Pilot George T. Douglas and Ed Crow, flying over Boise, Idaho, to Salt Lake City, Utah, were missing after last night until their plane was found this afternoon by another United Air Lines mail pilot, Jack O'Brien.
An army plane that left Los Angeles last night for San Francisco, flying over the San Joaquin valley, was the fifth stricken plane. It left with two army officers aboard. Lieutenant William A. Cooke, Jr., and Edward D. Hoffman.
Cooke jumped with his parachute when the plane hit bed weather and he landed unhurt in Sequoia national park. He was found today by park rangers and was suffering from exposure and cold. The fate of his companion, was undetermined. Cooke said he was last seen heading into the storm. The planes that caught the missing Century-Pacific air-liner also caught the army plane. Sharnapark left Oakland airport at 11:40 P. M. yesterday on the regular airmail run of the United Air Lines.
Over Rio Vista he radioed it was missing. Then after the British ambassador's office in the department of commerce expressed belief he crashed about midnight.

warmly as it offered a material basis of hope for getting Japanese soldiers out of China soon.
The American and British governments have submitted to Tokyo and Washington the following formal request:
"That all acts of violence and preparations for hostilities shall be brought to an end.
"That in the Shanghai area both sides shall withdraw their troops and that as a further provision to the international settlement, a neutral zone shall be arranged.
"That negotiations shall immediately be opened in order to settle outstanding differences in the spirit of the pact of Paris and the League of Nations council resolution of the month of December last."
Ryan very impressively was the document and his remarks. He said: "His majesty's government feel it impossible that the present position in the Far East should be allowed to continue... Shanghai is the scene of a series of conflicts in which rifles, machine guns, activity and airplanes are taking part. War in everything but name is in progress.

Informal persons asserted that the negotiations for the concerted move had been in progress in Washington for several days, with the British ambassador acting for the government of Prime Minister MacDonald.
Mr. Thomas was not explicit about the use of American troops, but he said that the proposed neutral zone would have to be occupied by a force of the neutral powers which have forces in the international settlement, and one of these powers is the United States.
Andre Tardieu, French minister of war, and foreign minister "Dino Grandi, Italy, briefly announced that his government had sent instructions to its representatives at Tokyo and Washington in order for them to convey adequate instructions to the appropriate representatives in the two capitals.
Who are after Mr. Thomas, as he had set down, said he was glad to hear the important situation being handled by the British and the other representatives.

There's one Right Size for Cigarettes

Examine various cigarettes, and you'll find they are not all alike in size. Yet our scientists say their tests and research fix one definite size standard as the best. For a given length, our experts say, there is one right diameter... to make the draft right... to make the cigarette burn right.
Not only that, when the size is right, the cigarette lasts longer, and smokes cooler. And that "right" size is exactly the standard Chesterfield size.
A detail? Of course—but a mighty important one, figured in extra coolness and comfort. It's by constant attention to just such details that Chesterfield sets cigarette standards.
Notice how round and full each Chesterfield is—how firmly packed. There are two "electric detectives" on every packing machine, to check this detail also!
The right size... and the right quality. Chesterfield never changes either one. Measure them any way you want—with ruler, microscope, or test-tube.
Or measure them in the surest way of all—by milder and better taste. And you'll find—They Satisfy! Good, they've got to be good!

Spirit of Reform Grips Chicago Cubs' Former "Bad Boy"

Pat Malone Gives Promise To Show Best During 1932

Windy City Tosses Blames Golf For Troubles in 1931 and Learns Lesson "Hack" Wilson Taught

By PAUL E. MICKELSON (Associated Press Sports Writer) CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—As the griped Pat Malone, the big fire ball tosser of the Chicago Cubs.

Clipping a valuable leaf from "Hack" Wilson's book of baseball experiences, he has adopted a rigid reform platform in his battle to stay with the Cubs and in the major league.

When Wilson, one of his closest friends on the team, was suspended toward the close of last season for leaving training camp, Pat was vowed in such a serious series of "bad boy" affairs that no one could get over with him in a hurry to swing my game and a lot of other things.

Malone's escapades last season far outshadowed those of the so-called "bad boy" of the Cubs. He was suspended for breaking a girl's arm in a Chicago night club and for assaulting a policeman.

He has everything on the ball along with a terrific speed. If he reforms and tosses 25 or 30 victories in 1932, and if he does that, you can hear from the Cubs when the world's series play-off starts next fall.

"I reckon you're better off than Mrs. Winter entered with breakfast for her little body, with gray hair, kind eyes, and a motherly manner."

"Sure, then it's Sunday?"

"Yes, and another Sunday you might go to church with a crowd."

"I hate to tell you, but I've got to go," she replied. "For it was my mother's day on the street. I told him you - you were better off than I was. I told him you were better off than I was. I told him you were better off than I was."

SNOWSTORM HALTS OFFICIALS' TRIP

Commissioner of Agriculture and Inspector Turn Back in Drifts West of Burley

Now that halted traffic on many southern Idaho roads caused by the snowstorm that occurred on the night of the 7th and 8th inst., the commissioner of agriculture, and W. E. Taylor, chief field inspector for the state department of agriculture, returned today to Boise, while Mr. Taylor will remain for a few days at his home here.

"That dumb kid from the country asked my eye like that, I darned him to knock the chip off my shoulder 'an' he thought I meant 'my head'."

"We are doing everything possible to give rest assistance in this situation," he said.

The commissioner pointed out one bright spot. "Since October 6," he said, "there have been only two rivers in our state on potatoes shipped out of the state. Considering the quality of stuff with which they had to work last season, this seems to me to be a remarkable record for our growers and workers and to be proud to achieve."

The commissioner estimated approximately 12,000 carloads or about one-half of Idaho's 1931 potato crop has been marketed.

Mr. Johnson was for a number of years a farmer of the Burleigh district, and for several years past has made his home at Parma.

HALF PLANS ADDRESS TO FARM CLASS HERE

Harvey S. Hale, Twin Falls county agricultural agent, will discuss results of experiments in application of fertilizers on soils of Twin Falls county, in addition to other topics of interest to farmers, at the school tonight beginning at 7:30 P. M.

His talk provides a continuation of the semi-weekly farm school held under the direction of C. L. Mink, Smith-Hughes instructor.

O. P. McBride, soil specialist of the department of agriculture, who was originally scheduled to speak tonight, will be unable to attend at that time, and will speak Wednesday, February 17, instead.

Women's subjects will be discussed by Mrs. L. B. Morgan.

Attendance at the school has been increasing, Mr. Mink stated last evening.

EDUCATORS CONTRIBUTE $384.71 TO POOR FOLKS

Superintendent W. B. Smith of Twin Falls schools has turned over to the Associated Charities of this city $384.71 as a 3 per cent contribution of the teachers in the system toward charity. There will be two more similar monthly contributions, he stated.

Superintendent Smith said that in addition to these contributions a number of teachers are contributing to other charities, in at least one case in the junior high school, instructors have bought books for students, and many of them are helping needy families in their own neighborhoods.

TWIN FALLS PIONEER SUGGUMBS AT BOISE

One of Twin Falls' early day citizens, W. S. Oakley, died at Boise where he had made his home for several years past, and was engaged with his son in an automobile business. Death followed illness of about a month's duration. Funeral services are to be held at Boise today.

Besides his widow, Mr. Oakley is survived by his son, Charles Oakley, and Berling Oakley, both of Boise, and one daughter, Mrs. Chester Traylor, Berkeley, California.

He leaves also two nephews, Dr. J. C. Tomlinson, Twin Falls, and Dr. George M. Tootman, Burley, and a niece, Mrs. M. E. Smith, here, who with Dr. H. B. Smith left yesterday to attend the funeral services.

ALL-SCHOOL CAST PUTS ON THREE-ACT COMEDY

A preview of the three-act comedy-drama "The Queen's Husband" which will be produced by an all-school cast at the Twin Falls high school tonight, aroused with enthusiasm and laughter about 400 pupils of the junior high school and grades yesterday afternoon. A well-balanced and amusingly trained cast, appropriately costumed, furnished excitement to remove ennui from the lives of a royal queen and convincing king. The plot touched many events in the recent history of Europe, and it is to the credit of the actors that their rather adult lines were presented in a way to hold the attention and evoke the applause of their juvenile audience.

High School News

Departure of Miss Clara Langford, for two and a half years Girl Reserve secretary of the Magic Valley district, who left yesterday for her home in Lake Andes, South Dakota, was preceded on Monday by an assembly in her honor participated in by the Girl Reserve organization in the Twin Falls high school. Barbara Gumbie, president of the Blue Triangle club was in the chair and was assisted by Margaret Evans, president of Philo Philo club and Virginia Smith, president of the G. O. Y. club, each of whom made a talk. A gift was presented to Miss Langford. A mock wedding added much to the amusement of the occasion. The following girls participated in this part of the program: Mary Fritze, Catherine Bacon, Esther Jolly, Harriet Madland, Bobette Lane, Milly Zindridge, Vola Kilpatrick, Frances Erickson, Mary Hoover, Carolyn South, Elizabeth Cannon, Minnie Mae Pryor, Janet Pelt, Clarence Bowles, Artyl Porter, Helen Harter, Ruth Wilson and Ruth Taylor.

305 STUDENTS ENROLL FOR HIGH SCHOOL WORK

A total of 305 students have enrolled in the Twin Falls high school for the second semester of the current year, the largest enrollment in the history of the school; it was announced yesterday by U. N. Terry, principal. Of these 205 are members of the senior class. Last year the enrollment for the high school was 297 and the enrollment for the senior class was 150. W. B. Smith, superintendent of Twin Falls schools, said that enrollment for other schools in the system had not been entirely completed.

LAST RITES ARRANGED FOR TWIN FALLS WOMAN

With funeral services at the Methodist church here at 2:30 P. M. today, a final tribute to be paid to Mrs. Harriet Jane Barber, 63, Twin Falls resident, who died here last Monday at her residence on Fourth avenue north following illness of several months. Funeral services are to be conducted by Rev. J. J. Fleming, and interment is to be in the Twin Falls cemetery. Pall bearers selected from among old friends and former neighbors will be George Beer, L. W. Chapman, Joseph Blake, Mrs. M. K. Jackson, B. C. Pherson, L. B. Sullivan. The body rests now at the White mortuary.

IT'S OVER

Some people say that times are already a lot better this year. That they can see the depression is over. We know that most people have given up hopes that way-day prosperity is possible at this time and have, as a result, settled down to make the best of it in the best of their own opinion. This type of thinking, again and again, has been the cause of many things that are better, more quickly than anything else.

HUSBAND SHOPPERS

Ordinarily, we think of the housewife almost exclusively as the food buyer. At this time of the year, when many heads of families are not working constantly, men food-shoppers are greatly in evidence. It's a fine thing, too. It enables them to learn some of the housewife's daily problems—to learn actual food costs, and to learn to know much of food values and varieties. Let your husband "bring home the bacon" on the days he is not working. Send him straight to your O.P. Skaggs System Store, so that he will get the best quality foods for the least money. Send him soon.
