Floods Claim Eight Lives, Tornadoes Kill 31 Persons and Slippery Highways Take 10—Victims

(By The Associated Press) Rainfalls which broke 20-year records flooded the Los Angeles region yesterday, whiplashed Wyoming and Nebraska with flying dust, glazed mountain roads of Pennsylvania and Maryland with ice and snow and chilled much of the southland with piercing winds.

To the 31 dead in the weekend's disastrous tornadoes in Mississippi, Louisiana and Alabama were added ten victims of traffic accidents on slippery highways of east and middle west-seven in Pennsylvania, three in the Chicago region. One man died of exposure near Baltimore.

Eight more died in California regions. Three unidentified men were swept to death in turbulent Coon creek when it washed out 1,200 feet of railroad track at Lincoln, California, and killed the train.

A fire captain, attempting to rescue marooned motorists at Santa Monica, fell from a bridge and drowned. The bridge broke.

Thousands of acres were inundated along the swollen Sacramento river after the heaviest downpour in half century, and intermittent showers added to a midnight deluge broke 22 year old rainfall records in Los Angeles.

Several of the men were knocked as far as 60 feet by the blow when a locomotive and seven cars of gravel crashed into the motor rail car.

The accident occurred 15 miles from Roseville on the Roseville, Marysville branch. Due to the isolated condition of the line, flood conditions details were meager.

Ignoring Criticism, Britain Seeks Pact Open To All Powers

Speaks For Britain Chorus of Dissent In Europe On Eve Of Stress

The arms situation at a glance: Britain, ignoring the powerful criticism, continued drafting a program for Thursday's three conference that would keep the proposed security pact open to all powers.

The Russian press reflected dark criticism and declared the soviet would not be bound by any decision made with which they could not agree.

Prime Minister MacDonald announced he would take the sick Edouard de la Brie to the conference. Mussolini will be there, and possibly Premier Flaminio di France.

LONDON, April 8 (AP)—Holding firm against biting criticism from the other powers, the British polished up their proposals for a general continental security system open to all nations tonight.

Prime Minister MacDonald, far from relaxing his health himself, assumed the sick Anthony Eden's part in British efforts to swing France and Italy around to a cooperative pact providing mutual assistance against an aggressor but not aimed at Germany for arming in violation of post-war treaties; or at any other country.

Edouard de la Brie, Soviet Russia joined the chorus of criticism with a blast in the press against the dropping of the proposed eastern security pact.

FOUR-POINT RELIEF PROGRAM OUTLINED

Information on Spending in Last Three Years Demanded by Couzens

WASHINGTON, April 8 (AP)—A four-point program was disclosed today to lie at the base of the spending that is contemplated by President Roosevelt in carrying out the Four Billion Dollar Work Relief Plan.

The program came almost simultaneously with the introduction in the senate of a resolution demanding to know how the relief administration has spent more than two billion dollars in the last three years.

Officials who are expected to act as the president's field marshals in carrying out the program were silent after word that Mr. Roosevelt had made the bill law, it is known, however, that they awaited only the "go ahead" signal from the president before action.

Officials who have helped in the formation of the new work plan said the prospects likely to be undertaken fall into four distinct classifications:

The use and conservation of land, the interest of campaign to public works which conformed to those principles and were pointed toward long range benefits.

WARRANT BONDS LINKED IN SENATE

Inflation Bloc Meets, Drive To Put More Money In Circulation

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The long dormant senate inflation bloc roused itself Saturday for a drive to put more money in circulation by changing the veterans bonus and remodeling silver.

At almost the same time in the house, advocates of a central monetary authority which would have full control over currency issuance, and the curbing of house banking committee hearings on the omnibus banking bill.

The senate bloc offered modifications to the Patman new money bonus bill which its members contend would increase the money supply acceptable to the administration. It also organized to demand action on a Wheeler bill for free coinage of silver.

At the request of Representative Clegg, the senate bloc met in a conference in the Senate Chamber, where the committee members, Chairman Clegg (D- Ala.), agreed to request the president to call the senate into session to consider the bill.

The bonus and silver bills were made the rallying points for a new monetary drive after a series of conferences among the senate bloc members. The committee members were set up to steer the group through these and other legislative proposals.

Those participating in the conference included the men of the past two years, culminating in the Thomas inflation law of 1933 and the Clegg bill of 1934. The bloc has been comparatively little active by the bloc as a group this session.

Senator Thomas (D- Okla.) was charged with directing the bonus drive. Wheeler (D- Mont.) was named chairman of a committee to get action on his 10 to 1 silver bill. The (H-R) bill was placed at the head of the parade.

Wheeler was charged with general direction of the senate bloc. The Oklahoma immediately announced its support of the Patman bill which will offer money in a bid for administration acceptance.

He said he proposed to date the adjusted bonus from 1934 from the date of the inflation law of 1933. He would then offer to pay the veterans the current value of the certificates and the remaining certificates would be paid in the normal manner out of treasury revenue or bond issue.

V.P.W. Approves
The Oklahoma said he had talked the amendments over with representatives of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and they were acceptable, but he had not received any assurances of administration support.

While the inflation group is almost solidly behind the Patman bill, it is not united in its stand on some of the other issues. On silver, for instance, there is some division of thought as to whether a definite ratio of 16 to 1 with gold should be adopted.

There is also difference of opinion within the bloc on banking legislation. Senator Nye, chairman of the banking group, has introduced Father Coughlin's measure for the creation of a central bank, but some members of the group are more inclined to support the bill submitted by administration officials to centralize authority over money and credit the Federal Reserve board.

ACTRESS' HUSBAND SUES FOR DIVORCE

Hollywood Doctor Charges Mental Cruelty Against Mary Astor

LOS ANGELES, April 8 (AP)—Charging mental cruelty and incompatibility, Dr. Franklin Thorpe, Hollywood physician, sued Mary Astor of the movies for divorce today.

The complaint accused Miss Astor of making critical and humiliating references to her husband's earnings and his earning capacity as compared to hers and said her attitude toward him impaired his health. In a statement through her studio, however, Miss Astor attributed the end of their four-year marriage largely to their varying interests.

Dr. Thorpe charged the actress conducted herself generally so that "there was no harmony or happiness in the marriage relation and the ends and objects of that relation had been thereby thwarted and defeated."

In Different Spheres
This situation, said the complaint, caused Dr. Thorpe "great mental anguish and seriously impaired his health to the extent that he has been compelled to take medical treatment."

Dr. Thorpe asked that he be awarded custody of the couple's 13-year-old daughter, Marilyn. The complaint said a property settlement had been effected. The couple separated last March 20, it was said.

The studio statement said Miss Astor, who was reported to be in Hollywood, pointed out that she and Dr. Thorpe "are in two different spheres of activity and are leading two different lives, and they became convinced that both would be happier living apart."

After their secret marriage in an apartment in Yuma, Ariz., in June 1933, became known, Miss Astor, who previously had been a patient of Dr. Thorpe, said it was his advice that brought her back to health.

DAIRYMEN OPPOSE MARKETING SCHEME

Idaho Butter Manufacturers Attack Proposed West Coast Agreement

SALT LAKE CITY, April 8 (AP)—Utah butter manufacturers and dairymen joined those of Utah and Wyoming in voicing opposition to the proposed west-coast regional butter industry marketing agreement at a hearing held here today by AAA of Utah.

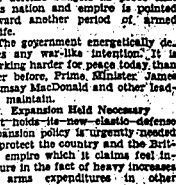

Utah dairymen expressed opposition to the agreement before the hearing, saying they are satisfied with operation under the Utah recovery act. Idaho representatives denounced the opposition shortly after the meeting opened, Wyoming followed. A recovery act goes into effect in Idaho soon, Wyoming witnesses said they are sufficiently operated under the Federal Recovery act.

George Tucker, Idaho state dairy commissioner, spoke of the need for some interstate regulation of all trade practices, producing documents indicating false weighing and testing of Idaho cream purchased by Utah dairies.

Asked to "weigh in" Franklin Ritter, Salt Lake City attorney and president of the Mutual Creamery company, insisted marketing agreements should permit dairy appeal to the courts and denounce the opposition shortly after the meeting opened, Wyoming followed. A recovery act goes into effect in Idaho soon, Wyoming witnesses said they are sufficiently operated under the Federal Recovery act.

Britain, Increasing Its Defense Budget, Plans Greater Mechanization Of Army

There'll Be More Of These Under England's New Policy

Great Britain has increased its defense budget by almost $53,000,000, the government claiming its expansion policy is needed because of increases in other countries. More soldiers, planes and ships are planned. These photographs show one of the army's heavy guns in action, and a flight formation of the 5th royal air force squadron.

By HAROLD P. BRAMAN
LONDON, April 8 (AP)—The Labor party, chief minority group in the British parliament, claims today that the defense budget for the next fiscal year is the largest and most important since the end of the last period of armed strife.

The government energetically denies any war-like intention. It is working harder for peace today than ever before, it claims, and points to Ramsay MacDonald and other leaders as proof.

Expansion Held Necessary
The nation's three-year defense expansion policy is urgently needed to protect the country and the British empire, which still claims 100 million square miles of territory, it says. It is secure in the fact of heavy increases in arms expenditures in other countries.

Britain's defense estimates for the year starting April 1 follow:

TOTAL	INCREASE
Army	$4,580,000	$ 2,850,000
Air Force	$2,811,000	$ 2,638,000
Navy	$6,050,000	$ 2,500,000
Total	$13,441,000	$ 8,000,000

VETERAN PUBLISHER
CLAIMED BY DEATH

Adolph S. Ochs of New York Times Dies of Stroke of Chattanooga

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 8 (AP)—Adolph S. Ochs, publisher of the New York Times whose career started as a "printer's devil" more than a half century ago, died today in the city where he started in the publishing business. He was 77 years old.

Stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage in a downtown restaurant at noon, he died at 4:10 p. m. Mr. Ochs, one of the directors and charter members of The Associated Press and organizer of the old Southern Associated Press, came here last night for a few days visit with relatives. He had been in ill health for some time. He died two years ago a nurse tended with him.

Scene of First Triumphs
The nurse had accompanied him to the restaurant where at Jacksonville he had joined Colonel Milton B. Ochs in his hotel. Mr. Ochs, managing editor of the Chattanooga Times, which he owned; his nephew, Adolph Shubert Ochs, Chattanooga Times general manager; and Harry C. Adler, chairman of the board of the Chattanooga Times and brother-in-law of the general city bonds.

The attack rendered Mr. Ochs unconscious. He was given a hypodermic and immediately taken by ambulance to the nearby Newell sanitarium where he succumbed. The visit to Chattanooga, scene of his first triumphs in the newspaper world, was Mr. Ochs' first in three and a half years.

It was at the age of 20, after having learned to love the smell of printer's ink when he worked as a carrier boy and "printer's devil" on Knoxville, Tenn., newspapers, that Mr. Ochs came to Chattanooga to start the enterprises that eventually made him one of the outstanding figures in America.

His first undertaking was the publication of Chattanooga city directory. With the capital thus acquired he bought a half interest in the Chattanooga Times for $100,000. The business later was completed purchase of the property and built it into one of the South's leading newspapers.

In 1890 he went to the New York Times, then described by one observer as "the most plebeian of all the great newspapers of America."

Golding Genius
His ability once made itself evident, and within three years after his company was organized it was on a paying basis. Since then, with the guiding genius of Mr. Ochs always dominant, the New York Times—with its famous slogan, "All the news that is fit to print"—has risen to one of the outstanding newspapers of the world.

Born in Cincinnati, Ohio, March 1, 1848, Mr. Ochs was reared in Knoxville where his family moved in 1865. There he received a common school education and obtained his first newspaper work as a carrier boy on the old Knoxville Daily Chronicle. In 1870 he became a printer's devil in the Chronicle office at $2 a week.

WHEN HITLER ROARS

The British diplomats went to Berlin with hope and good will. They were met pleasantly by Reich-leader-Hitler, and things looked serene. Great Britain and all the rest of the world wanted some sort of friendly understanding by which Germany and the surrounding nations could patch up their worst differences and get along peacefully for at least a few more years.

But Hitler, after his pleasant greeting, started rattling, and for eight solid hours told Great Britain and the other powers where to get off, and what Germany wanted and was determined to have. He talked so loudly and loosely and threateningly that the intended peace conference ended with all Europe in an uproar, with the British diplomats headed for Moscow to arrange a friendly program with Stalin.

Here again was Prussian statesmanship at its worst in a crisis. Hitler seems to have a positive genius for arousing antagonism in other nationalities. The idea that American observers, for the most part, have formed of his character and statesmanship, is sadly confirmed again. Unless he yields and conducts his momentous task with more tact, more understanding of other peoples and more sense of realities, there is little hope for European peace, and still less hope for Germany.

THE TICK SEASON

What is believed to be the first case of spotted fever of the season is reported at Boise. Charles A. Bradley, Western Union field crew foreman is dead as a result of tick inoculation a few days ago.

With the approach of Spring, the menace of the tick constitutes an annual problem. While comparatively few deaths result there are always a number of cases and as a rule a few fatalities. Not all ticks are of the poisonous variety yet wherever people are exposed to possible tick bites the danger should not be overlooked.

BETTER FILMS

Will H. Hays, movie supervisor, is quoted as saying that the "sex motif" is waning in motion pictures, and a new art is developing, with decency and culture taking the place of nastiness and ignorance. These are not exactly the words he used, but they seem to express the general idea.

had a strict moral censorship. But they have given the public far too much trash, and still rate its trusts and intelligence for low.

WILL WE SING 'OVER THERE' AGAIN?

"Will we get mixed up in it?" That worried question is on every tongue as America watches Europe's tragic turn toward war.

It is not sufficient that the great majority of Americans are opposed to sending another European conflict. It is not sufficient that we cover no territory now held by European power. It is not sufficient that the Atlantic divides us from the theater of conflict.

All those factors were present during the last war. They failed to keep us out because our business and political leaders thought we could play with fire without getting burned.

We insisted on trading with the belligerents. We invoked the traditional principle of "freedom of the seas." Actually, we admitted that the British fleet had a right to stop us from trading with Germany, but refused to admit that German submarines had a right to prevent us from dealing with the Allies. It would, therefore, be more correct to say we invoked half a principle.

By the time America entered the war we were so deeply involved financially on the side of the Allies that our ambassador to Great Britain, Walter Hines Page, wrote to President Wilson that he believed defeat for the Allies would destroy the American business system.

We recognize now where we made our mistake in 1914-17. We acquired European entanglements without knowing it. And we are in exactly the same position today as we were when the last war broke out. We have not time to prevent repetition.

Great Britain again would control the seas. Great Britain and whatever nations were allied with her would again buy American munitions, foodstuffs, and almost everything our factories make.

It is such a law that should be under consideration in Washington today instead of discussions of the advisability of sending Germany a note of protest. The international mediators are shouting that under our present policy Germany, we have an equal right to protest against the rearmament of Germany as Great Britain has.

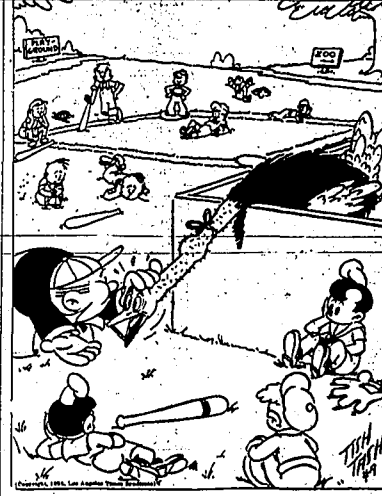

WHAT THE AAA IS COSTING (Pocastello Tribune) The AAA is getting into water that is both hot and deep. Just now it is becoming apparent that processing taxes do not cover AAA expenses, as they should not by a long shot—and all the arts of the publicity men to that effect. It is a "self-sustaining project" that the theory that AAA is a "self-sustaining project" can be maintained is by using the same system of calculation used by the plous Mr. Farley in obtaining his postoffice "surplus".

BREAKFAST FOOD

Boarding-House Proprietress—"I'm afraid I'll have to discharge you." Cook—"But the boarders seem to like my cooking very much." Proprietress—"That's just the trouble. They all ask for second helpings and I'm losing money every day."

Mr. O'Grady—"Why isn't my supper ready?" Mrs. O—"Try that. As it is, you're hanging all the afternoon and I just couldn't get home in time." G—"Huh! Lookin' for somethin' for nothin', I presume." Mrs. O—"Yes, looking for a birthday present for me."

VAN BORING By Tish Tash

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG (NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS)

WASHINGTON By George Darso FINALE: What with all the tumbling and shouting prevailing over the work-relief one bit of news may be passed along to the many who view our rapidly mounting national debt with alarm.

President Roosevelt sent word to certain members of the Senate recently that the $4,850,000,000 program would be his last big financial venture in pump priming. Reference is made to the four billion allotted to make jobs for the unemployed. The remaining $850,000,000 in the bill is for direct relief, which most authorities now accept as a single solution.

Senator Jim Byrnes of South Carolina, recognized White House spokesman, is said to have conveyed this message to members of the Senate Appropriations Committee when the huge bill still was in early stages of consideration.

CONGRESSIONAL LEADERS AGREE that the issue certainly is not to be brought before the president. Never in history has so much money and unbridled power to spend been lodged in the hands of one man.

PERMANENT. Men who have intimate access to the executive mansion hint Mr. Roosevelt will be a big surprise program ready to go. Their suggestion is that the committee on the part of the Senate to furnish the White House some spectacular and successful way out. Guiding Child

ROBOYS OR REBELS. In choosing a summer outing for Martha, Mrs. Jones was faced by the problem that, few, if any, of the program suggested by teachers and her parents, gave any room for free thought or play to the children.

Parents and teachers might well consider this aspect of modern education. The children are early poured into a mold of social adjustment, and it seems to occur to no one that they need some time to get acquainted with themselves.

Sarazen Stages Brilliant Comeback To Win Golf Crown

McLarnin Warns Champion On Eve Of Title Defense At Seattle

Flawless Playing Features Triumph Over Craig Wood

Former British and American Open Champion Defeats New Jersey Expert by Five Strokes, 144-149

By ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Editor)

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 5—Gene Sarazen, Connecticut farmer and climax man of professional golf, mowed down Craig Wood today in a frost-bitten cold-blooded play-off match for the top prize of $1,000 in the Augusta national golf club's second annual invitational tournament.

The former British and American open champion flattened the New Jersey slugger by five strokes in a 36-hole contest that was never in doubt after the first three holes when he played Barne negotiating the double round in 71-75-144, even par, while Wood carded 75-74-149.

Wood Stages Rally
After gaining a four stroke lead in the morning play over a rain-trashed course in soaring temperatures, Sarazen doubled his margin on the outgoing nine this afternoon. Wood slipped a belated rally with six holes to go. He bagged two birdies and trimmed three strokes off Gene's lead by coming back in the last hole to make the margin a two-hole lead. The rally was simply a case of locking the barn door after the horse had been stolen.

Sarazen's triumph, his first in major competition in two years, was the result of one of the most flawless exhibitions of shot-making ever witnessed. Gene was a scoring machine from tee to green all day long. His golf was so consistently perfect that only one hole in his 36 holes was a real thrill as he carded only three birdies, went over par on three holes and equalled par on the remaining 30.

Plays Sensational Golf
Sarazen's playoff victory was the greatest in the history of the game. His chances looked hopeless yesterday until he suddenly pulled off one of the great shots in the history of golf by sinking a 220 yard drive on the 46th yard, par-five with hole. The ball fell into the hole and Wood, who apparently had first place all trapped up and in fact, had been receiving congratulations long before Sarazen came home to make it a doublet at 223 each for the regulation 72 holes.

New Basketball Rules Adopted

Committee Approves Change Designed to Curb Use of Pivot Play

NEW YORK, April 5 (AP)—A new rule designed to curb use of the pivot play was adopted today by the national basketball rules committee. The new rule provides that a player may not remain in his free-throw lane, with or without the ball, for more than three seconds except when trying for a free ball.

In the event of an infraction of the new rule, the ball will go out of bounds to the opposing team.

Another major rule change will eliminate the center jump after a successful free throw following a personal foul. This rule, as adopted, provides that after a successful free throw, instead of a jump ball at center line, the scorer upon shall put the ball in play out of bounds at the end of the court where the point was made. This rule, which is applied on technical or double fouls.

Stream-Lined Young Outfield Keynote Of Yankees-- A 'Real McCarthy' Team

Jesse Hill, Ben Chapman and George Selkirk, three young, energetic fellows who cover a lot of ground, have joined up with the whole New York Yankee team by their sleek, speedy outfield play. The veteran Earle Combs will be in there, too, part time, but he won't slow up the new Yankee spirit of speed.

By JOHN STAHR
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

NEW YORK—The Yankees are on their way home from the southland equipped with a streamlined, knee-action, lightning-getaway outfield—keynote of a "new" team under a "new" manager (though his name is still Joseph Vincent McCarthy).

Known ever since they first began winning pennants, back in 1921, as teams of blasting power and only average, or less, nimbleness, the Yankees have this year put a premium on speed, pep and defensive skill, and the results have had the touring scribes tapping out almost daily tributes to the grace, swing, zip and spirit of the ensemble.

It seems a shame to keep dragging in Babe Ruth's name in connection with all the Yankee stories, even now that he's gone, but it's scarcely a secret any more that the Great Bambino paved the way for this Yankee renaissance, with its accent on youth and speed.

As the team shapes up approaching opening day, with speedsters Jesse Hill, Ben Chapman and George Selkirk patrolling the outfield and Rube Bressler at third, it rates the distinction of "fastest" of any modern Yankee aggregation.

Tom Gehring and Tony Lazerri, holdovers from the old Yankee team of "Murderers' Row" fame, admittedly are no greynoses, nor is Frankie Crosetti, shortstop, yet the durable Dutchman and the two San Francisco Italians have caught the new spirit of hustle and dash. It is not absolutely final that the Hill-Chapman-Selkirk trio will remain the invariable outfield lineup for the veteran Earle Combs has proved he has recovered from his near-fatal collision with the wall in St. Louis, and undoubtedly there is Fred Dietz, Walker, whose arm, like the durable Dutchman, is getting on with the years of helping Ruth and Bob Meusel patrol a lot of acreage, is still a fast fellow.

Fred Dietz, Walker, whose arm, like the durable Dutchman, is getting on with the years of helping Ruth and Bob Meusel patrol a lot of acreage, is still a fast fellow.

McCarthy, who established himself as a builder of super-hustling ball clubs by his work with the Chicago Cubs when he won the 1907 pennant with a team liberally sprinkled with Class AA graduates, has been happier this spring than at

Arrival of Hamas' Manager Awaited In Fight Circles

CHARLIE HARVEY EXPECTED TO SHED LIGHT ON $300,000 OFFER TO MAX BAER FOR BATTLE WITH SCHMELING

By BOB CAVANARO
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

NEW YORK, April 5—The heavyweight boxing championship spotlight, which of late has been turned indiscriminately on all and sundry on the fiat of publicity-hungry promoters, is now being followed by "Squire" Charlie Harvey today.

Harvey, manager of Steve Hamas, was a passenger on an incoming ocean liner due tomorrow, and hidden somewhere in his baggage is expected to be at least a partial solution for the muddled title situation involving Max Baer, 36, and Lou Schmeling and James J. Braddock.

May Bring Good
He is expected to shed some light on the $300,000 offer to Walter Rothenberg, German promoter, has made to Baer for a fight with Schmeling either in London or Rome, and possibly bring a cheque for a portion of that amount.

It is no doubt that a decision on this and another foreign offer made by Vincent, representing a British syndicate, will be made in a matter of days. As to the plans of Madison Square Garden which has Baer under contract for 6 1/2 title bouts in June.

"If he would only make up his mind, either to fight Schmeling abroad or not," said James J. Johnson, the Garden's matchmaker, "then we'd make our plans accordingly. If Baer doesn't intend to fight in London or Rome, why not have a chance of inducing Schmeling to come to this country and fight Braddock?"

"Everything in the Air"
This indecision on the part of Baer in the matter of Andy Hoffman, is keeping everything in the air but you can bet he'll pull out a match out of the air April 18.

While Johnson is inclined to green light at his plans, the belief that the Garden has virtually given up hopes of bringing Schmeling over a bout with Braddock to comply with the edict of the New York state legislature which says no foreign manager can meet Baer in this state gained support.

On top of that there were published reports that Schmeling had definitely "broken off" from his manager, Joe Jacobs. Legally, Schmeling is bound by contract to Jacobs until next December 2, but the German heavyweight is unwilling to fight in this country because part of his earnings will go to Jacobo, the federal government and New York state in taxes, if he fights in this jurisdiction.

Dunlap Captures Amateur Crown

NEW YORKER CARRIED TO 38TH GREEN BY 'DARK HORSE' OF GOLF TOURNEY

PENNSYLVANIA, N. C., April 5 (AP)—George T. Dunlap, Jr., the former national champion, was carried to the 38th green by a young druggist from Lumberton, N. C., Johnny Johnson, today before winning the North and South amateur golf title for the fourth time.

At the final hole, Dunlap and the dark horse of the tournament were all square when rain halted their 36-hole final match Saturday afternoon on the 114th hole.

Resuming play today, the pair were again even on the 36th.

On the final hole, the Lumberton officer caught a trap with his second and had to take a six, while the New Yorker's perfectly played par 4 gave him the match.

Barney Ross And Yakima Challenger Wnd Up Training

'KEEP YOUR CHIN COVERED FOR YOU ARE UP AGAINST A GOOD BOY,' VANOUVER FIGHTER TELLS TITLEHOLDER

SEATTLE, April 5 (AP)—Barney Ross, who risks his junior welterweight title against Henry Woods in a 12-round bout here tomorrow night, got a slip today from Welter Champ Jimmy McLarnin on how to fight the Yakima, Washington, Negro.

"Keep your chin well covered for you are up against a good boy," McLarnin told Ross. "You are a big favorite, but the Negro's supporters refused to admit it was any such for the champion. The boys are always in it and nothing to lose, and I am afraid to make the best of the opportunity," the Negro declared.

Woods Outwatches Ross
Both Ross and Woods wound up their training with light workouts today. The champion weighed 137 pounds and Woods 133. They will weigh in officially tomorrow afternoon.

Ross was a big favorite, but the Negro's supporters refused to admit it was any such for the champion. The boys are always in it and nothing to lose, and I am afraid to make the best of the opportunity," the Negro declared.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 5 (AP)—Preliminary firing in the second annual Atlanta Invitational tennis tournament began under bleak skies today with results following form in the round matches involving few of the seeded stars.

Main Courts of Atlanta, seeded Ross and only one of the seeded list to see action, had no trouble with Henry Vint, another player, winning 6-2, 7-5.

FAMED COACHES FAIL TO GAIN ARMY RECOGNITION FOR FOOTBALL ACTIVITIES

WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—Famed football coaches—Bill Jones, Bob Neyland, Ralph Sasse and the others—are just capable officers, so far as the army is concerned.

The war department, however, figures it is a "good business" to have its officers coach football at colleges and universities. Whenever it is possible they grant requests that an able football mentor be assigned to instruct as instructor of college athletes.

The government doesn't "order" an officer to coach football. He doesn't have to do it if he doesn't want to. He's assigned as an ROTC officer and his military duties are what he makes of them. If he is assigned to coach football, it is strictly up to him.

Generally he is paid by the university's athletic association. Sometimes interested alumni chip in to pay him. The normal "tour" of college instruction is four years, but it may be more or less. If there is a request that an officer's tour be extended over four years, giving him government plans, it often is granted.

Most Mainline Service Duties
An officer, while coaching athletic, must rigidly maintain his service duties, unless he has arranged his tour of duty. Generally he can make his tour of duty over four years, giving them four months leave. And, if they choose, the government doesn't restrict their coaching football during this vacation.

The situation is different at West Point and Annapolis. Football coaching is part of an officer's duties at these service academies. Ross is "ordered" to handle football and his pay check isn't stepped up for the extra work.

Major Ralph Sasse formerly coached his West Point. He recently was assigned to Mississippi State college. Captain Lawrence "Bird" Brown, who coached football at West Point, is in the army. Later he went to Louisiana State. He signed his football connection and has been chosen to coach Oklahoma football for one year. Major Neyland served as Tennessee coach for many years but returned last December and now is in Panama on government duty.

Ty Cobb Predicts Close Flag Race

FOUR-TEAM BATTLE LIKELY IN AMERICAN LEAGUE, SAYS 'GEORGIA PEACH'

PALO ALTO, Calif., April 5 (AP)—Ty Cobb, who carried his club to the lead of the American League in the Detroit Tigers, looks forward to close battles for the major league championships this year.

Speaking before a civic club meeting here today, the former "Georgia Peach" announced that he predicted the 1936 season will be a close race in the American League. He said he expected the Detroit Tigers, Cleveland Indians and Boston Red Sox.

"I doubt if the Cubs brothers, Dier and Duffy, will be as effective as they were last year for St. Louis. It isn't reasonable to expect them to match last year's performance. However, they should be good for about forty victories between them."

Woodmen Drop 9-2 Battle With Oasis

JEROME, April 5—In a practice game Sunday afternoon, the Oasis ball club swamped the Woodmen team, 9-2, in a seven inning game. Williams made the only three bagger of the game.

Shaver, Williams and Crouch secured the pins for the Oasis, with Brackebury behind the bat. Daniels and Cough pitched for the Woodmen and Shaver caught. Harry Fritler was umpire.

JOBS PROMISED TO NEW SCOUT TROOP

Magicians - Sponsor - Boys Group to Be Formed in Twin Falls

Twin Falls Magicians, sponsors for a new Boy Scout troop that is to be organized in Twin Falls, have contracted to supply jobs for the troop members to pay for registration fees, handbooks, uniforms and other expenses incidental to scouting.

Members of the new troop are to be taken from a list of about 100 boys. A Boy Scout activity with an admission charge as a means of raising funds for the Twin Falls Boy Scouts' contribution to the public swimming pool project was discussed by council members at Sunday's meeting, and authorization was voted for the council chairman to appoint a committee to work out ways and means of definite amount was set for the proposed contribution.

ONE DAY CAMPAIGN BRINGS BEER FEES

Nine Licenses Granted on Initial Day of Ordinance Enforcement

Twin Falls city council met last evening in a brief session and granted nine licenses for the sale of four per cent beer as provided for in a recently passed ordinance. The day for the licensing of beer dispensers under the new set-up and City Clerk W. H. Eldridge said last evening that he believed that all other persons selling beer within the city limits would be licensed within the week. Under the old 22 per cent beer ordinance, nearly 40 dealers in Twin Falls sold the beverage.

Rabid Dog Bite Proves Fatal To Twin Falls Calf

A four-month-old calf, believed to have been bitten by a mad dog, died a week ago at a farm a half-mile east of Twin Falls, Dr. W. A. Nelson of Twin Falls, Idaho, state veterinarian, reported to county commissioners yesterday. The calf has not been discovered since the veterinarian said. He advised keeping a close watch on stray dogs, and prompt preventive treatment in the event of attack by a dog. The county, it was pointed out, provides Pasteur treatment for hydrophobia. The calf that died here in an advanced stage of the disease when the veterinarian was called, Dr. Nelson said. Symptoms of rabies had developed the night before when the calf licked the ground and gave voice to unusual bellowing. Upon the veterinarian's advice, the afflicted calf was turned into a lot where its behavior confirmed the diagnosis of hydrophobia. It ran to the left, plunged through a chicken-wire fence and dashed itself against a building, the veterinarian said. Then it fell exhausted to the ground and died about 15 minutes later. Symptoms of hydrophobia generally are manifested in about two weeks after being bitten, but in a young person or animal, Dr. Nelson said, the development of the disease may be much more rapid.

JURY VOTES ACQUITTAL IN PELTS-THEFT TRIAL

Accused in a petit larceny charge of theft of sheep pelts valued at $25, Paul Sterner, 30, of Kimberly, told a six-man jury at his trial in the probate court here yesterday that he had found the pelts on the road. The jury believed his story and returned a verdict of acquittal after deliberations of a half-hour.

Testimony was offered by the prosecution to show the pelts belonged to the Townsend Meak company of Twin Falls. They were allegedly stolen last February 5. Sterner was arrested by members of Twin Falls and Gooding county sheriffs' forces near Bliss last week. Sterner's case was presented at trial by W. L. Dunn, Twin Falls attorney.

Members of the jury were V. P. Dehn, George Ayres, George Willis, Leslie C. Rebor, William Jackson, C. E. Dunn.
