Sensational Political Conflict Ends in Early Morning Hours With Contest On Liquor Plank Alone

By EDWARD A. DUFFY (Associated Press Staff Writer). CHICAGO STADIUM, Thursday. The sensational political conflict over prohibition since it took effect 15 years ago, the Republican convention after this morning should "no" to submission of a repeal amendment.

Sensational Political Conflict Ends in Early Morning Hours With Contest On Liquor Plank Alone

After more than four hours' sharp debate, I accepted the report of the resolutions committee. Under which the ticket to be named later today will go to the country with a repeal amendment. People were allowed to vote on a proposition to modify the national "dry" law.

BONUS BILL PASSES IN LOWER CHAMBER ON 209-176 BALLOT

Members may vote before adjournment.

Proposals for taxing beer to raise the funds were ruled out of order.

After the vote a few members and some spectators stayed to see the veterans remained orderly and most of them left immediately after the roll call.

Party lines were disregarded, with the Democrats, Republicans and one Farmer-Labor member voting for the legislation and 80 Democrats and 129 Republicans against.

Apparently satisfied with the scope of the "on to Washington" movement so far, a number of veterans were preparing tonight to return to their homes. Police estimated 800 would have been within the next 24 hours.

A considerable increase in illness due to camp grounds and lack of shelter for all of the men now in Washington had tempered the spirit of the men who arrived during the past week.

At the time approached for a vote the debate became more tense. At one time it looked as though colleagues would have to intervene in a heated argument between Representative Blanton, Democrat, Texas, and Representative Martin, Democrat, Oregon, a former army officer.

Martin was advancing toward Blanton when friends offered cooling counsel and he took his seat.

Under the sole amendment adopted, the house provided that the Federal Reserve board be given power to conduct open market operations and sell parts of a special bond issue as required to prevent the purchasing power of the dollar from dropping more than 2 per cent below its 1924 level.

WOLF BARKS AT DOOR OF REPUBLICAN PARTY

CHICAGO, June 16 (AP)—The wolf barked at the door of the Republican national convention today but it was soon chased away.

Sidney Street, general manager of the stadium, had said: "The Republicans won't have any hall tomorrow unless they pay up $1500 due on construction."

The Republican management quickly assured that the obligation would be met and later the stadium executives said it was "all a misunderstanding."

TAXES AND TARIFF MARK FARM PLAN

Jim was stressed as a part of the program to aid long harassed agriculture. The plank commended that the administration had already begun much needed work which would foster reorganization of taxing units in areas best for tax delinquency; and direct lands that were submarginal for crop production to other uses.

In its essentials, the 1932 plank differed little from that adopted in 1928, save that the latter called for the farm-board-space establishment.

On the tariff the 1932 plank said: "The party pledges itself to make such revision of tariff schedules as economic changes require to maintain the parity of protection to agriculture with other industry."

President Hoover called a special session of congress shortly after his inauguration in April, 1929, for the purpose of revising tariff schedules to aid agriculture. Out of this came the Smoot-Hawley tariff law.

The cooperative organization of the farmers to "plan production" was called a vital element in restoring agriculture's prosperity. The party pledged itself to continued assistance to the cooperative associations.

Retrieving farm board operations, the plank said that it had been compelled to conduct its operations at a period of disastrous price levels but that it had many achievements to its credit.

The question was made that through the 1930 tariff act and the agriculture marketing act the American farmer had received prices higher than those of other countries.

The special committee which drafted the plank included Secretary Arthur M. Ely of agriculture; W. D. Drilling, Des Moines; Samuel R. McKelvie, former farm board member, and C. C. Teague, California, like McKelvie, a former board member.

Do you inhale? 7 out of 10 smokers know they inhale. The other 3 inhale without realizing it. Every smoker inhales—for every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

Do you inhale? Of course you do! Lucky Strike has dared to raise this vital question... because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

Do you inhale? More than 20,000 physicians, after Luckies had been furnished them for tests, basing their opinions on their smoking experience, stated that Luckies are less irritating to the throat than other cigarettes.

Twin Falls vicinity temperatures at 24-hour period preceding: P. M. yesterday ranged between 83 and 84 degrees, according to the report of D. B. Sharma, government weather observer here. The day was cloudy and the barometer registered 30.09 inches at P. M. Wind was in the north. Humidity ranged 72, 72 and 80 per cent of saturation. There was a precipitation of .02 of an inch, in the form of rain.

dividual opinion" without mentioning names and asserted a majority of congressmen elected in the name of the party have the "right and duty" to determine general policies of the party.

"A bare handful of Republican members of congress, including none of the party independents who have clashed repeatedly with the Hoover police, was present to hear the attack.

Other high spots of the New Republican platform were: Emergency loans to banks for unemployment relief.

Repeal of the banking laws to protect depositors and to regulate banking institutions.

Participation in international conference on monetary questions, including silver.

Establishment of a home loan discount system.

Encouragement of cooperative marketing through the federal farm board support of "any plan" which will help agriculture balance production against demand.

Restoration through the tariff commission of duties relieved by depreciated currencies of foreign countries.

Tariff protection for natural resources, including products of forests, farms, mines and oil wells.

Elimination of the tariff protection to eliminate inequalities and to affect all possible economic.

Elimination of legislation to authorize participation by the United States in an international conference in event of a threat against the Mexico pact.

Participation in the world court. Declaration for principle of high way and international control.

Federal regulation of electric current transmitted across state lines.

Development of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence seaway.

Rigid law against gangsters, racketeers and kidnappers.

A 10 word silver plank for the Republican platform was hailed by several states of the Far West today as a distinct victory.

"I favor the calling of an international conference for the consideration of monetary policy, including the position of silver."

Broadly general and indefinite as they found it. Wearlens pointed out the aftermath of the plank was several desirable things: It recognizes the silver crisis; it acknowledges silver as a monetary asset; and agrees the silver problem is bound up with the present economic situation; it combines the international aspect of the problem and pledges the support of the party for the international control.

These were among the primary objectives sought by the silver state delegation.

Stanley A. Easton, mine executive of Kellars, Idaho, called it "a very important accomplishment for the silver man and the first step toward bimetalism."

W. Mont Perry, Salt Lake City president of the American Silver Producers' association, said he considered it a plank recognizing silver as money, but adding that it decided upon the recognition of the silver as a metallic reserve against which currency might be issued.

"A decided victory for the friends of silver," said A. B. Irvine, chairman of the Utah delegation.

"A complete victory for the silver man want" said William J. Low, Utah member of the resolution committee.

FURBURY BY PLANE

Jerry measured at best the speed of his own craft against that of the other. It was quite evident that the strange machine possessing aerial pursuit since he was leading alone at barely three-quarters the speed of the other ship. With his own engine wide open, Jerry was able to keep pace. So he sat comfortably back in his seat, hoping that the other pilot would not see him and leave him far behind.

He was not the only amphibian that had been noticed by observers in the crowd's nest of the guarding vessel. Jerry and Emory saw a destroyer flying over the water, heading on a forlorn chase toward the two airplanes. Jerry could imagine the radio operators busily hammering at their keys, trying to summon army planes from Lincoln and Tracy, and the other destroyers trying to head off the escaping criminal.

The low flying aircraft of Long Island gradually all return. The amphibian was edging out to sea, taking no chances of being observed by the vigilant spotter. Jerry's eyes were fixed on the coast guard life saving station which stood the shore line. Sandy Hook appears just ahead of the ship. The right wing, followed by the High-lands, Sea Bright, Deal Beach and the other Jersey coast.

With every mile covered Jerry's spirits sank lower and lower. He glanced more often at the gauges than at the steadily flying amphibian. The old training ship was not equipped for long-distance flying.

Two miles beneath him and slightly ahead was the plane.

For a few desperate moments he considered the possibility of diving upon it, trying with his own engines in maneuvering, to force it to a landing. But he knew that it would be folly. By the mere act of showing his struggle forward the other pilot would know his position. Just as the regular sky line of Atlantic City began to loom up in the distance to the south, Jerry, with bitterness in his heart, banked over on his right wing and landed in the harbor. The amphibian and continuing her steady course, rapidly dwindled to nothing in the southern sky. Jerry cut his motor and landed down.

CANDIDATES TELL CAMPAIGN COSTS

Accounts Given To County Auditor Show Expenses $1371—Fillings $589

Candidates for nominations for legislative and county offices at the nominating elections in Twin Falls County May 24, spent $1371.49 to "aid or promote their nomination," a compilation of their reports to the county auditor shows.

Of the total, filing fees paid in to the county auditor's office amounted to $589, of which 25 Democratic candidates paid $301, and 34 Republican candidates paid $288. Filing fees as prescribed by law and are based on the salary of the office to which candidates aspired.

In addition to filing fees, the candidates paid in circulation $782.19 in payment for printing, postage, advertising, carfare, motor fuel and other campaign expenses.

Four Republicans and two Democrats involved in contests for non-legislative offices spent nothing except filing fees in furtherance of their candidacies. The Republicans were M. J. Swartz, Twin Falls, candidate for state senator; E. N. Pettigrove, Hancock, and P. T. Parikh, Bluff, candidates for county clerk.

Two Democrats, E. Davis, candidate for state senator, and T. E. Moore, Bluff, who sought nomination for county clerk, with the exception of M. Moore, all were successful in securing nominations. The Democrats were E. Davis, candidate for state senator, and E. J. Finch, Twin Falls, who sought nomination as county commissioner. Both were defeated.

There were 16 non-nominations to be made on such tickets, so, necessarily, nine Republicans and 10 Democratic candidates for nominations were eliminated at the nominating elections.

The compilation of candidates' expenditures was as follows:

LIBRARY DISTRIBUTES PEONIES TO PATRONS

More than 1000 beautiful and gorgeous peonies were presented yesterday to patrons of the Twin Falls library by the library for several years. Previously, the flowers were sold, but this year the library, Mrs. Jessie Prater, in appreciation of the cooperation of the public, presented them to all who came after them.

TWIN FALLS MAN GETS POST ON COMMITTEE

James D. Whelan, Twin Falls, was yesterday notified of his election as a member of the general committee of the Roosevelt Business-Professional League. Notification came in a telegram from Jesse Alder Strawn, New York, president of the league. Mr. Whelan, regarded as one of the leaders of the Democratic party in Idaho, has been identified from its inception with the movement in this state for nomination of Franklin D. Roosevelt, New York governor, for the presidency.

MRS. CLOUCHEK GETS APPOINTMENT NOTICE

Mrs. Emma Clouchek, wife of Dr. W. Clouchek, has been notified of her appointment as Idaho woman member of the Republican national committee. She was a delegate to the national Republican convention four years ago, but did not go to Chicago to attend the convention this year. Mrs. Clouchek has taken an active interest in public affairs for many years. She has represented Twin Falls county at delegate-in-two state conventions and has served as member of the county Republican committee. In 1930 she was elected member of the Idaho state legislature from Twin Falls county and took an active part in the consideration of important legislative measures. She has been prominent in women's club work.

MAGISTRATE REQUIRES BOND OF NON-RESIDENT

George D. Willette, Chicago, must furnish $500 non-resident litigation bond in order to maintain his suit for recovery of 80 cents from the Press-Tribune Service, Incorporated, an account of an alleged overcharge. Justice of the Peace E. M. Holler ruled here yesterday, Counsel for the Press-Tribune called for possession of the bond after Willette retained attorneys and started his suit. In the justice's court here last Saturday, this amounting to $1000, he was to be the smallest ever involved in a lawsuit in Twin Falls court.

SOLID!

When the stock market and other investments became shaky—when banks closed and loans became precarious—Life Insurance stood as solid as the Rock of Gibraltar.
