RECEIVER-REPORTS ON HOTEL AFFAIRS

Stuart H. Taylor Requests Authorization to Turn Property Over to Trustee

Since December 9, when Stuart H. Taylor, Twin Falls, was appointed receiver of the Rogerson Hotel company property in Twin Falls, the hotel company's income has been paid to the receiver. Taylor reported to the court that the hotel company's income for the period from December 9 to February 15, 1932, was $1,785.22, less disbursements totaling $785.22, leaving a balance of $1,000.00 on hand, according to Mr. Taylor's report which was filed in district court here yesterday. With this report Taylor requested that the receiver be discharged from the special receivership, and for a court order to turn the property over to L. A. Chapman, Twin Falls, who was last week elected by creditors to be trustee in bankruptcy. The receiver's report recites that he is the sole owner of the hotel property and continued its operation under the court's decree and order. There was no inventory of the property reported, and he proceeded to make one. There was question, he stated, as to the ownership of the hotel and other property, which was involved in live lawsuits. The receiver intervened in these suits and obtained court orders of application of adjudication of the hotel company's affairs in bankruptcy.

SIRENS ANNOUNCE SPRING OPENING

Transition From Darkness to Light Takes Place While Whistles Sounding

With the sounding of sirens and whistles at 8 o'clock tomorrow night the gloom enveloping the windows of Twin Falls places of business will swing away to floods of welcome light and five minutes later the doors will swing open to visitors for the annual spring opening of establishments to guests. During the five minutes while the whistles are blowing citizens of the city and visitors to Twin Falls will be entertained with a surprise stunt which is announced by Kenneth Beck, chairman of the merchants bureau of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, last evening. Programs in places of business having open house or other entertainment will begin at 8:35 P. M. with the opening of the doors. It is announced that the purpose of the merchants' bureau to have displays in place for the rest of the week as far as possible. Much interest has been manifested in the opening program and its success seems assured though the "south wind" situation believed by the Twin Falls Legion may have a boxing program at the Legion hall at night. The state basketball tournament will be on for the following three days of the week.

LINDBERGH KIDNAPPING CASE PUZZLES POLICE AFTER TWO-WEEK HUNT

He did not further identify the "Roma" of whom he spoke, but in Denver a Joseph T. Roach, reported by plane recently, termed any mention of his name in the case "two weeks ago" as "a very serious matter." Silence and secrecy cloaked the movements of Morris Roach, under cover name in the private hunt Colonel Lindbergh is making for his son.

From the attorney of Sally Spilane and Irving Blis, under-world figures, they designated as the Lindbergh "go-between." The man had been in "indirect contact" with the kidnapers and would soon make a trip to Detroit in cover name in the private hunt.

"This was quoted as saying the 50-month-old infant missing for 23 days, a Lindbergh, under-world figure, was the underworld. Colonel Schwarzkopf had this to say in one of his bulletins: "While we have been credited through the press with appealing to the underworld for help, there is no direct contact between the underworld and the police officially in charge of the investigation. Therefore, if any information has been learned from the underworld of importance with reference to the investigation it has never been made known to the department."

"Fruit cases" from such far flung cities as Jackson, Kentucky, and Highburg, Germany, engaged police attention during the day. "Denver man" who traveled to the "Denver man" was released.

TWO SUICIDES ROCK SECURITIES MARKET

Ole and Copenhagen were described as gladd. The late stock market was a boisterous effect in the Berlin bourse for a time, but it is being turned down. Marie in Paris, Amsterdam and London generally declined, although the London market improved somewhat after the first shock.

World selling of Kreuger and Toll apparently continued upon the New York market, because of its ability to absorb selling in larger volume than European markets. Specialized in the issue were overwhelmed at the opening, and it was not until an hour had elapsed that the opening transaction placed at 150,000 shares at $1.07 $1.12 from Saturday's close. This was the largest opening transaction for any stock in the history of the stock exchange, but was exceeded by the 225,000 share opening in Citicorp in the curb market in November, 1929.

The day's fall turned in Kreuger and Toll reached some 670,000 shares. Outside the Kreuger group, the turnover in the stock exchange was only a little more than 1,000,000 shares. Eastman Kodak dropped $4 to $72.25, then recovered to $74. Selling was in small lots and the turnover was only 8100 shares.

Vision of Inter-American Highway Takes Definite Form

ENGINEERS GATHER DATA FOR ROAD TO OPEN WONDERLAND

Sponsors Bring Project to Dollar-Cent Basis For Report to Congress
PROPOSITION INVOLVES LINK TO PANAMA CITY
Investigators Estimate Time Needed, if United States Methods Used, at Five Years

A WONDERLAND now unknown to American motorists is envisioned in plans for an Inter-American highway reaching from the cactus-studded plains of Texas to the tropic jungles of Panama. Engineers now assembling data for a report to congress say the route can be completed in five years after the various countries make the funds available. A paved road already extends from Laredo to below Monterey, and a gravel road to Victoria.

By OSCAR LEIDING (Associated Press Staff Writer)
WASHINGTON, March 14.—The old dream of an inter-American highway may progress substantially toward reality during this decade. But not for many years will the American motorist be able to drive from the banks of the Rio Grande to the Panama canal.

Improved to the state of all-year roads, but 10 of the 80-mile route needed through the lower tip of Honduras are useful. Wagon roads may be used in Nicaragua in a tentative route that follows along the Pacific coast and on the narrow strip between the ocean and Lake Managua and Nicaragua. Of the 245 miles in Nicaragua, 100 is rated as an all-weather road. The Costa Rican section, projected along the Pacific slope, is 250 miles in length, of which 45 miles are all-year roads. Panama has progressed to the point where of the 303 miles to be within her borders, 215 miles have been completed with all-weather surfaces, 83 miles have been graded and drained, and the remainder of 57 miles alone left for future improvement.

Champions say that the dream could be fulfilled in five years, if financing were assured and construction work ready to proceed on the project's main links with the speed of highway building in the United States.

The project is to be brought down to a dollar-and-cent basis in a report to congress, probably at the next session in December.

As outlined, the inter-American highway would run from Nueva Laredo across the border from Laredo, Texas, through the entire chain of Central American countries to Panama City.

It would be a giant tap-root for the branching system of United States highways and, in its tentative form, would be very nearly equal in length to the highway distance between New York and San Francisco.

In its entirely it would traverse a scenic wilderness varying from a cactus-studded expanse at the north to tropic jungles, among snow-capped mountains and volcanic cones, and cities and towns that offer example of both ancient and modern civilization.

It would tap regions rich in pyramids and ruins of Indian lore, vast forests, dense jungles and winding mountain ranges fringed with broad plateaus and low-land expanses where crops of maize, coffee, or bananas are grown or cattle are raised.

Many parts of the highway are already in use, Mexico, with approximately one-half of the inter-American route within its borders, has built up many sections.

A paved highway runs from Laredo, Texas to below Monterey, while gravel roads carry the development southward beyond Victoria. There exist a few of approximately 200 miles where motoring is described as a "pioneering venture" until a surfaced highway is reached, extending more than 200 miles northward from Mexico City.

Southward from the capital, a surfaced road runs as far as Pucallia and a graded way on to Chazaca, site of famous ruins. From then on to the Guatemalan border, there are a few earth roads but mostly proposed roads through a tropical jungle.

In Guatemala, only 13 of the 311 miles which would link up the country's link in the inter-American highway are all-weather roads. Weston trails have been surveyed, however, for probable conversion to motoring use.

Salvador, with 214 miles as its share of the highway, has 161 miles

The Week's Best Story
One Sunday morning Chick Carico was called upon to teach a Sunday school class. After a long and impressive talk on the moral of the story, he asked if any of the children had any questions to ask. A little hand shot up and one of the pupils asked, "Please Mr. Carico, what's the price of their oranges in your window?"

We can't have a spring fashion show like the rest of the Twin Falls business men, because the style of two by fours and what-not doesn't change much, but if you come in we can show you the latest in building plans and fixtures, and help you save money, too!

Dull Statistical Studies of Nation's Business Progress Halt After Suicides

MARKETS AT A GLANCE NEW YORK, March 14 (AP)—Stocks: Weak; Krueger and Toll decline unsettled.

By JOHN L. COOLEY (Associated Press Financial Writer) NEW YORK, March 14—Dull statistical studies of the nation's progress toward business improvement were swept aside in the principal security market today as they turned their attention almost exclusively to drama of two startling suicides.

The stock market spent most of the day trying to find a definite line Krueger's unexpected death might have on listed values and business conditions. Late in the trading day it was again caught unawares by another startling suicide—Knutson. The death of George Knutson, 42, a prominent business leader, caused no great amount of liquidation, for as no time was there any concern as to his financial status, and his estate was not expected to be a burden on the market.

When High Favor The strong rise in the President for reelection as Germany's chief magistrate was high favor for the investment circles. While his role was not sufficiently large to return him to power with the formalities of an election, Krueger's renewed advice was accepted as full assurance of his likely re-election. The market reacted as a powerful offset to the apprehension caused temporarily by the two suicides.

Twain Falls Markets The Twin Falls district market yesterday was as follows: Livestock Light butchers, 100 to 210 lbs. $4.00 Heavy butchers, 210 to 250 lbs. $3.50

by GRACE PERKINS

SYNOPSIS: "Dicky said care for me. Hope has seen her former father-in-law, Hickey Dale. She has fallen on the same boat, which means that she had to just learned that her father severed her when he had her marriage annulled, and she was reversed by Mr. Kess from reaching her.

Chapter 32
SOMETHING BLUE
Hickey laughed, a crooked, broken-down smile to the captain's eyes.

"Your picture is stuck in my watch-case," he said slowly. "Go and ask him to show it to you."

The second, Hope asked, "Did you see anything else?" "I saw nothing," Dicky said, "but I saw that Hickey was turned and raced out of the room."

Hope was on a wild-geese search. All over the boat, from bar to saloon, up and out on the decks, without hat or coat, lighting her way through the wind from one end of the ship to the other. And finding him, eventually in a forbidden spot, which meant that she had to climb chains and railings to get up to the bridge where Dicky stood with the captain.

"Dicky," she cried, "what time is it?" "It's 11," he said, "and it's 11:15."

"You brought her, still demanding the time, down to the captain's suite."

"No. By your watch, Dicky," she insisted, "I must know the time by your watch!"

Dicky went gray around the lips, and turned to the captain. "I don't think Mrs. Kess is well," he stammered.

"I understand," nodded the captain. But he didn't—quite. Until Mrs. Kess had said, "I am well."

For Dicky and Hope, with so much to say, so many questions to be answered, so many questions that Dicky had answered, and more, suddenly found that hardly a spot on that huge vessel was unexplored.

Meanwhile, Judy, in spite of Tom's white-faced anonymity, was searching earnestly for Hope, sending the carrier in one direction, and any seaward within sight to search out every known corner. And when at last Hope had been found, and nearly knocked her over with hugs and kisses and breathless explanations, Judy almost fainted with relief.

Quite unexplained and unexpected was the round-up in Hickey's suite. Nobody knew just who made the suggestion that they get married there and there by the captain. But Dicky layped at the idea, his eyes lighting up into that old blue spark, and a broad grin sprang gratefully hiding the scar of stitches on his jaw.

"Will you, Hope? Will you marry me?" he asked, looking at her. "Hope tried to say yes. She really did try. But her face wrinkled up into a childish pucker and she nodded her head instead, rubbing back her happiness."

After that, there was a general merriment. Everyone had a good evening, everyone a girl, everyone was talking at once.

She even to change her blue velvet, would Dicky permit Hope to leave his side.

"Last night, cricket," he said with that memorably honeyed air of his. "Last time you married me just as you were. This time you're going to do the same. That's orders, baby!"

VETERAN OFFICIAL ANSWERS SUMMONS

Herbert D. Read, Long Time Railroad Man and Lately Magistrate Here, Dies

A final tribute is to be paid at funeral services here Wednesday afternoon for Herbert D. Read, 75, veteran Iowa railroad man, Twin Falls county resident for 18 years, and Twin Falls police magistrate for nearly eight years, who died early Sunday afternoon at his residence, 438 Third avenue north, following eight weeks illness from influenza.

Services will be held at the White mortuary at 3 P. M. Wednesday and will be conducted by Dr. Elijah Hull Longbrake of Twin Falls Methodist church. Hollister lodge of Masons in which Mr. Read was a charter member, will have charge of the burial services of the order at the graveside in Twin Falls cemetery. Members of the order will assemble in the Masonic Temple here at 2 P. M. Wednesday, to attend the funeral.

Mr. Read came to Idaho in 1913 from Shelby, Iowa, where he served as station agent for the Rock Island railroad for more than 30 years. He spent six years in development of farm property near Hollister, and moved to Twin Falls in 1919, entering the employment of the then Western Auto company, and later being appointed police desk sergeant and subsequently police magistrate.

In Shelby Mr. Read served for seven years as master of the Masonic lodge, and was voted a life membership in recognition of his services to the order.

Mr. Read was born at Jamaica, Vermont, August 17, 1856, and lived there until he was 17 years old, when he went to Illinois, and in 1880 to Shelby, Iowa. He married in 1884, Katherine Wilcox, and with two daughters, Mrs. J. W. Bouton and Mrs. A. E. Means, both of Twin Falls survive him. He leaves also one sister, Mrs. E. B. Doolittle, Sierra Madre, California.

Members of the Hollister and Twin Falls Masonic lodges will be active pall bearers, and members of the police force will be honorary pall bearers. It was announced this evening. Active pall bearers will be C. F. Durall, C. B. Lindsey, J. A. Keefe and D. W. Jenkins, Twin Falls, and Al Rakaw and H. J. Swain, Hollister.

Honorary pall bearers will be Harley S. Rayburn, municipal streets superintendent, and William Taylor, streets superintendent. Also, J. E. Burns and J. A. Empey, members of the police force.

CHURCH HOLDS FUNERAL OF LONG TIME RESIDENT

Under auspices of the Latter Day Saints church, funeral services will be held at the Evans and Johnson funeral home at 2 P. M. today for O. A. Odekrick, 86, Twin Falls county resident for 18 years and a former owner of the blood building firm, who died last Saturday at the county general hospital here where he had been a patient for several months. Interment will be in Twin Falls cemetery beside the grave of Mrs. Odekrick who died here in 1925.

EMPLOYMENT AGENT APPEALS FOR JOBS

Appeal to all persons who have yards to clean up in anticipation of the opening of spring to send in their names to the federal employment agency at the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce headquarters and complete the application for the job, which was issued yesterday by E. B. Williams, federal employment agent. The appeal reads:

"Do not forget that there are a number of idle men in town who

LABORATORY YIELDS NEW FACTS ON KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN

Its "Bulk" and Vitamin B Help Relieve Constipation; Also Has Blood-building Iron

New laboratory experiments demonstrate that Kellogg's All-Bran has sufficient "bulk" to exercise the intestines, as well as Vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract.

In addition, Kellogg's All-Bran supplies twice as much blood-building iron, as an equal amount of weight of beef liver.

Now you can overcome common constipation by this pleasant "cereal way" and banish the headaches, backaches, loss of appetite and energy so frequently resulting.

No need to worry along with pills and drugs, which often lead to harmful habits. Just eat two tablespoons daily of Kellogg's All-Bran—adequate for most types of constipation. If your intestine trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor. The "bulk" in All-Bran is much like that of lettuce. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently caresses the intestines of waste.

Special processes make All-Bran finer, softer, more palatable. It is not "laxative." Equally tasty as cereal, or as a cooking. Recipes on the red-and-green packages. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

would appreciate a few hours' work. These men need work very much, and will be glad to put in a few hours at 25 cents an hour. Your yard will need some work done on it this spring. Give these good men a chance by telephoning me at the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce.

FINAL SUMMONS COMES FOR DENTIST - FARMER

With funeral services at the Methodist Episcopal church here at 2:30 P. M. today, a final tribute will be paid to Dr. Samuel Edgar Leeco, 57, retired Iowa dental surgeon and Twin Falls county resident for 19 years, who died early Sunday morning at his farm home on Elizabeth boulevard, Twin Falls, following illness of six months duration. Services will be conducted by Dr. Elijah Hull Longbrake of the Methodist Episcopal church, and interment will be in Twin Falls cemetery.

Pall bearers, chosen from among intimate friends, will be Dr. Robert A. Parrott, Vernon W. Scribner, William Ruge, Charles Keefe, J. W. Bouton, Twin Falls, and E. H. Leener, Hollister.

Dr. Leeco came to Idaho in 1914 from Ponda, Iowa, where he practiced dentistry for 19 years following his graduation from the Chicago Dental college in 1895. He began farming when ill health required him to retire from active practice of his profession. He engaged in farming for six years, before moving to Twin Falls in 1920.

He was a member of the Masonic lodge and of the Methodist Episcopal church for 45 years.

He was born at Argyle, Wisconsin, September 30, 1854.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Susie Leeco, and one daughter, Mrs. Orrin A. Fuller, Twin Falls. He leaves also one brother, Will Leeco, Arpin, Wisconsin, and five sisters, Mrs. Lizzie Brown, Oelwein, Wisconsin; Mrs. Ella Compton, Manchester, Iowa; Mrs. Ida Barker, Argyle, Wisconsin; Mrs. Anna Hawley, Argyle, Wisconsin; Mrs. Kate Benson, Warren, Illinois.

The body rests now at the Drake mortuary here.

FUNERAL RITES HERE FOR NORTH-SIDE CHILD

Funeral services will be held in the Twin Falls mortuary chapel at 2 P. M. today for Patricia Mae Gordon, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy S. Gordon, Eden, who died at the county general hospital here at 9:30 A. M. Sunday from pneumonia following scarlet fever. Services will be conducted by Rev. C. A. Hawley of the Eden Presbyterian church, and interment will be in Twin Falls cemetery.

Besides her parents, Patricia Mae is survived by her older sister, Allen Gordon, seven years old.
