been upon him, and the court would instruct extreme caution in scrutinizing his testimony so far as Bigley was concerned.

Henry M. Hall, Jerome, prosecuting attorney, pleaded ignorance of the intent of the officers, but the prosecution was "unbiased and unprejudiced in its endeavor to protect the citizens of this county."

"This breaks case with the state," Hall said.

"There is no doubt in my mind," the prosecutor asserted, "that Bigley is a man who is capable of making himself solid with the Twin Falls officers and in doing this he intended neither Coppinger nor myself to be in any way benefited."

"The state is not going to let Bigley go," the prosecutor declared.

They formed the acquaintance of this man Bigley.

"I find this man Bigley one who played them with liquor, played poker with them, and studied their trails. He was skilled in experience as a police officer, and he was looking for men capable of committing a crime of this kind," the prosecutor declared.

"Bigley conceived in his own mind that he should rob the bank and then men would be in it. Up to that time, I believe, he hadn't considered taking the money and then he did it."

"The prosecutor proceeded to trace steps in the bandits' preparations for the robbery," the prosecutor declared.

Hazellon Bank Bandit Says "Nothing to It" Regarding Car Robbery Report

JEROME, Dec. 10 (Special to The News)—Coppinger, William, Alabama, who yesterday pleaded guilty in district court today to robbery of the Hazellon Bank, said today when shown a newspaper report that he was wanted in Alabama in connection with an attempted robbery of an express car in William, July 11, "There is absolutely nothing to it."

He pointed out that he had left his home at Work, high-hiking to Idaho to work in the harvest here, August 11.

U. C. Glasgow, Jerome county deputy sheriff, said today that he had not seen Coppinger since he was arrested in the Hazellon bank robbery.

"It was noon when Mr. Reynolds was speaking and at 10 P. M. Mr. Stephan took up the argument for the defense. He referred early in his remarks to the prosecution's contention and first question, 'Who tipped them off?'"

"Sentiment," Mr. Stephan declared, is not sufficient basis for prosecution. He said that the prosecution's logical consequence of the officers' plans. They both would have been caught by the officers' holding, daring and audacity.

"Robbing banks is isolated, small-time crime," Mr. Stephan declared. "It has come to be a sort of pastime. It those boys had been there under ordinary circumstances—there would not have been any question about the success of the robbery."

The officers were there, prepared to meet fire with fire, and that doesn't justify the conclusion that the officers were wrong."

Inquiring into question of Bigley's motives, Mr. Stephan asserted that Bigley was a peace officer who was to get away from that work. He asked a direct question:

"The officers were there, prepared to meet fire with fire, and that doesn't justify the conclusion that the officers were wrong."

CONGRESS BEGINS STUDY OF HOOPER CREDIT PROPOSAL

Senate and House Committees Open Hearings On $500,000,000 Scheme to Help Bolster Business

By SAM BLEDSON (Associated Press Staff Writer) WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Senate and house committees commenced hearings today on bills embodying the president's proposal that a financial arm of the federal government be mobilized to bolster business credit.

The Republican leader, Watson of Indiana, introduced today bills to amend the $500,000,000 reconstruction corporation, outlined in Senate Bill 1, are extended by the banking sub-committee.

He held the banking committee, headed by Norbeck, South Dakota, to the agreement to get the plan through as quickly as possible. Committee members believe a report on the measure may be submitted to the senate soon after the Christmas recess.

Similar speedy action was indicated from the house banking committee. Yesterday it approved a measure for another presidential recommendation, a $100,000,000 revolving fund to help the federal land banks, and then arranged to take hold of the proposal for the reconstruction corporation.

Along with the move to carry out the suggestions in President Hoover's program came other suggestions for the reconstruction corporation. A number of recommendations were made by a sub-committee of the committee.

The plan did not place responsibility for the curtailment upon the government but said it should be placed upon the private industry to cut down output found to be injurious to the public interest."

Other recommendations included: Establishment by business itself of a national economic council. Modification of the anti-trust laws.

Establishment of a private system of "unemployment benefits." The committee also recommended that congress but probably not until after the Hoover program has been disposed of.

The chief executive regards his plan for a reconstruction corporation as perhaps the most important of those included in his last year's annual message.

Only yesterday he urged house Republican leaders to do all they could to get it through as quickly as possible.

Representative Snell, the Republican leader, in turn urged Chairman Bilezikian of the banking committee to get busy on the Strong bill, similar to the senate's "Number one" bill, which would authorize consolidation of the plan for the reconstruction corporation is expected in both houses.

The bill is now before the senate banking sub-committee which was sponsored by Walcott, Republican, Connecticut, who heads the group.

Levin's decisively whips Loughran in New York Arena

Small Gathering Sees Windy City Boy Win Decision

Hero of New York Crowds Hits Canvas Four Times Victim of Blows Noctive Easily Might Have Avoided

By EDWARD J. NEIL (Associated Press Writer)

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—Tossing right hands like a javelin thrower, falling down in his capacious King's highway, wild man from Chicago, plastered Tommy Loughran through 10 rounds tonight as a small gathering of the faithful, mostly from the boxing's first bit of bric-a-brac as to the flits well one too often.

Loughran, hero of New York City who has been called the "king" like Ernie Schaaf, Max Baer, Victorio Campolo and Paulino Uzcudun, was called to the canvas four times with rights and punches a heavy blow blocked, and the boldest "King" easily won the unanimous decision of Referee Arthur Donovan and a pair of judges.

Neither before nor since Jack Shaffer knocked him out two years ago for the first defeat of that kind in a long and glamorous career has Loughran been as close to the full "if" as he was tonight in the face of Levin's hard charges and punching.

Just before the first round ended, Levin's raked Tommy's jaw with a right that looped all the way from the center of the ring and Loughran had all he could do to keep his feet with the aid of both hands on the ropes. The bell clanged and the crowd came to its feet in a gasp as the male of Loughran in danger, settled back smiling in knowing fashion at the sort of an "accident" that has happened before in this town only once since Shaffer.

But the "Kingling" was just beginning. He planked Tommy with that looping left in the second round, cracked him again in the third, once more near the end of the round. This time Loughran was down for a count of four and though the end of the round was near, Tommy barely had time to get to his feet.

Again in the fourth a right cracked Tommy full on the chin and he was down again after another nine as the crowd, fearing there was some mistake, rose again and shouted wildly. He was not down again until the ninth when a right smacked him in the mouth, split his lip and left him for 30 seconds as he lay on the floor.

Tommy gave Levin's a 100 per cent advantage in weight, speed, and power. A crowd of 7,000, paid $2.50 to see the biggest upset of the indoor season here.

Stanley Poreta, prominent young heavyweight from Jersey City, scored a technical knockout over Hans Schnorrath, a newcomer from Germany, in the seventh round of a 10-round match on the same card. Poreta weighed 204 pounds, Schnorrath, 171.

Poreta knocked the German down for a count of seven in the seventh round with a short, inside right to the chin, and with lefts there after battered him about the head and body with both hands.

"Chick" Devlin, Vancouver middleweight, won the decision over Miller, in a 10-round semi-final that was slow and even in the matter opened a cut over Devlin's right eye in the sixth. "Chick" landed, hammering Miller's body as he landed both hands, that he easily carried the decision. There was no knockdown. Miller weighed 136, Devlin 129.

holiday proposal beated and defeated. Referring to his speech of Tuesday, for which he has been deprived of his membership privileges, announced by the White House and rebuked and repudiated by his state and party colleagues, he said:

"I submitted documents and was prepared to submit further documents. I was permitted, but unfortunately, on account of the inactivity of the time restrictions I could not submit the other documents, all of which were of great value in determining the weight to be accorded to any remarks I was then making."

"If the house shall desire to consider this matter, I hold myself in readiness to give any additional information as I may have."

McFadden spoke before crowded galleries and a floor attendance of the membership unchanged after the opening day of congress. A hum of whispered conversation that had grown as the debate continued was stifled. All listened intently.

He interrupted frequently by questions. In a brief utterance he roundly denounced his Tuesday speech, he said he favored moratorium a year ago but now conditions had changed and he now op-

One-Time Texans Score With New Large Golf Ball

Ralph Guldhall and Ray Mangrum Find Latest Creation For Golfers, Much to Liking at Pasadena

By PAUL ZIMMERMAN (Associated Press Sports Writer)

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 18.—Two former Texans, Ralph Guldhall and Ray Mangrum, found golf's new creation, the large, heavy ball, much to their liking as they set the pace over the first 18 holes of the Pasadena $4,000 open tournament on the Brookside course today.

The youthful pair toured the 6,374-yard, 18-hole, 2700-yard par, hitting most of their more seasoned opponents, less fortunate in mastering the new ball, to European-style, the Seco course, trailed behind.

Several of the older heads in the game failed to qualify in the select group in the second round of 18 holes, required for eligibility to continue in the second round of 18 holes tomorrow. The outlandish of these was Johnny Golden, professional from Stamford, Connecticut, and co-holder of the Agua Caliente title who shot an 81.

Trailing the leaders by a stroke came the professional from Los Angeles, who shot a 79. George von Elm, Los Angeles business man golfer and runner-up for the 1931 open title, shot a 78 on the rugged Arroyo course in 31 under, while Goggin, San Francisco, was slightly under the first 18 holes, ending with 77, but he finished strong with the lowest nine card of the day, a 31.

The veteran MacDonald Smith, New York City, and Jack Gaines, a Glendale, California, amateur with a 3-4 stroke handicap, completed the first 18 holes in 77 and 78, respectively, but they were not in the final group.

Major winners, Long Beach, Willy Cox, Brooklyn; Al Zimmerman, Portland, and Joe Egan, St. Louis, were the only others of the first starters who made the cut. They had two strokes behind the leaders with 77 and 78, respectively.

The defending title-holder, Tony Manero, Elmoreford, New York, "pro," not completely recovered from a recent injury, had a difficult time, finishing with a 79, and 77, well down the list. Walter Hagen, veteran golf champion, left his game yesterday in a practice round which he negotiated in 65, and could muster no better than 73. This gave him a 138 for the first 36 holes.

Major winners, Long Beach, Willy Cox, Brooklyn; Al Zimmerman, Portland, and Joe Egan, St. Louis, were the only others of the first starters who made the cut. They had two strokes behind the leaders with 77 and 78, respectively.

"After being driven possibly 15 or 20 minutes, we were taken out by car and forced into another. Then we rode for about an hour in the other car."

"The man had very little to say on the trip until we reached the house, we were taken to a small cottage. He was escorted into a dark room and allowed to remove the cloth from his eyes. It was about 7:15 P. M. by his watch. "It was obliged to promise I would not try to look at the man."

After much argument, he wrote a letter to James Taylor, Reed's lawyer, asking that the money be paid.

"I'll say this much, that the man who dictated the letters was able to do so, and probably would have been in any legitimate business. Thamen fed him milk and crackers and sandwiches. They were very courteous."

Greenleaf Nears Eleventh Pocket Billiards Crown

Philadelphia, Dec. 18 (AP) - Ralph Greenleaf, Phila., 10-time world pocket billiard champion, stepped away toward his eleventh title tonight with a 125-107, 11-inning victory over Frank Tabor, 10-time champion, New York, in the assured Greenleaf of no less than a tie for the crown, with only the defending champion, Fred Lowmyer, Cleveland, in position to equal him.

Nine contestants, champions and runners-up in sectional meets from coast to coast have attempted to halt the march of the fast-shooting New Yorker in this tournament, and each has lost to him.

Rudolph and George Kelly, Philadelphia youngsters, are the only two men yet to be conquered. Kelly will attempt to stop the perfect record tomorrow night; Rudolph will try his best to gain a consolation prize.

The defending champion already has lost to him. He will try to win against Greenleaf and Tabor to tie. A play-off will then be necessary to decide the winner.
