

TWIN FALLS CITY COUNCIL STUDIES FINANCIAL TRENDS

Guardians of Municipal Affairs Decline for Time At Least, Further to Slash Wages and Salaries

Twin Falls city council took a long view of the city's financial situation, a special meeting last night around its agenda, so that, for the moment, at least, it would not be forced to take any drastic action to slash wages and salaries.

The city is in better shape financially than it was a year ago, O. M. Hall, city clerk, reported, and Charles W. Dewey, city attorney, remarked that it was "unlikely that the city will ever approximate a budget surplus as it has in the past."

Commissioner observed that a $100,000 appropriation for certain sections delivered to the city treasurer yesterday, "I've never seen a deposit guarantee law, and that the city's money order and bank's letters as a special deposit."

The city clerk submitted a statistical study showing 57.5 per cent collection of current taxes, as compared with 54.8 per cent collection of taxes for the corresponding period last year. He submitted also records of water service collections for several years, and ranging this year from a $4,125 loss in January to a $2,000 gain in August.

On the other hand, J. A. Chapman, tax collector, reported a "rough" year for the city's revenue and expenditures for the balance of the year, "during the collection that revenue would fall short by $209 of meeting $47,000 requirement for the remainder of the year, and suggesting reductions in expense totaling $4,800. He proposed to take $700 from the waterworks department, $500 each from administration and sewer departments, $400 each from police and fire departments and $200 from the city building department. He estimated a per cent tax delinquency reducing the city's tax yield to $2,100; figured water revenue to be $1,200 less than monthly at $300 per month and positive cost lines and other revenues at $100.

It deducted from $37,533.88 cash on hand, $15,000 to cover tax delinquency, $1,200 to cover $1,500 delinquent due in June, and $1,500 collected water charges and interest.

The finance commissioner did not press his views, but requested the clerk to make a study for possible future reference.

A wage reduction proposition was not presented, and Commissioner Thomsen, representative of the city's employees, asserted again some reduction should be made in public employees' wages. "We have neglected necessary work in order to save," he said, "it seems to me possible for immediate improvement, this situation would be no bad."

T. J. Douglas, commissioner of public grounds, remarked that "any wage earner who is getting $100 a month may be better off than any farmer or business man."

Subject Dismissed
The subject was dismissed with instructions to the city clerk to investigate the records and prepare a report showing the rise and fall of salaries and wages paid to city officials since 1931. Salaries of city officials, executive members, were reported to be the same beginning of the fiscal year last spring, and the wage scale was reduced from $5 to $4 cents an hour.

The report which the city clerk submitted last evening in respect to the collection, about 100,000 copies had been collected last November and December $56,460 or 57.6 per cent of the city's $100,000 total tax, and that during the corresponding period of 1937 there was collected $41,263 or 54.8 per cent of the city's $100,000 total 1937 tax, and that during the corresponding period of 1936 there was collected $38,795 or 49.4 per cent of the city's $100,000 total 1936 tax, and that during three months in 1938 there was collected $48,000 or 48 per cent of the city's total $100,000 total 1938 tax.

During January, 1932, the clerk's figures showed there was collected $20,710, or 20.7 per cent of the city's 1932 tax, while during January, 1931, there was collected 23 per cent of the city's 1931 tax.

At a recent action, council last evening authorized Mayor R. E. Dooler to address to members of the congressional delegation a statement that Twin Falls urgently recommends adoption of a measure now pending in congress which would remove limitations that now prevent expenditure of federal aid on road and street construction, where the street is a part of a federal highway. The mayor brought the subject to the council's attention with a letter from the American Municipalities Association, and on his own account recommended expenditure in furtherance of the proposed law.

It should get federal road building to cooperate in building and maintaining streets used as highways, and to get the federal out of the streets," Commissioner Chapman suggested.

small and considerable damage to the system.
Walter Burkhardt reported that a greater percentage of water could be delivered at the farmer's head-pieces if there were no winter water. From headpieces and to dams prevent the ready flow of water when it is first needed, Mr. Burkhardt pointed out.

Need Cisterns or Wells
Shutting off the water during the winter would necessitate either wells or large cisterns at each farm. Mr. Dunn, Bill, reported favorably on the cistern plan, saying that he had built one on his own farm which would be ample for his needs through the winter. Mr. Dunn stated a "hundreds more by his association" that his cistern had not yet cost him a cent, but that he still owed $16 for cement that he had used.

Mr. Shepherd turned off a survey was not going to be the case. The flow of the Snake river, by which the flow of the river, and consequently the amount of water available, is the estimate of measure of snow at certain "key points" indicates the flow, which will be greater than usual this year.

A report on the reservoirs January 5, given by Secretary-Treasurer W. A. Molar, Jerome, was that the reservoirs now a nearly equal to that usually reached in June or July, amounting about 75 per cent of the season.

IT MIGHT BE WORSE
Farm conditions in the Twin Falls country are far from good, yet it is a question if they are not better here than in a good many places.
W. G. Thompson, assistant postmaster in Twin Falls, recently received a letter from a friend in Lincoln, Nebraska, which contains the following paragraph:
'I am yet unable to understand how you can raise all the crops as listed in your crop production report on one so small a tract of land. I would like to produce that quantity of wheat in this country, high as 80 bushels. Our corn is a good crop, but not so good this year. I have about 1600 bushels on one place, something like 500 of oats and a little barley. At present prices the entire lot market value is not $250. We have some clover hay which is about to ship to the coast. It is a big job, but you see, Idaho is not any behind in the production. Certain things, prices are running so high, haven't found anyone that is willing to predict the outcome. Our farmers here are about as busy as they can be. There seems to be plenty of evidence in support of the statement so often made that Southern Idaho land is not of equal production to the higher than the rest of the other section of the entire country.
While prices are low and immediate prospects uncertain there is a measure of consolation to be found in the fact that undoubtedly things might be worse, as a matter of fact it is not likely that they will be any worse. The chances are that in this section is now passing through the low point in the present depression and that any change from now on will be in the nature of an improvement.

Things look different in Cold-Black Type
"HEAR," said the friend, "that you have just made $50,000 in the insurance business."
"Right—except for one or two slight particulars. It was real estate—not insurance. It was $75,000, not $50,000. And I didn't make it—I lost it!"
Has it ever happened to you that something you've told an acquaintance comes back after many days, so distorted that you hardly recognize it? The spoken word so changes and colors much that we say, that by the time it passes many lips only the skeleton of truth remains.
But how different it is with the printed word! That is why you can trust the advertisements. Had you thought of it that way? Because the manufacturer and merchant are compelled to be accurate in type, you know that the quality of soap, ginger ale, clothing, butter or furniture you buy is as standardized as the calendar. It's all the manufacturer and retailer claim for it. It has to be!
Read the advertisements. Read them carefully, critically. Read them for profit. Read them knowing that the truth pays... you and the advertiser!

BOARD SQUEEZES TENTATIVE BUDGET TO INCOME LIMITS

Twin Falls County Commissioners Cut $24,788 from Proposed Appropriations For Two Operating Funds

Twin Falls county commissioners yesterday completed their seven-day labor of squeezing 1938 budgets for current operating and general and poor funds within the limits of income available from maximum tax levies on anticipated revenues from other than tax sources.

By dint of sweating and hacking and hatching, a $24,788 proposed 1938 budget total for these two funds has been reduced by $24,788 to $222,747, which now becomes the commissioners' tentative budget total for the two funds.

This tentative budget is to be submitted at a five-day public hearing beginning next February 12, and thereafter the commissioners are to adopt a final budget, or appropriations, which will be in effect for the year.
