

BRILLIANT PRINCESS HONORS PRINCESS

Incidents in Childhood of Marina, Told by Nurse,
Amuse London

LONDON, Nov. 26 (AP)—Princess Marina, who the British learned to love as a princess and even a sometimes naively little girl during her childhood in Athens, was given the first of a series of princess incidents in Buckingham palace since the war.

Three crowned heads were among the gathering of royalty at the function, the first of a series of princess incidents in Buckingham palace since the war.

A book called "The Authorized Story of Princess Marina" published today revealed to an excited audience public that Marina was born on the street car tracks in Athens and refused to buckle because her hair had been combed.

Another time she "threw her Greek grammar out the window" then went to bed.

These anecdotes were given by the former English nurse and governess, Kate Fox, now living in Surrey, were added to the public's knowledge of the princess.

Three Kings at Table

Ninety-eight guests were invited to the dinner tonight at the palace at which King George of England, King Christian of Denmark and the Duke of Windsor sat at the same table.

The palace's shimmering gold plate was used, although the dinner was not a state affair. The servants wore full length of picture-scarves and gold, with knee breeches.

BUSINESS RENEWS REQUEST TO F.O.R. TO CLARIFY AIMS

tion of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in asking President Roosevelt to answer a private questionnaire covering his policies for the future. The chief executive made no reply.

The president's recent assurance that the administration is not hostile to such fundamentalism of American economy at a private industry and the profit motive is heartening," he said.

Confidence in the administration is in part due to the fact that the future of American business is to get on its feet.

It must have a clear idea as to the direction in which our government is leading. Our welfare not only for the immediate future but for years to come will depend upon the clarity with which these principles are set forth by the administration in Washington. The government must project a course that is actually followed.

JEROME IRRIGATORS FLAY CANAL MOVE

Petitioners Ask That Board
Continue to Run Water
Throughout Winter

JEROME, Nov. 26.—A committee of the Water Users association, formed Saturday in Jerome when more than 700 persons listened to a meeting of farmers, today are circulating petitions, now bearing a total of more than 800 names, asking that the directors of North side Canal company, Jerome, reverse the decision made several weeks ago when they decided to shut winter water would be run in canals of the system this winter.

The committee, composed of W. C. Colman, Bill W. Colman, Clyde Bacon, and Bill Walker, all of Jerome, met this afternoon with W. A. Hays, president of the canal company, to ask that he call a meeting some time this week at which officers of the canal company, the committee representing the association would meet and attempt to settle the question. Hays, who interviewed today, said he hoped that the question be settled with satisfaction to both parties, and an agreement that conditions with the canal board not be suggested, if action and settlement were to be accomplished.

H. W. Hulsebosch, secretary of the canal company, also expressed his wishes for a settlement. Mr. E. E. Hulsebosch, president of the canal company, is at the present time in Spokane attending a meeting of the Federal Land Bank board, of which he is a member.

The lowering in value of the hay crop, now worth about $8 per ton, has caused the canal company to consider the possibility of a $50,000, which the farmers must pay for government storage rights in the Idaho Falls reservoir, and other expenses of the canal company, and merchants along the river to the north to the south, the canal company to run throughout the entire season next year. The farmers, however, contend that conditions seem to indicate that there will be sufficient water to carry through next summer.

Course I'm proud of my new dress," says this little Miss four-year-old. No wonder, either, for it certainly is a swaggy bit of business with sleeves peeked at, the shoulders and trimmings falling from the waist, spirited pleats falling from the front, a dainty pointed collar, and a little bow at the back. The dress is made of a dainty white fabric, and the little girl will find it easy to fasten three buttons all by herself. Cutting short dress may be made with the pattern, too. Twin Falls County's "First" Trio Given Lavish Attention

Elia Josephine, Marjorie Joyce and Doris Julia behaved like perfect little ladies at the Twin Falls county general hospital last night when Dr. J. N. Davis, Kimbrey, who attended their mother, Mrs. Alton Potts, their birth last Saturday afternoon, called to determine their state of health.

Their arrival has caused as much excitement in this county, at least, as the birth of the three triplets in Canada. They are believed to be the only triplets ever born in this county.

WORK CONTINUES ON CANAL NEAR RUPERT

RUPERT, Nov. 26.—Work on a continuous project, rip-rapping the main canal started early this week with sixty men and a number of trucks for hauling gravel. The men were furnished from the office of Administrator S. W. Beck of the project.

Although this rip-rapping project under drought relief carried an appropriation of $17,000 for the first year, only $4000 was received owing to a shortage of funds. Beck stated, but more money is expected soon.

Stacy Winston and W. R. Smith are the foremen for the drought relief administration and H. B. Reynolds is representing the Mindoka Irrigation district on the job.

I did not kill Osborne

By VICTOR BRIDGES

SYNOPSIS: Nicholas Trench has been acquitted of the murder of his former school friend, Osborne, but his indications that the police did not agree with the verdict. His cousin, Sir Nicholas, has suggested that Osborne leave the country, and Nicholas has reluctantly agreed to this. After a brief examination of the evidence, it is concluded that Osborne was not the murderer. The story is a mystery, with many twists and turns.

By FREDERICK GARNER (Associated Press Financial Writer): NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The stock market took another step forward today on its slow climb in the recovery route.

Trading was comparatively quiet and shifted toward the recently unpopular utility group as industrial concerns showed no profit-taking.

Setting the best example of recovery for the utilities, American Telephone Rallied about 110 points, with its recent low around 100 and consolidated more than a point up.

Consolidated Gas stretched its advance to nearly 100 points, buying new into the utilities in late trading.

The financial atmosphere, however, of its cheerfulness over the week end and most markets drew substance from rising business hopes. Second grade railroad bonds were conspicuous in a further advance in that market, and commodities in the whole pursued a fairly even course.

Grains retreated, wheat ending at 14 cents a bushel, corn at 10 cents, and oats at 10 cents. The dollar advanced to 18 cents, and the French franc to 18 cents. The dollar advanced to 18 cents, and the French franc to 18 cents.
