SLAYING OF THREE GIRLS COMPLETELY MYSTIFIES POLICE

Nation-Wide Check-Up on Missing Children Under Way Following Discovery of Bodies on Mountain

(By The Associated Press) CARLSLE, Pa., Nov. 25.—(Sunday)—The bodies of three girls, apparently sisters, were found in a mountain thicket yesterday, and, on the theory that other bodies, possibly those of the parents, may be in the nearby woods, state police are being prepared to search the entire mountain.

As this new development was disclosed, authorities expected the first possible clue to the identity of the bodies.

Coronet A. P. Haegele said a distraught blond woman whom he identified as Mrs. W. Park Steele of Gray, Carlsle viewed the bodies in a morose and said she thought they looked like her niece's daughters of 12 years.

X-rays and examination of the bodies were made to determine the cause of death.

Monsieur Poisoning Suspected After hours of this investigation, the coroner said it looks more like carbon monoxide poisoning than anything else.

Two women, today stumbled upon the bodies of the three golden-haired girls huddled in death on Mount Carlsle.

A physician said his examination indicated one of the girls had been about 12 years old.

Jury Shatters Government's Swindle Charges

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—In two hours and two minutes deliberation today, 12 federal court jurors shattered the government's charges of a $100,000,000 mail fraud against Samuel Insull and his 16 business associates with a verdict of acquittal.

Between luncheon and the dinner hour, the voluminous case, against the ruler of a one time billion dollar utility system, was the hands of a jury and decided in his favor.

Jubilant at the near breath taking speed of the verdict, Insull exclaimed: "This is the start of my vindication."

The jury's decision, read in a hurried courtroom by Foreman John L. Lenz, came with a rapidly swirling tide of defense attorneys and prosecutors alike.

The case was developed from nearly five tons of business records but when the jury men retired to their room they went out only for three times.

How to Proceed United States District Attorney Dwight H. Green, who had worked for nearly two years to attain a full verdict, took the verdict without rancor.

The government presented its case fully, said the young prosecutor, "we gave everything that we had to it."

Los Angeles Mayor Appeals to President When Railway Workers Suddenly Vote to Join in Walkout

(By The Associated Press) LOS ANGELES, Nov. 24.—Violence broke out in the Los Angeles street car strike today, seven persons requiring hospital treatment for injuries after a series of attacks on cars of the Los Angeles Railway company.

Bricks and rocks were hurled and a shot was fired as a special motorcade of police was poured through the city after a quiet day which saw most of the company's cars in operation despite the walkout.

Six of the injured persons, one a woman, were passengers. The seventh was a company employee.

The aid of President Roosevelt in ending the "surprise" strike of Los Angeles Railway corporation employees was asked tonight by Mayor George S. Shinn, who said the city faces a serious disruption of its transportation service.

The mayor dispatched a telegram to the president, which read: "I respectfully appeal to you for every possible effort to bring about a settlement."

Deadly Snake In Washington Zoo Starves To Death

The Washington zoo lost its most deadly load of poison today, its Bushmaster starved to death.

Only two days ago, a second Bushmaster was found lifeless in the zoo's stock pen where the snake was the pride and joy of Dr. Raymond L. Dittmar.

A struggle to Central American natives the reptile, long lean and active, frequently has been known to attack man with fatal results.

Dr. William M. Mann, director of the Washington zoo, said he was unable to explain the death of his special treasure.

Mayors Call on Government For Jobs For Unemployed And Cheap Federal Loans

Government Eyes Possible Merger of Work Agencies

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—A luncheon talk by Mayor William W. Maestri today laid out the government's doorstep today by the United States Conference of Mayors.

The mayors agreed the country is reaching a new normal level but pointed to a long term program as the only way to solve the unemployment problem. They decided an adequate work relief fund must be provided by the federal government to meet the needs of the unemployed.

The best stimulus to recovery, they concluded, is to be found in a federal public works program provided on such a scale as to make an important contribution to the national program not only lessens the burden of relief but provides the method by which the cities and states can be enabled by the expenditure, create employment and benefits in the private industry.

Pointing to the shortage in housing and the desirability of slum removal, the mayors urged the federal government to take the lead in the housing program, by employing labor and stimulating business.

Call For Loans The mayors demanded that the federal government liquidate public works in their communities and that the federal government should take the lead in the housing program.

Such a program could be effective only if carried out on a large scale, throughout the country, the mayors said. The federal government must come from Uncle Sam's coffers because the municipalities are unable to do so.

Funds can be provided by the federal government on the credit of the United States Treasury, the mayors said. The federal government should construct under such an arrangement, the conference asserted, the interest rate must be nominal.

THEORY ADVANCED ON ISLAND TRAGEDY

Sailors Believe Journey For Baby Clothes Caused Two Deaths

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 24.—A bundle of baby clothes may have been the cause of the mysterious and romantic Galapagos Islands, former plane crash in the South Pacific ocean.

This was the theory of sailors at Los Angeles harbor today, after having been apprised of a report of the deductions of Captain Fred Osterman, former ship captain, on the double tragedy of the thirst and starvation at Marchena rock.

Captain Osterman identified the bodies found on the island, previously named as the Marchena, as those of Arthur and Alfred Ludolph Lorenz of Paris.

Journey Leads to Death He believes that it was the journey for baby clothes that caused the deaths of the two sailors.

He and Doctors W. M. Rothrock and W. H. Baird Stuart, who are conducting the investigation, said the two sailors had been choked. It was Dr. Stuart who said none of them had been attacked. He said the sailors had established a modern civilization on the island.

DIVERGENT NEWS SPLIT SILVER BLOC

Wheeler, Thomas, McCarran
Take Separate Talks After Conference

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Divergent views on the way to drive money into circulation showed the senate "monetary bloc" split in several directions today after conference with Father Charles E. Coughlin of Detroit.

Interviews with the three senators who conferred with Father Coughlin disclosed that each had his own idea for dealing with the situation, but that some were very enthusiastic about the plans offered by the others.

They were generally agreed on one thing: that the money is too valuable and should be regulated by the government.

All took leave with Senator King (Utah), head of the silver bloc at the last session, who recently expressed the view that the money should be placed in circulation after new legislation was needed.

Wheeler (Idaho) and McCarran (Nev.) were more conservative. Wheeler (Idaho) (D-Mont.) and Senator Wheeler (Idaho) (D-Mont.) were more conservative. Wheeler (Idaho) (D-Mont.) and Senator Wheeler (Idaho) (D-Mont.) were more conservative.

MISSIONARIES QUIT STATIONS IN CHINA

American Seek Safety As Red Bandits Move Slowly Westward

SHANGHAI, Nov. 24.—(AP)—A red tide of Communism, rolling slowly westward, with General Chiang Kai-shek's soldiers cutting slowly heavy pressure, today forced missionaries throughout South China to evacuate their stations.

The numbered thousands the National government called "bandits" were streaming into South China, South Kwangsi, Hunan and Szechwan provinces, and dozens of missionaries and other foreign missionaries in the path of their advance moved to safety elsewhere.

Estimate of the number of the bandits, many of whom the Nationalist leader hopes to win back to the Nationalist cause, reached 100,000.

The missionaries, fearing irregularities in the Nationalist cause, were evacuating to the west, as Chiang Kai-shek's four-year campaign broke in the cracking of the Communist frontiers in Kiangsi province.

One report said the troops on the border of the Nationalist government had killed 3,000 of the Communists. They were seeking to enter Kwantung, but were being left unburied on the battlefield.

Service was interrupted on several lines at the outset but as the day wore on, the situation improved. All out-of-town appearances operated were about normal on the main lines, with most of the cars packed to the limit.

The walkout came suddenly and unexpectedly in view of the indefinite postponement yesterday of the annual meeting of 100 employees of the Pacific Electric Railway, which links the downtown area with many suburban cities.

Only a few hours after the Pacific Electric employees dropped their protest picket lines to permit federal mediators to view the situation, 2,500 Los Angeles Railway employees took a standing strike vote during the early hours of today.

With the strike of both lines in prospect, it was feared there would be a complete tie-up of transportation in and between Los Angeles and suburban cities.

Government Answers Sugar Shift Protest

AAA Disclaims Responsibility For Amalgamated Company's Move To California
Disclaiming any responsibility for removal of Amalgamated Sugar company operations from Idaho to California, the government today announced a protest that was wired to President Roosevelt following a mass meeting in Twin Falls last October 18 at which Senator W. E. Borah was the principal speaker.

The government's reply, written by J. A. Dickey, head of the production adjustment unit, for John E. Dalton, chief of the AAA sugar section, asserts that the secretary of agriculture, "being convinced that the Amalgamated company will not enter into full purchase contracts in Idaho for the 1935-36 season, deemed it advisable to permit old and new growers in the Sacramento valley, where this company, to sign adjustment contracts covering about 10,000 acres of beets for 1935."

Quoted Production Records
Quoting sugar beet production records of the far west, the AAA district, the government's reply states the growers contend that the Amalgamated company's full share of the Amalgamated company's allotment, and since with the observation that the Amalgamated company is transferring its entire Idaho allotment to California, the company will continue to contract for approximately 10,000 acres in Idaho.

Addressed under date of November 24 to George T. Cobby of Blackfoot, president of the Idaho Beet Growers association who presided at the meeting, the government's letter was made public here yesterday by C. O. Thomas of Pocatello, director of the agricultural adjustment unit.

Reference is made to your telegram of October 18, 1934, to President Franklin D. Roosevelt, which has been referred to the sugar section of the agricultural adjustment administration for review.

It is noted that approximately 10,000 acres of sugar beets were planted at a public meeting in Twin Falls last week on record protesting the Amalgamated Sugar company's proposed transfer of operations from the Twin Falls area to California.

Finally, months ago the "Temple" of the Amalgamated Sugar company, which the Twin Falls plant would be operated and that a plant would be operated in California, was previously contracted there, the secretary deemed it advisable to permit old and new growers in the Sacramento valley, where this company, to sign adjustment contracts covering about 10,000 acres of beets for 1935.

MOFFETT ATTACKS JOKES HOUSE PLAN

Liberal-Conservative Clash
Breaks Out Program
Termed Ruous

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The liberal-conservative conflict within the administration broke sharply into the open as James A. Moffett, the federal housing administrator, publicly termed ruous a vast federal housing program advanced by Secretary Ickes.

Moffett, labeled as more of a conservative than Ickes, declared the public works administrator's plan would wreck the national housing act. At his press conference he operated a central agency to handle all federal housing activities. This was interpreted to mean, also, one spokesman for the plan.

Only a few minutes before Ickes in a formal statement called "misguided" a wide interpretation of his remarks yesterday. He said published reports that Ickes created a false impression that I am opposed to a reconstruction of private enterprise in the field of housing.

Moffett is trading an effort to spur private capital into this field. Plainly he was aroused.

There were strong indications tonight that the White House had taken a hand in the differences between the two.

"I reiterate that it is my personal and official desire," said the Ickes statement, "that private initiative expand to the limit of its ability efforts to make possible desirable housing construction."

"The recovery program," Ickes said, "is not in conflict with the public works program already under way."

Ickes in his statement. Friday, however, said that the government is not looking for any extra work and responsibilities but we can't around indefinitely waiting for private capital to come in.

He added that he believed the government could build better and more inexpensive homes than private capital can on one strategy or the other. He spoke of costs as low as $10,000.

It was to this last point that Moffett referred in his statement that the portion of the program would wreck the housing act.

Predilected losses were this time, he said, "private capital would immediately freeze up again and real estate values throughout the country would be knocked down overnight in 20 cents of the dollar of present values."

"There should be no government competition with private capital in constructing homes for sale," he declared emphatically.

"The housing administrator," he agreed with Ickes that there should be wage adjustments in the building trades in low cost housing areas and that maintenance of home ownership and similar low cost housing projects would be a major factor in the scope of government aid. But no construction of homes for rental or for sale.

Moffett pointed out that in communities where the average wage is 40 to 50 cents an hour, the people could not well afford to pay $1 to $1.50 an hour to the men who put the houses together.

U. S. Chamber Of Commerce Business Map

This map represents business conditions in every state of the Union as shown in December, 1934, issue of "Nation's Business," official publication of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS AS OF NOVEMBER 1

October saw strikes fewer and smaller, with thousands of employees returning work. The rush of retail buying evoked by crop returns and big relief payments ended off slightly. Drought still affected trade in southwestern cotton and wheat sections. Many cities reported warm weather relating heavy power rates.

Manufacturing, retail buying and wholesaling, made good comparisons with September and with October a year ago. Collections were the best.

Combined stock price averages were up, but not much. The smallest October business since 1921. Bond sales were larger, but prices dropped 1 1/2 points.

Cotton goods and steel production gained. Steel scrap advanced. Automobile making dropped off. Lumbermen fell.

Predictions are that pure regulation in cotton may lose this country a large part of its chief single export. Weakness in farm products was marked in October, the Dun & Bradstreet index dropping 2 percent from the four year peak.

The Map Improvement in labor matters and cooler weather help to brighten the Map's general appearance and offset lower prices of most farm products.

The Harvester "Time-Order-Business-Barometer" now reads: less than one per cent. Steel production more than offsetting declines in carloadings and pig iron. Electric power and clearings about balanced each other.

Jacques Wolf and "Old Friends So True" by Carrie B. CORN AND WHEAT RECORD ADVANCES

Persistent Gains Not Speculative Movement, Say Chicago Reports

(Associated Press Market Editor)

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—Corn shot up 2 cents a bushel today over previous peak prices for the season.

A car of white corn brought $1.01 1/2, and made dollar-a-bushel corn only a reminiscence. Trade here said the shortage was too great to be fully relieved either by substitution or importation, and that adjustments could only be attained through further advances before the end of the crop year.

I did not kill Osborne

By VICTOR BRIDGES

SYNOPSIS: Although Nicholas Trench has been acquitted of the charge that he murdered his former schoolmate, Osborne, he is beginning to find that the general public does not agree with the verdict. His cousin, Sir Seymour, tells him his club plans to expel him, and then finally Nicholas by suggestion that the latter leave England and offering to pay his expenses. Nicholas asks Seymour a pompous question.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Steel shares provided stalwart leadership to a continuation of an advance in stock market.

Growing confidence in the outlook for sustained business recovery was translated into active demand for industrial shares. As a group, they led at the highest level.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24 (AP)—The cotton market closed steady at 100.

Washington dispatches today said corn production in 16 countries this year totaled 2,328,000,000 bushels, or 21 percent more than the 1933 harvest.

Unprecedented sharp upturn of wheat prices today was reported to be at higher prices than of late.

As I trusted along in the gathering darkness I began to wonder how many, even amongst my more intimate friends, would be prepared to stick up boldly for my innocence.

The only one in whom I felt an entire and unflinching confidence was my friend, Mr. Osborne.

Heavy buying of scrap and other steel products led the speculative spotlight toward steel. United States Steel common and preferred, Bethlehem Steel, American Rolling Mill, National Steel, Youngstown Sheet and Tube and Vandalia common climbed 1 to 2 points in bulk deals.

V-8 Leadership Is Based on Engine Facts and Records

SOME things about an automobile are more or less a matter of opinion. But when it comes to the engine, you are dealing with the hard facts of power and its application. Either you have V-8 power or you don't have it.

You should know that experience and the records of performance are definitely in favor of the V-8 type engine. You need not depend on words—the record speaks for itself. It is something you can see as you "Watch The Fords Go By." Something you will realize even more fully when you drive the Ford V-8 yourself.

It isn't the difference between green or black or between velour and broadcloth upholstery, but a far-reaching difference in basic engine design. Only the V-8 can give you V-8 speed, power and performance. It costs more to produce, but Ford has made it possible to use this engine in a low-price car. Only the Ford gives you a V-8 engine unless you pay $2500 or more!
