HEAT WAVE SENDS MERCURY SOARING IN MIDDLE WEST

Drouth Extends Far Flung Domain; Iowa Death Toll Mounts; States of Rocky Mountain Region Swelter

Centering its devastating attack on Kansas and Missouri, the red-hot heat wave sent temperatures to new highs in many parts of the middle west Tuesday.

The Rocky mountain and western states shared in the heat bombardment and the drouth extended its far flung domain.

Temperatures of 108 degrees were recorded at Long Prairie, Minn., reported from Ottumwa and Keokuk 103. The heat wave brought death to four persons in the last four days, deaths of two children at Muscatine yesterday were attributed to the heat.

Kansas and Missouri remained in the grip of the 100-degree temperatures which held fast as of today. The official reading at Topeka was 108 at mid-afternoon and 109 at 10 p. m. The lowest stage after record, Kansas City had its fourth consecutive day of 100 degrees being higher. The 24 hour minimum was 86.

Highest Of Year Popular bluff, Missouri, sweltered as the mercury showed an official 107, the highest of the year. Many other Missouri cities reported 100 degrees or higher.

Cattlemen at Dodge City, Kansas, where the temperature at noon was 107 degrees, asserted there was not enough feed to carry drouth weakened cattle through even a mild winter unless rain were received soon.

Community canning plants to preserve beef slaughtered here were closed on Tuesday because of the drouth which was decided upon for each Oklahoma county as the heat wave remained unbroken. A minimum of 103 was reached at Billings, Montana.

President Brings Message Of Hope To Drouth Region

'I Will Not Give Up Until I Can Give My Good Service To Solving Problem of North Dakota, Roosevelt Says

EN ROUTE WITH PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT TO WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—President Roosevelt crossed the scared plains of the northwest tonight with a message of hope to the government would do everything possible to counteract the heretofore unsolvable problem of drouth.

Making no promise, the president frankly told a dust-laden crowd at Devils Lake, South Dakota, last night that he did not know the solution but he gave assurance amid cheers and wild feeling that he would not give up until I can give my good service to solving the problem of North Dakota.

Setting faces looked hopefully at the president as he left the special train there to motor through the dust about the reeding shores of Devils lake. Signs pleading for diversion of the Mississippi river to revive this lake and region.

HINDENBURG'S BODY RESTS AT SITE OF MILITARY TRIUMPH

Thousands of Germans Wait Patiently in Flocking Torch Light for Glimpse of Late Leader's Coffin

(By The Associated Press) TANNENBERG, Germany, Aug. 7.—In a tower room of the national shrine erected in memory of his greatest military victory, the body of President Paul von Hindenburg rested tonight while thousands of his followers looked on.

After the coffin had been brought here from the von Hindenburg estate at Neudorf, the body was placed in a casket and the coffin-lit torch, there was prayer, music, a short talk by an army chaplain and Hitler's fervent speech in which he declared the name of von Hindenburg cannot be allowed to die.

Refer to Nazi Movement Hitler said von Hindenburg "opened the door to the representatives of German resurgence, a reference understood to be to the Nazi movement."

"Twice in the life of a soldier honorable mention comes to him alone—after a great victory and after death," said the chancellor.

When the German people 44 years later remembered von Hindenburg's name the clouds of war hung over Europe. In the west of three times Kaiser Wilhelm called upon von Hindenburg to take over supreme command of the army.

"Six days later guns were booming and three days later church bells rang in celebration of the victory of Tannenberg."

"Large areas of German land were saved from devastation and from now on everybody in Germany had the name of von Hindenburg on his lips—the man who saved the country and led the army from victory to victory."

Inspired Army "Unfortunately, he was called too late to head the armies of the future."

MAN TOO YOUNG TO HOLD SENATE SEAT LEADS IN PRIMARY

West Virginia Liberal and Missouri Candidate Backed by Pendegast Organization Forge to Front

(By The Associated Press) RUSH D. HOLT, who is not yet old enough to take a seat in the senate, ran far ahead of a field of Democrats seeking to oppose Senator H. H. Hendon, Republican, who was renominated in West Virginia.

Harry Truman forged ahead of three other candidates for Missouri in early returns, while representatives Milligan of Richmond and Cochran of St. Louis, his home town, neck for second place. Longstreet Cleveland trailed.

Truman was backed by the powerful Tom Hendegast organization in Kansas City, Kansas, sponsored Senator Clark, was depending upon the rural vote, slow in being reported. (Assoc. Press) H. H. Hendon, 64, who is in St. Louis, his home town, Senator Patterson was unopposed for the Missouri Republican nomination.

In Kansas, Governor Alf M. Landon apparently was slated to receive the republican gubernatorial nomination over Dr. John R. Brinkley, "got gland" physician. Omar B. Kechem, Topeka mayor, was leading a field of Democrats for the nomination to oppose the Republican winner on the basis of income.

The three Republican and four Democratic Kansas representatives appear renominated, two Democrats and one Republican being without opponents.

Loiter Behind In Missouri, however, Representative Lovett was slightly behind William Hendegast, who is a republican, nomination in the second district.

George Bancroft, Missouri's district Representative Dickinson, the oldest member of the house at 84 years, was leading two colleagues, Wood and Ruffin, for the republican nomination. The three were thrown together due to redistricting of the state. Other candidates were: William Hendegast, Democrat; Clement L. Hoover, Democrat; Democratic national committee man, who received encouragement from President Hoover; and J. W. Hendegast, Democrat.

Help to these industries, legards in the recovery program, was one of the fundamental aims of the Hoover administration. "If wages are increased the burden is negligible to these industries," Green said. "If wages are cut, the industries save little on wages and lose by the cumulative effect in lowered sales in the consumer industry."

Violence Suddenly Flares In Illinois After Quiet Period

At Joliet, Illinois, a bridge over the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad, causing derailment of a combination passenger and freight train. Two crewmen were injured, another seriously.

BUILDING WORKERS SEEK WAGE BOOSTS

President of A. F. of L. Hints Rejection of Proposed Cuts

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—William Green hinted today that organized building trades workers, instead of accepting a pay reduction, would ask for more money when the administration's housing program is enacted.

"Talk of a pay boost by the president of the American Federation of Labor apparently was intended as an answer to a suggestion by some administration officials that labor take a cut in hourly or daily wages as compensation for increased employment from the anticipated construction stimulus."

A cut in hourly wages, they contend, would lessen the cost of building, speed the housing program, and mean more money for labor in the long run.

Need Income "These men need work and incomes to get back on their feet," Green said, writing in the federation's monthly magazine. "Yet as some help was in sight for the industry, the issue of wage reductions was raised."

Wage Cuts "Wage cuts would only 30 per cent of construction costs and a wage increase would not mean that the workers' output but to the building tradesmen and their families it would mean everything in living and picketing began July 23. The meeting will be held in Chicago Friday."

Officials of the National Labor Relations board said that increasing numbers of striking workers had returned to work. The board also announced that a full time basis, strikers leaders, however, maintained that very few had returned to jobs.

The Chesterfield process of blending and cross-blending tobaccos is different from others, and we believe it helps to make a milder and better tasting cigarette. Down where they grow tobacco - in most places - Chesterfield is the largest selling cigarette.'

of returned merchandise is very high. The losses thus sustained are added to the price charged for goods. The patron who indulges in the habit of returning merchandise for trivial reasons is making things difficult for the store and is adding to the cost of all the other stuff he buys.

FREE—REQUIRE THE GOVERNMENT PAYS THE BILLS (Money Star-Mirror)

Critics of Colfax dedicated two beautiful highway bridges last Saturday, bridges that have been needed (in our modern way of thinking about highway luxuries) and cost a slight of money. During the dedication ceremonies a Colfax man was speaking. He pointed to the bridges, glittering in their white concrete pillars and railings, and said, in effect:

When the government spends money for bridges at Colfax it must provide take a part of the wealth that it collects to pay for them. The only difference between the federal government building these bridges and the city of Colfax, or Whitman county building them, is that the government can obtain the money directly to build them. The cost is the same and under our system of pro-rated spending of federal money each section gets a proportionate share based upon its need and its ability to pay federal taxes.

While the General was touring about-making speeches, "lavishing" his money on the very things that he might call them Johnson's (quintillions).

By merely absconding himself for about 30 days the General came pretty close to proving that he personally is still about 99 per cent of NRA.

BLUSTER MINE AT JARBIDGE RE-OPENS

New Company Installs 100-Ton Mill to Operate on Big Scale

Closed down in early 1927, the Bluster mine at Jarbidge, second in production in the district, is being reopened by a company headed by R. E. Bluster, one of the directors of the old Bluster Co. 648-5175 Mines company, first incorporated in 1911 and reorganized in 1921. A report from Bluster states that the new company has installed a 100-ton flotation mill and has been adequately financed to operate on a substantial scale.

Camp buildings are under construction and the 5400-foot aerial tram was being repaired and the company had delivered at the camp a 100-ton flotation mill and a 100-volt electric light for the camp and mine, the former large electric plant having been moved to Bluster City some time ago. A force of 25 men was said to be employed and it was predicted that the mill would be producing concentrate within 60 days.

Under former operations are from the four tunnels, the longest 300 feet and with backs of 800 feet, was transported over the 5400-foot aerial tram to the mill. The first mill unit of 10 stamps and tables was built in 1913 and a counter-current cyanide plant was added in 1923, giving a capacity of 80 tons per day. In 1925 the property was taken under a 10-year lease by the United Eastern Mining company of Orem, Utah, and nearly $100,000 is said to have been expended by that company in developing, but the option was dropped early in 1927.

Early History
Property of the Bluster company embraced 16 full claims, located in large part by George Winkler, widely known Nevada mining man and prospector, about 1909, following the discovery of properties that later were acquired by the Elmore Mines company. The latter company merged several groups and operated as a subsidiary of the Yukon Gold company, a Cleveland-controlled corporation. The company purchased or leased several adjoining properties and drove two long deep-level tunnels, making gross production of approximately $3,300,000 in the eight years prior to 1922.

WORTH CLARK

(An unsolicited front page editorial in the Boise Capital News, Aug. 2, 1934)
By THE EDITOR

In a little less than two weeks the people of the second congressional district of Idaho will be electing a new congressman.

For emphasis, let us repeat the phrase, "electing a new congressman." Unless all signs fail the Democratic nomination will be the equivalent to election, in spite of the fact that this is a by-election, or what used to be known as "an off year."

The signs mentioned above include the most recent indication provided by the Literary Digest poll which shows through all of Idaho a 2.6 per cent gain in pro-Roosevelt sentiment since the Rooseveltian and Democratic landslide in 1932.

It is entirely inconceivable that the voters of the second district would send back to Washington to take the place of the late Congressman Tom Coffin a man of opposing political faith, pledged to the obstruction and destruction of the Roosevelt plan.

It is wholly unthinkable that the voters of the second district, which includes Boise, would, after ordering a drastic change in national policies and methods—as they did two years ago—put on the brakes and shove that progressive change into reverse gear now when it is only getting nicely started.

ALL logical reasoning on the subject points to the same conclusion—that the Democratic nominee for congress in the second district will be the new congressman.

It becomes then, a most important duty of the voters of the second district, to select carefully and wisely that Democratic nominee.

The Capital News, declaring again its non-partisanship, believes sincerely that D. Worth Clark is not only the best qualified candidate in the broad field of candidates for that nomination, but also believes he is ideally qualified to render the service that Idaho will expect and demand of its new congressman.

WORTH CLARK is a native-born Idahoan. He will be exactly 33 years of age when the next congress convenes. But he has a wise head on those comparatively young shoulders.

He is brisk, vigorous, keen-minded, aggressive, alert, exceptionally capable and possessed of a personality that is rare indeed.

He has practiced law for nine years—seven years as partner of the late Joseph H. Peterson in Pocatello, and two years as a member of the attorney general's staff in Boise. His original Idaho home was Idaho Falls.

Worth Clark knows by close association the problems of the farm areas which disquiet the people, and he has endeavored to grapple with those problems and present them in that crowded and active forum that is his goal.

He has demonstrated his abilities as a militant pleader and representative of the people before the supreme court of the state of Idaho and the various other courts of his district.

His pleasant address is the natural complement to the verbal dynamite he can set off when the occasion demands.

WORTH CLARK would be very distinctly felt in the lower house of the national congress. He is NOT the candidate of any special group or clique. He is just naturally a people's representative. His interests are as broad as his abilities.

Neither is he, in the narrow sense, the candidate of this newspaper. No pledge has been taken nor pledge asked. There are no strings of any variety on this candidate. He has paid his own campaign expenses entirely so that there never could be misunderstanding on that score. He has refused offers of financial aid in his campaign.

Geographically, as in other ways, Worth Clark is ideally fitted for the post he seeks. The city of Boise right now has BOTH the United States senators as citizens. It is eminently fair and fitting that the congressman for the district which includes Boise should come from the other end of the district.

His own brief declaration made at the time he announced his candidacy, approaches the classic. He said:

My platform is simple. I shall support Roosevelt in his recovery program, but I shall always vote as the interests of Idaho demand."

And that, ladies and gentlemen of the second district, is plenty good enough for us!

Worth Clark means what he says.

FRIENDS HERE IS A SALE WITH A PURPOSE AND A REASON

Occasionally, during a lifetime, there comes an opportunity to every man, when he sees a chance to achieve greater success, under conditions which seem to fit his ideal.

That chance has come to me but I must grasp this opportunity quickly—there can be no delay, and to meet the conditions of this new deal, which I'm taking up, it is necessary, imperative, that I turn my entire stock of shoes into cash quickly—liquidate all of my holdings and interests in Twin Falls.

The limitation of time, imposed upon me to qualify for this new field of action, naturally forces considerable sacrifice and loss—however, all channels of progress calls for sacrifice at some time, so I'm determined to meet the situation at once and smile at the loss entailed in making this quick change and move.

With deep appreciation of the liberal patronage, extended our former store, "The Shoe Market," and this store during the past 12 years which has made possible our success, here, we are truly glad to pass these genuine savings on to our patrons and friends now. Come folks, to this great selling-out event—Come expecting bargains. We guarantee no disappointments or misrepresentation in any way.
