CHICAGO'S DRIVE ON HOODLUMS CONTINUES

CHICAGO, Dec. 5 (AP)—More than 140 men are being kept tonight and one gunfight between the police and gangsters was fought as Judge Francis Borrelli continued his drive to smash the notorious "42" gang of Vice Squad hoodlums.

Seven of those under arrest, all alleged members of the gang, confessed to 100 street robberies, the police said, and 97 were said to have been linked with the band whose affairs Judge Borrelli personally investigated.

The gun battle was fought, as a police squad cruising for suspected members of the gang, waiting in an automobile with five occupants. The police called on them to halt, but they refused to stop. The police fired, and the gangsters, opening fire, gave chase but the suspects escaped.

The "42" was taken away three days ago by Judge Borrelli who announced he had frequented the haunts of the gang in disguise and learned of organized thieving activities.

SOLON EXPECTS TO CUT OUT RADIO ADVERTISING

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 (AP)—The prospective chairman of the House merchant marine committee, David C. Henderson, Illinois, has recommended that much less time be given to radio advertising and that the committee should be authorized to do something about it.

He said today that steps to curb too many sales talks would be considered by the committee at this session. Incidentally, the Southern Railway, which feels that the radio commission has fallen down on the job through failure to eliminate excessive radio advertising, is the trouble with the law, he said, in its administration.

GANDHI REACHES PARIS ON WAY BACK TO INDIA

PARIS, Dec. 5 (AP)—Wearing a new shawl and a new hat, Mahatma Gandhi arrived here today on his way back to India after the roundtable conference in London, arrived here at 11:40 p.m. He was met by a large group of the railway station.

With the mahatma was Miss Slade, his personal secretary, and Mr. J. B. Jones, who was responsible for his new clothing. A group of Indian students met Mahatma at the station.

Characterizing the roundtable conference as a complete failure, Mr. Jones declared that Mahatma was less than ever acquainted with British officials and he hoped his knowledge of them would assist him in his battle for Indian independence.

RITCHIE ORDERS INQUIRY INTO LYING OF NEGRO

BALTIMORE, Dec. 5 (AP)—Governor Albert C. Ritchie tonight ordered Attorney General Lane to assist Wyoming county authorities in a vigorous prosecution of the mob which last night invaded a Salisbury, Maryland, hospital to burn Matthew Williams, Negro, and burn his body after lynching him.

Clergymen here and the Baltimore branch of the International Labor Union yesterday said that a 60-year-old Negro, and then shot himself through the chest. The lynching followed.

WINDY CITY AUTHORITIES FIND WHITE SLAVE RING

CHICAGO, Dec. 5 (AP)—Federal and city authorities tonight raided a heavily parlor in the shadow of the Lexington hotel, "Scarface," Alvin Karpis' former headquarters. Arrested a dozen women and one man, and uncovered what they described as a nation-wide ring of White Slavery. Charles Wilson, senior, the wealthy parlor, was shot in the leg when he attempted to flee. Authorities said they believed he was the head of the ring which allegedly operated in over 30 states, luring girls to Chicago on promises of legitimate employment, introducing them to a life of commercial vice, then transferring them to resorts here and elsewhere.

Letters from all parts of the country were found, nearly all written by women.

CAPTAIN HAWKS LANDS ON FIELD AT ZION CITY

BALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 5 (AP)—Captain Frank Hawks arrived at the airport at 4 P. M. Monday, standard time today "a bit tired and still somewhat shaky" to spend the night here. He was here from Chicago, making the 567-mile trip in three hours flying time. He halted at Altus on route.

He expressed deep sorrow over the death of Lowell R. Bayles, speed flier, in Detroit today. They were close friends.

Captain Hawks, recovering from the effects of carbon monoxide poisoning, which forced him to cancel a speed flight between Vancouver, British Columbia, and Alaska, California, will leave for New York tomorrow at 2 A. M.

10,000 Persons See Body of Saint Dead For Four Centuries

GOA, Portuguese India, Dec. 5.

The coffin of Saint Francis Xavier was unveiled today for the thirtieth time in nearly 400 years.

Booming guns, peal of bells, fireworks and the crash of military music combined to make a scene of Oriental splendor celebrating the Catholic festival in this old Portuguese city, which has been called the "Home of the East."

The body of the saint was officially reported to be in good condition.

The church of St. Francis, where the body of St. Francis was exposed, was thronged by 10,000 persons who heard the peal of mass of bells.

Led by the archbishop, the congregation moved before the coffin and kissed the dead saint's feet.

The body will continue to lie in state for several days. It is expected that 1,000,000 pilgrims from many countries will come during that time to see it.

DEATH STRIKES PEN FROM POET'S HAND

Vachel Lindsay, Troubadour,

Tramp, Minsirel and Journalist, Dies at Age of 52

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Dec. 5 (AP)—Death today quitted the lean, rosy and the poet's hand.

He died at his home in Springfield, Ill., at the age of 52, after a long illness. He was a poet, a troubadour, a tramp, a minsirel and a journalist.

His death was a great loss to the literary world. He was a poet, a troubadour, a tramp, a minsirel and a journalist.

CHINA GETS READY TO HOLD CHINCHOW AGAINST JAPANESE

Dr. Alfred Sze Tells League of Nations Council Own People Will "Fight and Die There If Necessary"

(By The Associated Press)—The Chinese will not evacuate Chinchow but will fight and die there if necessary, Dr. Alfred Sze told the League of Nations council yesterday.

After making this statement, Dr. Sze conferred with Ambassador Charles G. Dawes to learn what attitude the United States would take if Japan troops occupied Chinchow.

Japan's League spokesman informed the council his government was unalterably opposed to intervention by a third party in the Manchurian conflict. He explained such intervention was unacceptable whether effected through a commission of inquiry or by neutral observers.

The resolutions of Dr. Sze and Dr. Wellington Koo, Chinese foreign minister, were submitted at Nanking. Urged by President Chiang Kai-shek, Dr. Sze recommended and consented to Dr. Koo was expected to stick by his decision.

Traffic tied up by demonstrations put off by 200 unemployed students, many of them girls, camped outside the city.

WASHINGTON AWAITING MARCHERS' ARRIVAL

Capital Prepares to Feed 1 and House 1200 Unemployed Demonstrators

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 (AP)—Food and shelter, and police, too, were made ready for the arrival tomorrow of 1,200 unemployed demonstrators with demands for government relief. They will be met at the district line and will be under the close supervision and protection of an augmented police detail from that city.

Herbert Benjamin, Washington representative of the national unemployed council, and Brigadier General Pelham D. Haislip, superintendent of police, agreed today on plans for handling the demonstrators. The marchers will be sheltered in an abandoned church and Salvation Army quarters. Those who can pay will be directed to boarding houses and inexpensive hotels.

On the eve of their arrival, former Senator Joseph I. France, announced candidate for Wisconsin nomination for president, expressed unqualified approval of the demonstration. He said it was a "great thing for the American people."

The demonstrators will hold a mass meeting Sunday night, complete drafting their unemployment insurance bill and lay plans for a march to the capitol Monday to present the bill.

WILSON AND JEROME BOYS ATTAIN HONOR AT BOISE

BOISE, Dec. 5 (AP)—Herman Dietz, Jr., Boise, was elected president of the Southern Idaho Older Boys' Conference here tonight.

Wayne Blaisley, Filer; Howard Pugh, Nampa; and Darrell Dehman, Don Engle, Filer, are the new officers. Officers will be installed tomorrow.

Pugh, a son of a former professor at the University of Tokyo, was elected president of the conference on both sides of the Pacific.

Mayor James P. Page, Boise, welcomed the older boys to the city and discussed conditions in France, which he toured last summer.

Other speakers included Orma J. Smith of the College of Idaho and F. Dickie Vancouver, British Columbia.

One hundred delegates registered from Idaho, Oregon, Washington, Boise, Buhl, Twin Falls, Glenns Ferry and Jerome.

Chief Innovator

Generally critics assured him the place of a chief-innovator, leader, who introduced a decade of modernity to the past.

Most of Lindsay's characteristic poetry depended on his peculiar rendition and rich and powerful qualities of his voice. He regarded himself as a troubadour and his poetry in a chant that he called singing. He opposed any attempt to limit his work to music, saying it was music in itself.

Lindsay preached the "Gospel of Beauty." In the early days of the silent picture industry he called for a "Gospel of Beauty."

PRINCE FAILS TO GET DECREE IN BUCHAREST

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Dec. 5 (AP)—The Rumanian minister of Prince Nicholas brother of King Carol and Mme. Janna Lucia Dietz had not been named tonight.

A report published abroad that the Rumanian supreme court had promulgated an annulment of the marriage was found to be incorrect. Although a decree of annulment is expected within a few days.

King Carol, Rumania, has left Bucharest for a week-end hunting trip.

Business Returns To Normal During Day at Only Bank

Two lines faced the Twin Falls Bank and Trust company cages during banking hours yesterday, one before the paying window and one at the receiving window. The lines varied in length as the tide of business ebbed and flowed but that made up of depositors outnumbered the other.

At 3 o'clock, the customary closing hour, both lines had shrunk markedly. Both paying and receiving windows were kept open until about 3:30 and all those within the bank at the closing hour were served as well as all who presented themselves later.

While the banking room presented an animated appearance most of the day, the lines were not as long as they had been. Deposits were heavier than usual due to the fact that the retail selling in all lines was heavy.

Festive of everyone in the form of holiday decorations made the appearance up and down the business streets yesterday morning. In 1927 the total business transactions were "obviously" shared by a large percentage of those on the streets and all those within the bank at the order of the day in all lines of business.

Washington awaits marchers' arrival.

BORAH CALLS FOR SENATE DECISION ON WORLD COURT

Idahoan Urges Disposition of Controversial Subject After "Pressing Domestic Matters Are Out of Way"

(By The Associated Press)—WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 (AP)—The leader of the fight against the world court—Chairman Borah of the senate foreign relations committee—today offered a settlement of the issue at this session.

He proposed that the senate debate and dispose of the controversial question of American difference after "pressing domestic matters are out of the way."

Willington for a vote this session was expressed in a statement denying printed declarations that he would seek to defer the whole issue.

Meanwhile, there is a growing conviction among the court opponents that their strength in the senate is increasing. Advocates of adherence are still confident but the leaders are beginning to count noses. A two-thirds vote is necessary for ratification.

The senate, five years ago, voted overwhelmingly to enter the court with reservations. Those reservations were not all accepted by the other nations and entry on a new basis is now provided.

New Congress, Keyed To Anxiety Of Hour, Awaits Gave's Fall

Program of Prosperity, With Tax Revision and Bank Reforms at Head, Appears As Goal of Legislators

(Associated Press Staff Writer)—WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 (AP)—A new congress, divided against itself and enmeshed by uncertainties, will begin its sessions Monday under a tension keyed to the well-known of these troubled times.

A program of prosperity, with tax revision and bank reforms at its head, will be the goal of legislative effort. Politics and prohibition will provide the effectiveness for unceasing oratory. If it is a breath of fresh air, it will be every forward step a tedious process of deadlock and compromise.

Unsettling fortunes intervene, the Democrats will organize the house and the Republicans the senate, and by means of a veto as a prelude to real control in either chamber. The choice of John N. Garner, Texas, as the first Democratic speaker since Champ Clark was dependent tonight on the almost unanimous turnout of his party's strength.

In the senate, re-election of George H. Moses, New Hampshire, as speaker, is being urged by many as a means to placate the rebellious Western Unionists and to give the so-called "sons of the wild jackass."

The house must make its decision at once; for it cannot function without a speaker. A final roundup tonight gave promise that every one of the 210 Democrats will be present Monday. At least one of the 214 Republicans whose candidate is Henry T. Rainey, Illinois, will become the floor leader. As for a speaker, it is not absent J. Will Taylor, Ill. in Tennessee, has been forbidden by his doctors to come to Washington.

Speaker Taylor's absence will be a blow to the Democrats. It will be a blow to the Democrats. It will be a blow to the Democrats.

Into power with Garner will go a full slate of Democratic officials, headed by Charles McNamara, the attorney general, and Henry T. Rainey, Illinois, will become the floor leader. As for a speaker, it is not absent J. Will Taylor, Ill. in Tennessee, has been forbidden by his doctors to come to Washington.

Builder Of Ocean-Crawling Craft Seeks Submerged Cities

STRANGE SUBMARINE LOOMS AS USEFUL FOR EXPLORATIONS

Simon Lake, Inventor, Longs to Probe Region Lingered Pictured From Air

UNDERSEA SHIP BOASTS CAPACITY OF FOUR MEN

South America's Roadways Leading Into Ocean Lure Designer of Vessel

(By The Associated Press) BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Dec. 4.—Sunken cities—possibly even the "lost continent" of Atlantis—may be visited by a submersible submarine under construction here.

The 22-foot craft, equipped with wheels so that it may crawl across the floor of the sea, is to be used primarily as a diver to obtain asphalt and to recover buttons from submerged wrecks. But Simon Lake of Bridgeport, Conn., says the submersible is a building looking beyond commercial possibilities into the realm of scientific exploration.

Many Submerged Cities "We know that cities in the West Indies, in the Black Sea, and near Japan have been submerged by earthquakes, tidal waves or other forces," Lake said.

"Some undoubtedly lie on the bottom of the Mediterranean. There is no reason why this submersible, if it is built as planned, cannot be used to look for these cities, photograph them, and bring articles from them to the surface."

Lake hopes that the submersible will descend 200 or 300 feet. Large enough to hold four men, it will be operated by electric power from a surface ship.

"It will contain powerful searchlights and a compass, and from divers may leave the craft to walk on the ocean bottom. There is one place I should like to explore particularly," Lake said.

"That is the region where Colonel Lindbergh took photographs of Mayan ruins in Central America, a red-paved city with a road leading directly into the sea."

"Sixty miles away is an island on which a road of similar stone also leads into the sea."

"If this submersible were to traverse the ocean floor between these two points, it would seem that ruins of ancient cities might be discovered."

Lake has been collecting scientific data on submerged cities. He also has been reading tales of Atlantis, which some writers maintain was an entire continent that sank into the sea.

He had formed no conclusion, however, as to whether such a land actually existed.

About two months' work remain on the submersible before it is tested in Long Island Sound and then at Tampa Springs, Florida.

upon it to accept the challenge to hold the beautiful and the splendid as its goal.

One of his best friends of recent days was Stephen Graham, the English novelist, who was ordered out of Russia by the Soviet government.

Simon Lake (right) believes that the submarine he has designed for deep sea dredging of clams and undersea exploration has possibilities that may extend to searching for the lost continent of Atlantis and cities now covered by water. The submarine (lower left) is equipped with wheels for travel on the ocean floor.

The Weather

FORECAST FOR TODAY AND TOMORROW—Fair; local valley fog; freezing temperatures.

Minimum temperature in the Twin Falls vicinity in the 24-hour period preceding 5 P. M. yesterday was 23 degrees, according to the report of D. B. Cheney, government weather observer here. Maximum for the same period was 33 degrees. The day was cloudy and the barometer registered 30.72 inches at 5 P. M. Wind was northerly. Humidity ranged between 85 and 92 per cent of saturation.

Graham was "Tramping With a Poet in the Rockies" and Lindsay's "Going to the Sun."

His full name was Nicholas Vachel Lindsay but he preferred to be known only as Vachel. His wife, whom he married in 1923 and who was Elizabeth Conner, Spokane, Washington, and two children survive him.

HUMORIST COMMENTS

SPOKANE, Dec. 5 (AP)—Standard King, humorist writer and friend of Vachel Lindsay, said today in a poem that Spokane on a canal lecture tour, liked it and stayed five years during which he accomplished "four greatest achievements of his career"—a charming wife, two babies and his collected poems.

King and Lindsay worked together on many humorous poems, notably "A Curse for the Sixtyphone."

"Vachel Lindsay came to Spokane to speak, and liked it," said King. "After 10 or 12 years of the lecture platform he wanted to settle down, and he did settle down for five years, working over old poems, blocking out new ones, saluting death occasionally, and giving recitals when royalty checks were small."

"Forty years of bachelorhood ended when he met Elizabeth Conner, daughter of a Presbyterian minister. She was teaching high school children how to appreciate poetry and was writing poetry herself."

"One afternoon Lindsay called up four or five of his friends and invited them to his wedding in the hotel room where he had lived since he came West. The walls of the room were hung for the occasion with gold brocade, and the bridegroom wore a black flannel shirt. The townsfolk said 'How very eccentric!' but there was nothing eccentric about it if you know Lindsay. After all he wrote 'The Chinese Nightingale' as well as 'General William Booth.'"

28 OF 44 COUNTIES IN IDAHO INCREASE TAX LEVIES IN 1931

Additions Appear Result of Attempts to Raise Funds to Offset Cuts Made by Board of Equalization

(By The Associated Press) BOISE, Dec. 5.—Twenty-eight of the 44 counties in Idaho showed increases in the county tax levies this year compared with a year ago, a report of E. C. O'Neil, state auditor, disclosed here.

Decreases were reported in 15 counties, and three made no change. The increase was attributed to attempts of many counties to raise necessary additional funds to offset the reduction in valuation which was made by the board of equalization and assessors, principally in farm and home valuations.

The tabulation did not include the valuation of public utilities, which are separately assessed, but which this year received increases in valuation except in instances of minor decreases.

Valuation of all other classes of property, except for a negligible amount to be reported on the "subsequent roll," fell in all counties. The total valuation of property other than utilities was $200,371,340 in 1930, compared with $193,400,842 a year ago, a reduction of $6,970,498.

Valuation for tax purposes remained virtually the same as last year, a reduction of $42,451 occurring principally in small branch lines.

Other Utilities Increase

Other utility companies reported increases, the major one being in electric power lines. This classification climbed from $4,029,000 in 1930 to $5,342,783 in 1931, an increase of $1,313,783. Telephone lines increased from $4,000,000 to $4,245,000, an increase of $245,000. Telegraph lines climbed from $1,100,000 to $1,180,000, an increase of $80,000. Gas companies went from $1,359,014 in 1930 to $1,601,287, an increase of $242,273.

Those counties showing decreases in the county levy were Blaine, 20.32 per cent; Benewah, 16.66 per cent; Boundary, 8.42 per cent; Camas, 8.82 per cent; Canyon, 5.42 per cent; Caribou, 2.28 per cent; Clatsop, 1.28 per cent; Fremont, 1.25 per cent; Jerome, 0.63 per cent; Kootenai, 0.63 per cent; Madison, 0.63 per cent; Payette, 1.79 per cent; Power, 2.22; Shoshone, 3.24; Valley, 11.26.

Counties Showing no Change

Counties showing no change in the state tax levy in each instance varied along with the valuation. Since the share of state expense that each county must bear is determined by valuation.

Under the rules for timing international freights, Dayles had to fly over the measured course at a height of not more than 164 feet.

Charles Bipes, a pilot at the airport, estimated Dayles' speed at the time of the crash at 300 miles an hour.

Dayles, 31, was a native of Mason, Illinois. He learned to fly in Chester, Illinois, in 1922. He won international reputation when he captured the Thompson air trophy race at Cleveland last September, beating some of the world's best known pilots. Combining great skill with great nerve, he was one of the most modest of aviation's heroes.

NEW CONGRESS, KEYED TO ANXIETY OF HOUR, AWAITS GAVEL'S FALL

Heard too many of the blessings of victory would go to the South. At the time the Southern wanted speaker leadership and most of the committee chairmanships. Garner negotiated patiently and thus far successfully, but what might be settled in the months of combat ahead.

The senate, being a continuing body, can take its time about organizing. The dispute over Moore's election probably will be put off until Tuesday, and perhaps later. The senate membership stands at 48 Republicans, 47 Democrats and one Farmer-Labor. At least two Democrats will be absent.

The Democrats do not want the senate unless they have an actual majority. They are expected to make deals with the insurgents who threaten to vote for some Republican other than Moore, and for a Democrat, for president pro tempore. In retaliation, Moore and his colleagues among the insurgents are expected to threaten to deprive the insurgents of their present committee chairmanships. It is a first-class three-way race, and most of the old-lineers are predicting that in the end Moore will be re-elected, and Republicans will be in control of the senate committees.

Except for the house organization and the receipt of a digest of bills Monday will see little accomplished. President Hoover's annual message will go to the capital Tuesday by messenger and be read from the rostrum of the senate chamber. On Wednesday will follow the budget message. The senate will plan to revamp the revenue-relating laws and government expenditures for the coming year in order to close the yawning treasury deficit.

It will be well toward the end of the week before the legislative wheels begin to turn.

PRISON DOORS OPEN TO WOMEN OF TWIN FALLS

BOISE, Dec. 5 (AP)—Two of Idaho's women prisoners, both sentenced to the state penitentiary, were released from the state penitentiary.

June Gordon, sentenced for passing bad checks, was released today after serving a year of a one-to-14 year sentence. Viola Lowe, Twin Falls county district employee, will be released December 8 after serving 11 months of a one-to-14 year sentence for forging orders for school district warrants.

Both received clemency at the hands of the board of pardons.

CATHEDRAL GIVES WAY TO PALACE OF SOVIETS

MOSCOW, Dec. 5 (AP)—The Cathedral of the Redeemer, one of old Russia's proudest churches, was blasted into a heap of ruins today to make way for the Palace of the Soviets.

It was a difficult job, for the walls of Moscow's greatest house of worship—built and a capacity of 10,000—related abnormally and it was necessary to use small charges because of the close proximity of dwellings. Work on the Palace of the Soviets, a massive convention hall, is scheduled to start the first of the year.

would be submitted to the council of the international chamber March 1, when it meets in Paris. Strawn expects favorable action then.

Strawn, as chairman of the American committee of the international chamber, said its committee of experts made the expert agreement of governments would rather treat the entire economic situation which must be improved for prosperity than as a subject for separate conferences.

The theoretical problem of boosting silver "stand no chance of early application in practice," he said, quoting the report of the expert, and "considerable time must elapse before governments can possibly come to any decision regarding the utility" of three theories.

"During that time it is to be hoped that the silver problem will have solved itself in a general adjustment of commodity prices."

After demands for a government conference failed, Strawn said, he said, the committee decided to devise a simple scheme which would work without concerted action by national governments.

High lights are an export sales agreement, partial substitution of silver and silver notes for gold, nations having little gold, restoration to pre-war status of subsidiary currencies and readjustment of the bank of Spain should be brought in.

"The committee recommended that those interested in the sale of silver * * * emulate * * * other industries by establishment of research institutes for the purpose of deriving new uses * * * of the product."

Strawn added that the committee called attention to the "unreasonably wide margin" between the wholesale price of silver and the retail price of articles made of silver.

Orvil W. Adams, vice president of the Utah State National bank, Salt Lake City, said Uncle Sam, as head of a great family, cannot prosper unless he adheres strictly to his budget and saves as much as he spends. The present system of levying taxes was described by Adams as "glorified sales work" with 11,000 taxing units in the West alone making raids on private purses.

HIGHWAY DISTRICT CANDIDATES ACTIVE

Aspirants for Board Membership and Friends Lay Claims Before Citizens

Politics in the Twin Falls highway district became decidedly active yesterday in the three-cornered contest between Robert Ray and Frank Caudle, both of the southern part of sub-district Number 3, and P. M. Craven, Hollister, for the position now held by Mr. Ray as representative of that sub-division on the Twin Falls district highway board. The election will be held on Monday between the hours of 1 P. M. and 5 P. M.

There were many voters from all parts of the district in Twin Falls yesterday and the aspirants and their friends advanced arguments from various points of view. All persons who have lived in the district 21 years and who have resided in the state six months and in the district 30 days have a right to vote.

The polling places for the district are as follows:

JURY SUPPORTS CLAIM OF POTATO GROWERS

A jury in district court here yesterday, at the conclusion of a two-day trial, awarded judgment to Robert Bodenhamer and George Stelmert for $1800 to P. E. Lawrence, the Ahlquist Produce company, and the jury concern which furnished the $1800 produce dealers' bond.

Judgment covered the full amount of a claim for balance alleged to remain unpaid of $1773.25 purchase price of 1810 sacks of potatoes. The sacks were grown last year. Jerome county farm owned by Bodenhamer, which Stelmert—famed as tenant.

Question was raised at trial whether Joe Detton, who contracted to buy the potatoes last March, was acting on his own account or as Ahlquist's agent. Records were brought from the office of the state commissioner of law enforcement at Boise to show that license had been issued to Detton as Ahlquist's agent. Evidence showed this license was returned to the commissioner's office subsequent to the deal for the potatoes involved in this action.

INTEREST GROWS IN RESERVOIR ELECTION

Although so far as known here no independent candidates are planning to enter the field of the reelection of R. E. Shepherd, Jerome, and P. E. Sawyer, Blaine, regular nominees for positions which they now hold on the board of directors of the American Falls Reservoir district. A number of persons are urging as many citizens as possible to cast their ballots next Tuesday. It was stated yesterday by E. B. Johnson, assistant secretary, on the ground that a small vote shows the interest in a large project and its affairs.

DEATH BRINGS END TO LONG TERM OF ILLNESS

H. D. Middleton, about 60 years old, county charge suffering from a malignant malady for some years past, died here Saturday morning. There are no relatives known here. He was an aunt, Mrs. Rebecca Middleton, Louisville, Kentucky. A letter from her written in February, 1930, was found among his effects. Burial services in charge of the Drake mortuary, will be held at the graveside in the Piler cemetery Monday.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The secret of John J. Raskob's success as a captain of industry is beginning to leak out.

It is a quiet matter, gentle voice and non-belligerent appearance are misleading.

In fact, Mr. Raskob is a bulldog type, a "never-say-die" and a "never-take-no-for-an-answer" type.

John J. Raskob, with eyes that glare, a ruddy complexion and a prognathous jaw, is a little different from the man who hails from the sunny Southland or elsewhere, and who are convinced that prohibition is not a partisan issue in American politics must feel that their national committee chairman.

PARIS APPAREL IN "STAY-AT-HOME" MODE WINS FAVOR

Fashioners Discard Formal "Dinner-For-Two" Array and Substitute Softer, Clinging Dress Materials

By BARBARA BEAUFORT (Associated Press Fashion Editor)
PARIS, Dec. 5.—The stay-at-home dinner dress is fashion's newest night-time innovation. Since shimmering satins and low cut details are too formal array for "dinner for two," Paris has designed a new colorful informal gown for heartless evenings.

Soft, Clinging Materials
A sleeveless bodice, a short jacket and a full interpleting skirt are the basis of the design. Colors are bright and materials soft and clinging to create an effect of cozy warmth.

Wool as soft as eiderdown and as clinging as silk is a favorite fabric for the stay-at-home dinner dress. One of them is made in full paila effect of deep blue wool with a cluster of starry silver flowers.

It is worn with a matching waist-length jacket topped with a scarf lined with silver cloth to wind about the throat.

Another dress for "dinner for two" is designed of beige wool lace joined with a little jacket of brown crepe and a brown belt studded in front with a row of coral silk roses.

Gay As Garden
One of the new stay-at-home frocks are as gay as summer garden. One of them, designed with a square-necked bodice and short puffed sleeves, is made of blue, green, rose and brown flowered crepe and topped with a little brown sleeveless jacket.

A second of heliotrope crepe has a bold accompaniment of pansy purple crepe.

Velvet is also part of the mode. One of the new fashion houses has designed for the exotic woman a rounded gown of black velvet with a yoke of white crepe extending into long streamers which may be wound about the wearer's arms or left floating from the shoulders.

SWANDOWN LINES
DEBUTANTES WRAPS
PARIS, Dec. 5.—Swandown lining the debutante evening wrap is a new winter wrinkle. One of the latest designs of debutante dresses is lining her velvet wraps with after tier of fluffy swandown down members. An outstanding model is of black velvet lined with pale pink marabou.

MRS. HOOVER POSES
WEARING CAMEO PIN
WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—When Helen Miller, Chicago sculptress, wears a bust of Mrs. Hoover, the First Lady posed with a large cameo pin on her breast. Mrs. Hoover has several Colonial dresses which adapt themselves to cameo decoration. One is very satin shot through with a gold thread. It has a bertha collar of lace.

SMOKE, NEW COLOR, MAKES FASHION DEBUT
NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Smoke is the latest color to make its debut in the fashion world. The new color, a dark rich gray, is used for coats, ensembles and dresses in both wool and silk.

One of the smartest gowns in the new shade is a cocktail frock made of chiffon, designed with avoirdupois bands banded lightly at the wrist and richly embroidered in cut silk beads.

NEW EVENING BAGS ARE POUCH-SHAPED
LONDON, Dec. 5.—Paris blue, pearl pink and sea foam green are evening bags are the latest word in evening accessories. They are designed in pouch shape and finished with crystal clasps. White satin bags embroidered in tiny seed pearls and mounted with gold tops are another favorite of the moment.

The dark brown jacket mink evening jacket supplies texture and color contrast for either off-white or colored dress it may top.

Long-Neglected Wool Paneling Returns

By HOPE HARMON (Interior Furnishings Editor, The Woman's Home Companion. Written for The News)

Wool paneling after a long period of neglect, is coming back into vogue.

There can be no doubt as to its high decorative value, and new methods of applying it to the wall surface have put it within a longer price range than for a long time past.

There have been times, in the somewhat distant past, when paneled walls were almost the entire decoration of a room. There were paneling when paneled walls became one of the background for the furniture. The present feeling is that they should be brought into the decorative scheme of a room so that they are neither subordinate nor dominant, but rather a harmonious and important part of the whole decorative scheme.

The play of light, whether natural or artificial, is always interesting on a paneled wall. The corner illuminated by a high light from table lamp or wall bracket, or the corner of a molding in shadow, carry with them something fine and beautiful; and the subtle melowness of grained wood has an elusive character of dignity and interest that is entirely lacking in a plainly surfaced wall.

The decorative theory of paneling is an interesting one. Early students of artistic interiors discovered that an enclosed space was more interesting than one which was not enclosed. A bare wall at once became distinctive when space and color were introduced. Experience and modern methods of paneling proved that certain definite proportions for those spaces gave the maximum decorative effect. Division of whole surface into definite well balanced spaces proved pleasing to the eye and added a touch of individuality to a room.

Paneling gathers room into a well-knit unit

Modern decorators realize that the lines of paneling are closely related to structural lines, and the recognition of this fact helps to make the panels appear properly as an integral part of the wall.

One of the charms of good paneling is that it adapts itself to rooms of any size, shape or height. It is a certain usefulness in holding doors and irregular sized windows together in orderly arrangement, dividing the varied spaces of a bare wall into more interesting areas and turning the whole room into an attractive and well-knit unit.

The present use of wool paneling represents in its different uses and color treatments the embellishment of sturdy English walls more ornamental French interiors and unaffected Colonial ones. In bygone times of great forest preservers when wood was used lavishly in complete room designs.

Probably one of the finest characteristics of early American interiors is the substantial paneled fireplace wall which is entirely of wood, the panels being designed to the proportions of space and finished as a separate unit or painted to match the remainder of the wood trim in the room.

DECOROUS DEBUTANTE APPEARS IN CAPITAL'S SOCIETY THIS SEASON
WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Decorous conduct seems the rule for the 1931 capital debutante who goes to gay Paris for her port rose veil and back to grandmother's day for her demure nosegay.

Sometimes the latter is made of magnolia and bellflower. The veil is the "greatest thing" to flirt through—And how some debbies use it! But this deb limit her mischief to her eyes. Her feet move sedately. There's no hysterical prancing and cooing in the ball room as there was a season or so ago.

GOLD SAFETY PINS NOW FASTEN BELTS IN PARIS
PARIS, Dec. 5.—Safety pins are in style. New suede belts in beige, brown and black are fastened in front with four-inch gold safety pins instead of buckles, and a number of sports coats are using the huge pins to fasten scarf collars close about throats.

NEW JERKINS OF FUR ENTER STYLE PICTURE
LONDON, Dec. 5.—Fur jerkins are a new smart and warm addition to winter wardrobe. The close fitting short fur jackets which resemble a sleeked vest in design, are worn over coat frocks under winter coats. Many of them have accompanying hats and muffs of the same fur.

Women Artists Hastily Depict Hoovers

By RUE MCNAMARA (Associated Press Staff Writer)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Two women, working swiftly, have completed a portrait of President Hoover and a bust of Mrs. Hoover to be exhibited at the Chicago World's fair in 1932.

Blond, energetic little Baroness Violet Wenner did the portrait of President Hoover in three sittings of 35 minutes each.

Dark-haired, serene Helen Miller, Chicago sculptress, completed the bust of Mrs. Hoover after three 15-minute sittings.

Seeding Mid-West's Renowned Both were commissioned by the Middle West art association of Chicago which seeks to collect some 200 portraits of illustrious citizens born in the Middle West or who have contributed to its building.

Both Baroness Wenner and Mrs. Miller, who are appointments with President and Mrs. Hoover whenever it was convenient for them to be received at the White House.

Baroness Wenner stayed near her telephone in the hotel and dashed out, leaving the portrait, whenever the summons came.

She outlined the picture with bold, swift strokes in the brief time she had with the president and added finishing touches after each sitting.

Shows Whiff of Hoover Her portrait shows a winsome, almost a sadness in the chief executive.

The Baroness has painted Charles Stewart Mott, Otto Kahn, Harold McCormick, former President Woodrow Wilson and Emperor Franz Josef of Austria and many others.

The Baroness, born in England, married an Austrian and is a native of a high, clay-clusted after in a drafty sculptor's shop Mrs. Helen Miller gave a few finishing touches to the bust of Mrs. Hoover.

"I wish I could have had her here to pose," she said. "In the luxurious stoneware of the White House my inclination is to tell Mrs. Hoover."

Mrs. Helen Miller (left) finished a bust of Mrs. Hoover after only three 15-minute sittings, and Baroness Violet Wenner (right) made a portrait of the President after three sittings of 35 minutes. Each artist had to be ready to rush to the White House as opportunity for sittings developed.

Anderson Faces Task—Replacing Of Speedy Back

Despite Notre Dame Reputation of Finding High-Class Ball Toters, Loss of Schwartz Looms Large

Anderson Faces Task—Replacing Of Speedy Back

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—They've got a reputation around South Bend for pulling high class backs out of the hat, but there is a general feeling of uneasiness at Notre Dame, where the loss of a star back is going to have to reach down deep indeed next year to find the equal of Marchmont Schwartz.

Anderson may find someone as good as the Ray St. Louis non-stop ball carrier who is winding up his career in Schwartz, but he will not find a back who can replace the speed and power of the late Schwartz. The experts thought there would never be another backfield combination like the old "four horsemen," but they were not sure after watching Schwartz, Brill, Carls and Harold perform for the "Irish" last year.

LADY with a PAST

BY HARRIET HENRY.

SYNOPSIS: Venice Muir returns from Europe with a manufactured "past," brilliant and sensational which brings her popularity in New York society. She wants to repay Roland Wainwright for his former neglect and she is attracted to Drake Parrelly, however, whom Venice actually cares for, believing the rumors about Venice and Drake them.

Chapter 22

AFTER THE BALL
There was a dinner of fourteen at the Wainwrights before the Christmas Ball.

Venice sat on Rollo's right and looked at him with satisfaction that Guy could see her now. At her left was Baron Stenrel, New York's latest titled darling. He had been Reme de Stenrel's slightly and read of his suicide. His attention to Venice was marked and persistent. She purposely led him on, for the girl with the certain nose was on the other side. Her attention fell on indifferent ears. The Baron must discover why Reme de Stenrel had been so popular with this girl with the ruses hair and small, immature mouth. Her gown of silver lame was exquisite and her figure slim and lithe but he would hardly have expected the Baron to be so attracted to her such freshness.

"I shouldn't have told mother to put the Baron on your other side," Rollo whispered to Venice. "Don't let him turn your head, my dear. My head is already turned," she smiled and forced herself to give a long look into his eyes.

"Are you going back to Europe soon again, Miss Muir?" The Baron was firm in his intention to focus his great on himself.

"I doubt it. But like all good Americans, I hope to get to Paris with me."

Cerise palls were pressing on the Baron's arm. Venice started with the news picture that brought Roland Wainwright's innocent kiss of a year ago.

"Am I interrupting?" she asked sweetly, leaning slightly across the Baron towards that honeyed voice.

"No," said the other girl just as sweetly.

"I beg your pardon," the Baron turned quickly to her.

"Are you going to pick with you?" smiled Cerise Nalls.

Venice wanted to laugh. So that was the way the matter was decided. Interest. She turned back to Rollo.

She tracked the ball about twelve o'clock. It was a scintillating mass of richly groomed humanity. Debutantes, dowagers, married couples, all in their element.

Debutantes, dowagers, married couples, all in their element. Venice was looking for a pair of arms to support her. She saw Drake Parrelly. He was dancing with a snub-nosed girl. Her eyes were fixed on black hair, cut like a Venetian's, pink, indicated that she might be his wife. Venice, however, called called purposefully, "Hello, Drake."

His black curly color dye his face, "Hello, Venice."

Baron Stenrel was taking her away from Rollo. She lost track in the sea of gyrating forms. She was annoyed. Her eyes went slowly about the room. All at once she saw him sitting on the sidelines. Some one had come off with his hat. He was wearing a white shirt. Why doesn't he ask me to dance. At least, she looked up into the Baron's face.

"You walk like the hero of a Venetian opera," she said. And the words were true. He was a dancer. Apparently he did not think so. "To dance with you is a dream," he murmured.

"Oh, my God, went her mind. Drake, I mustn't!"

"Like the other end of the room better, don't you?" he managed.

Drake knew cut in here. He was once there. He was a dancer. Apparently he did not think so. "To dance with you is a dream," he murmured.

"Oh, my God, went her mind. Drake, I mustn't!"

"Like the other end of the room better, don't you?" he managed.

Drake knew cut in here. He was once there. He was a dancer. Apparently he did not think so. "To dance with you is a dream," he murmured.

FIGHT ON COYOTES DEALS IN POISON

County Predatory Animal
Board Cooperates in Biological Survey Campaign

Twin Falls county predatory animal board will use tax money under its control to cooperate with the federal biological survey in a coyote poisoning campaign; members of the board decided at a meeting here today.

The board pays no bounties on predatory animals, payments being discontinued last fall when it was ascertained that claims exceeded the board's tax revenues by approximately $1200. The board's tax revenues are collected from sheep owners, but due to reduction in the valuation of sheep this year, the board's revenue is not expected to exceed $1800.

Three men have been employed to spread poison furnished by the biological survey. The board will furnish horses for bait. This campaign will be under direction of Curtis Rolichfield, representative of the biological survey, recently transferred here from Pocatello.

Members of the board are Ivan O. Lincoln, A. H. Bralstead and A. C. Rutherford.

Chicago's new municipal airport terminal cost $774,000.

WHEAT FED TO CATTLE
KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Warten county farmers are not worried about the low price of wheat. They are feeding their surplus to cattle—in a ration balanced with other feeds. Wheat is selling for 50 to 60 cents a bushel, while corn is worth up to 90 cents a bushel. Many feeders are using barley to replace corn.

WEALTH...

may determine extremes of luxury... attendant upon, even the selection of burial caskets and necessaries.

But wealth may not purchase luxury in personal service... in the modern mortuary interpretation of Service.

In our conception of this ideal there are no varying degrees of service.

"Business As Usual"

WE DESIRE to express our appreciation of the loyalty of our friends and customers whose faith and courage has aided us so materially during the past two days.

Under conditions which have been trying to this institution, and its customers alike it is only fitting that we acknowledge our gratitude.

As long as we are called upon to transact the business of three banks in one banking house, lines of customers will extend into the street at times even under perfectly normal conditions. We ask that, in the future as during the past two days, patrons exercise patience in transacting their business with us.

This institution is amply able to take care of any and all demands upon its resources, now and in the future, and it regards its obligation to do this as a sacred trust.

Let "Business as Usual" be the watchword in the Twin Falls country hereafter, just as it has always been and, as ever, we pledge our full share in the development to come.
