberholzer, chairman of membership, and Mrs. C. W. Hawley, chairman on calling committees. The afternoon was devoted to making quilts for the needy. Mrs. Stephenson served tea at the close of the afternoon. The next meeting will be the missionary luncheon and program at the home of Mrs. Oberholzer with Ida Parks in charge of the lesson.

Mrs. Hozcoe Rich was hostess to a number of Rotary ladies Tuesday evening at the Rich home on Commercial avenue. After the regular Rotary dinner meeting, the party was joined by husbands and an enjoyable hour was spent playing bridge. High-score honors went to Mrs. L. H.

BURLEY SUGAR BEET PLANT STARTS SOON

Harvesting Begins in Near Future and Factory Opens Campaign in About Week

BURLEY, Oct. 2 (Special to The News)—Harvesting of sugar beets will start soon on the Minidoka tract, with the prospect of the sugar factory beginning its operating campaign October 10, when slicing is to be started. It is thought that this fall run will last about 30 days.

The Burley factory will be the only Amalgamated Sugar company mill operated in Idaho this season. Beets will be shipped here from as far west as Weiser, the other territory being the Twin Falls North and South Blue track, Oakley valley and the Minidoka project, together with small scattering outside localities.

When operating, the factory employs about 200 persons in all departments, including the receiving factory, operation and office. Two carloads of coal are burned a day. There will be two shifts or workmen, running the plant both day and night. About 400 acres of beets will be harvested for the factory, for which growers will receive $4 a ton with a 50 cent bonus if the sugar content exceeds 17 per cent.

The sugar beet committee of the Minidoka project, adopted the same scale for loading and loading boats as set by the Idaho Beet Growers. This is $7.50 an acre for a 10-ton crop, with 50 cents additional for each ton above this amount and 50 cents a ton deducted for each ton less than 10 tons.

BURLEY, Oct. 2 (Special to The News)—Members of the Burley post, American Legion, meeting Wednesday evening, elected William H. Thompson commander. Others officers elected were A. P. Grinnard, first vice commander; Paul Church, second vice commander; George Denman, adjutant; A. L. Langland, sergeant-at-arms; Paul Rutter, service officer; H. O. Hall, chaplain; H. C. Dizonbach, historian, and I. H. Har-

FILER SOCIAL GROUPS ENJOY MANY SESSIONS

FILER, Oct. 2 (Special to The News)—Several Filer social groups enjoyed sessions during the last week.

Mrs. Cora Feinbacker entertained the Rebekah Kenanition club at her home Friday afternoon.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist church will hold its regular monthly business meeting in the basement of the church Tuesday afternoon. The newly elected president, Mrs. H. E. Thompson, will have charge of the meeting.

The American Legion will meet at 2 P. M. Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. H. Shovers.

Mrs. T. L. Carney entertained the Past Matrons' club at her home Thursday afternoon.

HAZELTON, Oct. 2 (Special to The News)—A "lemon party" was given in connection with the regular Ladies Aid society meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. B. O. Longenecker and Mrs. H. K. Belmont. Each one present brought a lemon, the seeds were counted and each member paid 2 cents for each seed found in their particular lemon. One lemon contained 72 seeds and two had no seeds. A substantial sum was realized from this plan.

Each guest was furnished with a paper and pencil and asked to write lemon recipes or uses for lemons. On October 16, the annual harvest dinner will be held at the Presbyterian church basement. It was announced.

Seward Dunn and Elmer Riemann, Jr., were entertained at a 6 o'clock dinner at the home of Mrs. B. P. Riemann Wednesday evening, in honor of William Riemann on his birthday anniversary.

SYNOPSIS: Loved by two men, Sam had a hard time deciding between them, when she loved and accepted Peak, the popular young millionaire, because of her family's need of money. Her sister, Fourth Alderson, suddenly became wealthy through the marriage of a wealthy man, and Sam turned from play.

Chapter 25

TRACHEY

Peak could not answer Sam's question of how poverty had affected her.

"Well," said Sam, "the result has been that I've always been a charity patient. I've been forced to accept invitation after invitation that I've never had a hope of being able to return. People have even tried to give me money. I don't know what I've fallen into a very indefinite classification?"

"And what?" Peak inquired slowly. "Do you consider your classification?"

"In my opinion," said Sam, "temporarily a large, square, high-shouldered, average."

"Not," said Peak. "Nothing but ally pride."

She nodded. "It also explains why I've been so happy since Fourth made that money."

"Yes," she nodded, and then frowned. "I see that but if money was your only worry, why weren't you happy as soon as you and I got ourselves engaged?"

"He did not mean my foot. Oh, you see that money from you would just be more of the same?"

"After charity? Can't you understand that that money of Fourth's is honestly earned, is honestly mine?"

"Yes," said Peak calmly. He had himself under complete control once more. The madman had gone.

"I'll admit, though, that I had hoped that when you was due to do something else."

Sam's eyes wandered from his. "You mean that you hoped I'd come to care more about you. Well, I have come to care more about you a lot more."

"You mean more? But you can't say that you love me? Is that it?" she was silent.

"You mean Sam, he reminded her gently. "It wasn't just an ordinary kiss. It meant something. What did it mean?"

"I don't know."

"Don't you want to love me Sam?"

"I want to love you. I want to love you—terribly! But—"

"But what?"

"But I don't see how I can," her eyes were wide. "It's impossible. Peak," she said in a small, tired voice.

"He instantly knew what she meant. She meant that it was impossible for her to love him because of Freddy Munson. Freddy Munson stood in the way. Freddy's presence suddenly filled the entire summer house, and Peak recoiled as if he were struck by a hot iron."

"He said something he was bitterly to regret."

"Impossible!" The words were cold. "Why is it impossible, unless there is somebody else. There isn't anybody else, is there, Sam?"

Sam said nothing. Her wide eyes were fixed on him, and then suddenly flicked with tears.

After an interval of silence Peak shrugged and shook his head, as though emerging from a bad dream.

"Then he said roughly: 'Don't pay any attention to me. I must be crazy. Come on, let's get out of here. It's cold.'"

"They went out into the wind. The moon had disappeared and with it the pleasant little valley. As Peak had said, it was cold."

On the way home, and Sam had insisted that they go home immediately, there was silence. Both were busy with thoughts that were anything but pleasant.

Peak, puffing savagely at a cigarette, surveyed the ruin of the castle fully laid plans. In one unaccountable moment he had destroyed all the framework of confidence he had built so carefully.

No more would Sam regard him as an unassuming friend and companion. No longer would he be at ease and off guard in the presence.

He had alarmed the little side door by which he had hoped to find his way to her heart. He wondered whether there were any other such doors or whether Freddy Munson had locked them all. He wondered what Sam was thinking of him at the moment.

As a matter of fact, Sam was not thinking of him at all, although a phrase he had spoken was drumming in her brain. "Is there somebody else? Is there, Sam?"

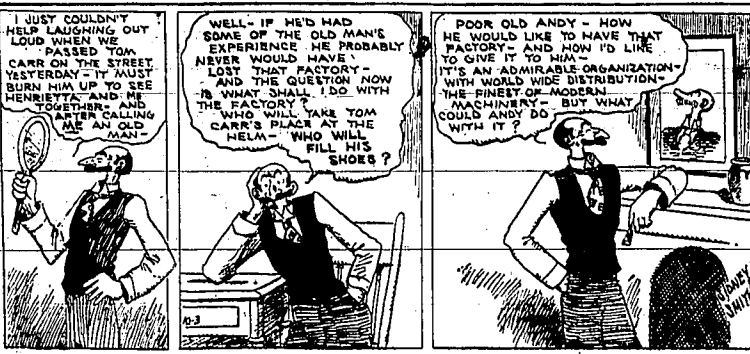

There isn't anybody else, is there, Sam?"

Sam could have cried aloud in very real pain for she was realizing—all at once—that in the weeks that had just passed—the thought of Freddy Munson had slipped further and further and further into the background of her consciousness. She had thrust it there deliberately at first—in what she had been sure was a desperate effort to forget.

The thing itself was impossible, and yet to a certain degree it had happened. In the excitement of Fourth's sudden wealth, and yet to a certain degree it had happened. In the excitement of Fourth's sudden wealth, and yet to a certain degree it had happened.

She had had forgotten when she should have remembered. She should have remembered. She should have remembered. She should have remembered.

POCATELLO LEADERS SUPPORT CHAPMAN

Prominent Democrats Urge
Twin Falls Man to Enter
Contest For Senatorship

"In the interest of harmonious action," W. Orr Chapman, Twin Falls lawyer and Democratic state committee member, has been urged to announce his candidacy for United States senatorship as early as possible. A letter received here yesterday by Mr. Chapman from T. O. Coffin, mayor of Pocatello, and J. O. Burton, state committee member from Blaine county, Mr. Burton has served several terms as a member of the state committee. He has been a member of the Pocatello city council during the administration of Mayor C. Ross, now governor of Idaho, and Mayor Coffin.

The letter in full reads:

"In the interest of harmonious action and to avoid, in so far as possible, entering upon the primaries without clear-cut candidates, and upon you that you announce your candidacy for United States senator as early as possible.

"Not only in Blaine county, but throughout this section of the state, there is a very marked crystallization of sentiment for you. We believe that your announcement at this time will go a long way toward solidifying all elements of the party here, and we both desire to urge upon you that you do not delay."

MINISTERS UPHOLD OFFICIALS' STAND

Following consultation with a majority of the members of the Twin Falls ministerial association, Rev. Ernest R. Allman, rector of the Episcopal church, secretary, with approval of a majority of the association members, and of its president, Rev. H. S. Will, pastor of the Twin Falls Church of the Brethren, last evening made the following resolutions as expressive of the sentiment of the association:

"The Twin Falls ministerial association, having observed the commendable vigilance of the city and county officials of Twin Falls county in resisting the admission of undesirable purveyors of public entertainment to operate in this city or county, desires to go on record as offering to said officials its unqualified approval and endorsement.

"And further resolves that we hereby pledge a continuance of our united support to the city and county officials of Twin Falls county in their endeavor to protect the community from and all influences that simply promote moral degeneracy for personal gain."

LARKIN HEADS BEAN GROWER ASSOCIATION

O. R. Delwiler, for several years manager of the Southern Idaho Bean Growers' association, has resigned his position and Stanley A. Larkin, Twin Falls manager of the Tri-State Bean corporation and of the Trinidad Bean and Cereal company, selling agent for the corporation, has been appointed manager. It was learned yesterday, Mr. Delwiler will be the Southern Idaho Bean Growers' association for the time being, it is stated.

MOTORIST SENDS CAR THROUGH SHOW WINDOW

In an attempt to avoid collision with a Mountain States Telephone company truck which he undertook to overtake just before the driver signalled his intention to turn to the left into the alley between the telephone company's building and the J. A. Johnson building on Eighth street north, Leo Beckstead turned his light sedan toward the curb and across the sidewalk and tore out the whole large plate glass window on the south side of the Johnson building. The car came to a stop inside the building. Glass from the broken window and windshield of the car showered about the car driver, but Beckstead escaped unhurt. He employed carpenters who boarded up the space from which the window was broken out.
