

SOUTH IDAHO FOLKS GATHER AT GOODING

Twin Falls, Eden, Kimberly, Filer, Shoshone, Richfield and Jerome Students Join

GOODING, Oct. 5 (Special to The News)—Gooding college "Harlequins" introduced the most successful football team in recent years on Friday with a dramatic rally. Mrs. O. D. Merrill played a devoted role in the first part of the evening to readings, presented by Helene Young, Gooding; Emma Adams, Wendell, Marion Crane, Richfield; Dorothy Taylor, Gooding; and Catherine Turner, Jerome.

The dramatic effort of the evening was Kenneth's play, "Back of the Yards." The theme centers around the attitude toward crime prevention of the "Back of the Yards" in New York. The players were Joseph Day, Gooding; Ed Davis, Aberdeen; Harold Johnson, Filer; Evelyn Peterson, Gooding; and Marjorie Hill, Fruitland.

At 1:30, after lunch on Saturday, alumni judges awarded two pictures as prizes to those having most attractive rooms. The honors for Twin Falls went to Leo Stokes, Burley, Utah, and Ben Carter, Eden, while Elizabeth Johnson, Burley, won the award for the girls' dormitory.

Class rivalry showed itself at 3:30 P. M. Saturday when the men of 1934 and the "fresh" teams battled in the annual tug-of-war. Led by anchor-man, Burdell Wright, Filer, the team representing the class of 1934 pulled the "fresh" through in the second time of 38 seconds.

The teams lined up as follows: Sophomores—Burley, Filer, Richfield, and Jerome; Juniors—Filer, Richfield, and Jerome; Seniors—Filer, Richfield, and Jerome. The teams representing the class of 1934 pulled the "fresh" through in the second time of 38 seconds.

Saturday climaxed with a homecoming banquet in the college dining hall. With Lloyds Klumpson, Kimberly, as toastmaster, the formal dinner for graduates, friends, and the present student body gathered together in celebration of purple and white. The program opened with an address of welcome by President E. W. Tenney, who is beginning his fourth year at the Gooding campus. Toasts were given for the alumni by Elmer Nielsen, Gooding; for the faculty by Dean Emmett Clemons; and for the student body by Winona Matthews, 33, Burley. Washington, music was presented by the Glee Club, Burley, Day 33, Jerome; and Gene Bechard, 21, Bonanza Ferry.

The alumni were introduced and a program was given. President Tenney's favorite song, "Clementine," and "Auld Lang Syne" concluded the program. An evening of athletics followed in the gymnasium. Visitors were present from Eden, Twin Falls, Kimberly, Filer, Shoshone and other Southern Idaho towns.

Dr. Tenney climaxed the week-end of homecoming with a stirring address on "Education and Progress" in the Methodist church on Sunday morning. This day, Gooding college Sunday, was observed in the eastern and western districts of the Idaho conference.

ROGERSON WOMAN GAINS CONFIDENCE. Oct. 5 (Special to The News)—Condition of Mrs. Leo Mullins, Rogerson, who became critically ill last week, was reported considerably improved this week at the Twin Falls county hospital, where she is undergoing treatment.

ROGERSON VISITORS LEAVE. HOLMSTADT, Oct. 5 (Special to The News)—B. R. Holmstad and family left Saturday for Arizona, after having spent the summer here.

The finest flowers are not found in a weedy garden

The finest things grow where only fine things are tolerated. Likewise, the finest things are made by those who make only fine things. Cheap things are like weeds. They are contagious. There is only one place where only fine coffee is produced—Schilling's! No 2nd or 3rd grade coffees either enter or leave that place. There are no cheap blends, no dual standards of quality. Schilling is the only roaster who specializes in fine coffee.

CASSIA COUNTY AGENT ANNOUNCES SEED SHOW

BURLEY, Oct. 5 (Special to The News)—County Agent W. W. Palmer is urging Cassia county growers to prepare exhibits of seed potatoes for the twenty-first annual state seed show to be held this year at Moscow, November 12 to 14. This is the first time the state seed show has been held in northern Idaho, says Palmer, and a good opportunity is offered to show potato growers of the Northwest the quality of southern Idaho seed tubers.

The annual potato show at Spokane has been called off, which gives an unusual opportunity for exhibitors to advertise their seeds to the Northwest growers and dealers who are expected to attend the Moscow show.

Entries should be made with the county agent before the end of October, thus giving time to send the potato to Moscow in time for judging, which is done before the show opens, says Mr. Palmer.

BOARD MAKES CUTS IN CASSIA COUNTY

Commissioners Reduce Wages of Clerks and Eliminate Two Aids to Save Funds

BURLEY, Oct. 5 (Special to The News)—Economy measures taken by the board of Cassia county commissioners at their last meeting included reduction in salaries, elimination of clerks and other expense saving action.

Salaries of several clerks and stenographers were reduced from $10 to $20 a month. Services of an extra clerk in the treasurer's office and of a part-time clerk in the county superintendent's office were ordered terminated. A number of telephone lines were ordered cut and others consolidated and several private telephones in officials' homes were taken from the payroll.

It was also ordered that prisoners in the county jail prepare their own meals. Heretofore the sheriff has been paid 75 cents a day for feeding each prisoner. The jailer has been instructed to purchase food supplies for the prisoners, who are to cook their own food in the jail kitchen.

RAFT RIVER PIONEER GOES TO LAST REST

Services in Burley Honor William K. Abercrombie, 80, Idahoan Since 1884

BURLEY, Oct. 5 (Special to The News)—The body of William K. Abercrombie, 80, was taken to American Falls, Sunday, by D. E. Johnson for interment in the cemetery at that place, after funeral services conducted by Rev. Charles M. Reed.

In the Johnson mortuary here, Abercrombie was one of the early settlers of Raft river valley and was identified with many of the activities of early-day development.

For many years he was a contractor for the extensive stockmen and ranchers of the time, putting up hay and erecting many of the long stretches of ranch fences. Later, he ran a blacksmith shop at Malin, moving from there to American Falls, where he also conducted a shop.

He was born in Memphis, Tennessee. He moved to Raft river valley in 1884. He married Martha Vaughn, in Missouri, and after her death, married Georgia Brown, in Idaho. He was a member of the Odd Fellows lodge, in Albion and American Falls. At the time of his death he resided with his wife, who survives him.

Other surviving relatives are a brother, Mack Abercrombie, living at Weiser, and John Abercrombie, near Beach, California. Of 12 children by his first wife, nine survive. They are: Mack, living at Malin; Sam, William, Blackfoot; John, Boulder City, Colorado; Sarah, Walla Walla, Washington; Lenore, Bellingham, Washington; Maurine, Burley; and Bernier and Margaret, Hamilton City, California.

BURLEY THEFT-CHARGED MEN TRAVEL TO JEROME

BURLEY, Oct. 5 (Special to The News)—Earl Brannan and Lawrence Stearns, charged with grand larceny for the alleged stealing of a bull from J. B. Givens, Albion, were taken to Jerome Saturday by Sheriff P. D. Pace, there to have a hearing before Judge Adam B. Barclay. They were accompanied by Adonis Nelson, Cassia county prosecutor.

The men waived their preliminary hearing before Probate Judge E. M. Wright here, asking that the matter be heard in chambers at Jerome. Two other men charged with grand larceny, Orlando Cutler and Cium Dingham, pleaded guilty and remained in jail, awaiting action at the next term of district court to be held in Burley. The latter men are charged with stealing two sheep and some household utensils and tools from Albert Mackintosh, Basin.

CROP-DAMAGE ACTION GOES TO JEROME COURT

Bull lately brought in the district court here by N. B. Martin and his wife, Mrs. Mae Martin, for $2012.40 from the Big Wood Canal company on account of crop damage alleged to have been caused by the company's failure to deliver irrigation water last year, will be brought to trial in the district court at Jerome, according to a statement reached by attorneys and paid and received here yesterday. The Big Wood Canal company operates an irrigation system in Lincoln and Gooding counties. The Martins allege damage to crops of barley, wheat and alfalfa seed, and to six shade trees on account of lack of water during the 1930 season. They are represented by C. O. Stockalger, Shoshone, and Bethwell and Chapman, of the latter city. Black and Bird, Gooding, are attorneys for the canal company.

SPEAKER PREDICTS DECENTRALIZATION

B. W. Wainman addressed an evening meeting of the Twin Falls Business and Professional Women's club at the Park hotel last night on the subject "Business Repression." Mr. Wainman said that the present condition was the result of large mergers and predicted a movement toward decentralization, which he asserted would bring about a return of prosperity.

Mrs. A. Wilson Peck sang a group of songs for which accompaniment was played by Miss Flora Bower. At the business session it was voted to donate $100 toward the swimming pool to be ready by October 1. Plans for a card party and other activities were discussed.

Guests of the meeting were Miss Annie Amey, Twin Falls teacher, and her sister, Miss Louise Amey, student here, who has been a member of the Business and Professional Women's club in Fairfield, Oklahoma.

IRRIGATION SEASON AT BURLEY CLOSES SOON

BURLEY, Oct. 5 (Special to The News)—Irrigation water will cease running in three canals of the Burley irrigation district October 18, according to announcement given out at district offices here. District directors have decided to stop running the pumps on this date, giving time for cleaning and repair work to be done on the canals and laterals before winter weather sets in.

A threatened shortage of water delivery a few weeks ago did not materialize. The volume of water delivered into the canals was reduced, but an unexpected inflow of bank water into the storage reservoir of Snake river, together with unused water acquired from other projects, combined to keep the supply of irrigation water here up to the demand. There was little damage done to crops by water shortage, except in some instances to the third crop of alfalfa.

There is a present flow of 300 acre-feet in the district canals. This will be gradually decreased until the end of the season. This year, water used by district farmers will exceed by 5000 acre-feet the amount used in 1930. Last season a total of 146,261 acre-feet was pumped into the canals.

MONTEITH DELAYS DAY OF SENTENCE

Montpelier Man Convicted of Manslaughter Gets Time For Appeal Bond

O. E. Monteith, Montpelier, Idaho, salesman, convicted of man slaughter in district court here 10 days ago, yesterday obtained a second postponement of time for pronouncing judgment which was put over to next Friday at 2 P. M. District Judge Adam B. Barclay, Jerome, granted the postponement after overruling Monteith's application for a new trial and motion for arrest of judgment. Monteith asked for time to procure a bond looking to appeal to the state supreme court.

Monteith was convicted of involuntary manslaughter in connection with the death of James Corbett Taber, 17-year-old Missouri boy who was slain while he was walking at the side of the road when he was struck and killed by Monteith's car on the highway east of Twin Falls last May 6.

The jury qualified its verdict, reporting it found Monteith guilty of manslaughter "by reason of reckless driving" and recommended "leniency." In the argument for new trial J. H. Peterson, Pocatello, former attorney general, yesterday asserted the jury clearly had endeavored to reduce the felony charge, and that if other instructions had been given by the court, the verdict would have been one of guilt of a misdemeanor. Monteith has been at liberty under $5000 bail bond since the second day following the accident.

FINGERPRINTS
 A marked diminution in the number of customers of Idaho Falls "Pop houses" is reported to have come about since the adoption of a rule requiring applicants for membership to have their fingerprints taken and made to "register" with their fingerprints.

Some people, evidently, don't like to have their fingerprints recorded. Some, including a number who have not been invited to put their fingers in the ink, have gone so far as to assert that it is an outrageous request. Still, back thirteen and fourteen years ago there were some four million American young men subjected to this "outrage," and it is not in evidence that they have been any the worse for that.

It is a little difficult to see how or why anyone who has a clear record should object to the fingerprint requirement.

A certain consequence in a situation where some towns require fingerprinting, and others do not, is that persons who don't want the fingerprints on record will flock in to share in the bounty of the towns that do not require it.

FIRE PREVENTION

In these days of seeking new ways to economize, there is one important economy which needs more attention than it has yet received. That is the matter of fire-prevention. A presidential proclamation has set aside this week as "Fire Prevention Week," and has urged that it be observed by public education and discussion of matters relating to fire losses and means of checking them.

The federal fire service presents figures that would appall the nation if they caught public attention seriously. In nineteen hundred and thirty-four there caused a loss of thirty-five million, nine hundred and eighty thousand, three hundred thirty dollars. Forty-five in Idaho this year cost not less than two and a half million dollars. The annual total fire loss of the country is more than half a billion dollars. Furthermore, along with this terrific property loss goes a still more serious toll of human life, which amounts to around ten thousand deaths a year. Most of this destruction is preventable. But it needs more dramatic presentation to the public to arouse citizens to the seriousness of the situation. What can we do about it here?

business life, superintending production and distribution.
 He would scrap national currencies and have "only one money" in the world. This would be extended immediately, because the present credit system is breaking down and the world's industrial life is being strangled. Then peace and prosperity would have a chance.
 It's all very entertaining, and not necessarily funny—no unless Wells proposes to start his dictating tomorrow morning, try looking ahead one thousand years, or one hundred, and you may find yourself thinking along some of those same lines. But first we may need another World War or two.

SPINNING WHEEL LAMPS

Gandhi seems to be putting it over in America, of all places. Referring, of course, to his spinning propaganda. At least, this seems to be a logical explanation for the "spinning wheel lamp" appearing on the market and in the advertisements.

In case the reader doesn't happen to have noticed the new and colorful lamp beneath whose glow a little spinning wheel fastened to the base, complete and ready to use. Can't you just imagine millions of American women buying these lamps and spending the long winter evenings spinning, spinning, spinning, and humming little old-fashioned songs to themselves, while Father reads the almanac and the boys play checkers and the girls darn stockings and crochet?

There is one little improvement, though, that the contraption will need for complete success in America. That is a tiny electric motor to run the wheel. If the manufacturers suggest it to any of the boys, and they soon rig it up.

A DANGEROUS LESSON

Editor Twin Falls News.
 Dear Sir:
 Will some one please tell me whether or not there is any provision made in the Idaho Statutes whereby a "kill" may be operated under the supervision of officers?

As I understand the intent of the Statute amendment it was not incorporated in the Constitution of these United States for the sole purpose of governing any particular class of citizens. Neither was it intended that it should be openly defied nor maliciously ridiculed. Instead, it is affirmed by every authority beneath the stars and stripes that it will be upheld at any cost.

And yet this very day, in front of the eyes of the whole nation in Twin Falls can be seen, a "still" publicly displayed, purporting to be in operation. The still is a "still" of the "chick" or "chick" variety.

I don't think it is turning out real whiskey at the present time, but I am quite sure as it is viewed, and commented upon by the children, that it adds nothing to their morals, and respect for obedience to law.

From the modern business point of view it might be considered a clever stunt in advertising. But back of that may also be seen a deeper purpose to defeat the plan of character building.

It appears to me that the sight of this contemptible thing would stain every father and mother, like a slap in the face, and the ruling authorities must stand condemned before their own conscience.

Yours truly,
 J. H. HICKMAN, Editor.

SETTLEMENT CONCLUDES DISPUTE OVER ESTATE

A dispute between brothers over their father's estate was settled out of court here yesterday after a jury impaneled in district court here had heard considerable testimony, and District Judge W. A. Beckwood had heard many arguments by attorneys over a variety of motions. Terms of the settlement were not announced, but it was provided that each party to the suit should pay his own costs. The estate involved an 80-acre tract in the town of Buhl, which was owned by W. G. Miller when he died March 10, 1928. In settlement of the estate differences arose between W. G. Miller, a son who was appointed administrator, and E. W. Miller, another son who had occupied the farm as tenant since 1921. Other heirs were a son, C. E. Miller, and a daughter, Lela Miller Messall.

The administrator sued the tenant brother for $410.37 that he claimed to have paid as administrator for taxes on the farm in 1930, and also for $300 which he claimed for the estate as two years rental of the farm.

The court sustained the tenant brother's motion for non-suit as to the three causes of action, and the lawsuit turned then on the question of reasonable rental and whether there had been any understanding between the father and the tenant son on that point. He asserted that he had expended on that account in 1929 a total of $1214.11, which, he claimed, exceeded his father's share and the reasonable rental value of $150.

T. K. Hackman, Twin Falls, was attorney for the administrator, the tenant son being represented by G. G. A. Dreibliss, Buhl, and Harry Bennett, Twin Falls.

PASTOR SPEAKS ON HUMAN BURDENS AT EVENING SERVICES

Minister at First Baptist Church Points to Sources of Relief From Trouble Visiting All Peoples

Burdens of humanity and methods of bearing them constituted the theme of a sermon delivered Sunday night at the First Baptist church here by Rev. John E. Kanary, state convention pastor for Idaho and minister of the Baptist pulpit here. He said in part:

"Everyone has burdens. They rest upon the head, they burden the soul. There are different kinds, such as sickness, sorrow, religious persecution, poverty, military, moral weakness.

"There are three sources of help. In the first place, there is the help of the individual. Every man shall bear his own burden. There are certain things in our life which we are expected to take care of himself. Parents rearing children should never shirk them from responsibility. We child is fit for life's care and tasks who does not come face to face with trying and testing circumstances and experience. We have no right to expect others to help lift our loads until we have made an honest effort. Rev. Dwight L. Moody was interested in a certain church that had a large debt. A rich member of the congregation suggested that they pray about it. The great evangelist turned to this brother and said 'Why don't you take care of it and not bother the Lord and other people especially when you are able? Some of us have the terrible malady called 'self pity.' If we would make an effort to carry our own burdens, rather than throw them on others, these burdens would become lighter, and we would become stronger."

"The second source of health is mutual helpfulness. By it, birds, bees and beavers dwell in communities and join in building their own homes. By helping others we gain strength. In spiritual service one bears his own burden, but the burden is shared. Cooperation is always reciprocal. Two persons brought together in the same trouble, bear the burden through mutual helpfulness. Helpfulness is the crucible of Christianity. The comfort of life is furnished by the combination of human efforts."

Means Brotherhood "Spiritual obligations are even more intimate which obligate us to our brethren who are in the need of help. If Christianity means anything it means brotherhood and fellowship. The strong arm is placed by the side of the weaker one and thus in loving sympathy and true brotherly helpfulness, the burdens of life are carried. The church has strong men and women whose hearts are fixed and whose faith is secure. They console the lower, built for refuge where the young Christian may be taught and the inactive encouraged and where the weak may find shelter and grow strong."

"Too many after they come into the church are left to themselves; and because of lack of proper care, slowly pass from their first love and devotion and are no longer equalized; for largely because the stronger failed to support the weaker. A boy was selling birds. A passing stranger bought them and opened the cage and the birds flew away. The boy asked 'What did you do that for?' To this query the man replied, 'It was once a captive and I know what liberty means.' We who have been captive in hardships should sympathize with those in the struggle."

"A third sort of assistance is divine. Cast thy burdens on the Lord and he will sustain thee. Some burdens we cannot carry alone, and the help of other people is not sufficient. For this reason Christ came and not only to save from sin, but to help in Christian living. A deacon was a Hungarian waiting on the tracks of the railroad carrying a huge pack and shouted: 'Get off the track or you will be arrested.' There upon the pack a carrier produced a ticket good over the entire line. He thought the ticket only gave him the right to walk over the line. "To see that justice was given this young man, Hale took off his judicial robe and donned the clothes of a miller. In order that he might receive an inheritance of glory Jesus Christ took off his heavenly robe and clothed himself in human flesh that he might plead our case on Calvary. 'Men like Joshua, Joseph, David, John, Stephen and Paul considered burdens gracious means to glory and end.'" brother was dead. The absent brother returned and sued for his share of the property. Judge and jury were bribed by the brother in possession. When time for trial came Sir Matthew Hale, famous English judge, had heard of the case, disguised himself as a miller, and going to the town where the case was on trial managed to get on the jury. A brother appeared and gave 10 gold guineas to each juror except the one who looked like the miller. To whom did you give five? A verdict was rendered against the brother who had been absent; but the miller, protesting after it was announced, charging fraud and claiming that other jurors had received twice as much gold as he. The judge asked him where he came from and who he was to which he replied 'I am from Westminster hall, my name is Matthew Hale, lord chief justice of England, get off the bench, you villain!'

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (U. S. A.)—Stocks were sharply skidded downward today in liquidation that seemed to be prompted much more by fear than by fact—rumors circulated widely that the market was to be liquidated, and the liquidation of a Montreal investment firm, contained nothing that threw any unexpected light on the world's markets.

There was undoubtedly large foreign selling here, but domestic liquidation contributed the main impetus to the country's most prominent equity securities. Not losses in the market from the near the late positions. October closed at $1.40, December $1.30, January $1.20, March $1.10, May $1.00, July $0.90, September $0.80.

There was no change in refined oil, but a slight decline in the price of granulated and demand light and of a hand-to-mouth character only.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (U. S. A.)—Metals: Quiet; electrolytic, spot and future. Tin: Steady; spot and future. Lead: Steady; spot and future. Zinc: Steady; spot and future. Copper: Steady; spot and future. Nickel: Steady; spot and future. Silver: Steady; spot and future. Gold: Steady; spot and future.

COUNCIL ORDERS HOLIDAY GREENS FOR LAMP POSTS

Need For Christmas Cheer
Claims Attention Along With Problems Relating to Streets and Sidewalks

Dealing with a number of problems relating to streets, sidewalks, lamp posts and signs at a regular meeting last night, Twin Falls city council took a look as far ahead as last Christmas. When councilmen agreed on purchase of small evergreen trees to decorate street lamp posts at the business center again this year. Ed Vance, Twin Falls, who offered to furnish 112 trees required to decorate the lamp posts as they have been decorated in past holiday seasons, was instructed to have the trees at least two weeks before Christmas day. He offered to supply 2-foot trees for 55 cents each. Trees seven to eight feet tall cost 75 cents each last year.

It would be pretty gloomy with out some such evidence of cheer. We can't all live up and let down. Mayor R. E. Robt. remarked when Commissioner T. J. Douglas, during discussion of the proposition, inquired whether it would be better to provide food or Christmas trees. "I don't think $50 or $60 spent for decorating the streets during the holiday season would be one of the best investments we could make," Commissioner J. E. White declared. Commissioner Thomas Sanderson concurred when other members of the council indicated approval of continuing the holiday decoration program.

Pole Awnings Up
There must be a space of at least seven feet between the sidewalk awnings and the fringe of any awning under terms of a proposed ordinance that council placed on its first reading last evening. The measure would prohibit placing of poles, pipes or columns for any purpose in sidewalk space within the first limit. It would not affect temporary structures placed on or over sidewalks during building operations, and it makes no change in requirements that electric signs must be suspended not less than 12 feet above the sidewalk. Council delayed definite action on the proposed ordinance in order to provide opportunity for hearing objections.

The council found last evening that the city as owner of two lots at the corner of Seventh street and Fourth avenue west, has been served with notice issued by the city engineer calling for replacement of boardwalk with concrete sidewalk. Some 300 similar notices calling for sidewalk repairs have been sent out during the past two weeks. The city engineer authorized to make a survey and report in the lately launched sidewalk repair program. He reported only the locations of the property where need of repairs was indicated, and an abstracter was employed to supply the names of the property owners.

Council approved the street superintendent's recommendation for installation of a street light at the entrance to the alley between Shoshone and Second streets on Second avenue north.

Council voted approval of an application made by William H. Stoops, Twin Falls road builder, for permit to construct a $4000 warehouse of 40,000 square feet, with addition south of the railroad tracks at the end of Second avenue south.

Mrs. M. H. Stoops, Vanhook, "Quincy" concerning milk bootleggers which engaged the attention of the council during conversations with dairymen two months ago has been found to be groundless. Dr. Frank T. Harris, meat and dairy inspector, told the council in his monthly report submitted last evening, "Dairies in general have been found to be in excellent condition, not only from the viewpoint of sanitation but from the standpoint of health of herds," the inspector reported, adding that "labeled as a whole the dairies here were never in better condition," and predicting that "there will be no reactors in isolation one year from today."

No ice cream, no cream cheese and very little butterfat, not made of pasteurized milk is offered for sale in Twin Falls, the inspector reported, but he advised, a great quantity of Each butter made from unpasteurized cream is offered for sale here. Due to demands of the harvest season, killing has been heavy at Twin Falls packing plants during the past month, the inspector reported, and on account of low prices, more but the best animals have been accepted for this use. The record showed there had been slaughtered in Twin Falls three places during the month 415 hogs, 230 cattle, 96 veal and 400 lambs.

Influence of crop movements also was reflected in the city weighmaster's report showing collection of 116 tons at the rate of 10 cents a load during the month.

The municipal waterworks department reported collecting $145.45 during September for water service, and $172 charged for collection this month.

COMMERCE BODY PLANS ELECTION

Board of Directors Ask
Cooperation of State
For Farm Crops Here

Many subjects relating to the betterment of Twin Falls and southern Idaho were considered yesterday at the meeting of the board of directors of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce.

Resolutions outlining plans for the annual election of directors of which six are elected each year, the members of the board in meeting last night devoted most of the time in an informal discussion of various possible means that might be taken to assist in the marketing of our farm crops. No concrete plans were proposed except that the assistance of the state commissioner of agriculture, W. Lee Johnson, will be asked in further investigating the situation in the hope of finding some methods that will help in disposing of either the bean, apple or potato crops in this community.

The board voted to send the secretary, Newell S. Wright, to represent the organization at the coming meeting in Boise on October 9 of the state and federal highway officials, while he held once each year for the purpose of outlining the program of construction on forest highways and for determining the relative importance of various forest highway construction projects which involves each time the completion of Number 1 highway in the community between Stanley and Challis.

Check the I. D. on this one. It is heavier and has better trimming than the nearest value we could find to this. Full cut, of course, and comes in pink, peach or stripes. 79c

Dry Goods Dept. New Bradley 3 Piece Suits $14.75

Newest creations by Bradley. These clever 3-piece suits are just the thing for street or business wear. Two, three and four tone colors. The materials are rough, loosely knitted and heavy nubby tweeds.

Our values are being compared to values offered elsewhere every business day in the year by our own merchandise men. "Whenever we feel that one of our offerings is out of line it is re-marked instantly." In the majority of cases our values are found to be superior to those which we compare them by.

*It is the I. D. Policy to meet all prices and all leaders of other stores. We will not be undermold and we usually underlead. But we are not infallible. Others may on occasion sell merchandise at prices lower than we do, but only until we find it out.
