FRENCH SUBMARINE SINKS OFF EUROPE WITH 66 MARINERS

(Continued From Page One) felt the ship sink under me." The submarine, in service only two weeks, was endeavoring to correct its list when it was struck, particularly for diving trials. The military of marine at Paris said the submarine had been in the working order. Various adjustments had been found necessary before it was deemed fit to be sent to sea. It was in an effort to bring the machinery to perfection that this afternoon's trial had been arranged. It was estimated that 40 members of the crew and 17 other men, including engineers and workmen, were down with the ship. The correspondent of the Paris newspaper LeMatin estimated the victims at 70.

Marine experts offered hope tonight that the men inside the submarine might have found time to cut the bright hatch before the ruin of seas into the ship, which sank like a flash. They noted that if no serious break occurred in the hull, it was reasonable to expect that the crew ran no immediate danger of death. This hope, however, was coupled with a pessimistic statement that salvaging conditions were difficult, first because of the powerful currents and second because of the depth of the sea.

Arrangements were pressed in the endeavor to raise the submarine. They were aided by the presence at Cherbourg of France's special floating dock for the raising of submarines. Efforts were concentrated on determining the exact location of the ship and the conformation of the seabed. The scene of a fishing craft near the scene of the disaster, possibly watching the submarine were shocked to see it suddenly stagger and disappear.

A number of men standing on the deck seemed to be flung into the air. The fishing boat immediately set its course for the scene and rescued the eleven from the sea, including the commander, Lieutenant Du Mesnil. It was believed others of the crew were on deck at the time, but were dragged down by the suction of the terrific current, which might have caused the submarine's sinking. Search continued throughout the night for other possible survivors. The submarine's commanders and the crew saved swam for an hour before they were rescued by the fishing boat, the Yvette. Exhausted, all were returned to a hospital.

BEER BILL AGAIN OCCUPIES SENATE

(Continued From Page One) fast-flying sails and returns. Vice President Curtis had to warn both the floor and galleries against demonstrating. He himself joined in the laughter once, however, when Senator Gore, Democrat of Indiana, described President Hoover as "a new kind of cake walk with a pitcher of ice cream on our shoulder and a little brown rig on the other."

All began when Senator Ashcroft rose to contend that neither the form nor the substance of the Biering proposal for 3.2 per cent beer should be considered as "riders" on the pending home loan bill. The senate floor was only one of the day's prohibition demonstrations. In the house a petition to Speaker Garner for immediate action on beer-revenue legislation was circulated among Republican anti-prohibitionists. Representative LaChapelle, Republican of West Virginia, predicted 60 Republican signatures would be obtained.

But a "Lusk legislative" officer of the Crusaders, an anti-prohibition organization, in a statement declared the beer relief bill that congress can pass is a beer bill. Among those who engaged in the Senate prohibition discussion, Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, who has been sought by the prohibitionists and prohibitionists, when Senator Glenn told Ashcroft that if the Democratic party would take steps to repeal the platform pledge, some help would be forthcoming from the Republican side, Senator Borah inquired: "Does any Republican party plan to furnish the votes to carry out the Democratic platform?"

Glenn's answer apparently referring to the Republican independence of whom Borah is one, replied there was no such thing as a Republican vote with Democrats. "The only time you and your friends get into liquor is involved," Borah shot back.

HOUSE APPROVES RELIEF BILL BY 202 TO 157 IN FACE OF POSSIBLE VETO

(Continued From Page One) what they thought of their respective positions on the relief issue. The measure provides for an increase from $2,000,000,000 to $2,000,000,000 in the capital of the Reconstruction Finance corporation with $1,000,000,000 additional for loans to states and municipalities for distress relief, making a total of $3,000,000,000 in addition to the $2,224,000,000 for emergency construction to increase employment.

Speaker Garner did not participate in the debate which was opened by acting Chairman Crip of the ways and means committee, with the statement he personally did not like everything in the bill, "but something has to be done in this crisis."

"I believe this bill will go a long way toward furnishing relief for those in need and giving employment," the Georgia Democrat said. "People in this country will not and shall not be permitted to starve."

Crip added by accepting President Hoover's suggestions on two provisions for relief, Speaker Garner said the conferees thought they might reach a compromise with the chief executive, but Mr. Hoover would not yield. "I will not yield," Crip added, "for believe everybody should stand on his feet in the Reconstruction Finance corporation."

EARLY MORNING FINDS LAUSANNE CONFERENCE APPROACHING SUCCESS

on Saturday for the purpose of installing the agreement. The German delegation was said to be prepared to reach a settlement of the armistice and the German issue which will take the place of reparations. The method of leasing bonds and other details remain for future discussion.

One of the political demands the German have been making during the crucial negotiations of the last few days was that what is known in Germany as the "war guilt" be omitted from the treaty of Versailles.

The German announcement came in the position of the agreement seemed to be growing smaller and smaller. Spokesman for the "Big three"—Britain, France and Germany—admitted that yesterday's tentative accords had vanished.

Premier Edouard Herriot, France, announced he had rejected an offer of a six-power committee pact urged by Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, and Chancellor Franz Papen, Germany. Under this pact, the governments of Belgium, France, Germany, Italy, Great Britain and Japan would have been bound not to raise political questions without first conducting "friendly" consultation with a view to agreeing on the manner in which such questions should be treated."

Louis Germain-Martin, French minister of finance, told Americans that a speech made July 4 in Paris by Norman Armour, United States ambassador to France, had been interpreted as an implied vindication of the French attitude at Lausanne. This speech, Mr. Germain-Martin said, was in no way to act in a disagreeable manner toward America.

KEEP COOL WITH HILLS BROS COFFEE-iced

TO A FROSTY GOODNESS

There's one drink that never fails to freshen a thirsty throat... to bolster you up and help you through a hard, hot day. It's coffee... Hills Bros. Coffee... iced to a cheering, chilling goodness.

What relief and new life you find, as you drink it slowly—savoring each sip—making the most of that rich, exquisite flavor! For here is coffee at the height of flavor-perfection. Coffee with the taste that Nature intends—developed by perfect roasting—Hills Bros' exclusive Controlled Roasting process never under-roasts nor over-roasts.

Hills Bros. Coffee can't go stale! The vacuum process of packing coffee is the only method that fully preserves coffee freshness—the air is removed from the can and kept out. It was originated by Hills Bros. over thirty years ago. There is no magic about a vacuum can—but it will keep good coffee fresh.

Order Hills Bros. Coffee today. Really, you haven't any idea how delightful iced coffee is, until you taste Hills Bros. Ask for it by name, and look for the Arab trademark on the can.

How to make a marvelous glass of Hills Bros. Coffee—iced. Prepare Hills Bros. Coffee in your regular way. Then instead of adding ice to the hot coffee, cool it in a pitcher or covered dish—before you add it to your refrigerator. Do other things in your refrigerator for ice dilutes the delightful, bracing flavor. Serve with cream, if desired, and sweeten to taste.

When you have even the thought of hot food—and want just something cold, and a long, cool drink.

When 18 holes have hit you hard—and you need a real pick-up.

When you have a party on your hands—and there's not a breath of air on the porch.

When you're home from shopping—and eat hardly a dog's foot after the other.

No can of Hills Bros. Coffee will ever "go stale." The vacuum can keeps it FRESH ALWAYS!

TWIN FALLS BULKS IN LEGION HORIZON

Next Year's Convention Brings 1000 Visitors, Delegation Promises

Idaho's American Legion department convention, returning to Twin Falls after an interval of 13 years, will bring approximately 1000 delegates and visitors here for three days early next August, according to members of the Twin Falls delegation returning from the Legion's state convention at Pocatello this week.

The Idaho World War veterans' organization at the Pocatello convention accepted invitation to hold its fifteenth annual convention in Twin Falls next year. Leaders in the organization said members throughout the state had been looking forward to coming to Twin Falls next year. Convention visitors at Pocatello this week included besides officers and delegates of the Legion and Auxiliary conventions, five drum and bugle corps, including women's drum and bugle corps from Idaho Falls and Pocatello, and many other members of both organizations.

Burley American Legion post entered its drum and bugle corps which had been organized within the year. Kimberly American Legion post was represented by a marching unit of 20 members and garbed in uniforms of the Continental army to represent the "Spirit of '76."

Twin Falls American Legion post's seven-man Dutch band, under Harry Benson's untimely leadership, will be a feature of the parade and the entertainment program the first two convention days. Members of this unique organization were Orin A. Miller, E. H. Wenzel, Larry Bassett, Rex Thomas, Eugene Ostrander, Francis Rheinhardt and George Montooth.

An amusing novelty entry in the parade also came from Twin Falls, a miniature automobile being conveyed into a perambulator by Arthur M. Peters, G. O. Struphar and Roy Cutler.

CANAL BOARD GETS STAY OF EXECUTION

Court Intervenes to Prevent Collection of Tunnel Contractor's Claim

Twin Falls Canal company has obtained a 30-day stay of execution in connection with a motion for a new trial of the suit in which J. N. Molynaux, Twin Falls tunnel contractor, secured a judgment for $19,300.25 from the canal company at trial in the district court here last week. District Judge Adam B. Barclay, Jerome, who presided at last week's trial, signed the order for the stay of execution late Wednesday. The canal company and its legal adviser, James B. Botwin, were given 20 days to file a bill of particulars.

DANGEROUS COMPROMISE

It is dangerous to compromise quality for the sake of apparent low price in the purchase of any household necessity and this is especially true in the purchase of foods. There is no compromise at our store. The quality must be the best. The price must be as low as possible, in view of the quality. Our patrons have every protection. "Danger," of no kind exists here.

Each of the 12 jurors signed the verdict awarding Molynaux the full amount of his claim. The canal company's motion for a new trial sets up statutory reasons, namely, alleged errors in law and insufficiency of evidence to justify the verdict.

BEAN GROWERS CONVEY AT YELLOWSTONE PARK

BULH GROWER ADVISES THINNING APPLE CROP

Twin Falls district's 1932 apple crop is the largest in the state and many apple growers who have a heavy set of fruit thin their crops, according to E. E. Brennan, Buhl apple grower. "Thinning of apple crop is a good practice any year," Mr. Brennan said here yesterday. "It is particularly desirable this year, because the apples are small on account of the late spring and backward season. Unless we have a particularly favorable late fall there will be a lot of small apples."

FUTURE FARMERS PLAN FOR LIVESTOCK JUDGING

Members of the Twin Falls chapter of the Future Farmers of America who are interested in livestock judging will have an opportunity to show their skill and receive additional training Saturday afternoon, when the first of a series of judging trips to be held under the auspices of the vocational-agricultural department of Twin Falls high school will be held, beginning at 1 P.
