HUGE PROGRAM OF RELIEF READY FOR ROOSEVELT'S OKEN

Harry L. Hopkins Estimates Projects Will Provide 1,500,000 New Jobs for Destitute in Two Weeks

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—At the foot of the White House and congress, the relief administration is prepared quickly to execute a huge work relief program.

Harry L. Hopkins, the relief administrator, figures he can provide 1,500,000 new jobs for the destitute unemployed in two weeks.

That would be almost enough to out-earn the 10 million who have one or more members below the poverty line.

Work relief projects already under 2,000,000 persons had the money to support nearly half of the 18,000,000 on relief roll.

Officials at the FERA reported today that state relief administrators are preparing a field for work relief. Thousands of projects, they said, already had been started in every county and are ready to go "at a moment's notice."

Major Difference

This planning in advance was deemed a major difference between Hopkins' present program and the high speed job-making drive of the CWA last year. Another difference is that work relief jobs are limited to those on relief rolls, excepting a few skilled workers and apprentices.

Hopkins favors more work relief as the way to provide the most jobs for the money expended. Work relief makes no provision for contractors' profits. Most public works are built by contractors.

Inasmuch as the relief problem was demonstrated anew today by preliminary reports on the number of families receiving relief during the week ending December 3, 4,082,000 families were dependent on relief payments amounting about $24 million, compared with $20 million compared with $20 million in October of a year ago.

Relief Population Grows

The figures indicate a slight decrease in the total population from September to October.

Work relief cost about $100 million in October. The expansion of work

Widow Of 'Baby Face' Now Federal Prisoner

Captured After Bandit's Death In Bloody Gun Battle, Girl Undergoes Grilling

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—Mrs. Helen Gillis, first wife of the federal prisoner tonight known as the notorious "Baby Face" Nelson, was seized here last Thursday, federal authorities announced. A little more than 24 hours after the shattered body of her husband had been found on a muddy plain near Niles Center last Wednesday—the posthumous victim of Agent Samuel P. Cowley and Herman E. Hollis, who sacrificed their lives in a desperate battle to capture the bandit.

Louise, a consort of the Dilfinger mobsters, the 24-year-old girl has been questioned relentlessly by federal agents. She was captured shortly after she and Nelson drove the terminus auto battle in which the agents first captured the bandit last Tuesday and capturing the whereabouts of the last of Dilfinger's mobsters, John Hamilton.

BORAH AND GOULDEN'S CLAIMS IN DISPUTE

Over G. O. P. Move Michigan Senator Challenges Idahoan to Lead Reorganization; Pinchot, Roosevelt Urge Liberalism

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—More Republican leaders today flung themselves into the controversy over party reorganization which has grown so heated that Senator Borah and Governor Pinchot have demanded a revamping of the GOP and Senator Goulden of Michigan, were flinging pointed and personal attacks at each other.

Both Chief Justice Brandeis and Chief Justice Hughes, who agreed with the Idaho senator that the party needed reorganization, are in Washington. In Michigan, the Michigan senator, who is an independent of the Borah, challenged the Idahoan to a debate on the merits of a party reorganization platform.

Senator Borah, who is a Republican, said he would not accept a first tax on tax exempt securities.

Consensus Moves Challenge

Consensus one of the richest men in the world, the member of his type of security, launched when he heard this and rejoined with equal vigor.

Senator Borah made this a personal in the senate and if he were to be elected, he would resign the fact that Borah believes it unconstitutional.

Revolving his offer in the presence of Senator McFarland of Oregon, to finance a Borah-for-president campaign in 1934, the Michigan senator said he would be obliged to Borah for retaining the offer because he had accepted it would have been a terrible catastrophe for the country.

Pinchot, a friend and outspoken supporter of the Republican party, said he had a word for reorganization of the party, and he said he would support it.

"I believe Senator Borah is right in his demand that the Republican party be reorganized," he said.

Pinchot, a friend and outspoken supporter of the Republican party, said he had a word for reorganization of the party, and he said he would support it.

Challenges Borah

Senator James Couzens of Michigan today challenged the Republican party and urged a platform of liberalism.

He said he would not accept a first tax on tax exempt securities.

Searchers Fail To Find Ulms' Plane In Pacific Ocean

Air And Surface Craft Circle Area In Effort To Rescue Three Honolulu-Bound Fliers

(Copyright 1934 by The Associated Press)

HONOLULU, Dec. 4.—Patrol planes roared in wide circles tonight about 23 mi. searching craft and scores of Japanese fishing sampans as darkness gathered over waters where Flight Lieutenant Charles T. P. Ulm's Honolulu-bound monoplane dropped when its fuel gave out.

Meanwhile, the finer Patrol Conditor reported arrival at the spot where the plane and its three passengers were believed to have touched the sea. No trace could be found of the missing fliers whose frantic messages "will land in the sea" urged rescuers on.

All rescuers all press at 5:15 p. m. "Ulms' plane, Eastern standard time" nothing of plane has been located and no message from the Pilot. President Conditor "Search still continues but have very little hope of finding the plane." This information came more than eight hours after the aviators finished searching for the plane.

Adding hope that the men, who were circled here on the 2nd leg of their flight to Australia, might be found came in offers of aid by Japanese fishing fleet. Nightly they were carrying out search, taking them several hundred miles out.

ROPER POINTS TO ENCOURAGING SIGNS

Secretary Finds Outlook Favorable; Permanent Program Desired

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Secretary of Commerce Roper today said he found the prospects for business improvement encouraging.

With regard to other matters pressing for attention, he believed steel prices felt the time has come to get out of the depression and back on a permanent governmental program.

The extent of federal spending should be determined by the need, with a sharp line drawn between public and private enterprise.

"I look for a gradual rise," he said in discussing hopes for business in the coming year, "but I feel that it would be better to business to improve gradually than to take a sudden start which might lead to a reversal of work."

Favors Permanent Course

The South Carolinian who has seen many years of congress and in Washington, said he believes that the country's future was charted and the emergency nature of governmental activity requires that the government should plan for itself and that it would go ahead with gathering momentum.

How much more federal spending would be necessary was described in terms of the number of permanently unemployed upon relief rolls. These persons the secretary said, are the real burden of their home states and communities.

He agreed, however, that the extent to which the committees were able to care for their own used and infirm citizens would be taken into account.

"I have heard in some states the estimate that a third of those on relief rolls were permanently unemployed," he said. "If the federal government were free of a third of the load—that would be a tremendous relief." He said that the government would be necessary for work relief.

U. S. GIVE TOWNSHIPS BONDING PROPOSED

Plan Calls for Use of Billion Dollars of Government Funds

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—A direct government gift of one-fifth the cost of building homes for individuals was proposed today in high administration quarters as a method of opening a billion dollar tap of private spending.

The plan called for the use of a billion dollars of federal funds in the form of a loan guarantee insured by the housing administration, would stimulate both the demand for and the supply of housing.

The program was put forward in the effort to find a middle path between public and private building operations.

There was no immediate official statement on the proposed plan by the housing administration, but the officials of the housing administration were endeavoring to devise means of getting more persons to work and to build.

Not Enough Incentive

Some have felt that the present program of interest-free loans for housing was not enough incentive to building. Borrowers have been found, they said, but they have been that the cost of labor and materials for building made it cheaper to rent than to build.

The plan said the one-fifth of the cost given by the government might cause many renters to decide it was worth while to buy.

An example of the way the proposed plan would work follows:

A man would borrow $500 to build a 5,000 home. The housing administration would guarantee the loan by insuring the borrower against fire and theft. The government would guarantee the loan by insuring the borrower against fire and theft.

DECISION UPHELDS MILITARY TRAINING

Supreme Court Holds Every Citizen Must Defend His Government

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The rule that every citizen must defend his government against all enemies was laid down yesterday by the supreme court in deciding that land grant colleges may compel their students to take military training.

The action of the high tribunal was unanimous in setting the old and troublesome controversy of military training in the land grant colleges. These schools are so called because the government gave them land formerly belonging to the public.

The decision sustaining the action of the University of California in suspending last year Albert W. Hamilton and W. Alvin Reynolds, national exemption from drill on religious and conscientious grounds.

Justice Brandeis said the opinion delivered by Justice Brandeis, "each in its own sphere, has a duty to the people within its jurisdiction to preserve their adequate strength to maintain peace and order and to secure the just enforcement of law. And every citizen owes the reciprocal duty, according to his capacity, to support and defend government against all enemies."

"Plainly there is no ground for the contention that the executive order requiring also bodily work of students under the age of 21, as a condition of their enrollment, to take prescribed military training in military science and tactics, transgresses any constitutional right asserted by these appellants."

But the court made it plain also that the land grant colleges are not compelled by federal law to offer a compulsory military training course.

Hamilton and Reynolds argued that they should be exempted from training on the grounds that war was immoral, violated the tenets of the Methodist Episcopal church and violated also the Ecological Bureau pact to outlaw war.

"The contention that the regent-offer is repugnant to the brand-land grant college for white students and Negroes. The total resident student enrollment of the White Mountain College in 1933, the number of students enrolled in military drill was 42,291.

BIG RETURN SEEN IN DROUTH RELIEF

Crop. Saving Projects Pay 10 for 1, Idaho Director Declares

BOISE, Dec. 4.—R. J. Wood, director of drouth relief in Idaho, estimated today that every $1 of the more than a half million spent on crop-saving projects in Idaho during the summer had brought $10 in production.

He listed several projects whose expenditures of $300 to $25,000 had returned what he estimated as ten-fold or more in increased crop production because of improved water resources, and added:

"Every dollar of benefit claimed is substantiated by unbiased statements from those benefited or from outside agencies."

The work has benefited 19,011 families directly in the 24 southern counties in which drouth relief was carried on, he said, adding that 1,545 were saved by supplying water from springs or other sources which made it unnecessary for them to abandon their homes.

Cattle Benefit. Similarly, he said, 1,187,000 head of livestock had been benefited by the spring-cleaning and water improvement of three to five million acres of range and pasture.

In doing the work, which included spraying improvements, opening of water holes and drilling wells, $281,000 was paid in labor and $255,940 for materials.

He also reported on the poisoning of rabbits with an appropriation of $30,000, matched by the counties, he said, 2,500,000 rabbits were destroyed. "At a conservative estimate the fed these rabbits would have eaten $2,500,000 worth of crops."

During the winter about 60 small reservoirs will be undertaken, he said. These will store 500 to 10,000 acre-feet of water and cost an estimated $2,000,000. He said money was already available for them.

EGG GRADING RULES CONFERENCE TOPIC

PORTLAND, Dec. 4.—As the first move to bring about uniform egg grading rules for Oregon, Washington and Idaho, a meeting of the Oregon Egg Grading committee has been called for next Friday by A. E. Tully of the Oregon department of agriculture. Idaho interests will meet December 18.

Uniform egg grading and regulations for the industry in the three states has long been discussed. H. E. White, superintendent of the foods and drug department of the Washington state department, will speak at the Portland meeting.

WOMAN DENOUNCES TRAFFIC IN LIQUOR

Mrs. Ella A. Boole, Veteran Dry Crusader, Assails New 'Enemy No. 1'

BLACKFOOT, N. Y., Dec. 4.—Denouncing the liquor traffic as "public enemy No. 1," Mrs. Ella A. Boole, veteran dry crusader, called tonight for its complete destruction and declared that not a single drop of liquor should be tolerated by repeal advocates.

Looking back over 12 months of repeal, she Boole said it had not only failed to change the nature of the traffic, but had failed to live up to its financial and social promises.

"Prohibition," she predicted, will return how and when I do not know. We will believe it to be the best way of dealing with the liquor traffic."

The anti-liquor, motherly looking face of the world's W. C. T. U. who has been identified with temperance organizations since 1875.

She said in the interest that temperance has increased and that temperance is not tolerated in the prohibition days have sprung up under repeal.

Women are encouraged to drink liquor is sold on Sundays, and the age limit of liquor buyers has been reduced, she said. "Not a single promise of social or financial benefits has been kept."

Turner Daniels, Judge Hugh A. Baker and Rupert has accepted an invitation to attend and address the meeting. A program of music is to be arranged by Charles Glunty of Twin Falls.

Members of the area council and troop chairmen and their wives are expected to attend.

Salvation Army Wants Old Toys

The annual custom of seeking unwanted or discarded toys to make gifts for needy children at Christmas time is under way again this year by the Salvation Army, according to a report by Adjutant B. P. Jones, commandant of the Twin Falls post.

For over a quarter of a century the Salvation Army has provided an annual poor children's tree.

Each tree is made up of more than 200 toys and more children happy with a toy or doll or book than can be counted.

Preparations for renewing the toys with a little paint or carpentry work are already under way, and dolls which may be in need of a new outfit of clothing will also be looked after.

Books, records or discarded toys, furniture or dishes will be welcomed and given away this Christmas eve to the children's party. It was pointed out by those in charge, with Santa Claus present to see that every child gets a gift.

BLANKS HERE TO LIST SURPLUS HY OFFERINGS

A state committee appointed to act as a clearing house in bringing together surplus property in Idaho and hy growers in southwest Idaho has supplied blanks to Harvey S. Hale, Twin Falls county agent, for listing the county's hy offerings.

Information to be given relates to surplus property for listing on the ground as well as for shipment of hy.

Blank forms will be ready by D. L. Court, former state dairy specialist, and a service unit as a seasonal state director of drought relief.

Grange Quits Pro Game To Start Coaching Career

U. S. Football Death List Below Totals For Past Three Years

Gridiron's Famous 'Galloping Ghost', Battered And Worn, Decides To Retire

Noted Red Head Gets Offer From Florida University

By CHARLES DUNKLEY (Associated Press Sports Writer) CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—Harold "Red" Grange, famous as a "galloping ghost" of the gridiron, is going to hang up his maul.

After 12 years of the sport, Grange, battered and worn, is through as a player. This will be his last year. Next autumn will find him serving some-where as a football coach. Grange has received several offers and is carefully considering them. He would like to coach in the West conference, but the red head prefers his former professional players from coaching at "Big Ten" schools prevents the fulfillment of his ambition.

Greatest of All Time—Grange—most widely advertised player in the history of football, was regarded as the greatest running halfback of all time in his three years at the University of Illinois.

After finishing his college career, Grange joined the Chicago Bears, professional football's first champions, in 1925 and drew through all over the country in a sensational exhibition tour. He was signed by the New York Yankees in an ill-considered outlay professional league sponsored by Charles Foy, who first spotted Grange as a professional.

The next year he was unable to play due to an injured knee. In 1928 he joined the Bears and in 1929 he played with them again.

As his wonderful starting speed gradually disappeared, Grange lost his place as half carrier in the professional game, but he developed into one of the finest pass catchers in the history of the game. He was recruited into the National professional league. But the circuit has been a little too big for the galloping red head and he has been very little action this year.

Against Detroit last Sunday, Grange was the star of the game and part of the fourth. When he brought off the field the spectators, possibly never before, were so excited by one of the greatest players of the game as he has ever known, gave him a tremendous ovation.

Pat Neenan, 200 of Boise, Idaho, scored the third fall in 30 minutes.

Injuries Handicap U. S. C. Grid Team

First String Right End Out of Game, Bringing Total to Four

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Dec. 4.—Any hope Southern California might have of defeating the Notre Dame football team here Saturday dwindled tonight when Ward Bromberg, first string right end, suffered a broken leg in Troy's final scrimmage of the season.

The injury to Bromberg increased to four the list of Trojan players who will not be able to play against the Ramblers' half and line who are en route west for the annual inter-collegiate classic.

Breaking co-captain of the Southern California basketball team was injured in a game Monday night when he was struck back with the ball. He was met by Bromberg and others with the 200-pound wingman on the foot from his right ankle doubled under him. Only a month ago Gately, Thurston, another end, suffered a broken leg. Two guards are definitely out of the struggle as well. These are George Brown and Art Dillingham who are crippled with sprained ankles.

Though Red Grange has been threatening to quit professional football for several years, he took Beatlie Feathers, former Tennessee flash, to convince him that he should stay on the sidelines. Averaging over nine yards per try in the toughest football line in the country, Feathers is the most successful first year man in the history of professional football.

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—This is the annual "Red Grange Is Finished" piece.

But this one is slightly different from any other the boy who wears the number 18 on his jersey has been in the professional game. He was recruited into the National professional league. But the circuit has been a little too big for the galloping red head and he has been very little action this year.

Against Detroit last Sunday, Grange was the star of the game and part of the fourth. When he brought off the field the spectators, possibly never before, were so excited by one of the greatest players of the game as he has ever known, gave him a tremendous ovation.

No Diploma!

Like Grange, he didn't stick around long enough after his high school graduation to start working around for some years to earn a few dollars. To him a diploma is sought for by the fact that the quit playing baseball with the Cincinnati Reds and joined the ranks of the Chicago Bears.

Beatlie Feathers joined to fight football at the University of Tennessee. Even then he was a pretty fair country teacher in his native Tennessee. He was one of the all-star teams in 1913.

Thornhill Maps Plans for Game

Football Players of Stanford University Return to Books

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Calif., Dec. 4.—With Stanford's football players back in their books to study for their final examinations, Coach "Doc" Thornhill maps plans for the Indiana-Notre Dame game in Pasadena New Year's day when the Golden Bears meet the Fighting Irish.

Final examinations will disrupt practice here during the next three weeks, but Thornhill and his assistants—Bert Myers and Jim Lawson—will bring them out for an organized workout tomorrow and Friday. That will be the most likely opportunity whenever they can practice. Thornhill's practice is scheduled to be light and brief.

Prospects of the largest organized football section in Stanford University history today, and the closing time for the student ticket sale tomorrow is expected to be right on the money. Tickets are likely to sell fast.

Alfred H. Masters, manager of the Stanford board of athletic control, will tonight for Pasadena to complete his organization of the contest.

WIDOW OF 'BABY FACE' NOW FEDERAL PRISONER

He said "we are considering the breaking up of the government automobile property, the possibility that she might be able to get some money out of it."

It was believed the charges, if proven, would be based on the fact that Mrs. Gillie had been in the automobile in the Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, shooting region. Mrs. Gillie and her accomplice carried "Baby Face" to the highway and shot him in the head.

Hollis succeeded in his wounds shortly afterward. Cowley died the next morning with Nelson name in his hand. He was believed to be Mrs. Gillie and her accomplice carried "Baby Face" to the highway and shot him in the head.

Injuries Cause First Death on Prison Gridiron

High School Toll Mounts While College Fatalities Fall to New Low Mark; Hartford Inmate Killed

By FOSTER HAYLEY (Associated Press Sports Writer) NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—An auto thief doing a four-to-six-year sentence in Connecticut prison, a nine-year-old boy and 16 high school students were among the 26 players who lost their lives playing football this season, a compilation by The Associated Press today shows.

The death of John David, 24, as a result of injuries received in a game inside the walls of Hartford prison was the first among prisoners since the death of E. Lewis of Sing Sing, first made football a part of prison routine by Bill Wallace, Navy "Duke" Williams, McGilligan, G. of Darlington, Wisconsin, was the youngest player to die, receiving an infection in a routine game.

Look at the Little All-America for 1934. It is a list of 25 players from 25 different countries with the aid of Associated Press observers in every section. It is an amazing list. It would ask no quarter of the Associated Press' big All-American, of Spokane's Glenn and Larry Alabama Lee and Hulton, Stanford's Bob Grayson and Reynolds, Iowa's Bill Wallace, Navy "Duke" Williams, McGilligan, G. of Darlington, Wisconsin, was the youngest player to die, receiving an infection in a routine game.

McKechnie Signs To Pilot Braves

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 4.—"Dabbling" hot stove" manager, that Dab (Hull) would get his job, William D. McKechnie today disclosed that he has signed to manage the Boston Braves again next year.

Returning from a deer hunting expedition in Woodcock county today, McKechnie, a native of southern West Virginia, said his contract for the 1935 baseball season has already been signed.

Galdwell Coach Replies to Keene

BOISE, Dec. 4.—Loren Bader, coach of the Idaho football team, declared today that he was scheduling a game next year with the University of Idaho, Oregon, tied this season with his team for the northwest conference honor, but was unwilling to schedule an immediate post-season game.

He drafted a statement made yesterday by Coach Roy Keene of Willamette that the college had refused to schedule a regular season game with the University of Idaho.

"In fact absolutely the opposite was true," Bader said. "We aimed to get down on our knees begging Willamette to schedule a game with us."

Harvard Okehs Resignation of Football Coach

Committee on Regulation of Athletic Sports Approves Retirement of Casey as Head Mentor of Crimson

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 4.—The resignation of Eddie Casey as head coach of the Harvard varsity football team has been accepted by the university's committee on the regulation of athletic sports, William J. Bingham, athletic director, announced tonight. Casey has been head coach for the past four years.

Casey's resignation, which has been expected daily since Harvard ended one of its most unsuccessful seasons with a Yale defeat 10 days ago, was acted upon during the regular monthly meeting of the committee last night. It has been one of the committee's strict rules to delay announcement of its actions for 24 hours.

Bingham said it would proceed at once to select his successor.

Basler Denies Statement Made by Mentor at Willamette

BOISE, Dec. 4.—Loren Bader, coach of the Idaho football team, declared today that he was scheduling a game next year with the University of Idaho, Oregon, tied this season with his team for the northwest conference honor, but was unwilling to schedule an immediate post-season game.

Temple Prepares For 'Sugar Bowl'

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 4.—Temple University graduates await "Pop" Warner's recall to the practice field in preparation for the New Year's game with Penn State at Tulane University at New Orleans.

The game means work for Warner, who has been in excellent condition in "an open camp" he may visit next week to Temple this year, returned West to Philadelphia and St. Louis, Mo., where he will be in charge of the team.

Temple this year routed Wake Forest, Texas A. and M., West Virginia, Maryland, Holy Cross, Cornell and Indiana University and Colgate.

Champ's Brother Scores Knockout

WATERLOO, Iowa, Dec. 4.—Buddy Bass, 204, scored a knockout over Johnny Baker, 210, Minneapolis, in a 12-round bout here tonight. Bass flattened Baker four times in the first round.

Bass was a member of the national boxing team.

Bass was followed at a wrestling match following the boxing program.
