Very little time was given, however, to the knowledge of agriculture and much to his economic philosophy as exemplified by a speech in 1931, and more time was consumed by the publishers between themselves and the members of the committee.

Self-possessed and even temperd for the most part, Tugwell leaned quietly back during the committee's questioning. He was not disturbed to be allowed "as the witness to make an observation."

He said that the "free economy" is the one that has been the basis of the last year for the five months of 1934.

FEMININE CRIME BLAMED ON GLAND

Medicos Pointed Toward
Study of Preventive
Methods

CLEVELAND, June 11 (AP)—Circulating evidence that the endocrine glands, led by one of these organs in the head, is associated with some of the most serious crimes among women was presented to the American Medical Association here today.

The permanent marks which these glands make on the face, body contours and in the eyes were described. It was explained that these glands make a "signature" among women who commit crime.

But it is impossible to predict on the basis of the glands a specific crime, or even to predict when their presence means crime. The glands structural traces on the body form only the "signature" among women who violate the law.

How to read and interpret these glands is the objective. The glands make a "signature" among women who commit crime. The glands structural traces on the body form only the "signature" among women who violate the law.

SEVEN BODIES AND WRECKED PLANE FOUND ON HILLSIDE

Arrive Back in Turnwood with the wrecked plane about 12 a. m.

Second Stage Slog
Their path lay up over the steep slope of last chance hill, on the opposite side from where the plane had crashed. They planned to approach the plane from above, and return by the same difficult route.

Dr. V. G. Burke, Sullivan county coroner, who directed the activity, said he was not sure when the inquest will be held, but it would be tomorrow or the next day.

The wreck was sighted about noon by W. H. "Red" Hallock, pilot of one of a score of planes in a widespread search for the vanished 16-year-old boy.

The scorched brown area against the green forest attracted his attention. Skimming the trees, he saw bits of the wreckage and blue wreckage. Quickly he communicated his discovery to the Newark airport, from which the liner had taken off for Chicago.

Hallock flew back to Livingston Manor, a few miles from here, with the wreckage. He then he led a detail of state troopers along dangerous trails through the dark woods slippery from heavy rainfall.

Three miles the searching party, which included Captain Daniel K. Rux of the state police and Mayor Rux of the town of Livingston, finally climbed the mountain before they could locate the wreck.

Sixth Red Fuelage
They got their bearings by rowing into a high valley 50 miles northwest of New York City.

Finally Captain Rux fired a flare of red fuelage in the top of a tree. He told once more the state troopers and three firemen to search the mountain and three firemen to search the mountain.

The bodies of the two boys were found in a few minutes. The members of the party reached the isolated spot.

Trees 15 inches in diameter had been scoured off as the huge plane hurtled itself against them.

The passengers probably never knew what happened; commented a state trooper.

Others who viewed the wreck voiced the opinion, however, that the victim, airmen Hallock, had been killed by the wreckage.

KIMBERLY BOARD APPROVES BUDGET

IDAHO GRADUATES GIVEN OBJECTIVE

Chairman of Regional Planning Board Outlines Views

MOSCOW, Idaho, June 11 (AP)—America is not self-sufficient and her security will not be found in isolation, Marshall N. Dana, Portland, Oregon, editor, told the graduating class of the University of Idaho today.

Dana, head of the northwest regional planning board, spoke at the University's 35th commencement exercises.

"Her (America's) prosperity cannot be established through abandonment of world trade," he said. "Her opportunity—and yours—is in internationalizing the rights of men, not through slavery, theocracy and dictatorship, but in Democratic self-government."

The principles of planning, said the man charged with directing the development of the Pacific Northwest, apply in education, industry, finance and agriculture.

"Agriculture must cooperate in its marketing—and in otherwise making sure that farmers receive enough to pay the cost of production. Consumers in America have usually paid enough to pay the farmer's profit, had the farmer received his fair share."

Planning Government Policy

Regarding war, monopoly of natural resources and concentration of wealth, the speaker called upon collective action to create "a wider area—of individual opportunity—where resources, energy and ambition would have freer play."

Planning, he said, has become a federal and state policy. "It means appraisal of resources, assembly of facts, programs in action and collective guidance for individuals and general benefit."

Many graduates were among the 3,000 persons who saw the 35th annual commencement exercises, presided over by Dr. M. O. Neale, president of the university. The board of regents and faculty and deans of sister Idaho and neighboring colleges and normal schools were present.

The 10th annual trophy award, sponsored by the Idaho society, sons of the American revolution, was won by Delta Gamma sorority.

In the competition between Idaho and Washington state colleges, students majoring in mining or geology, sponsored by the Columbia section, American Institute of Mine and Metallurgical Engineers, first prize went to Henry Glen.

Prize and Frank, and Abbot and third prize to Wray Featherston; women, second prize went to W. S. C. and first to W. S. C.

Smithsonian Institute Scientists Resume Work at Ancient Fields of Fossils in Sandhills of Hagerman

HAGERMAN, June 11—Representatives of the Smithsonian Institute are preparing to resume research work this summer that has been carried on for several seasons in the ancient Hagerman lake bed where fossil deposits, said to be a million years old, have recently been unearthed. Fields where the work will be carried on lie in barren sandhills across Snake river and a few miles west from Hagerman.

Countless ages of erosion have worn deep canyons in the terrain exposing in places portions of skeletons of the ancient inhabitants of this section.

The research expedition this year is in charge of Dr. C. L. Gazin, assistant curator of vertebrate paleontology of the Smithsonian Institute. Dr. Gazin is accompanied by G. F. Sternberg, field vertebrate paleontologist of the Fort Hays state college of Kansas and J. H. Pierce, an assistant of Sternberg. Dick Clifford of Hagerman is assisting with excavation work.

Chimp has been established by this party near a section where large deposits of ancient horse fossils have been discovered. The Hagerman field is particularly rich in deposits of this animal. Dr. Gazin said, of which only a limited knowledge had been obtained of this particular stage of its existence previous to discoveries made here and these discoveries had opened up to the knowledge of science concerning the horse at that time.

Large numbers of these horse skeletons have previously been unearthed by members of expeditions of the Smithsonian Institute. They were taken from small sections of the old lake beds where bones of literally hundreds of the animals lie buried. Later when more work has been done on these specimens, fully articulated skeletons of the animals will be on exhibition at the Institute. A few complete skeletons of four-toed horses, fields are now to be seen at several different museums.

Skeletons, the scientists said, would indicate that the animal was about the size of a small present day horse and had an abnormally large head and very small hoofs. In build it probably somewhat resembled a zebra, though not of that group.

While the present expedition will delve deeper into the section containing the horse fossils one of its objects, Dr. Gazin said, will be to obtain a more complete representation of fauna of the Idaho formation of that date, the late pliocene period immediately preceding the glacial age.

Specimens obtained so far, from the Hagerman field, the scientist said, show the area to have once been inhabited by mastodon, camel, secretary (the native hog), large ground sloth and several species of carnivora including a small saber tooth tiger, a large hyena like dog and a big cat the size of a mountain lion. Specimens of three kinds of birds have been found, two of them the size of jack rabbits, the other smaller, more like a cotton tail.

Beaver, otter and muskrat existed with a variety of birds, fish and turtles. Members of the expedition expect to devote the summer to research work in this vicinity.

INSURANCE DIRECTOR STATES

"Qualified companies licensed to do business in this state, have met all the requirements of our laws, and have designated the commissioner of finance as statutory or legal agent upon whom service of process may be made, thereby subjecting themselves to the jurisdiction of our courts and the supervision of this office.

"Non admitted companies are not subject to the supervision of the insurance department, or jurisdiction of the courts of this state, which accounts largely for the great number of unsatisfied claims. It is not only unfair competition to force the qualified companies to compete with unqualified companies, but persons with policies in unqualified companies do not have recourse to the courts in the case of a contested claim."

SUPERVISION

You have a right to this safeguard, when you buy life protection. Make certain you are dealing with a reliable institution—one that is supervised by the state.

INVESTIGATE

recently with Fazio, reported to be his cousin, over allegations the grocer allegedly paid to the grocer's wife or daughter. Fazio's dismembered body was found in the bathroom of his home.

"You got the wrong man," Levitt quoted Alois as saying. The officers said Alois was calm under a questioning—and declared he knew nothing about the quintuple tragedy.

Levitt said, however, that Alois was seized at 3 a. m. as he was washing a shirt and trousers at the mill where he is employed. The officer declared the clothing apparently was blood stained.

The quintuple slayings were discovered shortly before 9 o'clock last night when Orin Hawes was driving his automobile near the Fazio residence here.

He leaped upon the running board and began wielding his sharp knife.

Then Hawes drove along the road and the automobile "headlight" illuminated the bodies of the slain.

Neighbors informed Sheriff Levitt that Fazio and Alois had quarreled bitterly recently. They told the sheriff they were not sure whether the quarrel was over Alois' alleged seduction of Fazio's daughter or whether the two women had exchanged bitter words over Mrs. Fazio.

Woman Hurts Wrist; Burglars Loot Home

RUSSELL LANE, June 11 (Special to The News)—While Mrs. E. E. Montgomery was in bed receiving medical treatment for a badly sprained wrist, burglars entered her home Saturday evening between 8 and 10 o'clock, and took away a miscellany of loot.

Six dresses, $12 in cash, 47 Indian pennies, a quantity of time and handkerchiefs, one rug, a suit case, three pounds of coffee and two pounds of cheese were reported missing by Mrs. Montgomery.

Herbert Painter, living near Russell Lane, reported that the same evening a quantity of groceries and clothing had been pilfered from his home.

He revealed a man slashing viciously at a woman with a folding knife. The woman was screaming for help but, unarmed, did not stop. He hurried instead to the sheriff's office.

Sheriff Levitt and deputies went to the scene and found Mrs. Amstutz's badly hacked body near an automobile. In the car was the mutilated body of Mrs. Amstutz.

Levitt dashed to the Fazio home to notify the family and found the doors—and all except one window—bolted. The all of the unbolted window was blood stained.

Breaking down the door, Levitt found the bodies of the other three victims. As the sheriff reported, the slayings, the attacker apparently had forced the family, then called Fazio into a bathroom, stabbed him to death and dismembered his body.

Near the bathroom door were the bodies of Fazio and his wife. They had been terribly hacked.

Kills Women in Car

Neighborhood, Levitt learned, had heard screams in the Fazio home and had informed Mrs. Amstutz, who was visiting at Mrs. Amstutz's home. Going to Mrs. Amstutz's automobile, the two women were driving in the direction of the girl's home when the killer apparently was confronted them in the darkness.

He leaped upon the running board and began wielding his sharp knife.

Baer Distributes Wisecracks As Heavy Training Ends

New York Boxing Commission Gets Advice from Max

Heavyweight Titleholder's Overtrained Condition Provides Final Touch to Combs Opera Situation

By EDWARD J. NEIL
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, June 11.—The relief of all deeply concerned, Max Baer today flung off the last of his heavy training chores for his heavyweight title chance against Primo Carnera next Thursday night and wound up still in full possession of all of his much maligned health.

With wisecracks for all and ready to go, the big California mauler was preparing for his final round at Auburn Park N. Y., dished off an insulting insult to the challenger in the boxing commission of his needs and desires in the matter of regulating the battle, and then settled down to a quiet dinner at the hotel.

Camera Overtrained
Many parties viewed great signs of the first time Baer's condition was overtrained, with this complex and almost unbreakable physical condition, the big California mauler was in a comical opera situation that is slowly driving the Madison Square Garden promoters crazy.

Carnera spent the day in idleness at his training camp at Pompton Lake, N. J. He was in bed most of the day, and when he got up, he was in a comical opera situation that is slowly driving the Madison Square Garden promoters crazy.

It was so severely surprising that the bookmakers, who were always absolutely refused to quote odds on a fight like this, were now taking bets on the outcome of the fight.

Another rumor, as indignantly denied as that of Carnera's outbreak, was that the champion, fearing he had gone stale from overwork, was considering making a week's post-fight vacation.

Baer advised the commission to day that he'd like the referee's instructions in the calm of the commission office at writing in his Thursday instead of in the confusion of the ring. He asked for a big man as referee and named John J. Donnan, one of New York's foremost officials.

He also suggested that since one of his opponents was a welterweight and two others were seriously injured, it might be smart to post an ambulance at the main gate so that Carnera could get swift transportation after the fight to some haven of rest.

Both Carnera and Baer will appear tomorrow afternoon for further examination at the commission's view of the referee's decision, anything is liable to happen and probably will.

BOSTON, June 11 (AP)—The Boston Red Sox today placed George Pipgras on their retired list for the rest of the season. He has been hospitalized to undergo a second operation on his pitching arm since last August.

Pipgras, who is 34 years old, was purchased by Tom Yawkey and Eddie Collins in the rebuilding of the Red Sox, was hampered by a chipped elbow last season. He was unable to start a game this season and X-rays recently revealed a growth on his pitching arm.

The hurler, who was the property of the Red Sox back in 1921, was purchased from the New York Yankees, along with Bill Wetherby, early in the 1933 season. Most of his major service was devoted to the Yankee and his nine-year record was 102 victories and 72 defeats.

COUNCIL SETS UP EXAMINERS BOARD FOR ELECTRICIANS

New Regulations Restrict Installation and Repairs To Workmen Passed and Licensed by Examiners

Under suspension of the rules requiring three separate readings before passage, Twin Falls city council last night passed amendments to the electrical ordinance providing for the appointment of a board of electrical examiners to pass on the qualifications of journeymen electricians within the city.

The amendment that the electrical inspector be chairman of the board and that he appoint one electrical contractor to the board, an electrical journeyman, to be selected by the other two members. H. E. Friedman, electrical contractor, immediately announced that A. E. Dickey was appointed as the electrical contractor and that J. W. Smith would be the journeyman on the board.

According to the ordinance, "A journeyman electrician, as used herein shall mean an electrical worker qualified by his experience and technical training to properly install, alter or repair any electrical wiring, equipment and or devices installed in, or that may be installed in any building within the limits of the city of Twin Falls."

Certificate Required "Before any person engaged or hereafter engaging in the occupation of journeyman electrician may hereafter do any such work within the limits of the city of Twin Falls, he shall obtain a journeyman electrician's certificate of registration."

Application Fee The board is scheduled to meet on the first day of January, April, July and October of each year unless the date is changed by the board. The meeting will be held on the following day. Each member of the board is to receive one dollar as compensation for his services on each examination authorized and administered. The board members will be paid from the examination fee.

The amendments also provide that "no notice of approval shall be issued for any installation of electrical wiring, apparatus, equipment, appliance and or device hereafter installed, altered, repaired or connected in or about any building or premises within the city of Twin Falls, unless the same is in conformity with the provisions of this ordinance, with the Statutes of the State of Idaho, and with approved methods of construction for safety to life and property. The regulations laid down in the latest edition of the National Electrical Code, as approved by the National Board of Fire Underwriters and recommended by the National Fire Protection Association, shall be considered prima facie evidence of such approved methods, materials, equipment or devices."

In the future all conductors in any electrical wiring system installed in any building or premises within the fire limits of the city in public buildings, warehouses, mills, elevators, seed-cleaning plants, grain elevators, filling stations, and all buildings and premises where combustible materials are stored, shall be installed in rigid run conduits, the ordinance reads.

MANAGER OF CANAL COMPANY SUCCEEDS

Injuries Suffered in Auto Accident Prove Fatal To Burton Smith

Burton Smith, general manager of the Salmon River Canal company, and former head of the Twin Falls Canal company, succumbed Sunday morning at the University of California hospital, San Francisco, to injuries suffered in an automobile accident here April 11. Word of his death was related in a telegram sent by his wife, Mrs. Margaret Smith, to friends here.

Mr. Smith sustained a spinal injury and suffered partial paralysis when the car in which he and Dale Kunkel were riding ran off the road near the canal south of Twin Falls, where a tire blew out. He was given treatment at the Twin Falls county general hospital, and later removed to California. Little hope was held for his recovery from the time of the accident.

He is survived by his widow and a young daughter, Margaret, and by two daughters by a former marriage, Mrs. Gladys Harms and Alvin Smith, both of California. He was also survived by two stepsons, Lieutenant Lawrence Rutter, with the United States Naval forces in Russia, and a young student at the University of California.

Mr. Smith was a member of the

ACCIDENT CLAIM GOES TO TRIAL

Filer Man, Struck by Motorcycle, Seeks Damages From Publisher

A claim for $327.75 damages growing out of an accident in Twin Falls last January 6 is now on trial. Filer, publisher of the Idaho Times, was struck by a motorcycle and severely injured, was brought to trial before Judge W. A. Babcock and a jury of the district court here yesterday. Joellin asks for damages from the Idaho Times Publishing company on the grounds that the motorcycle operator, Wesley Kirkman of Twin Falls, was an employee and agent of the publishing company at the time of the accident.

On grounds that Kirkman was not an employee or agent but was an individual contractor relieving the publishing company of liability, and on the further grounds that Joellin was guilty of contributory negligence, W. O. Chapman and Marshall Chapman, attorneys for the publishing company, offered a motion for non-suit when Joellin's attorneys rested their case yesterday, and Judge Babcock set this morning for hearing argument on the motion.

Crushed Against Car Evidence indicated that Joellin was pumping up the tire on a rear wheel of his automobile which was standing on Second avenue near the intersection of Second street east when the accident occurred. He was crushed between the motorcycle and the body of his car, suffering a compound multiple fracture of the right leg between the ankle and knee.

Claiming damages for permanent injury and for inability to work for at least six months, Joellin asks for $3000 damages, besides $150 hospital bill, $74.25 physician's charges and $250 ambulance service. J. R. Howell and Harry Povey are his attorneys.

Witnesses in presentation of Joellin's case yesterday, besides himself, were Harold W. Merritt, civil engineer; Wesley Kirkman, champion rider; James Owen, O. G. Clark, E. E. Joellin, Jr., C. N. Weaver and Dr. J. N. Davis.

Maternity lodge and a past worthy patron of the Eastern Star chapter here. He came to Twin Falls in 1924 as manager of the Twin Falls Canal company, serving until 1929. He was also a manager of the Salmon River Canal company.

Details of the funeral have not been learned, but it is believed that services will be held in California.

WINNER OF CAR TO BE ANNOUNCED WEDNESDAY

The Trade and Win contest, made last evening regarding the counting of votes and the announcing of the winners.

The final counting of votes which started today will be completed and ready for announcement Wednesday night of this week. The grand prize will be given from the stage at the Roxy theatre at 9 o'clock Wednesday night. All interested parties and their friends are urged to be there and see the fun.

The first prize, the new Ford Tudor sedan, will be retained for a specified number of days before actual delivery is made in accordance with contest regulations.

Interested parties may have an opportunity to make any claims for re-check of votes. Complete information and instruction will be given at the time of the announcement of standings at the Roxy theatre.

Drama of Life and Death Unfolds In Glass House of Spider Colony

About 50 of the fittest of the little Black Widow spiders hatched out yesterday morning and such a clamor to get out of their glass house! Feeling they'd incubated long enough, they raced to the perforated niches in the bottle cap as fast as their legs could carry them. Nothing weak and wobbly about the new-born of the Black Widow tribe.

In fact there was so much action from the lot that they had to be banished to the flames. It was about time something was done, anyhow, since the colony took on all the barbarism of a cannibal island, particularly in the bottle where the nursery was located.

All was scene until the last day and the last miller wing had been devoured by the two Widows. Then the battle was on in earnest. They fought viciously with their poison jaws; they kicked maliciously with their long black legs. Finally one of the hellions could no longer endure the carnage and fled.

The egg capsules swung from the cobweb above, undisturbed. The survivor of the battle spent Sunday cleaning up the mess. She ate practically all of her victim, leaving only the legs for decent burial.

Dr. Erkenbeck now is in the Veterans' hospital here. He has been in a stupor since shortly after he was bitten and has suffered from partial paralysis.

YOUR GROCER HAS THIS SUNNY WAY TO BETTER HEALTH

Check Common Constipation with a Delicious Cereal

Food has a lot to do with how you feel and how you look. For instance, you need plenty of "bulk" with your meals to avoid the risk of common constipation.

This ailment frequently causes headaches, loss of appetite and energy. Yet, in most cases, it can be overcome pleasantly and safely by eating a "delicious cereal."

Kellogg's All-Bran furnishes "bulk" in convenient and concentrated form. Laboratory tests show the "bulk" in All-Bran is safe and effective. In fact, it is much like that found in leafy vegetables.

Within the body, the fiber of ALL-BRAN absorbs moisture, and forms a soft mass. Gently, this clears out the bowels.

In addition, ALL-BRAN provides vitamin B and iron.

Isn't this sunny way better than taking patent medicines—so often harmful? Two tablespoons of ALL-BRAN, daily, are usually all that's needed.

Chronic cases with each meal. If seriously ill, see your doctor. ALL-BRAN makes no claim to be a "cure-all."
