GEM STATE VOTERS MAY DECIDE BORAH OPPONENT FOR 1936

Major Campaign Issues Lies In Race for Democratic Nomination for Governor; Parties Have Full Tickets

(By The Associated Press) BOISE, Aug. 11.—Idaho will nominate full state and congressional tickets at its primary Tuesday with the voters aware that they may be deciding an opponent in 1936 for Senator William E. Borah.

Both Republican and Democratic parties have taken the field as well as numerous aspirants for the post held in the late congress by Representative J. Frank Cannon, the late Rep. C. Coffin of Pocatello, second district. There are no senate districts.

In the race for the Democratic nomination for governor lies the real campaign battle. Governor Ben Ross, the first Democrat to sit in the chief executive's chair in a decade when he took office in 1921, is running a third term, an effort never before successful in the history of the state.

Although he has not definitely announced that he will accept Governor Borah in 1936, both his friends and his political opponents have freely discussed his position on that point. His power will enable him to wield the powerful state patronage in maintaining his position as long as the Democratic party when he steps into the senatorial race.

Opposing him for the nomination are Asher B. Wilson of Twin Falls, an attorney who several times sought vainly for the renomination during the long term of Republican rule prior to the victory of Governor Ross, and former Attorney General Frank Martin of Boise.

Candidates for the Republican nomination for Governor are J. Wood Wilson, a Twin Falls attorney, who recently sought the nomination for United States senator; Frank L. Stephan of Grangeville, and H. F. Fair of Blackfoot.

In north Idaho, the first district, Burton L. French of Pocatello is expected to return to congress, from which he was ousted two years ago by the Democratic landslide. He was picked up by Representative White. While also is seeking re-election on a silver platform, opposed by the new party, French is opposed for the Republican nomination in the first district.

Although there were many candidates early in the field to compete for the second district congressional post, the death of Representative Coffin in an automobile accident in Washington swelled the list.

It took the Republican nomination and a like number for the Democratic nomination, the latter group including the late Senator Frank J. Cannon, who died in 1933. Other candidates are D. Worth Clark of Pocatello, assistant

Bathosphere Divers Drop To New Low Ocean Depth

American Scientists Descend 2510 Feet Below Surface of Water With Telephone and Camera

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Aug. 11.—Dr. William Beebe and Otis Barton, American scientists, descended to a depth of 2510 feet beneath the surface of the ocean today, lower than man has ever been before. They were accompanied in their bathysphere, a 520-ton diving sphere, by ex-coast guard last year's record of 310 feet, although coming just short of reaching a depth of half a mile.

Describe Surroundings. Two hours and 45 minutes passed from the time the bathysphere sank below the surface until their reappearance. They were in telephoto contact with a buoy to which the cable was attached. They gave descriptions of their observations to the radio through a microphone. Barton took photographs and moving pictures through the portholes of the bathysphere. The enterprise was carried through without a hitch.

On the descent the cable was laid out at the rate of 50 feet a minute by the crew on a barge from which the apparatus was lowered. At 500 feet Dr. Beebe reported sighting a school of silvery squid. At 800 feet he said the water had turned to a deep turquoise blue, and reported seeing a strange fish six feet long.

On deck, where Miss Hollister sat, Beebe's voice could be heard in a faint squeak by persons near the receiver. At 11:30 a. m. the 1023 record depth of 2500 feet was reached. Ten additional feet were passed. There was a cheer on deck and the tug let out three blasts on its whistle.

At 2300 feet Dr. Beebe reported: "Along the whole beam of my light the water is the turquoise shade of turquoise blue I ever saw." "All around, however, it was perfectly black."

Half Hour Observations. At 11:35 a. m. the 2500-foot mark reached. Ten additional feet of cable was laid out, and the group was at 2510 feet.

PRICES COLLAPSE ON GRAIN MARKET

Sensational. Shogun Wipes Out Recent Speculative Advances

CHICAGO, Aug. 11 (P)—Grain prices plunged from the grain peak today, virtually nullifying the advance made during the week's bull market. The collapse was registered first in European exchange values as Chicago recorded as far as trading rules allow—cents for wheat and 17 1/2 cents for corn and barley and 1 cent for oats. This somewhat was duplicated in other leading grain markets.

INDUSTRY DISPUTES UNEMPLOYED COUNT

U. S. Chamber of Commerce Asserts Federation's Estimate High

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (P)—The Chamber of Commerce of the United States today charged that the latest American Federation of Labor unemployment figures are more than 2,000,000 too high. The federation's July report estimated that 10,000,000 were out of work, the chamber said in its weekly Washington review. They were less than 7,000,000, it reported last month.

The chamber's review was more conservative than the federation's. It said that the unemployment figures were inflated by the inclusion of persons who were added to payrolls of manufacturing establishments during the year ended in July and that in fact the accomplishment was even larger than the gross figure indicates.

Wallace Defends Party's Methods Necessity of Reducing Unemployment Stressed by Secretary

WASHINGTON CROSSING, N. J., Aug. 11 (P)—Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture today told New Jersey voters here today that if the Republicans regain control of the national government they'll have to use the same methods as the Democrats to bring back farm prosperity.

Unless the Republicans worked with the farmers in keeping down surpluses, Wallace asserted, they would have to build up another explosion by returning heavy loans to Europe, or they would have to lower tariffs much more rapidly than we are doing—both of which would be damaging in the long run to the United States.

Glacier Priest Discovers New "Moon Crater"

A new crater, more than 20 miles in circumference, was discovered in hitherto unexplored territory near the tip of the Alaska peninsula by Father Bernard Hubbard of Santa Clara, Alaska, university and companions in an expedition sponsored by the National Geographic Society.

Lower right: Father Hubbard leading a party who stormed the glacial and volcanic chasms of Alaska as they carve a path to the coast.

First signs of recovery would have to come from the interior. "Before you experience agricultural prosperity in the East," he said, "you will see property arise in the South and West, because their cotton, wheat and such are export commodities, and the vegetables and dairy products you supply in the East go to the homes of factory workers."

When the Western farmer is prosperous he buys machinery and manufactured goods from the East. The factory payroll is paid, the industrial employes purchase the milk, eggs and fables of nearby farmers. Assertion of Twin Falls Attorney Branded as Incorrect

Chapman was reported as having charged in a speech that contractors were paid for moving a certain amount of rock in a construction job on the Mountain Road. The work was done by the contractor over pay from the state for removing a greater amount originally estimated when the contract was let.

Stemmer said Dan Caranagh, Twin Falls contractor, had been granted a contract for the removal of 6000 yards of solid rock, as completed by employees.

Proprietor Of Inn Meets Death When Firebug Lays Trap

NORTH BONNEVILLE, Wash. Aug. 11 (AP)—Sam Manzie burned to death today in the flaming ruins of his two-story inn, the victim of a firebug.

Manzie, the huge and genial proprietor of the hotel in this tourist community, died because he would not shut the building until he knew that every one of his 12 guests were safe. His body, two steps from safety, was found where he had been overcome by smoke.

Residents who first saw the flames during the early morning, declared the fire was set from the outside. The incendiary aspect of the fire, police said, was supported by two other occurrences this week. An attempt was made several days ago to burn another inn. Kerosene was poured on a stack of firewood. Thursday an automobile was fired by an incendiary.

THE NAZI ELECTION. As regards that "free election" that Adolf Hitler is arranging for August 19, the best comment is the recent statement of Hitler himself, that "those who oppose the Nazi regime are enemies of the state."

These are the factors that speak for a vote against Hitler. But there are factors which speak for an overwhelming vote for Hitler. He names them: 1. Millions of Catholics, Protestants, Socialists and Communists in their hearts, really reject him.

2. The complete and utter isolation, morally and politically and, to a large extent economically, of Germany from the rest of the world. 3. The pressure of a serious domestic economic situation.

CHEER IN ANTARCTICA. It is with considerable relief that the public reads of renewed communication between Admiral Byrd in his snowed-under hermitage and the rest of his party at the Little America base camp.

Now, radio communication has been restored and a second tractor expedition, this one relying on its own navigation and not on the snow-buried flags, has set out for the advance base where Byrd has been alone through the Antarctic winter, not yet ended.

HOW TO TAME BULLS. Bulls apparently have been misunderstood. They are not so fearsome, even when mad, as may be seen from the following stories. A recent news item told of a bull attacking a woman and being repulsed with a safety pin.

VAN BORING

By a ravening bull. But to run away when a woman pulls a little safety pin from somewhere about her and plays matador with it shows either a timid disposition or a willingness to oblige. Maybe the woman said "Scat!" while she was jabbing him. That magic word has been known to put many a wild beast to flight.

WASHINGTON. By George Durns. The power bureau aren't giving Lillenthal's trans-Atlantic "kum" with any pleasure whatsoever. Making the big federal power projects already under way, together with those on the New Deal program which still lack Congressional ratification, the British system could be duplicated very nicely in this country.

PARIS TELLS PLANS FOR WATER STORAGE

State Reclamation Commissioner Addresses Banquet at Burley

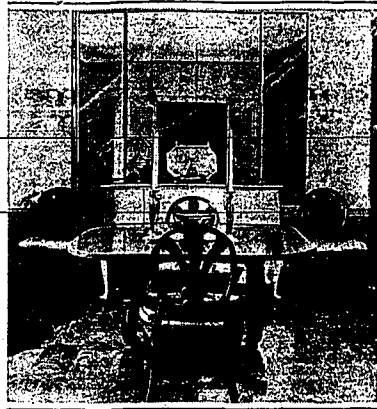

BURLEY, Aug. 11—Burley chamber of commerce directors were hosts to State Reclamation Commissioner R. W. Paris at a dinner at the National hotel Thursday evening. The commissioner explained plans under consideration by the Idaho bureau of reclamation for increasing irrigation water supplies and modifying the use of water in power plants to conserve water during the non-irrigation season. W. C. Paul, Jackson, was also present and spoke in favor of the enlargement of American Falls storage facilities.

Others at the meeting were S. T. Lowe, attorney for the Burley Irrigation district, State Senator E. C. Barlow and a number of representatives of Cassia county Granges. Commissioners Paris went into details concerning the proposed Tieton power plant to be installed in Snake river where water is presently wasted from thousands of springs and natural flow Snake river water could be made to develop 100,000 horse power. He said that the present net use of water between October 15 and April 15 amounts to 1,083,000 acre feet in the Glenn's ferry section of Snake river. He also expressed himself as favorable to the plan of tunneling from Yellowstone lake to the headwaters of Snake river, where an expenditure of $6,750,000 would make available over a million acre feet of water for Snake river valley water users. If carried into effect, Paris maintained, the plan would enhance the scenic attractions of Yellowstone lake and assist in maintaining a more uniform water level along the lake beaches. It would also give control flood conditions in the Mississippi valley.

It was decided by the county planning board that that body put forth the best efforts to secure funds for the enlargement of Snake river storage facilities.

Mirrors And Light Colors Enhance Effect

Even the furniture "fits into the picture." Ideas on a pale gray background. The furniture is all painted to fade into the picture, and ranges from the off-white and silver of the sideboard through the natural stained wood of the chairs with beige leather cushions, to the dark gray-brown table base with stenna marbled top. At the right one can catch a glimpse of the curtains of clear yellow transparent velvet, which are topped by a cornice of silver metal leaves, matching those in the wallpaper. The decorator, Hortense Reil, created in this room an effect which is elegant, yet art and warm.

OX-CART METHODS AND SOCIALIST CONVENTION

Editor Twin Falls Daily News: Sir: We claim, in America, some little equality of man with man; but just see; there is, in those fields, that all the readers of your paper scattered as they are, and which it soon; and there are you facing them and saying such different things, one out here, anxious as a whiffler! And did I face them, what? Well, ox-cart, oxen, ox-team control of the oxen's transportation, power, machinery, and industries, holds with it, I think, from this day forth, perhaps greater than America has so far faced; dead century, with its universal inequality, this want, this misery; tangle fadism and assure war; endangers civilization. And I, and every other, in our state who sees these things, can say no word as to these things at the ball, unless we can hold a 300-delegate convention on Tuesday at Twin Falls. This I, for your readers, I would urge this every one who sees the need of production for use and not for profit; put aside all lesser things; be at the Socialist convention on August 14. Hopefully, DEED. F. HINBER, Buhl, Idaho, August 11, 1934.

WHEAT FIELD BURNS NORTH OF FAIRFIELD

FAIRFIELD, Aug. 11—Fire which originated from a combine destroyed approximately 20 acres of wheat on the Frank Tucker farm about 2 miles northwest of Fairfield Tuesday. Prompt action on the part of volunteer firemen of the vicinity checked the blaze within an hour's time. A strong north west wind increased the hazard, but the greater part of the 300-acre field was saved. Combining had just begun on this stand of dark Tuleh seed. The fire, originated in a hot bearing in the clutch, and by the time this blaze was suppressed, the fire had gained headway, with wheat which was the first time in 15 years that Tucker had not carried crop insurance.

SCREEN LIFE 'I'M SORRY' MOST FILMED PHRASE AND IT COSTS PRODUCERS PLENTY IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD — One short sentence has been recorded on sound film at least a million times. That sentence is "I'm sorry," said, although seldom heard, it costs the studios several hundred thousand dollars a year. "I'm sorry" is almost invariably the first thing players say when they miff a line. Even a temperamental player generally says it first — and blows up afterwards. It is heard 10 or 20 times a day on every set of every picture. There are, altogether, thousands of feet of "I'm sorry" on the cutting room floors. From the first "I'm sorry" on every picture to the last, it is a method of expressing displeasure over a dropped line, a forgotten cue or a mistaken bit of business. Most of them are patient with themselves through several failures, but some indulge in protechnique after the first miss.

Bureau Into Tears
If Kay Francis muddles a scene she means to show friends she is almost certain to burst into tears, making it necessary to delay even longer while make-up damage is repaired. The usually mild-mannered Leslie Howard throws his hat, if he is leaving or carrying one into the picture when he fumbles a line. Then he apologizes politely. When John us cowboys forgets a line, he improvises an amusing and often startling soliloquy about some totally unrelated subject and goes on.

SPITE MARRIAGE

By Katharine Hamilton Taylor

SYNOPSIS: Torn apart and brought to the water's edge by Bob's misunderstanding of Marsha's friendship for Geoffrey Taylor, the two were gradually finding their way back to each other because of Marsha's devotion to the memory of Bob's mother, who has lately recently died. Now, however, Bob has surprised Marsha by trying to pry open her heart, containing some of his mother's personal effects. He is furious.

Marsha's face quivered.

"You were mistaken," he said. "I think that she kept anything that would be valuable to you in this box." (The nodding toward it.) "Those amusing old pieces of jewelry are in a box at the bank after my mother kept her account. I sent you money, which you took, after the first, perfunctory, dramatic denial. What's it enough? Her eyes flashed; through his hands on her arms he felt her shiver and her anger leap from follow. Still she made no sound.

"You are in some financial trouble, I'll say you out," he promised. "Just what I want to know more in this house and I ask you to keep out of this room."

"You are a beautiful little creature," he said. "I was again sooting some most amusingly to you. I have been dreaming of taking you back with me. But now I'm cured of you."

"Yes, I presume it," he admitted. "All that men who love you are trying to do is to make you happy. My dear, why struggle? What difference can a kiss or two make to you? I am sure you would be pleased you know."

"I'm not," she said, and she turned and—forgetting everything but the hunger for her which she was aware of—she kissed him again and again.

"My God, what have I done?" he thought. "What have I done?"

"Color flooded his face; he read the note again, carefully, at the box that had one day held Fredrick's box, but that now held bills.

"To the end of time," he thought. "I'll hate you and need you."

"It was a note that did not yield to argument nor reason and it was,

Joining the other British colonies which recently have had new stamp issues, the Island of Antigua in the West Indies has just printed 12 pictorial stamps which include various scenes and a map of the island as well as the head of King George. Each stamp is in two colors, with values going from 1 penny to 1 shilling. Like the other recent British colonies, the island stamps are oblong.

Another stamp in connection with the reunion by Germany of the two Rhineland groups, with color changes and the use of the swastika in multiple as the watermark, is a 10-pennig red stamp.

Cyprus, another British colony, has made preparations for a new set of stamps. They will be pictorial in 11 denominations.

TIGER ISLAND

Doomed by the scheming Wong Bo, the old tramp steamer Boldero headed toward Tiger Island. Had HARVEY BOWERS, big game hunter, and IVY GREEN, keeper of the ship's seagoing menagerie, known what lay ahead, the name of this volcanic islet off the Borneo coast might have seemed prophetic.

Meanwhile their romance flourished before the jealous eye of young FLINT, the wireless operator and sharer with WONG BO of the secret of the insurance pirates. The absorbing story shows Gouverneur Morris at his best, a master in handling thrilling action, breath-taking suspense, startling climaxes.

Phil Might Fill Long-Felt Want

THE New York Giants, who for five years have been seeking to obtain a Jewish ball player, who could earn a regular place and add to the team's box-office magnificence, feel they may have seen to fill the bill in Phil Weindraub (above), 26-year-old stinger from Chicago. A middle-aged, poor looking, Weindraub's power with the bat may justify Manager Bill Terry in giving the newcomer a regular place in the Polo Grounds next year.

BY PAUL ZIMMERMAN (Associated Press Sports Writer) LOS ANGELES, Aug. 11 (AP)—Like the old days of which the first, the chicken or the egg, Pacific Coast league baseball fans are asking the question of why has made the Angels club almost invincible this season. One question is the Angels' pitching staff ever seen in the league, pointing out that the first five hurlers are U.S.A. natives.

INDICATIONS FOR BIG VOTE VOLUME

Twin Falls County Electors Approach Choice of Party Nominees

WHERE TWIN FALLS COUNTY ELECTIONS WILL BE HELD:

- No. 1—Leland garage, Second avenue east.
- No. 2—Court house.
- No. 3—Jenkins garage, Main avenue west.
- No. 4—Pierogon store, Main avenue south.
- No. 5—Nikkel school.
- No. 6—Lincoln school.
- No. 7—Washington school.

Within an eight-hour period at the primary elections next Tuesday afternoon and evening, according to indications now, Twin Falls county will record a volume of voting approximating that of primary elections two years ago when 350 ballots were cast, and perhaps approaching that of the ensuing general election in November which set a new high mark.

Voting in the primary elections is to be carried on in 27 voting precincts in Twin Falls county, beginning at 12 o'clock noon and continuing to 5 o'clock p. m.

In addition to an even 300-odd absent voters' ballots received at Twin Falls county recorder's office up to last evening, Frank J. Smith, county recorder, said 12 to 18 ballots probably will be returned by applicants to whom they have been delivered. The number of absent voters' ballots voted in the primaries this year, he said, is about the same as for the general election two years ago.

Prejudice of these early ballots have been cast in the Democratic primary, in which a number of spirited contests for nominations are to be decided. On the other side of the political fence there is being manifested, in this county, a movement to register the largest possible Republican vote as an endorsement of "Twin Falls" candidates, Frank L. Stephan, for the Republican nomination for governor. On the Republican side, the crowd of voters who contests for the nominations for prosecuting attorney and for assessor.

FUNERALS

AVANT — Funeral services for George B. Avant will be held at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Twin Falls cemetery. Dr. William Earl Young, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, officiating. The body rests at the Twin Falls mortuary chapel.

DIRECT AIRMAIL SERVICE PROVIDED IDAHO FALLS

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 11 (AP)—Northbound and southbound planes on the Salt Lake City-Great Falls airline will make daily stops at Idaho Falls to provide that city with its first direct airmail service beginning September 1, I. A. Smoot, Salt Lake City postmaster, said he was informed today.

Times of arrival and departures in Idaho Falls were not announced, but one of the two stops which will be made will be early in the forenoon and the other early in the night.

Pantomime Takes Place at Whisker Site of Judgment

Whiskerites citizens of Twin Falls last night were halted into court by junior chamber of commerce "whisker" and, before some 600 persons assembled at the corner of Main street and Shoshone street, were assessed accordingly in sums of $5 upwards. All was in fun in a preliminary campaign to bring bigger and better whiskers to Twin Falls.

Theodore Bowen, Los Angeles attorney who recently was in the nation's limelight as defense attorney for William Hoffman in the Jeppson murder case, carried on the prosecution and Police Judge Chet Wise acted as the judge. The audience cheered the jury.

A feature attraction of the evening's "vaudeville program" was a bout of spirited contests for nominations are to be decided. On the other side of the political fence there is being manifested, in this county, a movement to register the largest possible Republican vote as an endorsement of "Twin Falls" candidates, Frank L. Stephan, for the Republican nomination for governor. On the Republican side, the crowd of voters who contests for the nominations for prosecuting attorney and for assessor.

Johnston then took the judge's post and Wise was found to be devoid of whiskers. He took the same greenback that he had just received from Johnston and handed it back to him. Turnroll resigned when Bowen discovered that a bill had been exchanged between the two.

Bowen in being visiting his sister, Mrs. W. W. Frantz of Twin Falls.

Announcement was made last night by L. W. Oellier, chairman of the Queen contest for the Magic City Jubilee, to be held September 5-8, that seven formal entries had already been received for the affair. Oellier requested that all entries be sent to him at the Idaho Power company and announced the last day for entries as August 18.

LANOE UNION MEETING

Workers of Twin Falls will hold an opening meeting in the district court room at the court house tomorrow evening at 8:30 o'clock. Matters will be discussed by a number of speakers, according to those in charge of the meeting, which is sponsored by the Consolidated Brotherhood of Labor Union in Twin Falls.

DEMOCRAT LEADERS REPUDIATE ATTACK

County Committee Sees Party Discredited by Orr Chapman

Executive committee of the Twin Falls county Democratic central committee yesterday adopted resolutions repudiating and condemning the "unjustifiable attack" upon the state administration which W. Orr Chapman, Twin Falls attorney and candidate two years ago, made in the Democratic nomination for United States senator delivered in a public address here Thursday evening.

Chapman charged Governor Bowen with violation of personal and platform pledges to abolish the cabinet form of state government, to save any economies in state expenditures and asserted that there have been irregularities in the state highway department amounting to "several thousand dollars."

The resolutions, given out by Dan J. Cavasani, county chairman, said: "Whereas, W. Orr Chapman, in a broadcast address at Legion Memorial building on Thursday evening of this week, made an attack upon the state administration and a number of its constitutional officers to the great discredit of the Democratic party of this state who are candidates in the primary two years ago, and;

"Whereas, Chapman described Governor Bowen and Congressman Coffin in the last campaign and has brought charges of irregularities in state departments, which he has knowledge and ability to prove them, as he claims, then he is failing in his duty as a citizen in not filing complaints;

"Whereas, it is therefore that the executive committee of the Twin Falls county Democratic central committee, in its knowledge and conscience, condemns this unjustifiable attack of Chapman as un-democratic and unbecoming one who claims allegiance to the Democratic party."

BONES OF PIONEERS REPLACED IN GRAVES

Skeletons removed recently from graves in the unmarked cemetery near Stricker here were replaced and the graves resealed, according to C. B. Walgreen. The bones were replaced by members of the sheriff's force and one of the boys who dug up the graves.

The graves of pioneers were opened by Twin Falls young men who were contemplating the study of medicine, they told members of the sheriff's force called to the scene. The young men believed them to be the skeletons of unclaimed bodies, they said, and expressed deep regret at their act of thoughtlessness.

Joseph O. Masters, Omaha, Nebraska, member of the Old Oregon Trail association, recently called upon Mr. Walgreen to investigate the situation, Mr. Walgreen said. At the time the Oregon Short Line Railway company built the railroad through this section, all graves were made to leave the pioneer burial places undisturbed, and at one point the course of the railroad was changed, and new surveying done at quite an expense to the company, to avoid injury to graves of frontiersmen, according to Mr. Walgreen.

FILER MAN APPLIES FOR ADMINISTRATOR'S POST

Fred Reichert of Filer applied to the probate court here yesterday for appointment as administrator of the estate of the late W. R. Reichert, who died last July 6. The estate includes an 80-acre Twin Falls county farm and town property, and is valued in all at $15,000.

Other heirs are four sons, Charles Reichert, Edward Reichert, of Filer, W. Reichert of Thermo, Arizona, and Roy O. Reichert of San Francisco, and two daughters, Mrs. Emma Treener and Mrs. Clara Robinson, both of Filer. Hearing on the petition was set by Probate Judge Guy L. Kinney for August 22. Rayborn and Rayborn are petitioners' attorneys.

Hackman Relies On Broadcast to Win Nomination

Relying almost entirely upon radio broadcast addresses, Turner K. Hackman, Twin Falls attorney and candidate for the Republican nomination for Second district congressman, is waging a campaign which political observers have regarded with much interest and sympathy to all men and women, confidently assert will win him a substantial majority throughout the district, as well as in his home city and county.

In his announcement he laid down a platform and has been endeavoring to make the record for the protection of silver, a protective tariff for the benefit of the farmer, the growers of sugar beets and producers of wool; for a strong national policy; for the equal opportunity for all men and women; for an economical government with just and equal taxes, "free from loopholes favorable to predatory interests."

He has pointed out what he considers to be a legal way under the federal constitution to curb monopoly and dispense with a number of federal bureaus.

THREE CANDIDATES GET BID OF BROTHERHOOD

Three candidates for nominations on the Democratic ticket, have been invited by the Consolidated Brotherhood of Labor to address a public meeting to be held in the district court room, Twin Falls, on Monday evening. The candidates are John B. Robertson for congress, Ray A. Wilkinson for First district county commissioner, and Edward Babcock for prosecuting attorney.

What a terrible handicap to be billed from youth. What a wonderful thing to have the grit and guts to overcome that handicap. Harold Yeaman has overcome it. He needs your help in this primary. You give him your vote now and he will give you his when he gets to Congress. Fald for by his friends.—Adv.

WATER DELIVERIES NOW 100 PER CENT

Canal Company Increases Flow to Meet Crop Requirements

Water delivery through Twin Falls canal system which has been maintained at 80 per cent of full water right most of the season, was increased Friday to full 100 per cent and will continue on that basis until August 24 or 25, John Rayborn, canal company manager, said last evening.

The increased delivery was deemed necessary to meet immediate requirements of the bean crop, now receiving its final irrigation, and for watering of potato and alfalfa fields.

On account of the primary election Tuesday, a regular meeting of the canal company directors was postponed to next Wednesday, it was announced at the company's offices.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS PRESENT CANDIDATES

Among eight candidates for the Republican nomination for Second district congressman, also, are Harry Dwoihak of Burley and Turner K. Hackman of Twin Falls—have accepted invitations to attend and address a public meeting in Twin Falls city park Monday evening at which Twin Falls county Young Republican club is to present Republican candidates.

In addition, it was expected last evening that all three candidates for the Republican nomination for governor would be on hand. They are H. F. Paik of Blackfoot, J. Wesley Holden of Idaho Falls and Frank L. Stephan of Twin Falls.

Congressional and gubernatorial candidates will be allotted 15 minutes each to address the audience, and Republican county candidates will be introduced.

R. M. Rayborn, of Filer, county chairman of the Young Republican club, is to preside. A public address is to be installed.

A 10-piece band is to furnish music.

HELD FOR DISTURBANCE

Accused in a misdemeanor charge of disturbance of the peace, three young men were yesterday admitted to $200 bail bonds each to secure their appearance at trial in Justice of the Peace H. M. Holler's court. The accused men were Dan Custer, 29, Twin Falls; John Born, 24, Twin Falls, and Ralph Born, 25, Filer. Claud Elders signed the complaint.

Perseus "Shows Off" In Annual Fireworks Of Shooting Stars

"So brilliant of stars the sky could hold them all" was the observation made by a Twin Falls resident after seeing two stars, like rocket fireworks, streak from the northeast to the heavens and drop out of sight.

The annual exhibition of fireworks from the constellations Perseus, is now in full blast, and throughout the world people watch and delight in the display. Local "sky-gazers" who have observed them, report that this year's shooting star show began last Thursday evening.

According to an authority, writing for the New York Times, the display will continue until the Tuesday evening. This evening will be one of the best nights to observe the heavenly fireworks. The show begins any time after 10 o'clock, and is at its best after midnight.

And it's a show that doesn't require an admission ticket.

Dr. A. D. Laughlin, foot specialist, will be in Dr. S. C. Wyatt's office Monday, August 13th, from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m. He builds comfortable supports for each case, and advises correct shoes to wear. Free advice on all types of foot trouble. 131 2nd Ave. N., phone 1777.—Adv.

ATTACK ON CHILD CHARGED TO MAN

Leo Pettigill, 41, Melon Vendor, Faces Criminal Prosecution

Accused as a criminal attack upon an 11-year-old Twin Falls girl, Leo Pettigill, 41, Hagerman melon vendor, called for preliminary hearing when he was arraigned before Judge Guy L. Kinney in the probate court here yesterday. In default of $200 bail bond he was remanded to the sheriff's custody pending hearing which was set for August 21 next.

The asserted attack is alleged to have occurred at Murtaugh last Wednesday. Officers stated the child had accompanied Pettigill on the trip to Murtaugh to help him sell melons, and that Pettigill—previously had taken her on similar trips and paid her 25 to 50 cents wages.

The child's father signed the complaint.

O. W. WITHAM FOR DISTRICT JUDGE JUDICIAL BALLOT

On account of the duties of my office, it has been impossible to carry my campaign to the voters personally, and for that reason I have taken this means of asking your support in the primary election—Tuesday.

I have practiced law for 30 years and have had 10 years experience as a prosecuting attorney.

The Judicial Ticket is non-partisan and every citizen owes it to himself and his community to select judges who will serve fairly and impartially if elected. I assure you I will serve in such a manner.
