ROOSEVELT ENJOYS REST IN ARIZONA

Vanderbilt Reports The Democratic presidential nominee received a report by Cornelius Vanderbilt of an editorial survey in the morning of September 26 in the county.

Vanderbilt, who has traveled a distance of 2000 miles in the apparently completed survey in which he is talking with newspaper editors and political leaders, said that of the states he has visited so far the ones principally in doubt were Pennsylvania, Ohio, Wyoming, Kansas and Vermont.

The census he said were well on their way toward a decision in the Roosevelt column in November. He has not yet visited the South, California and some of the Great Lakes states.

Mrs. John C. Greenway, the national committee woman for Roosevelt, who has been in the Roosevelt column in November, He has not yet visited the South, California and some of the Great Lakes states.

Many members of his party traveled the 64 miles to Grand Canyon today to view the beautiful gorge of the Colorado river.

Speaking from the back of an open automobile to several hundred men and women of the cattle country, Governor Roosevelt touched upon the cattle tariff and said "we are going to look after that very carefully. A lot of questions are being asked."

"I don't think that needs an answer. We are going to look after our own people." "We don't say anything about Argentina beef and Australian and Mexican beef come in free of duty. I don't think that needs an answer."

Mr. Roosevelt told the crowd that he would "rather look at the horses than make a speech. He spoke of the long journey which he has made, encircling the West."

"Later, I am going into the South, where there aren't any Republicans at all," he told them. The tentative plans for the southern trip call for his departure from Albany about October 12, with stops to be made at Philadelphia, Baltimore, Raleigh, four days at Warm Springs, Georgia, and a stop at Atlanta. From that point he either will return home or possibly go to Louisville and Indianapolis. A later trip into New England is being planned.

PRESIDENT HOOVER LAYS CORNERSTONE OF POSTAL BUILDING

While not referring directly to the annual postal deficit, which increases this year as designed to 100 million, President Hoover said the postal establishment is an instrumentality which exists to serve all the people and which in its proper sphere should require little or no support from the public treasury."

He recalled that since creation of the postoffice department under President Washington with 75 offices and 118 employees, the service has grown to 48,532 stations with 250,000 workers.

Postmaster General Brown and Senator Smoot, Utah, chairman of the public buildings commission, also spoke before President Hoover took up a trowel, which Washington used in laying the cornerstone for the capitol, to spend the morning for the postoffice's cornerstone.

President Hoover conferred last week with Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, Willard and A. F. Whitney, chairman of the Railway Labor Executives' association, conferred over wages last Saturday.

Voice Down Request Prior to calling upon President Hoover last week the Railway Labor Executives' association voted to turn down a request that they meet a committee of railroad executives in an effort to arrange a further wage reduction. Railway labor agreed last January to a 10 per cent reduction for one year.

The labor representatives, at the conclusion of their meeting, deposited a lengthy statement with Mr. Hoover opposing a further wage reduction at a time "when there are some hopeful signs that the depression may have run its course."

MAHATMA GANDHI'S FAST REACHES END

When he had finished reading he threw the treat "among" and returned to a doctor, "which is acceptable."

Then, satisfied that the conditions for ending his fast had been fulfilled, the little Nationalist leader sank back with a low moan.

Before he would partake of food he insisted on prayer. The little group about his bedside sat on the ground, hands clasped in prayer, as the poet who came to Poona this morning led them as they prayed.

The compromise plan provides that 142 seats in provincial legislatures be held by the depressed classes and that a percentage of seats in the central legislature be reserved for them. It also provides a system of primary elections. These special features are to end after ten years.

In accepting this plan the British government pointed out that some details still remained under consideration. The official statement said this did not imply opposition by the government.

The news of the action in London called great rejoicing in Poona. At Simla the halls of the Indian legislative assembly echoed with loud cheers and there was a similar demonstration in the council of state.

Max Schmeling Beats Walker By Technical Knockout

Broadway Gets Ready For First Games Of 1932 World's Series

Gallant Irishman Fights Heroically For Eight Rounds

Loser Takes Long Count Two Times in Course of Bout Witnessed by 55,000 Fans in Madison Square Garden

By ALAN GOULD (Associated Press Sports Editor) NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Punching power in Max Schmeling's steady right hand promptly checked the heavyweight surge of gallant Irishman Walker in the eighth round of a technical knockout victory over the chunky Dubliner in the eighth round of a 15-round bout.

In a dramatic and unusual finish, Schmeling stopped Walker by the end of the eighth round with Walker so badly cut and bleeding around the eyes that he was unable to continue.

Knocked down twice for counts of six and nine seconds in the eighth round, Walker's right eye was badly cut and his left eye heavily closed, his right eye cut and gone about the middle of the eighth round, and his left eye cut and gone about the middle of the eighth round.

A crowd estimated by Promoter James J. Johnston at 55,000, contributing to gate receipts of about $17,000, sat in the packed arena to witness the eighth round of Schmeling's spectacular right-hand attack on Walker, who had carried the fighting Irishman back from the verge of being knocked out last round.

Walker was knocked down for a six count with a terrific right-hander to the jaw in the opening round, but he got up and fought the remainder of the bout with a courage and tenacity that earned him a reputation as a fighter who would not be beaten.

Walker's right hand lashed out suddenly and caught Mickey squarely on the right side of the head, but it did not do more than a foot, but it did drop him to the floor.

Schmeling-Walker Fight Roud by Round

By EDWARD J. NEIL (Associated Press Sports Writer) MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, Sept. 26.—(Herald)—Round by round, Max Schmeling, the German, jumped into him with two left hooks to the body and a short left to the chin. Moving slowly and carefully, Schmeling lugged Walker's body in a clinch. As they pulled away, Walker with both hands, smashing his right to the head, shaking the little Irishman with a volley of whistling hooks to the jaw. Mickey shook his head, held for a moment, and then he came back with a right hand to the head, which was answered by a left to the chin. Schmeling floored Walker with a right to the chin for a second time, but ending the round, the position of the time keeper's arm, Mickey went to his corner unassisted and seemed not badly hurt.

Round two and with great care, Schmeling followed the dancing Irishman, watching for his right. Mickey slipped Schmeling on the chin with a right and held his body in close quarters. A left finished to the chin straight Walker. The left blow followed the just dog fight. Round three—Walker, having no attention to the size of the German, jumped into him with two left hooks to the body and a short left to the chin. Moving slowly and carefully, Schmeling lugged Walker's body in a clinch. As they pulled away, Walker with both hands, smashing his right to the head, shaking the little Irishman with a volley of whistling hooks to the jaw. Yankees Stadium Offers Sufficient Room for Throng

Officials Expect 50,000 Fans To See Opener, and 40,000 To Watch Rest of Games, Many Filling Bleachers

By EDWARD J. NEIL (Associated Press Sports Writer) NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—(Herald)—The bunting to the front of hundreds of sun-baked bleachers in Yankee stadium today, brought out the blue and red of the Yankees for the world series show back on Broadway again after a lapse of over a year.

Down the playing field of the big American league ball park the champions Yankees trotted through the first of two workouts that will get them for the invasion of the Chicago Cubs and the first of the baseball annual fall holidays Wednesday.

There was "Burr" Ruth and "Doc" Gehrig, in rubber shirts, their jaws champing busily on a line of bread. The Yankees were in the field of the vacant reaches of the right-field bleachers. There, starting at 10:30 A. M. on Wednesday, the baseball annual fall holidays Wednesday.

As big "Red" Tuffing, the people's choice to face Guy Bush of the Cubs in the opening game, joined left-handed slugger, Danny Rayburn and Charley Fife pushing for the Yankees, the big and little slugger, there was a good time, rattled fences with line drives.

Echoes of these smashes, the shrill chatter of hitters, rang through the hollow park in tune to the manner of the carpenter. The workers came to work each round, they like the Yankees.

With William Dineen and Roy van Graffan, American league umpires, handling the series, the chief of them brings him into the world for the sixteenth time.

CUBS CUB EAST

ABOARD CUB SPECIAL, PORT WAIN, Ind., Sept. 26.—(Herald)—The Chicago Cubs today left for the opening game of the series, the Yankees.

As big "Red" Tuffing, the people's choice to face Guy Bush of the Cubs in the opening game, joined left-handed slugger, Danny Rayburn and Charley Fife pushing for the Yankees, the big and little slugger, there was a good time, rattled fences with line drives.

Helen Hicks Loses In Golf Contest

Peabody, Mass., Sept. 26.—(Herald)—The qualifying round, which has attracted many of the best country today was too tough for Helen Hicks, the 21-year-old Long Island girl who won the 1931 title.

Watched down by her opponent, she suffered the first attack of nerves in her competitive career when she started to play the final round. Her first drive was a poor one and she was unable to get on the green.

Another failure made history for women's national golf, as she became the first defending champion in 35 tournaments to falter during the opening round.

ATTENTION! BASEBALL FANS

World series baseball news will be in the New York Times and the Chicago Tribune for the diamond classic of 1932.

Two fighting teams are really awaiting the fight, "Play Ball!" The club, which wasn't rated to win when the season started, have showed some very obvious "fighting" spirit.

It looks like a close, keenly contested, clearly played series, featuring two of the most brilliant players of modern diamond talent—Mickey Vernon, St. Louis, and Babe Ruth, New York.

Max Baer Smiles While Trouncing 'Tuffy' Griffiths

Californian Registers Technical Knockout in Eleventh Straight Victory And Twenty-Eight Kayo

By CHARLES DUNKLEY (Associated Press Writer) CHICAGO STADIUM, CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—Max Baer roaring along in the general direction of the heavy, the eighth round of the fight with the courageous "Tuffy" Griffiths, Sioux City, Iowa, younger, in the seventh round of his scheduled 15-round battle in the Chicago stadium tonight, winning on a technical knockout in the eleventh round.

It was Baer's eleventh technical victory and his twenty-eighth knockout in 44 boxing fights. Baer, recent surprise conqueror of Ernie Schaaf, appeared to outclass the same battler from Iowa from the start of his fight with Griffiths.

With the start of the seventh, Baer again took Griffiths with a furious attack to the head and body. One punch sent Griffiths reeling to the ropes, and he came bounding back, attempting to sidestep into the open. Baer had him again.

When the battle was ended, Griffiths burst into tears and begged to be allowed to continue. He was all but unconscious.

For Reaction Stock to Govern on Stock Market

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

New York, Sept. 26 (AP)—Stock market weak; pivotal issues meet little support.

Bonds: Easy; rails react, currency; voters dip in gold trading.

Foreign exchanges: Easy; sterling higher; other cables; trade buying.

Sugar: Barely steady; uncertainty over Cuban segregation policy.

Coffee: Irregular; generally lower on commolation house liquidation.

CHICAGO: Wheat: Steady; continued export demand; bullish crop advices.

Corn: Barely steady; some liquidation September; increased visible stock.

Cattle: Steady to lower.

Hogs: Blow and steady to lower.

(Associated Press Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Stocks here were in a quiet market today, closing with numerous losses of 1 to 2 points. Bonds also had an easy appearance but final quotations were not available.

Profit-taking and some selling, combined with an absence of speculative interest on the long side, seemed to have governed the market.

Little in the news had much direct bearing on Wall Street.

Reaction of a point or two in the first half hour carried some conviction and were duplicated before noon. From then on until the close activity was mostly downward. Activity quickened in the last hour, but a late flurry of covering brought figures to the close.

Peas: Steady; standard 5 1/2 to 6 1/2; extra choice 6 1/2 to 7.

TREND ON MARKET FOR GRAIN VARIES

By JOHN P. BOUGHAN

(Associated Press Market Editor)

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—In a significant market that duplicated the action of securities, wheat prices today ruled alternately strong and weak.

The end was conclusive, almost exactly as Saturday's closing level. Reports that a way would be found to sell another big amount of wheat to China were largely offset by the fact that the market had definite details and by announcements of increased visible supplies both in Canada and the United States.

MEETING REJECTS SCRAP SYSTEM OF EMPLOYING LABOR Committee on Charity Situation Recommends Retention of Plan in Use in Twin Falls Last Winter

Recommendation that the work of handling charity in Twin Falls this winter be carried out along the same line as last year and by the same organization, with cooperation of a board of directors, was adopted unanimously by the committee which was appointed at a public meeting in the Parish hall last Thursday night.

This recommendation, which will be reported Thursday night to the adjourned public meeting in the Parish hall, was the result of the meeting of the Twin Falls Associated Charities organization, called for the same time, last Wednesday night.

Final action was preceded by a long discussion in which the scrap plan was rejected, and which the majority voted to approve and which was finally dropped without discussion.

Among the suggestions favorably discussed was that a systematic effort be made to obtain quantities of as much farm products as possible, with a view of storing them, and, in some cases, of distributing them for fuel with charity organizations in coal mining districts.

JURY GETS STORIES OF MIDNIGHT CLASH

Charles Rogers Meets Charge of Unprovoked Attack with Window Peeping Claims

The story of a midnight encounter on a road southeast of Boise, and two possible explanations of the incident, were laid before a jury in testimony by a dozen witnesses at trial in the district court here yesterday in the case of Charles Rogers.

Charges Window Peeking

Rogers said the altercation occurred after Claassen peered into a window at his residence. This statement was corroborated in his, Rogers' testimony.

BLOOD BANDIT RAIDS DEPARTMENT STORE

Armed Robber Takes $200 From Cashier at J. C. Penney Establishment

A blond-haired man with a pistol entered the cashier's cage on the balcony at the rear of the J. C. Penney company store here Monday afternoon, called upon the young woman cashier to turn over all the currency on hand, and got away with approximately $200.

Several customers on the balcony saw the man enter the cashier's cage and a little later saw him leave, but there was nothing in his conduct as far as they could observe, to arouse suspicion, and no one saw him enter the building.

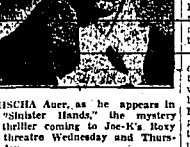

The cashier, Mrs. Violet Hufnagle, said the robber was a man of average height and weight, between 30 and 35 years old, that he was "very blond," with sandy eyebrows and blue eyes, and that his nose was crooked. He wore blue overalls and jumper and a light colored hat.

He did not mask his face. Investigating officers learned that a man whose description corresponded to that of the robber and a swarthy man companion went to the Penney store early yesterday morning where they purchased leather-faced gloves. Both wore blue overalls and jumpers.

With his family, he came to Twin Falls from Loveland, Colorado, in 1904, and during the summer of that year he built two houses here with material that he hauled from the railroad at Shoshone.
