ROSS DISAPPROVES SPECIAL SESSION

Liquor Legislation to Come In Regular Course, Governor Holds

BOISE, Dec. 8 (AP)—Business apertly awaits the coming session of the legislature, with liquor legislation foremost. As usual, the liquor legislation will be advanced in the session probably will be determined only when the house and senate leaders gather a few days beforehand for conferences with Governor Ross. There are urgent appeals to have legislation and control laws enacted promptly early in the session to clear the way for other legislation.

The governor could call a special session for January 1 and set liquor out of the way, said the speaker of the house, E. Whitten, Republican, from Boise county. It is his idea that a special session limited to liquor legislation could complete this task before convening of the regular session.

But Governor Ross has indicated no intention of calling a special session. He has stated he will be influenced greatly by recommendations of the liquor problem advisory commission and will appoint a study committee to draft a proposed code. In addition to the liquor matter, he himself has raised several subjects for legislative consideration, including others are permits.

He promised to urge a safety increase for state employees and has already announced a revision of the mortgage moratorium act. His proposal for the next session for an amendment to the constitution to permit six man juries to try misdemeanors and misdemeanors adopted by the voters at the last election and he is doubtful will authorize suggested legislation in this line.

He recognized in an interview weeks ago the likely need of additional funds to match federal relief money during the coming winter, but he never indicated whether that could be accomplished through a sales tax, such as Utah has, to raise the money. He has repeatedly expressed opposition to such a tax as a burden upon people of low earnings.

The prison trusty situation may have solved itself with a proposal of the state prison board to Governor Ross, which the governor has approved. Taylor has appealed in his annual report to the legislature for an industry within the walls to keep his charges busy.

State Tax to Face Demands from the state automobile association for lower automobile license fees and suggestions from other sources for reduction of the gasoline tax have been put forward. The Idaho Education Association is its recent recommendation asked $2,500,000 annually for district schools where only about $500,000 has been provided heretofore from the endowment funds, the beer tax and the chinleu state tax.

Legislative members of the state assembly for the insane have planned for new buildings to house and care for increasing numbers of patients. Williams, commissioner of public welfare under the department of corrections, has the office of the state assembly to probe juries to ward no more juries to be held in the feeble inmates at Nampa because of an outbreak of smallpox. He complained that segregation of inmates was impossible.

The "one-third problem" of all sessions is taxation. Governor Ross, with a claimed saving of $2,000,000 during the past two years, has repeatedly advised special taxes such as the liquor tax to replace the property tax.

The governor submitted a budget for 1935 which was approved by the general property tax although there were Republicans quickly playing the "one-third" in large part only a transfer from property taxes to other forms of taxation.

Governor Ross indicated enough of a surplus from the last biennial appropriation to meet at least part of the salary increase he proposed. He has "spoken of" "economies" for the coming two years but has indicated not at all whether this might encompass a sales tax for other tax purposes, and bonds or extra fees for new buildings.

Outlaw's Widow, Parole Violator, Goes to Prison

MADISON, Wis., Dec. 8 (AP)—Mrs. Edna Gillis, widow of the "public enemy" bandit that brought her husband's death, was ordered forthwith to prison.

The 25-year-old widow of George "Baby Face" Nelson, who had a week ago of government officials, was sentenced to federal prison for a year and a day, and 18 months as a violator of probation.

Consistent for her failure to keep her promise to accompany her husband's gangster, Mrs. Gillis stood quietly before Federal Judge Patrick Sweeney.

"Today the department of justice has convinced you and others that there is only one course that leads to a life-prison or death. It would be to teach a lesson to you and those who are inclined to be evasive," Mrs. Gillis sobbed an 18-minute monologue when she received a copy of a verdict.

She requested a prohibition of her first one, then rejoined her husband, whose infamous career ended in a death at the hands of Federal Agents Samuel P. Cowley and Herman H. Hollis as they themselves were slain in the machine gun battle at Harrison, Illinois.

Asked by Judge Sweeney in a Chicago conference why she had left her two children with relatives in Chicago to follow her husband when he was sentenced to life imprisonment, Mrs. Gillis was reported to have replied: "Well, I knew Les didn't have long to live just as long as I could, with his real name as Lester Gillis."

After her surrender to federal agents in Chicago Thanksgiving day, Mrs. Gillis was secretly brought to Madison.

She was declared, amounting to $6100 and 25 percent. It is payable December 15.

A dividend of $7460 payable December 11 was declared to depositors of the terminated State bank which closed in February of 1933. It is the first dividend and represented 40 percent of deposits.

California Couple Returns $218 To U. S. Government

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 8 (AP)—It seems the mood that made financial boys has been broken after all.

For when Mr. and Mrs. James Cook appeared at the emergency federal headquarters here today, they announced they had inherited $200,000 and wanted to pay the government back what it had spent on their relief since April 1. It was $218.13. Cook wrote the check a little shakily, and walked out—square with the world.

DEFAULTED BONDS PEXING TO STATE

Idaho Treasurer Foresees 'Unpleasantness' Due to Lack of Inquiry

BOISE, Dec. 8 (AP)—Failure to investigate defaulted issues of $240,000 in bonds of the Central Idaho Irrigation district in default since 1929 promises to bring "increased unpleasantness" for state officials, Idaho's state treasurer, reported in her annual report.

"In 1921 the Idaho legislature passed an act creating the reclamation district bond commission, which act was reported in 1929," she said. "In particular there were issued in 1925 under the approval of the commission, as provided by the act, $100,000 in bonds by the Central Idaho Irrigation district of Jefferson county, and under the approval of this act the certificate of the state treasurer was attached to each bond."

"The act defaulted in 1929 in the payment of its interest and has continued in default as to that and subsequent years. The state treasurer's office under this and previous administrations has been slow in getting after the delinquency of the bonds from every angle."

"If bonds will begin to fall due in 1935, and so on until investigation of the matter has ever been made, increased unpleasantness is in store for state officials, and especially for the treasurer's office."

She did not definitely recommend an investigation.

Drouth Relief Funds For Land Purchases

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8 (AP)—President Roosevelt's emergency allocated $500,000 of the emergency drouth funds to the relief administration for the purchase of sub-marginal lands in the stricken agricultural areas and transferred an additional $100,000 from the fund for the establishment and continuation of civilian conservation corps camps in drouth areas.

At CCC headquarters it was explained that the $100,000 had previously been earmarked for the camps established in the drouth relief. Both amounts come out of the $25,000,000 appropriated for drouth relief.

Companies Awarded Huge Cement Order

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 8 (AP)—A contract to furnish 5,000,000 barrels of cement — said to be the largest single cement order ever placed in the West Coast — was awarded today to four southern California companies for construction of the Colorado river aqueduct project by the board of directors of the Metropolitan Water district.

The cement will cost $12,000,000 and the contract involved a quantity of cement sufficient to complete a concrete wall to be carried out in connection with the aqueduct project.

At the same time, the board of directors awarded a contract to the Griffith company of Los Angeles for the construction of approximately 13 miles of aqueduct conduit, siphon and outlet channels.

The reconstruction finance corporation contract is for the construction of the Colorado river aqueduct project, which is a part of the Colorado river aqueduct project.

Government Spends $2 For Every One Dollar of Receipts

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8 (AP)—The government is pouring out cash at a rate which threatens to surge far past last year's outlay of $7,105,050,000 and deficit of $3,289,450,000.

Without counting what new emergency demands President Roosevelt's January budget may include, another heavy mid-winter relief drain may show the year's aggregate cost more than $8,000,000,000.

In five months and five days of the 1935 fiscal year, the government has spent $3,033,250,000, or better than a billion ahead of last year's corresponding figure of $2,292,800,000. The deficit piled up since July 1 is $1,515,931,000 or nearly $100,000,000 above a year ago.

In other words, the spending has been $2 for every dollar of receipts.

Coeur d'Alene Loan Defended By Ickes

BOISE, Dec. 8 (AP)—Harold L. Ickes, secretary of the interior, filed a motion in United States district court here today to dismiss the complaint brought by the Washington Water Power company to enjoin the power plant in Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, with FWA funds.

In his motion it was contended that the complaint brought by the power company stated "no matter of equity which would entitle the plaintiff to relief."

The city of Coeur d'Alene, co-defendant with Ickes, has sought to borrow FWA funds to build the plant, repayable from earnings. The suit for a restraining order, brought by the power company, was heard two weeks ago but the complaint recently was amended to include the secretary of the interior when the power company asserted that the secretary had presided over the loan upon a provision that rates to consumers of the proposed plant be 25 percent lower than present rates charged.

The power company contended that was an unconstitutional attempt by the secretary to regulate rates on intrastate business.

Frank Layden Scores Twice For Victorious Irish Team

Notre Dame Coach's Brother Runs Wild Against Californians

14-0 Triumph Gives South Bend Football Squad Edge In Nine Contests Played, Five To Four

MEMORIAL COLISEUM, LOS ANGELES, Dec. 8.—The Layden brothers provided the vital spark as Notre Dame defeated Southern California 14 to 0 today before 50,000 spectators.

While brother Elmer sat on the bench as coach, the younger Frank ran rampant in the first half to score both the Irish counters against the fighting Trojans and play a great defensive game as well.

In manner reminiscent of that day ten years ago when Elmer dashed about the Rose Bowl in intercepting Stanford's pass, Frank was all over the huge Coliseum today, but the most important location he picked out was a spot 20 yards from the Trojans' goal in the first period when the score was nothing to nothing.

It was there when a long pass from Bill Shakespeare came down and after he caught it there was a 20-yard dash to the goal line.

It was there when a long pass from Bill Shakespeare came down and after he caught it there was a 20-yard dash to the goal line.

This was enough to win the ball game, but in the second period Frank plunged over from the two yard line and made a sensational catch of a pass on the rebound. This time Andy Elmer was the receiver.

The home team never was able to keep up with the visitors' passing attack. Twelve times the Irish tossed the ball and four were completed, a total of 12 yards, in 11 overhead efforts the Trojans were able to gain with only three for a puny total of 24 yards.

The Irish with a late spur also took the lead in rushing 124 yards to 10, but the edge in a slight edge on first downs, eight to seven.

Irish Lead in Series
Notre Dame entered the game a 10-to-0 favorite to beat the Southern Californians after the home team had won the last three games and they felt no doubt the odds were justified. The victory also gave Notre Dame the edge in the nine game played, five to four.

From the first the green clad host went out to get touchdowns instead of first downs for it scored its first touchdown on a yard inside its own territory, before it had made a first down.

Southern California had one great chance to score but the sturdy forward from the Trojan line, who had been stopped the drive just as he inched from the goal line on fourth down and Notre Dame's center, who had kicked out. The Trojans were down on the Notre Dame 20-yard line, as a result he recovered fumble, when this pass started.

Trojan March Halting
Earlier in the game, almost at the start, another recovered fumble gave the home team the ball in the visitors' territory and a short drive of a few plays took the Trojans to the Notre Dame 13 where it was stopped and a try for field goal was made.

Notre Dame rode to its first touchdown on the wings of the sensational forward of Findlay, Ohio, who has not completed in a college tournament in two years, caught a cold wind today to post a 72 one over par, and lead the field at the end of the first 18 holes of play in the $12,500 Miami Billmore Open.

The latter division is composed of players who finished among the low 60's and ties in the recent National Open. A purse of $7500 has been posted.

Snaps Pilney's Pass
A pass also figured largely in the second round. Miller making a great catch of Pilney's long on Southern California's two-yard line. Warburton fired at the ball and knocked it into the air but Miller caught it on the rebound.

Layden plunged through the center of the line for the touchdown on the next play and again Frumhart kicked the extra point from placement.

Southern California came out after the intermission with an improved defense and kept the Irish around midfield most of the time.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Dec. 8 (AP)—Chris Christian, Texas' star, scored a touchdown in the second and a field goal in the fourth period today to win an intercollegiate game from Santa Clara University of California, 9 to 7.

The Christians defeated within its own league this year, Texas Christian added to Southwest conference prestige by beating the team that played a 7 to 7 tie with Stanford, a Rose Bowl selection.

How Sam Breadon Made a Million in Baseball

Editor's Note: This is the fourth and last article of a series on how Sam Breadon kind and benevolent of a million in the St. Louis Cardinals' organization.

By W. N. FAXTON
ST. LOUIS, Dec. 1.—Though no man rejoiced over the success of Frankie Frisch and his men in the last world series more than Sam Breadon, the Cards' president, craves credit.

The fan who invested $3000 to "help the team along" when the St. Louis Cardinals was an unpretentious organization, and whose interest grew to embrace direction of a franchise-time world champion club and a minor league farm, remains a fan at heart.

"I've had 15 years of baseball and have won five National league pennants and three world championships," he says.

"I'm ready to sit down and take a rest. I won't say I don't want any more baseball investment, but I will say that I have none in mind now."

Baseball is in my blood. When I attend a game I work as hard as any of the players. My body tenses with every play. I can't help it. I never attempt to eat a meal until at least an hour after the game ends. I'm too nervous to digest my food. And I want to relax a little."

Breadon, who has been in baseball for a long time, has a very interesting story to tell. "There's no other game which can last 164 days a year in succession and hold up interest," he asserts.

The depression alone is responsible for recent poor seasons. Baseball is primarily a working man's game. He hasn't a job now and can't find the entertainment he prefers. Better times will bring a return of baseball's popularity.

Breadon is in shape Well groomed and athletic for all the 50 years he admits, he lives a busy life.

In the summer his daily program begins at 6 a. m. when he enjoys a horseback ride on his 30-acre farm, 15 miles from St. Louis. Frequently the ride ends with a swim in his private pool.

Nine-thirty generally finds him at his desk in the large building housing his wide automobile agency. An hour later, while Owen, the Cardinals, he habitually departed for the baseball club office.

After lunch he frequently appeared again at both offices. Often when the Cardinals are "off" or out of town, he plays golf. He has a small family, a wife and

Athletic Convention Omits Golf Champ Without Explanation

Restricted List Confined to Participants In Branches Of Competition Controlled By Organization

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 8.—Despite the omission of several of the year's most conspicuous amateur performers, including W. Lawson Little, jr., of Stanford, holder of the British and American amateur golf championships, the convention of the Amateur Athletic Union today approved restriction of the final list of candidates for the 1934 Sullivan memorial medal to seven athletes.

Without debate or explanation, except that the athletes named were deemed best qualified for consideration on the combined basis of leadership, character and performance, the delegates endorsed committee action in restricting the final, national-wide vote of the so-called "Sullivan tribunal" to the following athletes:

William K. Donahoe of New York, world record holder (58 meters); Benjamin B. Eastman of San Francisco, world record holder at 440 and 500 yards; Glen Hadden of Louisiana State, world record holder in the 400 meter hurdles; Lesore Knight of Pittsburgh, national winner of free style swimming; Jack Meade of Seattle, men's national champion today said he and Cameron would sail for the United States December 8 and would not go through with a box with Pauline Thompson's boat, scheduled for December 22, 1934.

Although this year's contest was declared open by the A. A. U. to competitors in all amateur sports, the list of finalists who will be voted upon within the next month is confined to participants in A. A. U.-controlled branches of competition.

Among First Four
Little was among the first four leaders in the preliminary balloting, in which the names of 27 performers were mentioned but was not especially considered for inclusion on the list of finalists. The omission of Little's name contrasted with the fact the A. A. U. chose to Robert T. Jones, jr., for his golfing "grand slam."

The 4th convention moved otherwise toward a seemingly harmonious climax tomorrow by electing the highly-charged Jewish issue revolving around the 1934 Olympic games at Berlin and reaching an agreement in caucus tonight to elect Jeremiah T. Mahoney of New York, former state supreme court justice, as president to succeed Avery Brundage of Chicago.

Prospective action on the amateur status of Eleanor Helen Jarrett, Olympic swimming star, was deferred.

Meanwhile the convention approved three of Mrs. Jarrett's back-

The convention ratified upward of 140 record performances in track and field sports, swimming and weightlifting. The list included 14 asserted free style swimming marks made by Jack Meade of Seattle.

By FREDERICK GARDNER (Associated Press Financial Writer) NEW YORK, Dec. 8 (AP)—Stock speculators trimmed sales at the week end and the market continued to advance.

Although hopes of further business improvement advanced in Wall Street, they were not translated into buying orders for shares.

Investment demand was maintained sufficiently to hold best grade bonds around top levels for the year and to lift prices of some preferred shares.

Minor loss predominated in the share list at the close, with such issues as American Can, U. S. Steel, common, Chrysler, General Motors, Chrysler Ward and Santa Fe.

Reports that world copper producers would meet here in January for a discussion of output curtailment attracted some early interest in red metal shares.

Among sellers shares, Hot Corporation, International Printing Ink, American Smelting Refining, Spang Chemical, Hudson Department Stores, and McMillan Bonds rose 1/4 to 4 points.

Radio 8 sold in new high ground for the first time, limited only fractionally higher.

International Business Machines was marked up to a new peak of 19 1/8, gain of 1/4 on a transfer of 100 shares.

Steel shares slipped modestly in the face of additional optimistic forecasts of the industry's future and evidence that some large units were preparing for a point.

Allied Chemical yielded for a 2-point loss and Johns-Manville, American Foundry and Machine, Ferris, Best, Liggett and Myers, B and Worthington Pump were off a point.

The Standard Statistics company average for 90 stocks dropped four-tenths of a point to 74.7, the third consecutive day of small declines.

CORN AND WHEAT VALUES DECLINE

Downward Trend Follows New Advances in Grain Market

By JOHN P. DOUGHAN (Associated Press Market Editor) CHICAGO, Dec. 8 (AP)—Corn led a downward trend of grain prices today, the corn market underpinned by a pronounced bearishness on receipt of enlarged prospective arrivals of corn here.

The fact that expected increased receipts of corn in Chicago would come mostly from other terminal points and not from the westward direct, was more or less ignored for the time being.

Corn closed weak at bid little below the day's low point, 57 1/2c, and under unchanged at 57 1/2c.

Wheat and rye promptly sympathized with the corn market, and abruptly after the grain market as a whole had scored material advances that were associated with the grave political crisis in Europe.

CORONER'S INQUEST EXONERATES DRIVER

Mrs. Sarah Bolton's Death Unavoidable Accident Result, Verdict

A nine-man coroner's jury decided after a deliberation of an inquest here Friday that Mrs. Sarah Bolton, 36-year-old mother of three children, died as a result of an unavoidable accident when the car in which she was riding with Charles P. Diggs, 45, of Buhl, was struck from the rear by another car driven by Carl Holtenbeck, 21, of Twin Falls, on the highway north of here last Thursday evening.

In testimony at the inquest, Holtenbeck repeated his previous statement to the officers that he had not seen a tail light on the Diggs car when he was following on the westwardly course toward him; that the lights of an eastbound car blinded him temporarily and that he did not see the Diggs car until too late to prevent the collision, although he averted sharply to the left and avoided his car in time to the barrow pit.

Diggs testified his lights were in good condition and that he did not see the car until too late to prevent the collision, although he averted sharply to the left and avoided his car in time to the barrow pit.

Other witnesses were J. W. Hawkins of Buhl, Fred Dietz of Buhl, Holtenbeck the collision occurred; Pontaine Cooper, state traffic officer; and H. C. O'Brien, deputy sheriff.

Members of the coroner's jury were F. D. Brown, C. T. Bracken, O. A. Schwartz, H. P. Hager, C. E. Hager, S. Stewart, W. Deane, J. H. Melton and D. D. Alvord.

Community Chest Exceeds $10,000

Elated over the fact that the Community Chest total has gone over the ten thousand mark, reports of the drive were determined to reach the goal during the coming week. At 6 o'clock last night the Community Chest had subscribed to the Chest fund. The goal to be attained, is possible to $12,000.

Three additional firms joined the "hundred percent" ranks. They were Patton and company, The Pink and employ, and Bole-Payette Lumber company and employ.

MOTHER-IN-LAW FACTOR IN SUIT FOR DIVORCE

Since October 31, 1931, the complainant and defendant have been separated. She asked for custody of the child. Paul S. Boyd of Buhl is her attorney.

Rules are rules at Lincoln school regarding pupils' entering the building during the noon hour before the bell rings.

A first grader ventured "be-yond the line" one noon hour recently. The teacher on hall duty queried him as follows: "What do you wish?"

The first grader surveyed her a trifle blankly. She repeated the question, "What do you wish?" He blinced, cocked his small head a little to one side, gulped a couple of times, and said: "I wish a drum for Christmas."

Now his teachers wonder whether she is obligated to extend her shopping list to include "one drum." And one small boy regards the subject with wholly associated with holidays.
