CHAPMAN SPEAKS TO WENDELL GRANGERS

Twin Falls Attorney Talks to Meeting Upon Tariff, Silver and Other Issues

WENDELL, Oct. 6 (Special to The News)—About 100 persons attended an open meeting of the Wendell Grangers here Tuesday evening presided over by the lecturer, Mrs. Porter, at which an address was delivered by W. Orr Chapman, Twin Falls lawyer, prominently mentioned for nomination for the United States senate on the Democratic ticket, who spoke on current economic issues.

Mr. Chapman was accompanied by Mrs. Chapman and by Mr. and Mrs. Bert Overman, Twin Falls. Mutual selections preceded and followed the address.

In substance and in part Mr. Chapman said that throughout the history of the United States there has been a constant struggle between man and money and that the issues of the conflict have never been more clearly defined, the importance of the conflict more acute, nor the issues more sharply drawn than at the present time, and that no other generation of Americans have been confronted with the proper solution of more important questions of political economy, social adjustments, government, politics than that upon the victory of the rights of man against the rights of money. The property depends the future safety of our institutions, the preservation of our free institutions and the extent of our civilization and that each and every citizen must make his choice because his cannot escape participation in this conflict.

Citing as an instance of the alleged tendency and desire of power and greed to infringe upon the rights of man, Mr. Chapman referred to the famous "Yellow Dog Contract" involved in the Red Jack mining case, which he said was a great service had been rendered to the cause of human rights by the members of the United States senate whose voices and votes procured the rejection of Judge Parker's confirmation as a member of the United States supreme court.

Mr. Chapman discussed the economic conditions of the day and presented as the remedy for present conditions the reduction of tariffs to a "reasonable basis," the prevention of the government from menacing most of our present industries, the reduction of the cost of government, the redistribution of wealth and the prevention of the future of concentration by higher income and inheritance taxes and the re-monetization of silver.

Mr. Chapman discussed the farm board and the silver question at some length.
