PRESIDENT HOOVER GETS SUGGESTIONS REGARDING SPEECH

In Meanwhile, Roosevelt Goes Ahead Accumulating Advice on Questions of Significance Economically

By EDWARD J. DUFFY (Continued From Last Week) WASHINGTON, July 23—Amid uncertainties as to how far Roosevelt is to extend the status quo...

What will come from it all probably will be known in a few days. The campaign picks up speed next month; but in each case the time is being taken to make the most of the weeks from then until the November election.

That is why the prohibition section of the president's speech accepting renomination here August 10 is being delayed this week; and why the New York governor's message with prominent financial-ministry Democrats are being speedily prepared.

Approach Mr. Hoover is keeping his prohibition intentions secret to the extent of making no proposals for and against making an open bid for support of the dry.

Still in a state of sentimentality the President's speech is being held up. It was shown in the Republican convention where big differences were expressed in the stiff dispute on their attempt to get a plank submitting the question of prohibition.

It is plain that when a motion picture of a substitute amendment is shown in the White House, it will be controlled to a degree, by the words of speaking and votes of the administration.

There has been no indication that Mr. Hoover either to renounce his prohibition or to extend it. The platform took the position that "progress" which has been thus far made will be preserved, while the evils must be eliminated.

Having already had his prohibition platform, Mr. Hoover is expected to have a platform-favoring repeal and Volstead law modification. Governor Borah has been expected to have a platform-favoring repeal and Volstead law modification.

BORAH ADVOCATES WORLD CONFERENCE ON DEBT QUESTIONS

(Continued From Page One) borah so successfully at Louisiana for economic recovery must have had in mind—and so all the world has believed—the question of disarmament.

WITNESS IN MINTON CASE BUYS HAIRCUTS

MOORE, July 23 (AP)—Milton Leachman's airplane trip to Denver, to testify in the extortion case against David C. Moore, was smooth shaven. Minton, Idaho, according to the claim filed today with the state auditor, had a haircut.

Leachman was required by the state to give his evidence that he had had a haircut with a woman who thought he was Lord Burleigh. The night the southern woman appeared from the state penitentiary.

The stipulation that the auditor because of the necessity for speed, Leachman returned by train. All the same rules of the board of examiners require that a claim for an airplane trip must be "stipulated" that it is brought to the attention of the examiners.

Another stipulation which has caught the attention of the auditor is whether this is not an open market as a shave and a haircut daily during Leachman's visit. On that point the auditor has said that it would need a shave daily, but scarcely a daily haircut, the state auditor has said.

The board of examiners will hold the monthly payroll meeting the first of next week to consider the case for the shot to promenade on schedule the end of the week.

What Chance has poor, old PRICE! He's the most hounded fellow in the world today. And that's saying a lot! Everyone knows that prices on practically everything they wear or use in their homes have come down considerably. So it's no trick for a store to quote lower prices than in past years. But there's still a premium on careful market-sleuthing and keen trading. That's where Falk's shines. To begin with, no reputable manufacturer would THINK of offering our buyers anything but quality merchandise. Because they know that Falk's hasn't sold anything else in all its 63 years history. We won't stand for skimping on specifications, as a means of securing a more advantageous price, either. In other words, a special price at Falk's means all the expression implies. But special price or no, it's comfortable to know that you can always Shop Safely at FALK'S *You never pay more at FALK'S—many times less.

CLUB SESSIONS AT BURLEY—FLOURISH

Meeting of Executive Board of Women's Group Stands Out in Events of Week

BURLEY, July 23 (Special to The News)—Burley Women's club executive board meeting, in which policies and plans of the organization were set forth, was an outstanding event this week in Burley.

A new plan has been inaugurated in the Women's club this year, in that, for the first time the executive committee has been functioning throughout the summer months, preparing the way for the regular club meetings for the fall and winter. The purpose of these summer meetings was to organize the club completely over the federated department plan, as outlined by the general Federation of Women's clubs.

Members present at the meeting were: Mrs. Lolla Burton, hostess; a few friends at a waffle breakfast. The morning was spent taking pictures and playing games.

Women of the Country club enjoyed a day at the club this week with a luncheon served in the clubhouse. Madeline R. E. Bentley and Jack Davis were hostesses. Mrs. Roy Davidson won the putting contest and held the low score of 48.

Mrs. H. C. Van Gelfen will entertain the Edelweiss club at her home on Monday.

Mrs. J. O. McCulloch entertained the members of her bridge club Friday afternoon. Club prizes went to Mrs. Irel-Gundumson. Non-member guests included: Madeline Joseph Payne, Arthur and Mrs. Dave Smith, Boise. Mrs. Anderson received the guest prize.

The local foot race held a summer meeting Thursday, evening in the Casino Bank building. Those in attendance included Mrs. J. O. McCulloch, who has charge of welfare work, Mrs. Adonis Nelson, Miss Ardith King, Miss Willford, Langlois, Guy Shea, George Mueller and J. H. Hanel, president. Reports were given on the distribution of wheat and flour and announcements were made of the completion of plans for the "swim week" to be held here.

Rebecca Lodge held a meeting with Mrs. Lillie Snodgrass in charge. Plans were discussed for entertaining members and their families at the annual summer picnic to be enjoyed at Artesian lake in August. Members of lodge in nearby towns were invited as guests for this affair.

Mrs. J. O. Walker was pleasantly surprised on her birthday anniversary Thursday, by the members of the Recreation club.

Hour club met with Mrs. J. Smoys with a good attendance. After a short business session a social time was enjoyed and tea served.

BURLEY MAYOR SEES REDUCTION OF TAXES

BURLEY, July 23 (Special to The News)—Burley city taxes are due for a yearly reduction, in the opinion of W. C. Barlow, mayor. The commission they have been reduced 1.2 mills by the levy just adopted. Last year, together with budget reductions and savings, the amount of decrease was "about 3 mills."

These reductions have been made possible through increased efficiency and returns from the electric department, through economical administration and by reason of a reduction in bonded indebtedness. The city's bonded debt is now only $70,000 and this will be reduced by $20,000 this fall.

The mayor asserts that some city-improvements will be undertaken in 1933. He will share of the emergency department funds from the federal government. This sum will amount to about $2 to $3 a person, and will provide considerable work for dependent people this fall.

BURLEY, July 23 (Special to The News)—A racing contest seems to be on here between gas filling stations and barbers, for price reductions. As far back as can be remembered, hair cuts cost the adult discriminating public four bits for each snip. And for quite a while it seemed as though gas prices had been irrevocably fixed at 24 cents per United States standard gallon for all classes and qualities.

But of late, there came a drop. Hair cuts fell to two bits in some of the tonorial parlors, the average run of scissors wielders posting a price of 35 cents, while ours or two die-hard clung desperately to the frontier price of half a dollar.

And gas prices fell so that they were hard to keep track of. Station attendants got placards and

Home Fits Snugly on Narrow Lot

1138 Aspirants for Honors Take Quarters Awaiting Tenth Olympiad's Opening

LOS ANGELES, July 23 (AP)—Quiet streams of serious training marked the arrival of the world's athletes to Los Angeles today, ahead toward the opening of the Tenth Olympiad seven days hence.

Scattered over more than a dozen training sites of the city and Long Beach, tens of thousands of athletes are now in the city, more than ever aware that competition in the tenth modern games is to be a struggle for the title of world champion.

With 17 flags of some 150 nations floating from masts in front of the Olympic stadium, the international festival of sports is now in progress. The athletes are now quartered in the village, although several hundred are still in the city, and the equestrian trials are being run in the open of their individual activities.

$500,000 For Growers And 1700 Jobs Loom In Jerome And Twin Falls Counties

Stupendous Benefit to Agriculture and Labor Results from Planting of 8000 Acres of Sugar Beets

Sugar beets in Twin Falls and Jerome counties alone will be worth approximately $1 million dollars and give employment to 1700 persons in factory and field this season. In view of present prospects, it was estimated last night by A. R. Hagar, district manager of Amalgamated Sugar company.

Estimate of this stupendous benefit to agriculture and labor is based on a prospective crop of 18 tons to the acre, on approximately 8000 acres in the counties. It is expected that the Twin Falls factory will have a run of nearly 100 days, beginning about October 1 and extending about December 1. Total expense for labor would not exceed $30 an acre, leaving $50 an acre for the grower.

Expected according to the estimate of Mr. Hagar, would be $8 an acre for early spring work; $18 for harvesting and delivery, and $25 for seed. All incidental expenses, including light and frequent irrigation, would not exceed $150 an acre.

Home From Idaho—Mrs. Clarence Lusk, Miss Blanche Detweiler, Miss Donna Cliff, Miss Margaret Reicher and Mrs. H. C. Turner returned Saturday from a week's outing at Esley's Hot Springs.

Work Moving Forward

Second plowing in the fields is now getting under way and will be finished in about 10 days. There are now about 600 men in the fields in Twin Falls and Jerome counties, or the closing of the season until the time of harvest about October 1, only a few men need be retained by the farmers to assist in the frequent light irrigations needed to produce the highest yields. At the peak of the first plowing and hoeing season during the first half of June, about 1400 men were employed.

When the factory starts, the approximate payroll of men employed inside will be about $100 a day. Mr. Hagar expects in addition to the men employed in the fields.

Frank G. Ashbrook, Washington, Declares Twin Falls District Has Advantages

Twin Falls section has many advantages in raising rabbits, Frank G. Ashbrook, Washington, expert of the fur resources division of the federal biological survey, told a meeting of the Twin Falls County Rabbit Breeders' association at the headquarters of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce last night in an informal discussion of the industry.

Mr. Ashbrook was invited here by the association to get his views and advice on what would be for the best interests of the industry.

Court Dismisses Suit For 50 Cents

Motion for dismissal, filed by Chapman and Chapman, Twin Falls attorneys for the defendant, in the action of Willis against the Pineside Service Store, incorporated, was granted yesterday by H. M. Holler, justice of the peace.

About three months ago, Willis, a Chicago traveling man, instituted suit against the committee for the sale of the Pineside Service Store, incorporated, for an overcharge of the sum named for washing and oiling his suit.

Admirers for the defendant filed demand that the plaintiff as a non-resident, put up the $500 bond and order to show cause. Order to this effect was issued by the court. Timely filing expired yesterday, on motion of the defendant's lawyers, the case was dismissed.

surprise at the tone he had used. Apparently they were surprised at this statement:

"I may add that the unanimous view of the Australian people is that, while for a quarter of a century they have given preference to Great Britain freely and unconditionally, they regard the British preferences granted under the importance of a somewhat tardy response for the benefits long enjoyed by British industry."

The import duties act permitted dominion products to enter the United Kingdom free of duty until November to give the Ottawa conference a chance to negotiate reciprocal preferences. This is the crux of Great Britain's bargaining point.

The unofficial observer for Argentina, Jorge Andres Bunge, was quick to express the opinion that British financial interests in Argentina would look with disfavor on any move to discriminate against Argentine beef, one of that country's leading exports to the British Isles.

For the first time during the conference the United States was brought directly into the proceedings by a South African statement. After reviewing the fruit industry's importance to the Union of South Africa and citing its general South African supplementary statement added:

Competition, however, from foreign countries, such as the United States and some of the South American states, is becoming increasingly strong.

"Great Britain has granted 10 per cent preferences on fresh fruits, but it has already become patent that in the case of citrus this preference cannot be effective."

The position is such that the Union is forced to ask for further consideration of its fruit exports and also in regard to its wines and tobacco.

EMPLOYMENT AGENT REPORTS CONDITIONS

E. B. Williams Finds Temporary Slack in Farm Work Between Harvest Periods

Due to temporary cessation of work in the early fields, slackening up of employment in the beet fields and cherry orchards, there are at the present time between 400 and 500 idle men in Twin Falls county alone who would like to get work, in the case of E. B. Williams, federal employment agent.

Aside from the workers in the beet fields, numbering at one time about 1400 in Twin Falls and Jerome counties, about 500 were employed during the first harvest season and, following this, about 300 in the cherry orchards in the two counties named.

Besides these about 800 there were employed and are still employed in various other activities in the two counties. Mr. Williams estimated. About 100 women have also been steadily employed, he says.

On opening of another season of hay cutting and the harvest season in a week or 10 days, there will be an increased demand for men, partly offset by the closing of most of the work in the beet fields until fall, and the opening of the Amalgamated sugar factory about October 1, promises better for the fall season in the opinion of Mr. Williams.

He states, however, that at all times there have been from 200 to 300 idle men who wanted work here, mostly residents who have lived here for several years or more. He says that he is anxious to place all residents who want employment, and that after spending a whole day at his office, if anyone has a job for a man, he will be glad to have prospective employer call at his home. He says that while there are some men who claim that they want work, who really do not most of them seeking employment, really want it.

"MAN WHO PLAYED GOD" PLAYS AT ROXY THEATRE

George Arliss, star of five of the talk screen's great pictures, arrived at Joe-K's Roxy theatre last night in his latest dramatic production, "The Man Who Played God."

"The Man Who Played God" is a story of a musician of international fame, an essentially human being, whose life and happiness revolve around his music and the pleasure he brings to countless thousands via Fate plays strange tricks on him, giving and taking love, presenting the world for a plaything and then taking everything away. Arliss portrays every step in the drama with nuance and shading rarely seen on the screen.

Are We A PUBLIC ASSET TO THE GREAT, UNMATCHABLE TWIN FALLS EMPIRE?

We Read

In the trade magazines and hear from people who have shopped some of the largest stores in America, the reports of stock depletion, and curtailment of assortment, for satisfactory selection by the buying public.

We Then Swell

with pride, over the service we are able to offer you, in complete assortments, in every department of the highest grade, nationally known lines of merchandise, at prices unheard of for years past.

Our Thriving Buyers

who know you, and your tastes in merchandise are now in the greatest markets in the world, selecting new fall and winter merchandise for YOU.

Ready Money

is procuring new fall merchandise from these standard, nationally known lines, at prices beyond our anticipation.

This Great Home Store

has always stood for the highest quality of standard merchandise, else how could we place behind each purchase, our great slogan, which answers everything—"IF IT ISN'T RIGHT BRING IT BACK"

ONE HUNDRED PER CENT CONFIDENCE

is the greatest asset any store may enjoy. And we can hold your confidence only by never uttering a single untruth or a solitary over-drawn statement.

We Intend

to hold to these high, proven, qualities in our merchandise till that proverbial place freezes over. In the long run the best is far the cheaper and our exceptional system of Ready Cash buying place them in your hands at prices on a parity with those asked for merchandise of unknown origin—Keep your eye on your tried and proven Home Store this fall
