HOOPER PREPARES TO CALL LEADERS INTO CONFERENCE

Executive Plans to Launch Renewed Drive for Economic Rehabilitation With Aid of Best Business Minds

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Aug. 12—Starting his campaign for reelection with a renewed drive for economic rehabilitation, President Hoover said today he would summon shortly a general business conference aimed at "united and concentrated action on a broad front throughout the country."

The date of the conference—to be attended by outstanding business and industrial leaders from each federal reserve district—will be announced Monday.

simultaneously the chief executive, announced a change in one of his major relief agencies. He accepted the resignation of Walter H. Hill, director of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, as director of the president's commission on the telephone industry.

Mr. Hoover's intention to call business leaders to the White House had preceded his announcement to newspapermen today.

Hill administration leaders disclosed last night that the president had accepted the resignation of Walter H. Hill, director of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, as director of the president's commission on the telephone industry.

Hoover's Acceptance Speech Draws Praise Of Humble And Great

"Everyone Whom I Have Seen Is Greatly Heartened By The Evidence You Have Given of a Strong Grasp of Affairs and of Courage and Energy in Dealing With These Times," Says Message From Henry Ford

By JOHN F. CHESTER (Associated Press Staff Writer) WASHINGTON, Aug. 12—Happy and confident, President Hoover today sat at his desk surrounded by hundreds of congratulatory telegrams from persons of every degree in every corner of the nation—the first returns on his speech of acceptance.

So great was the volume of messages—the president described them as a "great flood of telegrams"—that he had to stop them at 10:30 p. m. "late in the day he requested the press to make a general acknowledgment and express his appreciation for them."

His acceptance speech, which he showed "extraordinary support" of the principles he had enunciated.

The telegrams flowed from almost every corner of the nation. Many were not in evidence and many were not in evidence.

Prohibitionists and anti-prohibitionists, industrialists, business leaders, editors and folks not known of their own communities, all joined in the praise.

Here are some of the messages: HENRY FORD—"Your fire in the Lincoln courthouse is still burning and this morning I added a log to it."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—A variety of comment was drawn forth by the president's acceptance speech for a change in the prohibition laws.

Dr. Clarence True Wilson, secretary of the Board of Christian Prohibition and public moralist of the Methodist Episcopal church, said the chief executive's pronouncement will not be the end of the "great war" between the Democrats and will not satisfy "the moral conditions of the war" which he started four years ago.

Representative Rayburn, Texas, was another supporter of the Hoover speech, a 50-50 speech, 50 per cent "yes" and 50 per cent "no."

The president, he said, "gave both the weak and dry partisans in the Hoover campaign to applaud, cautiously."

Vernon William Shambaugh, chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission, said that the prohibition board of strategy, called for organization of a third party to handle the presidential campaign of a change in prohibition.

"Both parties have failed to remedy in this depression the economic social needs of the people," he said.

Representative William E. Hall, Illinois, said he would support one of the anti-prohibition laws, if he endorsed Mr. Hoover's statement.

"I will prevent the saloon from returning, the bootlegger and bring relief of temperance and sobriety to the nation," he said.

From Oliver W. Stewart and other officers of the Flying Squadron, a saloon league, Stewart said he was "deeply honored" by Mr. Hoover's acceptance speech.

What have you learned today in the New University? Talk with almost any woman and you will find her amazingly informed on vitamins, balanced diets, refrigeration, household sanitation, labor saving, family hygiene, table and home decoration. Watch her during her day and you will find her employing this new knowledge for the improvement of living. Talk with almost any man and you'll find him technically informed about motor-cars and adding machines, aeroplanes and radios, telephones and oil burners—materials, designs, uses, processes in a dozen fields. What has happened? It seems that people know more than they used to and that they use their new-found knowledge to their comfort and happiness. Perhaps this is the explanation: There is today a New University—the University of Advertising. Its doors never close, it is open to all and the fees of admission are the daily price of a newspaper. The subjects taught are ways to make life better and more enjoyable. Eminent authorities in the various fields work with skilled writers and illustrators to prepare the daily "lessons"—the advertisements. They are admirably printed and illustrated. They are studied and applied, as needed, by the youngsters and grown-ups of all ages. What have you learned today in the New University? Study the advertisements. Useful knowledge is waiting for you.
