KIDNAPERS FAIL TO SEND WORD AFTER RECEIVING RANSOM

Berry V. Stoll Meets All Requirements of Wife's Abductor and Anxiously Awaits Some Message

(By The Associated Press)
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 12.—Berry V. Stoll today met all ransom requirements of the abductor of his wife, returned home from a furious automobile drive to southern Kentucky in the wake of another machine, and tonight anxiously awaited some word from the man or woman who got the $50,000 paid by Stoll's safe return.

At a late hour tonight, George Stoll, brother of Berry Stoll, said no word of any kind had been received in response to the announcement made public by Stoll through the press.

Down the highways today, cleared by sheriffs as if for a cross country race, went Stoll's machine at top speed. Ahead of it, reported from several towns said, was another machine carrying among other passengers a woman and a handbagged head. Whether this was Mrs. Stoll, or perhaps some one trying to follow curious crowds, the news here was no clue. The car was never stopped.

Upon his return to Louisville this afternoon, Stoll issued the following statement:

"We have carefully followed instructions, met all ransom requirements, and are awaiting fulfillment of promises.

"The parties may act freely without fear of hindrance.

"Berry V. Stoll."

The wealthy and influential Speed Stoll family recently was threatened by radio and newspapers that they were eager to make terms and would do everything necessary for the victim's return.

A lone man in the Stoll home near the fashionable but remote upper river road neighborhood Wednesday on the pretense that he was a telephone repair man and made acquaintance with Mrs. Stoll's maid, Violet, the maid who let him in with a pistol, made her tape him.

DEATH OF KIDNAP WITNESS PROBED

Man Who Gave Information in Boettcher Case Victim of Shooting

DENVER, Oct. 12.—Federal department of justice agents quickly joined with police today in an investigation into the shooting of Roy T. Gibbs whose life had been threatened because of information he revealed in the Boettcher kidnapping case.

Gibbs, 23-year-old bookbinder, was shot to death as he and John Hammond, 26-year-old limousine driver, were driving the car and lost control of it when he reached to draw a revolver from a holster. The car plunged into North St. Vrain river and the revolver was discharged, the bullet striking Gibbs in the head.

Related To Sankey
Gibbs was related by marriage to Verne Sankey, leader of the gang that kidnapped Charles Boettcher, 2nd, Denver broker, and held him captive for 15 days on a South Dakota ranch until $60,000 ransom was paid.

As a result of information he supplied federal agents who arrested Sankey he received $13,717 of the $25,000 reward Boettcher's father offered for information concerning the identity of the kidnappers.

Police said that Gibbs' life had been threatened and that at one time he asked to be placed in jail to keep his head.

Hammond was questioned by police and federal agents here and Idaho county authorities ordered an inquest.

Dumbell Gets Best Of 'Great, Mighty Atom'

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—After all these years a dumbbell has got the best of Joe Greentree, "the great, mighty atom."

Joe is so strong he bites nails in two, bends iron bars into horseshoes, shoves the hinges of his door, and all that sort of thing.

The secret of Joe's strength is in the very special tonic which he permits the public to purchase after witnessing what it has done for him. To lose Joe's life, it made him what he is today.

He was doing his stuff last night, and a goodly crowd was there. Why? He didn't rest. There was a suspicion among scientists today that Joe took an over-

DADDY BROWNING CLAIMED BY DEATH

Divorced Bride 'Peaches' Candidate for Share of Millions

SCARSDALE, N. Y., Oct. 12.—"Edward—West—Browning—the 'Daddy'—Browning, of turbulent romances and emotional court squabbles, died today after a long illness.

The multi-millionaire real estate operator would have been 60 years old Sunday.

Typical of the night life of the leading townships, the lavishly appointed with a flair for the spotlight, Browning reached his fullest measure of publicity in 1923 to 1927—his divorce—June courtship of Frances "Peaches" Heenan, their sudden marriage and quick separation.

"Daddy" and "Peaches" were household words. Their marital affairs, reported quite for the stage.

And it was to the stage that "Peaches" went after the separation.

No Bequest For "Peaches"
That no bequest was included for "Peaches" in Browning's will was indicated by his general counsel, Victor K. Rose, who estimated the value of his estate at between $2,000,000 and $7,000,000.

"Peaches" could claim a widow's dower right of one-third of the income from Browning's $500,000 personal estate, Rose said.

Despite the fantastic trial of his life before the public eye, Browning was keen-minded and able in business, he was reckoned as one of the shrewdest and most successful real estate operators in New York City.

Married Life Tempestuous
From the start, "Daddy's" married life was tempestuous.

In 1915, he walked into a Bronx real estate office, met pretty Nellie Adelle London. After a brief wooing, they were wed.

They lived in one of the first "rental houses" a 50-room affair on 81st street. The furnishings cost $1,150.

Attorneys Favor 'Lash For Criminal'

YAKIMA, Wash., Oct. 12.—Pleading of criminals convicted of violent crimes, was recommended by a majority vote of Washington attorneys in a referendum of law enforcement questions conducted by the state bar association, President Zinner said.

The vote on flogging, although it approved the practice, held against the penalty for persons who had been convicted and their sentences suspended.

The vote on the proposals totaled 1,150.

More Than We Can Afford Even In Better Times

THE hunt then turned to the vicinity of Moberly, Missouri, after Mrs. Ed Oliver, who lives near that town, reported three men stopped at her home about noon and asked for a towel and soap, explained the man who used the soap and towel drew from his pocket a .32 and a .38 caliber revolver, and asked if she

PLANE AND ARMY OF OFFICERS HUNT TWO DESPERADOES

'Pretty Boy' Floyd and Companions Dodge Scores of State, County and City Authorities in Missouri

(By The Associated Press)
KANSAS CITY, Oct. 12.—The Southwest's two most notorious outlaws—Charles "Pretty Boy" Floyd and his companion, Adam Richetti—were hunted by posses in central and eastern Missouri tonight, after the elusive killers, reported sighted in at least three communities, had dodged police traps throughout the day.

A national guard airplane, equipped with a two-way radio communication, and carrying a machine gun, was ordered from St. Louis to aid state county and city police officers in the Missouri hunt.

Bridges and highway functions were barred and guarded. State highway patrolmen in radio-equipped motor cars aided in spreading the word that anyone who trapped the desperadoes named by the department of justice as two of the three "rigger men" who killed four officers and a convict at the Kansas city union station June 17, 1934, would be rewarded.

O. L. Blanchard, Kansas City salesman and former detective, reported he saw a car, answering Floyd's description five miles south of Mexico, Missouri, this morning.

Point Revolvers
Blanchard said three men confronted him with revolvers when he stopped to offer them aid because their automobile apparently was stalled. After he convinced them his car was not speedy enough for their use, they ordered him to "head down the road," he said.

Officers expressed belief one of the two men with Floyd was Richetti, and the other was "Shine" Smith, a known companion of "Pretty Boy" and Richetti. The man believed to be Richetti was on the rear seat of the car, according to Blanchard said.

Without officers, who had been waiting for Floyd since he escaped after a running gun battle with town officers yesterday, took up the chase.

At one time, Floyd and his companions were reported surrounded in the town of Mexico, Missouri. The trail was lost later 12 miles south of Mexico.

New State Willness
Willett, his legal aide, Prosecutor Anthony M. Hawk, Jr., of Henderson, and Colonel H. Norman Schwartzkopf, state police superintendent, mapped New Jersey's case today, but declined to disclose it.

The witnesses we will only, Willett said, "will reveal on whom they call. I can't reveal now who they call."

Crowd In Munich Openly Jeers At Hitler's Regime

(Copyright, 1934, By The Associated Press)
MUNICH, Germany, Oct. 12.—Discord in the Evangelical church reached a sensational point tonight when Hitlerism was openly derided and scored by demonstrators protesting the arbitrary removal of two dissenting bishops.

From a gathering before the Episcopal palace where Hans Albricht, deposed today as bishop of Bavaria on charges of opposition to the state, was being held prisoner, the throng hurried to the brown houses and headquarters in the city.

There the demonstrators shouted derisively at the Nazi church administration, the government, and at Chancellor Hitler who now is in Munich.

The outbreak, most pronounced since Hitler came to power, was induced by arrest of eight clergymen, and removal of Bishop Meiser and Bishop Theodor Wurm of Wurtemberg.

LABOR FEDERATION RE-ELECTS GREEN

Convention at San Francisco Howls Down 'Red' Resolutions

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—The American Federation of Labor re-elected William Green, president, and all other officers, and passed a sweeping resolution to "make a new union out of the old."

The pay increase over the present scale of 8 cents an hour is retroactive to July 1, 1934.

President Revere Deere
WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The approximate 200,000 workers in the cotton ginning manufacturing industry were informed today by President Revere Deere, effective December 1, their working hours would be cut from 38 1/2 weeks without any decrease in pay.

The president ordered the reduction in hours last summer, but in fact it is at that time after workers from some operators. An important point was named to investigate the situation, approved today by the chief executive, "was that the plan was justified because of the constant danger to which he would be subjected and the heavy guard that would have to be maintained for him."

The action was taken just after the president had been elected and again advocated the 30-hour work week but there was no indication the president intended to adopt a shorter week as a general policy in the near future.

Their conclusion approved by the federation and had no comment to make on questions whether further reduction in hours would be justified by circumstances.

Hugh H. Johnson led an NIRA drive last spring for shorter hours in the coal but the move died down after most of the industries affected perished.

LONGSHORE STRIKE BOARD CUTS HOURS, INCREASES WAGES

President's Arbitrators in Pacific Coast General Strike Announce Awards; Split Hiring Hall Control

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—President Roosevelt's arbitration board tonight awarded the Pacific coast longshoremen a 30-hour week in last summer's bitter fight. The award included a 10 percent wage increase and shorter hours.

The longshoremen had adamantly refused to arbitrate the hiring hall control after the end of the general strike.

Wages of 83 cents an hour, with $1.00 overtime, and a 30-hour week were granted the longshoremen. They had asked $1 an hour and $1.50 for overtime, as well as the 30-hour week.

The pay increase over the present scale of 8 cents an hour is retroactive to July 1, 1934.

Alexander's Death Believed Part Of International Terrorist Ring's European Rulers

(Copyright, 1934, By The Associated Press)
PARIS, Oct. 12.—A young and pretty woman described by police as the "gun girl" for the assassin of King Alexander of Yugoslavia was sought near Aix-en-Provence tonight as police in France and Europe fought a trail against an international terror ring.

Believing the gang, with headquarters in Hungary, plotted the death of Europe's rulers, the French police formally charged Zvonimir Tzospichli, Moscow exile, with the murder.

MOURNING NATION GREET'S BOY KING

Regency Rulers Peter Must Not Return to England to School

(Copyright, 1934, By The Associated Press)
BELGRADE, Oct. 12.—The boy king Peter came here tonight to the funeral of his father, King Alexander, who was killed by a Serbian assassin in the capital city of Yugoslavia.

While the country waited in deep mourning for the arrival of the body of the boy king, the regency government announced that the funeral would be held in Belgrade.

The announcements confirmed an earlier charge showing a balance of reports published about the funeral. The funeral was held in Belgrade.

Official announcements tonight said that complete order and tranquility prevailed through the country.

No Return to School
The new regency ruled the country decided Peter could not go back to his school. As the sovereign power in the country, Peter must stay in Yugoslavia.

Moreover, the regency and government declared they could not assume the responsibility of having Peter live abroad because of the constant danger to which he would be subjected and the heavy guard that would have to be maintained for him.

They felt he might best be protected at home in Yugoslavia.

A day and night of traveling across Europe brought the boy king and his widowed mother, Queen Marie, from Paris to Belgrade.

A few days ago he passed through the town en route to England and school. Tonight he returned to his homeland.

The boy's arrival, who has touched the hearts of all by his solitary bearing in the face of the death of his father, was greeted with touching fashions by thousands of Yugoslav peasant women and children.

The mourning was deeply affected by the greetings and tributes she and the little king received through the train.

ODDITIES of Life

(By The Associated Press)
Elephant Flies—St. Louis—Apparently unconcerned with his journey, Tony Tembo, an elephant, yesterday was brought by airplane to St. Louis municipal zoo.

The Martin Johnson, who big game hunter, flew the animal here in their own plane from New York.

Saves Life—JOLIET, Ill.—A new use for the family automobile was found yesterday by Harry Johnson, a farm hand, who fought with an angry bull to save his employer's life.

Sterling Patterson, 46, a Waterloo, Wis., farmer, was transferring the bull from one pasture to another when the animal reared and charged on the man's nose. Whirling about, the bull knocked Patterson down and trampled upon him.

Patterson, on the ground, shouted for help. Patterson jumped into an automobile, and drove to the bull. After a series of assaults, Patterson succeeded in driving the bull into an enclosure.

Patterson's condition is not serious, physicians said.

'Monster' Killed—OKLAHOMA—The "strange monster" of Belle Isle lake has been killed and brought to light.

Attendees noticed the "strange monster" yesterday when it was being taken to the lake.

Finally, George Conley arrived himself with a rifle.

"We were playing by the lake when we saw the head come to the surface," said Conley, "I cracked down with the rifle and the monster to the bottom. He fished him out and there we had him—a 34-inch alligator."

The mystery now is where did the alligator come.

Freight Rate Boost Dismissal Refused

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The interstate-commerce commission today denied motions filed by farm truck companies to have rates applied to agricultural products of the railroad—petition for a general freight rate increase.

The motion was filed by the farm rate council, the Northwestern Livestock Shippers Traffic League and the national grain.

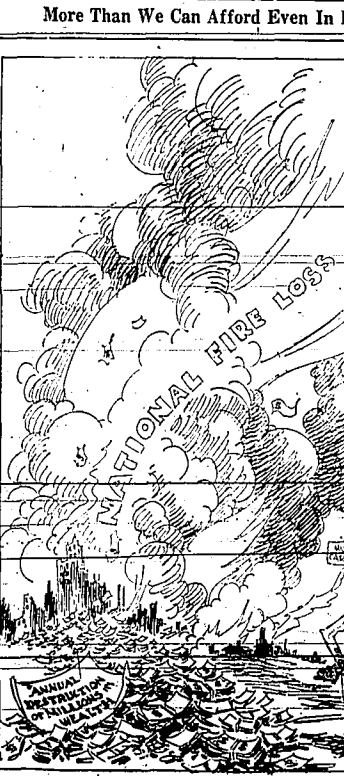

The commission now is holding hearings on the railroad's application. They are seeking to raise an additional $100,000,000 in revenue annually.

RAIN CHECKS FOREST FIRE—WALLACE, Idaho, Oct. 12.—A menacing forest fire in the Pine and Snake mountains near Wallace today by a steady rain.

The blaze broke out Wednesday and covered an estimated 300 acres.

The police sent the boys home and said they would not be prosecuted. "What's the use," said one official, "they're only boys."

Asked why they hadn't been arrested, the boys said they were afraid they'd get killed.

CONTINUANCE OF MISSIONS-URGED

Ecclesial Leaders Plead for Unrestricted Program of Church Work

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 12 (AP)—With the city "closed" to the spiritual unrest of a troubled world, Episcopal leaders pleaded today for unrestricted continuation of church work and domestic missions.

A joint session of the house of deputies and house of bishops at the 101st annual convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church of America, heard Dr. Lewis B. Franklin of Washington, D. C., vice president and treasurer of the national council report of more than $750,000 which only the united support of the American laity, he said, can save.

Unemployment insurance, and a "war" against the "evil" of alcohol, were questions which, after a session today was asked to the church's support.

Dr. Franklin reported followed an address by Archbishop of Canterbury, W. P. of Rhode Island for a return "to the true spirit of the church."

Urges Insurance Plan

To the social service committee of the house of deputies was a message from the Episcopal Board of Christian Service, of Brooklyn, which asked the committee to support a plan for unemployment insurance, the NRA, and by inference, public ownership of public utilities.

From the Rhode Island diocese, where the presiding bishop served, came a message from the diocese asking the church to support a plan to alter his office and position in the church.

The Rev. Stanley C. Hughes, of Newport, Rhode Island, recommended on behalf of the joint committee on status and work of the presiding bishop, that the bishop be relieved of the administration of his immediate see and that his term of office be extended until the next convention following his 83rd birthday.

Creation of an archbishopric centered at Washington, D. C., was one of the possible aims of the move.

The delegation from the Philippine Islands renewed its demand for elimination of the word "Protestant" from the church's list of principal points in "high church" vs. "low church" controversy. No action was taken.

Catholics Gather Under Broiling Sun

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 12 (AP)—Under a broiling sun, a half million of the Roman Catholic church's faithful assembled today for the annual assembly of the pontifical high mass.

So terrific was the heat in the open air gathered that 400 women and girls collapsed. Laymen and priests alike were permitted to cover their heads against the sun.

At the Buffalo, Pa., the high mass at the altar of St. John was crowded for beyond the 500,000 mark erected for the thirty-second international eucharistic congress. The congregation covered the 100-foot cross in the center of Ave Maria, and the altar of St. John.

Bishop Ortíz of Atlanta, Spain, officiated at the mass in place of the cardinal-legate, Eugenio Pacelli, who suffered from the recently constructed church of Santa Rosa de Lima.

As the congregation, swelled by the Columbus day holiday and additional pilgrims from the interior, took their places, the choir of 800 sang "Te igitur" and the Mass.

Mr. Alexander W. Weddell were in the diplomatic box.

Canadian Village Isolated by Flood

VICTORIA, B. C., Oct. 12 (AP)—The little village of Barnston was isolated by a flood today, as the Bella Coola river burst over its banks and tore away highways, bridges, and communication wires.

A considerable number of the hamlet by canoe reported through the wireless of the steamship Carleton that many of the 250 inhabitants were marooned and in danger of starvation.

The provincial department of public works sent five motor launches, men and police to the flood zone.

BURLEY WOMAN'S SON SUFFERS AT BLACKFOOT

BLACKFOOT, Idaho, Oct. 12 (AP)—William H. Avery, 34, of Blackfoot, son of Mrs. Eliza J. Avery, died here yesterday, after undergoing a major operation.

He was born at Parson, Utah, December 17, 1899, and had been many years in this part of the state where he was engaged in the sheep business.

Avery was a leader in Latter Day Saints church.

His father, John Avery, also resides at Burley, Idaho.

INSULL CUSTOMERS TESTIFY IN TRIAL

Stock Described as Choke Investment for 'Certain Friends'

CHICAGO, Oct. 12 (AP)—Two of the thousands of customers who bought stock in Samuel Insull's Corporation Securities company of Chicago testified today that Insull had used a "choke" investment for "certain friends" and "certain friends."

First of a long line of "witnesses" with the prosecution will call in the main fraud trial of Insull and 16 others, they were introduced not to testify to losses but in support of the government's contention that Halsted Stuart and company, investment bankers, "pushed" the stock.

"For 'certain friends'"

"A salesman told me his company was recommending Corporation Securities certificates to certain friends," said F. H. Kuhlman, Cincinnati, who testified.

"He said it was offered at $75, although it was selling for $95 on the Chicago market," he said. "If you want 20 units, you'd better subscribe for 100."

"What happened?" asked Foster A. Harman, assistant U. S. attorney general, today, notifying me that my allotment was 100," said the witness.

Murder-Charged Woman Acquitted

JEFFERSON, W. Va., Oct. 12 (AP)—Mrs. Carrie Gill, 50-year-old widow, tonight was acquitted by a circuit court jury of 12 men on charges of being an accessory before the fact in the slaying of Earl B. Gentry, 47.

A former Indiana Ku Klux Klan leader in the first murder case in this county in 17 years deliberated for five and one-half hours before freeing the woman of the accusation of plotting the shooting of the former aide to D. C. Stephenson, Indiana Klan boss, last June 30.

Trial of the widow, known here as the "Buntings Lady" because of charitable acts she had performed in a Lutheran church organization, consumed nine days.

In its case the state contended jealousy of the woman over the affection Gentry, her boarder, was paying to her attractive niece, motivated her to conspire to have him killed.

F. R. CHUCKLES AT MONEY QUESTION

Treasury Calls $1,870,000 000 Block of Fourth Liberty Bonds

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—The treasury tonight called a $1,870,000 block of Fourth Liberty Bonds which President Roosevelt, laughing at conflicting reports of new inflationary steps, kept the path to them clearly open.

The bonds, bearing a 4 1/2 per cent coupon, will have a total value of $1,870,000. They will be sold in 10-cent lots, and the treasury will have the option of receiving cash for them or exchanging them for new government securities yielding a smaller return.

That the president is paying close attention to the monetary situation there could be no doubt. He chose for companions on a week-end cruise down Chesapeake Bay aboard the yacht Sequoyia, Secretary Morgenthau and George L. Harrison, governor of the New York Federal Reserve.

However, in answer to the direct question whether a further cut in the gold content of the dollar was contemplated, the president told reporters: "I am not a seer. I am not an astrologer."

Speaking at his press conference, he said many of those present had received a "bum rap" as a result of a conference between himself and Senator Buckley (D-N.Y.) yesterday.

The chairman had said he left the White House that a further cut in the dollar was "not an impossibility."

President Asks Cooperation in Administration's Policy Work

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—In a move to strengthen the enforcement of Blue Eagle industrial codes, President Roosevelt tonight called upon three federal agencies to cooperate in this policy work.

He formally abandoned previous plans for creating a separate judicial branch in the new code system, which will be taken over by the NRA, the justice department and the federal trade commission.

The president said that about 35 out of 100 trade practice complaints could be settled by the NRA compliance division without reference to the justice department for prosecution.

End of "Johnson" Era

The presidential decision was reached just as Clay Williams, NRA chairman, announced a determination to get the best code compliance possible. Coincidentally, he formally pledged to newsmen an end to "spectacular and glamorous" NRA of Hugh S. Johnson.

When then added his assertion to that recently given by Donald R. Hebbeler, recovery coordinator, that business men have no right to expect changes in NRA policies on such vital issues as price and production control, and the work week, although all lip it is a major problem for consideration.

New England Flurry Of Snow Unheralded

Portland, Me., Oct. 12 (AP)—Snow mixed in rain and sleet, and the weather service tonight reported the snow will be heavy in northern New England.

The red and brown leaves of a day are being buried under snow of almost equal proportions in northern Maine.

From Caribou, Me., came reports of a 10-inch white blanket and the snow still falling—and forecast to reach 14 inches.

Around the St. Lawrence River territory roads were drifted high. Telephone and power lines were down in some sections, cutting off radio news.

Farmers in the Canadian border territory feared for their unharvested crops and wheat crops.

Temperatures tumbled below freezing in central and New Hampshire. Automobile radiators received their first winter treatment—alcohol.

Scattered snow fall in upper New York state, and the today called snowfall temperatures of 20 to 25.

As far south as New York City, however, the snow was light and heavier coats with the temperature around 40.

Relief Roll Rise Worries Hopkins

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—The relief administration figured today that 4,000,000 families—within the 48 states—were dependent on the aid of the CWA last April—were dependent on relief payments during August.

Harry L. Hopkins, relief administrator, told newsmen that the number of relief-supported families had jumped 200,000 from July to August. He indicated the load was still going up slowly.

The totals for September were not yet available.

Meanwhile, other relief officials pointed the way for more of these families to turn to relief aid. They said the number of families which they followed would be the depression.

BLAST KILLS TWO MEN, INJURES 21

Chicago Skyscrapers Jarred Windows Shattered by Terrible Explosion

CHICAGO, Oct. 12 (AP)—A terrific blast tore through a 14-story building on the north side today, killing two men and injuring 21 others.

Skyscrapers on the north edge of the loop were jarred. Windows were shattered in structures five blocks away and three quarters of a block of sidewalks shattering the Centennial Gold Storage plant at Dearborn and Kinzie streets was torn up by the explosion.

John Gunda, 40, a laborer at the plant, was struck by a section of the concrete loading platform and his mangled body hurled across the street. John H. Kilgore, 50, a Northwestern Railroad baggage man from Alton, Ill., was crushed by a big piece of cement as he walked along the other side of the thoroughfare.

The other casualties were rescued by firemen and rushed to hospitals.

400-400-Damage

L. M. Johnson, superintendent of the concern, estimated the damage at approximately $200,000.

The explosion occurred in the basement. A flywheel on a refrigerating machine spun loose and crashed against a wall. It smashed a device controlling the pressure in two large gas tanks, and shook the plant.

The tanks suddenly exploded. The entire structure quivered. Glass sprayed over desks and floors. Bricolage, the outside platform, and the brick front were blown out.

Portions of them shot over the street, pounding against other buildings, and trucks and cutting down several pedestrians.

Many persons escaped death by the narrow margin.

RAILROAD PENSION BILL CHALLENGED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—The Roosevelt administration's proposed compulsory workers' pension—was brought before the court today by the railroads on a challenge of its constitutionality.

The case came up for review in the District of Columbia circuit court before Chief Justice Alfred A. Wines. The first step in an expected move to have the supreme court include this matter in its considerations of its phases of the "new deal" program.

The constitutionality of the railroad pension bill was challenged by the carriers on the premise that it violated the commerce clause of the constitution and deprived them of property without due process of law (the fourteenth amendment).

Emmett F. McQuinn, counsel for the carriers, told the court that if the act was passed, the railroads would be called upon to make a payment of $15 million in retirement fund by November 1 at what he termed a "time of distress."

The provision requiring retirement of rail workers at the age of 65 was attacked by McQuinn. It allows one year extension of the retirement age up to 70 years on agreement between the employer and employee.

McQuinn argued that the railroads' employees reached their highest degree of usefulness between those ages and should not be required by statute to retire in the absence of any physical disability.

CATTLE SURPLUS PROBLEM STUDIED

Administration Hopes to Avoid Future Excess of Supply

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—The farm administration, noting that the beef cattle surplus has been effectively eliminated by the drought already in giving consideration to plans to avoid a future excess of supply.

Details have not been worked out, but the whole question was described today in an authoritative source as "under close examination."

Administrative officials, advised by the bureau of agricultural economics that the surplus in production is not expected until 1935 nevertheless are studying possible means of offering an adjustment program next year to anticipate any increase in numbers deemed dangerous to price structure.

It was pointed out that under the Jones-Connally act of the last session of congress, which amended the agricultural program next year, cattle a basic commodity subject to control two courses might be taken—purchase of beef cattle for production adjustment or perhaps direct government purchase of excess supplies.

Some preliminary steps toward placing cattle under the adjustment program were taken just after the adjustment of corn and wheat, but the drought advanced and sharply cut supplies, no action in that direction was taken. It was deemed necessary.

It was explained an adjustment program probably could be put under way with a minimum of delay, because thousands of cattlemen already have pledged cooperation in production control, should Secretary Wallis proclaim it. That promise was incident to contracts owners signed with the administration when they sold their cattle.

IDAHO POTATO CROP OUTLOOK UNCHANGED

Proportion of No. 1 Grade Reported to Be Running Low

BOISE, Oct. 12 (AP)—Idaho potato prospects remained unchanged during the month with a predicted yield of 10,000,000 bushels. The report of Richard O. Ross, agricultural statistician, said today. "Trends have prevented steady growth of the late potatoes," the report said, "and the proportion of No. 1 grade is reported to be running very low. Potatoes in some sections are also reported to be in poor condition for sorting."

The sugar beet crop dropped slightly during the month, the present forecast being for 21,000 tons, compared with an actual for 1933 of 20,000 tons.

"The crop, if realized, will be only a little over 100,000 tons, as large as the 1933 crop of 200,000 tons," the report said. "Damage from late frosts and heavy rains has caused some loss of irrigation water in some areas have caused the abandonment of much of the potato plantings."

The bean crop was placed at 1-2,000,000 bushels of 100 pounds each, an increase from the 1,000,000 bushels of 50 pounds which put it at 1,000,000 bushels.

"In spite of frost damage to late beans, some better quality than the previous year," the report said, "many growers are reporting exceptionally good yields. The record stood about 1,700,000 bushels last year."
