GERMAN ARMY AND POLICE HELD UNDER EMERGENCY ORDERS

Feud Between Reichswehr and Blackshirt Guards Believed Responsible for Unrest Grips Nazidom

(By The Associated Press) BERLIN, Nov. 27.—Despite official denials of "malicious lies" concerning unrest in the Reich, reliable sources disclosed today that the German army and police forces are being held under emergency orders.

A long smoldering feud between the reichswehr (regular army) and the schutz staffel (blackshirt) picked out guards was believed responsible for the disorders, which involved suspension of Christmas leave for soldiers and military police.

Drilling of Nazi storm troops has increased, reports said.

A reported rift between Chancellor Hitler and his minister of war, General Werner von Blomberg, was also considered significant in the light of emergency orders given the armed forces.

The report said Hitler, visiting von Blomberg in a sanatorium at Dresden, asked him to reinstate several officers of party Jewish parentage who had been dismissed.

von Blomberg was said to have replied that he approved this but he would oppose Hitler's order eliminating them from the reichswehr, adding that the army is not a plaything to suffer the whims of political leaders.

Denial Printed

Still another rumor was that the schutz staffel had been ordered to take the weeks of Christmas leave just before the plebiscite in the Saar basin January 31. Berlin newspapers today printed an official dispatch issued by the official news agency from "reliable quarters" in which "malicious lies" about German police and army were refuted.

It was learned that the reference was to certain articles printed in French, British and American papers—but the denial—which was not unexpected—did not specify which was meant.

There have also been rumors of

POLICE OF VIENNA REPULSE RIOTERS

Steel Helmeted Officers Patrol City; Nazi Putsch Feared

VIENNA, Nov. 27.—Vienna look on a martial aspect as authorities prepared to deal with any recurrence of the day's student riots which it was feared would develop into a Nazi putsch. Motor trucks filled with steel helmeted police and military forces rumbled through the streets, supplementing heavy details of police on patrol ready to suppress any further demonstration.

Fears of a Nazi putsch grew out of street demonstrations, which, starting as anti-German manifestations, quickly assumed anti-government and pro-Nazi proportions.

Throng of students, inflamed by anti-German riots at the university in Prague, capital of Czechoslovakia, attacked the Czechoslovak legation, shouting "Down with Czechoslovakia! Avenue our fellow students in Prague."

They were repulsed by police who battered them with words and clubs. Fortunately, the demonstrators' crowds of students had been disbanded with bricks and stones the Czechoslovak newspapers, Der Tag and Die Stunde.

Disturbances

Repulsed by authorities, the demonstrators began discharging stones at the situation, because that authorities "do not understand the situation where the government officers are located. It was there that the abortive Nazi putsch which culminated in the assassination of Chancellor Dollfus ended last July.

The disturbances and riots were reported by Czechoslovak newspapers, clearly that the Nazi movement in Austria was increasing in boldness and strength. Nazi handbills denouncing the government as a "government of humanism which murdered 13 of our Nazi comrades" have been widely distributed of late, especially in the provinces.

The "circulation" was three Nazi followers to rally again for the final battle against the government.

Obviously, today's rioting had its origin as a reprisal by Austrian students against anti-German riots at Czechoslovak students over the possession of the insignia of the ancient

Flandin Promises France NRA Depression Measures

Premier Takes Roosevelt as Example in Dealing With Doldrums

PARIS, Nov. 27.—Premier Pierre Flandin, speaking to the nation tonight, promised France something like the NRA to help her out of the industrial doldrums.

A program of "depression-bradism" for adoption of industrial production to consumption was outlined by the premier in an address before a banquet of commercial and industrial organizations. The speech was broadcast.

The regulation, the youthful premier said, "will be a law of order and obligation, only for the duration of the depression and under certain guarantees in favor of consumers, producers' agreements tending to regulate production.

A committee of experts will decide, moreover, what industries or the country more than they yield and those which must be protected."

Details of the new plan were not disclosed.

Appealing to the people to listen to the "defendants of 1934" and not to "explosions of civil war," Flandin announced demands for constitutional reform by electing the support obtained by President Roosevelt in the United States.

He said:

"President Roosevelt did not choose an assembly for reform of the constitution before he went to work, although the American constitution is not as old as ours, has other defects, in the United States as in England the entire nation moved behind the chief. By neither censorship nor repression, but by simple patriotic reflex, analyzing criticism was branded as cowardice and treason."

COMMITTEE NAMED IN EFFORT TO END STREET CAR STRIKE

Failure Marks Direct Negotiations Between Workers and Railway Company In Southern California City

(By The Associated Press) LOS ANGELES, Nov. 27.—Direct negotiations between striking street car men and the Los Angeles Railway company broke down today and a special mediation and conciliation committee was named by the federal regional labor board in an effort to settle the four-day old street car strike.

Another outbreak of violence occurred in the strike when 100 men surrounded a street car after ordering the passengers and crew to leave the car.

Few other reports of disturbances were received by police throughout the day in the strike, which in the first three days brought injuries to more than 40 persons in collisions from brickbats, stones and tear gas.

A "field kitchen" was set up by the strikers to feed the strikers who had no money to buy food.

Police Chief James E. Davis said he had asked for permission to call upon city firemen to turn back the strikers upon any menacing crowds that might gather.

Met With New Board

In a closely guarded session, representatives of the railway and the union, who previously had attended a meeting in Mayor Frank L. Shaw's office, met with the new board.

The question of reinstating striking employees, which caused direct negotiations to fail when the company announced strikers would not be taken back, was the principal problem to come before the new group.

Although both the union and the railway company previously had agreed on Mayor Shaw's program of appointing a fact finding committee to determine if the railway could afford the demand of 10 to 15 percent pay increase, final settlement of the strike collapsed on the reinstatement issue.

Samuel M. Haskins, president of the railway, following a meeting of the so-called company union and other employees who refused to join the strike, issued a statement which said in part:

"After careful consideration of the demands by the striking railway employees at the conference in Mayor Shaw's office, we have reached the decision that it was absolutely impossible to reinstate those men who left their post on the call of the strike."

He spoke in an article in the Christian Science Monitor, written before and after the strike, conversations started in London.

GOVERNOR'S AGENT TARGET IN PROBE AT STATE PRISON

Miller and Girard—Direct Attention to Auditor Who Named Prisoner Trusty as Service Station Robber

(By The Associated Press)

BOISE, Nov. 27.—A four-hour investigation brought reiterations today of police assertions that Guy Nelson, 32, life term, had robbed a Boise filling station, and that the station attendant was a prisoner trusty, but denied any imputations of negligence of duty by prison officials.

The hearing, held in the office of Warden J. J. Taylor at the penitentiary, was conducted principally by Attorney General Bill Miller and Secretary of State Girard, with Charles R. Ross, chief of the prison department, acting only as an observer.

Three witnesses were called and Miller and Girard indicated more would be called tomorrow. The witnesses were Tom Robinson, Boise chief of police; James J. Nelson, station attendant who was robbed; and Karl Evans, director of the bureau of public accounts.

Repeatedly questions were directed at Nelson to determine what interest he, as a special auditor of the government, had in seeking to establish the identity of Guy Nelson as the robber. He denied he had any interest in the question, and Miller and Girard asserted he was pursuing a proper course in aiding the investigation.

After the hearing, Taylor was selected for the post by Girard and Miller after they had voted last winter for the removal of a previous warden, George Rood of St. Anthony, who was supported by Governor Ross.

After being by Attorney General Miller without first mentioning them to the governor, Miller and Girard did so only to the extent of getting facts for the governor.

"Do you deem yourself a stool pigeon for the government in all matters," the attorney general demanded.

"No," replied Evans.

Ross stated issues.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP)—Forewording congressional debate to come, Idaho's Democratic senator, James P. Pope, today took direct issue with his Republican colleague, Senator William L. Borah, over the administration of federal relief.

Borah has demanded a congressional investigation of the relief fund, which he called the "shameful waste" of funds by the organization headed by Harry L. Hopkins.

Pope today indicated he would not oppose an inquiry should any major charges be substantiated, but he added that he was not closely related to anybody else.

Only Princess Marie Bonaparte can claim no blood kinship with one or both of England's royal families. But her family is no less distinguished for she is the great-granddaughter of Napoleon.

Only Grandduke Cyril, father of Princess Kyril, one of Marina's bridegrooms, claims descent from a noble family. There was some ground for this claim, but it was not a noble family.

Princess Maria's father and mother, Prince Nicholas of Greece and Grandduchess Helen of Russia, also will be there, of course, and among those other aristocratic personages every eye will be turned to the closely related to everybody else.

Britain's Elite Presented To Marina At Reception

LONDON, Nov. 22 (AP)—Princess Marina of Greece, the future Duchess of Kent, tonight met the elite of British society at a reception at the Royal Albert Hall.

The affair followed the princess' most strenuous day since the receipt of London. Final rehearsals for the state wedding ceremony, Thursday, were held. All concerned from the royal household to the spanking gowns which will draw the honey-moon carriage, participated.

British Ambassadors and Mrs. Robert W. Bingham, who will be the only Americans to attend the Abbey wedding, were among the more than 800 persons present at the reception, which followed another family dinner party at the palace.

King George and Queen Mary, who arrived at the reception to act as a shadowy jewelry store and furnish a small hotel—the latter with an ex-patant tuck in the lobby for an hour.

There were also enough pictures to start a small gallery. Almost 1,000 presents, with another room still to be unpacked, were viewed for the first time today by the royal family at a private show in St. James' palace.

Pupils Give Thanks For Holiday Season

"It is for tranquility and it is for holiday, according to Twin Falls high school students today. These first letters of 'Thanksgiving' represent the two things for which Twin Falls students will offer thanks tomorrow almost without exception.

The tranquility effect is afforded by special arrangement in the school—quieting which required that all report cards be returned before the holiday. The quiet after the storm not only suggests tranquility but offers a real cause for thanksgiving.

Four o'clock today will mark a turning point in the immediate history of the city's student population as the beginning of a four day vacation which will not doubt afford its share of thankfulness to the season.

Jury Of 60 Sports Experts Picks Team Of Mighty Gridders

Bobby Grayson Named for Quarterback Position by Three and Fullback by All Others in Annual Poll

By OSBORNE T. BUCK
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Rose-Bowl-bound Stanford, undefeated Pacific coast conference champion, placed four of its stars on the all-Pacific coast eleven in the tenth annual Associated Press consensus poll. The team was named yesterday by a jury of nearly 60 sports experts, including sports writers, coaches, game officials and other qualified experts from Seattle to San Diego.

There was a sharp division of opinion between those on some of the positions while others were picked with an unprecedented unanimity.

James "Monk" Moscrip, Stanford end and a 1933 all-coast selection, was one of two football players to repeat. He was placed at a wing position by a unanimous vote as was one of his teammates, the other Stanford was Bobby Grayson, fullback, who was named for the quarterback position by three and fullback by all others. Andy Lawrence, quarterback of the University of San Francisco was returned to the center job on the all-Pacific coast eleven by a large majority.

Two Donas honored in the annual Associated Press poll were the only two schools to place more than one man on the eleven. Stanford placed four players, including Bobby Grayson, who was named for the quarterback position by three and fullback by all others. Andy Lawrence, quarterback of the University of San Francisco was returned to the center job on the all-Pacific coast eleven by a large majority.

The American plan would not go as far as France and England do in combining all their major national championships in a single tournament, spread over a two-week period.

The proposal is still in a tentative stage. It is contemplated as yet to include the national team's mixed and veteran—double champion. Jones Optimistic For Court Season

Bruin Mentor Faces Basketball Battles With Six Lettermen Back

As Bruin basketball of Twin Falls high school struggles through their eighth pre-season workout in the gym, Coach J. Jones didn't see the team as being in any danger of losing the match for the night.

Jones has three lettermen, three sophomores, and a freshman, all of whom he expects to be in the line-up for the first game of the season.

On the other hand, Jones has five men back in uniform this year that have had considerable experience under his system. Although none have yet earned their basketball "T's," this group will also be strengthened when the first game comes.

Others working out nightly for places on the Twin Falls squad include: Bill Smith, George Jones, and Bill Lindsey.

Bill Lindsey, a senior, was a letterman last year and is expected to be a key player in the team's defense.

George Jones, a sophomore, is also expected to be a key player in the team's offense.

Bill Smith, a freshman, is also expected to be a key player in the team's defense.

Bobcats, Broncos 'Navy Bill' Resigns As California Coach

Second Tilt of Season Set for Holiday on Gooding College Gridiron

BERKELEY, Calif., Nov. 27 (AP)—William "Navy Bill" Ingram resigned tonight as head football coach on the University of California and Leonard "Stub" Allison, Ingram's first assistant, was named to succeed him.

Ingram's resignation was presented at a special meeting of the executive committee of the Associated Students and was accepted immediately. Allison was then named head coach.

The retiring mentor, who came to California in 1931, gave as his reason for resigning his desire to enter "private business life."

"It has been a difficult problem for me to make a final decision on," Ingram said, "but the time is near when such a decision is imperative and I have decided there is only one course which I can take with due regard to my responsibilities in life."

A statement issued by the executive committee said the resignation was "accepted with regret." It said the associated students "have no alternative but to accept Mr. Ingram's resignation."

Ingram had been under the "fire" of disgruntled alumni since mid-season, when the Bears staged a comeback to beat Southern California and Idaho and barely lost to Stanford. It had been thought he would be continued on the job.

The length of Allison's appointment was not announced.

Cold Rain Falls To Stop Cadets; Middles Confident

West Point Varsity Again Faces Sailors' Attack With Plenty of Pops; Feet Rump Through Long Drill

WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 27 (AP)—Despite a steady drizzle of cold rain the Army football squad went into action in full force today in preparation for the Navy game Saturday.

The players who were injured in the Notre Dame contest last week, Jack Buckler and Ed King, took part in the drill although King did not take part in the blocking drill today.

The varsity again faced the Navy attack in a dummy scrimmage and again found a large contingent of the Midshipmen's offensive and the Army "forces" could not be after they had compared the snappy display of the first place eleven which put on by the 30 squad yesterday.

In Good Condition The Cadets put plenty of pep into the drill and showed their desire to be in good physical condition. The work for the rest of the week will be divided between building up an effective defense against passes and breaking up the Navy's passing play.

'U. S. Wimbledon' Tourney Forecast

Head of Tennis Association Predicts Combination Championships

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (AP)—Combination of the men's and women's national tennis championships into an "American Wimbledon" next summer was forecast today by Walter H. Norris, president of the United States Lawn Tennis Association.

The association and executive committee has recommended such a plan, and he thought it likely the executive committee also would view the proposal favorably when it meets in New York December 10 to lay plans for the annual convention at the Waldorf-Astoria.

The final decision will be up to the national meeting but Norris believed there was a strong feeling in the U. S. L. T. A. that the experiment was worth a try.

The proposal, according to Norris, would involve combining the national men's and women's championships and doubling with the national men's singles all to be played at Forest Hills during the latter part of August and continuing for ten days. Formerly the women's championships have been held separately, in the middle of August, with the men's singles in September.

It is contemplated as yet to include the national team's mixed and veteran—double champion. This tournament, formerly known as the Rose Bowl, is to be held at the Los Angeles Coliseum, Philadelphia, last season. The American plan would not go as far as France and England do in combining all their major national championships in a single tournament, spread over a two-week period.
