not go before the grand jury last week. Weid said his investigations had not been completed.

Governor Judd cabled a detailed explanation to Secretary Wilbur of the interior department, regarding the congressional charge involving Akaka. The congressional committee had reported Judd pardoned Akaka in the first attack, and on the theory that his services were needed as an amateur boxer" in New York.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Real Veterans of America are to meet in Odd Fellows hall, Twin Falls, at 8 o'clock this evening to install officers. All officers are requested to wear white. Existing members invited.

The governor said Akaka never had been pardoned but for the recommendation of the prison warden, acting on the sponsorship of several estimable White citizens including the chairman of the local Association of the Amateurs Athletic Union. He recommended his final discharge.

Jobless Rally To "Mess Call" As Kansas City Opens Purse In $40,000,000 Construction Plan

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 14.—Fifty jobless men are holding the city of Kansas City as hundreds of men no longer working about the city make for their families begin a building and improvement program to cost $40,000,000.

It is Kansas City's answer to the problem of its unemployed—an application of civic planning to a major American city at a time calculated to do the most good.

May 26 the voters of Kansas City and Jackson county approved by a large majority a ten-year plan to be financed by bonds.

A thousand men, previously unemployed, received summons in December to fill up their names and report for work. Before the month was over the number approximated 400, employed at least three days a week for the winter. About 15,000 applications were made for the job. As far as possible efforts will be made to change the workers' white to gray, and manual labor will be given preference over machinery.

Family Heads Favored Democratic and Republican precinct meetings will be held for a status of applicants, and men with families whose needs were the greatest were given first consideration.

The choice of workmen was restricted almost entirely to residents of Kansas City and vicinity. About 100 men have begun ex-tion work for a $400,000 municipal auditorium to open between 1930 and 1932. Other men are at work on county road projects amounting to a 10-year total of $2,000,000.

Another group labor at the municipal airport, where $300,000 in improvements will be made.

Outstanding projects in the plan include a new city hall costing with site, $4,000,000; a new Jackson county courthouse and jail, one $1,500,000; a $700,000 stadium and outdoor theatre to seat 30,000 persons—expenditures of $2,000,000 on traffic ways and boulevard; $1,500,000 on sewers and pumping stations; $2,000,000 on waterworks extensions and a swimming pool; $2,000,000 on public hospitals; $2,000,000 on city playgrounds and parks; and $1,000,000 on garbage and incineration plant.

Light snow falls were reported from Washington and Oregon. Clear, cold weather prevailed in Wyoming, Montana, Utah, and New Mexico. The snow had stopped except in northern New Mexico and northwestern Wyoming.

It was 30 below zero at Elko and Wells, Nevada, and elsewhere throughout northern Nevada.

Floods continued in the Mississippi valley country forcing families to higher ground. Dynamiting of levees failed, when flood victims as those at Baton Rouge, Louisiana, were saved their homes at the expense of others. Dynamiters on the Tallahatchie river near Glasgow, Miss., were fired upon after they blasted a crevasse in the levee.

Among the sub-zero temperatures were Edmonton, Alberta, $10 below zero, Wyoming, 24; Sheridan, Wyoming, 22; and Miles City, Montana, 20. It was below zero in the Dakotas and northern Nebraska.

It was 35 above in New York and

McELWAIN'S Annual Shoe Sale

It's the talk of the town and country. Thousands from far and near have attended this unusual sale and from remarks overheard from many friends, a true friend we feel confident as in the past that our efforts to put a real sale have been truly remarkable considering the times, and right here we want to thank you one and all for your patronage. It is certainly appreciated. This great shoe sale is just entering the half way period. This week end will set a new selling mark—IF TRUE VALUES mean anything. Twelve hundred pairs of shoes, slippers and rubbers have been sold to date. About fifteen hundred pairs remain to be sold—so just watch McElwain's during the next few weeks.

We Are Not Closing Out—Nor Quitting Business

AS HAS BEEN CIRCULATED AROUND TOWN, FAR FROM IT. Instead we are just snuggling after business in a big way and preparing for Spring in the usual manner.

In other words—we are turning the larger portion of this beautiful shoe stock into cash before February 15th! Our store has always been noted for quality footwear—and now we combine the features of quality and PRICE in this great sale—so you have the opportunity to buy nationally known shoes of real quality at the lowest prices in a quarter of a century. Just imagine such shoes on sale at Bargain Prices—in some instances around today's wholesale prices—or even less.

Visit our store anytime—take a look around—such a display of fine footwear will amaze you—as will the prices! You are always welcome here.

Signed Tom McELWAIN, Himself, now in charge.

MORATORIUM TAKES BIG ROLE IN NEGOTIATIONS
Relation of Loans to Reparations Holds Glare of Controversial Spotlight

By BEED MONTFORT
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 14

War debts and reparations—somehows intertwined against a backdrop of Versailles' Hall of Mirrors—again have moved to the center of the world's stage.

This time the curtain-raiser is the conference of Young plan signatories scheduled at London's instance to gather at Lansdowne, January 14, while the international efforts to make the troublesome peoplets are linked to hopes of revision or cancellation of debts due the victors.

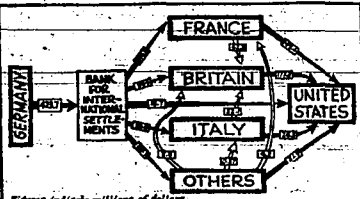

Table with columns for Germany, France, Britain, Italy, and United States, showing billions of dollars in payments and receipts.

The diagram above shows how reparations from Germany pay allied war debts to the United States. The figures represent the average yearly payments in millions of dollars under the Young plan and the agreements for settling interrelated debts.

to content themselves with considerably less than at first anticipated. The United States also met post-war conditions by accepting settlements which cancelled a very considerable part of the total due at the time of the original debt funding.

Reparations and debts have no connection officially recognized by the United States. The post-war policy of this government has been there is no relation between Germany's capacity to pay her creditors and the capacity of her creditors to pay the United States.

may be for two years. Some American Postponable. The German reparations annuities are divided into "postponable" and "non-postponable" parts. The latter, about one-third of the regular average yearly payment, is approximately 600,000,000 marks, or $185,000,000.

Through a series of debt settlements the former allies will borrow funds for military and reconstruction purposes to pay annuities to the United States for a period of 10 years. Payments from Great Britain, for example, run until 1944, and from France until 1948. Other debtors' payments run between 50 and 60 years.

Reparations Pay Off Loans. The allies obtain from Germany in reparations the money they pay the United States in liquidating loans.

For example, when London or another debtor receiving reparations has a payment for Washington, it draws upon its world bank balance to obtain credit for remittance to the United States Treasury. As long as the flow of reparations continues undisturbed, the allies receive enough to meet their payments to the United States and in addition, until 1924, a considerable surplus.

Moerstorium Talks Pay-Off. The Hoover moratorium, proposed last June, has halted the march of the government debt and reparations for at least a year, but while the president has proposed remination of the former, congress has recorded its strong opposition to revision of the debt due the United States by foreign governments.

KIMBERLY GIRLS GIVE INTERESTING PROGRAM

KIMBERLY, Jan. 14 (Special to The News)—The Kimberly Junior high school Girl Reserves conducted a program Tuesday at the regular assembly period. The Junior high school club danced a minuet, after the style which prevailed at the time of George Washington.

A Cherokee Indian choir in North Carolina has a full repertoire of sacred songs sung by their "pale foot" neighbors.

Moscow Bulletin Reports Dairying Yields 14 Per Cent of Farms' Profits

MOSCOW, Jan. 14 (Special to The News)—Idaho's dairy industry contributes approximately $17,000,000 a year, about 14 per cent of the state's gross annual farm income, according to a bulletin published by the University of Idaho college of agriculture extension division.

The publication is "Dairy Production for Health and Economy," Bulletin No. 11, written by Marion M. Hayward, state home demonstration leader, and D. R. Theobald, associate dairy husbandman with the experiment station.

"Milk and milk products are indispensable to the growing child and the health of the adult," the bulletin states. "For the growing child they are excellent foods, and for the adult they are the basis of a well-balanced diet."

Schmeling, Returned to Tackle Dempsey, Becomes Playful

Champion Employs Practical Joking Before Cameramen

Trick Handkicking Gadget and 'Artillery' Fountain Pen—Use Fighter's Friends

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Once it was Jack Dempsey, the rough and tumble, good natured, practical joker, and all was well with the heavyweight. Now the champion is Max Schmeling, and he seems to want all the extra-territorial laurels of the old manner of Missus as well as the title.

It has been so now that he among the fighters is just one series next to a German. Schmeling is not to be taken back to Germany. And to make it more Schmeling contrived to prepare a trick handkicking gadget for his friends.

His latest return to New York found him happy as a cat. He had been in the city for a week with the friends and the pick trail he abandoned in July to hurry back to Germany. Schmeling is now in New York for his first fight in Cleveland.

He showed his playfulness at being back to New York. Schmeling was in Miami February 25 and Jack Dempsey either in the spring or fall—in Miami with Max.

Right on the top deck of the liner Europa for lunch, Dempsey, Jimmy Johnston, Max Schmeling, and a few others were sitting around a table. Schmeling, who had been in the city for a week with the friends and the pick trail he abandoned in July to hurry back to Germany. Schmeling is now in New York for his first fight in Cleveland.

STORIES—Linda, the woman, was looking at the sunset when she saw the ship. She had been waiting for the sunset for a long time. She had been waiting for the sunset for a long time. She had been waiting for the sunset for a long time.

"Howdy, mister," said the man. "You're looking at the sunset, are you?" "Yes, I am," said Linda. "It's a beautiful sunset, isn't it?" "Yes, it is," said the man. "I've never seen a sunset like this before."

"You're looking at the sunset, are you?" "Yes, I am," said Linda. "It's a beautiful sunset, isn't it?" "Yes, it is," said the man. "I've never seen a sunset like this before."

STATE CALLS FOR UNPAID GAS TAX

Math Clasen and A. J. Clasen Face Collection Suit On Heels of Criminal Action

Two Twin Falls men, Math Clasen and A. J. Clasen, who were for several months operators of the Farmers Service station here, pleaded guilty in probate court here yesterday to a misdemeanor charge of failing to report and pay state tax of five-cents per gallon on gasoline they sold during two month period ending December 15. Each was sentenced to pay $25 fine.

Richard Lee McFar, was involved in this case for the first time in a criminal prosecution, it was said.

The state immediately after the two men pleaded guilty, filed a suit in district court here to recover $1611.20 state tax on 322,240 gallons of gasoline which, it was alleged, the Clasens had sold October 16 to December 24, and on which they had failed to pay the tax.

The state also asked for a restraining order enjoining the Clasens from continuing in business so long as the tax in question remained unpaid.

E. O. Gallett, state auditor, in the name of the state, started the suit to collect the delinquent gas tax payment. Fred J. Babcock, attorney general, and Maurice G. Green, assistant, signed the complaint as the state's legal advisors.

The Clasens at hearing on the misdemeanor charge in the probate court here yesterday, were represented by Charles A. North, Twin Falls attorney.
