MILITARY FORCES ASSUME CONTROL OF MINNEAPOLIS

Governor Olson Proclaims Martial Law in Metropolitan Area; 4,000 Men Ordered To Preserve City's Peace

(By The Associated Press) MINNEAPOLIS, July 26.—The heavy foot of military rule stepped down on striking truck drivers and their employers today.

Gov. Floyd B. Olson placed 4,000 national guardsmen in control of the city for preservation of law and order during the strike.

The governor reacted to this drastic step when employers, condemning what they called "un-American" tactics, failed to accept without reservations, the peace plan ultimatum given both sides by federal mediators.

Regulations controlling by military rule were announced by Adjutant General E. A. Walsh. For the most part, residents of the city were unaffected by the orders, which prohibited movement of commercial trucks except on permits issued by official permit, and forbade outdoor gatherings of more than 100 persons unless officially permitted.

Troops in full equipment began moving into the city in force to take over such functions as the maintenance of order and the control of violence in which one was fatally wounded and 97 others hurt, most of them shot, when police fired on strikers attacking a loaded truck last Friday.

The employers rejected the wage scale proposal, stipulating $31.00 per hour for inside workers, $32.00 for outside workers, and $33.00 for night workers. The employers, on the other hand, offered the scale of $28.00 per hour, with a maximum of $30.00 per hour.

When the employers' advisory committee defied the governor's order, the city was placed under martial law. The governor's order was issued at 11:00 a. m.

Strikers Aided Terms CHICAGO, July 26 (AP)—Striking truck handlers, who were ordered to stop work today, rejected a "compromise" proposal of the employers to-night.

John Gorman, head of the handlers' union, while refusing to disclose the proposed terms, said that the employers and the union, said they failed to change the present scale of the 900 union men, about half of whom attended the meeting, he said, virtually unanimously for rejection.

New negotiations, however, were expected to begin tomorrow in effect.

REFRESHING WINDS COOL MIDWEST

Breezes and Showers Afford Temporary Respite From Torrid Blasts

(By The Associated Press) Rain and cooling breezes Thursday night and today cooled the heat which held most of the nation in its grip for a week and had caused a record high of 110 degrees in Southern California.

Generally cooler temperatures were reported in all sections and there was an abrupt leveling off of weather deaths and caused by heat.

The Pacific Southwest, however, was in the grip of a heat blast. Pasadena with 106 and the highest reading for July so far: 110; Riverside with 108 and 110; San Bernardino with 110.

Heat Stroke Reported While moisture afforded some temporary relief, the heat stroke cases reported in California were not lessened.

The area was hit by a heavy rain on Wednesday, added an estimated 30 victims to the list of weather deaths and caused hundreds of thousands of dollars damage to crops and property.

GEOGRAPHIC PARTY SURVIVES HAZARDS OF COLORADO RIVER

Intrepid Explorers Conquer Dangerous Rapids Enroute To Boulder Dam; Seek Pictorial Record of Canyon

(By The Associated Press) GRAND CANYON, Ariz., July 26.—Surviving the terrific buffeting of the rocks and rapids of the Colorado river, Clyde Eddy, member of the Explorers club of New York and the Royal Geographic society, and Dr. Russell G. Frazier, physician-sportsman of Salt Lake City, today at last experienced freedom to the foot of Bright Angel Trail to complete the last leg of their hazardous journey to Boulder dam.

The party started at Lee's Ferry at dawn last Thursday and covered 100 miles of the 350-mile trip.

Wealth of Data Wanted The purpose of the expedition is to complete a pictorial record begun by Eddy in 1927, to complete temperature records through the Grand Canyon, and to accumulate geographical data concerning the river and canyons above Boulder dam.

Eddy said archaeological finds of unusual interest in Vasey's Paradise, 20 miles south of Lee's Ferry, delayed the expedition in reaching here earlier.

Vasey's Paradise, a green oasis with a small stream of clear water pouring into the generally barren Colorado river gorge, was named by Major John Wesley Powell in 1896 during the first expedition of White men down the stream.

A noted botanist, was a friend of Powell's.

Memorial Established The Eddy-Frazier party placed a bronze plaque at Separation Rapids where three members of Major Powell's party left his expedition and were killed on the rim of the canyon.

Decades finding willow trees shaded by prehistoric cliff dwellers to the west, the party was surprised by the discovery of a number of cliff dwellings in an extensive area.

Photographs of them to the American Museum of Natural History to determine if they should be explored further.

Skeletons Discovered The gruesome uncovering of a partially completed skeleton revealed three men who had been killed by a protecting cliff and the absence of any human aid lay there for a long time.

When Eddy made the 1927 trip the river flow was 110,000 second feet, but today the present flow of approximately 300,000 feet, probably the lowest in history.

The meeting first, Eddy explained traveling was easier and faster but rocks hidden by water were extremely dangerous.

At Europe's Trouble Center

Austria, where Chancellor Dollfuss was slain by Nazis, has been a place of unrest for many months. Bordered on the east by the redoubtable Balkan states, the little republic is a buffer between Nazi Germany and the Soviet Union.

Austria Comes To Grips With Nazi Rebellion

Civil Warfare Spreads In Southern Provinces; Death Toll Estimated At 300, Many Wounded

48,000 ITALIAN TROOPS ON BORDER

(By The Associated Press) VIENNA, Friday, July 27.—Civil warfare between rebel Nazis and government forces, its death toll already estimated at around 300 with many more wounded, gave indications of spreading early today as an aftermath of the assassination of Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss.

There was uneasiness in the Murtag valley, main artery to Vienna, and a detachment of federal troops was reported on its way there. Trouble also was reported at Liesing and Balmatal.

A secret messenger picked up by the gendarmes at Graz indicated that Nazis, through a hidden radio station, had broadcast an appeal to cohorts throughout Austria to assist Ernst and his government in overthrowing the government of Prince Ernst von Starhemberg.

Artillery in Action Artillery fire and the rattle of machine guns were heard from the hills near the city of Linz, according to the most recent advices, had come to a standstill. There government federal soldiers had been battling rebel Nazis for possession of the city, gained by Nazis shortly after the killing of Chancellor Dollfuss Wednesday.

All public communications—rail, telegraph, telephone and post—were stopped. However, news reached Vienna from Graz by way of police radio.

Italians on Border Reports from Carinthia and Styria indicated no Italian troops were in the border area, although 48,000 foreign soldiers stood ready in warlike accommodations, waiting orders to move.

Mobilization of Nazi forces in southern Austria reported. Many of them, from the towns of Salzburg, Innsbruck and Vienna, were reported to be moving toward the border.

Rebels Losing Ground Altogether it appeared from reports that the rebels were losing ground, although government forces were not uniformly successful.

Artillery fire rumbled within Austrian borders for the first time since the outbreak of the civil war. Fighting in the south progressed. Field pieces were trundled into the battle line.

Government forces, especially in their drive to recapture Linz, were making gains. In Styria reports had 180 Nazis and 100 gendarmes killed. Twenty-five Nazis were dead in a battle near the city of Salzburg.

Nazis Beat Retreat Near the airport in Annsbruck, a sudden retreat was reported. Authorities said they discovered plans for a Nazi mobilization, 200 Nazis were reported to be moving toward the border.

At picturesque Sankt Veit, 30 miles north of Klagenfurt, 400 Nazis captured a train machine gun. Government forces attacked them and a desperate battle ensued.

Machine Gun Battle A machine gun battle raged at Feldkirchen Ossiacher near Villach and Woldgraben. The outcome was not learned in Vienna.

One town, Rattenberg, on the Yugoslavian border, fell into a struggle as government troops moved in upon Nazi occupation forces. Austrian Nazis were reported to have fled across the border and surrendered to Yugoslavian authorities.

There was fighting apparently just as serious in other sections. Fighting in the north was reported between battle lines at Donawitz and Auesee. Earlier reports told of deaths and many casualties.

Calls Upon Veterans The government called upon veterans and former officers and soldiers to be ready to answer a call to the government to fight against the rebels.

Ernst Reichle, a former member of "King Anton" Rintelen, the late Austrian leader, was reported to have been taken to Rome, where he was arrested.

Dr. Rintelen, editor-in-chief of a Vienna newspaper, was taken into custody. He was reported to have been taken to Rome, where he was arrested.

SUICIDE FOLLOWS DILLINGER DEATH

James Probasco, Quizzed Regarding Outlaw, Leaps From Skyscraper

CHICAGO, July 26 (AP)—James Probasco, seventeenth victim of the crime Frankenstein fashioned by John Dillinger, leaped to his death today from the nineteenth floor of a loop skyscraper.

Samuel P. Cowley, acting chief of the Chicago bureau of department of justice, had just questioned him concerning use of his home as a makeshift infirmary where a plastic surgeon altered the features of Dillinger and Homer van Meter. Apprehension of the doctor in the case was reported late in the day but officials would not verify the rumor.

Cowley and his assistants stepped from the room into their office to devise a new series of queries. There was a crash of glass as the prisoner catapulted himself from the window and hurtled to the alley below.

The government man leaped back into the room and stared down at the crumpled heap below. The body narrowly missed a pedicab.

Probasco, 37, doctor, lander and proprietor of a tavern, was seized by the federal agent at his north side home last night. Cowley said he had a record as a bootlegger and was reputed to be some knowledge of veterinary arts acquired when he conducted a lively stable years ago. Cowley announced he had evidence that the bandits submitted to the surgery at the Probasco home and testified that the surgeon was known.

Operation on Girl, 12, Awaits Formal Order From Court

DENVER, July 26 (AP)—A juvenile court judge today declared doctors should not hesitate to proceed with "irreversible" operation on a 12-year-old girl and physicians declined to act because the judge failed to issue an order.

The girl is in Denver General hospital and physicians said the birth of a child would mean her death. The judge of the juvenile court has no authority to order an operation, or to make an order in this case, said Judge George J. Williams.

"The doctors should not hesitate to proceed. There is no reason for them to fear action by the district attorney and already the city attorney has made clear the law under which the operation may be performed."

Ogden Men Killed In Challis Auto Crash

OGDEN, Utah, July 26 (AP)—Frank Rouns and Carl A. Johnson, both of Ogden, were killed in an automobile accident 40 miles north of Challis, Idaho, today, the Ogden police department was advised tonight.

No details of the accident were given in the message relayed through a dispatcher to the Ogden police department.

The party left here last night, introducing a car in the rugged section of central Idaho.

Mr. Rouns was a property owner here and operated two beer parlors. Johnson was an employee of Rouns.

Detective Margaret A. J. Gale of Ogden and William J. Blackburn, insurance man and real estate dealer, also of Ogden, were injured in the crash.

trial production average for June at 100.0 and for July at 99.5.

The decline on output from the May and June figures was accounted for largely by a sharp drop in cotton textile mill activity, with an adverse trend also shown by lumber mills and coal mines. In June, 1933, the index was 100.0.

Wholesale prices advanced during June, the board reported, but added this was largely attributable to advancing farm products.

Other commodities declined slightly.

ALL-BRAN MADE HIM REGULAR AS CLOCK

Delicious Cereal Corrected His Constipation

We quote from his voluntary and enthusiastic letter: "After reading your advertisement, I decided to take ALL-BRAN. I have been taking pills right along. But now I don't have to take pills."

I take ALL-BRAN every morning, and am as regular as the clock. It has done me a lot of good."

Stephen Higgins, 51 S. Main St., South Norwalk, Conn.

Common constipation frequently causes headaches, loss of appetite and energy. Yet this condition can be overcome, usually, by eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

Facts about this delicious cereal provides "bulk" and vitamin B to aid elimination. ALL-BRAN is also rich in iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently this clears out the intestinal wastes.

Isn't this safer than taking harmful patent medicines? Two table-spoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal, are especially benefited. Your doctor, ALL-BRAN makes no claim to be a "cure-all."

Enjoy ALL-BRAN as a cereal with milk or cream. Use it in making fluffy muffins and breads, etc. Get the red-and-green package at your grocer. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

AUSTRIA COMES TO GRIPS WITH NAZI REBELLION

torious over the rebellious Nazis in last night's fighting.

Heavy resistance was encountered on the line between Stettin and Siedman advice said, but the government was represented as confident of re-taking Stettin in the course of today's fighting. Troops also were preparing to storm Feldkirch.

Nazi forces occupying the Upper Danub valley were actively will cleared out, said a communiqué.

In Lesenau and Galtai and Rosenthal quiet prevailed for the time being. The heilwehr has not yet been able to capture Hohenberg because a commander fell in action. The railway line between Kuehnstorf and Eisenland was re-occupied from the Nazis.

Blat Way Through Streets

The Fascist Heimwehr was reported to have successfully stormed a railway station at Bleiburg and re-occupation of the town itself was under way. Government forces with machine guns and hand grenades blasted their way through streets after street. Casualties were not given.

The morning newspapers in Vienna displayed in type news of the concentration of Italian troops on the Austrian border.

"Italy is ready to march," said the Wiener Journal in banner headlines. "Military preparations of Italy blossomed the Tagblatt newspaper."

Von Starbemberg at Helm

Prince Ernst von Starbemberg, 35-year-old leader of the loyal Heimwehr, which supported Dollfus, rushed back from Venice and took charge of the government. He stepped from the vice chancellorship to the position left vacant by the Nazi bullets which killed his diminutive but courageous chief.

Von Starbemberg, after relieving Kurt Schuschnigg, named to act temporarily as head of the government, called the cabinet together in the heavily guarded, mourning-draped government building to begin the work of reconstruction.

As a gesture of respect the first act of the cabinet, despite the critical situation at home and abroad, was to provide for the financial future of the children.

Then attention was given to the 144 Nazis who held the chancellery while Dollfus was killed and whose guarantee of safe conduct to Germany was revoked when it was learned what had been done.

Revolt Leaders Held

A special military court of four officials will try the men and others being reported.

Involved in the Uprising. Among the persons arrested was a close friend of Himmler, General Wagner of the army. There was a report he had taken his own life after being seized at Graz.

Across the Italian border, 45,000 troops were massed, ready for an eventual assault, particularly to act for the preservation of Austrian independence.

Yugoslavian troops across the border from the province of Carinthia watched closely the movements of Nazi troops and government soldiers a few yards from them. One report said the Yugoslavians fired across the border into Austria.

Yugoslavia in Line of Fire

This was not confirmed, but the situation was particularly tense there because of the danger that a battle between the Austrian forces would send bullets into Yugoslavia. Toward Germany, home of Hitler, however, the Austrian Fascists could look with more comfort than during the turbulent days of the Dollfus government.

From the foreign minister of the third reich, in which outlived Austrian Nazis by the thousands have found a friendly refuge, came expressions of condolence.

Moreover, the German government withdrew its minister, Kurt Rieth, because without authority he helped to arrange for the safe transit to Germany of Dollfus's killers.

German Border Re-Opened

(Developments in Germany indicated that, even had the safe transit been undertaken, the Nazis would have been refused admittance to Chancellor Hitler's court. The German border was closed last night, and was not reopened until late today.

The chancellery was reported to have given personally to Munich to prevent Austrian refugees from armed and equipped from marching to the aid of their rebellious comrades at home.

The government-inspired German press emphasized a "hands off" policy toward Austria, and a studied effort to avoid every appearance of having meddled in affairs of the neighboring country was in evidence.

Lashed By Italian Press

(The Germans have been lashed severely by the Italian press lately for not stopping Austrian Nazis from participating in terrorism against Dollfus.)

(The Italian government assumed a very stern attitude toward any element which might threaten the independence of Austria.

While Italian troops were on the border, however, an official communiqué stated that improved conditions in Austria made no further action necessary. Similar attitudes were said authoritatively to have been taken by Great Britain and France, likewise pledged to the maintenance of Austrian independence.)

tragedy which had come to her. She went to the chancellery where her husband's body lay in state, guarded by soldiers in the building where he had worked and where, although a devout Catholic, he had been denied the rites of the church as life ebbed away.

The grief-stricken widow asked the soldiers to leave her alone with the body, and also stood for several minutes beside it after they left the room.

Two Men Drown; U. S. War Vessel Rams Fishing Ship

SEATTLE, July 26 (AP)—The battleship Arizona rammed the 12-ton fishing boat Umatilla as their courses crossed in fog and darkness off Cape Slatery early today and two men on the little purse seiner were drowned.

As the water-logged hull of the Umatilla was taken into tow by the fishing boat Embury of Tacoma and beached near the Baddish Point life saving station on Nash bay, the seven other members of the purse seiner were reported safe.

The names of the victims were reported to the Thirtieth Naval district here as John Roemer and Lou Halson. Captain Lucas Planch, skipper of the Umatilla, was among those rescued.

Struck forward on the starboard side by the battleship, the Umatilla sank almost immediately in the water's edge. The Arizona hove to and lowered boats but could not find the purse seiner in the dark and fog.

When daylight came the Umatilla was sighted in tow of the Embury, which proceeded to tow the wreck to Nash bay.

AIDING THE DROUGHT

Springs are drying up over large areas in the United States, swamp lands have been changed into arid dust holes wells are no longer yielding water and crops are perishing for lack of moisture.

According to Secretary Wallace three more weeks without rain would result in a situation "serious indeed."

War clouds are gathering in Europe, cotton, grain and livestock will be in heavy demand if the countries involved have the money with which to pay. Diminishing all possibilities of such a market it is apparent upon the basis of things as they are that an actual shortage of foodstuffs faces the country and that next winter will bring about a condition in which anyone with anything to sell will probably find a market very different to the present one if those who lack food are to be provided for.

This seems apparent now. Something may happen to change it. Perhaps there will be rain in the middle West, perhaps there will not. But the situation is not going to be rendered easier to meet through the continued destruction of our already depleted stores of foodstuffs.

Cattle are being slaughtered to prevent them from starving to death. Perhaps it would be a good idea to transport these same cattle to some other section where the drought has not destroyed all possibilities of their being fed. Millions of sheep are to be killed and their owners compensated at the rate of two dollars a head for ewes. Wheat acreage is curtailed and cotton cut down. It may be that the American people will need meat, bread and clothing worse than they do now.

Secretary Wallace faces a tremendous responsibility when he uses the authority of his office to aid the work of the greatest and most serious period of drought, perhaps in the history of the country. It is to be hoped that he knows what he is doing. Such a responsibility is not to be accepted lightly.

OUR "TRUCK LANE"

It is apparent that Twin Falls as a unit is not exactly in favor of the routing of all through traffic on the new tourist by pass, generally referred to as the "truck lane." But the new artery has been designated as Federal Highway Number Thirty and just what can be done about it remains to be seen.

In the meantime a number of petitions protesting against the designation are being offered for signature and are being freely signed. These it is understood will be presented to the Mayor and Council at its next regular meeting.

Apart altogether from the question of highway designation through Twin Falls just about as dangerous a situation as could well be imagined exists at each end of the new road. There is no curb or any other marking to indicate the border of the through road, no means of any driver knowing which is highway and which further portion of the wide expanse of concrete which marks the intersection is not. The result is confusion, especially at night, of a kind which might easily result in serious accident. Some sort of marking of the boundaries of the actual highway for the benefit of through traffic is pointedly necessary.

IN AUSTRIA

Premier Dollfuss of Austria is dead at the hands of Austrian followers of Germany's Hitler. A gang of Nazi killers stalked him through the rooms of the federal chancellery and when they came up with him shot him to death.

Perhaps the murder was inevitable. Certainly conditions as between Germany and Austria for a long time past have been such as to excite the thought, Dollfuss himself lived in constant anticipation of death.

Thus the Hitler plan of military government for the German people overflows into neighboring states and threatens the peace and integrity of all Europe. Austria is denied independence and autonomy as a state by a comparatively small group inspired by the doctrines of a foreign state. War may follow. Certainly all Europe bears a closer resemblance to an armed camp than was the case at the time the phrase was first coined.

The wife of Dollfuss and their two small children were in Italy at the time of the murder. Premier Dollfuss was expected to join his family within the next few days. Instead of which the family was greeted yesterday morning with the announcement of his murder.

BORAH AS A CRITIC
(Indianapolis News)

Borah is a useful citizen of the United States. His persuasiveness may not be sufficient to win many followers to whatever cause he may be championing, but he has the faculty, both by his logic and the power of his oratory, to stir people to thought.

After all, this is the great value of able political leadership. If the people are aroused, not to emotional phobias, but to close thinking about their public life in terms of their personal experience, there need be no fear of the tyranny of bureaucracy, the extortion of monopoly or the aggrandizement of egoism who scatter the substance of the country to the winds.

Borah should be heard and encouraged, especially by those who do not agree with him.

GOING PASTRY FAR
(St. Paul Dispatch)

Possibly it is a penalty of progress that there have to be coarseness and pedantic wisecracks who go about smothering the treasured playthings of humanity. They have undermined the belief in fairy tales, raised doubts as to the dryness of a potato carried in the pocket as a cure for rheumatism, attacked the tradition that George Washington was a demigod and have even gone so far as to declare boldly that there isn't any Santa Claus.

And now Professor Emmanuel Carvallo of Paris cautions the climax by his brutal announcement that Einstein's relativity is not true. This throws humanity back to the dryness of a potato carried in the pocket as a cure for rheumatism, attacked the tradition that George Washington was a demigod and have even gone so far as to declare boldly that there isn't any Santa Claus.

TAXING THE BIKE
(New York Star-Mirror)

Nothing, apparently, can escape the eye of the tax-hunter public official trying, so hard, to make both ends meet in these days of heavy taxation and lots of pie to spend public money.

Up to date, the tax collector has been successful, having discovered, or think they have discovered, a new source of revenue. There's the bicycle, that of free wheeling. It's a vehicle. It uses the public thoroughfares. It has intrinsic value. It needs police traffic direction, same as any other vehicle.

Very nice. Let's tax it. Let's give every bicycle a motor number tag, at so much per tag, to pay, of course, for the police that is necessary. When bicycles carry license tags, the traffic cops can keep track of them. They can see that each rider signals for a left and right turn. They can check on speed and reckless driving.

Bicycles in Spokane are coming into the traffic system. Wonder if the city fathers have thought about such a scheme. Boy, what a revenue source. They, too, should bear their portion of the tax bill to pay for traffic supervision.

WHAT IS CONSTRUCTIVE
(Pocatello Tribune)

Defenders of the present administration constantly ask the Republican organization to present a "constructive program."

Isn't it constructive to urge sincerely that the federal government cease a policy which is plunging it into an all time high debt?

Isn't it constructive to realize that the only way that debts may be paid is thru taxes and that too high taxes dry up the industries which create employment?

Isn't it constructive to expect that congress has the right of legislative expression rather than be in the position of taking orders from a virtual dictator?

Isn't it constructive to protect the rights of small districts against NIRA fostered monopoly?

Isn't it constructive to develop a sentiment which will cause the people to produce and killing 'niggers' against business expense?

Isn't it constructive to raise the stop sign in the face of brain trust economic experiments which sound experience of the past indicates have ended in disaster?

In the position of minority party, what more constructive service could the Republican party perform under the conditions which have developed?

WASHINGTON

PLAN. Look out for a fast one by FDR. The wizard twirler is winding up, just when the crowd thinks he has thrown away his last card.

Many signs indicate that FDR will call an extra session of Congress this fall. This Congress will jump through the hoop for him. What the next one will do can't be foreseen.

Two or three fouls were struck by this Congress. But it made only one home run off FDR. That was when it passed the New Deal.

Historically this Congress did as it was told and it did again in called in extra session.

The New Economic Plan is further along than the public suspects. Little New Dealers are looking so-called instead of handing out lump-sum billions to New Dealers to be distributed as they wish.

Normally the Treasury sets its own price on the wire day and night. American park plans for the National Capital are under construction.

Justice, although Bureau, personally directs the squad that clean up gangsters throughout the country.

Wise ones at the Capitol look for a dazzling New Economic Plan—something that will outline every thing else and turn the public to the gladiators future.

By election time and here's why: unimpeachable to suggest swapping horses just as the driver is snapping the reins.

FDR is the equal of his legendary cousin T. R. in diverting the people from their troubles by offering something new—and therefore better.

FACETS. The biggest hurdle confronting the New Deal jumpers is the re-entrenchment of NIRA. It must be done in such a way as to satisfy both the industry and the public.

General Johnson threw out broad hints that the new NIRA is ready for the Congress hopper. Maybe he knows that Borah will be at his desk in the Senate in October and not on the stump roaring against NIRA.

What's more, Johnson said to Borah, "Why roast the old NIRA when the new NIRA is before you, waiting for your vote?"

NEWS. It isn't on any mere hunch.

X-Ray Scientist Loses Arm After Cancer Develops

HOLLYWOOD, July 26 (AP)—A

MARY of medical fame and Dr. Charles Harvey Archibald, member of a distinguished family, which for decades of years has boasted of unbroken families of physicians, was in a local hospital today, his arm amputated as the result of pneumonia.

It was shortly after the German, Roentgen, discovered the ray as a source of medical knowledge.

Dr. Archibald, then a young physician in New York, took up his use. He was a member of the American Society of Roentgenologists.

Dr. Archibald, like others, refused to abandon his work in the development of the most valuable diagnostic aid of medicine and surgery.

Four years ago, the cancer became so violent that it was necessary to amputate Dr. Archibald's finger. The cancer recurred and today became necessary to amputate the arm.

Dr. Archibald is the husband of Ruth Helen Davis, actress and dramatist. He said he is a literal descendant of Sir William Harvey, who as a physician to King James I of England, discovered the circulation of the blood.

NEW YORK, July 26—Stocks plunged downward today in the wildest break since last July as fears aggravated heavily sentiment and brought a flood of liquidation. Losses of 2 to 10 points were numerous. On the average, about 20 points to the lowest level recorded since early May, 1933, breaking through the low points of last July as well as last October. Bonds joined the decline, with the 2½ percent U. S. Treasury note falling 1½ points to 101.10. The general cotton market closed steady, with last prices showing net losses of 4 to 10 points.

REFINANCING MAKES WORK FOR RECORDER

Twin Falls County Official
Reports Biggest Three-Month Business

Federal land bank refinancing of farm mortgages is largely responsible for the biggest three months' business for Twin Falls county recorder's office since 1929, Frank J. Smith, county auditor and recorder, reported to county commissioners.

His report showed $422,500 net receipts of the office for the quarter ending last July 7. The corresponding quarter last year showed $232 receipts and the records disclose a gradual increase each quarter since that time.

Provided the volume of business first shown and the next two quarters, the recorder's office will show a considerable margin of income over expenditures, Mr. Smith said. Expenses last year exceeded the office's expenses by approximately $100.

SCOUTS, LEADERS HOME FROM CAMP

Two Weeks at Sawtooth Provide Recreation and Training

Two weeks Boy Scout camping season at Camp Sawtooth on Wood river above Emaley hot springs provided a recreational and training period for 118 boys and 11 leaders the first week and 130 boys and 19 leaders the second week, Andy Frederick, Snake River area executive said here yesterday.

With Mrs. Frederick he returned late Wednesday from the Sawtooth camp, and immediately began making preparations for opening the second week of the season at Camp Independence, in the hills south of Burley, beginning next Monday.

One or two Twin Falls troops and one Kimberly troop will camp at Independence, along with Boy Scouts from Camia and Minidoka counties, he said.

During the two-week camping season at Sawtooth, he said, many Scouts completed qualification for advanced ratings and merit badges which will be awarded at Court of Honor sessions in the several districts represented.

The scout executive told of a Boy Scout fishing excursion to a lake on the north side of Ocala summit one day last week. Members of the party rode on horse back to the lake, reached the lake, fished did not bite until a thunderstorm struck the region, and the storm members of the party caught several trout and returned to camp in a drenching rain.

No serious damage was reported. The storm did not hit Frontier park, where the annual "Frontier days" rodeo is in progress this week.

WHEAT CREDITORS MUST SIGN PROOF

Crop Control Organization
Seeks Growers Who Have Money Coming

Looking toward distribution of a second 1933 wheat allotment benefit payment among Twin Falls county growers, Twin Falls county wheat production control association directors announced last evening that a number of tenant farmers last year who have since moved away must sign proof of compliance in order to receive this payment.

The county organization has no record of the present whereabouts of a number of growers who entered into wheat allotment contracts last year, and who are eligible to receive the second 1933 benefit payment if they sign the proof of compliance, H. O. Lauterbach of Hansen, chairman of the association, said. A considerable amount of money will be lost to these growers unless they make themselves known and complete their proof. Blanks for completing proof of compliance are available at the association's headquarters in the county agent's office.

Completing Measurement

Measurement of Twin Falls county 1934 wheat fields aggregating 23,384 acres under wheat allotment contracts—with the federal government is nearing completion, it was announced.

More than two score supervisors and assistants who have been employed in this work have been laid off, and clean up has been delegated to a crew of three men.

Measurement was to determine that land under contract had not been used to wheat or put to other use in violation of the wheat crop reduction contract terms.

Money in Cache Listed Part Of Coulson Estate

An estate of $25,000 estimated value was left by Chris Coulson, one of the Twin Falls country's first settlers who was found dead in a hay field near his one-room bachelor residence at Murtough last Sunday.

A petition for appointment of Dr. T. D. Reed of Twin Falls as administrator of the estate which was filed in the probate court here yesterday listed as part of the estate Coulson's 600-acre farm, a $7000 deposit in the Hasleton bank, notes and mortgages, and $1000 which Sheriff M. F. Prior discovered in the granary on Coulson's farm after the body was discovered. The inventory included also some 30,000 pounds of beans, including what was said to be Coulson's 1830 bean crop.

Heirs are two brothers and one sister, all residents of Utah. Mrs. Bert Jackson, Nephi, Utah, a sister, petitioned for Dr. Reed's appointment as administrator. Dr. Reed had reared an orphan niece of Coulson's.
