CHILDREN REGISTER AT CAMP IN BULL

Churches of West End City And Clover Contribute to Food Supplies for Summer

BULL, July 4 (Special to The News)—Bull health camp opening with 35 children registering from Twin Falls county, four from Lincoln county, two from Gooding, three from Blaine, and two from Jerome county, Monday afternoon. July Scouts did their good turn by motoring out to the Plank Thatcher farm where they flung 40 straw beds for the camp beds. The women of the committee were checking up supplies and taking inventory Monday, and also put new oil stoves in the kitchen. The members of the committee are Mesdames A. J. Finke, J. C. Hamilton, Frank Thatcher, O. W. Schmidt, C. W. Burley, William Vogt, A. J. Jacobs, E. Marlen, J. F. Carr, G. L. Thompson, W. O. Burnett, H. Hutchins, C. O. Robinson, Hal Cunningham, N. L. Larson, C. O. Smithson, Rose J. Wilson, and Mrs. Florence Allen. The committee will meet regularly each Monday during the camp session, and such meetings are open to any person interested.

The camp supplies were put up and the play ground placed in order. Mrs. J. C. Hamilton will photograph the children on Thursday. A picnic will be held on Friday for each one and they will be photographed again at the close. Through the picnic program, the children are to be given a good time each day. They have been selected for camp children. There is a larger number of seriously underweight children this year than in the past. It is thought that the camp is needed more this year than in the past. The registration of children will not be in the hands of the committee until Wednesday evening.

This year each church of Bull is represented on the committee and is expected to contribute the perishable foods for the camp for one week. The schedule would be as follows: First week, July 1-7; Methodist; second week, July 12-18; Catholic; third week, July 19-25; Baptist; fourth week, July 26-August 1; Nazarene; fifth week, August 2-Lutheran; sixth week, August 9-16; Christian; seventh week, August 16-23; Trinity Lutheran; eighth week, August 23-30; Presbyterian.

TURNER SHATTERS SPEED RECORDS IN THREE MAIN EVENTS

In each prize, in addition to trophies, he won $500 in the cross-country race, $125 in the automobile race, and $175 in the 100-mile event. The victory of the 48-year-old Chittenden in the 100-mile race was achieved after a spectacular fight through the first five of the 10 laps against Jimmie Wedell, Steve Orleans pilot-designer, who placed second and won $175. British flier Paul Turner, who took the lead in the 100-mile race, was a colorful crowd including many celebrities, among them Mary Pickford, the film star, who was guest of honor.

Gebhardt Third Third place in the 100-mile event went to Lee Gebhardt, Detroit, and he led $1125 in cash. The victory of these three pilots constituted a singular triumph for Wedell, who built all three of the leading ships. Turner's plane, however, equipped with a Wasp junior motor, developed some 850-horsepower, while Wedell and Gebhardt flew Wasp Junior engines rated at 825-horsepower each. All three were low-wing monoplane.

Wedell, with Turner, the only one to finish the transcontinental dash, the other entrants having been forced out by misfortune, including a crash which took the life of Russell Boardman, transatlantic pilot, at Indianapolis, Jan. 20, 1933. Turner, who is his flight from New York.

At Turner's exit out of his cockpit in front of the grandstand after his last victory, he paid tribute to Wedell as "the greatest in the history of the world, whose thought and courage have saved my life."

Speaking with the speed of the man was the triumph of Mrs. Mae Hulsin, St. Louis, in the previous record course for women, a 30-mile contest in which she walked away from the field, flying a course at 18.818 miles an hour to win a first prize of $1150.

The women's contest saw Mrs. Hulsin's job of the world record of 232 miles an hour set at the races in Cleveland last year, take the lead at the start and the Turner, once out in front of her was never headed.

Boeing went to Mrs. Marie Bowman, Los Angeles, third to the Grand Canyon, O'Connell, Los Angeles, California, and fourth to Harriet Sumner, also of Los Angeles.

Although the program of the races was scheduled to close today, one more event for women will be run off tomorrow, the three-mile dash over a straightaway course for a woman's speed record in Mrs. Hulsin's possession.

At the 100-mile race, estimated 100,000 spectators saw the closing day of the program proper, the first number of the grandstand and the most more hurried around the municipal airport and on the surrounding hills.

Among the air arrivals at the meet was Ruth Nichols, New York flier.

GERMANY USES CUPID AS JOB AGENT MAKES LOANS TO BRIDAL COUPLES

Cabinet of Adolf Hitler Resorts to Unique Way To Relieve Unemployment

BERLIN, July 4 (Special to The News)—The cabinet of Adolf Hitler, for a two-fold purpose of boosting the falling marriage rate and as a step toward relieving unemployment, has offered government loans to couples desiring to marry.

Those who wish to wed but cannot find a home all covered with 100- and mortgage will be given treasury checks for $250.

Brides Must Quilt Jobs

The checks will be accepted by household concerns and supporters of the plan in the form of furniture, clothing, hardware and kindred trades which would put several thousand men back to work.

Then to help unemployed provide job, the loan conditions provide that the bride must have been employed regularly for six months, that she must give up her job and abstain from casual work so long as her husband earns 125 marks (about $35 a month).

Further, to encourage the hiring of housemaids, the employment of whom has dropped 30 per cent in 8 years, the government decreed that three per cent made in the house must be calculated as minor children for income tax purposes. The necessity of paying unemployment insurance for maids also was ruled out, thus reducing the householders' expense for maids about one-third.

These measures are expected to reduce the number of women who are unemployed, supported by the state in work camps.

The finance ministry was flooded with applications when the plan of giving unemployment insurance to maids was announced. Fritz Reinhardt, of the ministry, expects 150,000 couples to avail themselves of the grants.

The money must be repaid in monthly installments of about one per cent. Funds to carry on the plan will be provided by a tax on tobacco, cigars and ministers.

Dr. Eva Wendhoff, social scientist, says a moral aspect to the scheme. She found the marriage rate averaged 4 for each 1000 inhabitants in 1928, 15.5 in 1929, 16.5 in 1930, 16.5 in 1931, 16.5 in 1932, and 16.5 in 1933.

them, we believe they will not be serious. We are now probably well on the way to one of the greatest periods of business prosperity in the whole business history of the country."

Chambers of Commerce, boards of trade and similar business organizations collaborated in completing the survey. Statistics, graphs and charts were produced to substantiate the assertion there were decisive gains in May and June.

Reports of increased carloadings and material improvement for railroads and other forms of transportation were received. Several cities cited reopening of railroad shops and the return of large number of employers to their jobs of replacing railroad equipment.

Few isolated sections were slow gains reported.

Reports incomplete

Although reports from the Far West were incomplete, the board said indications were that industrial activity all along the Pacific coast was greatly increased. Some sections of South Dakota and Kansas reported wheat crops ruined by late weather, but other crops prospered. Major said economic changes during the months of March, April, May and June were of "colossal proportions."

One who was forced out of the Grand Canyon, O'Connell, Los Angeles, California, and fourth to Harriet Sumner, also of Los Angeles.

My reason for liking Luckies is strictly personal

After all—since I smoke quite a number of cigarettes each day—don't you think it's just as well that I don't in the right direction? Perhaps you'd call my reason for liking "Tossing" the assurance of purity it gives me—for Luckies come in rather close personal contact with me, you know—just knowing that each puff of Lucky makes it draw in is pure—it smokes the pleasure of fragrant tobacco that's much greater. Certainly, purity never hurt anyone! And besides—"Luckies Please!"

THE NEW FORD V8 has a STRADDLE-MOUNTED REAR AXLE PINION

A new feature of the new V-8 Ford is the straddle-mounted rear axle pinion which insures quiet operation and long life... This construction places a roller bearing on the shaft at the rear of the pinion rather than projecting it unsupported from the forward, double-taper roller bearing. Having bearings at both ends, the pinion shaft is held in perfect alignment with the ring gear even under the most severe driving conditions... The Ford rear axle is of the 3/4 floating type, with the car weight carried by the axle housing rather than by the axle shafts.

IMPROVEMENT ON BROAD SCALE IN 1933 TAKES PLACE

Most Lines of Business Enter Last Half of Year in Much Stronger Position Than in Recent Times

By J. R. BRACKETT (Associated Press Business Columnist) NEW YORK, July 4—Business from property level, most lines of business enter the last half of the year in much stronger position than from the statistical standpoint of the last few months.

Public Utilities—Despite a slight decline in rate of production of the nation, increased rates of power seemed likely to improve earnings. Especially noteworthy is the fact that the increase in electric output has been in wholesale quantities, indicating increased industrial activity.

Automotive—New car registrations in May, 1933, in the United States were 105,458, a gain of 10 percent over registration in May, 1932.

Building and Construction—Annual gain in private building, as distinguished from public construction, indicates a private building boom to a point in the right, forming a somewhat unexpected addition to the federal program.

Unemployment—Unemployment figures formed the largest backlog in monthly news since May, 1932, with 12,000,000 unemployed in May 1933, a 20 percent increase over the same date in 1932.

Steel—Steel operations were running at 50 percent of capacity, and unfinished orders were increasing. Monthly was a rise in mill production of 10 percent.

Textiles—Activity in the textile industry in May approximated 1932, with preliminary figures showing a rise in mill production last year.

Hides and Leathers—Prices for hides and leathers advanced in most lines. Some production for May and June is expected to show gains over last year.

Rubber—Wholesale quotations for the first half of the year were under the same period last year.

Retail Trade—Dollar value of department store sales increased more than seasonally in May, a department store manager says.

Employment—The number of persons manufacturing industries increased 6 percent in May over April, but is still under 1922, though it may be about 1922 level.

Highest Grade Categories Display Sound, If Not Buoyant Progress in 1933

By VICTOR LUKANIC (Associated Press Financial Writer) NEW YORK, July 4—Bonds generally failed to continue their upward advance in the first half of 1933 and the improvement in trade apparently is not so important a factor in the substantial upturn of senior security issues.

While it is true that many of the most speculative railroad and utility issues were inclined to show improvement, the general market with inflation as a part of the motivating power, the highest grade categories had not noticeably been affected by dollar depreciation because of their low yield base displayed sound, if not buoyant, gain.

Average at 6 1/2 At the beginning of the year the Associated Press Standard Station Average for government securities stood at 6 1/2, against 7 1/2 at the start of 1932, and 9 1/2 at the start of 1931. This average had advanced to 7 1/2.

Ready Gains Steady gains in steel production, electric power output and retail trade have been the chief factors in most bondholders, the implication being that the tremendous powers of recovery have been realized. However, by congress would not hold off business continued to hold the rate of interest in the employment of millions of the job because an established fact.

United States government securities held to a firm level as the federal reserve system began its operations. The rate of interest at 2 1/2 to 3 percent.

Foreign bonds as a whole, did not show any marked improvement in value, largely to European economic and political complications.

SYNOPSIS: While the guests of her husband and step-father in a Great London hotel, George Bernard Shaw meets Bernice Boyd, the film actress who is interested in him because she knows Bernice's husband, Nicholas, and because he has given her a little more than a kiss.

Chapter 30
WORD FROM GEORGE
It was a day or two following her meeting with Bernice Boyd that George ran into Nelly Foster.

"It was a cold East Wind blowing from the north, and the collar of her cheap coat held closely about her chin, and her nose was red."

"Nelly—don't you remember me?"
It was only a few weeks since they had met, but so much had happened that it seemed as if years must have passed since she had taken tea in Nelly's crowded little room.

"I thought perhaps you didn't want to speak," Nelly said, and she looked at George with a questioning look.

"Am I?" George glanced down at her clothes; she appeared with faint satisfaction that they were rather nice.

Nelly said deprecatingly, "I thought you'd done with me, putting me off all right as you did, and then not writing."

"Such a lot of things had happened," George said, "I'll tell you all about it. Come and have some coffee."

"They were outside an expensive looking boat and she asked George had turned towards the door, before Nelly said quickly:

"Not in three, thank you. I'm not dressed for pleasure like that."

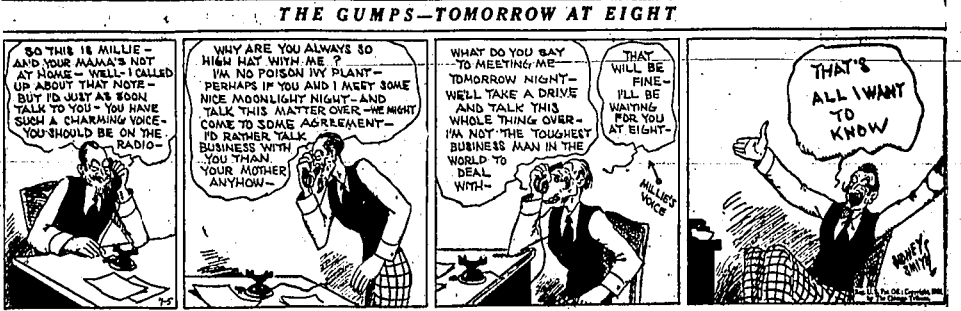

George left without; but recently she would not have dared to enter such a shop here. She thought it was a wonderful coincidence that she had been so quickly and graciously excused.

"Well, trust another, then," she said.
Nelly went with her sister, her eyes lit with a gleam of mischief, and as soon as they were seated at one of the marble topped tables she looked at George and said:

"Oh, do you like it?"
"Quite alright," "Sometimes I do, and sometimes I don't. I suppose people always want the things they can't have."

"I shouldn't have thought there was much you couldn't have," Nelly said shortly. She was feeling a little sorry she had dealt her many unkind knocks, but somehow she had expected George to be different from other people, and she felt only she was just the same.

George seemed to nod her thoughts for the said with quiet expression. "The never forgotten, but you don't think that. But it's been so difficult to do as I want to do."

PORCUPINE CAMP HOISTS COLORS ON NATION'S BIRTHDAY

Youths at Civilian Conserva- tion Corps Forest Out- post Observe Independ- ence Day with Ceremonial

Two hundred young men of the civilian conservation corps camp at Porcupine Springs in the Middlefork National Forest, 33 miles southeast of Twin Falls, stood in two long lines at 6 o'clock yesterday morning while one of the ensigns was hoisted at the camp site. "America" and "The Colors" and two other members of the corps sang a piece that had been written by the American Legion to the top of a 45-foot pole lately set up on the site of the former Porcupine Camp site. Off to the rear detonations of four exploding dynamite caps were set off.

WILSON S. BECKER DIES DURING SLEEP

Aged Resident of Twin Falls For Quarter of Century Passes Away at Home

Dr. Wilson S. Becker, 72, died at his home northwest of this city yesterday morning about 2 o'clock after illness of several years with chronic heart trouble.

Dr. Becker was a veterinarian but had not practiced medicine for many years, spending most of his time quietly at the country home where he died. Born August 27, 1860, he had been a resident of this section since 1908, he was a member of St. Edward's Catholic church.

Native of Pennsylvania—Dr. Becker was a native of Clarion county, Pennsylvania, where he received his early education and later built up an extensive practice after graduating from the Ontario Veterinary college, Toronto, Canada, and a short while afterward from the Pennsylvania Veterinary Dental college, Toronto. His health began to give way a quarter of a century ago and he moved to Twin Falls where he lived until his death.

Although handicapped by poor health, Dr. Becker won recognition in his profession here. For a time he was deputy state veterinarian and also served as president of the state board of veterinary medical examiners. He was an active member from participation in all public affairs. His interests in his work were thirty-second degree Mason retained active until 1924.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Anna G. Becker, a daughter, Mrs. A. T. Anderson, Twin Falls, and a son, W. G. Becker, Twin Falls, and a son-in-law, W. G. Becker, Twin Falls.

The body rests at the Twin Falls mortuary, where funeral arrangements will be announced today.

Funeral services for the late Dr. Wilson S. Becker will be held at 10 o'clock this morning at the Twin Falls mortuary. Officiating will be Rev. G. W. Farnham, pastor of the Episcopal church.

The body rests at the Twin Falls mortuary, where funeral arrangements will be announced today.

Captain C. C. Hutchinson, camp

commandant, introduced the speaker, and conducted him on a tour of the camp, showing out improvement that has been made since the camp was moved a few days ago from its former site in the Dolse National Forest, at the Porcupine Springs site. A flagpole has been erected at the camp site. Burial grounds are quartered in a number of large tents, with military different tents at one side, and those of the forest ranger supervisors at the other. A refrigerator house has been constructed over the camp spring that affords the camp water supply; a bath house, making only a water-holding device has been built, and substantial progress has been made in construction of a new mess hall.

The Twin Falls man was the camp's guest at dinner, the menu including roast neck, beef and potatoes, cheese, pie and coffee.

The most remarked the appetizing fare, and the excellent quality of the food, and was impressed also by the evident happiness of the young men in the forest camp. Of the camp, he said, "It is a fine camp, and I hope to see it again soon from New York and New Jersey." Only was there something in the camp, Major Hunsford said, "I hope to see it again soon from New York and New Jersey."

BOYS DISCUSS AVIATION CLUB AND BALL LEAGUE

An aviation club and a baseball league will be formed by older boys attending city parks this week if sufficient interest is shown. Miss Margaret Anderson, play supervisor, said last night.

All boys of junior high school age who would like to play on one of the proposed baseball teams are asked to meet with Roy Gray and Harold Baxter at the Porcupine high school high school athletic field to discuss the organization. As many as 100 or 200 boys can be used and 15 teams would not be too many, Gray said last night.

The enthusiasm and bulging of interest would be the principal activity of a proposed aviation club, with additional interest in the proposed club proposed.

After a two-day layoff, regular activities in the city park will be resumed today with games and a story hour in the forenoon and club and orchestra activities in the afternoon. Harmon park, Miss Anderson said last night.
