Modern Pied Piper Begins War Against 500,000 City Rats

NEW YORK, Nov. 24 (AP)—A modern Pied Piper with 35 assistants recruited from the ranks of the unemployed marched on Central park today, to rid the place of more than 500,000 rats.

They carried no musical instruments but were equipped with poison solution the name of which translated into English means "peace to rats."

Irving Billig, who is professionally described as "a rodent control specialist," led the army. Billig has studied rat extermination in a number of European cities and next January is going to Japan to conduct "rat work" in Tokyo, at the request of the city's police.

"The solution I am using," Billig explained today, "was recently perfected by the International Rat Congress meeting in Paris, as the official exterminator. It is absolutely harmless to humans or domestic animals."

Billig estimated the rat population of New York City at more than 500,000 after counting the holes.

Toward the end of the day, Earl Wynn, assistant chairman, took the stand and promised the board would hold its establishment cotton off the market another year if the Southern farmers would go through with their acreage reduction program.

Under the present arrangement the surplus will be held until July 31.

College Girls Lag In Business And In Love, Survey Shows

NEW YORK, Nov. 24 (AP)—In love and business, the college girls lag, says Dr. Roy M. Anderson, personnel investigator of the college at Columbia university.

He observed that the college girls are about 20 per cent less likely to get married than have the non-campus ladies, and that girls with degrees get salaries ranging from $500 to $1200 as compared with $300 to $400 earned by business and vocational women.

Dr. Anderson, who has made a survey including 81 college girls in 225 schools, said they ought to learn a business or profession in addition to their college education, both to make up for their reduced chances in the marriage market and to compete with their counterparts.

"After four years of mental stimulation in the classroom and libraries of our institutions, it is a pity that after four years of social life on the campus, after four years of special study and contact with keen-minded individuals," Dr. Anderson says, "what may a college woman expect by way of a job?"

"It is a known fact that approximately 40 per cent of the college women marry and follow the vocation of housewife. Among the college women the percentage who marry is somewhat lower. It has been variously reported as 40 to 60 per cent."

It was stressed, however, that wage cuts averaging at least 10 per cent along the line were absolutely necessary to save the carriers from the economic morass, and that there was "considerable hope" these reductions would be voluntary on the part of the workers. The Chicago meeting, it was concluded, will answer the question of whether or not there will be a battle between employers and employees or a "peaceful economic acceptance of the situation."

F. W. Leamy, secretary of the Eastern conference and Vice president of the International Harvester company, said in a statement that he was following the situation.

His statement was in reply to a request of the committee to call such a special session on the grounds that the people of the state were to be greatly burdened by taxes and needed immediate relief.

A special session, he said, would "mill around for 60 or 90 days, or six months, just like a regular session, and get absolutely nowhere."

He expressed confidence in the attempt of the Idaho State Chamber of Commerce to bring about tax revision through its program.

SENATOR THINKS SMOOT ERRED IN TARIFF BILL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 (AP)—It is "inevitable" that Senator Harrison H. Hiram, who introduced the tariff bill, will be "retroactively damaged" to this country by the "excessive increased rates" within the Smoot-Hawley tariff act.

The Mississippians said this in a statement issued today through the Democratic national committee. It charged that Smoot's attributing increased foreign trade to world business troubles at a "spurious defense" which "will not do one."

Smoot yesterday issued a statement setting forth his belief that the tariff act had nothing to do with decreased foreign trade and that it would be "wise" to revise the act downward in the next congress.

It was stressed, however, that wage cuts averaging at least 10 per cent along the line were absolutely necessary to save the carriers from the economic morass, and that there was "considerable hope" these reductions would be voluntary on the part of the workers. The Chicago meeting, it was concluded, will answer the question of whether or not there will be a battle between employers and employees or a "peaceful economic acceptance of the situation."
