In existence is a better way to increase public revenues than piling on additional taxes at this time. Dutch officials are clever.

THRIVING DEPRESSION-BUSINESS

Two business men show no ill effects of the depression, so far as volume is concerned. One of these is, of course, the school system where more children are attending regularly year by year to the consternation and dismay of those who believe the world is going to the bows-down because of "race suicide."

The other and more remarkable influence of depression may be found in the statistics of any well-conducted public library. Perhaps because they lack funds for gasoline, shows, and other forms of amusement, people turn to books and reading. At any rate, the figures from the Caldwell library are accepted as evidence the depression has given stimuli to the old family habit of staying home with a good book.

Now is there evidence that this new-found interest in books is declining. April of this year saw more books in circulation than the corresponding month of 1933. In fact, it set a new all-time high for April book borrowings here.

As may be expected, the interest in the newer volumes on economic subjects has not abated. It began with Stuart Chase's "The New Deal" long before Franklin Roosevelt knew he was even going to be the Democratic nominee for the presidency of the United States and has continued unabated until this day. The appetite of Americans for economic facts and theories seems to be quite beyond satiation.

There is no fence. Those who had hoped the political earthquake of 1932 might accomplish a realignment of political parties... The picture which the present forecasts is that the old two-party system will be continued but with little to distinguish either party from the other except its vote-getting strength.

Although most of the original public works appropriations has been allotted it will be August before the peak of expenditure is reached. Signs of a change in the attitude of Congress... The best investment PWA has made from a standpoint of putting men in jobs was the $200,000,000 loaned the railroads.

SHUFFLE. Relief Administrator Hopkins took a sizable wad of money and put 4,000,000 men to work this past winter. Critics pulled the rug out from under him... The picture which the present forecasts is that the old two-party system will be continued but with little to distinguish either party from the other except its vote-getting strength.

It is all this confounding to the voters. They cannot go to the polls with a conviction of being liberal or conservative and cast their ballots for their principles of government. They can choose only between two men as they have expressed their liberal or conservative beliefs.

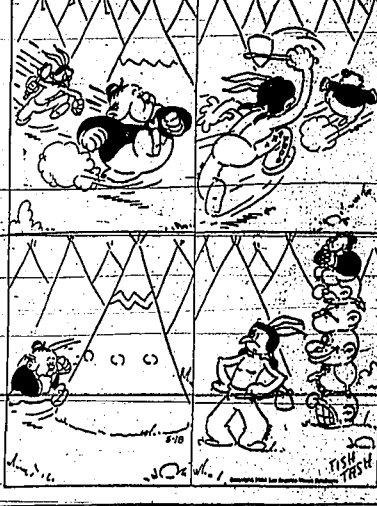

It was a raw, bumpy night and Union Street was pretty well deserted. Whatever hope, then, the editorials had been stirring by the pavement had died.

PEACE, PEACE! Mrs. W. who should drop that habit of saying "By Jesus! What do you know about love, Mr. W.?"

A New Yorker at Large

NEW YORK.—There is the Fashion Town, and they wear funny hats. They are the select circle of the town who have the power to dictate the latest fashions, but some of them, themselves, affect more conservative, if not a strict degree.

Many members of the charmed Fashion Group appear in the abode of style beyond compare. All the fashions are worn, tall and flat, and flat—probably as a definition—others really work at the look of their dress, and if particularly offering of a designer.

Along comes the bustle effect popularized by the 1924 corset. The designers take a "off with his head," they shout. And no woman... well, practically none... wears a bustle this year.

the gold ring

Yes, ladies, you have a chance to catch the gold ring when you ride to the merry-go-round. But the percentage is not in your favor. After the thrilling ride is over you may only have a nice lot of black iron rings that can't be cashed in for another ride. And although you have a chance of picking up something specially good as you go round and round, the counter-of-bargain-coffees, you'd better count on it. It may be fun to save a few pennies per pound but you'll be out all you save in what you lose in flavor and strength. Play safe—buy Hills Bros. Coffee. It gives you more flavor and strength in every cup than any "bargain counter" coffee you could "ring." And after all, isn't that the way you drink coffee—by the cup rather than by the pound?
