NEW STATE SCHOOL FOR DEAF PERSONS URGED UPON BOARD

Delegation Advocates Acquisition of Ricks College Property to Leave Gooding Institution for Blind Only

HOISE, Dec. 9 (AP)—The Idaho state board of education today accepted the resignation of Leo Calland, football coach at the University of Idaho, and referred to a committee a complaint against Dr. P. C. Potts' administration of the Gooding state school for deaf and blind.

Coach Calland's resignation was accepted effective September 1, 1935. Dr. M. G. Neale, president of the board, was authorized to accept applications for the position, and to make recommendations to the board at a later meeting.

Mr. Condie, state superintendent of public instruction, said the only known reason for Coach Calland's resignation was reported activities of the Idaho Alumni association, many members of which were used by numerous unscrupulous politicians at the Moscow institution.

Dr. Potts Under Fire A delegation of the association of the deaf appeared to complain of administrative practices of Dr. Potts at Gooding. The matter was referred to the board's executive committee which is composed of Mr. Condie, Asner B. Wilson of Twin Falls, president of the board, and Mrs. A. E. Bled of Parma, secretary. All board members were present. Besides Mr. Wilson and Mrs. Bled, Mrs. C. E. Calkins of Idaho Falls; Jerome Day of Wallace and J. F. Ferry of Cottonwood, Mr. Condie is an ex officio member and the executive officer.

In addition to seeking a change in the administrative office of the Gooding institution, the delegation which appeared before the board indicated they favor legislation to desist the board from the new acquisition.

Acquisition of the Ricks college property at Gooding, Idaho, for a school for the deaf was advocated. The school at Gooding under the plan would be used for the deaf only.

The delegation based its recommendations on crowded conditions at Gooding.

Liner's Searchlights Play On Scene Of Thrilling Drama At Sea

By FRANK E. GANNETT Publication of the Gazette Newspapers (Copyright, 1934, By The Associated Press) ABOARD THE S. S. EUROPA, AT SEA, Dec. 18.—The thrilling rescue of 16 men from the battered, sinking freighter Siato was accomplished tonight in view of virtually every person aboard this big, luxurious liner, one of four vessels which wheeled from north Atlantic sea lanes in response to a Titanic SOS.

Men and women in evening clothes, bundled in greatcoats against a snarling wind which lashed up mountainous seas, crowded the deck of the Europa's rail to watch the drama.

Searchlights from our bridge illuminated the rescue ship New York, the Canadian vessel, and the freighter Siato from New York to Hamburg. A first lifeboat put out from the New York's side, bobbing cork-like in the losing sea. It heaved and then a Norwegian steamer Siato, her rudder, bridge and lifeboats washed away and her superstructure battered.

KINGFISH AIMS AT RULE OVER SCHOOLS

One-Man Revolt in House Discloses Joker In Long's Program

BATON ROUGE, La., Dec. 18 (AP)—The Louisiana legislature today passed a one-man revolt in the house to slip a law through the special session of the legislature giving Long as "political medicine" and a modern New and the legislators as "putty-faced do-gooders."

The whole trouble developed over a bill which Long "exploited" to the house ways and means committee yesterday as permitting students from one parent to attend a school in another parent.

Buried Provision Buried in the measure was a provision that appointments of all school superintendents should be approved by the state budget committee, composed of the governor, the superintendent of education and the state treasurer, all of whom were elected with Long's support.

The trick feature was spotlighted today. Long had Representative N. S. Hotelberger, one of his floor leaders, announce that the clause would be amended out.

But the measure, just the same, went ahead and passed the measure without attention. Hotelberger explained the amendment would be made in the senate.

Long said he felt "dishonored" because the legislation offered called upon the people to surrender the "right" of their local political rights.

Long would not discuss the change which the bill would make in transferring the appointment of school superintendents to the state superintendent by the superintendent alone in his proposed controlled three-man board.

FEDERAL FIGURES REVEAL INCREASE IN FARM INCOME

Department of Agriculture Reports Smallest Crop Production in More Than 30 Years; Value Mounts

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Paradoxical totals of the smallest crop production in more than 30 years and the highest farm income in four years were reported today by the department of agriculture.

The summary of production during 1934 showed a farm output 32 per cent less than the average of the past 10 years. Many crops returned the lowest yields since 1900 because of drought and the production control programs of the farm administration.

The total value of all crops at the same time, was reported as $4,782,625,000, compared with $4,414,265,000 last year and $2,882,193,000 in 1932. By adding in the $532,000,000 in benefits payments made by the AAA the figure was increased to $5,314,625,000.

What Sets Record Production was listed in the report as follows: Corn, 1,230,710,000 bushels, 41 per cent smaller than last year and 49 per cent less than the average of the past 10 years.

Estimated values of various crops were listed as follows: Corn, $1,585,550,000; all wheat, $423,441,000; oats, $272,150,000; grain crops, $2,415,000; cotton, $602,214,000; cottonseed, $154,106,000; all hay, $779,530,000; cattle, $25,169,000; hogs, $23,415,000; potatoes, $160,920,000; tobacco, $240,937,000; apples, $102,175,000; and sugar beets, $38,465,000. The value of all truck crops was estimated at $192,651,000.

Few Show Increase Of the principal crops only cotton, buckwheat, rice, potatoes, tobacco and onions show increased production over the 1921-1930 average.

The 21 principal field crops produced only 60 per cent of the 1921-1930 average, with 58 per cent for corn, 61 per cent for rice, 67 and 77 crops beets 65.

Per acre yields in 1934 were estimated at $192,651,000.

Mountain Climber Takes Fatal Fall to Save Companion

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., Dec. 18 (AP)—Charles R. Trotman, 23, gave his life today to prevent a companion from falling to her death over a cliff.

They were members of a party of 14 at the Harbor City Epworth League, on an outing at Wrightwood, 30 miles northeast of Los Angeles. Trotman and Trotman, Miss Hollar and Trotman, Attock went for a hike in the snow covered mountains.

Trotman slid down the incline for more than 100 feet and then shot out over a 50-foot cliff, precipitating instant death.

By a heroic and self-sacrificing act of the canyon on a toboggan and it was removed here.

GUARDMEN SEEK MISSING OFFICER

Cavalry Troops Scour Hills in Search of Captain Harold T. Stoy

POCAHELLO, Dec. 18 (AP)—After a futile hunt today for Captain Harold T. Stoy, 31, commander of troop B, 11th Cavalry, Idaho National Guard, who disappeared mysteriously last night, mounted guardmen were ordered to continue their search starting early Wednesday over snow-capped hills and roads in southeastern Idaho.

Lieutenant Edward Roche, second in command of the Pocahello cavalry unit, was given authority by Adjutant General M. G. McCommel of Boise, commander of the Idaho post, to utilize every agency in carrying on the search for the captain, believed to have wandered away during recurrence of a snowstorm which while serving with the marine corps in France during the World War.

At noon tomorrow an airplane piloted by Jack McConnell will fly over the section east and south of here in an effort to locate Captain Stoy from the air. It was reported to have been active in mountain climbing and hiking in 40-miles passes and in an effort to locate Captain Stoy from the air.

EXPLOSION IN DEEP GOLD MINE TAKES LIVES OF WORKERS

Powder Blast at 3,000-Foot Level Causes Death of Two Men; Rescue Crews Bring Four to Surface

(By The Associated Press) GRASS VALLEY, Cal., Dec. 18.—Two miners were killed here today in a powder explosion 3,000 feet deep in the Empire Star mine, which filled the mine levels with gas and choked several other underground workers into unconsciousness.

The dead were Frank Harvey and Charles Dickman. Harvey was killed instantly in the explosion—and Dickman—was asphyxiated by the gas. The other 300 men in the mine standing up the inclined shaft, coughing and choking.

Rescue crews on trucks brought four men to the surface. The men were given first aid treatment at the mine mouth, and were sent them to go home.

Four Recover Rore and Gilbert were taken to the local hospital, but Gilbert was able to leave for his home soon after the mining company. The men were given first aid treatment at the mine mouth, and were sent them to go home.

Details of the explosion could not be learned immediately, officials said the blast had not trapped any workers in the mine. Only those who were overcome by fumes were unable to get up from a depth of 3,000 feet.

The mine, from which millions of dollars worth of gold ore has been taken since 1850, is one of the deepest in the world. It is operated by the Empire Star Mining company. Officials expressed belief there would be no further casualties reported from the blast, whose cause has not yet been determined.

Passengers Hurt In New Violence At Los Angeles

Sympathetic Walkout Lined Hinted

(By The Associated Press) LOS ANGELES, Dec. 18.—A new "outburst" of violence marked the troubled railway situation here tonight even as impending strike of Pacific Electric carmen threatened to bring a sympathetic walkout of portions of three great transportation railroads.

Details of an automobile accident which had been placed in the groove of the track, a Los Angeles railway company street car crashed into a truck carrying 40 passengers from their seats.

Five of the passengers were so badly hurt and cut they were taken to a nearby hospital. Union employees of the street railway walked out on strike more than three weeks ago.

In the Pacific Electric strike, the threatened sympathetic strike would affect the Southern Pacific, Santa Ana and Union Pacific railroads at the very height of the Christmas rush. Exact limits of the walkout were not clear as far as Pacific Ore, Salt Lake City and St. Paul, Texas.

His Widened Strike MacKenzie, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, has hinted that although the sympathetic strike at first may be in the Los Angeles area, it might spread as far as Portland, Ore., Salt Lake City and St. Paul, Texas.

FIGHT LOOMS FOR ROOSEVELT AIDES

Senatorial Dissatisfaction With Some Appointments Comes to Surface

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 (AP)—Probable senate battles over the confirmation of several political appointees today were reported to be causing concern among some administration political advisers.

These have concerned most prominently such men as Joseph P. Kennedy, chairman of the stock exchange commission; James A. Moffatt, federal housing administrator; and Harrison E. Eccles, governor of the federal reserve board. There has been some talk also about other of the recent appointments—some named since congress adjourned last June.

All now have taken their posts but some are confirmed before their jobs are sure.

While no threat of concentrated action against confirmation of these and about 40 other important appointees has appeared on the surface, sufficient undercurrent talk has reached the administration to cause a few men to be worried.

Key Men Involved Despite the preponderant Democratic control of the senate, certain new dealers take the view that in event of an important confirmation contest, the president's control may be put to a rigid test.

The three chief key men about whom there is so much talk—Kennedy, Moffatt and Eccles—have been named in the public eye in connection with New Deal moves.

There has been some quiet criticism of the president's appointments because he figured in the senate banking committee's investigation of the mutual ex-husband of Alvin Karpis.

Another cause of concern is the creation of the federal agency to regulate stock transactions. He was mentioned in testimony as having been in the White House pool in the summer of 1933.

Moffatt's recent set-to over housing with Secretary Clegg, which had to do with the creation of the Federal Housing Administration, caused a number of independent Republican senators to question his appointment.

Whether or not these three, or other of the appointments, will be confirmed, meets any concerted opposition in the senate, whose familiar with the temper of the senate, is confident that there will be many words passed before the confirmation proceedings are over.

U. S. Potato Crop Largest Since 1928

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 (AP)—The biggest potato crop since 1928 was reported today by the department of agriculture.

The country's production this year was estimated at 332,220,000 bushels or a fifth larger than the 302,200,000 bushels produced in 1928.

The report said that the increase was the result of a combination of unusually heavy yields in many producing areas and an acreage that was above the average of recent years.

REAR ACTIVITIES IN ARMY, NAVY BARED

Pretty Girls Play Part in Communists' Campaign, Witness Avers

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 (AP)—Attempts by communists to spread disunion and rebellion among the nation's armed forces were reported today by army and navy officers to be causing real concern.

As a concrete remedy, they asked the house committee investigating un-American activities to approve a law permitting punishment of those who urge any soldier or sailor to "hold his own" in the field.

Chairman McCormack (D-Ill.) reported that various remedies were being considered by the committee but none had been agreed upon.

The communists army-navy campaign was described by Commanding V. L. Kirkman of the navy as a carefully planned and supervised from headquarters in New York City. Other witnesses said that the New York headquarters took orders from Moscow.

Dr. Clegg's Concern "The present drive that is causing us concern," Kirkman testified, "takes the form of spreading subversive propaganda by organized groups among the organized forces in an endeavor to incite the persons to disaffection with the government, disloyalty and in some cases actual sabotage."

He admitted a number of ex-brotherhoods and pamphlets purporting from communistic sources and acquired in the navy—which he said, "I would like to destroy."

OWNERS THREATEN TO FLOOD MINES

Move to Cease All Operations Follows Strike Deadlock

JACKSON, Dec. 18 (AP)—Flooding of four gold mines by abandonment of pumping operations because of a deadlocked dispute with striking miners was threatened today by resident superintendents here today.

The action, the superintendents said, was in line with the owners' threat to cease all operations unless the strikers dropped their demand for collective bargaining through their union and returned to work.

Speakers for the union, an American Federation of Labor affiliate, declared that the automaton threat was a "bluff." They said the owners had been asked to meet with the union to discuss the demand that the union be recognized.

BUSINESS LEANS TO DOLE SYSTEM

Conference Heads Towards Recommendation for Direct Relief

WHITE SULPHUR SPRING, W. Va., Dec. 18 (AP)—The "dole" form of unemployment relief was near acceptance tonight by the executive staff of American business leaders as the best means of taking care of the jobless until they can be absorbed by industry.

Starting tonight as the result of a controversy in the drafting committee, the "jobs business conference" was prepared to recommend a unified business plan to support direct relief as employed in England in contrast to work-relief as endorsed by several sections of the administration.

It was possible that argument over the form of drafting the report of the conference, constituted of 30 business leaders, might create a direct endorsement of this theory. A vigorous disagreement in the committee of the NRA was also holding up the drafting committee, which is composed of executives of the National Association of Manufacturers and the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and other leaders.

The NRA committee was still fighting late today over whether the industry should allow provisions to withdraw from labor industries as well as the fair practice provisions, and over whether codes should be provided for control of production.

The more basic question of the extent to which the final group of recommendations should extend the olive branch to the administration, was also being argued. #### Plan for Federal Regulation of All Transportation Drafted

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 (AP)—A detailed plan for federal regulation of all interstate transportation agencies, including aviation, was reported on reliable authority tonight to have been approved by President Roosevelt.

Prepared by Joseph B. Eastman, federal coordinator of transportation, the program calls for enlargement of the interstate commerce commission to 15 members, with jurisdiction over railroads, bus and truck lines, barge lines and coastal shipping and aviation. The plan has been long considered by the president and his closest advisors. It is now ready for presentation to congress but the president was said to be undecided whether to submit it at the forthcoming session or at the one following.

For Aviation Commission. Additional legislation would be necessary also to give the commission power to regulate combination service of barge and railroads.

In the case of aviation, the transportation coordinator was said to feel that the industry still had special problems not conducive to regulation by a unified agency. His report, therefore, was understood to call for creation of a federal aviation commission to supervise the industry for the next two or three years. The president's policy favoring aviation commission already had decided to recommend establishment of a federal regulatory agency, with its functions to be permanent.

Big Monkey Turns Valve And Ruins City Hall Boiler

CLOVIS, N. M., Dec. 18 (AP)—There's a new unit needed in the heating system of the Clovis city hall, and thereby hangs a tale of monkey business and gadgetry.

Several years ago, Joe, a big monkey in the local zoo, became a crowd puller. During the winter the city fathers allowed Joe and his family to make their home in the basement of the city hall.

Joe watched the janitor manipulate valves and other gadgets on the furnace and boiler.

Soon Joe was turning valves off and on. One night he turned the valve that drained the water from the boiler and the unit in the boiler burned out.

The damage was repaired with a compound, but now the city officials say it looks as though a new unit will have to be charged up to "monkey business."

Soon Joe was turning valves off and on. One night he turned the valve that drained the water from the boiler and the unit in the boiler burned out.

The damage was repaired with a compound, but now the city officials say it looks as though a new unit will have to be charged up to "monkey business."

Several years ago, Joe, a big monkey in the local zoo, became a crowd puller. During the winter the city fathers allowed Joe and his family to make their home in the basement of the city hall.

Push Quiz Into Tulsa Deaths

HOMER WILCOX, Jr. (left), 11-year-old son of a prominent oil man of Tulsa, Oklahoma, was fined $15 after pleading guilty to a charge of malicious mischief for shooting out street lights in a Tulsa residential area where John Gorrell, 23, was killed in the first outbreak of what police believe was a gang of youthful intruders. The fatal shooting of a second Tulsa youth, Sidney Barr, Jr. (right), was listed as a suicide. Authorities had hopes young Wilcox could shed some light on Gorrell's death, but there appeared to be no connection as far as police court records were concerned.—(AP) Photo.

Power Production Occupies Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 (AP)—Amid grumbling from the industry and new thrusts of municipal power operation, President Roosevelt's power policy committee today arranged for a meeting to determine how much further the government should travel down the power production path.

At the same time, the president of the American Electric Works Association is expected to meet tomorrow with Secretary of the Interior Harold I. Green, to discuss the proposed development of the Grand Coulee dam on the Columbia River.

YUGOSLAV REGENT TO FORM CABINET

Ministers Resign in Show-Down Test Between 'Strong Men'

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Dec. 18 (AP)—A showdown between the two "strong men" of Yugoslav politics, Foreign Minister Bogobuj Vitchich and Prince Nikola, was said to have culminated today in the resignation of the Vitchich cabinet.

Prince Paul, head of the regency governing the nation, accepted the ministers' resignations and tonight was busy trying to re-form the cabinet along the lines of his cherished project for a more thoroughly representative government.

Vitchich's resignation presented earlier today caused the crisis, was generally expected to head the new government, but it was understood Prince Paul's conversations with leaders of the various political factions would last several days.

Hailed as Victor. The foreign minister, long regarded as the aged Vitchich's likely successor in the premiership, came back to Belgrade from Geneva, where he pressed vigorously Yugoslav's claims for the throne, and was hailed in the murder at King Alexander in the palace at Marcella October 6, 1934.

His rivals in the cabinet, however, failed to greet enthusiastically his accomplishments at Geneva, and Vitchich resigned. Quickly transferred to the post of minister of agriculture, quit his post, and the resignation of the entire cabinet followed.

RESERVOIR COST SLASH PROMISED

Blaine County Project Put In New Light by FERA Estimates

HAILEY, Dec. 18 (AP)—Commissioners of Blaine county today were working out plans for an election of residents in Carvy valley, in the eastern portion of the county, to determine whether they favor construction of a reservoir to provide irrigation water for their farms. A preliminary survey disclosed the proposed dam would cost approximately $400,000, or $18 an acre—amount farmers were reported to have considered out of the question. Interested parties then conferred with Idaho emergency relief officials and were assured if project could be undertaken at a lower cost, cutting the cost to farmers of the valley approximately in half. The entire project was aired at a general meeting here yesterday, after which the county commissioners decided to call a special election to pass on the undertaking. The date for the election has not yet been set.

Arguments End In Gooding Water Suit

BOISE, Dec. 18 (AP)—Arguments were concluded tonight before Judge C. C. Cavanaugh here in federal district court in the Gooding project irrigation water case. The Gooding project landowners seek a natural flow water right instead of a flood water storage right in waters of the Snake river. Judge Cavanaugh is not expected to render a decision for several weeks. Among litigants were Judge James Bothwell of Twin Falls; Clark of Idaho Falls, and R. P. Parry of Twin Falls.

Warm Wave Follows Mountain Area Snow

DENVER, Dec. 18 (AP)—Rocky mountain folk plodded through snow or slush today when snowfall last night over much of the area was followed by bright sunshine and moderate winter temperatures. Winds that approached blizzard proportions in eastern Wyoming and western Nebraska died down but there was promise of more snowfall in that area and in Montana. Denver's snowfall—five inches—was the heaviest recorded in last night's storm but the snow blanket extended into eastern New Mexico and four inches depth was recorded at Santa Fe.

FUNERALS

ECKLE—Funeral services for W. H. Eckle will be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock at the Twin Falls mortuary chapel, Twin Falls. Elks in charge. Interment will be in the Elks' plot at Twin Falls cemetery. Mr. Eckle was a member of the Elks' lodge at Cripple Creek, Colorado.

NON-SUPPORT CHARGED

Alleging non-support, Mrs. Leith Casner started suit in the district court here yesterday for divorce from Joseph Casner to whom she was married at Fairfield, Iowa, June 26, 1915. There are no minor children; the petition said. E. V. Larson of Twin Falls is petitioner's attorney.

SOCIETY and CLUBS

Phone 32

Attendees at the twenty-fifth annual Charity Ball tonight at Elks' hall may enjoy themselves the more knowing that theirs is a "pleasure with a purpose." Their good time and their warm winter clothing for dozens of the community's school children, Russell P. Miller, general chairman of arrangements, reported last evening that advance ticket sales were almost one hundred percent, and expressed gratitude of the lodge for the manner in which the public had responded to invitation to attend the ball. It is anticipated that this will be one of the largest-attended Charity Balls in the history of the local lodge. The Elks are working in conjunction with the Salvation Army and school principals in finding out where clothing is most needed. Four brilliantly lighted Christmas trees will contribute other items, room, food and a raffle to the pavilion for tonight's festivities. Softly shadowed floor lamps will contribute other items, room, food and a raffle to the pavilion for tonight's festivities. Softly shadowed floor lamps will contribute other items, room, food and a raffle to the pavilion for tonight's festivities.

Following interest to the occasion will be the presentation of ultra-modern dances by Marie Dunn Helms' Debutante Dancers, six popular Twin Falls girls, who give a professional performance. Costumes, especially designed for the Elks' floor, enhance the dance numbers. Dancing, to music by "Chuck" Helm and his Continentals, will begin at nine o'clock. The committee on arrangements includes Russell P. Miller, J. O. Isaacson, excellent musician, C. Helms, H. A. Ball, Ray Matheny, E. W. McRobert and R. O. Hunt. Miller will also be in charge of the Elks' annual New Year's Eve dance Monday evening, December thirty-first, at the hall.

A WORTHY EFFORT

If the Federal government can succeed in taking away from crooks and gunmen the advantage which has always been theirs through the connection of crooked attorneys, a mighty blow will have been struck at the business of organized crime.

Every accused man is entitled to the service of an attorney. This is one of the privileges granted under our form of government. An accused also has many other privileges, in fact he has so many privileges that in a majority of all criminal cases brought to trial it is impossible to overcome this burden of protection with which the law safeguards and surrounds the "rights" of criminals.

This matter of court procedure supplies a natural advantage to wrongdoers and constitutes a corresponding handicap upon the efforts of those charged with the law's enforcement. When the resources of a shrewd and unscrupulous attorney are thrown into the scales on the side of an accused person the only wonder is that so many convictions are secured.

Two attorneys, one a Denver practitioner and the other a resident of Oklahoma City, are now under arrest and an effort will be made to prove that each shared in the two hundred thousand dollar ransom collected a few months ago from Charles F. Urschel, wealthy Oklahoma oil man. Connection of a criminal nature will be difficult to establish even if it is shown that a part of the money was actually paid over for legal services. The law also grants many privileges to attorneys, including that involved in the principle that relationship of attorney and accused is a sacred thing and not to be tried into on any mere suspicion.

But the broad fact remains. Criminals are aided and abetted, guided and protected by men whose business is not to serve but to defeat the ends of justice. Any effort to break up this relationship should be warmly applauded.

FORCED COMRADESHIP

Comradeship is a fine thing when it is allowed to develop naturally. Attempts to force it may kill it altogether. According to reports, Hitlerites are going after comradeship in drastic ways.

Every business must be regarded as a business community, with a father and his staff. Business "families" are formed, consisting of the boss and two employees—a workman and a clerk. The three are required to undergo a week's education in a community school, living in one room in order the sooner to "appreciate one another's point of view."

A Berlin correspondent of the London Times reports an "invitation" sent by a Berlin newspaper to its staff. It summoned the "comrades" of the company to a "First Comradeship Evening." To promote good will and jollity, it offered a three-hour program of entertainment, plus stamps with which to pay for beer and coffee. So far, but the invitation reminded the comrades that attendance was compulsory and that they were expected to stay through the whole affair, not merely through the entertainment. It also announced stern penalties for failure to attend, declaring:

"Whoever does not appear at this Comradeship Evening or tries to throw a veil over his non-appearance with invalid reasons, places himself outside the working community and thereby outside the present order of things."

"Whoever does not appear at this Comradeship Evening or tries to throw a veil over his non-appearance with invalid reasons, places himself outside the working community and thereby outside the present order of things."

Germany today is even worse than being an insider, if reports from that troubled land are true.

STOCK ISSUE EXPENSES

The federal securities act, while throwing the fear of God into issuers of fraudulent and over-priced securities, has had other effects not so good. It seems to require a tremendous out of fuses and expense to put legitimate securities on the market.

A current example is the $1,200,000 qualifying expenses for issuing $68,000,000 of stock along with the merger of Republic Steel with two minor concerns. This cost included reorganization expenses but not the underwriting fees. A corps of experts worked for months, preparing many hundred thousands of words of technical reports.

In order to avoid such hurdles, it develops, some of the best securities are being sold privately to select groups instead of going through the market. Thus big individual investors, insurance companies, savings banks and other insiders get the cream of the investments.

Here are reasons for simplifying the procedure.

A Kansas motorist was saved, fifty feet from a grade crossing accident, because his car ran out of gas. Pure carelessness, that is.—Kansas City Star.

PUBLICITY AND CRIME

President Roosevelt is not one of those who believe that crime is caused by newspaper stories, and that if we hid our heads deep enough in the sand, there would be no crime problem.

The president seemed to be talking directly to those who were the users of the news in the press when he said to the members of the crime conference: "It is your positive duty to keep before the country the facts in regard to crime as a whole—great crimes, lesser crimes and little crimes—to build up a body of public opinion which, I repeat, is compelled to act, not in this day and age sufficiently active or alive to the situation in which we find ourselves."

The public, which must bear the cost of meeting the crime problem, must not only know the statistics of crime, it must be fired with a sense of indignation and of the danger to the country from the domination of the newspapers by criminals, sufficiently detailed to bring to the individual the sense that his own safety and that of his family are being threatened. Publicity has a large place in the fight against the criminal.

AMUSEMENT CHAYING

New York state's amusements in 1933 look more of people's money than all its multiplicity of hotels, and its amusements, the movies got almost the lion's share, it is reported by the director of the census in Washington.

There are 323 motion picture theaters in New York City out of 820 in the entire state, and they split in that proportion a total of more than $48,000,000, a sizeable sum however you look at it. The year was a hard one, too, on most of us. But busy parlors, radio repair shops, automobile repair shops and boot-black stands are good living; it is curious to note that the one of the "hottest" businesses in the state outside of the city, although there are 78 blacksmith shops in New York still doing business, but no tourist camps. More than one-quarter of the total paid out to employees in various establishments was paid in places of amusements and hotels.

It all shows how insatiable is the desire for fun and that it does not breed butter; not just "living," it all proves, too, that people living within the area are not down in the mouth, no matter what one hears.

THIS CHANGING WORLD

Ever wonder how a plant could extract water and minerals from the soil, pull carbon dioxide from the air, and, by using sunlight, produce sugars and starches? That's what happens, for instance, when a potato plant produces potatoes, or a wheat plant produces wheat.

Chemists have been trying for a long time to find out if they knew they might be able to reproduce the process, first in a laboratory, then in a factory. That would take the guesswork out of the farming, remove the hazards, make crop failures a thing of the past.

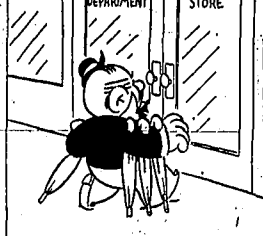

The process by which plants convert raw material into sugars and starches is called photosynthesis. Nothing to do with cameras. Just means using light to produce something from something else. How's it doing? Nobody knows—yet. But the chemists are getting nearer a solution all the time.

All foodstuffs are produced from soil, plus water, light and heat. That's the job very efficiently, but there's a reason why machinery shouldn't do it, and maybe better. That's what the chemists are trying to find out.

If they succeed, it will be possible to forget climate and weather as factors in food production. We could produce every sort of food in the United States; and we would do so on other countries would end. Farming, as we know it, would be unnecessary. The whole social system would be changed.

Probably synthetic production of food is a long way in the future. Possibly it's just around the corner. Science moves swiftly today.

WASHINGTON By George Durso: BRITANNIA. Now that international law has been established with all the major nations fencing for position on armaments and trade, State Department officials might be permitted to admit privately they would just as soon quit writing those damning notes semi-annually.

Such an arrangement has the added beauty of being extremely flexible. A solution may be equipped to reach the atmosphere but the actual altitude he reaches is up to him. Many of the State observers are convinced that the President will do just as well to stop.

FINLAND. There has been a lot of talk about the need for something for mortgages but so far it's 50 per cent conversation. Elaborate plans for large real estate projects to handle mortgages have failed to get anywhere because financial men felt the prospective borrowers were not creditworthy with one exception: the Dutch. Why does Holland get the best of the deal?

When the government announced an end to the supply of the home owner's loans this column pointed out it was the first direct loss of the country's credit. The expressed willingness to pick up the burden it wanted the government to bear.

FLAWS. New Yorkers who have worked with the Home Owners' Loan Corporation are beginning to feel a little "relieved" home owner often finds that his theoretical gain in housing is offset by amortization requirements.

LEAKS. President Roosevelt's mighty army of federal press agents is beginning to feel a little competition. Private industry agencies have taken a cue from the New Deal.

NOTES. Labor leaders ridicule industry's call of cooperation and declare FDR stands firm for labor's fighting for Section 7A. World conference may come early in Senate session.

NEW YORK—This is a success story. Years ago on Arden street, Denver went wild as did some thousands of commuters. Suddenly, on an otherwise quiet residential street, there was the sound of a piano. A woman was standing on her front porch. Just inside an open window was a piano. As the piano was a fair-haired boy.

The tune was the "Star Spangled Banner" and for those who heard it that performance was the high spot of Denver's armistice celebration.

Then Ann Arbor, Mich. The boy was in school there. Still playing piano music through was Guy Miller, who with Pauline had played 2-piano music popular on the serious concert stage.

Everybody knew the fair-haired boy had talent. Walter thought it was a pity that he had to leave his home, and there he swam for the edification of the Spanish lands, and would better be in Europe.

There was still not much money, but he was a young man—now handsome enough for the musical comedy stage, now a long time ago.

Police Commissioner Valentine is a quietly spoken man who wears rimless glasses. He expresses that same feeling of authority and understanding that made him so popular in the same job.

Miriam Hopkins, the cinema actress, has given up that diminutive town she has used so long. Now she rides in taxicabs.

Head of Police in Saar Basin Resigns: SAENBUECKEN, Saar Basin Territory, Dec. 13 (AP)—The head of the international police force in the Saar, resigned the position today.

Reports that the giant 42-year-old politician might walk his post were current in the Star yesterday after Captain James Justice, Englishman member of the Saar police force, was beaten by a mob that attacked him after his automobile struck and slightly injured a woman.

As inspector of police and general manager of the Saar police force, Justice directed the military arm of the League of Nations commission government in the Saar.

SUGAR BEET CROP DECLINES IN U. S.

Government Figures Value of 1934 Production $38,436,000

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 (AP)—The total farm value of sugar beets raised in 1934 was set at $38,436,000 today in the crop report issued by the agriculture department.

This compares with a value of $56,600,000 in 1933 and a valuation of $17,700,000 in 1932.

The production of 7,827,000 tons of beets harvested for sugar this year was 34 per cent less than the record crop of 11,800,000 tons in 1933, and 16 per cent smaller than the 9,070,000 tons harvested in 1932.

The report explains that in 1934 the growth in the beet content was water shortage, drought, heat and pests of more than usual severity.

The sugar content of beets was higher, however, and production of sugar from the 1934 crop of beets was estimated in the report at about 1,102,000 short tons, or about 10 per cent more than was made from the 1933 and 1931 crops.

Accrue harvested in sugar beet states include: Montana, 69,000; Idaho, 35,000; Wyoming, 44,000; Colorado, 178,000; Utah, 36,000; California, 112,000.

Production in short tons in the states include: Montana, 769,000; Idaho, 328,000; Wyoming, 434,000; Colorado, 1,450,000; Utah, 231,000; California, 1,598,000.

BUILT MAN IN RACE FOR SPEAKERSHIP

Harry W. Barry One of Announced Candidates for Post

BOISE, Dec. 18 (AP)—The van guard of the Idaho law-making body is arriving in Boise and talk centers principally on the identity of the next speaker of the house who is to succeed Robert Coulter not up for reelection in the last election.

For the speakership there are three announced candidates: Gray Smith of Custer county; Guy Graham of Payette, floor leader in the 1933 session; and Harry W. Barry of Buhl, Twin Falls county.

There also is a noticeable mention of Charles Gossett of Canyon county.

Senator Chase Clark of Idaho Falls, floor spokesman in the 1933 session, has openly stated he would prefer to be freed from responsibilities of leadership, although a number of senators have announced their preference for him if the choice is between Clark and Mitchell.

Germans Prefer Foreign Papers To Nazi Organs

BERLIN, Dec. 18 (AP)—A Nazi drive to win good Germans away from their foreign newspapers, either they subscribe to Swiss, French or English newspapers or their frequent cafes where foreign newspapers are kept on file.

Minister of Propaganda, Paul Joseph Goebbels, perfect gag on the German press has led to such an influx of foreign newspapers as was never before the establishment of the third reich.

These cases, it was learned, were typical of the attitude of educated Germans in general.

Under $5000 bond, Bruce Harris was held in answer in the district court after he was arraigned before Judge Guy L. Kinney in the probate court here yesterday, and waived proceedings regarding an attack upon a five-year-old girl at her parents' home in a local tourist park last Saturday night.

Harris, resident here for about two years, was arrested by a deputy sheriff at his own bachelor quarters in a one-story building shortly after the alleged attack. Officers said he admitted having been at the child's home on the night of the alleged attack.

Lacking the bond to which he was admitted by the magistrate yesterday, Harris was remanded to the sheriff's custody in the county jail.

Among workers of the Los Angeles Railway, which operates buses and streetcars within Los Angeles.

Union workers of the streetcar company struck three weeks ago last Saturday, with union leaders claiming 2000 men walked out, and the company asserting less than 800 responded.

Despite the overturning and burning of streetcars, and numerous acts of violence and even shooting, the streetcars have continued to operate with non-union men in charge.

The threatened strike of Pacific Electric workers has been several times postponed at the behest of the national mediation board.

HAUPTMANN LEGAL ADVISOR PROTESTS

Transfer of Two Secret Service Agents Called Unfair

NEW YORK, Dec. 18 (AP)—Edward J. Reilly, counsel for Bruno Hauptmann, asserted today he had learned the two department of justice agents in charge of the Lindbergh investigation had been transferred to Texas and Utah.

These two, Thomas E. Suk and Euse Sandberg, he said, were to have been called as witnesses for the defense.

Denouncing the move, Reilly concluded, "It is quite apparent that Hauptmann is not to get a fair trial from the New Jersey authorities."

The lawyer declared he would have the investigators returned to New Jersey jurisdiction if he had to appeal personally to President Roosevelt.

"On the eve of the trial," Reilly continued, "when they find they cannot coerce, intimidate and direct the testimony to be given by the federal men, someone has power enough to transfer them back."

Key-Men in Investigation

Reilly said he intended to ask the men "were they transferred because they would not testify to certain things insisted upon by the state of New Jersey?"

Suk, he understood, had been ordered to duty at San Antonio and Sandberg to Salt Lake City.

"These men who have been transferred," he stated, "were the key men in the investigation. They know the Hauptmann was brutally beaten. They know the case was not and is not cleared up and their chief, E. J. Hoover, threatened to withdraw them."

his men if they were not given a fair deal and greater consideration.

"This was a short time before Hauptmann's arrest."

Suk and his men were congratulated personally for their work, Reilly recalled, by Attorney General Cummings. "And then suddenly he was sent to an obscure station with an ill wife and a tiny baby."

Octopus Succumbs; Aquarium Workers Must Mother Eggs

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 18 (AP)—Because of the death of Evelyn, an octopus, the task of "mothering" 200 of her eggs has fallen to attendants at the Steinbairn aquarium here.

Evelyn died at the aquarium after a three weeks "hunger strike" that began when she first started to lay over a cluster of 200 eggs, turning them over every few minutes with her tentacles.

Despite the fact aquarium attendants each day attend her the octopus refused to eat.

"Now the aquarium attendants are doing what they can to hatch the eggs."

"As soon as she died we rubbed Octopus her nose, to the eggs, but wouldn't have anything to do with them," Alvin Seale, superintendent of the aquarium, said.

"Now we have turned a stream of sea water on them, constantly revolving them as the mother octopus did, and hoping that they will hatch in about two weeks time."

Evelyn, who measured 18 inches from tip to tip, was captured with Oscar on a beach near here last year. She had apparently been happy at the aquarium until she "struck" against her approaching motherhood.

BROADWAY VARIETIES CHRISTMAS WISHES

NEW YORK, Dec. 18 (AP)—Broadway celebrities are giving Santa Claus some anxious moments this year with their Christmas wishes. A casual survey by a reporter posing as Kris Kringle's representative tonight disclosed a startling array of orders.

The superbly self-confident Dizzy Dean was one of the few who thought he could look out for himself. Dizzy qualifies as a Broadway celebrity by virtue of having once tossed a baseball around with his brother, Paul, on a theater stage here.

"It's no use to wish for Santa to bring me and the Cardinals next year's pennant," he said, "because me and Paul (the Cardinals) are going to win it without benefit of wishes."

Kate Smith said: "I will be satisfied if Santa Claus just fills my stockings."

Max Baer, the heavyweight boxing champion, was a little more specific. He said he would like to see a "decent contender" who will draw a big gate next June.

Woody Woodcock was not bashful. The studious Rudy Vallee would like a complete set of Walter Piker's books.

Alfred Woolcott was not bashful. "What I want," he said, "are first mortgage bonds and postage stamps, and I want them for obvious reasons. That's a suggestion that will fit my purse."

Neither was Christopher Morley. "I'd like two or three extra hours every day in 1935," he said, "to give someone to pay the next installment of my income tax."

Alfred Lamb and Lyne Fontaine want a bumper crop of vegetables on their farm at Genesee Depot, Wis. Walter Huston, who has been in the line "Woodstock" since last February, with a short break in the summer, would like two weeks' vacation.

FILER MUSICIANS TO APPEAR ON PROGRAM
PILGER, Dec. 18—Filer rural high school will present a program Thursday evening at the high school with music by the girls and the band playing parts. Readings and musical numbers will conclude the presentation.

Mrs. Elsie McCleary, worthy matron-elect of Chapter No. 40, O. E. ### Santa Claus Topic Of Richberg's Talk To Board of Trade

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 (AP)—Donald Richberg said last night Uncle Sam would be only playing Santa Claus if unemployment relief were accompanied by permanent industrial reform.

"It is not playing Santa Claus for the government to raise money by taxation, or by borrowing, to feed the hungry and to help put people back to work," the emergency council director told the Washington board of trade.

But it would be just playing Santa Claus merely to relieve distress and fill empty stockings without undertaking at the same time to do everything within the power of the government to bring about the permanent reemployment of idle workers in productive enterprise.

Some people, Richberg said, "wanted to make it compulsory for Uncle Sam to establish the Stim and Santa Claus agency" in order to inflate large numbers of corporate stocks and individual stockpings with gifts from the fairyland where dollars are grown and gathered without the labor of human hands.

Two Little Girls Turn Heiress When Wyoming Man Dies

BASIN, Wyo., Dec. 18 (AP)—A tale of new-found treasure such as they might have read about in their school books has been enacted in real life or two little Portland, Ore., girls—because they once were kind to an old man here.

When he died Thanksgiving Day, Elmer Todd, who was 72, left a will in which he said he bequeathed all of his belongings to be given to the two girls, Dorothy and Marjorie Deal, aged 14 and 12.

Todd died as he had lived for many years—alone.

John Wells, a neighboring farmer and long time friend, was commissioned to look through Todd's papers. One instructed him to look in the warming oven of the cook stove.

There Ella found a tin can containing 4925 in gold which Todd wrote he had cherished for more than 20 years.

One by one Todd's other possessions were found—bonds worth $2200, postal savings totaling $1417, oil and gold stock certificates, value of which had risen for more than 20 years.

All of this Todd directed should be turned over to the young Deal sisters. The girls are the daughters of C. O. Deal, former commander of the Wyoming department of the American Legion. They are now residing with their grandmother, Mrs. H. P. Compton, in Portland.

News of their good fortune came to the girls after they had told their grandmother they wished they had enough money to buy Christmas presents.

Residents here said the Deals formerly lived near Todd's home and that he became very fond of the two youngsters, who in turn seemed to find pleasure in the old man's company.

Happy Christmas
PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 18 (AP)—The he and annapolis girls for two little Portland girls, who today were advised that an elderly, single man in Wyoming had bequeathed several thousand dollars to them because they had been kind to him.

The children are Marjorie Deal, 14, and her sister, Dorothy, 12. They live here with their grandmother, Mrs. H. P. Compton. Their mother died here March 2, last, and was buried in Salem. On her death, she left her mother-in-law care for the little girls.

BURLEY ELKS ARRANGE PIONEER CELEBRATION

BURLEY, Dec. 18—Burley Elks will stage an elaborate set-up of the "Days of '49" in the Elks hall beginning Thursday evening, three nights of hilarity will be enjoyed.

The setting will be an old mining town, with the gambling halls, dance halls and saloons as they were in the days of the "wild and woolly" west. An adaptation of the "Days of '49" will be staged at the door at which time chips will be given which may be used in playing any of the games. Each evening three turkeys will be given away.

The proceeds of the three-night affair will go to being Christmas cheer to the unfortunate and to aid in the annual Christmas treat for Burley children. At ten o'clock Christmas morning, Manager I. H. Harris, of the Burley theatre will give a performance to all of the children of the project, both the Burley and Orpheum theatres being used, if necessary to accommodate them, after which a gift will be given each child by the Elks.

FRESHMEN COMPETE FOR DEBATE TEAM

Second Elimination Contest Called to Determine Varsity Squad

Five freshman boys will compete in the final try-outs for positions on the Twin Falls high school debate squad today. Three of the number will be selected and with the six lettermen given their positions in Monday's tryouts, will form the school squad.

The necessity for a second elimination formed yesterday when Coach Loyd J. Perry and Assistant Coach Gerald Wallace decided not to continue with plans for a second squad which was formed Monday.

In a midnight session Monday following the regular squad try-outs, the judges picked two squads of debaters each. The first squad, composed of Leonard Arrington, M. C. Arrington, Maurice Peterson, George Simpson, Milo Sawyer and Bob Stephan, has remained unchanged. When Merle Nelson, speaking on Monday, the second squad resigned early yesterday, the coaches decided to disband. This necessitated an elimination among the remaining members of the B group to pick their squad. The results of the elimination tryouts today are: Asher, William, Paul, Edward, Bertie, George, Saladay, and Ed Penalt.

The two members and Lewis P. Jones, junior high school instructor, who were the judges for the tryouts commented yesterday on the unusually close competition for the positions on the team. Names were considered, dropped and reconsidered again and again during the three-hour consultation that followed the debate, according to their report.

Others who tried out for the team were Gladys Bradley, Walter Wells, Leonard Field, Ernest Outram, Homer Mason, and James D. Jones. At the first meeting of the squad yesterday, Perry announced that the team would first meet at the school auditorium on Monday at 8 o'clock with the debate with Bishopette at Shoshone.

F.F.A. Sponsors Horse Round-Up

Twin Falls Future Farmers of America chapter sponsors a horse round-up and clinic at the union stock yards Saturday morning, H. B. Croome, veterinarian, will examine and deworm the horses of F. F. A. members and other farmers who wish to bring their animals.

Committee Appointed to Arrange and Conduct the Clinic

A committee was appointed yesterday to arrange and conduct the clinic. The committee members are: C. L. Boyer, Clyde Cowell, Alan Edwards, Jack Strom and Melvin Edwards. The committee is sponsoring a clinic to be operated in the middle west in a hope of benefiting club members and farmers of the community.

YOUNG BUHL CHILD GIVEN LAST RITES

Gravestone rites in Twin Falls cemetery were conducted for Patricia Josephine Dunham, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard G. Dunham, Buhl, following services at Buhl Presbyterian church, Rev. G. C. Coldwater officiating.

Miss Juliet Hayden, Twin Falls, sang "Precious Jewels" at the church service and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" at the cemetery. Arrangements were in charge of the Evans and Johnson Funeral Home.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR FEDERAL JURIST

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 18 (AP)—Funeral services for Joseph W. Bristow, U. S. circuit court of appeals will be held Thursday at a local funeral home, it was announced today.

Cause of the jurist's sudden death in a fall down the stairs of his home yesterday noon, after hearing cases all morning, has not yet been fully determined.

An autopsy, made necessary because Justice Bristow's death was not witnessed by anyone, disclosed no absolute evidence of skull fracture, officials said today.

DOG LEADS NEIGHBORS TO MASTER'S BODY

Alvin Moore, 18, of 21st street, led to the discovery of the charred body of Frank Jusbeck, 55, in the ruins of his cabin on a ranch 2 1/2 miles northwest of Tinsdale.

The dog escaped to give the alarm to a rancher three miles away. The body was found in a hole which became overexposed and set the cabin alight.

FUNERAL AT SALT LAKE

Speakers included David O. McKay, a member of the first presidency of the church, and Charles S. Calkins, present president of the state, which is located in southern Idaho.

Final plans are being made at the Lincoln building for the Christmas program to be presented tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the December meeting of the Lincoln Parent-Teacher association. A fall, beautifully lighted, Christmas tree will be the center of the auditorium of the school building.

Miss Ida Allen will present her rhythmic band of two orchestra members, "Silent Night" and "Jingle Bells." Fifth grade pupils of Miss Helen Warren's room will present a play, "The Last Heinder." Third grade pupils of Miss Marjorie Stark, Miss Heloise Miller and Miss David will give a Christmas tableau.

Miner Found Guilty of Torturing Babe

SALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 18 (AP)—George Jagers, 47-year-old unemployed miner of Brigham, Utah, was found guilty of assault and battery in connection with the brutal beating of 21-month-old Clara Louise Cobb by a jury in city court here today.

The jury deliberated only 25 minutes before it was sentenced Thursday, the maximum penalty being six months in jail and a $200 fine.

Miss Clara Cobb, the child's mother, and Jagers' housekeeper, left the baby in his custody at Brigham December 6. When she returned home the child was suffering from severe bruises about the face and body and part of her hair had been pulled out by the roots.

Jagers took the stand in his own defense today. He testified the child was injured when he fell several times while carrying her and that he found his home in a state of confusion and had not been told from the child's head.

Committeemen in Buhl Meeting Protest FERA Posts for Outsiders

With four new members named to fill vacancies caused by resignations, Twin Falls county Democratic central committee met in Buhl last evening and registered emphatic protest against importation or transfer of FERA employes from other states or counties to fill official positions here. The committeemen at the same session branded as false a statement recently made by R. G. Wilson, Democratic county chairman, to Governor O. Ben Ross, to the effect that the majority of the county committee approved the highway department's dismissal of Lee Leitchler of Allegan from the department's employment. Leitchler is a member of the Democratic county committee representing Allegan in the majority of the committee did not approve of the dismissal of Leitchler, committeemen at the Buhl meeting declared.

McGaire in Chair
Last evening's meeting was called by W. W. McGaire, committeeman for Deep Creek precinct and chairman of the county committee's executive committee, in the absence of the committee chairman, R. G. Wilson of Kimberly. McGaire presided, and E. C. DeWitt, of Park Falls, was temporary secretary in the absence of A. H. Timmons, committee secretary. New members of the county committee named last evening after acceptance of their predecessor's resignations, were: W. W. Braslin, succeeding Robert W. Hampton, Twin Falls 6; D. C. West, succeeding W. R. Parker, Buhl 3; John Caldwell, succeeding R. E. Morehouse, Hollister; R. C. Larsen, succeeding Curtis Bowen, Rock Creek.

ROYAL ARCH MASONS ELECT INSTALL STAFF

Twin Falls chapter, Royal Arch Masons, in regular convocation last evening elected officers for the coming year and then witnessed their installation by Lawrence Glass, of Idaho Falls, past grand high priest of the Idaho grand chapter. E. Claxton was elected and installed as high priest, succeeding Guy D. Miller, who was elected and installed as the local chapter's high priest for the coming year. Other elected officers were John A. Johnson, scribe, Dr. Robert A. Park, treasurer; George D. Harward, secretary. Appointive officers named by the new high priest and installed last evening included A. D. Bolter, captain of the host; Robert Dingfield, Royal Arch captain; Floyd Johnson, scribe; Kimberly, principal journeyman; Gus Nordling, master of the first veil; Frank G. Kovara, master of the second veil; C. C. Kiburg, master of the third veil; Charles Russell, sentinels.

A committee composed of Dr. Park, Robert A. Park and W. B. Parzell prepared and served an oyster supper.

Threatened to put the champion on the floor as the going ended the round. Burke came back strong in the ninth frame and Cannon spent the entire round in hanging on as the Utah wildcat attempted a knockout.

Cannon made a valiant attempt for a knockout in the final round by a knock-out in the ring. Neither did it count as the fight was out in the center of the ring. Neither had an advantage in the last canto, but Burke had finished the fight on points.

In the six-round semi-windup, Sammy Wahl, 132-pound pride of Twin Falls, slugged it out with Bud Pittman, 125, 116lb, to gain an emphatic decision. Wahl showed plenty of boxing class and the majority of fight fans believed that it should have been at least a draw, due to Pittman's recovery in the latter rounds after a slow start.

Jack McDams, 145-pound heavy, furnished no little amusement to the fans as he and Jimmy Buckles, 153, slugged their way to a popular draw. Buckles showed the more polished boxing skill, but McDams exhibited the greater punch in the knock-down and drag-out affair. Earl Williams, 145, and John L. Ferguson, 150, fought to a slow draw in the four-round curtain-raiser.

Two scrapping little warriors, Dempsey and Tunney Whitbirt, who hail from the wilds of Canada, put on a boxing and wrestling exhibition which brought down the house. The two youngsters showed just how showmanship should be carried out in the ring and a shower of coins hit the mat as their boxing show came to a close.
