MEATLESS PERIOD LOOMS FOR NATION

Livestock Marketing Heads Predict Greatest Short- age Next Two Years

CHICAGO, March 30 (AP)—America, the National Livestock Marketing association was told, faces its greatest meat shortage during the next two years.

Twenty-four marketing managers, reporting on livestock conditions in their areas, made the prediction to the association, which represents 25,000 livestock producers.

The blackest report came from F. E. Hawks, manager of the Inter-mountain Marketing association at Denver Colorado, who said grazing lands east of the great divide for hundreds of miles are in worse condition than a year ago.

"In this area, normally the finest grazing land in the nation, only one cent remains for cattle feed," Hawks said. "Fifty thousand head of cattle must be slaughtered in the next two years to make up the deficit. Cattle men are grabbing at any pasture land west of the divide which they can obtain, since there will be fairly good grass on that side."

ERROR CREEPS INTO STORY OF LAWSUIT

J. H. Barnes of Twin Falls, as attorney for Joe Williams of Hansen, has requested The News to make correction of an erroneous statement in connection with its account of a suit that Mr. Williams started in the district court here last Friday for approximately $500 damages from Judge J. R. Bothwell, Twin Falls attorney, on account of a collision in which Williams' truck and a car driven by Judge Bothwell's daughter, Elizabeth Bothwell, were involved last February 9.

The News account erroneously stated that Miss Bothwell was severely injured in the collision. The fact is that two of her companions, Catherine Cobrell and Edna Gramund were severely hurt, each suffering fracture of the pelvis, and Miss Colwell still is under treatment at the hospital. Miss Bothwell suffered a fractured rib. The accident occurred on the highway near Twin Falls, as Miss Bothwell and her companions, all members of Twin Falls high school girls' basketball team, were returning from a game at Blackfoot.

The News carries the error in its account, and is glad to make the correction.

Referring to another statement in the report of the damage suit, Mr. Barnes requested publication of the following:

"Joe Williams was not held on a drunken driving charge. He was not held on any charge, but returned to his home the evening the collision occurred, and was not arrested until February 18, when a warrant charging him with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor was issued. If Joe Williams was drunk that night, he should have been thrown into jail immediately. His trial and acquittal by unanimous verdict occurred February 27."

Separate Treaty Gives U. S. Important Versailles Rights

By WILLIAM S. WHITE

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—The United States made formal peace with Germany more than two years after the treaty of Versailles, but the Hitler government's repudiation of military clauses of that historic document technically affects this country just as much as it does the 22 signatories.

America did not ratify the Versailles pact because it incorporated the League of Nations covenant, and the so-called senate "irreconcilables" carried on a long successful campaign to keep out of the league. The upshot was that the separate German-American treaty was proclaimed on November 14, 1921.

Practically the separate pact contained about everything material in the Versailles treaty save the league clauses. It consisted of only three articles, which:

Guaranteed to this country indemnities and reparations.

Guaranteed "all the rights and advantages stipulated for the benefit of the United States in the treaty of Versailles which the United States shall fully enjoy notwithstanding the fact that such treaty has not been ratified by the United States."

Set forth especially that the Versailles clauses clamping down on German armament were among those "rights" in that instrument which the United States would "have and enjoy."

Provided that the United States should not be bound by any provisions of Versailles "which relate to the covenant, of the League of Nations."

A bit of romance were combined in the thrilling mystery. The excellent dialogue was relieved by a piece of scintillating comedy portrayed by Mrs. Glen Taylor.

Mrs. Arlene Bealey and James Miller appeared in the leading roles with George Catmull, another brother of the author, portraying the part of "The Green Dragon." Morris Baker, cast as a Chinese servant, gave an added air of mystery to the play. David Hyde, Mrs. Arlene Bealey and Mrs. Zona Miller, as father and daughters gave fine interpretations of an eminent physician and his beautiful daughters, victims of the mysterious dragon. James Miller as the detective kept the action of the play moving.

LOOK AHEAD WHEN YOU BUY A CAR

HENRY FORD said thirty years ago that he wasn't just selling cars—he was furnishing transportation. If you bought a Ford, Mr. Ford recognized his responsibility to furnish service for it, to keep it running satisfactorily until it wore out.

And that is Ford policy today just as it was in 1905. Buy a Ford car, whether new or used, and you are entitled to the benefits and economies of Ford Service.

That is why thousands of well-equipped Ford Service Stations dot the world. You can get the help of trained mechanics, and genuine Ford parts, in almost every village and town.

And more than that—you can get the help of the Ford factory when it comes to major repair work. Ford has done something different to save your time and money. Ford Service has an Engine Exchange Plan by which in a few hours you can have an engine installed which has been reconditioned at the factory. And you save at least one-third the cost of an ordinary engine overhaul. You can get the same Exchange Service on smaller units such as carburetor, distributor, generator, fuel pump.

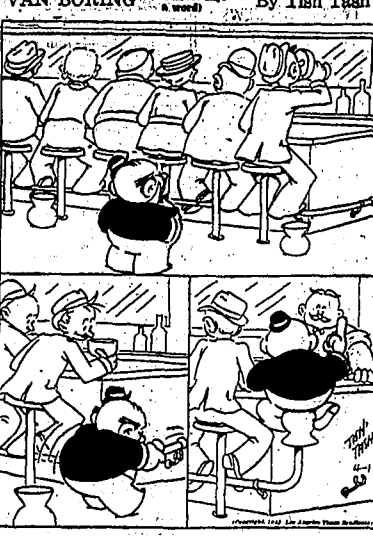

In many communities, Ford dealers are adding Neighborhood Service Stations in order to bring Ford Service closer to you. They are also installing the scientific new Ford Laboratory Test Set, which tells in a minute what is wrong with any engine or electrical system.

All this is to give you more satisfaction in the use of your Ford car, at less cost. We believe it will cost you far less if you own a Ford and use Ford Service.

THE CITY ELECTION

No more important City election has ever been held in Twin Falls than that which will take place on Tuesday.

On the surface the campaign to date has been a comparatively quiet one but beneath there is an undercurrent of seething discontent with existing conditions which has been growing for months and which will probably result in the polling of one of the heaviest votes in the history of the City.

Over five thousand persons have registered for the election, signifying their intention of voting. As a matter of fact no town with the population of Twin Falls could possibly muster such an electorate and color is lent to charges of illegal registrations on a small scale by investigations which have disclosed a number of actual instances.

Those who believe in a clean and business like administration of the affairs of Twin Falls and who are opposed to a continuation of the regime of the past two years under Mayor Johnston will find it necessary to muster every available vote if defeat is to be averted.

FAITH AND COURAGE

The nation lately has been having jitters again in the big cities and gloom in the provinces. And just at the turn of spring, when ordinarily there is a new outburst of hope.

Recovery drags. Economic groups fight each other. Political groups struggle for cheap advantage. Patriotic leaders exhaust their powers in personal sniping. Fear and selfishness are rampant, and one does as much harm as the other. Drouth reappears, and great dust storms rise again, as if they represented the wrath of heaven.

As of old—"Men cry peace, peace, but there is no peace." Men cry security, security, but there is no security.

Yet most of these perils are merely in men's minds—in wrong thinking and in Yearsome imagination. There are in America, and in many other countries, all the requisites of prosperity, peace and happiness if people will only see and use them. And here especially progress toward better times and a better life has already begun, as surely as the spring has begun, if we will but open our eyes and see it.

As a political issue, the quintuplets are primarily the concern of Canada province. There is a minor concern and must share public attention with many more pressing problems of policy. Despite the opposition of the Conservative party, Premier Hepburn's Liberal government does not appear to be in any danger of being overthrown, because it has arranged to have the Misses Dionne created special wards of the provincial-ministry-of-welfare. Even the warning of a widely known Toronto Conservative that if the proposed legislation was enacted, "you won't be able to do anything in this country the way the government is taking power" has failed to arouse any real interest in the political conscience of the government's quintuplet policy.

Friends of Yvonne, Annette, Emilie, Cecile and Marie, therefore, will hope that their affairs may be taken out of politics as soon as possible and returned to a sound scientific basis.

CONTRACTS WITH RINGS

New York was one of the states in which the plan of the Indiana woman legislator for abolishing suits for breach of promise and for alienation of affections was adopted. But now for the time being the plan at Albany has been amended in committee that its enactment is said to be assured. By the amendments the courts would still be open to breach of promise actions when a written contract to marry has been signed by both parties and also to alienation suits against a father, mother, brother, sister or guardian, but against no others.

The text of the measure recites that the remedies heretofore afforded in these suits have been subject to grave abuses, causing "extreme annoyance, embarrassment, humiliation and pecuniary loss to many persons, and the expense and time involved in the litigation of this kind, but the records show that it is another class of litigation which has been brought into disrepute as partaking of the character of blackmailing suits. It is hardly to be assumed that engagements reduced to writing are contracts for sale of the soul with the ring, will become a social custom in New York and other states adopting the change.

BRAINS AND BLUES

And now scientists say that brains and blues go together. In an intelligence test the score of the optimists was much lower than the score of the pessimists, as reported by the Los Angeles Times.

Maybe the inferiority complex is not so bad after all. What the scientific complex is, is too easily satisfied. It lacks application. It tends to let things slide.

SWEEPING

The President authorized Hopkins in the order either to purchase real or personal property or to take over by the power of eminent domain in connection with the construction or carrying out of any project of program intended by allocations, allotments, or transfers of money from the Federal Treasury under the terms of the National Relief Administration Act or acts supplementing the appropriations heretofore made.

That last line sounds very much like the impending $4,880,000,000 Federal Reserve bill—except that it is not a bill—except that it is not a bill—except that it is not a bill.

ANSWER. Criticism from business men has been growing that the administration is too much like a man who says, "Word keep coming back to Washington, but they say it should do two things—put bigger and better men in some of the key jobs behind the scenes."

ROSS. Informed sources say that the fore again in connection with FDR's mysterious work-relief program. The combination of Ross in question is Frank Walker, former Democratic National Treasurer and Director of the National Emergency Administration, who has traded so far as the fore again in connection with FDR's mysterious work-relief program.

These men say: "We have stated before and we repeat, no promises or pledges or intimations of any kind have been made by any of us during this campaign with respect to city positions or preference and any statement to the contrary is uttered with intent to deceive. If elected we pledge our best effort on behalf of the citizens as a whole and in the interests of the City of Twin Falls."

A WARNING!

TO THE LABORING MEN AND WOMEN OF TWIN FALLS!

In view of the unfounded charges that have been made against Duncan McD. Johnson by his opponents in the city election, we feel that the laboring class and the people generally should be warned against such malicious tactics.

It should be obvious to the average laborer that the old political dictators who are behind the ticket opposing Mr. Johnston are not, and never have been, friends of labor. It has been said that they will resort to anything to get in power once more, and their method of conducting their campaign indicates they are doing just that.

Mayor Johnston, as every laboring man knows, has put up a strong fight in behalf of labor throughout his two years in office, and these rival political leaders who now seek to undermine him with their ruthless and unsportsmanlike attacks have been the strongest critics of his efforts in the interests of labor.

Mr. Johnston has said he will not resort to any form of mudslinging to win this election; that instead he will stand on his record and let the people judge for themselves as to the candidates they wish to put in office.

We know that any differences that may have existed between Mayor Johnston and the PETA administrators have been in upholding our rights. He has worked for the betterment of the laborers and with the backing of the laborers and labor organizations of Twin Falls county. Furthermore there is nothing but the friendliest feeling between Mayor Johnston and the present county, state and national relief administration.

During the two years he has been in office, Mayor Duncan McD. Johnston, with the aid of the present city administration, has reduced the operating expenses of the city to an amount $25,140.00 less than the preceding administration.

If Re-elected Johnston Will:

Continue with further progressive steps of civic improvements, including completion of the grading, graveling and oiling of the city streets.

Baer Receives $300,000 Guarantee to Meet Schmeling Idaho Coach Issues 60 Uniforms For Spring Football Practice

Bout To Be Staged In London Or Rome, Promoter Announces

I'm Already Figuring How Much to Charge For Ringside Seats, Walter Rothenberg Declares

LONDON, March 30.—Max Baer vs Max Schmeling for the world's heavyweight boxing championship either here or in Rome sometime during August.

That was the confident prediction tonight of Walter Rothenberg, German sports promoter, who staged the Schmeling-Steve Hamas fight at Hamburg March 10.

In London to arrange to have the heavyweights clash at nearby White City August 17, Rothenberg flashed an official looking document signed by Schmeling and which he hinted as an agreement to meet Baer somewhere in Europe.

"You'll see," smiled Rothenberg, "I'll have the fight here. I'm already figuring how much to charge for ringside seats.

Fat Guarantee "Baer has agreed, he will receive a guarantee of $300,000. I sent a copy of the contract to April Hoffman, his manager, on the Bremen and via air mail Hoffman should get it today."

While Rothenberg was hustling about London, Schmeling was telling newspaper men in Berlin that he would prefer to meet Baer on neutral ground and pointing out that Rothenberg is trying to book the match for White City, Max finally refused to meet James J. Braddock, recent conqueror of Art Lasky, as suggested by the New York state athletic commission.

Objects to Taxes Although Schmeling is reported to have given Joe Jacobs, an American manager, a signed agreement to meet Baer under the auspices of the Madison Square Garden corporation of New York, it is reported authoritatively the German is not keen to fight again in America because of the heavy income taxes and also because he has to cut Jacobs in for 50 per cent of his American purses.

Also in London today was Max Hamas and his manager, Charlie Harvey. "They will stay a week. Hamas has recovered from the severe beating he took at Hamburg except for a slight limp resulting from a cut injury received during his college days.

Braddock, 'The Man Who Came Back', Takes Play From Former Titleholders

... Detroit's sensation, Joe Louis

By JOHN STARR (Associated Press Sports Writer) NEW YORK (AP)—The match-making merry-go-round on which the four standard applicants for a shot at Max Baer's heavyweight crown are riding may get dizzier and dizzier, if possible, before a title bout is finally arranged, but developments thus far at least serve to point out one of the most amazing comebacks in ring history. Little more than a year after he had been refused permission to fight the German Walter Neusel—on the ground he was "not a fit opponent"—James J. Braddock, strapping 28-year-old New Jersey dockman heard the same refusal, the New York boxing commission, solemnly nominating him as its No. 1 challenger for Tom Sayers' championship.

GREAT RICHES

By Michael Horne Franklin

laughed at. After long and acrimonious argument, in which James, to his pain and surprise, found himself cast accurately in the role of the culprit, his advice was accepted.

"The Northrup woman is a scoundrel," he said to nothing, except keep the last honor from James, who was dismissed in ignominy, not even allowed a sign to the stricken bride. He went slowly, a puzzled and abysmally gloomy young man. God, if he'd only had the sense to fall in love with an orphan.

When Jane had barely managed a measure of calm, James telephoned her at six o'clock, ostensibly to ask how she felt and in reality to tell her calmly that she was not to mind about the cards, that it would be all the same in a hundred years and that she was to cheer up and forget all about it.

Chapter 34. CLAPNET TEMPEST

James fell at last into an exhausted sleep. He was so exhausted that he did not wake until Aunt Lou awakened him. "Miss Northrup calling you on the telephone," she said.

James, with a terrible upset and wants that she should come right over there where you can talk to me," James burst leaped high with excitement as he hurried into his clothes, slipped on a cup of coffee and ran to the car.

James didn't want to get married, but the courage he lacked, the nerves he got and the beautiful car, the slow-moving car all the way down South Fifth Street and across Fifth and jumped over the fence and halted at Oak Street. Mrs. Northrup was waiting for him on the sidewalk.

"Look very happy young man," she said grimly and led the way into the front parlor. "What's the matter? What's happened?" James asked, and stilled the feet that wanted to caper. He stood in a daze of confusion as he looked at her, horrified, and he wasn't good at pretending. Trust that old hairy old woman to know him!

"What's the matter?" she asked, sitting Jane alone. Good old Jane, she and she.

"Mrs. Northrup she's all right," Mrs. Northrup said, "but rather that beautiful Mabel Webster. She won't allow me to have candles on the altar, and she's got such beautiful candles, hand-dipped, Jane was in hysterics. I tried to give her a bromide, it does nothing for all our work."

"What's the matter?" James interrupted. "What's the altar going to do with it?"

"The altar was a Congregationalist, the Northrup Episcopalians. James made out finally from Mrs. Northrup's confused explanation that the present Episcopal rector was high church and Mrs. Northrup low church and she was the rector's daughter. She had the authority to tell candles on the altar and Mrs. Northrup unhappily, had fought the rector's daughter."

"The altar," Mrs. Northrup called up that very morning. "What's the matter? What's happened?" James asked, and stilled the feet that wanted to caper. He stood in a daze of confusion as he looked at her, horrified, and he wasn't good at pretending. Trust that old hairy old woman to know him!

Snubbed Secretary

WHEN MISS MARTHA J. AMES (above), California, alumna, refused to act as a hostess at the reception to Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins because she thought "a brass politician" should not have been invited to be Charles Day speaker at the university it drew the ire of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the president, and occasioned a verbal war over the verb "snub." Mrs. Ames, who is a graduate of the California Institute of Technology, is now in Twin Falls, Idaho, on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. J. H. Ames, who is a resident of this city.

The program featured vocal selections by James Reynolds, with Mrs. Nellie Ostrom at the piano. Florence Fuld sang two popular numbers, accompanied by Miss Alma Dean. Loyola Rountree favored the group with harmonica music. Miss Bernice Diller and Mrs. N. E. Wonnock gave readings. Proceeds of the entertainment are to be used in redecorating the church building.

Widely Available—The new 35 to 12 1/2 inch driver of the "Widely Available" is now on hand at the home of Mrs. J. H. Ames, 32 W. Hildeman, returned Wednesday to their home at Golden, Colo. SPIKING ANOTHER RUMOR

For the purpose of influencing the vote of the laboring man, it is being persistently rumored that the candidate for Mayor, Bert Sweet, is opposed to a reasonable wage scale for the laboring man, and that the Chamber of Commerce is in favor of Mr. Sweet's candidacy that while he was president of the Chamber of Commerce, of which Sweet was elected at the annual meeting during 1934, has been and is opposed to a reasonable wage for the laboring man. And it is further alleged that Mr. Sweet's candidacy that while he was president of the Chamber of Commerce, of which Sweet was elected at the annual meeting during the harvest of 1934, that the Chamber of Commerce advertised in outside papers for labor in taking care of the harvest and that such advertising was promoted by the Chamber of Commerce in spite of the fact that there was more than sufficient labor in Twin Falls to take care of the harvest.

All of these statements are untrue and malicious. The facts are: That an advertisement in an eastern paper of that nature was called to the attention of the Chamber of Commerce, and the Chamber of Commerce, through its secretary, made every effort to ascertain who was responsible for such advertising. But, upon inquiry, it was learned that the newspaper in question that someone unknown to the newspaper management had placed the advertisement in the paper and paid for it as a Classified ad.

The Chamber of Commerce has at all times exerted every effort to provide for the welfare of the community and its citizens, including the laboring man. As an instance of this, in 1933 the Department of Agriculture sent a representative to this community who requested the Chamber of Commerce to give him desk room for the purpose of finding employment for farm laborers. The officers of the Chamber of Commerce specifically inquired of him if he had intention to furnish labor for this community from other communities and that he was his intentions the Chamber of Commerce would not lend their assistance. REGISTRATION RECORDS NEW HIGH

Last Day for Registration Brings Out 403 More Electors

The time of registration for Twin Falls city elections next Tuesday morning, to a new peak just before the expiration of the time limit last night, and registration records showed yesterday of 403 prospective voters and a total of 1317 since registration lists for the coming election opened last March 2. The previous day's high mark was recorded Friday with 170 registrations.

A total of 178 absent voters' ballots had been cast last night.

The number of Twin Falls eligible voters could not be determined definitely pending a final check of registration cards, some of which have been in the hands of the city clerk, W. H. Edridge, city clerk in charge of registration, said last night. It was estimated the total would approximate 5000.

Two Polling places

Voters in next Tuesday's election are to elect the city clerk and choose two members of the council, each for a four-year term.

Voters in the first ward, north and west of Shoshone street, will cast their ballots at Twin Falls Cooperative Exchange, 136 Second avenue north, and those of the second ward, east and south of Shoshone street, will vote at the Lind Automobile company, 201 Main avenue north.

Polls will open at 9 a. m. and remain open until 7 p. m.

The law governing elections under the constitution form, falls, among other things, the hauling of voters to the polling places.

FUNERALS

GOODMAN—Funeral services for J. W. Goodman will be held at the Odd Fellows hall at Shoshone at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The body rests at the White mortuary.

SWICK—Funeral services for Edward Swick will be held this afternoon at Ryans and Johnson Funeral Home, Dr. William Basil Young officiating.

Campaign Includes Public Meeting in Twin Falls; Steps Outlined

An intensive campaign to bring an end to the state sales tax by means of the referendum is to be brought to Twin Falls at a public meeting in the district court room at 8 o'clock Monday evening, B. V. Wainman of Boise, secretary of the Anti-Sales Tax League, announced here yesterday.

The Anti-Sales Tax League, he said, has been organized through the insistence and cooperation of business men throughout the state. Frank B. Kivron of Boise is president, and Frank Atkins of Buhl, vice president.

BUTTER IMPORTATIONS EXPOSED BY HACKMAN

The United States has imported more than 7,000,000 pounds of foreign butter since January 1, almost seven times the total imports of this commodity during all of 1934, Turner K. Hackman, Twin Falls attorney, has informed Townsend clubs throughout southern Idaho, in a series of addresses.

Investigations show that butter produced in eight countries has been shipped to New York, boosted over the 14 cents per pound tariff wall, and apparently marketed at profit to shippers, according to Mr. Hackman.

Student Body Gets Instruction In Rhythm and Band Gets Outfits

To purchase new outfits for the pep band, the "H-Y" club yesterday afternoon held a benefit assembly, featuring an hour's entertainment by "Chuck" Helm and his Continental. Officers of the club announced that the rubbers were sufficient to provide the much-needed uniforms.

Helm, in announcing the program, stated that the students would be given a one-hour course on the subject of rhythm. "The first assignment was listening to 'The Merry Widow Waltz,' 'Easier Smith' and Agnes Davis illustrated the fundamental rhythms of tap dancing. 'Honey Bird' featured a song, dance and dialogue mixture by two members of the orchestra followed.

The students next advanced to the study of Argentine rhythm, with 'Tango Nigo,' as an example. The next number was an orchestration of 'Rockin' Rollin' Rhythm of the Sea.' Illustrating that the student may see as well as hear rhythm, seven of Marie Dunn Helm's dancers next took the stage, doing the 'Hazelton Strut.' Marie Helm and Betty June Far started in the next two numbers, 'College Rhythm,' and 'Love Is Just Around the Corner,' and then appropriately continued orchestra members traced the history of rhythm back to the old melodrama with a dramatic satire of that period.

"'Side Walter de Cuba' and 'La Guacarama' were the examples of rumba rhythm offered. Director Helm then illustrated a Republican's interpretation of a Democratic campaign speech. 'Fare-Thee-Well Annabel' brought in the rhythm of a train, and Wayne Kenworthy and Marie Helm demonstrated 'fast rhythm tapping.' 'China Boy' was given as a preliminary to 'examination.' Left to choose a final number as a test of their knowledge in the course, the assembly picked 'The Peanut Vendor.'

SCOUTERS MEET HERE AT CAMP CONFERENCE

Delayed on the road from Pocatello by a motor bus breakdown, L. L. McDonald of Yonkers, New York, director of camping for the Boy Scouts of America, arrived in Twin Falls at noon yesterday in time to join nearly two score scouts from five Boy Scout areas at luncheon at the Rogerson hotel, and then spent the afternoon with them in a camping conference in the Elks lodge room, outlining camping trends and technique and discussing camping problems.

Scouters who took part in the conference came from Idaho Falls, Pocatello, Boise and the eastern Oregon area, each area being equally represented. They are to take back to their Boy Scout areas and districts the suggestions brought here by the national director of work out in conference for the guidance of other scout leaders to be assembled in area district-camp-training courses.

Mr. McDonald, who has been identified for many years with Y. M. C. A. boys work and scouting, is responsible for the supervision of over 200 camps with upward of 250,000 boys enrolled each summer. He left here last evening, going to Billings, Montana, and thence eastward through North Dakota.
