Heavy rains fell, causing streams to overflow and flooding basements in parts of Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri and Iowa.

DEMOCRATIC SIDES TRACK LIQUOR

Congressmen Hope to Direct Principal Thought to Vital Economic Problems

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (AP)—Congressional Democrats today sought to side-track prohibition in favor of the economic program as the controversial "wet" and "dry" issue again threatened trouble within the party.

Senator Robinson, Arkansas, was the first to announce that he would introduce a series of conferences with party leaders in congress that no prohibition law was in prospect because of the make up of congress. He would focus attention on the vital economic problems.

About the same time Chairman John J. Raskob was calling the Democratic national committee to meet in January. He intends then to announce the result of his poll on prohibition.

Robinson was taken to task by Senator Robinson at the committee meeting last March in introducing prohibition legislation. His announcement yesterday of a pool of the contributors to the Democratic 1932 to a level higher than ever before.

The committee has not been asked of any intention of the railroad to curtail service.

In the protest the petitioners asked the O'Leary project had not produced any in the past several years because of drought, but that a new water supply was being developed. The project would bring production in 1932 to a level higher than ever before.

Alvin Harbour Replies To Governor Following Dismissal From Office

Deposed Commissioner Sells Forth Own Version of Contract and Conduct of State's Chief Officer

(By The Associated Press) BOISE, Nov. 23—Alvin Harbour, Twin Falls, deposed head of the department of public works, issued a statement today asserting Governor C. Ben Ross knew the nature of the machinery contract with the Idaho Equipment company which brought about their dismissal.

Harbour said he reached an agreement with the governor in September of 1930, when he was deposed, that he would permit the rental of equipment on the purchase of the state at too high a price, for the state of the state.

Interviewed after his dismissal, Commissioner Harbour stated more than that he had any story to tell of those in the department of public works and with whom it had relations.

"I am very sorry to leave," he said. Governor Ross declared his main interest in the affair was in protecting the interests of the state.

Not Playing Politics "I am not playing politics," he declared. "I want to understand that my decision to resign Mr. Harbour of his office was not a political move to protect the interests of the state. I will not permit the state to purchase equipment at excessive prices."

This is to notify you that you are hereby dismissed as commissioner of public works for the state of Idaho, to take effect immediately.

You will please turn over to Mr. G. M. McFarland, present commissioner in your office, the affairs and effects in your office.

Governor Ross said that on November 23 he had dismissed Mr. Harbour as commissioner to resign but Harbour more time to give him a chance. It was the non-interference policy of the state that had displaced three employees of the Lewiston district office of the bureau of public works.

Harbour, who is the Republican nominee for governor, said in a statement tonight that his transaction was purely a private matter, that neither the non-interference policy of the state nor the fact that he was a Republican had anything to do with it.

The testimony was given before the senate lobby committee, which had been called to investigate a report of a $100,000 payment to a senator by a lobbyist for a sugar tariff.

A committee investigator, John Holland, said on the stand that he had found evidence that Harbour and Davis each on one time about $1000 to the good on paper on deal engineering by G. D. Dalbey, president of a number of sugar companies. Holland also said he had been told by one of Dalbey's associates of a conversation about sending $100,000 to Davis, but could find no record of any such payment really was made.

The investigator further asserted that Harbour and Davis had been helping Smith, John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic national committee, and Senator James McLaughlin, who were investors in Dalbey's company, but had paid cash for their purchases.

Only four members of the committee were present.

SUPREME COURT LETS 21 DECISIONS REMAIN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (AP)—The supreme court rarely changes its mind. But today it refused to reconsider its recent decision in 21 cases.

Others included: The case of Louis P. Kielden on the board of trustees of the Independent school district of Boise, Idaho, of the validity of the state law for the use of the state public school endowment.

Interest In Affair Involving Excessive Prices Lies In Protecting People

(By The Associated Press) BOISE, Nov. 23—Alvin Harbour, Twin Falls, commissioner of public works, was dismissed today by Governor C. Ben Ross with the statement by the executive that he would not permit the state to pay excessive prices for machinery.

In announcing his action to newspaper editors, Harbour stated the specific basis for dismissing him was mainly out of a difference over a contract for 450,000 worth of snow removal equipment which the governor declared had been secured by the state at too high a price, for the state of the state.

Interviewed after his dismissal, Commissioner Harbour stated more than that he had any story to tell of those in the department of public works and with whom it had relations.

3,500,000 Armed Men Mark Time In Russia, China and Japan

CHANCE OF RUSSIAN ACTION SEEMS REAL MANCHURIAN HAZARD

Reserve Troops, Partially Trained, Bring Total Force to About 10,000,000

CHINESE APPEAR TO LACK ORGANIZATION
Possibility of Soviets Entering Conflict Makes Sino-Japanese War More Smoke

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—With China and Japan at grips in Manchuria and Russia restlessly watching because of her Manchurian interests, the three nations have armed forces estimated today to aggregate nearly three and one-half million men. Behind these active forces stand another six and one-half million troops, the reserve forces of Russia and, at least partially equipped and trained for battle, the Chinese.

Thus, if further diplomatic fails and the Manchurian clashes flame into wide-spread war, a struggle likely to engulf upward of 10,000,000 men—nearly the number mobilized by Germany in the World war—could develop.

This is one of the aspects of the Manchurian situation that has led powers represented in the League of Nations and the Washington government into collaboration to save the world from launching into another conflict.

Efforts to compare the war powers of these three great nations of the East defy ordinary statistical tabulation.

By the books the newest information available in Washington shows China's forces actually under arms number 3,481,000 men. Against that figure stand Japan's 2,200,000 active troops and Russia's 6,800,000 men with the colors.

China's Man-Power Divided
China's vast manpower—however, is made up of troops of various governments and local leaders which have figured for years in the chaotic story of China's civil war.

They lack similarity in arms and equipment. Chinese sources from which to draw ammunition and industrial means of producing such weapons as airplanes and tanks, with which both Russia and Japan are well supplied.

A new Sino-Japanese war, in which no other nation would share, is taken by experts as meaning another Japanese victory at least in a military sense.

With Russia and Japan again glaring hostilely at each other across the Chinese province of Manchuria, however, the picture the world must consider is completely changed.

Should Manchurian events draw Russia into the struggle, China merely would be the battle ground and not a major military factor in a three-cornered conflict.

Japan strongest at Sea
Japan possesses the third navy in the world. Russia's navy, though she has been of no significance since her main fleet was destroyed in the Russo-Japanese war, and China is wholly lacking in modern sea forces. Japan's standing army of 230,000 men is backed by a well-worked-out reserve system and is based on German methods and which makes available an additional 1,900,000 men as well as reserves of ammunition and equipment within a comparatively brief time.

Russia's 6,800,000 active troops are supported by a reserve system including 4,230,000 men.

The status of Russian reserve ammunition and equipment is doubtful, but the active army by all re-

TELEPHONE COMPANY OFFERS NEW SERVICE

A new communication service is made available today by the Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph company and its associated companies in the Bell system. It was announced yesterday by M. E. Delling, local manager. This new service consists in the establishment and operation of central switching exchanges for teleprinter machines that typewriters electrically over wires to a distant teleprinter.

Any subscriber to this service can obtain connection with the teleprinter of any other subscriber to the service within the same city or in a distant city which will permit the immediate transmission of letters, typewriter statements or other information between the two subscribers. In effect, this method used for inter-connection of the instruments is the same as that now employed in the telephone system.

ports is well armed and equipped. In any clash in Manchuria, however, the Russian and Japanese actual scene of hostilities would have an important bearing on the military problems of each power.

Both would have long communication lines to maintain and a lack of rail and highway avenues of supply and troop movement, which make employment of their full strength difficult.

Another important factor would be that, assuming a Chinese-Russian alliance, Japan would face a Chinese ally in the territory.

The railway from Siberia to the coast line of the sea of Japan, which is the chief line of communication in the present Sino-Japan friction, was originally designed and built by the Chinese for the purpose of facilitating the movement of Chinese troops to the coast line of the sea of Japan.

When Chinese military forces could not reasonably be expected to afford a serious problem for the Japanese in a two-power war, they might be of the utmost importance in harassing Japanese lines of communication across Manchuria should the main front for Japan be against Russian forces.

Two to 8 inches of snow fell today in the Black Hills of South Dakota and there was snow in Nebraska, Kansas and Nebraska and parts of Minnesota.

A alert station in the Texas Panhandle endangered cattle, damaged wires and delayed trains, buses.

WORKS AT TOP SPEED
DENVER, Nov. 23 (AP)—In the wake of the blizzard, the crew on a huge rotary snowplow worked at top speed late today to reach a passenger train stalled near the crest of the Continental divide on the Denver and Rio Grande western mainline.

Several motorists were reported snowbound at Palmer lake, Colorado, highway. About 30 bus and automobile passengers trapped on the highway south of Salda, Colorado, were rescued. Many feet of snow were performed by volunteer searchers before all the motorists were rescued.

Dr. Franklin N. Cochrane, widely known surgeon, and his wife, returning to Colorado from a trip to Texas, narrowly escaped death when they became stuck in a snowdrift near Salda.

The stalled Denver and Rio Grande Western train left Durango Sunday morning for a passenger train. It did not carry a dinner. It stopped at Chama, New Mexico, Sunday afternoon to allow the passengers to eat and then started up the pass bucking seven foot drifts.

It finally stalled in the pass at 6 P. M. yesterday. It was reported here the train was able to back into a snow shed near the top of the pass. The train at Chama made the passengers as comfortable as possible.

Harbour said he did not see the governor again until November 5, "when he returned from Lewiston where he had suspended District Engineer J. J. McCready and removed two other local employees." The governor said that when Harbour first asked additional time before resigning he did not say what change he wanted. "But I gave him until last Saturday night, then I asked him again, and he asked me to wait until today."

He said Harbour had agreed in accepting the appointments that in event of any dispute between himself and the governor he would resign.

First outward indications of the break between the chief executive and his commissioner, who was appointed last spring to succeed J. D. Wood, occurred last week during a meeting of the board of examiners when the governor asked Attorney General J. J. Babcock to initiate suit to break the contract, which was with the Idaho Equipment company. At that time the disclosed another contract with a rival company for less machinery.

HOUR-GLASS IS SYMBOL OF MODERN ROASTING METHOD

Accuracy Is Assured in Controlled Roasting—Hills Bros' Patented Process for Roasting Coffee

Better than anything else, an hour-glass symbolizes the exactness of Hills Bros' patented, Controlled Roasting process. For as the accuracy of the hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow of a little at a time... so the wonderful, unvarying flavor of Hills Bros' Coffee is produced by this patent process that roasts evenly, continuously... a little at a time.

This is very different from ordinary, bulk-roasting methods. The results are very different too. You can judge them yourself. If you compare Hills Bros. with other coffee. Hills Bros. has a finer, uniform flavor. Roasting a little at a time makes this possible. For every berry receives the right amount of heat. None is underdone, none is overdone. The same delightful flavor is assured in every pound. Bulk-roasted coffee can't guarantee these things. No wonder Hills Bros. Coffee has and holds so many friends! Hills Bros. Coffee comes in vacuum cans that keep it fresh. Air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is removed and kept out of these cans. Even ordinary, "air-tight" cans won't keep coffee fresh. Ask for Hills Bros. Coffee by name, and look for the Arab trade-mark on the can.

MINISTER TELLS OF ANSWER TO PRAYER IN LAND OF DRAGON

Chinese Missionary Gives Specific Instances in Which Appeal to Lord Secures Thing Desired

The efficacy of prayer supplied the keynote of an interesting address delivered at the First Presbyterian church on Sunday morning by Rev. Frank Dickie who has recently returned from the Chinese mission field where he spent 42 years in mission service.

A large congregation heard the speaker recount incidents after incidents covering the period of his service as a member of the China Inland mission, non-denominational, of which he became a member upon the call of Hudson Taylor, at that time in charge of the Chinese work. Rev. Dickie was a resident of Glasgow, Scotland, at the time he elected to cast in his lot with the mission.

"My first convert in China," said Rev. Dickie, "was a girl of 16 who was married to a gambler. Her husband on one occasion demanded that his wife prepare food for a celebration of ancestor worship. She had at this time been attending our services for two months, and refused to have anything to do with the religion of her family, at which her husband became enraged and threatened to beat her."

Tells of Experience He went on to tell how the angry husband visited the girl's father for the purpose of asking his advice, and received instructions to let her cook the food if he had to beat her to death. A small brother heard of them, however, and ran to his sister. The husband did not return that night, but stayed out to gamble. Meanwhile she sold her belongings to a brother-in-law, who suggested that she go with him to the mission, where they were holding a four-day conference, which she did. At the end of the conference she came to Rev. Dickie and told him that she had prayed to the Christian God and was prepared to go home and face whatever happened. Later, when he asked her what had happened, she replied that nothing had been said about it. A year later her husband, father and mother were all baptized into the Christian faith.

The mission of which the speaker was a member is financed by voluntary contribution. No offering is ever solicited. The workers are sent out with no promise of a salary and no traveling expenses, but are paid by the offerings of the people. Rev. Dickie told of many instances where the mission was out of funds, but after prayer, enough offerings came in to finance them and allow them to offer aid to others.

LOW FREIGHT RATE TAKES EFFECT HERE

Railroads Advance Date of Operation For Cut in Twin Falls Schedule

Lower rates on many commodities to and from Twin Falls, placed to go into effect next Saturday by order of the Interstate Commerce commission were quietly made effective last Friday by the railroad companies over which the traffic is carried. It was announced yesterday by the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, which participated actively in the movement to secure the reduced rates.

The following statement relative to the results from the change on the principal commodities involved was issued last evening by Newell D. Wright, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce:

The new lowered freight rate schedule required to be placed in effect by the Interstate Commerce commission decision was placed in effect on November 20 by the railroad companies although allowed until November 28 by the order to insure the same.

The new low rates are placed on practically all commodities moving between Twin Falls either to or from northern California points in quantities except those involved in other freight cases already settled or now pending.

Some of the comparative rates listed below are stated by the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce as indicative of the general reductions secured for our producers and shippers. The scale of rates is graduated on the mileage basis for other cities in southern Idaho farther distant than Twin Falls city.

Point-to-San Francisco reduced from 33 cents to 45 cents. Fresh apples to San Francisco, old rate 92 cents, new rate 78 cents. Other fresh deciduous fruit reduced from 135 to 100.

Dried beans (40,000) reduced from 95 cents to 78 cents; 60,000 from 80 cents to 78 cents. Canned goods, east bound, 40,000 reduced from 83 to 88 1/2 cents; 60,000 from 73 1/2 to 48 cents. Agricultural implements reduced from 14 1/2 to 130. Freight automobiles reduced from 22 1/2 to 106.

Candy and confectionery and quantity east bound reduced from 27 1/2 to 18 1/2.

Rate on bags San Francisco to Twin Falls has been reduced from 72 cents to 68 cents.

Intercity rates reduced from 75 cents to 55 cents. Rate on wall board on 40,000 minimum has been reduced from $1.05 to 80 cents; from 82 cents to 53 cents on 40,000 and a rate of 48 cents on 60,000 and 44 cents on 70,000 has been published.

Gas cases, wooden, including fillers and flata, have been reduced from 86 cents to 50 cents to 74 cents. The railroads have of their own accord placed in effect a new rate on apples to Los Angeles of 55 1/2 cents, whereas the old rate up until November 20 was 58 cents.

"Prayer was answered when Communist soldiers took possession of our church and home."

"Christmas night, 1926, we were threatened, the officials were helpless. God answered prayer and worked for us. We were forced to leave the city, but returned after two days' absence.

"When we were ordered out of the interior in 1926, by the American Consul, and British Consul (two American lady missionaries were in the same city) God answered prayer, working deliverance for us during more than three months when fighting was going all around us. And the city changed hands a few times. The Chinese Christians joined us in daily prayer and supplication. Prayer was answered and we were preserved until the day came when the way seemed open for us to take the long journey to Shanghai."

Rev. Dickie spoke at the First Christian church Sunday at 9:45 A. M., at the First Presbyterian church at 11 A. M., at the Baptist Bungalow at 2 P. M., and at the First Baptist church at 7:30 P. M. He spoke last night at Piler, and will speak tonight at Buhl and Wednesday night at Montague. He will leave later in the week for Pocatello and from there will go to Idaho Falls. He will then return to Vancouver, British Columbia, where he has resided since he came back from China.

CHINA SUPPRESSES COMMUNIST WORK

Russian Influence Wanes On Surface in Large Nation Within Orient

Communism in China is officially dead, according to Rev. Frank Dickie, returned missionary, now here, who spent 42 years in the Celestial Empire at the China-Inland mission. While it was strong in certain quarters, especially in the province of Kiangsi during the period from 1923 to 1927, the Russian leaders have been banished and Communism is now under a ban. There is still considerable underground propaganda going on among the poorer classes but it does not appear on the surface, he states, and as a whole it is probably not as popular as it was a few years ago, in this country, Rev. Dickie says.

China has changed much since the overthrow of the empire, he stated, in some places conditions are better and in others more chaotic than they were then. Many of the leaders are good, Christian men, and in the course of time, after the great transition from monarchy to republic is over, the whole country will be better, he is convinced. In the meantime, there are places where Russian Communists can work under the surface.

Rev. Dickie tells an interesting experience, confirming his faith in the efficacy of prayer in connection with the Communist trouble in 1925. He says:

"After the news of student riots in Shanghai and some of them being shot down, on May 30, 1925, reached our city, anti-British demonstrations took place. The Lord graciously answered our prayers and delivered us. Prayer was answered when Communist soldiers took possession of our church and home."

Duck Springs Hermit "Tells Truth" About "Onusua list" Winter Season

Eccentric Character Denies "Perdilling" and Scores Methods of Scientists

By LEW SWEETHEER (Burley News Correspondent)

"My friends are asking me what kind of a winter we will have. They want to know 'I suggested to the Duck Springs Hermit, in a guarded effort, to lead him to express himself. He also urged Christians to enter more into the spirit of prayer and thanksgiving."

"Well, what holden you back?" asked the old fellow, tartly. You never asked much to me like you are tongue-tied. Why don't you tell me."

"It's not I they want to hear from," I replied. "They have no more confidence in my predictions than I do myself. But they know you are always right about the weather. They want to hear from an authority like you."

"Lumph!" snorted the Hermit. "Tell-em yourself. You've been here long enough to know the summer again that tell what kind of winter it is to come. Why peter me?"

"Well," I went on, floundering around helplessly, "you displease a lot of people if I can't take them your message about the winter. I've heard 'em say you've been wrong predicted in the past. They remember how you predicted the harvest, winter in 20 years. And the time you said there would be snow in the lowlands and none in the high hills. And how you predicted a mild and open winter when all the other prophets said it would be hard. And your prediction..."

No "Perdilling"

"Shut up!" he suddenly exclaimed the man. "How many times must I tell you I don't predict. I judge, and half-wit, and other without trash predict. I ain't no prophet and I don't predict. I tell the truth."

I subbed, I looked up at the mountain top, already partly shrouded in winter's mist. Down the slopes of the steep, blowing white vapors rolled lazily along. The stars gleamed in the sky, and on a rocky day, the air seemed filled with noise, or some energy stirred up by the wind. The air seemed to be full of noise, or some energy stirred up by the wind. The air seemed to be full of noise, or some energy stirred up by the wind.

COUNCIL REVIEWS FINANCIAL RECORD

December Tax Collections Vital in Maintenance of Satisfactory Showing

Twin Falls city councilmen in regular session last evening reviewed the city's financial operations for the first half of the city's fiscal year, showing $77,752.93 general fund expenditures as against $101,738.85 income, and agreed that the record was a satisfactory one.

Whether the municipal year would wind-up as successfully from a financial point of view, all members of the council agreed would depend largely upon December tax collection figures.

Councilmen seemed inclined to take an optimistic view of the situation in this respect.

The city clerk's statement of the first half-year's financial operations showed receipts from taxation totaling $60,200.00, and from other sources, including the waterworks department, $57,878.33.

The current year's budget provides for general fund expenditures totaling $148,735.

The city has outstanding bonds totaling $502,500, the city clerk's statement showed. Payment of $12,000 to retire outstanding bonds will be due next January 1.

Council last evening authorized payment of semi-annual bond interest charges totaling $5780.80, the interest rate ranging from 4 1/4 to 4 3/4 per cent.

American Legion skitmembers went into action Monday afternoon, and the World War veterans' organization is expected to draw upon its reserves for an attack in force today and tomorrow, to present as widely as possible the opportunity to buy the benefit show tickets.

Speakers in the broadcast program Sunday afternoon emphasized that every cent of the proceeds is to be turned over to Twin Falls Associated Charities for use in meeting relief needs in and about Twin Falls during the coming winter season.

The First National bank and the Twin Falls Bank and Trust company last evening announced readiness to make loans on receiver's certificates to depositors of the Twin Falls National bank which closed yesterday.

The failure was the first in Twin Falls history.

"There seemed to be no appreciable effect on the other banks, or on business here generally during the day," the other banks were said to be fully prepared to meet an emergency.

E. M. Wright, national bank examiner in charge of the Twin Falls National bank pending appointment of a receiver, said last evening that he would be unable on the basis of the information at that time to estimate the amount that depositors might expect to receive.

There was talk during the late afternoon that the other banks would loan as much as 50 per cent of the face value of the receiver's certificates to depositors.
