

BEARS PILFER BAIT FROM COYOTE TRAPS

BOISE, Nov. 15 (AP)—If anyone wants 35 bears in a hurry, Guy Olivera, Nampa, will supply them. He advised the state trap commission that he will trap 35 bears within 30 days if some one will commission him. The state trap commission notified him, however, that the state was not out gunning for bears unless they were proved "killers." Olivera said the animals were interfering seriously with his coyote trapping. Bear fur, he said, is not worth the trouble of catching the animals and killing them so he does not care to handle the job but to protect his lines. The bears, he said, spring his traps, steal the bait and generally spoil the business. He promised to deliver bear pelts almost any place. If the bears are wanted alive, delivery will be made at the traps, with the purchaser responsible for moving the bear from the trap.

BITTER CONFLICT RAGES BETWEEN CHINESE ARMY AND JAPANESE INVADERS

rejected on instructions from Chang Hsueh-Liang, deposed governor of Manchuria, who ordered Ma to defend his territory to the last. The ultimatum expired at midnight. General Ma, acting governor of Hei Lung-Kiang province informed Chang Hsueh-Liang by telegram from Tsaitung, the provincial capital, of the ultimatum; the commander said.

The Weather

FORECAST FOR TODAY AND TOMORROW—Cloudy, today; rain or snow tomorrow; freezing temperatures at night.

Mercury dropped to 17.8 degrees, the lowest for the season, in the 24-hour period preceding 8 P. M. yesterday in the Twin Falls vicinity, according to the report of D. B. Chyren, government weather observer here. Maximum for the same period was 42 degrees. The day was clear and the barometer registered 28.54 inches at 5 P. M. Wind was westerly. Humidity ranged between 94 and 98 per cent.

23rd Tung-Kiang army evacuated Tsaitung and that in order to guarantee the safety of the Tsan-an-Anghsi railroad part of the Japanese army was allowed to march toward Anghsi station.

General Ma added that at the same time the Japanese began a vigorous general offensive, attacking with cavalry and artillery. Chang Hsueh-Liang immediately instructed General Ma to refuse the Japanese demands and to defend the territory to the last.

REPORT RUSSIANS MOVING

(Copyright, 1931, By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Nov. 12.—The war office today received reports that 13 carloads of Russian arms and ammunition and 2000 members of an "international communist army" have arrived in the Nomon river district in Manchuria, where Japan expects fighting to be renewed momentarily. Japanese officials declared on the basis of reports from the field that the Japanese army expects the Japanese army to be renewed momentarily. Japanese officials declared on the basis of reports from the field that the Japanese army expects the Japanese army to be renewed momentarily.

troops to ship to Manchuria. The number of reinforcements was not made public but it was understood to be about 10,000, which would put the total strength of Japan in Manchuria around 100,000. The new reinforcements will leave Hiroaki Saturday.

Information of a new battle arrived today. Newspaper dispatches said 80 Chinese were killed and 300 wounded in a three-hour engagement last night near Kungling in the north of Mukden. One of the casualties was a Chinese woman in uniform.

War office information, described as being based on "fairly reliable evidence" was that the Japanese army was sent to General Ma's Chinese command in the Nomon area. The 18 carloads, the military intelligence reported, were transported by the Chinese Eastern railway, jointly owned by China and Russia.

SEEK SAFETY

(Copyright, 1931, By The Associated Press)

TIENSIN, China, Nov. 12.—All Americans in the Manchurian area today were asked to seek places of safety in the foreign areas of Tientsin today after they had spent a night dodging bullets.

A. B. Cooke, a manager official, brought in three women this morning. Dr. Ida Belle Lewis, Mrs. Frances Milnes and a Mrs. Shocks. He said numerous bullets fell in the mission area during the night, many of them penetrating the hospital. The work of evacuating patients from the hospital will be difficult, he declared. Efforts to arrange cooperation between Chinese and Japanese in running down Chinese rebels blamed for the outbreak of rioting during the last few days were frustrated at the last moment, and more trouble was expected to develop.

Japanese patrol stopped them. The police, Japanese officials said, were attempting to extend their operations. The result of this controversy was that each side accused the other of breaking faith, and what had been expected to prove a beneficial arrangement only increased hard feelings.

HOPES FOR PEACEFUL ENDING

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (AP)—On the five-and-a-half day of compromise the American government has its hope for a peaceful solution of the Manchurian problem at the League of Nations session in Paris next week.

This was indicated today by Under-Secretary Clegg of the state department as he reiterated the optimism expressed yesterday by Secretary Stimson.

A change in the tone of communications received from the two nations, particularly Japanese, was seen as evidence of a more conciliatory spirit and a willingness to adjust their difficulties with words instead of machine guns.

Even among the various officials at the state department, opinion varied as to how much hope was actually justified in view of reports from the Orient of renewed fighting between Chinese and Japanese and the advance of Japanese troops farther north than at any previous time.

Simon and Castle, however, held to the belief that the diplomacy of Foreign Minister Aristide Briand of France, chairman of the League council and famed European "man of peace," backed by Ambassador Charles G. Dawes as American representative and the statesmen of other trading nations, would succeed. While no details of the probable procedure were disclosed, it was understood an attempt would be made to have each nation yield on some point after which troops might be withdrawn and the dangerous situation relieved.

that China specifically agreed to respect Manchurian treaty rights in such an inquiry, for it amounts to the implication that our representatives in congress are capable of sacrificing the welfare of the country to political expedience.

DEMOCRATS REFUSE TO DECLARE TRUCE IN LOWER CHAMBER

convenes December 7. Election of a speaker determines which party will organize the house.

No Talk of Coalition

In the meantime, Representative Tilton, Connecticut, Republican leader in the last house, expressed hope to President Hoover that administration-supported legislation would be passed. Tilton conferred with the Democratic leader yesterday, but said he had heard no talk of a coalition between the parties.

On the same subject, Cramer had this to say: "Since my return to Washington I have been asked repeatedly if the Democrats of the house of representatives would enter into an agreement with the administration to declare a 'political truce'."

"What was meant was whether the Democrats would agree to support every proposal submitted by the president to congress; their assumption being that this would avoid confusion and conducive to the recovery of the country from its present industrial and financial ills."

"My questioners seem oblivious to the rather insulting character of such an inquiry, for it amounts to the implication that our representatives in congress are capable of sacrificing the welfare of the country to political expedience.

"Neither I nor any other person can commit the Democratic members of congress, or prescribe how they should vote. However, it is taking no chance to prophesy that they will go along with the president so far as the prosperity and good-name of the country is concerned. In other words, I do not anticipate that any Democrat will oppose a measure plainly necessary to the industrial health of our people or one that will relieve us of some of the embarrassments for which we believe the present administration responsible."

"At the same time, I feel that I am safe in stating my belief that the Democrats will insist that they shall be the judge of the wisdom and expediency of the enactments upon which they will be called to vote."

"We have no reason to assume the infallibility of the administration. Indeed, the experience of the past two years pretty clearly demonstrates that no such assumption is possible."

"It is not inconceivable that when the president offers a recommendation to accomplish a given result, such as the encouragement of business, the Democrats may have their own and what they consider a better process for bringing this about, in which case obviously our party congressmen will do everything in their power to substitute their own process for the one suggested."

Cramer said conferences with his colleagues reveal the general Democratic feeling that they have in mind no policy of mere obstruction.

SOUTH IDAHO BACKS HIGHWAY FOR THREE NORTHWEST STATES

Durkee, Carson City, engineer for the Nevada highway commission, were other out of the state speakers.

Come As Neighbor

"Idaho comes as a neighbor and not to tell you what to do," Senator Thomas declared. "We want to trade with our neighboring communities but we must have transportation facilities before we can do so."

"The Idaho-Oregon-Nevada project is the most important piece of road, uncompleted, that I know of," Walter M. Pierce, former governor of Oregon, lent his voice to the demand to the completion of the highway and for Oregon's participation in the project. Development of the fertile Jordan valley, of the reclamation projects at Vale and Owyhee, he said, cannot be accomplished until and unless the highway is completed.

Other speakers from the eastern boundary of Oregon declared that from 30,000 to 35,000 acres of the most fertile land in the West might as well be unproductive, and desert land if adequate transportation facilities are not afforded.

Residents of the communities along the proposed route in Oregon declared southern markets for their products must be opened and pointed to California as a natural outlet. Movement of products southward is now impossible, they said, because no highways open into the district. Other speakers stressed the need of diversified highways into the Pacific Northwest, declaring the only way tourists from Nevada can reach western Oregon and Washington is by the coast route. Hays, representing the governor of Idaho, said "Idaho is blocked at the Oregon line in building southward and Nevada is blocked in its attempt to build northward. The situation is unparalleled in the United States." He explained that federal aid is not available to "dead-end" roads, but as soon as Oregon agrees to participate, federal funds will be obtainable. "There is no other practical route," Hays said. "If there was we would not be here urging the Idaho-Oregon-Nevada highway."

Former Governor Baldrige declared that completion of the project will bring prosperity to the three states most concerned, as well as to California, by reason of increased trade in the South.

INCREASING QUOTAS OF AMERICANS AID SOVIETS' PROGRAM

Serious Shortage of Engineering Talent Creates Demand for "Technicians" to Help Five-Year Plan

By STANLEY P. RICHARDSON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
MOSCOW, Nov. 12—In ever increasing quotas, American skill and ingenuity are being utilized by the Soviet union to work out its industrialization and agricultural program.

Controlled by a serious shortage of engineering talent and skilled labor in its own population, the socialist state is importing more and more "technicians"—and a large portion of them come from America.

Miners from the coal pits of Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia and Illinois and from the metal shafts of Michigan, Utah and Montana; steel workers from the mills of Pittsburgh and Gary; carpenters, bricklayers, machinists and railroad men from all parts of the United States can be counted in Russia's army of workers.

Until recently officials estimated that 2500 American workers were employed in Soviet industry, exclusive of American engineers. Now it is announced that arrangements are being made to receive 6000 more by the end of 1931.

In every case the government discourages any influx of transient, unskilled labor. It can use only those who have been trained in the specialized industries that have a definite need for them and for such workers its contracts in advance through its representatives in foreign countries.

Flexible Pay Is Rule
Where heretofore engineers and skilled workers were employed on either a dollar salary basis or a scale of half in dollars and half in rubles, it is said that most of those now hired are on an exclusively flexible wage. Their earnings, therefore, can be spent only within the Soviet union since its currency has no standing in international finance.

This is interpreted here as a reflection of the general economic depression in foreign countries where many workers are willing to accept jobs on virtually any terms. While numbers come here only on contracts of one, two and three years, officials claim many others, bringing their families with the intention of settling permanently in Russia.

Most of the new drafts of workers from the United States are either Europeans who emigrated to that country or descendants thereof.

DREDGE UNCOVERS EVIDENCE OF OLD BRIDGE DISASTER

ST. CHARLES, Mo., Nov. 12 (AP)—Pushing the work of clearing the Mississippi river for navigation, the army engineering corps has been dragging from the bed of the stream wreckage of the first bridge across it and the freight train that caused it to collapse 32 years ago.

Cast iron bridge girders, car trucks and other debris have come from the swift waters as the "snag boat" Horatio O. Wright plied back and forth.

A four-ton snag hook was used in the work. A six-foot channel at low water from Kansas City to the confluence of the Missouri and Mississippi will be established by the project.

NORWEGIANS HEAR OWN LANGUAGE IN AMERICA

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 12 (AP)—Two professors from the University of Oslo, natives of Norway, are studying the Norwegian language in Wisconsin.

Dr. Edvard Arnesen and Dr. Dr. Arnesen, who are studying the Norwegian language in Wisconsin, are going into various communities near Madison in an effort to learn whether the language has changed materially during several generations.

INSTITUTE MEASURES COMPASS VARIATIONS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (AP)—Variations of the compass from true north have been tested at 125 points on land and sea all over the earth's surface by the department of terrestrial magnetism of Carnegie Institution of Washington.

Observers on 175 expeditions have done the work over a period of 10 years, and have traveled 1,500,000 miles.

Canadian gold mine production is approximately a $100,000,000 a week.

*Turkish tobacco is to cigarettes what seasoning is to food—the "spice," the "sauce"—or what rich, sweet cream is to coffee!

You can taste the Turkish in Chesterfield—there's enough of it, that's why. Chesterfield has not been stingy with this important addition to good taste and aroma; four famous kinds of Turkish leaf—Xanthi, Cavalla, Samsoun and Smyrna—go into the smooth, "spicy" Chesterfield blend.

This is just one more reason for Chesterfield's better taste. Tobaccos from far and near, the best of their several kinds—and the right kinds. And pure, tasteless cigarette paper, the purest made. The many requisites of a milder, better smoke, complete!

Scientists Hope To Rival Sun's Heat In "Solar Furnace"

GENERAL PRINCIPAL OF BURNING - GLASS CONCENTRATES RAYS

Science Hopes to Produce Temperature of 10,000 Degrees Fahrenheit in "Firebox"

CALIFORNIA INSTITUTE DESIGNS NEW DEVICE

Experimenters Aim to Unravel Secrets of Matter and Solar System

By F. B. COLTON (Associated Press Science Writer) PASADENA, Cal., Nov. 12 — A furnace designed to be as hot as the sun itself, with which scientists hope to unravel long unsolved secrets of matter and the solar system, is being built here.

The terrific heat of 10,000 degrees Fahrenheit, the temperature of some parts of the sun's surface, is expected to be equalled in the furnace.

The device has been designed for the California Institute of Technology by Dr. John A. Anderson of the Carnegie Institution of Washington and Dr. Russell W. Porter of the Institute faculty.

Sun "Stokes" Furnace The sun itself will supply heat for the furnace, for the tremendous heat it is expected to produce could not be created by the burning of any fuel now available on earth.

Huge lenses and mirrors, working on the general principle of a burning-glass, will gather in the sun's rays after they have traveled across 93,000,000 miles of space to the earth.

Concentrated on a single small spot, the rays are expected to reproduce the heat of a part of the sun from which they come.

Nineteen lenses, each two feet in diameter, first will collect the sun's radiation. Eighteen mirrors then will reflect the rays through seven-inch lenses.

Diminutive "Firebox" Finally the collected radiation will be concentrated on a spot the size of a man's little finger nail inside a vacuum tube.

This will be the furnace's "firebox."

With the aid of the furnace, scientists expect to be able to test the reaction of various substances to the tremendous heat at the sun's surface.

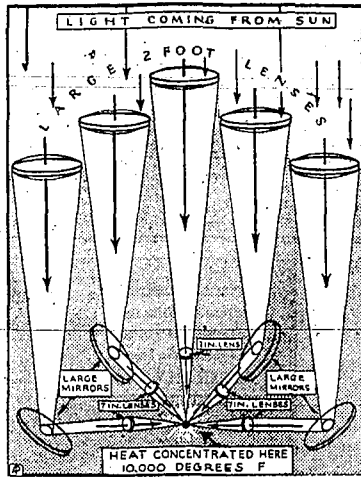

Inside past it has been impossible to learn what is happening on the sun because there was no way to send on earth the sun's enormous heat.

The hardest earthly materials would quickly turn to gas if subjected to the sun's 10,000-degree heat.

The same reaction is expected to take place inside the "solar furnace."

Astronomers may obtain from the furnace a better idea of what is happening on the distant stars—actually hot suns—that are mere pin points of light as seen in their most powerful telescopes.

A permanent sea-level marker is to be placed in Battery park, New York city, by the United States coast and geodetic survey.

The diagram shows how lenses and mirrors will be used in concentrating the sun's rays to attain a temperature of 10,000 degrees Fahrenheit in the new solar furnace being built at the California Institute of Technology in Pasadena.

ALFALFA APPEARS NO BETTER THAN CLOVER

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 12 (AP) — The popular belief that alfalfa is a better feed than clover is being questioned by a study made by the Ohio experiment station.

Reported differences in feeding values are due largely, it is not entirely the fact that alfalfa usually is cut earlier in the season and at an earlier stage of maturity than is red clover, says Professor Willard.

In 17 comparisons of the protein content of red clover and alfalfa sown at the same time on adjacent farms by lots and harvested at the same time, the percentage of protein in clover hay was 16.6 and in alfalfa 16.7.

Nearly half of the population of continental United States lives in 93 metropolitan districts.

A THREE-DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

All known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is well suited for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Policeman, Once Refused Permission To Resign, Now Rules Chicago Force Charged With Big "Clean-Up" Drive

James Allman Earns Reputation as Disciplinarian, Well Suited to Position in Windy City Campaign

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, Nov. 12 — If Chicago's new police chief hadn't become a "copper" he would have made a good soldier.

James Allman has just that kind of a reputation as a disciplinarian. On the surface he seems mild-mannered, although a little brusque, but beneath there's a temper and a determination that have made him known to one of the "iron men" of Chicago's force.

In "Tough Spot" Now Now this gray-haired bachelor of 55 has stepped into the office of commissioner of police — an admittedly "tough spot" which only one man has ever held down for four years at a stretch.

His appointment after nearly 31 years on the force comes as a climax to Major Anson J. Cermak's campaign to "get results" from Chicago's police department. The whole force has been several "shakeups" in recent weeks.

Now there may be more in prospect. And if Allman's past record can be taken as a criterion of likely performance in his new job, Chicago's "coppers" may get a taste of more rigorous discipline than they

TIME AND PLACE ALTER SEA LEVEL ALONG COAST

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (AP) — "Sea level" is not the same for all places or at all times, says the Coast and Geodetic Survey.

Along the Atlantic coast it varies over an increasingly wide range from north to south at different seasons.

At Portland, Maine, the variation is scarcely three inches, at Atlantic City it is a little more than six inches, while at Fernandina, Florida, it is exactly one foot.

In general the Atlantic coast sea level is highest in the autumn and lowest in winter.

Two years ago he tried to quit, but he was "tired of cleaning up one district" after another.

Within 12 years he had been transferred 14 times. As soon as he had "cleaned up" one district they sent him to another. Captain Allman finally objected to "doing all the dirty work" — but William Russell, then chief, wouldn't accept his resignation.

During the years when gang squads blazed frequently in Chicago, especially between 1923 and 1930, Allman was far from the scenes of war. Slayings didn't occur in the districts over which he had supervision.

"If you keep a territory cleaned up," Allman says, "you won't be bothered by gang trouble."

Recently he has been in charge of Chicago's newly created police college.

Centurians in Ozarks Advise Work As Valuable Recipe for Longevity

POPULAR BLUFF, Mo., Nov. 12 (AP) — If you would live long, work hard. That's the advice of "Uncle Tom" Kemp and Benjamin Lodge, who both say they have lived 118 years by following this simple recipe.

Kemp's parents died when he was a boy. Since the age of 8 he has been working regularly, and still labors on his small Ozark farm.

Although their homes for the past 50 years have been scarcely 15 miles apart, "Uncle Tom" and "Uncle Ben" never met until this summer.

When they did, they sat for hours in the shade of a small peach tree and talked about the happenings of a century ago.

Uncle Ben, a rugged looking six-footer despite his years, was born in England, coming to this country when he was 15.

Uncle Tommy is a native of Tennessee. He isn't quite as spry as he used to be. Injuries suffered 80 years ago when a stagecoach rolled down a mountain side are beginning to slow him up.

Neither venerable gentleman has ever worn glasses, but Uncle Ben confesses that lately his eyesight "wavers" so that he can't see well after dark. He solves this problem by going to bed at nightfall.

Both centenarians are lapsed and unburned from their life outdoors. Both have been widowers for many years, and refuse even to discuss a second try at marriage.

RUGS AND SOFAS AID IN FIGHT ON NOISES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (AP) — If your neighbor's saxophone music is too loud, it may help to protect him with an over-stuffed sofa, rug or wall tapestry.

Such materials absorb sound, says the bureau of standards, and prevent it from building itself up to sufficient intensity to penetrate the partition of the room.

A "bully goal" was attacked at Ravenna, Ohio, and sentenced to a chain for life for assault and battery.

DON'T GAMBLE WITH WEATHER . . . USE EVEREADY PRESTONE

DON'T GAMBLE

Cars will freeze tonight!

COLDER TONIGHT!
Unsettled with rain and snow; freezing temperature at night. Put in Eveready Prestone NOW.

Protect that car of yours tonight! Don't risk a frozen engine and a big repair bill. And don't use a makeshift "anti-freeze" that may boil off and fail you later on. You can make your car safe once and for all with a single filling of Eveready Prestone, economical and certain. No guesswork. No gambling.

EVEREADY PRESTONE is safe, sure, all-season protection against freezing. Safe against heat as well as cold. For it won't evaporate, or fume away, to leave you unprotected when the next cold snap arrives. You need an anti-freeze now, and you'll need it again. So why not gain peace-of-mind for the whole winter by using Eveready Prestone now?

The new Eveready Prestone is accepted by leading car manufacturers and automotive engineers. This improved product gives added safety. It retards rust and keeps the cooling-system from clogging. It has less tendency to leak than pure water.

Eveready Prestone is highly economical to use. Because it is concentrated, less of it is needed than with ordinary anti-freezes. Figure cost per season, not cost per gallon! Go to your dealer or garage-man, today. Have him clean and tighten your cooling-system, then give you all-winter, all-weather protection with the new Eveready Prestone

NOTE: The difference between the operation of Eveready Prestone and alcohol is simple and easily understood. When the engine is operating at an efficient temperature and the cooling mixture is alcohol and water, the alcohol boils off and the water remains. The alcohol must then be replaced. When the cooling mixture is Eveready Prestone and water, the water evaporates and the Eveready Prestone remains. Only the water must then be replaced.

New "First Lady" of Chile Labors For Equal Rights in South America

(By The Associated Press) SANTIAGO, Chile, Nov. 12.—South American women have changed from chateaux to useful citizens and demand an equal share with men in the public life of the Latin republics, says Senora Graciela Priemann de Montenegro, wife of Juan E. Montenegro, president-elect of Chile.

"The old idea of bondage with the man as the supreme being on earth and all that stuff is just not the truth today, and the men in South America know it," she added.

Senora de Montenegro made these remarks as she was in the midst of work on various measures which women's clubs are to submit to congress. The bills would give women the right to vote, to divorce and to be divorced.

They would change women's status from antiquated colonial-day ideas to the modern Anglo-Saxon conception of her rightful place.

Senora de Montenegro hinted that this program would have plenty of backing from her husband, who was given much assistance in his campaign by feminine units.

After the civil uprising that forced Dictator Carlos Ibañez to flee the country, Montenegro became acting president. So well did the main political parties like his administration that they forced on him the nomination for the full term. He fought the idea, and so did his wife, mother of four children.

Several days later Senora de Montenegro said that as long as he was in the campaign she would give him all the help and encouragement she could. And she did.

"PRAYER SAVED MY LIFE AND REASON," DECLARES MAHATMA GANDHI, AND URGES "UNLEARNING OF DAZZLING LITERATURE"

(Written for The Associated Press) By M. K. (MAHATMA) GANDHI

Prayer has saved my life. Without it I should have been a lunatic long ago.

I have had my share of the bitterest public and private experience. They threw me into temporary despair. If I was able to get rid of that despair, it was because of prayer.

Prayer has not been part of my life as much as it has been. Prayer came out of sheer necessity. I found myself in a plight where I could not possibly be happy without prayer. The more my faith in God increased, the more terrible became the yearning for prayer. Life seemed to be dull and vacant without it.

I had attended the Christian religious services in South Africa, but they failed to grip me. My Christian friends supplicated God, but I could not do so. I failed grievously. I started with a disabled in God and prayer. And until at a late stage in life I did not feel anything like a void in life.

At that stage I felt that as food was indispensable to the body, so was prayer indispensable for the soul.

In fact, food for the body is not so necessary as prayer for the soul. For starvation is often necessary in order to keep the body in health, but there is no such thing as prayer-starvation. It is a matter of degree.

Three of the greatest teachers of the world, Buddha, Jesus and Mohammed, have left unmistakable testimony that they found illumination through prayer and could not possibly live without it.

Millions of Christians, Hindus and Mussulmans find their only solace in prayer. Either you vote them down as liars, or as self-deluded people.

I will say that this "lying" has a charm for me, a truth-seeker, if it is "lying" that has given me that marvellous staff of life, without which I could not dare to live for a moment.

In spite of despair striving me in the face of the political horizon, I have never lost my peace. In fact, I have found people who envy my peace. That peace comes from prayer.

I am not a man of learning, but I humbly claim to be a man of prayer. I am indifferent as to the form. Everyone is a law unto himself in this respect. But there are some well-marked roads, and it is safe to walk along the beaten track led by the ancient teachers.

It is beyond my power to induce you to believe in the form. There are certain things which are self-proved and certain things which are not proved at all.

The existence of God is like a geometrical axiom. It may be beyond our heart grasp.

I shall not talk of an intellectual grasp. Intellectual attempts are doomed to fail. As a rational explanation cannot give you the faith in a living God, for it is a thing beyond the grasp of reason. It transcends reason.

There are various phenomena from which you can reason out the existence of God, but I shall not try to suit your intelligence by offering you a rational explanation of that type. I would have you brush aside all rational explanations and begin with a simple childlike faith in God. If I exist, God exists. With me it is a necessity of my being, as it is with millions. They may not be able to talk about it, but from their life you can see that it is part of their life.

I am only asking you to restore the belief that has been undermined. In order to do so, you have to unlearn a lot of literature that dazzles your intelligence and throws you off your feet.

Start with the faith which is also a token of humility, and an admission that we know nothing, that we are less than atoms in this universe.

I say we are less than atoms because the atom obeys the law of its being, whereas we, in the measure of our ignorance, defy the law of nature.

But I have no argument to address to those who have no faith. Once you accept the presence of God, necessarily prayer is inescapable. Let us not make the astounding claim that our whole life is a prayer, said that therefore we need not be down at any particular hour to pray. Even men who were all the time in

NEEDY WISCONSIN STUDENTS OBTAIN LOAN BANK FUNDS

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 12 (AP)

Wealthy alumni and students will loan money to needy students under a plan proposed at the university of Wisconsin.

A student loan bank has been proposed for the aid of those students who would otherwise be forced to leave school. Scarcely of part time jobs and lower returns in family coffers have combined to make the situation desperate for many students.

Under the loan bank plan, wealthy students and alumni would buy shares of two and five year maturity. Loans would carry a 3 per cent interest charge to cover against loss and to insure prompt repayment. Members of the university faculty have approved the plan.

tune with the Infinite did not make such a claim. Their lives were a continual prayer, and yet for our sake, let us say, they offered prayer at set hours and renewed each day the devotion of their hearts. Of course, never in late on the oath, but we must renew our pledge every day.

I assure you that I shall then be free from every imaginable misery in life.

By JOHN L. COOLEY
(Associated Press Financial Writer)
NEW YORK, Nov. 17—Stocks continued to disregard the weakness of grains during most of the day, but lost heart in the late afternoon, or just after the day's rally.

Closing prices were irregular, with the balance, as measured by the averages, favoring the down side by a narrow margin. The market was even quieter yesterday, however, with a total of 1,450,482 shares.

Bonds were somewhat mixed, although firmness in United States governments and many high grade issues was constructive. Silver bullion recovered almost a cent of yesterday's loss.

A last-minute break in New York Central, which was off a point, unsettled the list, especially the rail. Central's decline suggested a slump based on Wall Street gossip concerning the future of the road's dividend. Union Pacific sagged after the regular dividend had been voted, most leading carriers closed lower.

Discussion of the railroad advisory committee on the rate case recommendations to be placed before the executive's association tomorrow, together with tonight's meeting with labor representatives, gave rise to much conjecture. Speculation centered, of course, on how far the rate reduction matter was likely to get and whether the result would be made to employees.

There was a feeling that the action of New York Central overrules to certain of its workers would be swayed before much was done by other companies in that direction.

Stronger Roads Object
The chief obstacle to acceptance of the interstate commerce commission's rate increase proposition has been the pooling feature, for stronger roads have objected to turning over the extra earnings to weaker lines on a loan basis. Some Eastern systems would prefer to have the additional revenue parcelled out in a district basis, but the nature of these rates in the pool rather than their distribution has been the real

BY HARRIET HENRY

Venice knows that she is attractive looking and that her trouble lies in a shy inability to express herself. With the reputation of mysterious, experienced, and attractive people's interest she hopes can confidence. But she knows she is in Paris. At the Café de la Paix she falls into conversation with a young man, an American, with whom she feels quite natural. He says he has no money. Venice has an unexpected idea, and tells him that she has something to talk over with him.

FLOWERS FROM A BLACK SHEEP

He started. "I've never failed to enjoy another," he grumbled. "But what's the good of you at all once?" "It's an inspiration. Listen. Are you really frightfully hard-up?" Venice asked. "Frightfully!" "Would you do anything for money?" "Anything short of murder?" "Would you be a sort of gigolo?" "I'd be any sort of gigolo." Venice breathed a tremendous sigh of relief. This young man was to be the guest from her blind alley. "I'll tell you everything," she said. "I'm from New York," she began as a mother artist recounting a story of small family life. "My family are smart and all that, and society and social success, that kind of thing. My father died when I was a lovely coming-out a few years ago and lots of invitations to all sorts of parties since. But I'm a social duffer. I'm awkward at parties. I can't think of bright things to say. I have no—no social graces. Oh, I can't explain. I'm a complete flop." She became almost sad with this admission.

The young man patted her head and said, "That's nothing to worry about." "It is when you've been taught it's the only thing to build on. Mother brought me over this summer to see if I'd do better here. She died before we got in touch with any friends. There was a pause. "Poor kid," he murmured kindly. "I've decided to stay over here. Do everything, go everywhere. And when I come again I'll be a success and have a past. What people don't know about you is that you can't get it, intrigues them. Don't you see?"

She stopped breathlessly, frightened lest he could not appreciate the idea of the situation. "He did. He became fired too with her idea. "That's where you come in. You're to take me everywhere. I'm to be the star. Everywhere that's smart and amusing. I'll pay for everything and give you something to drink besides. Will you? Oh, please." "You bet. What a laugh!" Venice uttered another relieved sigh. "That's settled," she said. "I'm all set. Here's to you and knocking New York for a loop. They're wrong heads, then raised their glasses. "If you know people here you could get me into some sort of a set," cried Venice. Her eyes were racing over each other. She said it now. "I've been so excited in all my life before."

"Of course. I do know some people. I'm going to arrange a party for you just as soon as I can. By the way, I'm Guy Bryson. I came from Wilmington. The black sheep of a very excellent family. At your service."

"Venice Malt." "What a gorgeous name for a lady with a past." She suddenly died. She felt nervous and unsure about what she had just planned. What was she to do? She had said. But then her mother had asked her not to miss parties and had always wanted just exactly this for her. Yes, it would probably be all right.

"I've decided to stay over here. Do everything, go everywhere. And when I come again I'll be a success and have a past. What people don't know about you is that you can't get it, intrigues them. Don't you see?"

MAN SEEKS MISSING SISTER IN TWIN FALLS

A 30-year-old woman with bobbed blond hair, who has been missing since June, 1929, and who may be using any one of three names, is believed to be in Twin Falls, according to a letter from brother, David E. German, West Lafayette, Indiana, received at police headquarters here yesterday.

The missing woman may be using any one of these three names—Mrs. Dorothy Winford, Miss Dorothy German or Mrs. John Sloat.

Polks at home heard from her last more than three years ago when she told them she was leaving San Francisco to go to Twin Falls. She had been in Twin Falls in 1923 working in a "bean factory," the brother's letter said.

Her mother in Indiana now is seriously ill, and little hope is held out for her recovery.

APPRECIATION

Wilton Peck, chairman of the American Legion Armistice day celebration committee, expressed appreciation of that organization of courtesy on the part of radio station KTFP and of the J. C. Penny company and the Diamond Hardware company, which made possible broadcasting of Armistice day exercises held in Twin Falls.—Adv.

PUMPKIN PIE

Pumpkin Pie delights almost every member of every family. Especially early in the fall. The 1931 pie is in. It is much cheaper. The large size tin contains just enough delicious pumpkin to make four pies. When buying it — you'll, of course, want some of our large snow white eggs, always deliciously fresh. And don't forget Schilling's ginger snaps, too. There is always a courteous attendant to help you find the things you cannot locate quickly.

PANCAKE FLOUR

These cool morning wheat and buckwheat cakes stripped with good lean bacon are eaten and appreciated. We have both kinds of pancake flour in large and small packages as well as in larger sized bags. If you don't serve them regularly surprise the family Sunday morning. You'll want syrup or honey, too. Our store has them priced to please you.
