HOMER VAN METER OF DILLINGER MOB KILLED BY POLICE

Outlaw's Body Perforated With 50 Slugs From Officers' Machine Gun in Short Chase at St. Paul

(By The Associated Press) ST. PAUL, Aug. 23—Homer Van Meter, one of the craftiest lieutenants of slain John Dillinger's band of arch-criminals, died tonight as he lived, with a sniper on his hip and a machine gun in his hand. His trigger finger was a split second slow and the blazing fire from a police machine gun felled him as he fled down a street.

The slaying climaxed an unrelenting two weeks' search for Van Meter, who was 35 years old, after police had been tipped he was again in his old haunts here. While Van Meter died as did his late chief, from bullets fired by the police, however, unlike Dillinger, Van Meter died with his hands up and his eyes closed as he was shot at by his pursuers. They were Chief of Police Frank Cullen, seven police officers, the head of the territorial department, and Detective Jess Dietrich and Thomas Maloney.

Death Ends Short Chase Both ends went wild and Van Meter fled for his life. Brown, who had the trigger of the machine gun, saw the sunfall flat after a short chase. Chief Cullen in the meantime was forced to stop in his firing to avoid hitting a woman.

The gangster's body was perforated with about 50 slugs after he had scuttled from a street intersection near from the downtown. Chief Cullen said authorities had been "trailing" Van Meter night and day for two weeks, intimating the fugitive had been going and coming from his hideaway here during that time.

Van Meter's pockets were found with the money was an amount of cash, including the automatic and an Illinois motor vehicle license registration card issued to a "Henry".

It was the seventeenth killing in connection with the hunt for Dillinger and his mob, including members of the mob. Chief Cullen refused to disclose the motives and the tip that Van Meter was in town.

The fugitive was the second Dillinger to be killed in Twin Falls, Idaho. The first was Green, killed by a federal deputy.

NRA Split Waits On FDR; Liberty League Draws Fire

Settlement of Reorganization Dispute Up To Chief

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (AP)—Quick adjustment of differences between the administration and the organization of NRA's administrative powers was indicated tonight with the return of President Roosevelt. Already the first steps in revamping the recovery administration had been taken, and it was known that the chief executive intended to have the complete blueprint approved as speedily as possible so as to offer no impediment to an expected upturn in business next month.

To that end he plans to confer tomorrow with Hugh S. Johnson, Donald R. Richberg and Secretary Perkins, the three most concerned with changing the Blue Eagle's set-up, and some officials expressed the opinion an agreement might be reached in the next few days.

SYMPATHY STRIKE OF TRANSPORTATION WORKERS DEFERRED

Union Officials Decide to Wait Upon Government Conciliators Labor on Bus Drivers' Walkout

(By The Associated Press) A sympathy strike by Chicago's 19,000 transportation workers was indefinitely deferred Thursday when union officials decided to take no action pending mediation of the bus drivers' walkout. The executive board of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees, meeting in Detroit, preferred to wait upon government conciliators now trying to reconcile striking union bus chauffeurs and their employers. The surface car and elevated train men had suggested the bus drivers' walkout.

Only to conclude that it would take no further action. The arbitrators continued to hunt for some terms acceptable to the men, the company and the men, with the company contending that only 67 of its drivers were on strike. Bus service continued on normal schedule.

Blue Eagle Withdrawn At Washington NRA announced it would withdraw the Blue Eagle insignia from the Chicago Motor Coach company on recommendation of the national labor relations board which recently held the company had violated the labor provisions of its code by discharging a group of employees for engaging in union activity.

The blunt statement "we are making final plans for action" against leaders in Washington of the textile union, with a strike of 600,000 impending, a red minister before the cotton textile industry relations board offered its services as peace-maker.

Striking employees of the Alumininum Company of America, angered by the company's refusal to accept government negotiations of the dispute, said that heretofore "responsibility for any consequences" rested on the management.

Work was resumed on all Milwaukee county relief projects, with council and deputies on hand to prevent more violence.

Equipment Falls—Electrocution Of Negro Interrupted

(By The Associated Press) BDDYVILLE, Ky., Aug. 24 (AP)—A breakdown of the electrical equipment interrupted electrocution of George W. Sharpsburg, Negro, early today. After two charges of current had been passed through his body and the physicians had called for a third.

Chancy entered the chamber shortly after midnight and the first charge was given at 12:08 a. m., immediately followed by a second. Physicians who examined the body said Chancy was not dead. It was found then that a coupling had slipped between the generator and the dynamo, and a delay was necessary. The physicians again examined Chancy, and pronounced him dead.

The electrocution of George W. Tichenor, 37, of Sharpsburg, was postponed about an hour while repairs were being made.

CREWS REINFORCED IN BATTLE AGAINST NORTHWEST'S FIRES

New Brigades Enter Forests in Struggle to Control Blazes; 2300 Men Fight Flames in Idaho Timber

(By The Associated Press) SPOKANE, Aug. 23—The worst "blow up" of the season sent new brigades of fighters against blazes ravaging thousands of acres of timber throughout the Pacific Northwest today. Numerous new fires were reported, and old blazes, upon which control was believed to have been gained, suddenly spread rapidly before heavy winds, particularly in the North Central and Northwest regions, where the worst fires are raging.

The Avery fire on the St. Joe national forest, believed yesterday to be under a clear road by a fire crew, today, doubling in size to about 10,000 acres. Fresh reinforcements of firefighters from Missouri, Montana, the blaze started Monday on the spot where the fire crew was working in 1930, raged past Avery, threatening to wipe out the town, and continued in a northwesterly direction through timber and brush.

Half 80 miles of lines The largest army of fighters ever assembled in this region fought against a clear road by a fire crew on the Selway forest in North Central Idaho. Heavy winds from the north increased the fire, increasing the perimeter to an estimated 150 miles. More than 2,300 men, half of them civilian conservation corps men, were now able to hold 80 miles of lines. That was the latest report to come from the front.

The McLenore creek fire, which also had a perimeter of 150 miles, ran into a clear road by a fire crew in 1929, and the flames were reported to be dying for lack of fuel on the Selway forest. The fire camps have been established around the rim of the blaze, and firefighters continue their efforts to heavily timbered sections. It also is on the Selway forest.

Fire Fiers National Forest The Canadian blaze which leaped the United States border into the Kootenai national forest, was reported to be held by a fire crew with an eight mile perimeter, but 400 workers were in it, and fire crews were expected in it.

A new fire south of Lake Pend Oreille, north of the Kootenai blaze, was reported to be held by a fire crew, but it was spreading to valuable federal timber nearby.

Buildings at the Buchanan mine near Shoshone, California, were reported to be destroyed by a fire which swept over 3,500 acres of state land, but a fire crew was reported to have controlled the fire.

Young Exhibitors Draw Throngs To Filer Fairgrounds

Future Farmers And 4-H Club Members Display Projects, Meet In Contests; Winners Announced

(By The Associated Press) FILER, Aug. 23—Fair day came into its own here today as the Twin Falls county 4-H and F.F.A. fair swung under way at the Twin Falls county fairgrounds. Throngs swarmed the buildings and barns as some 300 young exhibitors as well as the various grades displayed their wares.

Judging of 4-H and Future Farmer individual projects occupied most of the day, although a varied program was held on the race track in the afternoon. Preliminary events were completed and the stage is set for the team judging and final events to be run off tomorrow.

The afternoon program was featured by a cat and mouse barnyard polo game between Filer and Twin Falls F. F. A. aggregations. To the amusement of all concerned, eight horsemen battled wild brooms for the possession of a corseted baseball which was continually being kicked by the horse's hoofs. After four periods of battle, the game finally ended in a deadlock with the score 3 to 2. Team supremacy will be determined tomorrow afternoon.

Contests on Hill Both Future Farmers and 4-H members will be engaged in fitting and showing contests tomorrow morning and champion-showing will be held at 11:30 a. m. in each of six classes. At noon the entire livestock exhibit will be on parade in front of the grandstand and another race will be held. A horse show picking meet is on the slate as well as a style dress review.

In the evening at 8 o'clock awards will be presented and winners announced at a special meeting of Future Farmers and 4-H workers. Frank L. Stephan, Twin Falls attorney and Republican candidate for governor, will be the guest speaker. A dance was held in the Merchants building and another will be staged tomorrow evening.

Results of the racing program follow: Half mile bicycle race boys 10 to 20—Wills, first; Wills, second; Allison, third. Half mile polo race—Kuykendall, first; Kuykendall, second; Kuykendall, third. Quarter mile horse race—Kuykendall, first; Kuykendall, second; Kuykendall, third.

SINGER, PRODUCER BATTLE TO DRAW

Equity Acquires Helen Morgan of Intoxication Charge

(By The Associated Press) LOS ANGELES, Aug. 23 (AP)—Helen Morgan's divorce remained unbroken today after her word battle with author-producer Myron Fagan had officially ended in a draw.

She left early this morning for New York without commenting on the decision, while representing the producer Fagan said he regarded it as a compromise.

A book of Broadway theatergoers' opinions of the play "Mary" here last night. That Helen Morgan was "too big" to play the part, according to the reviewer, was responsible for the show's failure.

That if Miss Morgan did not collect all the money for the production was due to her, because her husband, Maurice Maschke, Jr., who invested money in the show, reportedly had guaranteed her fee did not pay her.

Two Points Each Which was two points each for the embattled singer and producer. Quite a contrast to the indifference of the audience during the hearing yesterday.

Almost from the start, which was at 10 o'clock, the hearing closed in the wee small hours today, were opposing counsel embroiled in word battles.

HOLLYWOOD LOOKS FOR RECONCILIATION

Divorce Charges Fade in Pickford-Fairbanks Companionship

(By The Associated Press) HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 23 (AP)—It looks to Hollywood like the May Pickford-Douglas Fairbanks reconciliation is about ready for a formal sanction.

Doug, back only three days after a 14-month absence, is eating, chatting and romantically riding Mary's horse with her. Doug did not visit Mary but talked with her several times by telephone, on each occasion, friends at United Artists studios said, he sought her opinions on studio problems.

Mary Plans Wedding I am so very glad indeed that Doug is back," was Mary's happy words yesterday as she planned another big dinner for him.

Today she is planning for a big wedding at Pickford. She offered the home last night for the marriage in a few weeks of Joseph M. Schenck, producer, and Marie Oboler, attractive foreign actress.

Mary will be the hostess of the wedding, and it seems probable that Doug will soon take on the host and perhaps as the best man.

Perhaps, that will be the social re-entry of Mary and Doug as the wealthiest couple in the movies, and the favorite one.

SWIMMER DROWNS IN SNAKE RIVER

Tragic Accident Prevents Reunion of Burley Mother and Son

(By The Associated Press) BURLEY, Aug. 23 (Special to The News)—Ray Clark, 12-year-old son of Mrs. Ruby M. Spangler of Burley, who died sophomore class student in high school here last year to enlist in the United States navy and returned last Saturday on a furlough, was drowned while swimming in Snake river this afternoon, shortly before his mother's return from a visit in the East.

Apparently seized by cramps, Clark went down, his companion, Max Vera Mower, Burley high school girl and daughter of Roy Mower, said. She called for help and within a few moments he was recovered by a fire crew. The body was recovered 80 feet below the place where Clark disappeared, after search continuing for an hour and a quarter. A physician was summoned and artificial respiration was attempted, without success.

Clark was to have met his mother on her return here this evening. The fatal accident occurred at an old swimming beach on Snake river, a quarter mile east of the Overland mortuary here.

BOISE GRAND JURY TO CONTINUE PROBE

'Matters Not Revealed by Former Audit' to Be Investigated

(By The Associated Press) BOISE, Aug. 23 (AP)—Advised that the grand jury of Boise county, Idaho, will continue its probe into the affairs of the Boise city accounts "has revealed" matters not revealed by the former audit. Judge Charles F. Koelsch ruled today that the grand jury reconvened August 28 to continue its investigation.

The investigation into city accounts was continued today when counts were disclosed in the books of Mrs. Angela Hopper, the city clerk. Hopper, shortly after her removal from office, was sentenced to one to ten years in the penitentiary for the same offenses. She was allowed her release on parole after a year and a half in the penitentiary.

An audit by a firm of Portland accountants has been in progress since last February, shortly after the grand jury was summoned. Judge Explains Call Explaining the call, Judge Koelsch said the present audit, which was ordered after a first one by the grand jury, had disclosed the Hopper shortages. He revealed certain matters not revealed by the former audit, and which new matters should be submitted to the grand jury.

ment of justice ambushed when authorities sought the notorious outlaw after his sensational escape from an apartment here last March 21.

Van Meter was one of the occupants scanning the body, but had his face turned away from the scene.

"Taking a lead from the book of his chief, Van Meter also had consulted 'beauty specialists,' police officers here.

He had a tattoo mark on his left arm which his crumpled body was viewed in an ambulance, and as viewed at the morgue, it was ascertained that it had been tattooed after a particularly clean shave, had grown a mustache.

Chief Gullen and Detective Brown were driving away from Van Meter had dyed his hair black. Previously, police said, Van Meter's hair was light-colored before being surprised by the law.

Van Meter was one of the occupational occupants of Eugene Oregon's 'hot spots' where the notorious Evelyn Frechette, the girl friend of dangerous John, hid out for several weeks before being surprised by the law.

It was Van Meter who engaged in a pistol duel with E. C. Conley, a police agent, when he unknowingly entered the apartment which Conley was occupying at the time of the Dillinger apartment door.

After chasing Conley out of the front door, Van Meter ran from his front door, Van Meter was shot in the back when he saw that one of the rear seats had been shot by outside the building.

The pistol police heard of the criminal, had in a driving raid on a police station at Warsaw, Indiana, when he and Dillinger were seized weapons after assaulting the policeman in the building.

Within 10 days, Van Meter and the other gang trail, Van Meter and the now dead Dillinger, were arrested at a Wisconsin resort where they had been making money.

Apparently trapped by a strong force of federal agents, Van Meter and Dillinger, accompanied by George 'Baby Face' Nelson, shot their way out of the entrapment.

Fleeing in a coupe, members of the gang scampered toward St. Paul.

At Isaac two of the fugitives, believed to be either Van Meter or Dillinger, Van Meter and Dillinger, rode in that automobile, later found abandoned here with professed blood stains in the seat.

Definitive trace of the fugitives was lost hereafter until Carroll was shot and killed by a policeman.

Dillinger, not many weeks afterward, was ambushed by federal agents as he emerged from a North Side Chicago theatre, and was killed by a bullet from a machine gun. Bullets from vomiting pistols felled him as he walked from the door of the theatre where a minute before he had seen enacted a drama of gamblers and death.

Van Meter's police record dated back to June 22, 1923, when at Kenneth R. Jackson, he was sentenced to 14 days in jail when arrested on a disorderly conduct charge.

On January 11, 1924, he was arrested at the state prison, Mendota, Illinois, to serve 10 to 10 years on a larceny charge. He was paroled in December of the same year.

Arrested the following March at Crown Point, Indiana, Van Meter was sentenced to from 10 to 21 years for each of two robbery charges and entered the Indiana state reformatory on conditions of parole to begin sentence, March 24, 1926.

He was transferred to the Indiana state prison at Michigan City, July 28, 1926, and was paroled May 19, 1933, under the state reformatory jurisdiction.

Veterans of '98 Elect Idaho Man To Official Staff

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 23 (AP)—The news of a huge sounding tape brought the 38th encampment of the United Spanish American War Veterans to a close today after election of officers.

Judge Leon McCord of Alabama was elected national commander-in-chief by acclamation. He was unopposed.

Robert S. Cain of Peaburgh, a past department commander, defeated A. F. W. Beibel of Illinois, 61 to 27, for senior vice commander and Ralph Edmunds of Idaho Falls polled 830 votes to 287 for George A. Marshall of California in the race for junior vice commander.

Retiring Commander-in-Chief William H. Armstrong of Racine, Wis., was presented a check of silver by the retiring officers for his services to the organization and with a pipe by the Auxiliary.

Next year's convention will be in San Antonio, Texas.

Soldiers of '98 at their national encampment yesterday, cheered retirement by the "daisy" economy act, urged the restoration of their cash benefits, and declared war on communism.

Former U. S. Senator Rice W. Means of Colorado, asserted the "iron hand" of the chief executive was needed to check the "daisy" economy act which he said would block legislation favorable to the veterans of '98 will carry on their fight until they have won back the benefits which the daisy economy act has carried away.

NRA officials today discounted the reports that there was a serious rift which could not be amicably settled and Johnson himself, vacationing at Bethany Beach, Delaware, asserted emphatically there had been "no break."

Freight Truck Driver Faces
Prosecution on Possession Charge

Accused of illegal possession of 63 cases of brandies, whiskeys and cordials valued at $1000 carried in a commercial freight truck that was wrecked in a collision near Flier last August 10, C. E. Young, driver of the truck, went on trial in Justice of the Peace H. M. Holler's court here yesterday. Selection of the six-man jury had not been completed when the magistrate recessed the first day's session of the trial last evening.

An assistant Idaho attorney general, Ariel L. Crowley, is associated with Prosecuting Attorney O. W. Whitman in the prosecution of the prosecution's case, which involves Idaho law forbidding transportation of liquor into the state but permits such shipments through the state.

A defense motion for suppression of evidence on the grounds that the liquor was confiscated as a result of illegal search and seizure following the collision was overruled by the magistrate before selection of the jury began.

Traffic Officer Fleures
A state traffic officer, Earle Williams, found the liquor in and about the truck after the collision, and turned it over to the sheriff's office, it developed in argument on the motion.

Twin Falls county's sheriff, E. P. Prater, was named as defendant in a civil suit which Chapman and Chapman of Twin Falls, attorneys for Young in the criminal action, started in the district court here yesterday for the Edward J. Goldie Importing company of San Francisco, shipping agent which seeks to recover $1000 value of the liquor involved in the collision, together with $300 damages.

The shipping company asserts the liquor was billed from San Francisco to consignees at Casper, Wyoming, and that it was brought to Twin Falls without the shipper's knowledge and consent, and contrary to the terms of the bill of lading.

FOOLISH BUSINESS

Demanding payment of a license tax on each motor vehicle carrying produce across state lines, Idaho and her sister states furnish an outstanding example of the old saying about cutting off the nose to spite the face.

That incident had to do with truck licenses which perhaps fall into a category different from that for passenger cars.

One day this week a Nevada visitor set out to carry home in his own passenger car—licensed in Nevada but not in Idaho—a load of fruit that he had purchased here, and was challenged by an agent of the state department of law enforcement who to all intents and purposes so far as the Nevadan was concerned, demanded payment of the Idaho license if the fruit hauling performance were to be repeated.

There seems to be considerable uncertainty about exact provisions of the law involved in these two typical cases.

There should be no room for question. If the law requires that every person crossing the state line with a load of produce must pay motor licenses in both states, the fact should be definitely set forth.

Then we would know how to deal with it, and very likely that law's lease on life would be abruptly terminated.

We can't afford to throw unnecessary barriers in the way of normal trade among neighbors, nor sacrifice dollars while snatching for pennies.

GEOGRAPHY

You have laughed at the Englishwoman who, visiting friends in Buffalo and asked by her hostess how she would like to spend the afternoon said she would love to be driven around Lake Erie, and with difficulty managed to understand that her little afternoon's jaunt would cover something like 700 miles.

You have smiled at the easterner who, buying Pullman space for her trip from Los Angeles to Seattle, thought the price was entirely too high for what she had expected to be a one-night's journey.

But the two young ladies who inquired of the travel bureau in an Ohio town about the route to California by way of Florida, expecting the Black Hills and the Yellowstone park to be right along in a row with Florida on the way, probably take the prize.

who have much to learn about the size, shape and glories of their native America, but also that there are many children who are exposed to education but who present some kind of immunity to it and it consequently doesn't take.

MAIL OVER THE SEA

The Postoffice Department has announced that it hopes to establish air mail routes to Europe, Hawaii and Alaska within the next three years. It is not surprising to find the plan in prospect, but it does rather bring one up with a jerk to learn that a definite establishment is contemplated within so short and definite a time as three years.

Most important of the proposed routes, in the eyes of the Postoffice Department, is the transportation of mail by air to Alaska. At present it takes eight days to get mail from Seattle to Fairbanks—six days by water to Seattle and two days more by rail. The distance from Tacoma or Seattle to Fairbanks by air is only two days.

The size of his country is a continual source of surprise to the stay-at-home citizen. Mail now goes from New York to Liverpool in three days less than from Tacoma to Fairbanks.

WHAT TO DO WITH THE HIDES?

When the government decided to order cattle killed in the brush areas of the farm belt, it failed to foresee the effect on the hide market. Recently cattle have been slaughtered at a rate of about 200,000 a week. This increased the production of hides about two-thirds above normal. Packers were told that if they would handle the cattle they could have the hides and other by-products. Now the leather market has begun to boom.

On August 23, the government had taken over 2,072,123 cattle in drought-stricken districts and the A.A.A. leaders estimate that the purchase may reach five or six millions. Appeals were made to Secretary Wallace by the hide and leather industry and some hurried conferences were held in Washington with the result that one suggestion contemplates the formation of a corporation that the R.F.C. would lend $10,000,000 to stabilize the market. Leather manufacturers look coldly on this plan.

If the leather interests are unable to agree with the government on a plan of action, some of the federal officials favor taking over the surplus hides and using them to make at least 1,000,000 leather coats for the unemployed.

JOBS AND MORE JOBS

The total number of jobholders on the federal payroll has risen to 651,094, the largest in history in time of peace. Within the last year the total sum dispensed in paying jobholders has increased by $106,000,000.

When the House was last organized, Representative McClure of Alabama ran against Rainey for the Speakership. He was supported by Representatives from Bankhead of Alabama and Sam Rayburn of Texas. McDuffie was elected speaker and Rainey trade between Rainey and Rayburn, the latter gave up his bid to step up from his present job in instead of floor leadership.

Courage Has Role In Transformation Of Unshiny Lot

Courage and the philosophy of fine living grow side by side with sinillas and my-lady-pin-cushion in the Robert Fuller garden on the corner of the lateral on Washington street. Every blossom, and there are literally thousands of them, bears witness to this fact. The glories of beauty have made a home here, transforming a trash-littered, weed-covered lot into a place of order and loveliness, in a single season.

Morning glory vines trail gracefully over the eaves, made of sticks, draping the windows of the tent and race along to form an arch of welcome over the entrance. The flower beds, red and yellow with red and purple, and blue, are fenced by low arched willow branches, and the back yard warden offers a glimpse of the morning glories and hostesses, in a single season.

Hostesses preside at formal dinner. Miss Helen Roberts, chairwoman, and Miss Virginia Lawrence entertained at a formal dinner Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Crabtree, Addition Avenue. The menu was: Pink and white roebucks in a crystal bowl, marked by four Jory papers in crystal holders, formed the attractive centerpiece. DON'T LET COMMON CONSTIPATION DULL THE JOY OF LIVING

Constipation takes the sunshine out of your days. It may bring headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness, sallow skin, pimples. Fortunately, you can avoid this condition by eating a delicious, healthy, laxative. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's All-Bran provides everything needed to help overcome common constipation: "bulk" and vitamin B. All-Bran is also a rich source of blood-building iron.

How much better than doing yourself with patent medicines. Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. With each meal in chronic cases, if necessary, see your doctor. ALL-BRAN is not a "cure-all." Get the red-and-green package at the drug grocer. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

(By The Associated Press) ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 23.—Joe Moore clouted a home run off Paul Dean with two on base in the ninth today to give the Giants a 5 to 3 victory over the Cardinals in the opener of their important three-game series today.

The blow brought the first Giant victory over either of the Dean brothers a season after eight straight defeats.

Ugilt Moore's four-bagger, handed on the seventh roof hit light fly, 21-year-old Paul Dean had all the better of the opposition. He pitched as started by Earl Hubbell and ended by portly Fred Fitzsimmons, with southpaw Al Smith, slug Dolph and Herman Bell in between.

The victory increased the Giants' lead to six and a half games against the second-place Chicago Cubs, who lost to Brooklyn, and to seven games over the Cardinals.

The defeat was Paul Dean's eighth in a season, compared with 13 victories, four of them over the Giants.

Stoefen And Lott Conquer Easterners; Shields, Lott Defeated In Tennis Upset

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 23 (AP)—The victorious march of Lester Stoefen and George Lott in quest of their second straight national tennis crown, led by the great Californian and the crafty Chicagoan safety pass the semi-final barrier into the championship round today, but their great opposition still remains ahead.

Although the make-up of the combination which will oppose the American Davis cup crew in the final round at Germantown cricket club on Saturday still is to be decided, the defending titles knew tonight that the duo they will oppose will represent the cream of an international tennis field.

For, while Stoefen and Lott were conquering the fast-moving Easterners, Berkeley Bell of New York and Gregory Manning of Newark, New Jersey, in straight sets today to slip into the finals, the arriving foreign threats, Roderick Menzel of Czechoslovakia, and Vernon Rippy, 7-5, South African, strode successfully over the quarter final barrier.

Tomney's Big Upset The victory of the Great Menzel and the slim underdog racket wielder from "down under" over the United States Davis cup today to slip into the finals, the arriving foreign threats, Roderick Menzel of Czechoslovakia, and Vernon Rippy, 7-5, South African, strode successfully over the quarter final barrier.

Before the foreigners can hope to meet Lott and Stoefen in the finals, however, they must overcome the heights of grand play in the history of the game—Walter Allson of Austin, Texas, and John Van Fleet of Philadelphia.

These former champions of cup teammates had an off-day today after reaching the semi-finals in yesterday's play.

Meanwhile, Lott and Stoefen ran up against a team that knew how to score, and they were their former combination work, which carried them to Wimbledon, and Davis cup honors in the season, finally overcame the opposition with 10-8, 6-1, 7-3 scores.

The three other national competitors who also met at Germantown Cricket club this week—mixed doubles, veterans, and father and son—also moved forward today.

At the same time, the special women's invitation doubles tournament entered the final two stages, when they do not enter a battle for second place in the standings.

Early Clash of Stars in First Contest Looms

Method of Pairing National Players to Be Decided Officially When Tournament Committee Meets

(By ROY CAVANARO) ASSOCIATED PRESS WRITER NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—The intention of the United States Golf Association to conduct a blind draw for the national amateur championship to be played next month at Brookline, Massachusetts, today intensified the prospects of an early collision of stars in the first all-match play tournament in 31 years.

John G. Jackson, vice president of golf's governing body, said that in view of the rapidly growing number of front-rank players it would be impossible to pair the winners of the odd contenders for the title held by George F. Dunslop, Jr.

"I don't see how we can do anything but draw all of the major stars into a hat and then pull them out one by one," he said. "There are so many stars in the field now that we are practically impossible to differentiate among them."

Committee to Meet The U. S. G. A. committee in charge of the 38th annual championship is scheduled to meet next week when the method of pairing the contenders will be decided officially, but Jackson, a member of the committee, declared that it was "very possible" it will be a blind draw just as they have in the British amateur.

The U. S. G. A. originally intended to limit the championship to 100 players, including 15 who were exempt from sectional qualifying tests, but it is likely now that the total number of contestants will be in the neighborhood of 100 in view of some "flourish" who qualified outside their districts.

While the plans are revised owing to a larger starting field, the championship will open Monday, September 16, with 75 players drawing first round byes and 104 others paired for action in 16 hole matches. In the event of a larger field the number of byes and first round matches will be increased proportionately.

ANNOUNCING The OPENING Of Twin Falls' NEW BARNARD AUTO COMPANY . . .

Barnard's New Home Caps Expansion Move

Union of Two Big Buildings Under Reconstruction
Contract More Than Doubles Quarters

Marking culmination of a $10,000 expansion program, William H. Barnard of the Barnard Automobile company, Chrysler, Plymouth and Nash dealer, last evening announced the Barnard company's public opening next Saturday in its new home at the corner of Second avenue and Second street east.

All new models of Chrysler and Plymouth cars are to be displayed in a handsome new show room opening off this region's biggest drive-in service station at the corner of the remodeled building. Visitors will be welcomed in all departments of the newly expanded establishment, that now occupies quarters with more than double the floor space of its former location in one part of the reconstructed building.

Growing into an even two months and five days a four-month building job, E. E. Bjorling, Twin Falls builder, working from his own designs, is bringing to completion the big reconstruction contract, under which a union has been effected of two structures that E. C. Lavering erected here a number of years ago, one for a furniture store that later became the Danceland pavilion, and the other originally a theatre that for several years past has been occupied by the Barnard company.

A Spanish design with a color scheme of white, cream and maroon trim has been employed in the white stucco front on Second avenue uniting the two buildings, and a space 10-feet wide between the two structures has been cleverly converted into lavatories and rest rooms at the front and a big stock room at the rear. Cut back 48 feet each way from the corner, a drive-in service station has been provided with modern compressing pumps, and ample space for seven or eight cars to stand at one time without crowding.

More than 500 feet of neon tubing was used in installation of ornamental lighting at the front and side of the new building. It is the biggest neon installation in this region, according to the installing agency.

A wide entrance opens from the drive-in service to the automobile show room which is equipped with flood lighting fixtures and drops and lighting devices that Mr. Barnard has gleaned from years of study of other automobile sales agencies. Compact office rooms also are to be provided in the big show room.

One of three wide entrances for cars coming into the service and repair or storage departments opens from the drive-in service station. Through this entrance cars move through a driveway amply wide for two cars abreast, and providing a full view through big windows into the show room. One other automobile entrance is provided from the front on Second avenue, and a third entrance for cars opens on the Second street side.

Roomy, generously lighted and ventilated, the Barnard company's new home affords every convenience for efficient operation of all departments. Heating throughout the building is supplied by a steam heating plant.

Exclusive features of the Barnard company's service, 24-hour mechanic service inaugurated four years ago and all-night battery service, are to be continued with improved facilities in the new home which also affords more generous accommodations for an increased stock of tires and accessories.

Claude Wiley, associated with the automobile business here for many years and lately with the Barnard company, is to continue in charge of the service and repair department.

You Are Invited— TO CALL AND SEE "The House That Service Built"

A Word of Appreciation

We are naturally very proud of this new building and equipment, but we really feel that the credit for it's construction belongs to the hundreds of Twin Falls folk who have told us, by becoming regular customers, that our service has been satisfactory.

We have simply outgrown the old quarters, and the new building, more than doubling the floor space, is necessary to accommodate the increasing business.

W. H. BARNARD.

"After All, It's the Service That Counts"

We believe it is the service that really counts in the automobile business, and we are conducting this business accordingly. We are constantly trying to put ourselves in the place of our customers to better understand how we can serve them to their satisfaction.

You are especially invited to call and see how much better we are able to serve you now.
