ABSENCE OF NRA'S CHIEF IRKS GROCERS

Delegates Boo When General Hugh S. Johnson Fails To Deliver Address

CHICAGO, June 18 (AP)—They booed today when General Hugh S. Johnson, NRA chief, didn't show up at the speakers' table. That was the reaction of delegates at the National Association of Retail Grocers' convention when it was announced General Johnson would not be the speaker of the day. Later the general sent his regrets by telegram, mollifying the convention leaders who had declared he was "knocking them."

A scheduled address by the NRA chief was the program for the convention program as the grocers met. Chairman H. C. Peterson announced that he was "gladly" to accept the general's regrets. "We must show our disapproval of the Muscovite tactics," the grocers began boing. One member interrupted this salute to declare it was unfair, and to charge that the association had invited Johnson only to "put him on the spot."

General Johnson sent the grocers two hours later the general sent along his regrets. "Only a grocer," he said, "can understand the convention men from accepting the invitation."

The grocers' rebuke was a report from President D. A. Affleck, Salt Lake City, who had praised for the grocers' code, for general and saw it as a "sure" business improvement.

Forces released by the administration and the NRA to correct social and economic ills are already effective, he said. "We must sustain and continue the administration of the code."

General Johnson told the grocers they formed an "important segment" of the national economy, and with his best wishes, added: "The belief is growing that the codification of industry and trade has brought about a realistic picture of the future."

GOVERNOR LANGER'S REMOVAL DEMANDED

Federal Troops Marshalled As Precaution Against Attack on Judge

BISMARCK, N. D., June 18 (AP)—A demand that Governor Langer be removed from office because of his opposition to a federal reform was made tonight by Attorney General F. O. Sather by counsel for Lieutenant Governor Ole H. Olson, who contends he is now the legal chief executive.

By special delivery mail Olson's request was delivered to Sather, a political ally of Langer, to climax a day of activity that saw federal troops marshalled in each of the fiscal years 1923 and 1927, these funds to be used by 1937.

As Sather for building roads on public lands and Indian reservations during each of the fiscal years 1926 and 1927.

75,000,000 for building national park roads during each of the fiscal years 1926 and 1927.

The new act provides that states which direct gasoline tax revenue to purposes other than the building of roads may be penalized to the extent of one-third of their apportionment of federal funds from 1926 and 1927.

It also lifts previous limitations on the use of federal funds for construction in cities. The bureau was formerly limited to expenditures of $15,000 per mile, making it impossible to aid in building roads in cities where construction costs were higher.

May 31 the bureau had under construction or already completed 21,912 miles of all types of roads, with the cost estimated at $389,210,377.

SUSPECT NAMED IN MURDER MYSTERY

The trip he had taken with the dentist.

To add to the mystery, Dr. Meyers' office had been ransacked.

Mrs. Meyers said she became suspicious when a stranger whom she later identified as St. Clair came to her home Saturday asking to see the dentist's office.

She recalled that she believed she saw a revolver in his pocket. Because of her suspicion she said she asked to accompany the two men to the farm, but stayed at home when St. Clair told her it would be unnecessary for her to go.

The Texas woman, who in one story said she was married, according to officers, said she had met St. Clair in Chicago and came here with him. She denied all knowledge of any kidnap or robbery plot.

She said her erstwhile companion had told her his name was "Armadillo" and that he was a "strong" man. She said she had information his correct name was St. Clair and that Ohio authorities were seeking him on a check charge.

The search for Meyers started yesterday when his wife reported he had not returned after leaving for the farm. Suspicion of kidnaping grew as the hours passed and federal officers entered the hunt. Last night Meyers' car was found near the farm, its lights still on.

Deputies identified their hunt on the Meyers place. The town, being through the bush, they found his body. Two bullets had been fired into it.

Meyers was regarded as moderately wealthy and owned considerable real estate.

NAVAL SHIPS JOIN HUNT FOR PIRATES

American and British Vessels Seek Kidnapers in Chinese Waters

SHANGHAI, June 18 (AP)—American and British naval vessels joined tonight in a hunt for pirates who kidnaped six British citizens, including two naval officers, from a steamer flying the British flag.

The ship was seized, together with 20 Chinese, from the S. S. Shunien off the mouth of the Yellow river as the ship was on its way from Shanghai.

Apparently the bandits boarded the ship in Tientsin and held it until it was "before" overpowering the passengers and crew. The captives were forced into a fleet of five junks which stood by.

The U. S. S. Pope and the minesweeper Albatross, stationed at Chefoo, were ordered to search for the junks, while the British destroyers Veteran and Witch were dispatched from Weihai.

The Britons captured, besides the naval officers, were a commercial diver and three members of the ship's crew.

NAZI AMBASSADOR TO RUSSIA RESIGNS

BERLIN, June 18 (AP)—Vice Chancellor Franz von Papen vigorously stated at Nazi doctrine assumed added significance today when it became known Count Radolofsky had resigned as German ambassador to Russia.

Nadolsky's resignation, withheld from the public until today, dates back to the middle of May when he tried in vain to persuade Chancellor Adolf Hitler to accept Russia's proposal for a non-aggression pact—a proposal also favored by the foreign office.

See Hindenburg Masterpiece
As Nadolsky is a close friend of the family of President von Hindenburg, some political circles saw his resignation and von Papen's speech as steps in a deliberate campaign by Germany's great old man to bring Nazi extremists to power.

President von Hindenburg now is at the ancestral estate at Neudeck where it is reported his Nazi friends associates are at work in opposition to Nazi policies, especially agrarian.

One version of von Papen's speech is that he spoke on his own initiative with the same daring which brought his removal from the Prussian Socialist cabinet in July, 1932. The most common comment was that the vice chancellor's speech, delivered yesterday to students at Marburg university, forecasts the parting of the ways of the veteran statesman and Hitlerism.

ACTION COMPLETED ON GRAZING BILL

Conference Modifies Provisions to Which President Objected

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—Legislative action was completed Saturday on the Taylor grazing bill to establish interior department control over the hitherto unregulated public domain, consisting of 173,000,000 acres of range lands in 11 western states.

A conference between house and senate managers of the bill reported modifications of two provisions in the act which had been found objectionable by the president. The report was accepted by the senate and then by the house without debate.

The bill, written by Representative Taylor (D-Colo.), would permit the secretary of the interior to establish grazing districts with an area of 50,000 acres and to issue permits for a limited number of head of livestock to range within them. In this manner overgrazing and erosion resulting from abuse of the range would be prevented.

The bill was supported by the administration. Secretary Tamm said that without control over the public lands the greater part of transportation facilities domain would degenerate rapidly into a desert.

Posing For Picture, Man Falls To Death

YOSSEMITE, CAL., June 18 (AP)—Teetering on a rocky promontory over Nevada falls two miles from here to have his picture taken, Louis Leblanc, 26-year-old San Francisco garment cutter, slipped Saturday and fell into the churning torrent to be plunged to his death nearly 600 feet below.

Four companions saw him fall, his scream of terror drowned in the roar of the falls. They ran to the nearest telephone base and alerted the tragedy.

A party of 15 park rangers, augmented by a crew of 20 youths from a CCC camp, began the search at base of the falls and in the Merced river to recover the body.

SAN FRANCISCO—Unless come book apologies to 15-year-old Kathleen Toth, whose graduation gown was banned by school authorities, there is going to be a law suit, Attorney Carroll Bucher said here today.

Bucher said he had been retained by the girl's mother, Mrs. Kathleen Toth, whose demands for an apology were refused by Dr. J. C. Hatch, principal of the school, and Dr. E. A. Lee, city superintendent of schools.

Dr. Hatch refused to let Miss Toth appear at the junior high school graduation exercises in the gown which he termed "elaborate."

Attorney Bucher said the suit, if filed, would charge technical assault and technical suspension from school and will ask nominal damages.

PROCESSING TAXES RELIEF APPROVED

Congress Votes 90 to 180
Days Postponement of Collections

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—As one of its final actions, congress Saturday night voted modifications of the farm act to afford some relief on processing taxes on hogs and flour levies on cotton, jute, and burial.

By general consent, the house adopted senate amendments to the authorizing the treasury upon the recommendation of the agriculture department to postpone from 90 to 180 days the time in which the processing taxes may be collected.

The bill also redefines the processing tax as affecting hog production to compel packers and others processing hogs for the market or for other use to pay the levies instead of the farmer.

Chairman Jones (D-Texas) of the house agriculture committee said the bill authorizes a refund of floor taxes where the processing tax is reduced or abandoned without waiting for all processing taxes to be removed from jute, cotton and flax. This is done in order to permit those holding these commodities to meet competition on a level.

"Further it shows for the adjustment of the floor taxes to meet changes in the processing levy."

Government Cost $71.09 Per Capita Two Years Ago

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—The 1934-35 fiscal year the United States paid, theoretically speaking, $71.09 apiece in 1932 for the support of state, county and city governments and the nation's schools.

A census bureau summary made public today disclosed $5,851,917,000 represented the total revenue of these agencies and a scattering of other minor civil sub-divisions. It showed also the aggregate cost of these governments during the year was $9,622,515,000.

The summary is one of a series made periodically to give the country an indication of what it is spending for government and for public service activities.

BLIND ATTORNEY OUT FOR CONGRESS

Harold L. Yeamans of Buhl Pledges Allegiance To New Deal

BOISE, June 18 (AP)—Harold L. Yeamans, Buhl attorney formally declared his candidacy for the Second district congressional nomination in the Democratic primary today. He was a candidate in 1932 for the same post.

"I would like to see the New Deal program still further advanced and become a permanent part of our economic life," his statement read. "I want to see a more reasonable degree of equality prevail among men and feel that there is no excuse for poverty in the midst of plenty. Wealth must be decentralized, labor must be put to work, and the farmer must have a higher price for his products. If nominated and elected, I shall work for these ends," he concluded.

Yeamans is 37 years of age and is a graduate of the University of Idaho with the class of 1924. He lost his sight in a powder explosion at the age of 14.

U. S. SUGAR EXPORTS FOR YEAR ADVANCE

Practically every corner of the world is included in the 40 different countries to which United States refined sugar was shipped during the first four months of 1934. The United Kingdom leads the list with 8559 tons, being followed by Uruguay and Holland with 1072 and 938 tons respectively.

WHAT could possibly interest you more than to know that you can have, at no extra cost, a new and better milk that will give your family additional protection against the faulty bone development that often results in bowed legs and bad teeth and other tragic physical imperfections?

Our normal foods—even our most important food, milk—have been lacking in the very important vitamin D which people must have to protect them against those dangers. Now Sego Milk is enriched with this precious vitamin. An extra supply of it is created in Sego Milk by irradiation with ultra-violet rays—nature's own method of creating the vitamin—no foreign substance is added to the pure milk.

Irradiated Sego Milk—enriched with vitamin D—now provides additional protection against the tragic results of faulty bone and teeth development in childhood, of insufficient vitamin D in the diet of expectant and nursing mothers—protection against the damage that may be done to people of all ages by an inadequate supply of this precious vitamin.

Sego Milk has long been noted for its extraordinary qualities of sure safety, uniform double richness, and ready digestibility. Thousands of physicians have prescribed Sego Milk for babies because of these qualities. Many thousands of women use Sego Milk for all their milk and cream needs, because its double richness enables them more easily to put in their families' food the quantity of milk they ought to have.

The cost of Sego Milk is not increased because of the irradiation. It costs less generally than ordinary milk.

BID FOR BABES IN ITALY

Mussolini has found a subtler way than taxation to induce bachelors to marry. When the wedding ceremony is over, a government agent steps up to the couple and presents the groom with an insurance policy. With it goes a booklet explaining the religious and civil rules governing Italian matrimony.

The policy contains a clause providing that, upon the birth of Baby No. 6, said policy is to be declared paid up in full. One-half the face value will be paid at once to the proud father and mother. The remaining half will be paid either upon the father's death, or upon the silver wedding anniversary of the couple.

It remains to be seen whether this arrangement accomplishes all that Il Duce hopes from it. It does not look like a solution to the problem of surplus population and overcrowding which Italy, with its small area, faces.

THE COMING REVOLUTION

George Soule has just issued a new book entitled: "The Coming American Revolution," predicting, not bloodshed, but economic changes. Soule, in former works, has established a reputation for sound thinking along these lines.

"Capitalism," he says, "is fighting a rear guard action; the more it succeeds in saving itself the further it must retreat. . . . It must eventually retire and leave the field to collectivism."

He believes the Socialist Party will never win popular support, says the Communists have not risen in successful revolt in any advanced capitalist nation and will not here, and sees a real danger in Fascism, though of a less acute form than in Germany or Italy.

In general, the prophets have lost much honor in the last five years. Their greatest usefulness is in finding and assembling facts. When they attempt to reach prophetic conclusions from these they are confounded by their own limitations. The thoughts of a rice grower in China, insignificant before, now mean much to the world's future. The prophet cannot get to this man, or his brother, the hushman of Australia, or the sealer of Bering Straits, and thus neglects factors which may change the current of world life. To-day's prophets must think in world terms, must know the kind of thinking that is being done by two billion people.

WORK FOR EARLIER GRADUATES

Northwestern University, one of the colleges and universities making special surveys to discover the job opportunities for the 1934 graduate, reports that some big corporations are reserving places on their pay rolls for college people, as they usually did before the depression. There are indications that 60 per cent of those in the class of 1934 who want work will be "earning something by July 15." A year ago only 25 per cent of the class of 1933 were so happily situated.

All the new jobs available will not be plums for this year's graduates, however. In a number of cases, employers have expressed a preference for graduates of 1932 and 1933. The reason given is the belief these young men and women will have acquired keener appreciation of good jobs than the youngest group. Perhaps the preference might be justified on other grounds. The 1932 and 1933 people have a sort of seniority right to the jobs if their qualifications are otherwise equal.

A NEW LABOR BILL

Emergencies are marked with plenty of examples of plain, common sense thinking, as men under pressure are forced to take simple and direct courses. The new labor bill is a sample.

Confronted with strike threats and heated opposition to the Wagner labor disputes bill, the administration drafted a new bill as a substitute and prepared to rush it through before Congress adjourned. The new measure authorizes the President to establish non-partisan boards, with powers for conciliation and arbitration, to mediate labor disputes in any industry.

A step further would be the appointment of a permanent board or court, thus eliminating the delays that would otherwise attend board appointments.

The four Marx Brothers never conceived a better gag than those Russians who sent a Jewish ambassador to Hitler.

The meanest thing the Nazis have done is to rob the grave of Henry Ford's "Dear-born Independent" and drag out the ghost of anti-Semitism. The dead past is a darned poor sexton.

BEGINNING TO FIGURE

(North Side, Jerome, News)

Some time ago The News expressed the opinion that "recovery" would never be attained through government employment. All the relief money, so called, being borrowed and spent by the government is just that—borrowed. It does not render the beneficiary self-sufficient; it holds him out to him no future and it does not even assure him of that relief except from day to day.

As stated before, private employers have been "frozen out"—the government rate is too high and they cannot play the game and stay in it. This figured out in advance persuades many not to enter the game at all. This is now being realized, apparently, by the administration. More relief money is now being borrowed and poured into the "relief" rat hole and the hole is just as empty as it ever was.

Labor costs too much—does too much material with money—too great extent works. Lumber, rough lumber, as an illustration, for just an ordinary, old-fashioned farm gate, costs in Jerome $4.70, with the nails, hinges and hasp to come—it used—The latter two could be dispensed with if the user of the gate has a little wire and will submit to the trouble of using it. On that basis, what about the cost of material for even a hand-saw or garage, to say nothing of something pretentious.

Now that may not be too much. It would be fine if much prices could be paid. That is about what the farmer would receive. So a 160-pound hog. It is about the same as the price he received last season for a ton of good hay. If he sold hay. It is more than he could get for 200 pounds of beans now, or practically the price of the bushels of wheat in Jerome last week. It is somewhere around the price of a truckload of potatoes at this time, expense of sorting and the sacks delivered. The price of about 500 pounds of potatoes at the price they were sold for last winter when the bulk of local potatoes were sold. And the farmer does the work of making the gate.

And so it goes, in most any direction one may desire to follow out the question of just how dear are both labor and materials under the new deal.

No question there is a lot of work to be done, not by the government—but by private individuals, especially property owners. But the conditions and circumstances and plans at present suggest the work, the improvements, be deferred, and they are being deferred, indefinitely.

CUTTING UP AMERICA

(Chicago Tribune)

There is a growing tendency among the states to exclude one another's products. The latest instance is the proposal in Massachusetts to limit the sale of Wisconsin-made products. It will sell only products of Wisconsin made in a process by the Wisconsin Manufacturers Association, pointing out that if eastern states continue to put embargoes on Wisconsin products it will be impossible for the people of Wisconsin to purchase the products of the east.

Certainly this tendency to destroy free trade among the states is one of the most mischievous developments of our economic history. It will sell only products of Wisconsin made in a process by the Wisconsin Manufacturers Association, pointing out that if eastern states continue to put embargoes on Wisconsin products it will be impossible for the people of Wisconsin to purchase the products of the east.

The tendency of this time to give up policies and even principles which have fostered the great material and social prosperity of the American people for a century and a half is a folly which no other people has ever surpassed and it cannot be too promptly checked and repudiated by the intelligence and right feeling of our people.

WASHINGTON
By George Durno
ERRONS. You read in your paper the other day a story to the effect that American foreign trade has been cumulatively disadvantageous during the past 38 years. Also that the world therefore owes "us" over twenty-two billion dollars for goods.

If you failed to read this, it wasn't President Roosevelt's fault. He tried to tell the story so well it would be printed widely and prominently. The statement that our trade balance has been going steadily into the red since 1896 is confusing after what you've been hearing from Washington for years. You'll hear still more about it from now on.

Mr. Roosevelt caused a report to the effect that the tariff schedule drafted by George N. P. to be made public with one big purpose in mind. It was the opening gun in an educational campaign to dispel the popular conception of "a favorable trade balance." Primarily, the campaign is being directed at the newspaper men, who for years past have been led by the Department of Commerce to assume a campaign to dispel the popular conception of "a favorable trade balance."

LESSONS. Not so, says George Peck. The difference constitutes a loss of reciprocal tariff negotiations to the world economy. There is to be a small talk of "favorable balance" by the Commerce Department. The myth that we all prosper if a few exporters grow rich is to be buried. Back of all this may be found the series of reciprocal tariff negotiations the Roosevelt administration is about to launch with various world powers.

Preliminary discussions looking to mutual lowering of tariff barriers have been started with half a dozen nations. More are in the immediate offing. No matter what manner of trade we make in each case there will be a "favorable balance" interest built-in or at least it will be so if it were.

The Democrats are getting additional encouragement from registration reports out of Los Angeles. California primary is August 28. Registration doesn't stop until the end of July. Late reports have convinced the Democrats they will have more voters registered in Los Angeles than the opposition when the books close.

Underground rumors are being inspired these days in Los Angeles. It is said that the Democrats are standing—that President Roosevelt is at it.

Sues Stepmother

It is losing some of his popularity. Be that as it may, it's a bet that Mrs. Roosevelt is holding her own.

A correspondent reports that when the First Lady appeared in Washington, D. C., last week, a crowd of 3,000 had been expected. Instead, more than 8,000 stormed the auditorium and managed to get in while "enough to fill a football stadium" remained outside.

NOTES. The House Loan Board is rapidly increasing its personnel in Washington. Refusal of Congress to pass the amended H. A. act will be offset by big disbursements of federal money and bigger ones are coming with Congress away. F. D. I. has been handicapped by a lack of expert advisers in dealing with the steel situation. General Hugh Johnson doesn't think Dan Roper is organizing the Hot Springs conference of big business men. They are apt to throw money-wringers into the House way again. Senate plan to skip Ferdinand Pecora's next bonus. He's getting $300 a month salary for his investigation work.

NEW YORK

By James McCallin

LOANS. The age of miracles isn't over. One or more large New York banks have been asked to make a first mortgage loans on local real estate again.

The loans won't be lavish. Mostly they will be for the purpose of renovation of property to produce a better income, for payment of back taxes to enable an owner to clear his title or even to make a new investment. The lenders will adhere strictly to the rule that full repayment of the loans must be guaranteed in from three to five years. The banks haven't shed their conservatism.

What are real estate loans for? Commercial banks—after years of slumping such business as they would the plague—are significant of a change in credit that should have been reaching reality.

The bankers who consented to the project hope their gesture will stir a little current in the real estate market and will also shut off the personal criticism that, shortly, is bound to come. Then there's a neat angle of sliding from under a distasteful alternative.

NIFTY. Governor Lehman hasn't said publicly but the forthcoming special session of the New York legislature was planned in part to revise and pass the Alster-Cook bill. This bill was designed to relieve the distressed holders of defaulted mortgage certificates by lending them money. The measure contemplated supplying part of the necessary funds from the New York banks in the form of capital for a lending corporation.

"This idea never appealed to the bankers at all. They couldn't see that certificate holders would be relieved by going to bank. Also they seriously doubted that the bulk of advances might be applied to make would ever be repaid. But the Governor was strong for the bill and so were real estate interests and it looked as if banking whines would be overruled.

After too many years, a New York county treasury. I still have only a vague idea as to my province as a voting reporter in the metropolis. An amusee stopped in to ask if it weren't possible that New York couldn't be more than Broadway. With a view to the "Beverly, Greenwich Village and such."

"It does that, indeed," I was compelled to admit. "But I am so used to the smoky, foggy, noisy atmosphere of Manhattan that when I sit about to visit such refreshing family communities as we have on Long Island, Westchester and New Jersey, I usually get fresh air poisoning. A true Manhattanite should chambers to go through compression havers. His deep nose directs, it is his lungs conditioned to the compressed air of the skyscraper canyons when he returns from suburban environment.

An appropriate point that might be made here is one that will be appreciated by those out-of-town folk who have moved to New York.

For instance, you are a native of Minneapolis, Minn., and you are now living on East 44th street, Manhattan, New York. Friends from your home town move here, but they take an apartment in Andrews avenue in The Bronx. You are supposed to visit them, naturally.

You are both living in New York City, and on a map it appears that you are practically living around the corner from one another. But you'll find that the distance is much greater.

You make an appointment to dinner, and you start out from your East 44th street home. Up the east side elevated you go, get off at the station on East Andrews avenue and take a trolley. It is a good two hours' trip, and it is even longer when you start home late at night when the trolleys and subways do not run so frequently. So, it is understood, to visit a friend in New York, you take up as much time as 7 or 8 hours.

You may live in New York and your closest friend may live in New York, but unless you are in the same neighborhood, there is a possibility that you may see each other as seldom as if one lived in Maine and the other in New Jersey.

A New Yorker at Large

By MARE BARRON

NEW YORK—Despite all the sugary press-agent legends, most of the stage children I've encountered have been almost intolerable infants. Many of them are impudent, but what you especially resent is the fact that they are far wiser than they should be for their years.

All of which is merely a preamble to the conversation overheard when two 10-year-olds met at a theatrical gathering. One of them was the young daughter of a playwright, and the other the child of a Hollywood movie actress who had just arrived here to be starred in a stage play.

"How do you like New York?" asked the first.

"I don't know," answered the infant from the west coast. "I've only been here a day."

"Are you going to stay long?"

"I have no idea."

By FREDERICK GARDNER (Associated Press Financial Writer)
NEW YORK, June 18.—Sugar, tobacco and preferred stocks continued the major gains today in a mixed and active market.
After advancing into new high ground for the recovery movement from the mid-day lull at the week end, the market settled into a slow drift.

Unexpected delay in the adjournment of congress made traders more alert. Although Wall street believed the legislators would stick close to their program in the final hour, the market reacted to the news.

The market accepted trade news indifferently. With professional speculation in the sugar and tobacco operations, trading thinned out as the market settled into a slow drift.

Gains Outnumber Losses
Gains of fractions to 2 points outnumbered minor losses at the finish. The market closed at a company average of 90 stocks crept up one-tenth of a point to 82.4.

Advances in new sugar issues and improvement in the position of Cuban producers under legislation approved by the House, were the main factors in the sugar market. American Beet Sugar company and preferred, American Sugar Refining, and American Sugar preferred stock all advanced. Sugar preferred stock at new 1934 peaks on advances of fractions to 2 points.

American Tobacco B and Liggett and Myers sold up 1/2 point on a few small gains. American Tobacco B and 1/2 points were scored in the market by J. C. Cattle.

Modest gains offset small losses among pivot issues like American Sugar, American Tobacco, and Montgomery Ward and General Electric. Consolidated Gas and U. S. Steel.

The even course of security markets was common to most commodity issues. Grains were firm, with wheat closing 3/4 to 3/8 higher. Corn and soybeans were steady. Cattle and hogs were higher, and corn and soybeans were steady.

Light butchers' stock was steady. Heavy butchers' stock was steady. Light hogs were steady. Heavy hogs were steady.

Light hogs were steady. Heavy hogs were steady. Light hogs were steady. Heavy hogs were steady.

COUNCILMEN STUDY FIRE AREA PLANS

Jaycee-Instigated Measure Discussed Pro and Con By "City Dads"

Efforts of the Twin Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce to establish a special fire district outside the city limits and the proposed district were discussed pro and con at a meeting of the city council last night. The proposed district is scheduled to be named the Twin Falls County Fire Protection district and plans have it to extend the protection within the limits of Twin Falls independent school district, taking in approximately 40 square miles of territory around Twin Falls. Fire equipment other than that owned by the city will be provided if the plan works out and a separate staff of firemen will be maintained with the city fire chief at the head of the group.

In response to a query of the council, the Idaho Surveying and Rating bureau, with headquarters in Boise, was asked to estimate the cost of the insurance rates would be markedly decreased if such a district is put into effect. The rating bureau put in four improvements to reduce the rates.

Suggested Hydrants
Suggested improvements include: A hydrant for each 100,000 feet of area; a turret pipe for hose and chemical truck; a deluge set for the pump-and-draw; an additional cellar pipe be provided; that building and electrical codes be adopted; and that an adequate fire prevention ordinance be put into effect.

A letter received by the mayor from Mark M. Murtough of San Francisco was read before the council. Murtough requested that blocks 10, 10 1/2, 11 and the north-half of block 9 of Murtough's second addition be withdrawn from the city limits. He stated that it was but farm land and that he had lost three opportunities to sell the land in the past few months due to the existing city limits.

Murtough pointed out that there are absolutely no city improvements on the land. The council turned the matter over to City Attorney George Paulsen.

Protest Date Set
The sprinkling assessment bill of local improvement districts—numbered 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100—will be presented by City Commissioner James O. Johnston. Cost of sprinkling was estimated at $15,000 and the council approved the measure. Date of protest against excessive levies was set at July 23.

O. W. Lavin, superintendent of the filter plant, submitted reports from the state department of public welfare. Both showed negative tests for Twin Falls water.

RILEY MILLINERY TO DISCONTINUE BUSINESS
Misses Rita and Stella Riley, proprietors of S. M. Riley and company, milliners, announce that they will discontinue their merchandise stock and fixtures, and conclude their business career in Twin Falls. The firm was established here 24 years ago.

The Misses Riley stated last evening that although they were retiring from business, they would continue to reside in Twin Falls. They came here in 1910, establishing headquarters in the Twin Falls Bank and Trust building. For the past several years they have been located at 161 Main avenue west.

Merchandise will be disposed of at retail sale. An offer has been made by an outside buyer whose name was not revealed.

Burley Guardsmen Victims Of Accident
BOISE, June 18 (AP)—Ralph Fitzsimmons and Leland Olson, private of Burley, were in a Boise hospital tonight recovering from minor injuries received when a truck in which they were riding with 50 other guardsmen was wrecked here this afternoon.

The truck, driven by Harry Augsbury, also of Burley, was being used in hauling bridge materials. It was the first accident of a serious nature since the guard campment opened here a week ago last Sunday.

EXTRA MONEY FOR RELIEF ACTIVITIES

County Administration Maps Schedule With $4000 for Rest of Month

Twin Falls county relief administration with $4000 of FERA funds obtained yesterday, after all of the original $15,775 allotment for the month had been exhausted, prepared last night to continue work relief and direct relief on a severely curtailed basis—the remainder of the month.

Bob H. Warner, county placement officer, said last evening J. P. Macaron, district administrator, has secured the additional allotment for the month when he told state relief administration officials in Boise yesterday that all forms of federal relief would be suspended for the remainder of the month in this county, unless additional funds were forthcoming, and that the situation here would be serious.

A work list will be posted this morning, Warner said, and work resumed on all work relief projects.

JOHNSTON SPEAKS ON FERA'S SHORTCOMINGS

Duncan McD. Johnston, Twin Falls mayor, addressed a meeting of Twin Falls New Deal club and the Federal labor union in parish hall, Twin Falls, tomorrow evening. It was announced yesterday. The mayor is to speak on "Shortcomings of the FERA," and is expected to offer some suggestions for improvement of the relief administration program, members of the program stated.

Everything possible is being done to apply all of the money available to manual labor and direct relief, Warner said. The administrative office force has been reduced from 12 to 6 persons, and all expenditures for operation of motor trucks has been eliminated.

A $5000 deduction from the original $15,775 allotment for merchants' bills authorized by direct relief orders threw the county relief administration's June budget out of balance with the result that all funds available for today's additional allotment were exhausted the first two weeks of the month, Warner said.

Drought relief projects, Salmon River canal improvement and building of the Rogers-Shoshone Basin road are not affected by the shortage of FERA funds.

TEASURER FIRST TO FILE FOR NOMINATION

First candidate for nomination for Twin Falls county office at the forthcoming elections, Mrs. Cora E. Stevens, county treasurer, yesterday filed in the county auditor's office her nomination for re-election for a third term, subject to the Democratic primaries.

No other nominations were filed yesterday, the first day of a 30-day period for filing of candidate's nominations, Frank J. Smith, county auditor, said.
