WORKMEN TAKE UP TASK OF CLEARING STOCKYARDS RUINS

Chicago Packing Companies' Plants Function as Usual While Fire-Ravaged Area Teems With Activity

Chicago, May 21 - The stock yards teemed with unprecedented activity today as reconstruction of the fire-ravaged area and the handling of an almost normal volume of livestock shipments continued apace.

A wooden village of hastily erected barracks and sheds mushroomed up amid the ruins of the stock yards today. Many commission men and executives directed their trade from crates and boxes in the makeshift structure.

Receipts of 26,000 hogs, 12,000 cattle and 5,000 sheep fell little short of average today. The yards were accommodated without great difficulty for only 40 per cent of the corrals were demolished and the shop sheds and hog alters were untouched.

The huge plants of the major packing companies, which were usual as none were scathed by the flames which roared across a wide-spread section of the yards a few rods to the east.

A check of the loss lowered original estimates of the damage to approximately $3,500,000 and officials said that about 75 per cent of the loss was covered by insurance.

The body of Isaac Means, 60-year-old man, was found in a ditch from where he had discovered the first flames Saturday. He had slouched the alarm to fellow workers nearby and then was struck by a wind-whipped fire caught up with him before he could squirm out of the flames.

Two thousand workmen took up the task of clearing the debris and packing up the remains of the stock animals were unloaded at the docks with little hardship. Trucks crisscrossed in their cargoes and made

Constance Talmadge Tells Of Juggled Bank Records

NEW YORK, May 21 (AP) - Constance Talmadge, movie star, made a seven-minute appearance as a government witness today in the trial of Joseph W. Hartman on a charge of falsifying the books of the "Black-Burrhead" National Bank.

A "deep audience" in federal court sat up with interest as she appeared striking figure in black and white, with very blonde hair and very red lips. With her were her maid and Kathryn Carver, former wife of Adolph Menjou also attired in black, white, and a blonde.

Walking to the witness chair as calmly as though she were making her entrance in a play, Miss Talmadge told the jury that she knew Constance Talmadge Netcher, and her address as Santa Monica, Calif. She said her account in the bank was joint one in the name of herself and her mother - was "close to $100,000" and was little used.

For her court appearance, Miss Talmadge wore a black silk ensemble, with swaggar coat, and a striking white silk blouse of Russian appearance that buttoned up the neck with big black buttons.

Recovery Chief Leaps To NRA Defense With Broadside At Critics

WASHINGTON, May 21 - Hugh S. Johnson national recovery administrator tonight blamed the raging controversy over monopolistic trends in NRA upon Clarence Darrow's "comp. failures" rather than on the famed attorney and his review board, which had scathingly criticized the recovery agency.

"I collaborated in forming this board because I thought they would pull out specific examples of what was correct," he said. "Mr. Darrow assured me that this was exactly his idea, if we had had Clarence Darrow and the original review board to deal with, we would have been a lot better off."

WATER DISPUTE IN UTAH ENDS FATAALLY

Simon Barendsen Shoots Joseph Shepherd, Then Turns Gun on Self

SALT LAKE CITY, May 21 (AP) - The death of two men ended a water dispute today in Utah when Simon Barendsen, 65, a watermaster, fatally shot Joseph Shepherd, 54, a watermaster, police stated, and then killed himself.

The position of the bodies, officials declared, indicated the men had scuffled; that Barendsen fired a bullet into his neighbor's abdomen; had walked to Shepherd's side and then, while his victim died, fired a bullet into his own head.

Neighbors of the two men, who resided at the edge of the Salt Lake City municipal limits, said they had quarreled for more than a year, but that recently the dispute had become more heated.

Barendsen, they said, claimed he was not resolving his share of water and had threatened to seek relief in court.

Police said the shooting, which was witnessed by a neighbor, was the result of a dispute over water rights.

IDAHO FALLS MAN OUT FOR GOVERNOR

J. Wesley Holden Announces Candidacy for Republican Nomination

BOISE, May 21 (AP)—J. Wesley Holden of Idaho Falls, county agent for Bonneville county, today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for governor, subject to the primary in August.

Holden, who in 1930 ran unsuccessfully for the Republican nomination for United States senator, said in his statement:

"I will support and advocate the earliest and best historical and traditional policies and principles of Abraham Lincoln, giving where necessary or proper, a new application of these principles without discarding our national constitution, in fact, by giving force to the letter and spirit of that constitution."

"I favor retention of the American system after cutting away the rank abuses that have grown up under it and which are the true cause of our present depression. I prefer particularly to the money, banking and credit situation."

"I shall continue to espouse the principles in which I believe, and to encourage the reasonable and just demands and programs of labor, service men, and the general public; will oppose a general sales tax, favor lessening the burden on small incomes under the state income tax law, taking the same and law enforcement departments out of politics and placing them under civil service rules. I also favor the free and unlimited collapse of silver."

"I am convinced we must divorce our party from the economic and political influences which have dominated it recently in order that it may again become the guarantor of a government of the people, by the people and for the people."

CLOSING CEREMONY HELD AT KIMBERLY

Baccalaureate, Class Day And Commencement End Year for Students

KIMBERLY, May 21—With baccalaureate, class day exercises and commencement the curtain fell at the close of the school year for Kimberly schools.

President H. E. Gilmore of Northwest Nazarene college gave a spirited baccalaureate sermon Sunday evening, taking for his subject, "What Is Man?" Discounting the emphasis on the present tendency to belittle man as of economic insignificance, President Gilmore appealed for a higher basis of evaluating a human being—the spiritual and moral values of man. "I want to think of man, not as what he sprang from according to the evolutionists, but in the light of what he may become. A son of God in his own image—a master of himself and the universe."

The final commencement ceremonies Friday evening at which 44 seniors, the largest number to date, in finish from the local high school, was addressed by State Superintendent John W. Condie of Boise. In an inspirational address, "Don't Die on 'Third,'" Condie emphasized the need of "finishing the run to home plate" if one is to score in life.

J. L. Sheppard, chairman of the local board of education, presented the diplomas.

Superintendent L. A. Thomas announced as graduates deserving special recognition Loren Brun, senior class president; Alex Morzell, high class honors for her four years of high school work; Ada Latham, high honors; and John Hays, honors. Montana Mining Woman Shows Ore From Marysville Mine at Burley

BURLEY, May 21—Mrs. Belle E. Channeil, here on a business visit from Montana, exhibits ore from her mine at Marysville which has been pronounced by mining men from that state as one of the sensational strikes in the Marysville district where many millions in gold ore has been mined in the past. Her mine has uncovered a deposit of high grade ore, picked samples assaying many thousands of dollars to the ton.

For four years Mrs. Channeil has done development work herself, under difficulties, on a ledge between Bald Butte and Drum Lomond and adjoining these producers of immense fortunes in the past. During this time she had been difficult in getting money for development work—she is in a different position now.

Twin Falls Lambs Top Denver Market

Twin Falls county's first lamb pool of the 1934 season topped the market for the week at Denver last Friday selling there at $10.35 for a four-week shipment that brought $918 to 53 Twin Falls county shippers, according to announcement of the Twin Falls county agent and secretary of Twin Falls County Livestock Marketing association. Twin Falls county's first lamb pool of the 1934 season also topped the Denver market he remarked.

This season's first pool was assembled Monday of last week. Shipping expense amounted to 37 cents per 100 pounds and the shrink was only .15 per cent. Two dozen lambs sold for $10; wethers brought $3 to $6 and ewes sold for $2.

The association will today begin sorting for the next lamb pool which is to be shipped early next week.

50 YEARS A MARTYR TO CONSTIPATION

But Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brought Welcome Relief

Read this splendid letter from Mrs. Haynes:

"For 50 years I have been a martyr to constipation. I have tried every remedy under the sun.

"One day I read an account of some one who had been cured by ALL-BRAN, but I thought 'What was the use of me trying anything more when all else had failed?'

"I read it after I read it again. That time I thought I would try it. It did no harm any more.

"I began with a small dish of your ALL-BRAN for breakfast, and wonderful to say, I never need to take any physic at all now. How I wish other poor sufferers from constipation could be presented to you."

—Mrs. Sarah Haynes, 138 Cedarwood Terrace, Rochester, N. Y.

Tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" and vitamin B to aid regular habits. Also from Tom the blood.

This "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. It's so easy on the delicate patient's bowels! Two tablespoons of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. Severe cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

GOVERNMENT SPENDING

On May 7 the United States government passed $6,000,000,000 for expenditures in the fiscal year that will end June 30, and was almost up to the $6,400,000,000 expenditure of 1920, though still far below the $12,000,000,000 total of 1918 and the all-time record of $18,000,000,000 in 1919.

Yet it was still nearly $8,000,000,000 short of the budget estimates for the present fiscal year, offering hope for a good technical showing on June 30. The public was stunned when the original estimate was given out by the White House, but soon reconciled itself to an expenditure of more than $10,000,000,000 on the ground that the depression was equal to a war emergency and there was no use in continuing tight-wire measures.

The President was thought by many, at the time, to have overshot the mark. It was impossible to see how he could spend all that money in the ways provided by the general program. He may have made the figure deliberately high enough to cover any conceivable emergency. At any rate, it is obvious now that the government has not spent the money so fast as the budget plans implied, and probably cannot do so.

There need be no premature rejoicing, however. The current deficit is nearly $3,000,000,000, and whatever else is spent in May and June will add to the deficit. A couple of billions, too, are pledged on the PWA program to be spent later. There are 10,000,000 workers still unemployed, with relief demands today higher than ever, though business still improves. The government will need all its cash and credit.

MORE NATIONAL PARK LAND

The Senate Committee on Public Land has recently approved the purchase by John D. Rockefeller Jr. of forty thousand acres of land to be used for the extension of Teton National Park in Wyoming. The committee also proposes legislation looking to the purchase by the government of additional acreage for this park.

Some citizens of Wyoming at first opposed the extension of the Park area. People living there did not want to give up their homes. Others feared the state would lose considerable tax revenue. It is said, in answer to these objections, that the prices paid for the land have been above the prevailing market rates, and also that the State is likely to get more revenue from the increased number of visitors who will flock to the region than it ever got from taxes.

Development of the Teton Park area, long known as the Jackson Hole country, began in the administration of Theodore Roosevelt. Conservation policies pursued since that time restored the wild bird and animal life; the herd of elk there is the largest in the world.

Interest in national parks has been growing so fast in recent years that it is easier than formerly to win popular support for them. The nation has waked up, and now it is too late, to the fact that it has rare and lovely gifts in its scenic regions, which deserve to be prized and preserved for the enjoyment of all.

THE MOTHER-JI ROR

When women began serving on juries, there was much doubt expressed as to whether they were judicial-minded enough. There is not much of that doubt left. Whatever their feelings may be, their verdicts appear no more sentimental than men's, if indeed as much so. Here is a case in point which occurred just the other day in Medina, Ohio. A woman member of the grand jury was faced with the problem of voting on the indictment of her own son on a burglary charge. She knew when she was subpoenaed for the grand jury that his case might come up, and she might be begged off. She decided that "duty came before mother love." When her son's case was called, she weighed the evidence and then calmly voted, with the other jurors, to indict him. Then, in her capacity as mother, she advised the boy to plead guilty.

And does the boy hold it against her? Not at all. "It was sure nice of mother to serve on a jury that was hearing my case," he says. There must be something to that, son.

DIRT HANDS AND BRAINS!

At bottom, there are just three things on earth—and from them, with them comes all our prosperity, all our civilization, all our progress: Dirt, hands, brains. All wealth comes from the earth; there isn't any other place. Wealth is all produced by hands; without them we never would have climbed up out of the wild animal state in which man existed some age ago. All dirt and hands are useless without brains. The west today has only one problem—and a very simple one. All it has to do, to produce wealth, comfort, contentment and plenty of everything for its people, is combine the three ingredients.

We have the earth—millions of acres of it, ready to produce food and timber above; minerals below. We have hands—millions of them, ready and eager to produce wealth for their owners. We have brains—what's that we don't seem to have. At least, if we have brains, we don't use them. If we did, all of us would be at work; all of us would be well housed, warmly clad, well fed, happy and prosperous.

We have not used our brains for months. We have hoped around, waiting for some "brain trust" at Washington to solve our problems for us. We have become weak-kneed, dependent on some vague "government" for our well-being. We cannot seem to realize there isn't any government to lean on—except ourselves. We are the government; we must pay every dollar "government" does up.

We have been leaning on our own shadow—and wondering, angrily, why it did not hold us up! The west should stop bawling for help and stand on its own feet and fight! But dirt and hands are useless to face facts! A weaker, or less enterprising than our pioneer forefathers? Are we afraid to go out and win the west again—for westerners? No wonder! Has any answer to those questions except a ringing "NO!" Well—let us get going. Let us take what we have, and make it work. Let us stop sitting down; walking, in the midst of potential plenty. DIRT, HANDS, BRAINS. We've got 'em. Let us use 'em!

INVITATION TO PLUM PICKERS

Not in its stadium, but in its pastorate hunger for patronage, the national house of representatives has decided that appointments by the Home Owners Loan corporation shall be on the basis of political partisanship. The proposal for nonpartisan appointments came up in an amendment by Senator George Norris. It barely squeaked through the senate. It has now been tucked deep under an avalanche of partisan legislation. It is dead for the senate will not seek to revive it.

By its action the house puts not a mere string but a veritable halter upon what was intended by the administration to be a fine, benevolent co-operation in saving the homes of distressed owners. This is not a gloomy guess for there have already been scandals in this same activity due to an attempt to mix politics and philanthropy.

The kind of partisanship which feeds upon patronage is bound to breed weak-kneed tendencies and this is true without regard to the particular party involved. It may be said that it is not to say that buses will inevitably happen in the H.O.L.C., but that an effective barrier to prevent them from happening has been removed. The bars are down and plum pickers are at least just as apt to help themselves as they are to help others.

UNCLE JAKE Uncle Jake could figure, but he was unable to read. He became so fixated on a strange word, and rambled about in his fixated mind morning, his friends were curious why one so familiar with numbers should be so unable to read so many hours a day. One of them inquired: "Uncle Jake, don't you run across any signs?" "Signs," replied Uncle Jake. "That was a plenty of 'em."

"Well, that's curious now. 'Didn't they help you read that?" "Not a bit; I could figure how far, but I couldn't read what it was."

VAN BORING (The never says word) By Tish Tash

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG (NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS)

(Copyright, McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

WASHINGTON—By George Darro "TRADING. Anyone who thinks president Roosevelt isn't standing up for his country behind his Brain Trust had better consider his mind. Some days ago the Executive sent the name of his No. 1 Brain-Truster, the professor Rex Tugwell, to the Senate for promotion to the newly-created job of Undersecretary of Agriculture. Senator Ellison S. Sizer of South Carolina, better known as "Cotton Ed," has been blocking confirmation on the ground—the president should go to the farmer. (It was "it" so happens that Cotton Ed has a bona fide farm.) Word has been conveyed to him that the "yellie" House will hold up all of his appointments until Tugwell is confirmed. No love has been lost between the White House and Senator Sizer for some time. The final outcome of this little tug-of-war will be interesting to all.

Mr. Roosevelt's friends say he is both annoyed and pleased at Tugwell has been singled out for promotion. He is annoyed because the hands-on Senator is so high at the White House. He is pleased only to the extent that the administration's critics have been forced to concentrate their fire on the new Public Printer but the White House itself would have been important.

PRINTED The President has been planning to send his appointments of late. Everything is all set to make Augustus E. Olegenschlag of Missouri County, N. Y., the new Public Printer but he probably will have to wait until Congress goes home and then take a recess appointment. George H. Carter, who has run the Government Printing Office for some years, used to be chief of the Joint Congressional Printing Committee. He has stirred up sentiment among his Senatorial friends to have adjournment taken making him ineligible to draw pay.

Olegenschlag was mechanical director of the Stars and Stripes in France. On the soldier paper as Assistant Executive Officer at the time of the Paris Peace Conference, he was the President. When he first became a candidate for Public Printer over until it was because the organization as it was then made up did not happen to be on friendly terms with Postmaster General.

Learning his mistake Olegenschlag moved in on the organization and helped change it around until it was sufficiently anti-Tamm-Tamm to suit Washington. The endorsement he now has are from every part of the country and he is set to get a high water mark for the way in which they have been presented.

DEADLOCK When the Republican National Committee meets in Chicago on June 4 to consider the election of a new chairman to replace Everett Sanders the chances are good they will adjourn without making a choice. It is believed that a settlement is growing among O. O. Rodgers in Washington for Vice Chairman Ralph Williams run the central means, which may be a factor.

RESERVE Local bankers get word that Eugene Black's impending resignation as chairman of the Federal Reserve Board is entirely voluntary and that the government would like very much to have him stay on the job. New York speculators as to his successor is active and centers around three men.

Professor Jacob Viner is thought in several quarters to have the inside track. Viner is already a member of Secretary Morgenthau's staff and received a Ph.D. from the University of Europe on behalf of the Treasury. He hasn't had much publicity but it's his record that has succeeded Professor George Warren, former financial adviser, former President's economic adviser and his own Secretary of the job. It's understood here that he was offered it before it was given to Black. Viner has a heavy record of service in the Treasury and his statement endorsing Roosevelt's policy is rated significant.

Black's resignation has been discussed hereabouts for some time. It is believed that he has been a member of the Federal Reserve Board since the Wilson administration. It is known he worked closely with the President on several occasions. His independent character, which may be a factor.

This Hat's So Old It's New

The salary of $150,000 a year is no one who has made his mark in private life. ADVISE Country correspondents of the big New York banks are still getting "red" notices. They've played the leader too long to break away suddenly. And their New York managers are still trying to keep the liquid. The informed call this the chief reason why credit expansion has progressed so slowly in spite of record reserves.

DEBTS New York authorities doubt that new debt payment in silver would work. They point out that England alone through its Indian resources could make an appreciable payment without buying in the world market which would probably raise the price above the 50-cent level and thus eliminate the bargain-basement feature. Silver, they contend, is not the Treasury's own bargain shopping would be upset by the price jump.

MINORS Food manufacturers are hot up about the extension of the control from dates to all agricultural commodities, as proposed by the Agricultural Adjustment Act changes desired by the administration. They consider the measure tantamount to confiscation—but they manage a grim smile at the inclusion of "minor amendments" in the A.A.A. set in the President's list of "must" legislation.

A New Yorker at Large

By MARK HARRON

NEW YORK—The ceremony that afternoon was one of New York's most important. It was the award of medals and brass buttons and "ajds." The Marquis de Lafayette, whom many Frenchmen contend won the American Revolution—the one that started with pick-fights—not bank moneymen—had been dead 100 years.

The sword and epaulettes were to be given to the French ambassador, his excellency, Andre de La Bonville. The ambassador was a Frenchman who was to place them on exhibition with hundreds of other exhibits of Lafayetteans. When the ambassador was to say a few impressive words, and Louis Barthou, minister of foreign affairs for France, was to speak in French.

New York's famed second regiment was in square formation in the park. The ambassador entered as the band played and brass buttons were handed out. The ambassador spoke to the throng and to the world at large over the air. He concluded with a switch. Three excited French voices boomed from the loud speakers. There was a terrific cheer. The ambassador's face grew red. He whispered to a woman seated nearby. Those who understood burst into uncontrolled laughter.

It was the wrong program from France. An operator roared for the crowd. "What you are leaving me? You don't love me any more?" The loud speakers were silent and the crowd was in a state of confusion. They found the right station. His exclamation, a live international incident probably was averted.

A chubby, diminutive fellow who looks like a dumpy bundle of fatness, came along that lower section of Park avenue where are congregated a more operative group of reporters. He was a man with a white beard, he strolls along there every morning an hour or so just before noon.

If you can snare him during an idle moment, he'll tell you that his profession is "retiree," that he has always been a reporter and he cashes in on the philosophy that women are catfish.

Score of society women stop along his beat every noon for luncheon engagements, and most of them arrive in taxis. Practically every woman he has discovered drops something from her purse when she starts to pay her fare.

Guiding Your Child

DRIVER'S LICENSE One of the most difficult questions of modern life is, "when should a child be allowed to drive?" The question is answered by the fact that the age at which a license may be procured differs from state to state.

Primarily, however, the answer depends not entirely upon the ability to drive, but on the individual, the character of the child, and the special problems presented by each child. Most modern children have from the outset a greater familiarity and skill than their parents and grandparents. Technical terms slip from their tongues with amazing ease.

But as a matter of fact the roads are crowded, with many of the drivers irresponsible and reckless, and motoring is a question of judgment, of constant readjustment of sudden dangers, and of possible catastrophe. The most nervously stable and

B. F. Goodrich Co. ends more motoring hazards. In a campaign to stimulate motor-traffic, Goodrich engineers have announced these important new inventions: The Life-Saver Golden Ply already famous for the preventing of the great, unseen cause of blow-outs. Following Golden Ply comes the Best-Grip Safety Tube... an amazing new inner tube that is made of a new material called the Gold and Black Tube that protects against rim cuts and chafing and strongly built extra running flat for a distance won't tear it.

Goodrich Electro-Pak. Amazing New Tube ends rim cuts and chafing. HERE'S PROOF! Goodrich made a lot of special tubes to test this new Gold and Black construction. One-half of each tube was made of the old construction and the other half of the best old-style compound. Then they purposely ran them flat. The old-style construction was torn to shreds. Yet the Gold and Black tube was sound and unharmed by this very punishment.

TRAVELER PLUNGES TO DEATH IN FALL

H. L. Powell, of Cashmere, Washington, Sees Falls and Dies

Four days after Harry L. Powell of Cashmere, Washington, registered at a local tourist camp and inquired the way to Shoshone falls and Twin Falls, his body was found at the base of the 196-foot cliff in Snake river canyon near Twin Falls. Head and chest were crushed.

Local authorities, following discovery of the body by picnickers late Sunday afternoon, found Powell's car parked about 100 yards back from the canyon rim, near where Powell plunged over the cliff, and yesterday through Cashmere officers, established that Powell was a resident of 312 Cashmere, Louisville, Kentucky, railroad man. The brother, advising that he was willing to testify, said in a telegram received here yesterday that Cashmere authorities would arrange for the burial.

Following the Powell's car and after learning he had registered at a local tourist camp, officers here inquired last to Powell's location, that there was no foul play in connection with Powell's death, and that he plunged over the cliff, apparently accidentally or with suicidal intent.

Before learning that Powell had registered at a local tourist camp, officers here inquired last to Powell's location, that there was no foul play in connection with Powell's death, and that he plunged over the cliff, apparently accidentally or with suicidal intent.

Measurements which the sheriff's force made yesterday indicated that Powell fell straight down 196 feet to the top of the rock ledge, and then fell and rolled 45 feet farther to the foot of the cliff. One lens of his pocket watch was found, apparently dropped out of his pocket were found on the ledge above the body.

No Money Among Effects
Officers said there was no money in Powell's pockets or among his effects.

No information was available here last evening on which officers might base an opinion as to Powell's occupation, or his reason for traveling or destination.

A tentative identification was made Sunday evening by means of receipts issued by Masonic and Knights of Pythias lodges at Cashmere, of which Powell was a member.

Powell's clothing was well worn and not containing any valuables, he carried a 252 model light razor, two carry some blankets and quilts and some camp equipment.

Powell unloaded and placed in his car a part of the contents of his baggage, including a 252 model light razor, two carry some blankets and quilts and some camp equipment.

Wednesday afternoon, the park owner, who was not seen again at the park, had a car about 2:30 o'clock following the tragedy about the way to the falls. He told the park owner, officers were told yesterday that he had been very great about the falls and wanted to see them.

The body was found about 4:30 o'clock by Henry Smith of Twin Falls, who saw it first from the canyon rim and then called other groups of picnickers at other viewpoints to ascertain whether the object he had seen was a man's body.

The body was brought to the Twin Falls mortuary.

Drought Forces Revision In Farm Aid Plans

THE prolonged and widespread drought forced administration leaders at Washington to revise plans to help western farmers meet dry weather losses. Shown here are Chester C. Davis (left) farm administrator, and Victor A. Christgau assistant administrator, studying a map on which is outlined the vast acreage included in the wheat reduction campaign. It was decided to extend the deadline for signing wheat reduction contracts to so growers affected by the drought might still take advantage of benefit payments offered under the program.—(AP) Photo.

SUPERVISOR ATTACKS VANDALISM IN FOREST

BURLEY, May 21—Complaint is made by S. S. Stewart, forest supervisor, about destruction of property in the Mt. Hood forest reserve, especially in Howell canyon where camp sites have been provided for camping parties. Camp equipment has been damaged and signs defaced and pulled down. In one instance, a large group of visiting boys removed rows of rocks bordering the camp grounds, and piled them into a monument on the mountain side.

In some instances vandals have used the public camp stoves as rifle and revolver targets. Some of the sheet iron stoves are riddled with bullet holes and stove pipes disfigured. There is hardly a sign left in the reserve. It is said, unnamed forest officials have seen so many bullet holes that the lettering has been obliterated. Markers put up by the Alton gun club, by government permission, showing the limits of closed hunting districts, have been pulled down and destroyed. Trees have been mutilated and trash thrown about regardless of the comfort of campers to follow.

A patrolman has been employed to check the territory generally visited by picnic parties during the summer months. It is hoped by forest service officials that warnings issued will serve to check the vandalism displayed by some visitors to this public recreation district.

WE WRECKED THESE NEW MOTORS TO PROVE PROTECTION FOR YOURS!

CONOCO produced New and Improved Germ Processed Motor Oil to give new and old motors the lubricating protection they should have.

An oil with several times the film strength of any mineral oil you can buy. A new degree of oil penetrativeness that creates the "Hidden Quart" protection, an exclusively patented feature that only Conoco can use. New, also, in that dilution does not affect its quality as a lubricant. Finally, practically no carbon or sludge.

To demonstrate to you how well it will protect your motor, a most daring and conclusive test was made at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, under the supervision of the Contest Board, American Automobile Association.

Six runs were tested. Five of these were nationally known and advertised all over the country. They were purchased by AAA officials who certify them to be the oil sold to the public under their famous trade names.

The other oil was New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil—exactly the same as you can now buy at any Red Triangle Station. Six new, strictly stock cars of medium priced class were selected by AAA officials who made sure all were in equal condition. They were each assigned an oil of the same S. A. E. grade by lot drawing and numbered—no one but the chief AAA official knew which oil was in any car. After 2,500 miles of careful wearing-in at graduating speeds, they were drained and given five quarts of fresh oil and the oil filler caps sealed by an AAA official. No more oil was added.

Now for the real consumer test—the first of its kind in history—the test that was to prove, not by laboratory tests, not by intricate testing apparatus, but by the grim fact-finding drive under normal driving conditions—500 miles a day average at 50 miles an hour, as long as the motors could operate on just five quarts of oil—with no additions!

For the first 600 laps around this two-and-a-half mile track all were within striking range of a rooster. With a roar and a rending of metal, the motor that contained Oil No. 4 stopped at 1,713.2 miles, the first to go out.

Rapidly following this, Oil No. 6 quit at 1,764.4 miles—then Oil No. 5 at 1,815.9 miles—all oils advertised as having the finest lubricating qualities. Oil No. 1 hung on for another day and did a trifle over 906 laps, or 2,266.8 miles, when its motor stopped with a crash of broken metal.

Now it became a duel between two oils that were real lubricating oils! All through the next two days they defied each other, but on the eighth day, at 3,318.3 miles, Oil No. 3 had used up every ounce of resistance from every drop of oil and had wrecked its motor. A fine record, made by a fine oil, but second best.

Then a solitary car kept running, covering lap after lap—mile after mile—day after day—a total of 4,729 miles! Read it again—4,729 miles on that original five quarts of oil! It was New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil, proved the finest of all oils by an unquestionable decision.

Here is motor protection and low consumption! Here is a motor that will definitely cut your repair bills and give you most, in both miles and dollars.

Drive into any Red Triangle Station—get a fill—and know that you have the best oil for protection and economy your money can buy.

Warning TO NEW CAR OWNERS

Some car manufacturers are using new types of bearings which will stand greater pressures and longer wear, resulting in increased power and greater mileage. Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil has been exhaustively tested on these new bearings. The results show that it gives them greater protection and decreases their many slight internal bills now on the market.

Protect your new car by using the motor oil you can be sure of.

WORK RESUMES ON RELIEF PROJECTS

Reorganized FERA Begins Functioning With Additional Funds

A reorganized FERA in Idaho; with additional appointment of federal relief funds made available to the state, will resume activities on a number of work relief projects in Twin Falls county, beginning this morning. The work will be resumed for upwards of 200 men and 42 women, who have been found qualified on a needs basis for work relief employment and who have received identification cards without which no person will hereafter be granted work relief. J. F. Masterson, district administrator, announced last evening.

Lists of men assigned to work on projects that are to be resumed today were posted yesterday at the Parish hall, former headquarters of the relief administration in Twin Falls county, and were distributed to the afternoon and evening.

Projects to be resumed this morning include Twin Falls city projects, streets, filter plant reconstruction, new hand pool and Harmon street improvement, Twin Falls county projects, hospital, farm and court house, and the Clear Lake road project.

Women are to be employed, attending and in a community garden.

Wage Scale Starting Masterson said, work relief projects will be resumed elsewhere in this county on Wednesday morning. The district for which he is administrator and supervisor of the work is to be made up, for assignment, to work next week.

Under the new set-up, work will be staggered, and payment on all projects will be in cash at the rate of 50 cents an hour for a 34-hour week.

Suggestion that came from Camas county for reduction of the wage scale to 30 cents an hour, was emphatically vetoed by T. J. Lloyd, Twin Falls, Idaho representative of the district.

County district meeting of local relief committees in Twin Falls county, held in a house Sunday afternoon, at which the new relief organization set-up and policies were announced.

A new list of qualified work relief projects every day in payment of the money to them to prevent their securing other employment.

Announcement was made at the Sunday afternoon meeting of the appointment of J. F. Masterson as district administrator for the district, with Raymond D. Graves of Twin Falls, district disbursing officer and Carroll T. O. Smith, district auditor. A district welfare worker is to be named by Masterson within the next day or two.

Under reorganization of the relief administration in Idaho, the state is divided into five districts, one of which has Twin Falls office for its center.

Surplus commodities available for distribution here yesterday were butter, lard, and cereal, charged at 25 cents per two-pound package.

In connection with Sunday's meeting here, Bob H. Warner, Twin Falls county placement office manager, conferred with placement office managers of other counties of the district, discussion turning in the main upon the advisability of cash in payment for work relief wages.

About 60 persons in attendance at the meeting included mayors of Gooding, Jerome and Burley and a number of county commissioners, Duncan McEl, Johnston, Twin Falls mayor and chairman of Twin Falls county relief committee.

HIGHWAY DISTRICT HITS AT PIPELINE

Twin Falls City Named Defendant in Road Board's Injunction Suit

Twin Falls highway district yesterday started suit in the district court for an injunction to restrain the city of Twin Falls from further use of a leaky waste water pipe approximately 1 1/2 miles long. The suit alleged that saturated roads had prevented construction of a $75,000 road-improvement project.

A court order calling on mayor and council to appear in the district court here at 10 a. m. next Monday will show cause why the injunction should not be granted.

The suit was started yesterday following a formal demand served last May on the mayor and clerk calling upon the city to remove or repair the pipe, and after the highway district engineer, acting with the knowledge and consent of the city administration, secured from Twin Falls Canal company an agreement to permit dumping of waste water from the municipal filtration plant into a coulee, through a new outlet that would involve 1300 feet of new pipeline construction.
