AUDIT OF FINANCES

County Shows Big Gain in Earnings, Operation Cost Declines

Twin Falls county's financial operations that exceeded $200,000 during the year that ended last January 31 were reviewed in the report on an annual audit that George B. Middleton, of Boise submitted yesterday to county commissioners and county auditor.

At the same time the accountant submitted the report on his annual audit of Twin Falls county general hospital which he said showed "total earnings increased 53 per cent over 1933 and operating expenses that were 125 per cent of the gross earnings in 1933, declined to 74 per cent in 1934."

The audit of county books showed $294,143.24 surplus of cash on hand, 1284 taxes and other current items receivable, of this amount $125,923.28 was credited to state tax fund and $84,823.90 to county current operating fund.

On County's Books

At the close of the year, the audit report showed, the county had $476,365.27 warrants outstanding and $100,000 on tax anticipation notes payable in January and July. Warrants outstanding were on account of the current expense fund $3,123.80; poor fund, $11,190.78; special and trust fund, $10,000.00.

During the year the county collected $278,452.08 of its 1934 tax roll that totaled $1,474,178.70, and had yet to collect that amount $492,724.27. There were delinquent taxes receivable in the sum of $534,120.10, and personal taxes amounting to $457,670.04. The weed department had $1,608.70 accounts receivable.

Fees collected by the office of the clerk of the district court and county auditor and recorder totaled $15,273.58, exceeding $141,420.01 expenses by $268,348.57. This was said to be the largest margin in more than 20 years. The probate court collected $181.18 in fees to offset expenses totaling $399.60, and the sheriff's fees and board of prisoners amounted to $614,000.00 against expenses totaling $140,000.00.

The state tax bill, during the year was whittled down by $39,712.28 from $101,464.28 at the beginning of the year to $61,692.33 at its close.

During the year the county paid off all of its $113,717.76 tax anticipation notes at the rate of 6 per cent.

Judicial Expense

On account of indigent care, the county was credited $100,000.00 with spending $51,644.36 of which $21,000.00 was for hospital charges and $30,644.36 for county expenses and county farm.

County general hospital

At the close of the year the hospital had a $128,000.00 surplus of cash, property, notes and accounts, inventories, property and equipment, his audit report said.

Earnings on account of pay patients totaling $76,024.76, were $22,422.25 more than those of 1933, $480,611.34, an increase of 58 per cent.

On account of county cases, $14,370.19 in 1933, and $20,250.50 in 1934, there was an increase of $6,225.00, or 46 per cent.

Net earnings for the year were shown to be $67,702.83 after taking credit for county cases and collection of accounts previously written off and after charges for compromise settlements, 1933 accounts dropped, and depreciation.

TRUCKS TO CARRY GUARDS TO CAMP

Twin Falls Unit to Take Part in Divisional Mobilization

Idaho national guard engineers, joining other units of the 41st division in an encampment at Fort Lewis in this summer, will make the two-day trip in army trucks and will bivouac on the road the first night, Captain W. H. Beaver, Jr., commanding Company K, Twin Falls unit, said last evening.

The mobilization will bring together national guardmen from Oregon, Washington and Montana, as well as Idaho engineers and artillery. Under present plans, six trucks will be assigned to each company of engineers for transportation of men and field equipment.

On account of specialized training at the Fort Lewis camp, no recruits, except those with previous military experience, will be accepted after this month, and the local unit will close its rolls for the camp at an assembly for drill next Sunday, Captain Beaver said.

The company commander announced receipt yesterday of the quarterly payroll totaling $829.28, which he said is to be distributed among members of the company at the armory at 9:30 o'clock this evening.

HODGINS LEAVE FOR HOME IN WASHINGTON

J. L. Hodgins, Twin Falls attorney, national guard officer and former state representative, with Mrs. Hodgins and their daughter in "734," will leave today for Seattle where he is to have charge of the Northern Life Insurance company's "department" of farm loans. In his new position, he expects to return to Twin Falls two or three times each year.

A native of Boise, Mr. Hodgins was employed through the 1920's here to be associated in the practice of law with his father, the late Shadrach L. Hodgins, former Twin Falls mayor. He was twice elected to the state house of representatives from this county. A veteran of the World War, Mr. Hodgins has been a active member of the American Legion, serving this year as fifth district commander and has also been for several years an officer of the Idaho national guard, recently resigning as major in command of the Second battalion, 41st Engineers.

DAND NAMES OFFICERS AT FIRST REHEARSAL

Looking toward its open-air summer concert season to begin early in June, Twin Falls municipal band members assembled at an annual business meeting and first weekly rehearsal for the season in the band room of the new band shell in Twin Falls city park Monday evening.

Dr. Orrin A. Puller was re-elected musical director, with Jack Thorpe, principal, assisted by an array of selected officers for the coming year. Dr. Puller, who was re-elected, is assisted by Jack Thorpe, principal; Rex Thomas, vice president; Larry Bassett, secretary and treasurer; Homer Birch and Bert T. Black, directors; Monday evening, Dr. Puller, director, and Francis O. Shoberger, manager.

Thirty members of the band attended the meeting and rehearsal. Regular rehearsals are to be held in the new band room on Monday evening of each week.

Drama Offered at W. C. T. U. Session

A group of young people from the church of the Brethren will present the play, "What Shall It Profit?" at the convention of the W. C. T. U. in Gooding tomorrow evening at the Baptist church.

The play centers around mistletoe and tragedy which so often become our greatest teachers," according to Rev. O. H. Hinggardner, Twin Falls, director, who adds that the play has a strong temperance appeal.

The public is invited to attend.

Estonian Speaker Attracts Interest

Revival meetings now being conducted by the Salvation Army are meeting with success and interest in being shown through the preaching of Rev. John Karlsson, proprietor Adjutant E. T. Slack, commandant of the local post.

Rev. Karlsson, a native of Estonia, one of the Balkan states, has had a great deal of experience in revivals, and throughout over 15 years of his ministry in Russia and Estonia has seen many hundreds of conversions, said Slack yesterday.

Speaking last night upon the subject of "The Two Walls" he brought to his hearers the story of Moses, who, because of his close living with God, had to wear a veil to cover the shine of Godliness upon his face. In contrast to Moses, Karlsson told of the words of the apostle Paul who said that Satan had veiled from the people, the truths of the gospel of Jesus Christ.

Meetings are being conducted nightly, with a song service starting at 7:45.

Steel All Around You . . . Sides, Floor and the First Steel Roof!

In 1935 there is one subject, at least, on which every automobile engineer agrees—steel bodies, for greatest strength, greatest ruggedness, greatest safety! Steel—more steel!

But when you look at 1935-cars you find only one manufacturer who gives you bodies all of steel. Hudson, in the new Hudsons and Terraplanes! You want complete protection in your car. You get it in the 1935 Hudsons and Terraplanes. No compromise steel. Front and back of steel. Floor of steel. Sides of steel. Steel doors, steel pillars, steel bulkhead in front—and the first steel roof—sound-deadened, solid, permanent. Not a single bit of wood in any structural part.

And how these cars do go! How they keep on going! Visit any Hudson and Terraplane dealer's showroom and try this new motoring experience.

BEST CURE URGED FOR STORM REGION

Modern Farm Experts Argue With Old Cattlemen Against Plowing

LAMAR, Colo., March 26 (AP)—Forty years ago reventful cattlemen told the southeastern Colorado "cattle" leaders: "This buffalo grass should never be plowed. The land will grow it and the wind will blow it away and you with it."

Farmers thought of that prediction today. The wind had blown part of the land away, but the homesteaders, many of them now substantial citizens, stood with their feet firmly planted on their property prepared for rehabilitation.

Modern agricultural experts side with the old timers and agree much of the land never should have been plowed.

A. J. Hammond, county agent of Prowers county, today preached the complete "rest cure" for two or three years as the only hope for the dry farm lands of this region whose top soils have been "blown away" as much as three miles into the air by terrific winds for three weeks.

Exodus of Cattle

The farmers were making plans to move 50,000 head of cattle to pasture lands in the Colorado mountains and the plains of Kansas for the summer.

Hammond said that the best way to recover in the dust-plagued region.

"The old cattlemen were right," Hammond said. "A considerable amount of this dry land should be permitted to go back to buffalo grass. We've plowed some land that never should have been disturbed."

"It will recover more quickly if the cattle leave for awhile.

"We have overgrazed the land, so the grass that once held the soil against wind, is gone. Our experiments show much of the grass is dead from drought and dust. Only a cessation of grazing can restore the remainder."

He said reports of an exodus of farmers from southeastern Colorado because of the dust storm was exaggerated.

Some 500 hill in the storm-laid night and early today, the wind started again and brought the new familiar yellow dust to the usually brilliant blue sky.

The wind followed its usual routine, flaring to rare proportions in mid-morning and reaching its peak in early afternoon.

YOUNG AFTERNOON FROCK
ADDS A CAPE
PATTERN 2217

by Anne Adams

A cape that is set on a yoke and no sleeves - give little to a dressy look for the young girl, and put her right in the fashion again. The buttons which accent the V of the yoke may be of contrasting color, or crystal ones are lovely on delicately colored fabrics. Because of its simple design, a print, too, if effective when made by this pattern. With a print you might prefer a sash of ribbon to accent the color in the fabric. We'd choose silk crepe, triple sheer, organza or chiffon for really charming results.

Pattern 2217 is available in sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, and 18. Size 12 takes 2 1/2 yards 38 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (Use in coins or stamps (check preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE. Send for your copy of the ANNE ADAMS WINTER FASHION BOOK. Crowded with exclusive patterns for the child, the young girl and the matron. PRICE OF BOOK FIFTEEN CENTS BUT WHEN ORDERED WITH AN ANNE ADAMS PATTERN IS ONLY TEN CENTS. WRITE FIVE CENTS FOR BOTH. Address orders to Twin Falls News Pattern Department, Twin Falls, Idaho.

TUBERCULIN TEST PROJECT COMPLETE

Margaret Thomas Makes Final Report to Anti-Tuberculosis Group

Of the 822 pupils of Junior and senior high school in Twin Falls who took the tuberculin test, offered by the Twin Falls County Anti-Tuberculosis Association in co-operation with the state organization, 49 or 5.7 per cent showed reaction, according to the report of Margaret Thomas, secretary. Fifty per cent of the 301 boys tested, or 153 per cent, showed reaction.

Reaction to the skin test only indicates that tuberculous germ has been in the system, but the X-rays assist in determining how much, if any damage, has been done. The report continues, "While the X-ray factor do not have active cases of tuberculosis, they have come in contact with some one infected."

The Junior-Senior high school Parent-Teacher association is paying for the X-raying of those pupils who could not afford them otherwise. Some cases of other diseases, such as malaria, in order that their bodies may be built up to resist the tubercular germ and effective follow-up work is being done, according to Mrs. Orr Chapman, Twin Falls County Anti-Tuberculosis Association chairman.

The Junior-Senior high school P. T. A. of which Mrs. Merrill is chairman, furnished transportation of the children from the school to the hospital for the taking of X-rays.

Past matrons and past patrons of Twin Falls Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, and Mrs. Minnie Hobbs, Mountain Home, past grand matron, and Mrs. Lulu Will, Glenn Ferry, grand conductress, were honored guests of the chapter at Masonic Temple last evening. A six-thirty o'clock dinner preceded the chapter session and program. Mrs. J. A. Dyckert, worthy matron, presided, welcoming the honorees.

Following the opening remarks, Mrs. J. A. Johnson presented corsage bouquets to the past matrons and past patrons for the past patronage was presented by the past patroness, Mrs. Lulu Will. Mrs. J. A. Johnson presented a Little Gift of Home. An effective ceremony, honoring the special guests, was presented by the five star points: Adah, Mrs. John Harvey; Ruth, Mrs. John Shotwell; Father, Mrs. A. D. Boller; Martha, Mrs. C. J. Boller; and Betty, Mrs. Bertha Belmont. Hamilton. At the conclusion of the ceremony, Mrs. Margaret Owens sang a solo.

Past matrons who were present last evening included Mrs. Frank Baldwin, Mrs. Orla Crocker, Mrs. J. C. Dickerson, Mrs. H. J. Dinklage, Mrs. J. Paul Johnson, Mrs. J. A. Kiefer, Mrs. C. E. Jones, Mrs. E. A. Lendon, Mrs. E. J. Malone, Mrs. F. W. McRobert, Mrs. Catherine Potter, Mrs. A. P. Benton, Mrs. Zenas White, Mrs. Rosa Williams and Mrs. H. M. Brannin. Past patrons attending were Mrs. J. D. Boller, J. W. Bouton, F. W. McRobert, H. L. Dinklage and Rose Williams. The honorees were seated at one long table.

A springtime, "soft" and unusual charm was featured in the table decorations, one table emphasizing red, another yellow, white, pink and the honor table, blue-green. Delicate baskets of butterfly orchids and grape hyacinths, miniature ladies in gowns made of the blue appointments, and pussy willows dotted with artificial flowers in the chaperon hues, made each table attractive.

SENATOR DEFENDS NAVAL MANEUVERS

Pittman Answers Critics of Fleet's Activities in Pacific Ocean

WASHINGTON, March 26 (AP)—Senator Pittman of the senate foreign relations committee today replied to those who have protested that American naval maneuvers in the Pacific this summer were a waste of money. "The United States," he said, "has had 'rehearsal' scores of protests, including one from Professor Lincoln B. LaFollette of Yale University, who expressed 'very grave misgivings' over the fleet maneuvers."

Answering all through a letter to the professor which he placed in the Congressional Record, Pittman said he regretted no such "misgivings." "Some added emphasis" was given his statement, although no connection was indicated, by the fact that Japan's withdrawal from the League of Nations ineffective tomorrow, and many eyes have been on the Orient.

LITHUANIA DOOMS NAZIS TO DEATH

Military Court Sentences Men Accused of Plot to Seize Memel

KAUNAS, Lithuania, March 26 (AP)—Four Nazi leaders accused of directing a plot to seize the former German town of Memel and return it to the reich were sentenced today to die before a firing squad. The men, Emil Boll, Walter Pevs, Henrich Wagan, and Emil Lape, were in a group of 128 Nazis to go on trial before a military court.

Two of those accused were sentenced to life imprisonment, 28 were acquitted, and the sentences of the others convicted ranged from one to 15 years in prison, and in many cases confiscation of property.

It was expected that the death sentence, which raised a storm of protest in Germany, would be commuted to life imprisonment.

While the sentences technically were to be executed in three days, it was unlikely they would be carried out at all.

The condemned men also were found guilty of killing a fellow Nazi whom they suspected of betrayal.

Mrs. D. H. Neilson, who will accompany Jimmie to the States.

Eager to Make Trip

Jimmy was "eager" to make the trip, saying he wouldn't have been afraid to go alone, although he was glad his parents could go along. He was anxious to meet Dr. Trusdale.

"His kind messages make me feel confident he will make me all right so I can play like other boys," Jimmy said.

The lady's voice broke when Don George, president of the student body at Willow Glen school, handed him a check for $25 contributed by school mates.

"Tell them all, every one of them, that I sure appreciate their help and hope to be back among them soon in condition to take part in all school activities," Jimmy said.

SMALLER LEGISLATURES

We have several states playing with the idea of a one-chamber legislature instead of two. This is not really a new idea in American government, because our cities, many of them more populous than some of the states, have one body to make their laws.

Now comes a citizen with a different remedy for legislative ailments. He would make state legislatures smaller not by eliminating one chamber, but by reducing numbers in both. He thinks they would work better with one member in each house from every county. He would like to see the same apply to Congress.

In the latter case, at least, it is hard to see that there would be any gain. The House of Representatives at Washington with about 500 members, does seem to be a sort of mob compared with the Senate's 96. And yet the House lately has shown more efficiency than the Senate.

From the conduct of the latter, it might be inferred that the smaller a legislative body is, the more it will fight, fight politics and waste time.

FREAK STAMP MARKET

Washington postoffice workers were described as "weary, elated and somewhat awed" at the close of the first day's distribution of "ungummed and imperforated stamps" to collectors and dealers.

Such a market for such a commodity is indeed enough to fill any soul with awe. Stamp collectors will have to be reckoned with hereafter, not merely as a hobby group but as an economic and political force of unpredictable power.

Economically, if fairly and wisely dealt with, they might provide an immense market for the sale of stamps in this fashion by the government. They might be made to pay any postoffice deficit. But let no postmaster-general hereafter attempt any personal favors or other philatelic irregularity.

ROLLER SKATE WEDDING

Sentiment and gratitude, not to mention business sense, sometimes lead people to curious acts. A young man and woman were married recently in a roller skating rink, with the whole bridal party—except the two-year-old ring-bearer—on roller skates.

The bridegroom had a little trouble finding a justice of the peace who was expert enough to risk reading the marriage service while on wheels. And the bride's parents were distressed about the lack of dignity.

The young couple's reasons for a wedding on wheels seemed sound to them. In the first place, they had met at the rink and conducted much of their courtship on rollers.

Isn't to be scorned. Why not just wish the young couple happiness, and a married life rolling smoothly along on ball bearings?

RADICAL STUFF

Among radical utterances, perhaps we shouldn't overlook this:

The state today is in more danger from suppression than from violence because in the end suppression leads to violence. This nation will survive, this state will prosper, the orderly business, of life will go forward, only if men can speak in whatever way it is given them to utter, may be their hearts will be voiced, by posted card, by letter or by press.

ANOTHER CONUNDRUM

Good neighbor, here is another section of the sales tax law that invites study, with consequent mental strain and, probably, night sweats. Here it is:

Section 5. Contracts made prior to effective date of act, in any case where retail purchase of real property or service is made under a contract made prior to the effective date of this act, which specifies and fixes the purchase price and such sale is taxable under this act, the retailer may add the tax imposed by this act to the purchase price and collect it from the buyer.

It will be observed that the law says that the dealer "may" add the tax imposed. It does not say that he "shall" do it. In view of the wording of the statute will the person who purchased an automobile or radio a few years ago and is now attempting to meet the bill of the tax called upon to pay a tax on the original purchase price notwithstanding that the value of the property may have depreciated to near nothing?

Was such the intent of the law? If not, what other conclusion can you draw from the wording of the section here quoted? And if so was our legislature and Governor thinking at all when they enacted the law and the section, the section fails to say anything about uncompleted contracts. Is a contract that was made, let us say, for the purchase of a radio five years ago and now completely liquidated, subject to the imposition of a two-percent tax? Carefully read the section here submitted before you attempt an answer. Let it be understood that in this connection we are not studying the sales tax bill we confess that either the legislature was mentally cock-eyed when it enacted the law or we are badly in need of a spring vacation.

POTATOES AND POLITICS

During the campaign of last autumn, the political speakeasies, led by Senator Borah, were very clamorously asserting, the right of every farmer to raise whatever crops he pleased and in any quantity he pleased. This was the position of the political farmers. But the conference of the potato growers from seven northwestern states at Pocatello last week went on record as favoring a controlled potato.

It is not apparent to anyone who will consider the question separate from politics why some sort of control may be of great help. Potatoes are in a different position from grains like wheat. In that none of the previous year's crop is held over to the second year. It does not store well enough. But this leads to violent fluctuations, sometimes from one season to another. There may be a short crop due to past low prices and a bad season, and the price may soar into the clouds. Then everyone goes back into apud again and an enormous acreage is planted. If the season happens to be a favorable one, there may then be an enormous surplus and the price drops too low for profit.

Production cannot be controlled as well as other crops, but guidance can be secured by linking all the producers together. This means, of course, that they must abide by some rule. If they do not, it would be useless to try it. But cooperation of the growers under the supervision of the department of agriculture ought to be done, not to the extreme, of having a bumper crop when the price was low. The difference between the peak and the valleys should not be so great.

THE LEAGUE SPEAKS

The league of nations—looking discreetly the other way when Japan grabbed Manchuria, tut-tutting when war clouds lower over Europe with a bang, ignoring the appeals of its league members, Ethiopia, to be saved from Mussolini—has sternly announced the fishermen have pulled up on catching whales.

The fishes will probably be on catching whales; they slaughtered 40,000 last year. Among the most offenders are whaling fleets that base on the coast. In the old New Bedford days, the Leviathan had some kind of chance; no they shoot him with machine guns from last launches. In the end he will go the way of the dodo.

BREAKFAST FOOD

JUST A QUESTION: A man returning home late one night to a factory door. It read: "Please ring the bell for the caretaker." He gave the bell a terrific pull, nearly dragging it through the door. He was shouting: "Are you the caretaker?" asked the man. "Yes," came the reply. "What do you want?" "I only want to know why you can't ring the bell yourself."

VERY ANGRY: Two ladies were attending concert or something at the Civic Auditorium. Seated in the parquet, they looked about them. One said one lady, "What style of architecture is it?" "I'm not quite sure," said the other lady, "but I think it's Renaissance."

OPHEM: The speaker was opposing women's colleges, and was supporting the continuation of learning. "What will follow," he thundered, "when they take the state away from our leading universities?" A male voice from the rear spoke up, "I will."

WASHINGTON: WOUNDS. Unless all signs fall, members of President Roosevelt's own political party rapidly are fashioning for him a hair shirt some what similar in design to the one Herbert Hoover scratched bitterly under a few years back.

SOBERER. That old devil John G. Living — kept in the background for two years by the incessant clamor to raise prices—did not crash into the middle-of-the-thing in the near future. New Yorkers in close contact with Washington learn that hordes of irritated consumers linked by the mounting cost of steak and butter are telling it to their Congressmen.

REBELS. A survey of recent legislative voices and a canvass of important offices on Capitol Hill make it obvious that blind followers of President Roosevelt is a thing of the past. His legislative program goes under the microscope at every point with vivisection a distinct possibility.

GAMBLE. Democratic Public Enemy No. 1 as far as the White House is concerned is Senator Huey Long. The flamboyant Kingfish, according to his blind followers, came from New Deal scouts in the field, is getting himself a following that will spell trouble if it sticks with him until the next presidential election.

BEATEN. Now waving on the hair shirt is being done in the Senate by the coalition of Democrats and Republicans. The big gamble is whether Huey has touched off his skyrocket too early.

A New Yorker at Large

By JAMES B. HESTON

NEW YORK—Richard Berry Harrison, a godly, 70-year-old Negro school teacher, who has been a peace understanding, has finally reached the green pastures.

Richard Harrison believed in this play and in his role. There was nothing sentimental about him. He was a man of the world, a man who had seen his Bible under his arm. But the cast of The Green Pastures knew that he was a man of the world. He had seen his Bible under his arm. But the cast of The Green Pastures knew that he was a man of the world.

Readings and lectures all over the country brought him a comfortable living, and at 60, he was offered the job of teaching at the Y. He took it. He was, until the day he died, superstitious about that. When the offer was made he had a bad feeling. He said on the night I saw him that he still did not know what made him accept the job.

He might have spent all his life as a pastor around the world. He had not been for his kindness to a blind child, who was in a special play going from town to town. He had not been for his kindness to a blind child, who was in a special play going from town to town.

Commission Designates Braddock No. 1 Title Contender Idaho Should Remain In Coast Conference, Ted Bank Declares

Fight Bosses Refuse To Sanction Proposed Baer-Schmeling Bout

Veteran Jersey City Heavyweight, Once Declared Unfit Opponent For Neusel, Gets First Call

By BOB CAVANARO (Associated Press Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, March 26 (AP)—From almost total obscurity 96 hours ago, James J. Braddock, Jersey City heavyweight, was skyrocketed to the fistic stratosphere today when the New York state athletic commission designated him its No. 1 contender for the championship-boxing-crown-adorned Jimmy Watson's head.

The commission's edict, issued after a two hour session during which it refused to sanction Madison Square Garden's proposed title bout between Baer and Max Schmeling here in June, was tantamount to selecting the champion's opponent of bare knuckle championship-in-the-state-ironically enough the commission's decision comes a little more than a year after the boxing referee refused to sanction a bout between Braddock and Walter Neusel, declaring that Braddock was an unfit opponent.

Schmeling-Braddock took Colonel John R. Kilduff, president of the Garden corporation, faced with the alternative of having to stage the Baer-Schmeling fight out of the state, was a counter proposition by the commission. It said Schmeling will be permitted to meet the New York state-provided-hell-engage in a preliminary contest against Braddock and he could knock out Braddock, said Hoffman, adding that if he does not, he will be permitted to meet the Jersey veteran who booted his stock last Friday when he decisively defeated California's Art Lasky, in 15 rounds.

In the midst of these developments Braddock was eliminated from championship contention. The giant Italian was offered a bout with Braddock by his manager, Louis Scola, turned it down because the Garden refused to compare with his demand that a $50,000 guarantee be posted to insure the winner a crack at the crown.

"Jimmy Johnson wouldn't completely have been broken by the Garden and once is enough," Scola said.

Coach Campaigns Against Tip-Off

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., March 26 (AP)—Bearing petitions from Pacific coast basketball coaches for the elimination of the center tip-off from the game, John Bunn, Stanford cage coach, will leave tomorrow to attend the National Basketball Coaches' association meeting at Chicago April 3, 4 and 5.

Bunn plans to conduct a vigorous campaign for the proposed rule. Experiments conducted on the coast last year won a majority of coaches to the move.

Fresh Mentor Drills Grizzlies in Spring Football Workouts

MISSOULA, Mont., March 26 (AP)—Five Montana university football candidates reported for spring practice today, although the institution still is without a head coach.

Glenn Edwards, former all-American tackle at Washington State college and for three years a member of the Boston Redskins professional football team, is one of several recent applicants for the Montana coaching job vacated by Bernard F. "Bunny" O'Connell, recently signed as gridiron mentor at Colorado university.

The athletic committee told the reporting gridders it would not hurry selection of a coach, although it expects to name a new mentor by April 18. A. J. Lewandowski, freshman coach, will handle the variety spring practice in the meantime.

Cleveland Tribe Accepts Detroit Pilot's Challenge

Indians' Optimism Checked by Loss of Brilliant Young Shortstop; Louis Berger Picked for Second Base

By ALAN GOULD (Associated Press Sports Editor)
NEW ORLEANS, La., March 26 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians do not expect to be nominated as the successor to Detroit at the top of the American league, but frankly compels Manager Walter Johnson to admit that any optimism has been abruptly checked by the loss of Billy Knickerbocker, brilliant young shortstop.

The Indians are certain to be one of Detroit's strongest challengers, no less so because of the crack recent loss to Mickey Cochran, the Tiger chief. Mickey's abrupt "Who are the Indians?"-based on the fact Detroit took 16 out of 22 games from Cleveland last year during the pennant drive—has re-energized through the winter woe of the Indians.

"I know Cochran doesn't underestimate our ball club," smiled Johnson, "but we have a young outfield and it runs quickly to a challenge of that kind of a dressing room talk."

Savoldi Defeats 'Strangler' Lewis

'Jumping Joe,' Kayoed by Title Claimant, Returns to Win

SAN FRANCISCO, March 26 (AP)—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, Glendale, former world's heavyweight wrestling title claimant, scored a successful knockout over Joe Savoldi, 210, former Notre Dame grid star, but 'Jumping Joe' beat him by taking the first two rounds of his wrestling match here tonight.

The knockout came during the first round after Savoldi had taken the first fall with a front toe hold in 15 minutes, forcing Lewis to quit.

Angered, the Strangler rushed across the ring, dragged Savoldi from his stool, landed several blows to the chin and stomach and then finished Joe off with one of his famous headlocks. Savoldi was knocked unconscious.

Still weak when the bell sounded for the second fall, Savoldi was again marked for knockout and was thrown in one minute.

The ex-fallout still appeared wobbly coming out for the third fall, but he dropped Lewis into submission in one and a half minutes.

Brooklyn Youngsters Must Make Good This Year

(Second of a series of articles on rookies in the major leagues) By EDWARD J. KELLY (Associated Press Sports Writer)
ORLANDO, Fla.—Nothing could be simpler than Casey Stengel's problem with the rookies, who reported to him at Tinker field here for spring training. Good, bad or indifferent, hot or cold, most of them automatically became members of the Brooklyn ball club.

The only ones left-handed hurriers the Brooklyn's have are old Tom Zachary—who's so seasoned he's practically overdone—and William Watson Clark, back from the Plains but by no means a rookie. The only one who's got to be healthy will hold up under major league campaigning.

Casey must have a vigorous lefty; it must be either Logan, who won 20 games in the American A-league last year, or Lamanke, who captured 24 for Dayton. The latter hung up 17 of his wins in a row, including both halves of that record. He had struck out 226 men for the best record in organized ball in that respect in 1934.

New Head Coach Of Vandal Team Stops at Boise

'About All I Can Do Now Is Shrug My Shoulders and Work and Hope for the Rest,' Says Grid Mentor

BOISE, March 26 (AP)—Idaho university's new head football coach, Ted Bank of Tulane university at New Orleans, was Moscow-bound tonight after telling a handful of greeters at Boise he wasn't making any predictions yet on what he'll do with the Vandals next fall.

He was accompanied by his assistant, R. A. Thayer, Tulane star of last season, and left his transcontinental train here long enough to meet a few Idaho alumni he photographed and talk with them.

Asked what chances are in his opinion with the numerous disadvantaged smaller universities and colleges which larger school football teams in the west coast conference, he said: "About all I can do now is shrug my shoulders and hope for the best. I know it's a problem. We'll cope with it the best we can."

FEDERAL LENDING RECORDS NEW HIGH

Government Loans Nearly Three Billion More Than in 1933

WASHINGTON, March 26 (AP)—A compilation of figures from the principal lending agencies of the federal government disclosed today that it loaned $2,077,000,000 more in 1934 than in 1933.

This increase was emphasized by a report of the federal reserve system showing that member banks loaned $600,000,000 less in 1934 than the year before.

Another important factor in considering government lending figures is the low ebb to which capital security issues dropped during 1934. In recent weeks has the security market shown an appreciable break in capital market offerings, with Swift and company of Chicago apparently starting the trend with a large refunding bond issue. New registration of issues for the month of March now approach $200,000,000.

It was into the long term capital loan market that most of the federal money flowed as compared with the short term loans which make up the greatest volume of commercial bank advances.

The federal reserve loan figures, however, did not reflect the lending of some 9,000 state banks which are not included in the federal reports and which do not report their activities to Washington.

The four principal lending agencies of the federal government, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, the public works administration, the farm credit administration and the Home Owners Loan Corporation, loaned $3,154,000,000 in 1933 and $6,161,000,000 in 1934.

CUMULATIVE SNOWFALL AT HAILEY ADVANCES

HAILEY, March 26—Snowfall at Hailey during the additional 48 hours during the past season to the cumulative average for this time of the year, according to the federal report of M. S. Benedict, supervisor of the Sawtooth national forest, is the highest in the history of the city (filed since October 1) amounts to 80.95 inches while the average for this time of the year has been 41.90 inches.

A year ago only 49.95 inches had fallen.

Of this year's fall there has been 528 inches of water content while water content in the 1934 snow amounted to 41 inches. This year there has been a total of 1.26 inches of rainfall as compared with 2.74 a year ago.

On Soldier creek this year there has been 17.16 inches of snowfall with 10.17 inches of water content and 2.9 inches of rainfall. One year ago there was a cumulative average of 17.41 inches with 8.77 inches of water content and 2.76 inches of rainfall.

Snow depths by inches in the Sawtooth forest as reported are: Hailey, 31; Ketchikan, 29; Graham's ranch, 31; Galena, 37; Masco mine, 40; Old Baldy No. 1, 18; Old Baldy No. 2, 45; Soldier ranger station, 13; Fairfield, 6; Featherly, 16; Rocky Bar, 33; Vienna mine, 32; Williams ranch, 26.

MORE ROOM PLANNED FOR PUBLIC WORKS

BOISE, March 26 (AP)—Plans have been drafted for construction of two additional stories to the heating plant building at the capitol here for use by the highway department, the summer highway department engineer, announced today.

The plans call for an expenditure of approximately $40,000, but have not yet been approved by Governor Ross.

The additional space is necessary, it was said, to provide more room for official functions of the state department of highways which the bureau of highways is a part.

Scattered Snowfall In Northern Rockies

(By The Associated Press)

A deep low pressure center is centered over Winnipeg and secondary center appears over southern Colorado. These low pressure areas are producing scattered snow flurries in the northern Rockies and moderately strong winds in the plains region. A fairly high high is centering over the Oregon coast, preceded by somewhat lower temperatures in the plateau states. Fair weather and mild temperatures prevail in the eastern states.

LIQUOR BOARD TO MOVE CAUTIOUSLY

Yeaman Says Commission Seeks to Avoid Mistakes of Others.

BOISE, March 26 (AP)—Idaho's three-man liquor commission is trying everything possible to avert the mistakes other states have made through inexperience when they set up state-owned stores. Mr. B. Yeaman, Idaho Falls member of the commission, said tonight.

His statement came at the end of a day devoted to a consideration of the liquor problem and selection of an auditor who will aid in organizing the accounting department of the commission and will direct that work.

The commission selected Milton Jenkins of Boise for the position.

"We have a year number of problems to consider," Mr. Yeaman noted.

"We are trying to be guided by the experience of other states that have established stores. We do not want to be misled by the fact that they are successful. We hope to stock a supply of merchandise that is chemically pure, at prices as low as consistent with high quality and eliminate bootlegging."

"We intend to buy what the public wants—but we do not intend to carry such a large stock that we will be overstocked like some states."

"The commission is moving cautiously and we hope to do what we do well," Mr. Yeaman said.

He added he doubted now if the first state store will be opened in Boise by the end of the week as members of the commission previously had indicated might be possible. It might be closer to the fifteenth of April, he said.

CASH ASKED FOR UNPLANTED BEETS

Colorado Growers Apply to AAA for Deficiency Payment

GREELEY, Colo., March 26 (AP)—Directors of the Mountain States Beet-Growers Marketing association announced today they will ask the AAA for deficiency payment of $1 a ton for sugar beet growers who had growing allotments but were not planted.

The directors said they were attempting to protect beet producers whose dubious irrigation water prospects make the planting of beet seed a probable waste of money.

Sugar growers today sent a telegram to John Dalton, head of the sugar section of A.A. saying they were unable to reach an agreement with the Great Western Sugar company on a 1935 marketing contract.
