AGREEMENT SOUGHT AT BEAN MEETING

Problem of Fixing Dealer's Margin of Profit Causes of Deadlock

DENVER, Aug. 18 (AP)—Several knotty problems still faced representatives of the nation's bean industry here today at the third day of their meeting, called for the purpose of formulating a comprehensive marketing agreement under the AAA.

The conference, which was kept in session until shortly before midnight, was adjourned until tomorrow after the representatives from the five leading areas of the industry met in a separate session to discuss the problem of fixing a dealer's margin of profit.

It was the day delegates got together on one important item of the agreement which it was decided that the national marketing board of the bean industry should act as a court of last appeal rather than a supervisory body over the way each of the five regional boards.

Haskell, voice hope of E. S. Haskell, agricultural economist of the Department of Agriculture, who is presiding at the meeting, said that the marketing agreement could be perfected tomorrow and the conference ended, but that the delegates had agreed to a clause in the proposed agreement which would fix a minimum spread of profit for dealers.

Michigan growers' representatives objected to this clause, claiming that under the wording it would tend to fix a minimum established prices for both growers and dealers to sell.

It was suggested that while the minimum profit spread be retained, the price should be flexible, allowing each the dealer to adjust prices to reap the benefit of market rises.

Minimum Profit Sought

Although no agreement on the question was reached, most dealers' representatives present agreed to determine that some sort of minimum margin of profit should be guaranteed to the dealer.

"We opposed to this, it was agreed by many present that a minimum margin could not be enforced unless the minimum selling prices were established for growers and dealers. California bean growers, who already have received such a minimum price of the government to establish only a minimum price for growers, let alone dealers, and the minimum price, warned against a fixed profit spread, claiming that such a plan would work to the disadvantage in a marketing agreement."

Johnson Remains at Helm of NRA

The President Asked Me to Go Right On, Recovery Chief Reports

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—H. G. Hays, Johnson will continue as NRA's helm for an indefinite period.

"The president asked me to go right on," Johnson said today after a conference with Mr. Roosevelt.

The presidential word was accepted as a command by the militant administrator, who for more than a year has personified the Blue Eagle to American industry. Apparently the White House expression put a halt to Johnson's own desire for a quick return to private life.

But if Johnson was disappointed at the thought of a longer tenure directing industry, his rule on leaving the White House didn't show it. He said he was ready to go ahead and reorganize NRA in a way to "de-personalize" the government's industrial machinery.

"To Act as Chairman Board control of NRA is the reorganization plan," Johnson said. But just now Johnson looks toward a vacation.

Tennessee Men Lay Eggs and Stamps 'em

HARTSVILLE, Tenn., (AP)—A hen that lays eggs with the numeral 0 on each shell has become a sensation in this town.

For 12 days in succession she laid eggs thus marked. The number always appears on the blunt end, and no rubbing will wipe it out.

Two Ohio Men Die When Airplane Crashes

Massillon, Ohio, Aug. 18 (AP)—Two men were killed instantly near here today when their plane was shot down and crashed in a field on the outskirts of the city.

The victims were Albert Myers, 40, Akron, Ohio, automobile dealer, said to have been the owner of the plane, and Inspector John Bursell, 37, of the Massillon police department.

Both men apparently tried to take to their parachutes. Their bodies landed a quarter of a mile from the wreckage of the plane.

Myers and Bursell frequently went for plane rides in the area. They missed work, friends said.

THREE MEN MEET VIOLENT DEATHS

A. L. Carlson, Burley, Victim of One of Three South Idaho Accidents

BOISE, Aug. 18 (AP)—Three men met violent deaths in southern Idaho today, two of them in automobile accidents and the third under the wheels of a train.

The dead: Walter Fleming, 27, of Boise, John O'Brien, American Fork, and Orlando Lorenzo Carlson, 45, of Burley, Idaho.

Fleming was fatally injured when a truck he was driving collided with a machine driven by R. W. Simpson, Jr., of Boise, at a street intersection here. The truck overturned, pinning Fleming beneath it.

O'Brien was decapitated when he fell under the wheels of an Oregon Short Line train at Blackfoot. The body was identified by Cliff Martin, who lived in the same house as the half-brother of the dead man, who was also riding on the freight train.

Carlson was killed in an automobile accident near Arco and overturned, crushing him. Mrs. Carlson went to Idaho Falls from Burley to buy her husband a suit but he failed to rally. A son, Earl, was less seriously hurt.

NRA Asks Twin Falls For $5000 To Police Industries

called for about three-fifths of the $40,000,000. The construction industry under 11 headings is needing about $7,000,000; retail automobile dealers want $2,400,000; retail coal men, about $2,600,000; bituminous coal producers, $1,300,000; the lumber industry, nearly $3,000,000; the crockery, $1,275,000; crushed stone, sand, gravel, and slag, $1,100,000; and retail lumber dealers and vendors of building materials, about $1,800,000.

Every Firm Assessed

Some of these budgets have been approved. Others are being considered. In each case, the industry is to be assessed to raise its own budget. The favorite method of assessment is to make a small levy on the basis of its sales during the present or preceding year. Every firm in the industry must pay its share of the assessment, and every firm in the city will be required to contribute accordingly.

Warehouses, for instance, are to pay $24 apiece—more if they are large; bakers are to pay not more than 10 cents per year on each $100 in sales over $20,000; raise $500,000; dealers in tires are to pay 10 cents per year on the number of their stores and the volume of their business, from $1 to $25 in sales; and flour millers, 5 mills per barrel, but not less than $5 annually.

Wholesalers likewise are taxed; the wool range trade from $10 to $500 a firm; milliners, 2 1/2 cents for each $1000 of sales; coal men, $1 a month plus a percentage on sales; stationers will raise a $10,000 budget by a small levy on sales, and so on.

White retail and wholesale trade is assessed in this way, manufacturers usually pay on the volume of sales. Assessments include:

Flano manufacturers, 20 cents per $100 of 1933 sales; macaroni makers, 5 cents per barrel of flour; semolina or farina used; makers of neckties, one-half cent to 6 cents per dozen ties, to raise $150,830; sportswear makers, 24 of 1 per cent on sales; soft drink bottles, $250 per employee to raise $111,850; Cakes and Ice Cream Cones

The funeral supply trade is to pay 10 to 15 cents on each casket to raise $145,740 a year; fur manufacturers $15 on each $100 of sales; hat manufacturers will raise $104,888 by having labels at from 2 to 6 cents on each hat; shoe factories will raise their sales 80 cents on each $100, as will lace-maker makers; hatter makers will make the tax 50 cents on the $100 of sales; the fishing tackle industry will contribute $1 per $100 on its 1933 pay rolls, and the blue crab industry will raise $10,251 by taxing crabs and crab meat.

All this money will be put in 250 separate pools, each to cover the cost of one industry under the NRA. The Code Authority for each industry will spend the money and do the work. It will hire suitable numbers of executives and clerks, at average salaries, to carry on plugging of newspaper photographers and exclusion of the press from the senate approval of 27 bills which the senator personally shot through both houses.

Opponents were successful in doing only one thing, invoking a rule which barred Senator Long from coming on the floor of the house to direct his personal personality.

But this made slight impression on the Louisiana "kingfish," who tossed his instruments from outside just the same.

Behind the whole thing was the opposition of Mayor Walmisley to Long's attempts to seize control of New Orleans.

OWNER OF FOUR-YEAR-OLD CAR TELLS OF A NEW THRILL IN MOTORING

"I had the biggest surprise of my life when I drove the Ford V-8"

When I drove the Ford V-8

It had been driving my car for nearly four years and I had put more than 75,000 miles on it. Then things got a little better with me and I figured I could afford a new car. "Let's look over the Ford V-8," I said to my wife.

"So we took it out on the road and gave it a good, stiff work-out. Tried it in traffic, on hills, and the roughest roads we could find. Put it to every test I knew. Even went so far as to drain the tank and see how many miles it would go on a gallon of gasoline.

"I want to tell you I had the biggest surprise of my life. I knew the Ford V-8 was better than my former car, but I hadn't any idea it was so much better.

"The Ford name is on it and it has the same reliability and economy that you always expect in a Ford. But what a difference that V-8 engine makes! It's so smooth and powerful that you just glide along. After you drive a V-8 you just can't be satisfied with anything less.

"My wife was in the back seat and she said it was the quietest, most restful ride she'd ever had. And was she delighted with the finish of the car! Before we got home she'd decided on that green body with cream wheels and mohair upholstery. And then could hardly wait until she could show it off to her friends.

"I'll tell you frankly we've had more real fun driving this Ford V-8 than any other car we've ever owned—and we've had a good many makes in the last fifteen years.

"As for economy—I'm finding that this Ford V-8 costs less to run than a four-cylinder car. No guessing about that, either, because I'm one of those bookkeeping fellows who keeps a careful record. Henry Ford was right when he said the V-8 is the most economical Ford car ever built."

FIVE STATES TO NAME CANDIDATES

has three opponents for the Wyoming senatorial nomination, the and District Judge Harry P. Tacy, J. Elmer Brock and M. H. Underwood all have sought the administration.

Governor Leslie A. Miller, who was swept into office in the 1932 Democratic landslide, is seeking re-nomination against Thomas B. O'Neill, a stockman, who has a "new deal" platform of his own. Four Republicans, including Secretary of State A. M. Clark, want to meet the successful Democrat in November.

A prime worry of the Democratic national organization is the probable outcome of the party's gubernatorial contest in California between Upton Sinclair and George C. Peck. Sinclair is after the nomination of an extremely liberal platform. Reports have reached Democratic headquarters that if Sinclair, it gives the Democratic nomination the party will split and a Republican governor may be elected.

Election of a Republican governor, Democrats fear, probably would result in wiping out nearly all of the 11 Democratic members of the legislature whom came into office in the 1932 sweep.

KIDNAPING IN CANADA

Return of John S. Labatt, wealthy Toronto brewer who was held by kidnapers for a number of days, destroys an interesting basis of comparison as between police efficiency in Canada and our own country.

So far as can be judged from the somewhat contradictory press reports of the case, no part of the one hundred and fifty thousand dollar ransom was paid. Labatt was set free in the outskirts of Toronto and from that point made his way to a Toronto hotel where his brother Hugh was detained under police guard to prevent payment of the ransom.

Only in this respect did the Canadian method of handling the case differ from our own. In the meantime City and Provincial police aided by a detachment of Northwest Mounted Police sought diligently for the criminals.

Whether the kidnapers were frightened into releasing their victim because of the authorities or merely decided to give up the game when it became apparent that there was no way of collecting the ransom presents an interesting question. But kidnaping indulged in only in the hope of compelling heavy cash payment, and all hope of this having been destroyed by police interference it might well be that the police action was actually responsible for the failure of the plot.

If this is the case it has remained for the Canadian authorities to put the finger upon the only certain method of shutting off the activities of the kidnapers. Robbed of any chance of collecting ransom kidnaping becomes an unprofitable business. The procedure of the Toronto police may seem heartless and cruel but it constitutes perhaps the only method which can be effectively employed in kidnaping cases.

CHANGING NIAGARA FALLS

News that another big chunk of rock has broken away from the edge of Niagara Falls startles the public. Perhaps that great scenic wonder is going to pieces.

There is no need for alarm. These things have been happening in the Niagara River for tens of thousands of years, according to the geologists. The ledge of rock over which that mighty volume of water has been pouring through the ages was once much closer to Lake Ontario. It has been cut back and cut back through the years. It is quite possible that the Indians saw or knew of bigger rock falls than the one this month.

The latest slide seems to have improved somewhat the general effect of the Falls, for it has spread the waters over a section of rock which has frequently been bare.

These rock slides are excellent advertising. Parents hurry to take their youngsters to see Niagara Falls before there is too much change. Adults go out of curiosity to see the gaps made by past slides and hoping to see for themselves one of these great crashes.

LESS OF THEM

Just how many Republicans voted in the Democratic Primaries will never be known but there couldn't have been as large a number in this Primary as there was two years ago for the reason that, taking the head of the ticket as an example, C. Byn Ross received only some twenty eight thousand votes or less whereas in the Primary of two years ago he polled forty thousand.

The fact is not of particular interest. Ross got the votes of his own personal political machine and not very much besides. An unusual incident of the election is the fact that in a number of ballot boxes in Ada and other counties blank Democratic ballots were found. These no doubt were from the hands of persons who felt that it would be imprudent not to ask for a Democratic ballot but who were unable to force themselves to go any farther by way of endorsement of the Ross candidacy.

No other Idaho Governor in the history of the State ever received a third term of office—and, so far as known—none ever asked for it. If Ross succeeds in obtaining such an honor he will have accomplished something absolutely unique in the history of Idaho politics. It is doubtful if there is another anywhere who could do as much—unless it be Huey Long.

LIBERTY, STAND GUARD

Each year the Cobden Memorial Association of England selects one of the leading scholars of the world and invites him to London to deliver the Cobden Memorial lecture. It is the best known of all annual addresses. The ambassadors of the nations attend, along with the most distinguished Britons and visitors from other countries. Afterward the lecture is published and distributed throughout the continent.

This year the speaker was Professor Gustav Cassel, famed Danish economist. His subject was the timely one, "From Protectionism through Planned Economy to Dictatorship." In the teeth of his British audience, Professor Cassel charged that the post-war troubles entered their crisis in 1928 when England abandoned the international gold standard and when the world no longer had a firm and fixed basis for international trade. Then the nations turned upon themselves and they began that warfare of tariffs and subsidies which could but lead into planned economy. This planned economy, stated the professor, is utterly impossible in the long run, and particularly with a fluctuating international standard of values.

Meanwhile, the effort at planned economy necessarily brings about a bewildering mass of governmental interference of a steadily accumulative nature. But the mistakes of those who at first putter with planning only result in strengthening the demand of the bewildered people for greater and greater coordination, and stronger and stronger leadership. "For this reason," warned the Swedish savant, "planned economy will always tend to develop into dictatorship."

In particular, Professor Cassel told his hearers that too much dependence should not be placed upon parliament and the representative forms of government of Western Europe and America. If planned economy continues, representative government operates with sufficient efficiency where economic liberalism is practiced, but as soon as the government enters upon a policy of censorship and other such conditions, then the governing bodies become "more and more involved in the struggle between competing interests, with the consequence of a moral decay ending in party—if not individual—corruption." He expressed the opinion that parliamentary government cannot possibly be preserved, if parliaments are constantly overruled by a committee of an infinite mass of the most intricate questions relating to private economy.

And once the government has established its economic control, it begins the destruction of individual liberty also. The people have lost their power of effective resistance. It is a devastating analysis of the trends and the dangers of the times, and particularly directed against the present policy of Sweden's rugged individualism. He is the leading economist of a nation which has gone further in planned economy than any other nation outside of Russia, and a nation which at the moment appears to be the most prosperous in the world. Sweden is busier today than even in the boom years of 1927-8.

But if planned economy and the trade wars continue to bring the defeat and ruin of Sweden and of all countries, He points out that under the new nationalism, various of the governments have the idea of not buying more from a particular country than can be sold to that particular country. It is seventeenth century mercantilism, pure and simple, and its realization would reduce world trade to a small fraction of what it is in the best years.

It is well for the Americans to consider these weighed opinions, and to consider what they are fighting with when they encourage greater and greater encroachment of the federal government on the complexities of business.

It is representative government capable of business management, Professor Cassel says, and the resultant middle would be likely to bring a dictator, who in turn would deprive the people of their civil as well as their economic liberty.

Is that what we want?

BRREAKFAST FOOD

The British public looked long and thoughtful at the second examination question, which read: "State the number of tons of coal shipped out of the United States in any given year." Then his brow cleared and he wrote: "1423—none."

Shadley—"There's only one honest way of making a living."

Soreberry—"Why, how that?"

Shadley—"I thought you wouldn't know."

Wiley—"We have now been married 10 years, Jack, and the time has come when I should be asking you a case for your birthday. Have it."

Jack—"No, no. I can look back on those cakes as milestones in my life."

A New Yorker at Large By MARK BARRON NEW YORK (In an expensive message in Sutton Place dwells a man who is a largely built around a lavish series of entertainments given in honor of foreign diplomats. He is a well known figure in the Park avenue ascendancy.

After the performance that night, the actors, hungry and thirsty, were seated at the extra-Place mansion. When the hostess's society friends arrived shortly thereafter, the party was seated at the drawing room thoroughly cluttered with covers of actors (genial) and actresses (modest) and the party was a stranded desert island party that had just been rescued after weeks of starvation.

BOARD CALLS FOR RAILROADS' DATA State Backs Tax Experts' Demand for Figures on Carloadings

BOISE, Aug. 18 (AP)—The state board of equalization today demanded of the Oregon Short Line railroad that it supply carloading information and data on auxiliary companies as sought by Roy Dodge, tax advisor in a dispute over which no duty only on insurance his questions would be answered.

Dodge, whose tax theories have been reflected in several measures presented before the state legislature in the four years, has been questioning of E. M. Sawyer, Oregon Short Line tax agent, which was terminated when he stalked out of the hearing late yesterday to announce to Governor Ross his resignation.

The withdrawal of his resignation accompanied an announcement that the data he requested would be demanded of the railroad. The question was read into the record today and Sawyer promised to telegraph it to company headquarters to be supplied as early as possible. Some of it, he said yesterday, would require six months to compile.

In questioning Sawyer today, Dodge asked why fewer locomotives were reported on the tax report of the company to the board of equalization than were listed in the company's report to the public utilities commission. Sawyer explained part of the difference by a reference to the records and said a "satisfactory" explanation would be supplied for the rest, pointing out that some were destroyed, some led from other companies, and a few accounted for in other ways.

Hearing of the Union Pacific System report was virtually completed and that of other railroad companies began during the day. The Public will complete its case early next week.

FAIRVIEW GRANGERS PREPARE FOR FAIR

BOISE, Aug. 18—About 50 members and the regular meeting of the Fairview Grange Friday night. The business hour was composed of making plans for the 4-H fair to be held in the near future. During the lecturer's hour roll call was answered by 'My Favorite Picture' and 'The Best of Me' by group singing. The next meeting will be held in two weeks.

A large number of members were present for the regular meeting of the Lucerne Grange held Friday evening at the Lucerne schoolhouse. During the business meeting plans were completed for the 4-H fair and it was decided upon to have the Grange picnic on Friday during the session of the fair.

The lecturer, Miss Lillian Heitmanek, then took charge of the meeting and presented a program, opening with each member present answering roll call with 'What I Enjoyed Most This Summer' followed by a whistling contest at which Buddy Stacy and Carl Peterson were proclaimed the winners.

TIGER ISLAND

A New Serial by Gouverneur Morris

SYNOPSIS: The owners of the "Bolders," Captain Wong Bo and Flint, the "sparks," plan to acquire her for the insurance. Aboard is Annis McLeod with a cargo of wild animals; McLeod falls ill and must go ashore. But the animals must go on to Singapore, and Harry Bowers, hunter, volunteer to take them. Bowers visits a stranded Malay circus at the little Dutch port where the "Bolders" is tied up to find an animal expert to assist him.

"And only a guinea," said Bowers. "I find that I cannot be happy with less than six." He selected six of the photographs pretty much at random, pocketed them and paid for them. This was the easiest money that Big Bertha had seen in many days, and he wondered if by any chance, the young and obviously rich young man was one of those very rare mammals which seemed to suggest to her heart, which every money rendered extremely susceptible, that he was a tiger.

Chapter Four
BIG BERTHA
Some of the ballyhoo posters were still in place, and if you judged from these and not from the smallness and shabbiness of the tents, you would have judged that the mascot circus was of more than ordinary caliber and world fame. The dark jungle beyond was lighted here and there by long strong slanting shafts of sunlight.

"Now that the show is on the rocks," he said, "what are you going to do for a living?" Big Bertha bridled and even simpered. "In Oriental countries," she said, "women of my type don't have to worry about money. If I am thought to have made a conquest, she was undeciphered by the next question which was asked: "How was it?"

Bowers and his Malay chauffeur hunted about for traces of an animal trainer. In the first three show tents they found only evidence of heavy picking and abandonment. But in the fourth tent, which was very little, they found a woman who was big.

"Can you perhaps," said Bowers, "tell me if the animal trainer is still on the premises?" Big Bertha became instantly cold and distant. Doubtless she thought the woman resembled a question demanding an unsatisfactory subject.

The ballyhoo posters without had informed them that her name was Big Bertha, that she was a genuine English lady, and that she weighed six hundred pounds. To many of the Oriental, adroitly and beauty are synonymous. As the sight of the representation of the vast woman on the poster, the Malay chauffeur, who was young and by nature predatory and a wretched woman, who was concerned made a clicking noise with the tip of his tongue. Big Bertha, who must weigh slightly less than six hundred pounds, dressed in trunk hat pink tights and velvet trunks, sat on a tin trunk, reading a book.

"What are you reading?" "The 'Tiger' magazine," she said. "I am reading the most dangerous animal in the most engaging and devastating state of mind, which caused her to smile at the intrusion, Big Bertha murmured the one word: "Granted." Then she laid her book down and she asked, and upon her beads he, and picked up a handy sheet of highly varnished photographs.

Bowers cleared his throat and said: "Pardon me." With a most snobbish imitation of an English gentleman's way of speaking, and transferring her gaze from the book to the intruder, Big Bertha murmured the one word: "Granted." Then she laid her book down and she asked, and upon her beads he, and picked up a handy sheet of highly varnished photographs.

It was not the ballyhoo posters, depicting the most dangerous animals in the most engaging and devastating state of mind, which caused her to smile at the intrusion, Big Bertha murmured the one word: "Granted." Then she laid her book down and she asked, and upon her beads he, and picked up a handy sheet of highly varnished photographs.

Bowers took the photographs in his hands and looked through them. While he was thus engaged, Big Bertha perceived that the chauffeur stood rooted and gaped upon her with awe and rapture. She dropped him a wink, accompanied by faint twisting of her gigantic torso.

"This incident romance was interrupted by Bowers, who had been reading the fine print at the bottom of the photographs. "Did you really weigh twenty-nine pounds at birth," he asked, and in his voice there was a kind of horrified admiration. "Twenty-nine pounds to an ounce," said Big Bertha, "and the interior of a little spritz of a woman, fancy!"

Jimmy Crowley Names Favorites In 1934 Gridiron Wars

Fordham Coach Picks Pros to Beat All-Stars

Stanford, Trojans and St. Mary's Are Rated as Outstanding Elevens on Western Football Front

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP)—Jimmy Crowley, who rents his football brains and eloquence to the following teams at the moment, likely to succeed this autumn, with the stipulation that you remember that he's making his choice early:

- EAST: Pittsburgh, Princeton, and Columbia.
- MIDWEST: Purdue, Michigan, Minnesota, and Notre Dame.
- WEST: Stanford, Southern California, and Utah.
- SOUTH: Alabama, Georgia, and Tennessee.

Looking for a summer's holiday at his home in Green Bay, Wis., Crowley was making no promises for his Fordham team, but preferred to give the game of football which will be played between the 1933 All-America stars and the Chicago Bears, champion of the National Professional football league, at Chicago, Aug. 21.

Experience Wins

"All other things being equal, the team with the most experience and organization will win football games," Crowley said. "For this reason I don't see how the college players can hope to defeat the pros. You must remember that the college players have played for years under different systems and while they are all well-organized athletes, it is difficult to imagine them being able to adapt themselves to each other in two weeks and get good enough to beat the pros. The college players should be in better condition than the pros, and they will use more men, but the use of a great number of men will handicap rather than help them."

Crowley was optimistic that Elmer Layden would do well in his first year as coach at Notre Dame. "I naturally think he has a great future ahead of him there," Crowley said.

The professional game of football is going to get increasingly popular, in Crowley's opinion, but he does not believe it will threaten the supremacy of the intercollegiate game. "College football has too much to do with tradition and organization of great institutions, the color of the student crowds, and the bands. This is what makes it what it is, and no professional football can't offer."

Idaho Legion Nine Defeated, 13 to 5

Pocatello Team Bows to Great Falls in Regional Tournament

WENATCHEE, Wash., Aug. 18 (AP)—Rating 13 base hits, two of them home runs, off of two Pocatello pitchers, Great Falls, Montana's junior league team, won their way into the final rounds of the regional tournament here today by a 14 to 5 score. They will play the Seattle university post in tomorrow's second game for the right to enter the Western final at Topeka, Kan.

Wait Tux, six foot, three inch youngster from the Montana city, leads the Idaho side as well as scattered hits and has teams' advantage of nine Pocatello batters to push over four of their runs.

In addition to his pitching chores, Tux pounded out three singles and a four base shot to lead the batting attack of the winners.

Captain Atkinson, third baseman, and Knauer, catcher, were outstanding in the Idaho team's victory.

The score: Great Falls, 14; Pocatello, 5.

OAKLAND LEGION TEAM CAPTURES REGIONAL TITLE

LOGAN, Utah, Aug. 18 (AP)—The Oakland, California, team captured the regional American Legion junior baseball title by defeating the Tucson, Arizona, nine, 10 to 9, in the final of the California-Utah-Arizona-Nevada tournament here today.

Tucson reached the championship game by defeating the Masqua, Utah, entry yesterday, 11 to 7. The Oakland team by drawing a bye, Nevada failed to enter a team.

Shorts And Sweet On Links. Braw Briton Breeces Along. Old Palfrey Family Custom.

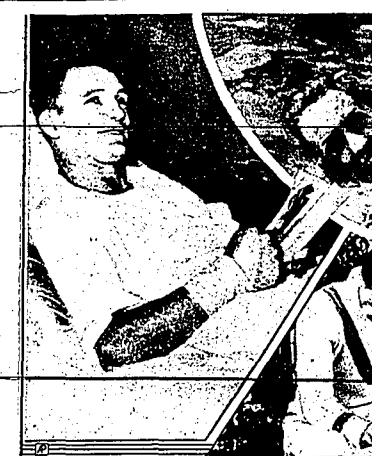

CHICAGO golf galleries couldn't find anything to object to in shorts for women golfers—at least not in the fetching ensemble sported by Miss Jean Armstrong (left), one of the leading feminine stars of the Chicago district. The mighty thigh muscles of K. S. Duncan of Oxford university stood him in good stead as he hurtled through the air to win the "long jump" in the Oxford-Cambridge vs. Cornell-Princeton meet. The top of the line—Miss Jean Armstrong—was the famous Palfrey sisters of Boston were caught by the camera as they watched play in the Longwood-bowls tournament at Brookline. Left to right: Joanna, Polly, Josephine Cruickshank, Sarah, one of the nation's highest-ranked stars, and Lee Palfrey.

Choe' Hauser Takes A Rest. Alice Doesn't Need Bridges. Tennis Ace Scores At Love.

Choe' Hauser, slugging outfielder of the Minneapolis Millers of the American association, manages a smidge from his hospital cot in Kansas City despite the fact a broken knee cap will probably keep him out of action for the rest of the season. Hauser, who last year set an all-time record with 69 home runs, re-injured the "knee" which kept him from a place in the big show. One of the brightest new stars in women's swimming this summer is 13-year-old Alice Bridges of Whitinsville, Massachusetts, successor to Mrs. Eleanor Holm (retired) as National twenty-year backstroke champion. Fred Perry, world No. 1 ranking tennis star, has announced his engagement to marry Mary Lawson, British film star, after his tour of the United States and Australia.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 18 (AP)—Art Lasky, who "wont out west to make good" is the first Minneapolis heavyweight since the days of Patsy Carditt to make a serious bid for the crown now held by Louis Baer. Lasky is scheduled to meet Steve Hamas of Philadelphia, at Mason Square Garden September 27, with the stipulation that the winner will be sent against Baer, who is signed to defend his title under the direction of the garden next year.

ON THE SIDELINES by Edward J. Neil

The luck of the Irish is beginning to have a direct opposite in the "kick of the Yankee pitchers." Four of them have been within a single ball of pitching no-hit games this season, and none of them made it. "Lefty" Gomez, whose earned-run average is considerably lower than that of Carl Hubbell, though the Glanias ace is rated the best left hander in baseball, had the most disastrous experience against the Athletics, who twice have prevented no-hitters, each time with Jimmie Fox getting the single base hit.

Fox Spills Another

In the series with the Athletics before that one, Jimmy Drebach allowed but one hit, a home run by Frank on June 14. In his first start of the season with the Yankees, Johnny Brown, the Yale alumnae, set the Browns down with one strike, a clot by Sam West in the ninth. Ruffing allowed the Indians only one hit, a single by Hal Trosky on a ball that Ben Chapman might have caught.

'KINGFISH' MARRIES A FAN DANCER

THERE was much ado along Chicago's Maxwell street when it was learned that Kingfish Lestinsky, the ex-fish peddler turned bachelier, had married Rosie Glickman, a fan dancer. Her's Lestinsky, with his bride, "inside the ropes." A few hours before the wedding at Crown Point, Indiana, Lestinsky had asserted there wouldn't be "any marriage" for the "Kingfish." (AP) Photo.

Jerome Jockey Rides to Victory

Humphries, Wins Travers Stake

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 18 (AP)—Observant, the 4 to 1 choice racine for Morton S. Schwartz, today won the American turf's oldest stake when he defeated the other three-year-olds in the 68th running of the Travers Stake. C. V. Whitney's Colateral was second and his stablemate, Roundabout, third.

Hungry And Angry

Here's a brand new story of beloved Wilbert Robinson, culled from the works of Halp McCall, proprietor of an exceptionally fine sports column on the pages he edits in the Atlanta Constitution. It goes back to the days when Robbie pitched the Brooklyn's, and as happened often in his later days, the Robins were losing in lousiness.

They had dropped four in a row by a single run as their train was rolling toward Chicago and Robbie's mind flung down for his matting, eggs and carefully he explained to the water that he wanted them "over." The water, a coffee fellow, was gone a long time, and when he appeared with the pitcher, there sat the eggs with one broken, the yellow yolk clating into Robbie's barefoot face.

His first impulse was to go for the man. He controlled himself with difficulty. Then he whispered, "Come here, waiter."

Kansas City Ace Winner of Net Title at Denver

DENVER, Aug. 18 (AP)—Nelson Meacham of Kansas City was the men's singles crown of the International tennis tournament at the Denver tennis club today, defeating the local favorite behind to defeat Leonard Peterson of Pasadena, Cal.

The scores were 7-5, 3-6, 4-6, 6-0. Meacham won the title cup earned in 1933 by Mel Gallacher of Salt Lake City, who failed to surpass the feat.

Etha Fuller, Denver, won the women's singles crown by defeating Mary Benedict, Denver, 6-2, 6-1.

George Schneider Wins Golf Title

Utahn Shoots 70, One Under Par, in Playoff With Denver Pro

DENVER, Aug. 18 (AP)—By the margin of one stroke, George Schneider, slim Ogden professional, won the Colorado open medal tourney at the Denver country club course today.

In a playoff with John Rogers, the club's pro, with whom he was deadlocked at the end of the tourney's 54 holes, Schneider shot a machine-like 70, one under par. Rogers toured the difficult layout in card figures.

The course, which has been taxing the best efforts of the region's strongest professionals and amateurs this week, was thoroughly whipped by the Utah's flawless play.

Striking carefully and cleanly, Schneider played the first 11 holes in even par. Then on 12 he shot a birdie four. He also backed a birdie on 15, also a par five. The only time he slipped over perfect figures was on the par 4 home hole, where he took five.

Succeeded Harold Long Schneider succeeds to the championship won by Harold Long of Denver last year. Long, with a 222 for 54 holes, finished next to Rogers and the Ogden entry.

Schneider also was the only golfer in the field to break par twice. He shot a 69 on his first round yesterday.

Schneider's card in the playoff follows: Par out 544 434 443—35; in 439 433 444—36—35-71.

Schneider out 544 434 443—35; in 437 434 445—35—70.

In one of the semi-final men's doubles matches, Rudy and Archie Boxworth, Denver, emerged winners over Mel Gallacher and Grant Evans, Salt Lake City, 4-6, 9-7, 6-4.

Edith von Haden, Salt Lake City, and Larry Meyers, Los Angeles, beat Dorothy Schwaner and Edie Mullen, Denver, 6-2, 6-2, in a semi-final mixed doubles match.

SCOUTING western SPORTS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18 (AP)—August means open season on picking all-star Pacific coast league teams. An easy way to get around this would be to pick the entire Los Angeles team. Our west coast centers may have different ideas but here is the lineup for a team that should be able to do a bit of playing:

Pitcher—Joe Sullivan, Hollywood, southpaw; his runs responsible for each line up his selection: Thomas, Meola, Garland of Los Angeles may have better records than he is playing on a winning team. Sullivan is losing for an ordinary club. Hermann of the Seals, Kasper and Osborn of the Missions, and H. Pilett of Seattle, honorable mention.

Catcher—Oilly Campbell, Los Angeles, topnotch receiver, thrower and hitter, consistent. Johnny Basler, Hollywood, next.

First base—Jim Ogleby, Los Angeles. Winning player with winning team. Les Fowler, Sacramento, and Ellsworth Dalgren, Missions, next in order.

Second base—Jimmy Reese, Los Angeles. Unquestionably keyman of Angel infield. Ability plus. Glen Wright, Missions, next.

Shortstop—Hal Rhyne, Seala. Defensive star. Hitting fallen most. Carl Dittmar, Los Angeles, runner-up.

Third base—Gene Lillard, Los Angeles. Improved fielder. Hitting fallen off from last year but still a socker. Eddie Mulligan, Oakland, best second call.

Left field—Joe Di Maggio, One. If not the best prospect in league. Marvin Gustaf, Los Angeles, second favorite.

Center field—Frank Demaree, Los Angeles. Leading hitter and in runs batted in. Also home runs. Regular right fielder but able to play here.

Right field—Oscar Eckhardt, Missions. Good hitter, second to Demaree this writing. Led league hitting last three years. No surprise if winds up there this season, fielding greatly improved. No all-star team complete without both Eckhardt and Demaree aboard, hence Demaree, more versatile, goes to center field.

Manager—Gaby Street, Missions. Bang-up job, first division team built with average material. Jack Leiby, Los Angeles, good manager, but 1933 Los Angeles team probably on the top without manager.

Both Ben Berger, Seala, and Eckhardt for making bunch matter. Berge and castoffs act like real team.

CORN-HOG BENEFIT PAYMENTS NEARING

County Allotment Committee to Resume Sessions in Final Stages

Idaho's attempt to justify possession of some 60,000 more hogs than allotted to the state by federal crop reduction act seems to be nearing a conclusion so that within the next few weeks there is strong probability that Idaho as a whole will share in the federal government's distribution of corn-hog allotment payments, according to information given out at Boise.

Members of the Twin Falls county corn-hog allotment committee received word yesterday to resume sessions here the first of the week when it is expected, preliminary contracts later completed here and sent to the state for final adjustment and forwarding of final contracts to the agricultural adjustment administration at Washington.

"I congratulate the victors," Hall declared. "I am for the ticket," he continued. "Republicans must forget everything else. We will win if we are united, or politics. Our country is in the hands of traitors or fools, or both. Unless we can check present tendencies in Washington, destruction of the republic is inevitable.
