HALE CONTINUES TO HOLD SLIGHT LEAD OVER BURLEY MAN

Tabulation of Estimated 80 Per Cent of Vote Cast Leaves Two Idaho Election Contests in Doubt

BOISE, Aug. 16 (AP)—Heber Q. Hale, leader of the United Church of Christ in the West, continued to hold a slight lead today over Henry C. Dvorshak, Burley newspaper publisher, in the primary race for the Republican nomination for Second district congressman.

Board Will Settle Issue It appeared probable that neither the congressional race nor that for the Republican nomination for state treasurer would be decided by unofficial tabulation. The state canvassing board will settle the issue sometime between the tenth and twelfth day after the primary.

Voliva, Religious Ruler, Predicts Millennium In 1934

ZION, Ill., Aug. 16 (AP)—When the trumpet sounds on "the day" of the Lord, the loyal followers of Wilbur Glenn Voliva will be waiting in hushed awe for the arrival of the Savior.

Long before this, the overseer of the Zion religious colony has foretold the end of the big "flat" world. That new Voliva has proclaimed the month and day for the coming of the Lord and the destruction of his enemies. Any time after 6 p. m., September 18 it will happen, he said.

Notable among the enemies listed for both and general enemy are those who host the Voliva folks at the public but private, he said that they might as well get ready, for things at Zion were winding up.

He believed the Lord will come on the first of September. The religious ruler told his flock at prayer meeting. "And I believe he will come here, for example, men were banned within the city limits; alcohol will be white circle, and God will destroy the rest."

Time and again the thundering voice of the Lord's people has flayed his foes and exhorted his flock, telling the one he would leave behind.

LEGISLATURE GIVES KINGFISH BROTHER POWERS IN STATE

Obedient Lawmakers Put Through Bills to Prohibit Courts' Interference With Troops, Election Rules

By The Associated Press BAYON BOULEVARD, La., Aug. 16.—A house minority late today threatened to kick "Huey" P. Long and his henchmen from the chamber but administrationists quickly countered by demanding that newspapermen be excluded also.

An uproar ensued, but after Speaker Allen J. Ellender had carried the press men to the chamber, the anti-billibbling rule was temporarily withdrawn.

Senator Long continued to route oppositionists and the house passed, 57 to 30, a bill to create a state police to which opponents claim he completely dominate the state.

Other measures aimed at increasing Senator Long's power in state affairs and crippling the forces of Mayor T. Semmes Wainwright in New Orleans were pushed through in the morning session.

Long Watches Proceedings The senator stood at the rear of the chamber, behind the rail, watching one after another of his bills flash by to victory across the electric voting machine. He never uttered an eye at alights of "damn crock" and "spurious filler" which critics hurled in his direction.

Showing a following of 93 in the 100-member house, the Long force put through in a two-hour sitting bills:

To prohibit the courts from interfering with the militia when it is under mobilization orders of the governor, as in the case in New Orleans where troops hold the city voters registration office, despite a district court injunction.

General Strike Call Affects Half Million In Textile Industry

Workers' Convention Votes For Nationwide Walkout On Or Before September 1; Preview In Georgia

U. S. CONCILIATORS PRESSED (By The Associated Press) A threat of a general strike in the textile industry, affecting half a million workers, hung over the country Thursday as federal conciliators considered walkouts involving fishermen, lumberjacks, truck drivers, aluminum workers, soap makers, mill workers, coal miners and other workers.

The foundation for the possible textile strike was laid at the annual convention of the United Textile Workers at New York. Mandatory instructions were given to the executive council to call a general strike on or before September 1. Only 10 votes were cast against the strike order. The strike will affect 500,000 workers, leaders said particularly in the South and New England.

Election Ordered Among Truck Drivers of Minneapolis was ordered by the federal labor relations board as a condition to end the strike which has tied up industry in that city. Striking workers of the Kohler Motor Co. Manufacturing company rejected a settlement proposal made by owners of the plumbing equipment plant in Chicago.

Aluminum Plants Closed Plants of the Aluminum Company of America remained closed in six cities as the controversy between employers and strikers was reviewed by a federal conciliator.

Mill Workers Petitioned the board for an order for a general election in the West Virginia. The firm's decision was said to be the first since the company was recently appointed by President Roosevelt.

PROTECTING THE CONSUMER

It may be, as President Roosevelt says, that there is plenty of food in the country but, the fact remains, there is less of it right now than during any year for a long time back.

The New Deal seeks to protect the consumer from outrageous prices; which is right enough in itself, but is it fair to, at the same time, deprive agriculture of all the advantages of higher prices?

It's all right to protect the consumer from prices which he cannot pay but the rights of the producer are just as sacred.

Properly can only return through a rise in both wages and commodity prices and all the other things which make for general distribution of the profits of agriculture, commerce and industry.

Farm prices must go up. Perhaps the prosperity of the nation depends more upon this than on any other one thing. The way things stand now it is apparently the intention of the Federal machinery of government to see that farm prices do not go up, at least not to any appreciable extent.

DEBT PAYMENT

There is no end of argument about our national debt, and there will never be agreement about it. That is partly because there are so many ways of figuring it.

The usual way is in dollars, regarding them as if they were units of unvarying value. Looked at in this way, it is a very simple thing to take a debt of $21,000,000,000 in March of last year and a debt of $27,000,000,000 in July of this year, and to conclude that we're just $6,000,000,000 worse off, and let it go at that.

You get a different slant on the matter when you come to figure debt not in metal or paper dollars, but in goods. This is a newspaper economist, taking the figures above as a basis, turns them into their equivalent in three important commodities, with this interesting result:

In March, 1933, wheat was 49 cents a bushel; in July, 1934, it was 87 cents a bushel. This a debt of 42,800,000,000 bushels has evidently dropped, in this period of lavish spending, to 31,000,000,000 bushels. Likewise a debt of 600,000,000 bales of cotton at 7 cents a pound has dropped to a debt of 425,000,000 bales at 12 1/2 cents a pound. A debt of 55,300,000 barrels of oil at 28 cents a barrel has shrunk to a debt of 28,700,000 barrels at 94 cents a barrel. What these figures mean, if you accept the reasoning implied, is that after adding $6,000,000,000 to the national debt, it is considerably less than it was before, because basic commodity prices are higher.

Such reasoning need not be carried too far. It is worth taking into account, however, if for no other reason than realizing the great importance of higher prices if a government is to be able to get their debt paid. This is especially necessary when the debts were mainly incurred in a time of high prices.

On the whole, in spite of appearances, we really pay in goods rather than money. Higher prices, under a free system, bring higher dollar incomes, with the possibility of more savings to wipe out public and private debt. Lower prices make debt payment far more difficult.

HOW OLD IS MAN?

When people now in middle age were born, the history of man on this earth was generally limited to about 6,000 years. Recorded history slowly pushed the origin back a few thousand years farther—as old ruins and records were dug up. Then scientists began studying and identifying old bones and piecing together old skulls, and the origin of the race receded to several hundred thousand years. The public at last has become accustomed to estimates as high as a million years.

It is quite a jump from that figure to the 16,000,000 years now suggested by Dr. Solly Zuckerman, a zoologist of Oxford University, England. He thinks he has found convincing evidence of a sort more ancient and trustworthy than bones because it changes more slowly. He has studied the 5,000 of man and man's "closest relatives." He finds the same groups of blood cells in man and the man-like apes, and reports that the blood serums of Old World apes and monkeys are related to each other and to man's, though not to those of New World monkeys.

Thus, in his evolutionary study, he concludes that the Old World group split off from a common stock at a time incredibly distant, and that an "Independent human or human-like stock" branched off from the apes in very early geological time, perhaps in the Oligocene Era, estimated at about 16,000,000 years ago.

It is a curious fact and may not mean anything, that H. P. Blavatsky, the brilliant Russian mystic, teaching in this country half a century ago, declared man had been on this earth "in approximately his present form" for 16,000,000 years. She was no scientist.

A SPAWNING SPOT

Governor Merriam of California is staging a statewide campaign against communism and radicalism. He sees a red behind every tree and post and declares that the golden state was selected for a test of communism as the most vulnerable because of her large population. He believes that the leaders of state violence were imported radical financed by foreign money. And in speeches widely reported throughout the state he warns of the red menace.

The congressional hearing on communism, nazism, fascism, etc., being held at Los Angeles was closed to the public because the evidence was "so poisonous that international complications might result." Police intelligence files indicate that there are 400 dues paying members of the communist party in California, with 20,000 sympathizers, that the Moscow Internationale disbursed $62,000 in the United States in 1933 to finance red propaganda. And other California officials quote communists as declaring the "next attempt will be more serious and violent than ever before."

It is questionable however, whether the communists constitute any greater menace than the Nazi and fascist movements, also financed from abroad. Testimony disclosed that the Silver Shirts dealt with guns and actually plotted to seize San Diego's city hall. Southern California with its mixed population seems a spawning spot for every kind of fan, spirit and cult from religious to economic and political. Not only does communism and nazism flourish, but break movements of all kinds have mushroom growth. There are the "Utopians," the $20 a month pensioners, the technocrats and a dozen other flourishing economic cults of the half-baked with a much greater variety of religions in our Moravia.

WELL-CIVILIZED THEM

Two hundred thousand happy natives have been discovered inhabiting a plateau on New Guinea. The discovery prompts the conclusion that several things are going to happen to those aborigines. We shall take prompt steps to "civilize" them. In the process, we will probably discover a form of what is said to be a richly tasty and nutritious root. We will do that in spite of the fact that we're already too much land producing too much food. And, in the end, it may be safely said that happy days have ended forever for these unfortunate barbarians who are cruelly cut off and have been unable to enjoy civilization.

BREAKFAST FOOD

While "They say the war caused a great increase in the number of marriages," it is not clear that it has increased the number of breakfasts. It is not clear that it has increased the number of breakfasts.

STEAK AND BULBS

While that returned home after an overnight visit, Mr. Doolittle did not get a piece of good dinner last evening.

Several hundred prisoners were freed in their cells at the Welfare Island penitentiary at New York following a convicts' strike.

Wages, Hours At Issue NEW YORK, Aug. 16 (AP)—A nationwide strike in the cotton textile industry on or before September 1 was voted today at the annual convention of the United Textile Workers of America.

The vote on the strike was taken after hours of warm argument, most of it favoring a strike. It was taken after Thomas F. McMahon, president of the union, had admitted in answer to a question that the ex-member without opposition, re-elected, 26, over Fred L. Cote, 14, over Roseworth — Esther Ois, re-elected, 30, over Albert Kiefel, 15.

SHEEP MEN DISTURBED OVER DROUTH LOSSES

BURLEY, Aug. 16—Sheep men are in a quandary as to what steps to take to prevent serious losses unless copious rains fall on the ranges in the near future. May lambs which have done well until the drouth caused their ewe mothers to practically dry up the milk supply are looking scrawny and rapidly falling off in flesh. Range men begin to fear the autumn crop this season will be mostly feeders, and will not justify shipping to the eastern markets where there is no present demand for this class of lambs. The proposed purchase of sheep in the drouth areas by the government—sheep—has caused a considerable flock owners to get rid of old ewes. This will reduce the numbers to hardy animals which can probably be carried through with the limited amount of hay and pasture available for the coming winter. The problem is, however, what to do with locks until the time when ordinary sheep are taken to the farms of winter ranges. There are no ranges available where stock water can be obtained in the Boiselet district in the Mindokofa forest, have raised some of the mountain crests. But the ground is so dry that this water soon dries. Grass and browse in localities where stock water is still available has been pretty well eaten off.

Do you waste gasoline the way this man does?

He SOCKS the floor board!

Stamping down on the accelerator full force ("floor board socking") pumps gasoline into the cylinders faster than it can be used economically. Super-Shell, because it is "balance-refined," contains the volatile QUICK ACTING FRACTIONS that give lightning pick-up. Thus you always get faster response (and less waste). And you don't need to "sock the floor-board."

LOTS of Flavor--that's what Iced Tea has to have. That's what Schilling Iced Tea does have--lots of flavor--because it's toasted. That gives it more flavor--a rich flavor that the melting ice can't drown.

Schilling Iced Tea

Your gasoline itself can cause these 10 little wastes that Super-Shell positively reduces

PICK-UP WASTE REDUCED--by Super-Shell's low viscosity.	WASHING-UP WASTE REDUCED--because Super-Shell is made to deliver full power in a cold motor.	FUEL TANK LOSSES REDUCED--because the quick-evaporating gases "top" just aren't there.
MILEAGE WASTE REDUCED--because Super-Shell is powerful.	CARBON-FORMING WASTE REDUCED--because every drop of Super-Shell is clean burning.	DILUTION WASTES REDUCED--because Super-Shell vaporizes fully over a wide range of operating temperatures.
STARTING WASTE REDUCED--also by its powerful volatile fractions.	VAPOR LOCK WASTE REDUCED--because the erratic gases "top" are actually removed from Super-Shell.	COMBUSTION WASTES REDUCED--because there are no heavy "bottoms" to escape unburned.

Ten Tons of Concrete Used on Portion of Band Shell at Park

Beginning early yesterday morning, workmen on the band shell in the city park poured approximately 10 tons of concrete to complete the largest arch ever constructed in Idaho. The arch is 36 feet high and 42 feet wide.

Chapter One
200 SHIP

THE S. S. Boldero, Captain Wong Bo, flying the flag of the Chinese Republic, had put into the little port of Sinho because of sickness among her crew.

The Boldero was of an ancient vintage. It seemed incredible that she had ever been trim and new. She was a tramp; she had no regular run. Upon the hint of remunerative cargo, Captain Wong Bo was ready to go anywhere at any time.

At the moment she was carrying a miscellaneous cargo of goods to Singapore and a blind man coming within a hundred yards of the Boldero on a still day would have known as much. She reeked with menagerie smells.

This was not the fault of Angus McLeod, who had collected the beans upon order and speculation. He was a man to whom cleanliness and thrift were very close to godliness, but he had labored under a handicap. The two Chinamen whose duty it was to keep the cages clean and sweep down the forward cargo-deck about which they were ranged, had various disqualifications.

One of them was a fatty fellow who could not be driven and the other was afraid of everything but the song birds. All responsible persons are afraid of them. But they were afraid also of the honor bear and even of the little Hiss monkeys.

On addition to these two visible handicaps, McLeod had for several days had been suffering from an invisible handicap, which hurt him cruelly. It had started with a chill and a night when the thermometer stood at 102 degrees Fahrenheit. This chill had been followed by a cerebral episode of ebullient disorder. There was a pain, but one could not put one's finger on it. It was not so much pain as an infinite number of small illusive pains. Gradually these drew together into a focus on the right side of his abdomen and rather low down.

McLeod was forty-five years of age, a strong man who had lived cleanly, but to have even him at the work of feeding and tending his collection of wild things, you would have thought him an odd man bent with age.

Early in the game he had been moved by the trouble correctly, but he had hoped that the cerebral inflammation would subside and that without waiting any more time or money, he could make Singapore. But the inflammation, growing more serious, he ordered Captain Wong Bo to return to the port of Sinho. There he had a Dutch hospital with an excellent reputation.

panion, and after a quick nod of greeting, said: "where is the sick man?" "The second white man had come aboard and I think too damn sick. I think plitty soon him die."

"What seems to be the matter?" asked Van Reuter as they moved over toward the mattress where McLeod writhed in pain.

"It's the appendix," said Bowers, with a quick wink of one eye. "I feel a great need of lights. Lots and lots of white light. I want you to see red ones. I invite you to dine with me."

Angus McLeod had heard the rasp of the doctor's launch alongside the Boldero. He knew Bowers to be a doctor, but he did not fit the scheme of things. He could be nothing but a complication.

"I have a look," he said. "That morning McLeod had not made his customary change from pajamas to the usual two-piece suit of white duck, so that his afflicted side was easily bare for examination. Van Reuter's diagnosis was by close study. At the end of a half-hour he said to the whole party: "He has an appendix."

"You've got an appendix like a rotten mutton," he said. "If we can get you to the hospital before it bursts, you'll be on your feet again in two weeks."

Having diagnosed McLeod's trouble, Van Reuter almost automatically began to propose an operation on the spot. "What if he was a woman?" McLeod's upper arm with a scalpel, the doctor said, "I would not touch you."

"I will be comfortable in ten minutes," he said. "I have towels and a stretcher in the launch. We will rush you to the hospital and have you on the table in an hour."

"I don't care how I get there," said McLeod. "What's so nice about Singapore?"

By ALAN GOULD (Associated Press Sports Editor) NEW YORK, Aug. 16 (AP)—Almost every one but the Yankees, it seemed today, conceded that the Detroit Tigers have a demonstrated power to possess too much power to be dislodged from their stronghold on the American league pennant lead.

The New Yorkers, somewhat battered and bruised, are five and a half games down to the purest about six weeks of campaigning to go but they feel confident they turned the tide in yesterday's victory over the Bengals and they will pursue their recovery program in the double-header tomorrow which winds up the crucial series.

Today's rain, washing out the fourth game of the time being, was met with relief by the athletes in both camps.

Ernie's Fight "The Tigers are good," commented Joe McCarthy, the usually ebullient manager of the Yankees, after they have clinched the pennant yet.

Plans to Start Auker Cochrane had planned to start Edger Auker, his irascible pitching star, in the first game of tomorrow's doubleheader.

Three games of the series so far have drawn close to 100,000 spectators. If the weather clears for tomorrow, the total attendance in the city for the series may be the scene of another capacity or near-capacity gathering.

Tennis Tourney Play Postponed

Rain Stops Competition in Quarter-Finals at Forest Hills FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 16 (AP)—Rain, long a foe of the women's national tennis tournament, again held up the play in the quarter-finals of the annual championships today, necessitating postponement of the four quarter-finals.

The postponement brought with it the announcement that the final would be played on Sunday, but even this is indefinite because forecaster said rain might continue for two days.

All eight players who won their third-round matches welcomed the rain, particularly Helen Jacobs, the husky Berkeley, California, girl, who is attempting to win the title for the third consecutive year and become the third player to turn the trick since Molla Mallory and Helen Wills Moody did it.

CHICAGO, Aug. 16 (AP)—Second place Chicago Cubs failed to gain on the league leading New York Giants today as they split a double-header with the Boston Braves here, winning the first game, 3 to 2, in 10 innings but dropping a 6-to-1 decision in the nightcap to remain four games back of the champions, who were rained out at Pittsburgh.

Veteran Advances To Semi-Final of Canadian Tourney

LAVAL SUR DE LAC, Quebec, Aug. 16 (AP)—Jesse Guilford, the Toronto-based "veteran" Canadian who won the "veteran" title in 1921, turned back the challenge of youth offered by Jim Munger of Dallas, Texas, today to enter the semi-final round of the Canadian amateur golf championship.

Despite some erratic golf, Guilford conquered his young rival one up on the eighteenth green to reach the round of four, which was completed by Albert "Scotty" Campbell on the defending champion, J. Ross "Sandy" Somerville of London, Ontario, the only Canadian who ever won the United States title, and Ernie Palmer of Winnipeg.

Three of four survivors of today's two rounds of knock-out matches are scheduled to battle over the 30-minute final, Guilford facing Somerville and Campbell meeting Palmer.
