The killing occurred last night. The officers said charges of robbery with firearms would be filed in Kay county and probably murder charges in Osage county.

Gomez was in the Kay county jail here tonight. He was arrested in Tulsa for running a slot machine two hours after he was alleged to have shot Armstrong and had driven away in the merchant's automobile.

Officers said the Mexican had made two or three signed confessions. In his latest, he told officers he had leaped on Armstrong's car at a stop light here and had forced the merchant to drive into

Dr. Herbert Spencer Dickey Leaves Soon to Probe Arajuna Region of Ecuador

12 MEN PLAN TO GO INTO WILD DISTRICT

Planner of Trip Scoffs at Idea of Naked Indians Offering Danger to Whites

By WILLIAM GAINE (Associated Press Staff Writer)
NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—There is a sort of paradox in Dr. Herbert Spencer Dickey's plan for a "dude expedition" to leave soon for the unexplored Arajuna river region of Ecuador. Because the flow of money has been sluggish, Dr. Dickey explains, he has offered eight "tenderfeet" the opportunity to go with him for the impressive sum of $5000 apiece.

"Dude" fare is $5000. Museums have clamped down on the exploration expenditures, he says, but he hopes to raise $40,000 for all equipment and expenses. Dr. Dickey is an ethnologist, an archaeologist, a geologist and a radio operator will accompany the expedition, making a total of 12 men.

Dr. Dickey has made four trail-blazing trips through South American wilds for the Museum of the American Indian here, and is on his staff in an honorary capacity. He is a native of New York state, but has been away from South America only 20 months in the last 31 years. Much of the time he was serving as a surgeon for a railroad, mining, rubber and sugar companies.

Museums nowadays are economizing on scientific expeditions, but Dr. Herbert Spencer Dickey (upper photo) plans to make his exploration into Ecuador self-financing. He wants to sign up eight "dude" explorers at $5000 each to provide the $40,000 he needs. Dr. Dickey is shown below classifying the skin heads of natives ethnologically. Mrs. Dickey (lower right) has been his partner on various expeditions.

The Weather

FORECAST FOR TODAY AND TOMORROW — Increasing cloudiness; snow or rain in north and west portions of Idaho tomorrow; no change in temperature.

Maximum and minimum temperatures in the Twin Falls vicinity were 42.8 and 18.5 degrees above zero, in the 24-hour period preceding 8 P. M. yesterday, according to the report of D. B. Chery, government weather observer here. The day was partly cloudy and the barometer registered 29.81. High at 8 P. M. humidity ranged between 88 and 93 per cent of saturation. Wind was westerly.

met her when she was visiting relatives in Ecuador.

They were married in Panama in 1923 and spent their honeymoon in the Andes and along the Amazon.

Mrs. Dickey, usually his partner in exploration, won't go with him to the Arajuna. There will be no women along. And the men must be physically able to face the rigors of shoveling up the mysterious Arajuna in light draft canoes.

After quitting the ship at Quayaquil, Ecuador, travel will be by rail, mule train and canoe. Returning, the party will course the Amazon to Para, and take airplanes to Rio de Janeiro to catch a home-bound steamer.

Dr. Dickey scoffs at the idea that the Aucas, naked Indians living along the Arajuna who have had no experience with whites, will offer

WISHES CHINA GOOD LUCK

(Copyright, 1931, By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Dec. 19.—Kenshi Yoshizawa, Japan's new foreign minister, today wished China good luck in its efforts to achieve national unification and solidarity.

Declaring that he stood for the open door to China, Mr. Yoshizawa said that "only a beneficial effect upon Japan" would be exerted by a unified Chinese nation.

"I cannot say," he continued, "what the Japanese people will be regarding Manchuria, but I am certain the government will carry out faithfully the terms of the resolution adopted by the League of Nations council, at the same time endeavoring to safeguard our interests in Manchuria."

He spoke of his "great admiration" for the United States and said he was sure the new Japanese cabinet would continue the policy of maintaining the best relations with America in line with the policies of preceding governments.

perhaps the most neglected feature of the plan.

Thus, with energies directed toward completing the most important projects, developing industries without undertaking new large tasks immediately and the quickening of production of light industry, observers here believe the coming year will witness greatly improved living standards—more and better food, housing and clothing.

At the same time preparations already are being made for a second five-year plan to begin in 1933. EX-TREASURER OF UTAH OBTAINS FREEDOM SOON

SALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 19 (AP).—David J. Pugh, former Utah state treasurer, convicted of embezzling more than $100,000 from the state's coffers, was granted a parole today by the state board of pardons. He will be released January 3, 1932, leaving the prison after serving four years.

Mrs. Pugh and Arthur Woolley, Ogden, appeared before the board and asked an immediate parole.

The case of David McGregory, serving a life term for the murder of Max Pett at Moreland, Utah, in 1923, was continued.

The plea of John S. Williams, widow of the man reputed to have made a fortune in the world of bullets and bullets—was going to pay the funeral bill.

Newspapers said she would seek permission to have her husband buried beside his brother in a Catholic cemetery.

When she left she shielded her face with a blacked handkerchief. She returned during the afternoon and went directly to the chapel, where her husband's body lay. There was no indication of whether she had obtained the funds.

At any rate, the undertaker indicated the funeral would be "the usual sort," without the fabulously expensive coffins which gangsters are reputed to get when they are put on the spot—and so seldom do get.

by Senator Bulkeley, Democrat, Ohio. "What can this proposed corporation accomplish," Bulkeley asked, "that cannot be done by the voluntary $500,000,000 National Credit corporation now in existence?"

"My conception of the National Credit corporation is that it functions essentially through local clearing houses," Mills replied. "Loans have got to be approved in the first instance by the local clearing house associations. As the banks of the locality have to, in effect, guarantee the loans, this system is somewhat cumbersome."

The Ohio senator sought to show that the credit corporation had made only a small amount of loans. Mills said he was unable to give the figures but Senator Watson, Republican, Indiana, who was present, said the amount loaned was $15,000,000. Later Governor Harrison testified it was $10,000,000. Adding that $500,000,000 of the $500,000,000 capital had been subscribed with more coming in.

Bulkeley also questioned Mills as to why organization of an emergency corporation is necessary, suggesting that the loans to strengthen the credit structure be made directly from the treasury.

Cotton and Washable Wools Find Place in Fashionable Dressmaking Houses
As Reduced Budgets Rule

By BARBARA BEAUFORT
(Associated Press Fashion Editor)
PARIS, Dec. 19.—Fashion has a new dictator these days.
With dress budgets reduced, prices in the larger dressmaking houses have come down and fewer costly frivolities are the result.
Cotton is the latest offering on the new altar.

Many blouses for the new mid-season suits are made of soft tulle, velvet, white collars and cuffs on tailored wool frocks are designed of washable pique instead of couturiers' stuffs.

Gunsack Weave Borrowed
Even the weave of the gunsack has been borrowed to aid in the campaign. Short jackets and frocks for mid-season wear are made of new sturdy fabric of silk and wool woven to simulate gunsack and designed to withstand the hardest wear.

The evening mode, generally the most luxurious of all fashions, likewise has responded to the new trend. The two-piece evening gown is the new ideal.

It is designed with a waist length skirt of heavy georgette and two hip-length blouses—one of black georgette cut with a low decollete ornamented with turquoise beading for formal wear, the other of white georgette designed with long bishop sleeves embroidered in black wool and silver thread for informal dinner wear.

Pur's Silvers Smaller
Pur is cut in crinkled silvers than ever before to trim the newest coats.

Luxurious fur collars and cuffs are giving way to scarves and coatman's capes of wool to match the coat trimmed by fur at all or designed with very narrow bands.

Little colored velvet coats designed on the lines of the baquet are offered by one leading couturier as an inexpensive way of adding color and variety to a plain black frock.

CHINESE BROCADE

MAKES SMART FROCK
WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Miss Craven, daughter of Rear Admiral and Mrs. Thomas Craven, wore an unusual gown at her coming-out tea. It was of Chinese brocade more than 100 years old, of a shade known as moon pale.

The light waist was shirred and the skirt full. On the left arm she wore a small tuft of cream tulle ornamented with a bunch of gardenias.

ERMINES TAILS TRIM

BLACK WINTER FROCKS
PARIS, Dec. 19.—Ermine tails are the "demier cry" as a trimming for black winter frocks.

A chic black velvet motif for late afternoon wear is finished with a row of collar of white ermine trimmed on the shoulder with a cluster of ermine tails.

The little black-tipped tails are also placed on the side of fitted cheongsams and around the cuffs of black tulle frocks.

SHADES OF BROWN

CAPTIVATES PARISIANS
PARIS, Dec. 19.—Brown has taken the Parisian world by storm. The new shades, which range all the way from deep black to black, include African brown, black-brown, plum-brown, dead-brown, caribou brown and tobacco.

A deep chestnut is one of the most popular.

PARTY CONFECTIONS

REFLECT INCIDENTS
IN LIVES OF "DEBS"
WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Cakes and confections for debutante parties sometimes assume highly artistic forms.

One of the novelties of the season was a green sugar-four-leaf clover nearly two feet high when decorated the refreshment table at Mary Elizabeth MacArthur, niece of General Douglas MacArthur, chief of staff of the army.

On each leaf of the clover was a typical scene in a "debs" life done in white frosting.

One showed a girl on horseback, another a bride party, another a supper heart in the center of the clover held a portrait of the hostess-debutante done in white sugar.

A bunch of pink candy roses tied with silver ribbon decked one of the huge cakes and realistic looking confectionery chrysanthemums adorned the other.

BROWN VELVET FROCKS

GAIN FAVOR IN PARIS
PARIS, Dec. 19.—Princess Constantin Rupski is among the smart Parisians who are sponsoring brown velvet frocks.

ENSEMBLE OF PATENT

LEATHER WINS FAVOR
NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—And now come patent leather gloves! They are made in gaudiest design and at the wrist with a light strap.

They are generally worn with a costume which consists of patent leather top, shoes and bag.

STRAIGHT FROM PARIS—Smart Notes From The World's Fashion Capitol

The bustle, back again, is gracefully treated in a tier effect in this taffeta frock. Velvet jacket completes ensemble.

Robe emphasizes the sleeves in this Caroub brown wool fabric coat, using dark brown astrakhan below and a new saw-tooth treatment above.

Junior dress of soft woolen with drop shoulder and novel trimming. Scarf neck-line, cuffs and belt in feathered lace wool.

Alencon lace trims these French crepe pajamas which exploit a surprise closing. Fresh, tea rose and blue are popular lingerie colors.

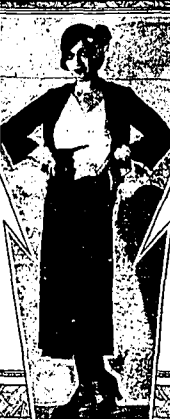

The new ribbed wool is used in this trimly tailored dress with one-sided raver and throw scarf of novelty stripe fabric.

Self fabric fagoting features this red and black. Lanvin dress. Vertical seaming, flared wide belt and add sleeves are important details.

Hollywood Stars Set Fashions For Early Winter

Variety is the keynote of the stars' wardrobe for the new season, with satin, wool crepe and velvet leading as the favorite materials. Tally-ho, woolen, trimmed with black Persian lamb, fashions the suit worn by Constance Cummings in "Guilty Generation." Black and white imperial satin is still one of the afternoon favorites. The ensemble, displayed by Loretta Sayers in "Guilty Generation," introduces the new bow, as well as a novel combination of the two colors. Red gabber velvet adds to the richness of the sport costume selected by Sally Hlane for "A Dangerous Affair." A red leather belt and a scalloped ruffle of self material, outlining the neckline, hipline and wrists, are its only trimming.

Woman Moves Stones And Troops As Part Of Duties In Congress

By SUE McNAMARA
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Though small and reminiscent-looking, Representative Edith Nourse Rogers, Republican of Massachusetts, has powerful force of granite and force of troops—and does.

The black-gowned woman with the alert, brown eyes and the strong, petrie round her throat is responsible for the first granite-built post office in her district.

They used to build them of Indiana limestone—but there's a lot of granite in Massachusetts.

Made Camp Permanent
Buck's at Camp Devers found a triumphant note, too, since the camp was made permanent, not through Representative Rogers' efforts.

She sponsored three hospital construction bills carrying combined appropriations of more than $50,000,000.

In addition to being a member of congress, she has been since 1922, representative for disabled veterans, and veterans are her pet interests.

"Sometimes one needs nursing as badly as the others," she said. "That's why I am so interested in trade commissions."

"Industry gets sick, and measures for getting it well must be applied just as in the case of sick soldiers."

"Even as a little girl I liked to take care of people. Now that I'm in congress I take an intense interest in trying to remedy business conditions."

RODS FIND SUPPORT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—The government has found more than "support" to a lightning rod. Out of every 100 buildings struck by lightning, only 2 are protected by lightning rods.

PRINCESS PREFERS CAPE TO COAT FOR EVENINGS

PARIS, Dec. 19.—The Princess de Kapurthaus is among fashionable women who prefer capes to coats for evening wear.

She appeared at a recent fashionable evening gala wearing a sweeping white satin gown topped by a three-quarter-length cape of ermine which she wrapped closely about her figure.

LUNCHEON COSTUMES

EMPLOY BROWN THEME

PARIS, Dec. 19.—Mrs. Louis Cartier was seen lunching at the Ritz recently in a brown costume with frock and matching coat designed by Worth. With the costume, which was trimmed with panther, Mrs. Cartier wore a lifted hat of brown felt trimmed with the same fur.

IRON MEN BRACELETED

PONTIAC, Mich.—Seven times worked bracelet, trunks of some brand of the Iron Age, have been dug up in a field at Kettering, Mich. They were found in a trench.

BAN LEVER WEDDINGS

MANILA, P.I.—Health authorities have refused to lift a ban on marriages between lepers, although a petition to that effect was presented by the 500 inmates of the Cuban leper colony.

LOVE FLOUTS HARD TIMES

LONDON, Dec. 19.—Love laughs at depression as well as the lack of money. Two thousand more couples were married this year in England and Wales than last year, 215,109 in all.

New Orleans and New York will be linked by airplane passenger service soon after January 1.

Furniture No Longer Stands On Parade

By HOPE HAMMOND
Interior Furnishings Editor The Women's Home Companion

Written for The News
The main difference between the old-fashioned drawing room, with its lovely furniture around stiffly like soldiers on parade, and the living room of today, with its air of friendly welcome, is merely one of arrangement.

Any living room can be made cold and stiff, or warm and friendly, by changing the position of chairs and tables. In a successful living room the mainstay of the decorative plan are pieces of furniture good in line and strong in structure.

Restfulness is provided by two or more big easy chairs and a divan or sofa, reinforced by a table large enough to hold books and magazines. There should be lamps, either of the stand or table variety, and several leather chairs.

To these pieces may be added bookcases. Then there are curiosities as desks, incidental tables, footstools, mirrors, console tables and other pieces which are added as an expression of individual taste and hobbies.

But the room must not be cluttered with meaningless odds and ends. Every article should serve some useful or decorative purpose.

BAN ON TRADE GIFTS

WELLINGTON, N.Z.—A bill prohibiting trading stamp premiums but permitting cash discounts in place of merchandise has been passed by the New Zealand legislature, effective April 30, 1932.

Woman in Case

will stand bowing and smiling while white-gloved women callers and a few men drop in to pay their respects, have a cup of tea or coffee and go on to the next place.

Calling on the cabinet women assumes almost festive proportions at a reception or tea, only callers do not stay so long.

Tables laden with gleaming silver, lighted candles and flowers hold a variety of refreshments.

Gifts Show They Call

The visitors enter, lay their cards with the corner turned down to show they called in person, on the tray in the hall and go to greet the hostess. Then they proceed to the dining room. Tarry long enough to say "one jump" or "two" and leave.

An effort is being made this year to confine the calling hours actually between 4 and 6 so that the hostesses may keep their dinner engagements. Last year callers kept coming, on several occasions, until 8 o'clock. More than 800 were received in one afternoon by Mrs. Gann.

Woman in Case

A large hotel is the main mecca of the callers as none of the cabinet women live there: Mrs. Gann, Mrs. Wilbur and Mrs. Hyde.

Care to Steady Stream

Constant streams of shining cars arrive. The homes of Secretary Blinn, Secretary Lamm, Attorney General Hitchcock and Postmaster General Brown are in the same neighborhood, and so callers take them in one sweep of a limousine, stopping en route from the hotel to call on Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Adams.

Secretary Dock and Mrs. Dock have a suite at their hotel where they receive callers, as their home high in the Virginia hills is too far away for many to come.

The Secretary of War and Mrs. Patrick Hurley, live in town, but on a hill some distance from the others.

At Homes For Cabinet Members' Wives Attract Washington Society

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—"Didn't Mrs. Gann look lovely in that green velvet? And weren't those odd carved silver beads Mrs. Mitchell wore?" Between nibbles at watermelon sandwiches and frosted cakes, Washington is making its annual calls on cabinet members' wives and amiably complimenting its hostesses.

"At Home" Wednesdays. From now on until February Mrs. Edward P. Gann, sister of Vice President Curtis and the cabinet women will be "at home" every Wednesday afternoon from 4 to 6.

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—Strong support for the bond market helped further recovery in stocks today.

GRAIN QUOTATIONS

SLUMP IN CHICAGO

Grabbing of Profits Causes

Setback Late in Day

in Windy City Market

By JOHN P. BOUGHAN

(Associated Press Market Editor)

CHICAGO, Dec. 19.—Grabbing of profits while the grabbing was good turned grain prices advances into setbacks today. Wheat ran into general resistance after a cent-and-a-half rise that was associated with bullish reports of the United States government report, with

New York stock market upturn, and overall suggestions of a large purchase of wheat from this country after January 1. Subsequent downturns of grain prices were more or less influenced by spreading operations in wheat between Winnipeg and Chicago, as well as by settlement of Canadian exchange rates and by New York stock market throwbacks.

Wheat closed unevenly, 1 to 1-1/2 cents lower than yesterday's finish, 1 to 1-1/2 cents lower, with a few pockets of advance and provisions varying from

cents decline to an equal advance.

Flour advanced rapidly over a range of 1 1/2 cents. For a brief interval at the center, the market here was a result of a few pockets of advance and provisions varying from

cents decline to an equal advance.

Flour advanced rapidly over a range of 1 1/2 cents. For a brief in-

Prospective Home Owners Should

Lay Plans Now to Take Advantage

Of Big Bargains, Advises Babson

Statistician and Economist Believes President Hoover's

Home Loan Bank Project Making Financing Easier,

Declares Values Either For Buyer or Builder Now

Greater Than at Any Time Within Previous 20 Years

By ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON PARK, Mass., Dec. 19.—

Mr. Babson to people who want to own a home is to lay their plans

now. Real estate has always been one of the last things to be liquidated in a major depression, and reports show that prices have not been driven down in many cases to ridiculous figures.

Building labor is still fairly high but the drop in materials and the increased efficiency of labor make the total cost of building a house

25 per cent lower than it was in 1920. This cost factor, coupled with real estate dealers selling by banks, brings the greatest opportunities in the country for building or buying a home.

Even more important is the like-hood of easier mortgage money relief, and a gap in housing facilities in many sections. Under stress of reduced incomes, families have big a load at least temporarily for the market to digest.

Corn displayed relatively more strength at times than wheat. Commission house interest was reported largely and mainly on the buying side. Profit-taking and a great volume giving the best they have. This means an important saving in total building cost, and insures a better quality of work. Truly this is a buyer's market both for materials and labor.

The average of material prices is down 20 per cent in three years ago.

The reduction in labor costs has been far less, but the average of labor cost and materials for the ordinary residence building brings the total cost down to a point where the building dollar is now worth $1.30 compared with 1920. This is an average for the whole country. In many sections the reduction is considerably greater owing to local conditions.

These who prefer to buy a house rather than build will find excellent opportunities are also offered to the man with ready cash. Forced sale is bound to increase with the growth in population. There is only so much land, and there never can be any more. The supply is practically in-exhausted. The demand underlies the

of the country.

A Sound Investment

People who are hoarding money would do better to put a part of it in a home. Bricks, mortar, lumber, cement, land, etc., items which will make up a home, are going to increase in value as business improves and the general price level rises. On the contrary, hoarded money not only brings in no income but will decrease in value with an increase in the price level. Even if it is invested in bonds, it is only a 25 per cent of the $10,000,000 now hoarded were invested in the building or buying of homes, it would be worth $2,500,000 more. It is stimulus of many industries

depending on building.

Business men of Babson school registers 33 per cent below normal, or 13 per cent below last year—

1931, Publishers' Financial

Bureau.

Purdue football fans are hailing

Charles Miller, Endicott center, as one of 1931's greatest.

Coach A. B. Stagg of the University of Chicago employed the bucking machine and tackling dummies this fall for the first time as a means of training his small squad of players as much as possible.

Building Dollar: New Work $1.30

Certainly this is a favorable time to build from the standpoint of cost.
