

SUGAR BEET CROP IMPROVEMENT SEEN

Government Figures Reflect Larger Yield Than Previously Indicated

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 (AP)—There is good news for the nation's beet sugar area in today's crop report of the agriculture department which indicates the sugar beet crop will be considerably larger than was expected a month ago.

Despite the handicap of poor stands in some sections, the drought, extreme heat, scarcity of water for irrigation and while the department said it is probable 40,000 acres of the 900,000 reported planted in sugar beets will be harvested with an average yield of 8.3 tons to the acre.

The crop is now forecast by government experts at 7,468,000 tons as compared with the 6,917,000-ton forecast for the year ended last year, and the 1927-1931 five-year production of 7,854,000 tons. The yield per acre last year was 11.3 tons and the short-time average for 1927-1931 was 10.9 tons.

The report indicated Colorado will lead in beet sugar production this year with an estimated 1,200,000 tons as compared with 1,000,000 tons for the five years from 1927 to 1931. Of the top 10 principal beet producing states only Ohio shows an increase over last year and that only 1,000 tons.

Other states outside of the 10 principal producing states have an estimated production for the year of 618,000 tons as compared with 5,818,000 tons last year and a five year average ending 1931 of 697,000 tons.

Morro Castle's Officers Blame Incendiaries for Fiery Holocaust at Sea

(Continued from Page One) He said, the amidships section to go up in a puff. "I didn't see any passengers, but I did see some people on the deck of the cabin."

"I understood there had been several drinking parties that night and also that they carried six or seven girls to their rooms who were very drunk."

Confidence in Crew After he had expressed very confident in the crew that night, Warns was asked: "What about reports that 70 or 85 of the 85 or so that landed on the lifeboat were members of the crew?"

"Did the crew leave without being assigned to lower them?" "The boats were not lowered until I gave the orders, Warns replied. "I never left the bridge."

"Was there any trouble?" "I saw some panic among the passengers. I saw a steward force a woman into a lifeboat."

"About 20 minutes after the fire was discovered," Warns said, "the ship's engine and the engine crew could not go on and all power had failed."

"What there any discontent in the engine room?" he was asked. "We were just like on happy family," Warns replied.

"When the chief engineer came up to the bridge, I told him 'God's sake go forward and drop the anchor.'"

When asked by the investigators about the difference in time between the discovery of fire and the 8:02 signal, Warns said: "I thought the crew could control the fire."

In the testimony of Rackney, second officer, and Freeman, third officer, it was brought out that the fire broke out to cut off the flames.

Two Killed As Car And Train Collide

OAKLAND, Calif., Sept. 10 (AP)—Three men and two women were killed in a terrific collision between their machine and a Southern Pacific steam train at a street intersection here tonight.

Those killed were Dr. S. S. Jensen, 61, Berkeley, chiropractor; Russell A. Van Wyck, 53, Berkeley architect, and his wife, Mrs. Dagmar E. Van Wyck, 46; Ernest E. Perry, 50, Berkeley cigar store proprietor and his wife, Mrs. Ida Perry, 44.

Witnesses said the train, carrying 100 passengers, struck the automobile squarely as it reached the crossing. The wrecked machine was carried several hundred feet before the train came to a halt.

All of the occupants of the automobile were dead when ambulances reached the scene. The crew of the Morro Castle was "new and undisciplined."

Rescue operations aboard the liner at Abury Park were interrupted when, as a fireman leveled, the fire streams of water into her hold, there were two explosions, the ship flared higher in the hazy after dark.

No more bodies were taken from the ship by those who boarded by breeches buoy before the explosion. The central morgue set up late last night in Jersey City was visited through the day by families and friends of the missing.

Borah and Ross Pay Tributes to College of Idaho

CALDWELL, Idaho, Sept. 10 (AP)—Tributes to the College of Idaho and to Dr. W. T. Mason, founder and president of the institution, were paid by Senator William E. Borah and Governor O. Bon Ross in addresses given here tonight at a "friendship" banquet in honor of the college.

Senator Borah emphasized the role of the smaller college in not only training the minds of future Americans but also in character building. Referring to the founder of the institution, the senator accorded him the distinction of being "one of few men" able to "think individually in a crowd."

Governor Ross referred to the college as an "educational pioneer of the state," recalling it was founded in 1891, a year earlier than the state university.

Former Governor H. C. Baldrige of Parma, one of the trustees of the college, was toastmaster. He outlined the scope of the institution's work and recalled that among the alumni there are 14 superintendents of Idaho public schools.

NRA CHALLENGED BY FLETCHER COMPANY

Attorney Asserts Oil Production Control Unconstitutional

BOISE, Sept. 10 (AP)—A declaration that the nation's industrial recovery act bearing on control of petroleum production was unconstitutional was made here today by an attorney for Fletcher Oil Company of Boise, defendant in a suit brought by the government to prevent sale of gasoline refined from allegedly excess quota oil.

The assertion was made by Alfred Schwappo of Seattle, attorney for the oil company, one of the largest leaders in the southern Idaho field. The company was charged by the government with seeking to dispense gasoline refined from petroleum produced in excess of a quota fixed by the Texas railroad commission.

Arguing for dismissal of the case, Schwappo declared the national petroleum administration board, established under NRA authority, was attempting to punish an innocent company in southern Idaho for the acts of an unlicensed oil producer in east Texas allegedly in violation of a ruling of the Texas railroad commission.

Not only did the claim that the action was brought against a party innocent of any knowledge of the violation, but he coupled it with an assertion that the action of the recovery act under which the action was brought was unconstitutional.

Delegates Powers He declared the act was an attempt to delegate to the president authority to make laws and enforce them. He recited the law, which gave the president authority to issue an order preventing the export of petroleum products produced in excess of state laws governing output.

"Congress merely said to the president, 'Here you decide whether to put this law into effect,'" the attorney said, and went on to add that such a policy, if carried far enough, might result in delegating the entire legislative authority to the president. "Such a procedure," he said, "might lead to a condition where congress might say, 'We hereby confer to the president the power to make rules for the public welfare and we will appoint our time investigating the acts of the people.'"

At the hearing opened this afternoon, attorneys for the petroleum board moved first for a ruling of the court on its contentment. E. H. Chertoff, assistant United States district attorney for Idaho, declined it, saying he was the government's contention that the Fletcher Oil company allegedly was in contempt of an order of the court prohibiting movement of the gasoline after its arrival at Seattle in two oil tankers. The court declined to rule on the contention until it had heard arguments on the merits of the case.

Toward $1,000 barrels of oil estimated by Fletcher attorneys at about $500,000 were held at the port of Seattle and the court announced the intention of proceeding in the case to end and heavy demurrage charges and other expense.

The government will have its opportunity for argument in the morning.

S. C. I. EXHIBITORS WIN AT BLACKFOOT

Maurice Capps, Twin Falls, Heads Prize Winners With Hog Display

Several residents of Twin Falls and vicinity captured awards with exhibits at the Eastern Idaho district fair, held at Blackfoot late last week. Among this group were several Twin Falls Future Farmers, C. L. Mink, high school agriculture instructor and P. P. A. advisor, announced last night.

Maurice Capps of Twin Falls leads this list. In all he garnered $81 in prize money for his exhibits in the swine division. All of his pigs were prize winners. He placed first and second in the gilt division, first and second in the boar pig division, first in the sow (over one year) division, and first in a litter of four pigs.

Leonard Arlington, another Future Farmer, was second from money making standpoint. He placed first on both Dextdale sheep and seed wheat. Fred Christensen, Northern beans, first on Delicious apples, and first on sweet alfalfa. Ronald Pierce placed first and second on onions. Pat Haynes placed first on barley sheaf, Bert Walters led the Southern apple, W. L. Sackett was first on Federation wheat seed, the Independent seed company placed first on alfalfa, and the S. C. I. placed first on alfalfa clover.

WATER DISCUSSED AT COUNCIL MEET

Mayor Praises Junior Chamber for Success of Celebration

Twin Falls councilmen last night spent considerable time in discussing the possibilities for a new water supply for the city. General trend of the council, however, seemed to indicate that the council was awaiting the result of a test well now being drilled near the city hall.

Need for a different water supply for Twin Falls, for several years a common topic for discussion, came into the limelight recently when the Twin Falls Canal company decided to turn water during the winter out of the canal which is being used as a city water supply. This proposed action was last week protested by the council to R. W. Paris, state commissioner of reclamation.

Drill Test Well

At present the test well is being drilled by the canal company which was made available for this specific use.

Miss Jessie Fraser, city librarian, last night reported that 2503 books had been issued during the month of August and that the library had an average daily circulation of 313 books. Receipts were $6927.

Mayor Herman Mink Johnson entertained a delegation of councilmen to express its congratulations to the Twin Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce for its most successful celebration and for the orderly manner in which everything was handled. The motion passed unanimously.

Sheriff Convinced Missing Man Lives

WALLACE, Idaho, Sept. 10 (AP)—Sheriff Fred C. May today declared he is convinced that a Twed brother, game warden missing since August 28, is still alive.

May returned from Montana, where he investigated reports that a man resembling Twed had been seen. The description tallied with that of the Twed, but he lost the trail at Big Lost Lake. His car was found at the head of the gulch. Fossmen, flyers and bloodhounds scanned the district in vain.

MAJOR LONEY GIVEN RETURN ENGAGEMENT

Major Andrew Loney of Portland will be the guest speaker at a three-day series of special meetings to be held in the local Salvation Army hall on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

The major, according to Adjutant C. THE CROSBY CASE COMING TO ROXY

A tangled web of mystery in which four persons are involved, is presented in "The Crosby Case," the Universal drama which opens an engagement at Joe's Roxy Theatre tomorrow heading the "Partner Day" program, with Wynne Gibson, Onslow Bates, Alan Dinklage and Skeets Gallagher in featured roles.

Dr. Crosby has been shot in his New York apartment, and the police begin the task of apprehending his murderer.

From a ship leaving the harbor they take Lynn Ashton, the doctor's former mistress, as she is about to flee to Bermuda. At his room they apprehend Labrecq, a secretist supposed to have been Crosby's last patient, as he is preparing to commit suicide. In an airport they arrest Scooby Graham, just before he is to board a plane bound for the West Indies. The shadowy Willie Modulare, a known criminal, is picked up in front of the apartment building with $2000 in his pockets.

Alan Harding in "The Fountain" is showing today for the last time.

RUSS REWARD ILLEGAL BOISE, Sept. 10 (AP)—Attorney Bert Miller advised Governor Ross in an opinion today that payment of a $100 reward for the person finding the missing deputy game warden, A. E. Twed, in north Idaho, would be illegal.

The attorney general said no express provision was in the law for payment of such a reward and that for that reason no legal claim for it could be presented to the treasurer.

Delegates Vote To Assign Russia's Place On League Council

GENEVA, Sept. 10 (AP)—The major objective of the work of Russia's admission to the League of Nations apparently has been removed tonight. Meeting unofficially this evening, delegates of powers represented on the league council voted informally to assign Russia permanent place on the council—on the same basis as the great powers, England, France and Italy.

Argentine and Portuguese representatives abstained from voting at tonight's informal session of the council, and it was regarded as certain they would not vote when the formal ballot is taken.

Their abstention, however, does not affect the unanimity of the council's favorable vote, requisite for Russia's seat.

A two-thirds vote in the assembly for Russia's election as a member of the league was held to be virtually assured.

THE CLEAR ISSUE

Twenty-three per cent of the entire population of the United States will probably be on relief this winter. That is practically one-fourth of all the families everywhere. This is a tough prospect.

There is a certain easing of strain in being able to face the issue clearly before the worst is at hand. The hard thing to bear is suspense, uncertainty, bewilderment.

Government money? But the government is ourselves, and we support it with taxes. Our taxes this year and for many years must be higher to meet this need.

Work relief of course, is the best where it can be undertaken for sound purposes and carried out with common sense.

The main thing is that we face the issue squarely and know what must be done, and why it is necessary that people be given jobs before they are so sapped by grief and idleness that they cannot work when they do get jobs.

TOO PRETTY

If Upton Sinclair is going to have a chance in the world to become governor of California, he'll get it not because of wild-eyed schemes, but because of his moderation.

His hands are clean of the bubbles of most of the fancy and high flown ideas. He's dropped the socialistic party and label because, he says, Socialism is too pretty. Its ideas are too perfect to be put into effect by any human mortals.

So many reformers overlook the fact that there must have been reasons why humanity hasn't gotten around to their scheme before. All wisdom was not born with one reformer, and many men of many minds have sought one way to improve our lot.

Sinclair in his Chicago speech showed that he has not the usual blindness towards obstacles of this sort. Nor does he expect by magic to make everybody rich. By ending poverty he seems to mean merely getting those poor idle to make the things they need, getting off the jobless, hopeless dole into self-respecting production.

WHERE ARE WE GOING? Only a few weeks ago all the size boys argued that the Roosevelt administration would wrap itself to the right or conservative side in its policies.

On the other hand there have been a few conservative signs. Wood has gone out that the fall refinancing of the treasury department will be "orthodox."

Local officers concede that Sinclair has fair cause to claim re-election to the office of governor.

Subsistence home-leased projects which Hopkins prefers to call "home farms" already are under way in many localities.

Guiding Your Child

By ALICE CLARIBEA RICHMOND WEATHER VANES Some parents are so changeable as weather vanes.

They start a line of action or a line of opinion, only to change it a few days, and then forget about it. They make a decision or a hard and fast ruling, only to break it.

Children feel this uncertainty and are tremendously affected by it. They soon come to feel authority of the wisdom and authority of the majority of every passing event.

Such parents are not fully grown up. They have not the concentration, the stability, the firmness, but emotionally and mentally live, as it were, from hand to mouth.

Before planning anything for the future, whether a series of dances or a vacation, a parent should first make an excursion or a party, parents should be sure that they are not undertaking anything for the moment they may easily involve themselves in something which they will later regret.

CITIZENS REQUEST DANCE IN SCHOOLS

Board Reserves Decision on Petition; Invites Expression of Opinion

A delegation of Twin Falls citizens who last night requested Twin Falls school district trustees to make the high school gymnasium available for school dances, was told that members of the board would reserve decision to the next regular meeting, the second Monday in October, and that in the meantime members of the board would welcome expressions of opinion on the part of the district's electors and patrons regarding the proposition.

Discussion of the proposition at the board meeting last night did not extend to details such as supervision in the event the request is approved.

Members of the delegation which urged use of the school gymnasium for school dances were Mrs. L. E. Williams, Mrs. L. E. Salladay, Mrs. Paul H. Teber, Mrs. George Davidson, Mrs. Rocco Stevens and William Fisher.

Following last Tuesday's election, the board re-organized for the coming year with one new member, re-electing all officers as follows: L. A. Patrick, chairman; E. H. Orava, treasurer; Mrs. Vera Smith, clerk. The new member is George J. Ward, elected to succeed W. J. Sackett, who retired after serving nine years as a member of the board and was not a candidate for re-election. L. J. Trudell was re-elected for a three-year term. O. A. Bailey is the other board member.

Hoops Budget Down

Somewhat dubious over the adequacy of the new levy in account of heavier than usual enrollment and higher cost of materials this year, board members nevertheless adhered to their decision, announced some weeks ago, to make no request for a special tax levy, and adopted a budget for the fiscal year 1934-1935 calling for a 15 mill tax levy to meet expenditures estimated at approximately $220,000.

The 15-mill levy is to be distributed among several districts as follows: General fund, including instructional service, operation and maintenance of plant, library and sundry activities, 8 mills; transportation, 2 mills; bond redemption and sinking fund, 5 mills; interest, 1.7 mill.

CHECK WRITER ACCUSED

Accused of check forgery, C. E. Olson, 31, Jackson, Wyoming, was arrested by officers at Pocatello and returned to Twin Falls last Sunday by Deputy Sheriff Henry G. Olvera.

LINDSEY WINS COURSE IN ADVANCED FLYING

Lewis Lindsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Lindsey, has won the advanced flying course at the naval air station at Pensacola, Florida, and is enroute to the south, according to word received here. Lindsey has just completed a special course in machine air service training at Seattle.

Lindsey, a member of the Twin Falls High school graduating class of 1930, was graduated last spring from the University of Washington, Seattle, where he received his degree of bachelor of business administration and a commission as second lieutenant in the reserve officers' training corps.

He was also a member of the University rifle team which won first trophy in the Hoop national contest.

CHILD'S SERVICES HELD OUT-OF-DOORS

Puneral services for Barbara Louise Dutton, five, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin J. Dutton, were conducted Sunday afternoon on the lawn at the family home, 178 Van Buren.

Edgar F. A. Babbal, was in charge of the services; H. O. Howell was the speaker, and Mr. Oledhill officiated as organist. A women's quartet presented musical selections. Friends were the pall bearers.

Interment was in Twin Falls cemetery.

LABOR GUILD CALLS FOR BIBLE READING

The Bible is to be read at the opening of each regular meeting of the Twin Falls Consolidated Brotherhood of Labor, according to provisions of a resolution adopted at a meeting last night.

Section of president to fill a vacancy caused by expulsion last week of Earl Miller, president since the group's organization about two months ago, was postponed to next Monday evening's regular meeting.

Two new members were received, bringing the group's membership to a total of 32.

LEAVES ON MISSION

A session of the court of honor for the Twin Falls district, at which awards will be given following the board of review is to be held on September 23 next.

CRUELTY ALLEGED IN TWO DIVORCE SUITS

Alleging cruelty, Mrs. Clara Chamberlain, mother of four children, 2 to 10 years old, started suit in the district court here yesterday for divorce from Joseph C. Chamberlain, head of the bureau of entomology experiment station in Twin Falls, to whom she was married at Palo Alto, California, May 29, 1923.

In the bill of particulars she asserts that her husband threatened her life and that since last August when she alleges he demanded that she obtain a divorce, he has withheld money for support of herself and children. She asks for custody of the children, and $125 a month for their maintenance. H. W. Hulsebosch of Burley is her attorney.

On grounds of alleged cruelty also, Mrs. Marjorie Cagel yesterday started suit here for divorce from Roy Cagel, to whom she was married at Burley, August 4, 1930. There are no children and no property involved. Paul S. Boyd is her attorney.

Tree-Ring-Display-at-Hobby-Fair—Will Answer Questions on Drouth

"How much longer will this drouth condition last, and will it get worse?" is a question predominant in the United States today. The tree themselves, from past experience, have the answer. The constantly increasing precipitation factor during the past 30 years in our irrigated, temperate areas is serious.

An unusual and interesting exhibit at the Hobby Fair, September 20 and 21 at the high school building will be a complete showing by J. C. Haight of his tree ring specimens, the sphygmometer, a machine for measuring tree ring widths, and the graphic portrayal of tree ring widths in ten year periods from the year 210 A. D. down to the present time.

Valuable Collection

Mr. Haight will be present at the fair and make further explanation of the hobby, the study of tree rings. Sections of the oldest known tree in the Snake river basin will be in the exhibit along with the Pitkin tree section which is nearly 2000 years old. The value of this collection is estimated at $10,000 and $3000 and is being assembled from several western universities, where the specimens have been sent for study in connection with the present drouth affliction.

The devastating drouth period through which we are passing has served to increase greatly the interest and importance of our becoming better acquainted with past climatic conditions, especially in our irrigated areas, Mr. Haight points out.

Cycles of Growth

"It is a fact that the factors which control our precipitation—wind movements and temperature, more in cycles) that is to say that out of a period of time which constitutes one cycle so many years are favorable for plant growth; during a portion of the remaining time only a fair plant growth condition exists, and for the balance of the cycle very poor or drouth conditions are experienced," Mr. Haight continues.

"Trees are the oldest down plants and reflect in the width of their annual rings the culmination of all seasonal climatic factors which have influenced their growth. The measurement of the annual ring gives an index to the climatic factors for the season during which the ring was being formed. Ring width measurements of a large number of trees taken from the Snake river drainage basin give an irrefutable record of climatic factors in that area during the life of the trees."

TWO DIVORCE DECREES

Under two divorce decrees recently granted by Judge Adam B. Barclay in the district court at Jerome and placed on record here yesterday, Mrs. Clara Newman was granted a divorce from William Newman, custody of a minor daughter being awarded to the mother and of a minor son to the father, and Mrs. Edna Loller was granted a decree of divorce from Erik Loller and given custody of a minor son.
