BURLEY ACTIVITIES FLOURISH IN WEEK

Many Other Events Appear On Social Calendar For Remainder of October

BURLEY, Oct. 9 (Special to The News)—Burley has grown very lively this week. October promises to be a most social month. The high school is planning dancing parties as well as making preparations for a play to be given next week. Plans are being made to go to Parma next week to attend meetings of the Idaho State Fair. The high school is planning a body to a convention to be held at Burley next week. During the harvest season, many of the boys are taking trips to near-by places and to spend the time with home folk.

The women's club will meet Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Kenneth Blumner. There was a large number present to talk over plans for the coming year. The club is helping out in the employment situation and to discuss plans for club work.

An excellent program was given by the members who accepted into membership, Mrs. E. M. Wolfe and Mrs. H. R. Baker. The club discussed the subject of "The Burley of the Future" and "The Burley of the Past." The club will meet next Tuesday afternoon at 7:30 p. m. with Mrs. J. J. Henschler at the Methodist church.

It was voted to have the club president meet with the welfare board to discuss a scheme which the needy and unemployed could help harvest the crops on shares. Crops will be left in many fields due to poor weather and no cash to hire help. Mrs. Gilbert Rogers gave a splendid talk on training children how to use their money. Mrs. J. J. Henschler sang a solo, accompanied by the piano by Mrs. Ethel Metham.

Mrs. Dana Temple gave an enjoyable reading on "Maternity," dealing with the problems confronting the club women.

Mrs. Viola Blockington, Emerson, gave two piano numbers. Miss Edna Garfield gave a charming review of the Burley of the Future and reviewed Julian Burley's article from September, 1930. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. D. Stenlund, Wednesday, October 14, with "Federation" as the topic.

A few interesting facts of Burley with daughters on their birthday anniversary at the Lee home Wednesday evening. A dinner was served at 7 o'clock with covers for 10. Musical numbers and games formed the evening's entertainment. Present were the Misses Helen Robinson, Daisy Ryness, May Evans, Lucy Webster, Juanita and Beula Lee and Mrs. A. D. Stenlund. Mrs. Paul Robinson gave a very interesting luncheon was given Thursday at 1:15 p. m. with Mrs. Ben Schulte.

IT'S THE RICH NOT THE POOR.

People with money have set a wonderful example of thrift and economy for the whole country during the last year or so, or since conditions have changed. Some say a man or family has money because of their care in spending. This is true. But we believe there is a careless purchaser because of the principle involved, too. It's the rich or well to do who are the trouble and inconvenience in order to save. They do not consider it trouble. Instead, they derive great pleasure even in small shopping profits. It is deplorable that many people of moderate means often pursue a life of shortness and most expensive course when making purchases of foods. We believe any one could become well to do eventually, through exercising care in all their purchases, and especially in the purchase of foods.

SAM

BY FREEMAN LINCOLN

SYNOPSIS: The long struggle of Sam Sheriff between his loyalty to his fiancée, Peak Abbott, and his love for Freddy Munson, cannot end until she confesses to Peak. She accepted him, needing the money, before her stepfather, Fourth Alderman, became wealthy, at the time her half brother, Nelson, eloped with her maid.

Chapter 31

CONFLICTING VERSIONS
There was a long pause, and then Sam stirred uneasily. "It won't be easy," she said in a small, muffled voice. "And you're going to be late when I'm done. What I have to say isn't very pleasant, Peak."

"Don't worry about that," he said. "I'm sure you can tell me what you want to say. I can assure you that nothing you can say will make me hate you."

She turned toward him. "Do you remember," she asked anxiously, "something that you asked me last night in the hotel? You said, 'I remember quite a lot of things I asked you last night in the hotel—something about a horse running away with a young heifer.'"

"Yes," he said. "I remember. I was just at the end—just before we were married. You were asking me, 'I should have been a lawyer, shouldn't I?'"

"Please don't!" she was close to tears. "There's nothing for you to be a lawyer about. You're a good man. There was somebody else."

"Oh," he was quite calm. "So that's what you meant to tell me this afternoon. I rather guessed it at the time. I also rather guessed that you could supply his name. His name was Freddy Munson, isn't it?"

"Yes," her voice was barely audible. "His name is Freddy Munson."

"See," Peak lit a cigarette. "Well, I said quietly at last, 'let's hear about it.' Let's hear about it from the beginning."

"All right," Sam seemed calmer now, as though the hardest part of her confession had been made. "I'm not ashamed of the beginning of it. It is a long story, but I have no reason why it should not begin—something just before Christmas."

"I see," Peak lit a cigarette. "Well, I said quietly at last, 'let's hear about it.' Let's hear about it from the beginning."

MONTEITH DRAWS 2-TO-5-YEAR TERM IN STATE PRISON

Judge Barclay Sentences
Montpellier Salesman Convicted of Manslaughter;
Denies Parole Petition

O. E. Monteith, Montpellier salesman, convicted of manslaughter for the death of James Corbett "Doc" 17-year-old Missoula boy who was struck by Monteith's car last May 6, was yesterday sentenced to District Judge Adam B. Barclay, District Judge, to serve 2 to 5 years in the state prison, and to pay costs of prosecution amounting $500.

The court denied Monteith's petition for parole, but signed a certificate of probable cause for appeal to the state supreme court and released him under $500 bond pending the outcome of the appeal. Four Montpellier citizens signed the bond as sureties.

In his petition for parole, which he had never heretofore been convicted of any crime but that he had always been a law-abiding citizen of Bear Lake county, that his wife and four children, residing in 422 from five months to 14 years, are dependent upon him; that he is buying a home at Montpellier on the payment plan and probably would lose his considerable equity in that property if he were to be incarcerated. If granted a parole, he said, he would seek honest employment and in full respect obey the conditions of any parole, and not violate any law.

Verdict As Basis

The petition, Monteith said, was based on a number of letters that were submitted to the court, and also on the recommendations of the jury which found him guilty of manslaughter "by reason of reckless driving" and recommended leniency.

The sentence came after Monteith had obtained two postponements of the time for sentence, and after the judge had pronounced last week his application for a new trial and his motion for arrest of judgment.

Thor was alleged by the state to have been killed while walking along the highway west of Twin Falls, when he was struck by an automobile driven by Monteith.

MOTHER GETS DIVORCE ON NON-SUPPORT PLEA

On grounds of alleged non-support, Mrs. Esther Shaw, Piler, mother of three children, 11 to 17 years old, was granted a decree of divorce from Clarence Shaw, Galesburg, Kansas, following a hearing before Judge W. A. Babcock in district court here yesterday. Mrs. Shaw stated that she had been compelled to support herself and family by her own efforts. She asked for custody of the two younger children. The marriage took place in Independence, Kansas, August 28, 1913.

At hearing on an order to show cause in the suit brought by Sidney E. Craig for divorce from Lucretia Craig, the court directed Mr. Craig to pay $75 as fees to Mrs. Craig's attorney, and to pay her $20 a month pending trial.

SWIMMING POOL COMMITTEE ACTS

Organization Takes Steps to Secure Definite Plan
For Beginning Activity

Steps toward securing definite plans for the proposed swimming pool in the field at the Harmon Foundation, near this city, were taken at the meeting of the general committee of the city hall last evening. A special committee composed of John W. Graham, Ashey B. Wilson, A. A. Reed and R. E. Holter, was appointed to take the matter up with members of Twin Falls city council and engineers, with a view of definitely locating the place for the pool, and working out details.

The feeling at the meeting was optimistic, as more than $1000 has already been definitely pledged and it was indicated that many organizations and institutions which have not yet made definite pledges are planning to contribute.

The following definite pledges have been received: Swimmers and Professional Women's club, $100; Twentieth Century club, $100; Magician's club, $100; Kiwanis club, $500; Knights of Pythias, $100; Twin Falls Bank and Trust company, $50; First National bank, $50; American Association of University Women, $25. The Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce has promised the proceeds of an forthcoming fashion show, and the Elks club has a committee at work on the matter, it was stated.

MORONI OLSEN THINKS THEATER WILL LIVE

Moroni Olsen, well-known actor, who became popular in Twin Falls when he played with his company, the Moroni Olsen Players, has returned to Boston, after a 14,000 mile tour, to resume his director of plays at the Leland Powers School of the Theatre, in Boston.

During his trip Mr. Olsen made a thorough study of conditions of the theatre and as a result believes that there is little chance, despite the popularity of the theatre, that the theatre will die.

When interviewed in Boston as to what he thinks about the theatre, Mr. Olsen made the following reply: "My answer is a simple one: I like the theatre, I believe in the theatre and I have faith in the theatre, and I'm not particularly worried about its survival and development."

"Why? Because it deals with drama and drama in my opinion is a great life-long force. Exalting theatrical forms may change and evolve into something different, but drama itself, will live as long as man lives. It always has, because it is a part of life. It is inherent in human nature."

"Man thinks and feels—therefore he has ideas. But that is not all, man also imagines, and when these three things, thought, feeling and imagination are working within him, the cork will no longer hold. He must find an avenue of expression; he must find a means; he must find an outlet."

BONDHOLDERS GET SUPPORT IN COURT

District Judge Expects Lien
For Paving Assessments
in Granting Clear Title

A decree issued here yesterday by District Judge W. A. Babcock in a suit to quiet title to Twin Falls city property purchased at tax sale, upheld the claims of local improvement district bondholders against this property. Bonds were issued by the local improvement district to finance a street paving program 11 years ago.

The decree was issued in an action brought by Thomas Cavender against the Clear-Beam company and others to quiet title to a number of Twin Falls lots against which local improvement district assessments as well as other taxes had accumulated.

The city of Twin Falls, named as one of the defendants, is the owner of an unpaid local improvement district bond, and in behalf of other bondholders, the city, introduced an objection to the granting a clear title to the property in question.

The court's decree, E. M. Sweeney, attorney, said, had clearing the title of all claims except those of the local improvement district bondholders, and paves the way for settlement of the bondholders' claims.

MAZARENES ANNOUNCE PLANS FOR REVIVAL

Maxey, who has a wide reputation as a church scholar and an outstanding evangelist. He is dean of the Idaho Nazarene Young People's Institute. Evening services will begin at the close of the first period at 7:45 o'clock.

The two-day missionary convention of the zone, of which Mrs. Burnette Bull, is president, closed last night with an eloquent address by Rev. Maxey.
