Labor Leaders Of Textile Industry Convene To Act Upon Plan To End Dispute

Favorable Decision and Quik Termination of Strike Strongly Indicated; Mill Owners Study Points Involved in Peace Proposal

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—Quick termination of the textile strike was a bright possibility tonight as labor leaders from all sections of the industry assembled here to act upon a plan of settlement advanced by President Roosevelt's mediation board.

A favorable decision was strongly indicated, provided the employers, loyal to the findings and recommendations of the board, Mill owners studied the weighty points involved, but made no immediate expression of opinion.

George A. Sloan, president of the Cotton Textile Institute, lauded a statement saying that the industry would "give most sincere cooperation to any program" proposed by the mediator. He stated that closed mills be reopened as soon as possible.

In individual instances, however, it is thought that the industries and mill owners will agree to a plan of settlement which will be approved by the mediator.

Most of operators' demands, not mentioned in agreement.

ROPERAIDE CALLS PRICE-FIXING TRAP Trade Association Executives Scrutinize Year Under Blue Eagle

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—NRA code sections providing for price control and other competition-reducing machinery were being "trapped" yesterday by Ralph E. Flinders, a member of Secretary Roper's advisory and planning council.

Flinders, addressing the annual convention of American Trade Association executives, advocated a sharp revision of Blue Eagle codes to avoid "governmental dictatorship."

Others beside Flinders made demands at the meeting for code revision. The changes which speakers declared had been found in a 1929 operation under the recovery act.

Toward General Recovery Smith told the Trade executives that now is a time of "stock taking" and that their duty is to guide their industry forward.

Flinders said the first duty of businessmen was in changing Blue Eagle into their whole business philosophy.

"We must reverse our attitude of indifference and must clear our plans as we have made for a safe and glorious business future."

A MYSTERY SOLVED

Solution of the famous Lindbergh baby kidnaping case serves to clear up a mystery which for a long time past has probably been regarded by the public as simply another instance of criminals outwitting the police.

Not highly organized criminal gang headed by some super crook was responsible for the theft of the Lindbergh infant but a sort of combination of carpenter, laborer and handy man, a stowaway from a German port some ten years ago with a criminal record in the homeland.

Bruno Richard Hauptmann may have felt safe enough during the past several months but during all the time which has elapsed since the commission of the crime the relentless hand of the law continued the search and the results should go far towards restoring public confidence in the ability of the police.

Again the point is proven that crime does not pay. It remains only to bring the incident to a speedy close in a manner likely to be best understood by the criminal powers which seem to have specialized in kidnaping ever since the stealing and subsequent death of the Lindbergh baby.

COY CAPITAL

With ample man power and abundant natural resources, peace, intelligence, tools and wealth at hand in America, there remains only lack of confidence to impede complete recovery. Quite evidently the patient cannot recuperate by continuous injections of federal aid into his veins.

Private capital is plentiful, but it wants assurances that the corner has been turned. It fears, or at least is not comfortable about, codes and price fixings and hour shortenings. It finds itself bewildered by new things it does not understand.

Clarification of present methods and future plans so that the fogs might be lifted from the minds of capital and labor both would help much to restore the needed confidence.

FLENTY OF OIL

The future of the petroleum industry is unlimited, and all the oil taken from the earth since this industry was born in 1858 is "but a teaspoonful" compared with the available supply. This was the cheering message brought to the 88th meeting of the American Chemical Society by Dr. Gustav Egloff of Chicago. It will reassure the oil industry, the motor industry and millions of consumers of the most wonderful fuel in the world.

Producers are finding new supplies at depths never attainable before. They are getting far more gasoline and other useful products from a given quantity of crude oil. And so far we have been using only the underground "pools" of which we have sixty per cent of the world's known supply. Petroleum can also be obtained from coal and oil shale, of which we have vast deposits. The oil shale from these known sources alone, says Dr. Egloff, would supply the world's needs for two thousand years.

Maybe so. Nobody wants to be pessimistic about a thing like this. But it is just as well to remember two things which the expert quoted may not have taken into consideration when he did his figuring. One is the very rapid increase in the world's demand for petroleum, which might require hundreds of times the present output in a few decades or centuries. The other is that all from coal and shale will cost more to produce. Mankind will miss this liquid fuel when it's gone.

And here's another thing for the petroleum industry to think about—as it often does. Its worst troubles have always come from production difficulties, but from over-production.

A GOOD COLLECTOR

Mr. Buchbaum has the right idea and if more Americans could be imbued with his acumen and suspicion, a better French understanding of the American war debt situation might result.

French officialdom was at once put on the spot and Mr. Bok said to await what might well prove to be a most satisfactory result.

What lies beneath the long victory? Huey Long's overwhelming victory in Louisiana will, we suppose, come as something of a shock to a good many of the nation's politicians.

Yet there is Louisiana overwhelmingly supporting the candidate. The nation's opinion of him has been unfavorable since an attempt was made to impeach him as governor in 1923.

There must be some other explanation. Long, the uncouth politician, reached the governor's chair by overthrowing a Louisiana political regime of the "quality" folk. It had been an act of position and wealth, of high and "belonging" and had never done anything for the "poor white trash".

Long can call himself "Kinzifish" and talk like a fish-bait. He is not defending himself. He is stating the political philosophy that goes man like a king and this is what counts with voters who were political peons for years. They are not going to turn away from a man who gave them more rights than they even knew they had, no matter how demagogic he may appear to those who looked down on "poor white" condemners.

We are not defending Long as a public figure, we are merely pointing out that the Longs are what communists, and nations, get when they hold a people in political and economic serfdom to serve the interests of a privileged class.

Breakfast Food. The family was seated at the table with a guest, who was a business acquaintance of Dave's, all hurried to enjoy the meal when the fire started all around them.

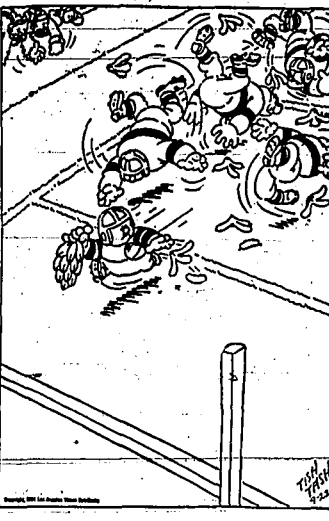

For the Land's Sake. "What's that I smell?" inquired the lady from the city as she entered the country after Mrs. Smith.

Preparedness. "Hello! This is Mrs. Smith. Will you send me some nice outfit right away?"

For Heaven's Sake! "Aren't you Jones the butcher?" "Oh, well, I'm Jones the florist."

English. There's no talk of depression, and they spend their money. "There is a beautiful girl, but they run it like a carnival—they give you and take your money and they never come to see you again. As a result you don't see many Americans walking through Montmartre any more."

"I decided to try the Riviera, but I didn't like it so much. Desirable is just another Coney Island in dinner clothes. I was on to that one and the principal thing I discovered there was that the best Hungarian food is still served in 40th Street on Manhattan Island."

"From Budapest to the hunting preserve of Hermann in Czechoslovakia, where I shot at some partridges and they shot back at me."

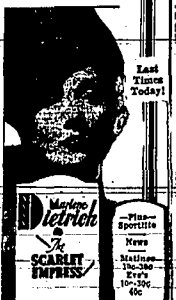

"I flew over Germany in a plane that was 200 miles per hour. We stopped only once, that for refueling. I bought a stamp there... it was in Nuremberg, which looked like a city of a company of 'The Student Prince'. The stamp cost me $2.00."

And what now, Mr. Rose? "London in November and then I'm coming back here in January to do a show that will be entirely French. That is, French, in inspiration. Today I've auditioned two acts for it. One was an orchestra that consists of 20 trombone players. The other was a German who owns two white elephants. He lives on the island, and already he has had to mortgage his home to free the two elephants. He has a lot of white elephants in the same act. All of them are hungry."

HEAVY FOODS. Now that the children are in school, many mothers are buying more staple foods and are preparing foods that require cooking. The children crave a cup of pudding, rice with raisins, macaroni and cheese, etc.

BROOKLYN, Sept. 21—Paul Dean, the 21-year-old junior member of the Cardinals' great one-family pitching staff, wrote his name high on the scroll of major league pitchers today when he shut out the Dodgers without a hit or a run in the second game of a double-header after his brother, Jerome Herman "Dizzy" Dean, had failed by a very narrow margin to perform that feat.

"Dizzy" allowed just three hits, all of them in the last two innings, and behind this superb performance he won the two games, 13 to 0 and 3 to 0, to slash a half game off the New York Giants' lead in the National League pennant race.

"Dizzy" is the first Cardinal pitcher ever to win more than 22 games one season.
His 27th victory of the year today surpassed the record of Donnan "Red" Faber, who won 26 games in 1899. The Giants, by beating Boston in six games, have now won 10 in a row.

Although many pitchers have turned in no-hit games since Joseph E. Borden first performed the feat for the Boston Red Sox in 1876, none has come as close to perfection as the younger Dean today when he let only one runner reach first base and one strikeout as his major league "freshmen."

Paul C. Rusk, who has won 61 National League games and now has 68, left his team today when he was recalled to Cleveland and Bob Durocher, who has won 67 National League games, was recalled to the first in the National since Carl Hubbell in 1932.

In addition to his pitching he made two of the Cardinals' seven hits of Ray Tompkins score on him in the second game when he doubled in the fifth and came home on "Pepper" Martin's two-bagger.

Paul C. Rusk, who has won 61 National League games and now has 68, left his team today when he was recalled to Cleveland and Bob Durocher, who has won 67 National League games, was recalled to the first in the National since Carl Hubbell in 1932.

Ferry Grid Aces Down King Hill
Orville Hull's Footballers Take 25 to 6 Win Over Invaders

QUEEN'S FERRY, Sept. 21—With a new coach and virtually a new team, Queen's Ferry came out to the huddle today to smash out a 25-6 victory over King Hill in the annual football game. The game was a smashing success for the home team.

Gene Cooper, dashing Ferry quarterback, scored once in the second quarter and twice in the third to lead his team mates. The remaining three points were scored by the home team when Bill Shurt, Perry end, carried the ball over on a play that was blocked by the invaders.

Both teams found it difficult to gain yardage on line plays and the game was a struggle for the entire duration. The game was a regular scheduled North Side C. B. conference ball game.

THOSE terrible Dean boys--when not actively engaged in a rivalry against the Cardinal chain-store baseball management, are making big league sluggers look foolish. Paul Dean (left), junior star of the talented pitching brothers, hurled his way to everlasting fame yesterday when he turned back the Dodgers, blind and junior. In the first game of the double header, "Dizzy" (right), gave a three-hit performance to blank the Flatback club.

THE PENNANT RACES -- AT A GLANCE --

(By The Associated Press)
The remarkable pitching feats of the Dean brothers of St. Louis reduced the Chicago National League to three games yesterday but the single New York triumph served to eliminate the Chicago Cubs from the pennant race. The Cubs were idle and reached the point where a clean sweep of their remaining nine games would leave them one game behind New York at the finish even if New York should lose the seven it has left.

The Cards, in blanking Brooklyn twice, 13-0 and 3-0 while the Giants beat Boston 8-1, cut a half game off New York's lead.
Two American League contenders were idle as the Detroit-St. Louis game, only contest scheduled in the circuit was rained out.

Standing of the contenders:

	Win	Last Pct.	Games behind
Detroit	9	51	648
New York	89	67	610 5 1/2
St. Louis	92	64	630

Lone Safety Gives Victory to Hansen
Kimberly Bulldogs Fail to Tally From Four-Yard Marker; Score 2-0

KIMBERLY, Sept. 21—Coach Jay Thompson's Kimberly Bulldogs took it on the chin at the hands of Hansen's riders for the second time this season here today and dropped a tight battle 2-0 when the Kimberly center passed the ball over the line in the second quarter.

Last week Kimberly lost to Coach Roy Smith's eleven when a Bulldog back got in front of his own kicker and blocked a punt. The score was 0-1 and the locals were determined to avenge their loss today. The breaks of the game were again against them and they took the second half of the game.

The Bulldogs were on the defense during the opening half, but opened up in the third quarter in an effort to avenge Hansen's slim margin. A Kimberly drive reached the Hansen four-yard line but the invaders mustered additional strength, held for downs and punted the ball to safety.

NEW DEAL CLUB TO QUIZ CANDIDATES

Organization Favors Dedication of Band Stand, FERA Project

Twin Falls New Deal club voted last night to interrogate candidates for congress, governor, lieutenant governor and the state legislature regarding their views on old age and unemployment insurance and "adequate" appropriations for work programs pending recovery to normal conditions.

Candidates for state offices and the legislature are to be questioned also regarding "full cooperation between national and state in respect to enactment" for relief measures.

Completion of Twin Falls park band stand in the city park, an FERA project, is to be celebrated with dedicatory exercises including presenting a band concert club members agreed when the celebration was suggested last evening. The project will be completed within the next day or two, it was reported.

The club reported to the NRA committee the nomination of following employees' cooperation in putting labor to work. Members of this committee are L. W. Williams, Eugene Scott and E. Allen.

Suggested establishment of a burial fund for members was referred to a committee composed of Arthur Wheeler, Martin Fennell, J. D. Whitman, E. Maddox and Eugene Scott.

BROWN PLEDGES SCORE AS "VOTE" PERFORMERS

As a soloist and chorus leader, Elmer Maillon brought roars of laughter from the high school students who presided yesterday morning. Maillon was one of eight Brown club initiates who presented a musical play for the assembly.

Both Brown and Reese Williams as stagers and pianists and Jim Wolfe as a baritone singer were introduced by Coach Harlan Powers, also one of the initiates. Barton Northing offered a fan dance. Cole Minton, a contending talk on "Methods of Cheating Gum"; and Peter Smith a public demonstration on how to ask for a date. Students rated the program as one of the best the main club has put on in several years.

BOARD DATES FIRE DISTRICT HEARING

Commissioners Take Action on Petition for New Organization

Organization of Twin Falls fire prevention district, sponsored by Twin Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce, is to be subject of a public hearing before the board of county commissioners on Wednesday, October 10. Commissioners set the date for hearing just before taking a two-day recess last yesterday.

With boundaries coinciding with those of Twin Falls independent school district, outside Twin Falls municipal limits, the proposed fire prevention district will be organized without further proceedings provided such organization is not protested by 25 or more persons at the public hearing. In event of such protest, commissioners would submit the proposition at an election.

One hundred and seventy-five owners of property in the proposed district signed the petition for the hearing which R. E. Toftmeier, junior engineer of the proposed district, submitted August 21 and which the commissioners placed in their records last Monday.

Under the proposed district has an assessed valuation of $2,835,000. The petition says the district organization would serve two purposes: 1. Protection of homes and property; and, 2. Reduction of fire insurance rates.

Differences in insurance rates which the Idaho surveying and Rating bureau has estimated at 10 per cent on farm property and 30 per cent on dwelling houses within the district, would offset the cost of maintaining the district, petitioners assert.

CONSTITUTION WEEK

Individual Is Superior to Nation, T. Bailey Lee Tells Students

"The Constitution will never collapse unless people continue to let their minds in thinking as to how the emergency minority to change it to suit their own desires. T. Bailey Lee, candidate for district judge, told high school students yesterday afternoon in Constitution week assembly.

Lee declared the "BIBLE of Rights" in our nation now with the troubles of 1861. To make the nation prosper he declared, it is necessary, is contrary to the Constitution.

"No group of men is good enough to cover any other group of men," he declared, and pointed out that no such situation would arise if the Constitution were to be considered "the supreme law of the land."

"The Constitution is a guide post and a guarantee. That's all the government owes you." To this declaration he added that the government owes no one a living. The Constitution, he declared, is the only thing you own. No man can give it to you. It is yours by birthright. Keep it so you can be proud of it in our land of the free and the home of the brave."

BIDS FOR COUNTY BUSINESS OPENED

Commissioners Reject Eight "Almost Identical" Offers of Coal

Eight coal dealers and two printing concerns made bids for Twin Falls county business in proposals which county commissioners rejected last September 6 and opened yesterday.

On the grounds that coal prices quoted by the bidders were "almost identical," the commissioners yesterday rejected all bids for supplying coal for county institutions and indigents. Some of the bidders, members of the board, said, sought permission to revise their figures after submitting proposals two weeks ago in response to the commission. They said quoted prices ranged from $4.50 to $6.00 per ton for slack coal in large quantities, and from $4.13 to $4.90 per 1000 pounds for nut coal delivered in small lots.

Twin Falls and Twin Falls News submitted bids for printing bulletins for the general election next November. Commissioners postponed action on these bids until their next meeting on Monday next.

Commissioners call for bids for supplying drugs for indigents brought forth no proposals.

FILIP MAN DIES FROM RIFLE SHOT

Frank Taylor, 58, Long-Time Resident of County, Called Suicide

Frank Taylor, 58, stockman and former resident of Twin Falls county since 1893, died at his farm home a quarter mile south of Filer yesterday afternoon from a rifle shot through the heart.

E. F. Prater, Twin Falls county sheriff, said after his investigation that all circumstances indicated that the shooting was a suicide. Prater found Taylor self-inflicted, and Dr. F. A. Dwight of Filer, coroner, said there would be no inquest.

There was no statement, written or spoken, by Taylor to indicate any suicidal purpose, the sheriff said. "The bullet" from the rifle which struck Taylor's heart entered the breast and pierced the heart.

Taylor died a few minutes after his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor, saw him reel off through a door from the house where she stood about 1200 o'clock, she told the officers. She ran to call a neighbor.

A few minutes before officers were told, Taylor had talked in the field with a neighbor, G. B. Hanes, and was at that time carrying a rifle with which, officers said, he practiced when he had been shooting at birds about the house.

Besides his widow, Mr. Taylor is survived by his mother, Mrs. Katherine Anderson, resident of Churchill, Tennessee.

The body was brought last evening to the Drake mortuary in Twin Falls.

COPIED SIGNATURE ON CHECK MAKES TROUBLE

Accused of forgery of a $240 check, copying the signature of the purported payor from an automobile license receipt displayed in a car, William H. Cox, 31, Manhattan, Kansas, resident lately employed at Yellowstone park, was yesterday arraigned in the prothonotary court here and held under $1000 bond to answer in the district court.

Cox was arrested by members of the sheriff's force at Murtagh late Thursday. He is alleged to have forged the name of William R. Wolter of Twin Falls as party of the allegedly spurious check which officers said he had passed at a local store.
