SIX PERSONS DIE AS RAILMAN RUNS AMUCK IN CANADA

Former Mail Carrier Kills Quebec Postal Official, Confesses Slaying of 5 Relatives Earlier in Day

(By The Associated Press) QUEBEC, Oct. 25.—J. R. Boudreau, 26-year-old mail carrier who killed a postal official today as he ran amuck with a pistol in the Quebec post office, confessed tonight he had slain five relatives earlier in the day.

Police, with the ready assistance of Boudreau, tonight found the bodies of three of the relatives, all women. Boudreau was continuing through the night for the bodies of two young men, nephews, whom Boudreau admitted killing.

Ottawa Post, city divisional superintendent of mail, Marie Boudreau, 42, sister of the former mail carrier, Toronto Bulletin, 42, another sister, Yvette Gaudin, 21, niece of Boudreau.

Their bodies were in the morgue today on the post office. Boudreau also admitted that he had killed two nephews, Gaston and Gerard Gaudin, 29 and 18 years old.

Their bodies had not been found, but the youths were missing from the morgue. Boudreau said he had killed the young men with the same pistol he used in the murderous foray on the post office.

LEGION CALLS FOR BONUS PAYMENT TO HASTEN RECOVERY

Idaho Delegation Opposes Proposition, 9 to 1; Expected Benefits Told; Belgrano New Commander

(By The Associated Press) MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 23.—The American Legion today called upon the government for immediate payment of the adjusted service (bonus) certificates as a "most effective means" of hastening national recovery.

Frank Belgrano, San Francisco banker, was chosen by the veterans as their 123rd national commander, succeeding Edward A. Hayes of Chicago, Illinois.

The new commander of the American Legion for 1935 today was elected at the 123rd annual convention in Miami, Florida.

Belgrano said he was elected to the post office. Boudreau also admitted that he had killed two nephews, Gaston and Gerard Gaudin, 29 and 18 years old.

Streamline Speed Train Inaugurates New Schedule For Coast-To-Coast Run

New York Gives Enthusiastic Welcome to Train 56 Hours and 55 Minutes From Los Angeles

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Railroading's answer to aerial and automobile competition reached New York today after a record-breaking run across the continent and the ensuing coast-to-coast trip.

Overcrowded by the press of well-wishing crowds and the sudden change of the nervous strain under the weight of the train, the locomotive, rolled into Grand Central terminal with a cluster of new record records to its credit.

Three Men At Throttle Robinson had alternated at the throttle with two other engineers during the 3,234-mile trip.

After "looting" the sub-tunnel through the state of New Jersey, Robinson stepped from the cab into the hall of the locomotive, where he was met by a crowd of admirers.

He greeted, answered a few questions and then returned to the cab. The train was then headed for the coast.

POPE DEALS WITH MORTGAGE HOLIDAY

Republican Nominee Brands Present Moratorium Political Only

(By The Associated Press) RUPERT, Oct. 25.—A workable and effective mortgage moratorium law which will protect honest debtors from losing their homes and the state's credit, was advocated by Frank L. Stephens, Republican candidate for governor, in an address made here Thursday evening.

The speaker charged that the present moratorium law, although it had a highly worthy intent, was enacted for political purposes rather than for any desire on the part of the state to protect its credit.

Any law, he said, which "takes into consideration both the debtor and the creditor manifestly would be unconstitutional, and no more effective than the one now in effect."

Stephens, a former state senator, said he was a Republican candidate for governor, and he was a Republican candidate for governor.

He said he was a Republican candidate for governor, and he was a Republican candidate for governor.

POPE DEALS WITH NEW DEAL'S COST

Senator Declares for Increased Income and Inheritance Taxes

(By The Associated Press) UNITED STATES SENATOR James C. Pope is not worrying about the cost of new deal emergency expenditures, which he believes will be paid by income taxes in the higher brackets and increased inheritance taxes, he told his audience at a Democratic political meeting here last evening.

The fellow who made their money by exploitation of the mass of the people during the past 20 years "should" and "will" be called upon to pay the cost of recovery," he declared.

Pope declared that the new deal has cost over 30 billion dollars and he estimated that the establishment of a balanced national budget at the earliest possible date is essential to the national welfare and an important factor toward "new recovery."

While thus declaring our country is in a state of emergency, he said, "we must not forget that the government is the servant of the people."

He said he was a Republican candidate for governor, and he was a Republican candidate for governor.

BANKERS' AID FOR RECOVERY PLEDGED TO ADMINISTRATION

Convention Calls for Budget Balance, Applauds Speaker's Severe Arrangement of 'Brain Trust'

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The American Bankers' association closed its annual convention today by pledging its cooperation with the administration and a round of ringing applause for a speech severely criticizing some of the Roosevelt policies.

At the same time, the association's formal resolutions called for a balanced budget "at the earliest possible date," and set forth a "conviction" that such action constituted the cardinal sound financial policy, whether public or private.

A standing ovation greeted an address by David Lawrence, president of the United States Bank, striking directly at the "brain trust" as lacking practicality, asserting that the "brain trust" was "a collection of men who are not to the victor belong the spoils," and calling for a "back home" against "the brain trust" upon individual liberty.

Meanwhile, the association's economic policy committee presented a report saying the biggest present banking problem was that of finding "willing borrowers." It asserted the time had arrived when "good banking must prove to be courageous banking."

Rudolf S. Hecht, newly elected president, asked the delegates, to have faith in the leadership of the president and assured the chief executive that the "banker will play his part on the all-American team."

Cities, Highways In Flood's Path

Wallace, Fearful Of Floods Return, Eyes Waters Rise

(By The Associated Press) WALLACE, Idaho, Oct. 25.—With rainfall resuming for October, rain, fear of a repetition of the floods of last winter was so intense as citizens were raising streams in this district.

In the past six days 42 inches of rain has fallen, a total of 52.1 for this month. Although a bridge on Pine creek has been washed out, streams are not to the danger point. Snow fell in the mountains and rain in the lower areas virtually all this week.

The Sultan, the Miller, the Squamite and a score of other rivers overflowed because of continuing rain and the melting of snow in the highlands. Many highways were closed for a few days. The flood of water was so high that it was feared it would reach the towns in western Washington today and continuing rain gave rise to fears of a repetition of last December's damaging inundations.

City and county authorities said they feared repetition of last December's disastrous floods, which caused damage running into the millions.

Water Enters Town A few residents of Buda, Tex. fled to higher ground late today as high water of the Aboukumuk river, which rose seven feet, entered the town. The water entered from the south and the town was threatened.

WOMAN INVESTOR ACCUSES INSULL

Mrs. Mary Jones Tells of Mortgaging Farm to Buy Stocks

CHICAGO, Oct. 25 (AP)—The financial press never said anything about Mary Jones, but she scribbled the principal role today in the hundred-million dollar Insull mail fraud trial.

Mrs. Mary R. Jones brought the jurors forward in their seats while she told her story. It focused the affairs of Samuel Insull's Corporation Securities company on the Jones farm at Ellettsville, Ill.

For four weeks, the jurors trying Insull and is others, all important in middle western finance, have heard technical testimony about investment trusts, liquidating value of stock, syndicates, and intricate financial operations. Mrs. Jones' version of the case was blunt and simple.

"They got $15,000 of my money," she said. "You get pretty wrought up when you treat people to the limit and they treat you like that."

On Hot Spot

Insull, sitting four feet away in Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson's court, bit his finger and fumbled with his watch chain. The 16 co-defendants behind him looked solemn.

His grandmother, while standing behind her black hat, Mrs. Jones told how she paid for stock in Insull's Corporation Securities company, which prosecutors claim was worthless.

"We put a mortgage on the farm," she said grimly. "We borrowed the money at the First National bank at Freeport."

She sent a check to Insull's Quill Securities company to buy some stock in the National Electric company, she said.

"Did you get what you ordered?" Prosecutor Leslie C. Miller inquired.

She said "Yes." The stock, she said, was not what she wanted. The letter said the cashier had changed the check.

"We had implicit faith in them," Mrs. Jones explained. "That's where we were when we today."

All in Writing

Her information about the stock came by mail.

"It's all in writing," she said, and she thought the stock was a good investment, not at all speculative, Mrs. Jones said.

The determined woman was one of a long line of "victim" witnesses who took the stand today, school teacher, truck farmer, doctor and men behind the working age.

To show, said Prosecutor Salter, that the corporation was "only a shell," the government presented testimony from Raymond P. McNally, district receiver in equity for "corporate" that it had only about $23,000 in assets, besides unsecured notes receivable, when he took it over on April 17, 1932.

Officers Hunt For Jerome Burglars

JEROME, Oct. 25 (AP)—Officers of the Idaho state police are now on the trail of a professional pair of thieves who early Thursday morning committed two robberies in Jerome.

A tenor banjo, a pair of trousers, several rings of keys and other things "at small" burglaries were stolen from the Floyd Beddell home. The key rings and his pocketbook have been found, but the tenor banjo and the pants are yet unaccounted for, James Davis, Jerome county sheriff, reports.

The money—taken amounted to about $1.

About $4 was stolen from the D. K. Hendry home, also in Jerome, the same morning. The pants in which the money was located have been found.

Woman's Appeal In Liquor Case Denied

BOISE, Oct. 25 (AP)—The supreme court today dismissed the appeal of Mrs. Elmer Stokes of Franklin county from a probate court fine of $100 for possession of liquor.

Mrs. Stokes pleaded guilty to the charge in probate court and after the fine was assessed moved to withdraw her plea of guilty and appealed to the district court. The court found, however, that she failed to serve notice on the prosecuting attorney of her plans to appeal, except by mail, and this manner of serving notice was branded invalid in criminal cases.

Marie, Mother of Yugoslav Queen, Finds 'Peasant' Traits in Daughter

By JOHN SELBY

NEW YORK, Oct. 24 (AP)—The two Maries, mother and daughter, who scented Yugoslavia's first King Peter home, were united in a common cause.

Dowager Queen Marie of Rumania is capable of taking a perfectly detached view of her daughter. She says that there always was a peasant quality in the young Marie, in her book, "The Story of My Life," just published.

"Marie was a peasant's endurance about Mignon (her pet name for Marie)," she writes. "One could have well imagined her in a cottage, the mistress of the family, lighting the fire, milking the cows, fetching water at the well, or carrying too heavy baskets about, sweeping the floors, setting the dishes on the table. Mignon was instinctively a helpful and domestic child."

As Queen Lewis Her Cub "having been born at a period when I had been very unhappy (over differences with the then King of Rumania) I loved her with the love of a mother who might have had for her cub. Mignon was, so to say, the child of my flesh, I could almost feel with my own body when Mignon had an ache or a pain."

Marie of Rumania's closeness to her child is thus expressed elsewhere:

"To Me She Was Pure Joy"

"Mignon was an adorable addition to our family; a sweeter, happier, fairer child cannot be imagined. I also compared her to those large, sweet-scented, pink peonies, mother-of-pearl colored, not to the touch, which imparted an exquisite freshness to the atmosphere of a room."

"Mignon in her way was all this; her face was flaxen and curly, her complexion that of a pale pink shell."

HALE TALKS SUGAR BEETS AT JEROME

Candidate Says Republicans Expressing Voice of the People

JEROME, Oct. 25—Ibber C. Hale, Republican candidate for congress, man, spoke out against the administration's attitude toward Idaho and the sugar beet question tonight at the Jerome chamber of commerce.

"The Republicans have raised their voices because it is the sentiment of the people," he said.

Hale predicted that "if the government keeps up the present attitude toward the people of this country one year from now will have to have a license to operate their own farms." He urged that food be distributed instead of destroyed, and spoke out for a better distribution of wealth and better labor conditions.

Commenting upon the sugar beet question he said: "Agriculture and livestock are the life blood of Idaho and our beet industry is just one phase of this situation. The capitalists in New York City who own large sugar plantations in Cuba are behind this move and wish to see the government curtail all sugar output in this country so that the entire amount will be grown on Cuban plantations where laborers work for 25 cents a day."

"Our government has done a great deal to encourage this. The tariff has been reduced from two dollars a ton to 50 cents a ton making a loss of $44,000,000 each year to this country. Six million tons of sugar are consumed in this country each year and less than 20 per cent of this amount is grown here. Our beet industry is profiting by the condition of the United States by this tariff reduction."

charge in probate court and after the fine was assessed moved to withdraw her plea of guilty and appealed to the district court. The court found, however, that she failed to serve notice on the prosecuting attorney of her plans to appeal, except by mail, and this manner of serving notice was branded invalid in criminal cases.

Memoirs Describe Placid 'Mignon'

Dowager Queen Marie of Rumania (background) compares her passionate love for her daughter 'Mignon' (foreground), widowed queen of Yugoslavia, to the intense affection of a lioness for her cub.

she had the real cupid's bow mouth and long-shaped, rather sleepy eyes under well marked eyebrows, and long lashes, both of a much darker shade than her hair.

"Nothing ever disturbed Mignon's placid good-humor, to me she was pure joy... besides, Mignon had some, as a ray of light into great darkness, at an hour when I had not felt in life. Mignon was one of those luminous bridges back to hope which are given us occasionally, and Mignon, unattainably, responded to my love."

Mario's memoirs stop short of her daughter's marriage to Alexander, recently assassinated.

MRS. VANDERBILT BEGINS DEFENSE

Illness Handicaps Mother of Little Heiress in Legal Battle

NEW YORK, Oct. 25 (AP)—Mrs. Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt today began her defense against the charges by Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, her sister-in-law, that she is not a fit mother for her 19-year-old daughter Gloria, heiress to $4,000,000.

She began it, however, under the handicap of illness. With a trained nurse accompanying her, she went home at noon from the supreme court room where the legal battle for the custody of the child is being fought. She looked worn and pale.

"Will she be here tomorrow? She's very ill, but she'll be here even if she has to be brought down on a litter, attended by 14 doctors," said her attorney, Nathan S. Margulies. "She is not going to let that lady Whitney get away with all that mud-slinging."

Twin Sister Testifies

Mrs. Vanderbilt's first witness, Lawrence Copley Thaw, occupied the witness chair only a few minutes. Then came her twin sister, the former Lady Furness, who hurried over from Paris to testify for her. In the courtroom barred to press and public, Lady Furness was still telling her story when court was adjourned for the day. She will continue her testimony tomorrow morning.

Supreme Court Justice John P. Carew announced later that night sessions might be held if lawyers for both sides were willing.

Both Durkan and Herbert C. Smythe, attorney for Mrs. Whitney, again denied there was any prospect of a settlement, rumors of which have been current.

Smith's court was a report that in a three-hour chat with Justice Carew the day before, Young Gloria had said she preferred living with Mrs. Whitney.

"Gloria now is at the Long Island estate of Mrs. Whitney, her paternal aunt, where she has cousins of her own age to play with and a pony. She has been there for the past two years."

Idaho Superintendent Reports
Avalanche of
New Students

BOISE, Oct. 23 (AP)—A wave of immigration from the midwest, particularly Nebraska and Kansas, was declared today by John W. Condie, state superintendent of public instruction, to have buried Idaho public schools under an avalanche of students.

Schools in all the heavier populated sections, he said, "have so many students that it has become an acute problem how to handle them."

This, he said, applied to Twin Falls, Idaho Falls, Boise, Pocatello, Weiser and Little Camas Prairie country of north Idaho. Many of the immigrants are coming with little property or wealth, he said, increasing the prospect that the county and school district will have to absorb an increased load with little assistance in tax revenue. This year the territory has already asked, he said, as the tax levies have been made on the basis of last year's enrollment.

"In some districts extra teachers are being employed by using reserve funds," he said, but in others there is no remedy. The students will just have to be pushed into classes and handled the best way possible."

He said the same situation had developed in other western states and a conference of educators had been called for Ogden, November 1, to discuss the situation. Delegates will come from Arizona, New Mexico, Nevada, Colorado, California, Idaho, Wyoming and Utah. Another conference is being held in Portland, November 3, he said, to discuss the same problem in the Pacific Northwest states.

He said he had already planned to attend the Ogden meeting from which it is expected an appeal will be sent to the federal government.

REED SEES ATTEMPT TO CORRUPT VOTERS

Missourian Plays Candidates Playing Upon Federal Funds

DETROIT, Oct. 25 (AP)—A charge that "New Dealers" are making "a bad and limited attempt to corrupt the electorate" through federal appropriations was made by former United States Senator James A. Reed, in an address here last night.

"Candidates... secure pledges for the expenditure of millions of dollars in their district, or state, or city, and then tell the voters that this money was furnished by the administration, and that they are in duty bound to support the hand that feeds them," the Missouri Democrat declared. "What is this but the buying of votes? It is a bold and insolent attempt to corrupt the electorate."

Policies of the New Deal were attacked and criticized by Reed in his speech under the auspices of the Missouri non-partisan voters league.

Charges Reed, Reed accepted of the New Deal by the "American" people, he said, "spring from a combination of fear, hardness and greed, difficult to understand."

"Great industries were told that they could combine and write their own ticket.... They hastened to write agreements, publicly known as codes. They intended to raise prices, and they did raise prices.... The whole scheme in the nutshell is to increase the price of everything the people eat, wear or use, and this at a time when money is scarce."

"You ask—What is remedy for the present depression? I answer—Return to the people the rights to conduct their own affairs. Break governmental shackles from industry—stop—eliminate the barter of values. Let the people have a chance, and courage will return and boundless energies of our race and the infinite resources of our land will triumph over adversity...."

STAMPS

In The News

Netherlands, apparently well pleased with the design of the 35-cent airmail stamp of 1934, is resuming the adhesive.

It is a bluish-green, with an orange-red, in two blue diagonal bands across the top are shown six airplanes in flight, while in an orange-red circle to the left is a photograph of Queen Wilhelmina. Between the two and to the right is the designation, "Nederlands, 35 ct."

The stamp stands out particularly because there is no background other than the white paper on which it is printed. The only difference between this stamp and the earlier printing is the perforation.

A new issue of pictorial stamps on the British colony of Cyprus in the Mediterranean-off the coast of Turkey is in preparation. There are to be 11 values, ranging from one-quarter to 48 pence. The last previous change in this colony's postage paper was in 1928 when the British colony was commemorated.

Mexico has purchased the 8-centavo orange of the type of 1923 for official use. The stamp is rouletted.

A 30-penny stamp with a drawing of Benvenuto on a war horse has been announced for compulsory use on all mail and airmail letters from London, O.C.

Great Britain's redesigned King George group has just added the second of the set. It is the 1-penny stamp, which is a fairly distinguishable from the previous type.

The recent fruit exhibition at Bucharest was the subject for two special Hungarian stamps, a 1-leu green and a 2-leu brown violet.

Gen. George W. Goethals is pictured on a new 3-cent dark violet stamp from the Canal Zone.

SATURDAY'S GAMES

Filer at Bode

As old man football's reign is nearing its height, 22 gridiron outfits swing into action today on eleven South Central Idaho fronts and many a hectic battle is predicted.

However, one game seems to have edged into the spotlight and threatens to steal the show. Although many a fan will undoubtedly be on hand to see the larger schools go through their weekly workouts, attention must be called to the Eden-Hansen tilt at Hansen. Although the game is not billed for the championship of the South Side Class "B" district that title may be decided upon when the two teams meet.

Win Seven Straight

Coach Roy Smith's warriors of Hansen have marched through seven straight victories this year and have but six points scored against them, this in a non-conference game with the Twin Falls Cubs. On the other hand Eden has about the same record. Coach George Hjerta's outfit has five wins and again the Cubs were the only team to score. They chalked up a 7-0 touchdown.

In case of an even tie the only thing to stop a clear march to the title would be one of the most unexpected upsets in years at the hands of the "hapless" Hazelton eleven. Hansen is not fated to be in quite such an enviable position. The week work for Hagerman meet the week. Hazelton, Eden, this week, and a battle royal is expected. The Wolves have lost one game to Eden by a 6-0 touchdown in the final moments of play.

Evenly Matched

Two Big Ten battles are on today's card and Filer Journals to bring for a tilt tomorrow. The game at Twin Falls fringes is slated to be an evenly matched game although the Bruins have several regulars out of the game due to injuries. Buhl is favored to take a win over American Falls and Boise. The probable outcome of the game is a toss-up.

Oakley's Hornets, led by the finish, McKinstry, are strong favorites to take some of the credit in the Coach Jay Thompson's Kimberly Bulldogs and Gooding is a popular favorite to trim Wendell. The game in Class "A" tilt, Gooding and Oakley have yet to meet defeat in their own class and are rated by many as one of the outstanding teams in the entire district. The other Class "A" team, Jerome, meets Olenus Ferry, undefeated, in the top of the Class "B" North Side league. In a non-conference battle, Declo orville Hill's Ferryman are favored for a win.

North Siders Battle

On the North Side of the Class "B" loop a pair of repeatedly evenly matched teams, play, when Hailey and Dietrich meet. It will be a battle to get out of the cellar of the division and the Dietrich boys are also favorites. In the top of the circuit, Hagerman and Shoshone play. Hagerman has been coming to the front during the past few weeks and the Shoshone team, after a tie game with King Hill last Friday, are rated as about the strongest outfit in their district. King Hill is a favorite to trim Fairfield in the third North-Side game.

Albion is given an edge over Declo in a South Side Class "B" game and the remaining game on the slate pits Richfield against Hazelton in a non-conference clash.

Slating bowling experts rolled the way to a tie game at the night. The Klamath ended up with a total score of 2387 to 2194 for the Jokers.

Slating of Slating was high with a 226 in the third game and his team mate Davis took three game honors with 532.

BRUIN COACH PESSIMISTIC AS CRIPPLED TEAM FACES BUHL ON LINCOLN FIELD

Casting a gloomy eye on Lincoln field today, Coach "Hank" Powers will send a crippled game of Twin Falls Bruins up against the best Buhl team in the state. The Bruins will go into the clash as underdogs as the Indians are reported to be in tip-top condition and Twin Falls has five regulars out of the game due to injuries. Perhaps the most serious losses of the five are Lee Lincoln and Jack Long, linebackers who have been the backbone of the team.

Lincoln, blocking back, is out with a knee injury and Jack Long, linebacker, is out with a knee injury. The Wolves have lost one game to Eden by a 6-0 touchdown in the final moments of play.

Coach Powers' unbeaten Indians have done their best to win and are out to make the most of the opportunity. On the other hand the Bruins have a dread, more anything else, of a defeat at the hands of their traditional rivals. A battle to the finish is predicted.

Buhl, defeated Oakley 10 to 0 and the best Twin Falls could do was 12 to 6. This gives the Indians an edge, but the game will be played on Bruin soil and this may mean a toss-up.

Probable starting line-up:

TWIN FALLS	BUHL
1-E. Baughman	1-E. Baughman
2-B. Baughman	2-B. Baughman

Cancelled Games Cause Confusion; Authorities Argue

George E. Denman, Board Secretary, Declares Contests Scheduled With Buhl Count in Standings

By L. L. SIMPSON

"What is the Southern Idaho Big Ten football conference, or is there such an organization?" has long been a question embedded in the minds of players, coaches, school authorities and fans of Southern Idaho. And the worst part of it all is that no one seems to be able to answer the question in full.

In the meantime, while school authorities continue to argue over the situation, member teams of the body continue to lose the Big Ten Board of Control, which is to tell the board where to go and announced withdrawal from the circuit. The loss of either eleven teams in the body "high and dry" as only a few had the necessary conference games scheduled to complete the five required by the board.

Denman Says Games Count

With Buhl's withdrawal, George Denman, Buhl superintendent of schools and secretary of the board, announced that games scheduled with Buhl by Big Ten teams would count in the standings. Upon this announcement, A. E. Hirschler, superintendent at Paul and president of the South Central Idaho district association, and Harold Roberts, Jerome principal and secretary of the association, both stated it was their belief that Buhl could not be counted in both Big Ten and Class "A" Non-Big Ten teams. Buhl's withdrawal from the circuit, Buhl superintendent is the third member of the board.

Games Cancelled

Now that Buhl has announced withdrawal from the Big Ten, it is a matter of time before the whole thing is in a middle. Caldwell last week had a game slated with Filer, according to the Big Ten schedule, and today Twin Falls was slated for a game with Nampa. Caldwell is reported to have cancelled the game with Filer and Twin Falls refused to play Nampa after going ahead and scheduling a game with Buhl.

The situation is that most of the teams have taken an attitude of defiance and have refused to play. Although charges of favoritism of the board in making out schedules have frequently been mentioned, the general argument against the Big Ten appears to be the financial difficulties involved in playing inter-sectional games.

SIX COACHES ON JOB

MORAGA, Cal. (AP)—San Joaquin, once hailed as the greatest football coach in the West, died last week.

Coach Powers is scheduled to give a talk and an interesting evening is anticipated by those in charge. An account of his recent travels through the Mid-Western and Southwestern states was given by W. W. McRoberts at last night's meeting. The story of going through the drought-stricken area just after a big rain had freshened up the country, making it look like home, brought a laugh from his hearers.

CHAMPION FREDDIE MILLER'S OPPONENT, DISQUALIFIED FOR BUTTING, BURSTS INTO TEARS

GLASGOW, Oct. 25 (AP)—Freddie Miller, recognized as featherweight champion by the National Boxing Association (United States), continued his string of victories in Great Britain tonight when Gilbert Johnstone of Glasgow was disqualified for butting in the tenth and last round of their non-title fight.

Johnstone, who had put up a good fight, burst into tears and the decision was announced and he was carried out of the ring, still crying. The crowd went wild and pandemonium reigned in the arena until after the boxers had reached the dressing room.

It was clear from the start that Miller was the more clever craftsman, but the best absorbed the decision was announced and he was carried out of the ring, still crying.

Johnston Fails to Find First Class Heavy Challenger

By EDDIE BRIETZ (Associated Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Oct. 25 (AP)—James J. Johnston, the sage of Madison Square Garden, peered long and earnestly into his crystal ball today, but he came up with a blank. "There isn't a first class young heavyweight prospect in the country," he announced. "No sir, I wouldn't give a quarter for any of them."

A far sighted individual, Johnston is trying to spot and up-and-coming youngster who might step into the picture when the present crop of first fight heavies fades out. But he tells you he sees nothing encouraging, much less exciting.

"It may not be a prophet," he says, "but I am willing to predict that Max Baer and the four or five heavies now clamoring for a bout with him, are safe for a long, long time."

"Of the long list of hopefuls now pounding the cane brakes or fighting preliminaries, Johnson can name only two in whom he sees any promise at all."

One is young Eddie Hogan of Waterbury, Connecticut, and the other is Buddy Blevins, the husky younger brother of the heavyweight champ.

Defending Golf Champ Defeated

Miss Lucille Robinson, Iowa Star, Eliminated From Tourney

By PAUL ZIMMERMAN (Associated Press Sports Writer)

LUCILLE ROBINSON, the defending champion in the women's western golf tournament, lost its defending champion in the quarter-finals here today when Miss Lucille Robinson of Des Moines encountered disastrous putter trouble (loss, 6 and 4, to Mrs. W. E. Stephens of Los Angeles).

The Iowa girl defeat supplied the third upset in as many rounds of the tournament. It was the most sensational of them all. While the rest of the matches ran true-to-form—another favorite stood on the brink of disaster when Miss Dorothy Traugott of San Francisco, was forced to the twentieth hole before she won from Mrs. Gregg Lutz of Los Angeles in an uphill battle.

SINCLAIR SECOND IN STRAW VOTE

Literary Digest Poll Puts Merriam in Lead for Governor

Frank P. Merriam, the Republican candidate, leads Upton Sinclair, the Democratic candidate, by about 21 to 1 in the first returns of the Literary Digest "straw" poll for governing of California, according to the tabulations published in tomorrow's issue of the magazine.

Of the 57,206 votes received and counted in the current tally, Frank P. Merriam gets 42,141, or 62.70 per cent of the total poll vote to date.

Upton Sinclair is shown receiving 12,144 votes, or 21.22 per cent. Raymond L. Maight, Progressive-Commonwealth candidate, has 7,471 ballots marked for him, or 11.22 per cent for the total of the first returns.

Sam Darcy, the Communist candidate, gets 573 votes and Milton O. Dempster, the Socialist party standard bearer, receives 50 votes. Their combined vote is less than one-half per cent of the total tally.

Nearly 700,000 ballots were mailed to individuals in every class and occupation in every county of the state of California, the magazine announces. It is pointed out that this number represents about one-half of the total vote in the last election for governor in California, in 1930.
