DEEPEST SNOW OF YEAR SETTLES ON ROCKY MOUNTAINS

Continental Divide, New Mexico to Wyoming, Gets Blanket Ranging From Six Inches to Three Feet

(By The Associated Press)

DENVER, April 18—The deepest snow of the year, swirled by a spring blizzard, covered many of the mountains of the Rockies tonight and retarded dust storms east of here.

All along the continental divide, from New Mexico to Wyoming, there was a new covering of wet snow that ranged from six inches to four and three feet in drifts.

At Leadville miners on Breese Hill were placed overnight in a blanket of snow seven feet deep in places near Leadville.

From 30 to 40 cars, including a passenger train, were stuck in a snowdrift between Divide and Crigle Creek, Colorado, but were dug out early this morning by highway workers. No serious accidents were reported.

A foot of snow near Divide caused an increased flow of water in Platte river, used for irrigating the Platte valley of northern Colorado and for Denver domestic use.

Mixture of Dust and Snow

DENVER, April 18 (AP)—Spectacular weather in the sky, a strange mixture of dust and snow three miles high, was described by H. H. Higley, veteran of nearly 4,000 hours in the air, when he reached here today from southwestern Colorado.

Higley was at the Colorado Springs Tuesday when Laura Ingalls was forced down on Cross country hop.

Weather Officials Observe Heavenly Cross In Montana

(By The Associated Press)

MELBONA, Mont., April 18 (AP)—A brilliant white cross for twenty an hour last night hung suspended above the eastern horizon here.

The symbol of the Easter season, centered about an almost full moon, was early observable with the naked eye, according to United States Weather Bureau officials who watched the phenomenon and describe it as one of the rarest of lunar freaks.

The cross appeared to be lying on its side, and was formed of brilliant bands of light, extending horizontally from the moon on both sides and vertically from the feet and top to six feet in drifts.

STATE EMPLOYEES' SALARIES RAISED

Department Heads to Draw Bigger Pay Checks Under New Schedule

BOISE, April 18 (AP)—The Idaho state board of examiners voted today to increase salaries of the state's appointed executive employees approximately 10 percent.

The action came after the board, which is headed by Governor Ross, Secretary of State Franklin Girard and Attorney General Bert Miller, had met several times during the past week without reaching an agreement.

On a motion by Secretary of State Girard, the board voted to raise the salaries of the top appointments committee of the last legislative session.

DAKOTANS MIGRATE TO DUSTLESS LAND

Caravan of 30 Cars Takes Farmers into Idaho and Montana

LIVINGSTON, Mont., April 18 (AP)—Seeking permanent homes where "the dust doesn't blow," an auto caravan of North Dakotans halted here today as the occupants migrated briefly on an enforced migration into western Montana and Idaho.

For three days and nights before the westward move was decided upon, the air was black with grime and it was unsafe on the highways. Upwards of 30 cars formed the caravan.

Wash tubs, boilers and even bed springs and mattresses were draped over the paintless, grimy cars. Other chattels were disposed of before the homeseekers left North Dakota.

A few of the farmers had jointly sold the remaining livestock and grain.

LIGHTS and SHADOWS In Day's Events

Four-Minute Kiss

ATLANTA, N. C.—Although admitting that he may be "a little bit handsome," Governor W. C. Cullum today took four minutes to kiss a young woman and her husband in public.

The kiss took place at the home of Mrs. Cullum, who is a member of the Cullum family.

Bowling was brought before Callaway yesterday on charges of disconduct and was fined $100.

Bowling testified that Callaway, whose wife is employed in a beauty shop, gave her a farewell kiss lasting four minutes and four or five hugs—all this in a public street right in front of Bowling's home.

Callaway was fined $100 and his license suspended for four months.

Case dismissed.

PORT ANGELES, Wash.—Its animal husbandry has been severely managled by a lion in a small circus at Sequim early this week.

The lion, named "Blondie," reportedly in a critical condition yesterday at Sequim.

He was reported to have thrust his paw through the bars of the caged lion. The animal seized the arm and tore it badly. The lion's paw had to be pried open with the crowbar before Taylor was released.

New Theory Of Creation Takes Star Rays As Basis

PHILADELPHIA, April 18 (AP)—A new theory of the origin of life, based on the laws of atomic physics, was presented today at the annual meeting of the American Philosophical Society tonight by Dr. W. F. G. Swain, director of the Battell Institute.

Swain's theory is based on the fact that the sun and stars are very hot. There is evidence that they have been hot so long that they must be cooling down as they have no source available for supply of heat. All the more obvious sources, like gravitational potential energy and radio-active energy, etc., prove hopelessly inadequate.

"It becomes necessary to draw on atomic energy and go even further and draw on the energy associated with the very existence of such things as protons and electrons."

This source of energy is different from the original food mentioned in the Bible and the original nucleus of atoms.

His subject tonight was: "Is the Universe Running Down?" He did not attempt to say where its original energy came from, but he might come to life again.

"I feel," Dr. Swain said, "that it is no less than 30 years old."

MAJORITY MACHINE WORKS FOR SOCIAL SECURITY MEASURE

Townsend's $200-a-Month Plan Goes Down to Defeat Along With Other Old-Age Pension Schemes

(By The Associated Press)

(WASHINGTON, April 18)—The House Democratic machine breezed along in high speed today, ran over Republicans who talked about "steam-roller" and "unconstitutionality," and brushed aside 26 proposed amendments to the administration's social security bill.

When the five-hour session of work was over, some of the better-known liberalizing amendments that had been rejected were the Townsend 200-month pension plan, the Lundeen bill and the Poppe-old age plan.

The Townsend plan was not actually voted upon, but Representative Rogers (D-Ola.) saw the way things were going, and abandoned his attempt to offer it.

Just before the session ended, the Republicans took a round defeat in their attempt to amend the bill by the section establishing old-age annuities which would be financed by taxes on payroll and wages.

The G.O.P.—through Representatives Treadway (R-Mass) and Reed (R-NV)—contended the section was "unconstitutional."

Passage Predicted

There will be some more fights when consideration of amendments is resumed tomorrow, but both Republicans and Democratic chiefs agreed, the bill probably will be passed before adjournment.

Democratic leaders once late in the day decided they would try to keep the house in session until it finally passed the bill. But knowing that the Republicans—who were getting restless—could stage a minor filibuster and delay passage of the bill beyond tomorrow night, they abandoned the idea.

After they voted, a promise from Representative Small of New York, the G.O.P. leader, that "we'll meet with you tomorrow" was the nearest the Democrats came to mollie to increase from $18 to $21 a month the maximum federal contribution toward old-age pensions to persons over 65. And the margin of victory there was far from close.

Representative Treadway (R-Mass) offered the amendment. On a teller vote, it was rejected 144 to 80.

"What Can Be Done?"

—Treadway's question just Representative Knutson (R-Minn) asked.

SECRETARY IKES WIDENS ATTACK

'Kingfish' Declared to Be Suffering From 'Hallucinations of Intellect'

WASHINGTON, April 18 (AP)—Secretary Ikes said today that Senator Long (D-La.) was suffering from "hallucinations of the intellect."

In addition to renewing his attack on the senator, Ikes also said he "did not know how to do business" with another critic of the Roosevelt administration, Governor Talmadge of Georgia.

Asked if the duel with Long was "personal," Ikes replied at his press conference: "When I used to read Vanoe you didn't under the last paragraph under certain conditions."

Special Alliances

Announcing that he was holding up approval of several new Louisiana EWA projects, Ikes simultaneously cancelled some Georgia allotments, totaling $700,000.

Governor Talmadge had vetoed a bill to validate sale of state highway certificates to the federal government.

Earlier in the day Governor Talmadge of Georgia had asserted that President Roosevelt was a radical and there would be a third party next year.

Reich Vents Wrath Over League Vote Of Censure With 'Sizzling' Protest

Borah Raps League; Opposes New Loans

Idahoan Says Europe Seeks Funds Only For Warfare

(By The Associated Press)

(WASHINGTON, April 18)—Riled by the League of Nations demand that Germany comply with the Versailles treaty, Senator William B. Borah today denounced the council as the "spineless tool" of a few European nations and then introduced a bill to prevent American money from going into foreign war coffers.

Leaders Arrangement

Taking the senate floor during the afternoon, Borah thundered of the league.

"Nothing in the history of this institution better illustrates that it is not an independent body for peace, but a tool of a few nations to do what those nations elect."

A stern foe of the league from its inception, the senior Republican on the foreign affairs committee declared:

"The institution should no longer pretend to be an independent body seeking by independent methods to treat the cause of peace."

Borah's attack echoed through the chamber at the conclusion of a speech by Senator Lewis of Ohio, Democratic whip, criticizing members of the league for demanding that Germany live up to her treaty obligations while they continue to disregard obligations they have contracted with the United States.

Strikes at Loans

The bitterness of Borah's criticism of the league was paralleled by a speech by Senator Borah, who introduced a bill proposing to shut off private loans to foreign nations on the basis of their proposals which would supplement the Johnson act which already bars loans from this government to other nations delinquent in their obligations to the United States.

It would supplement, also two bills introduced by Borah, one to prevent the government from issuing foreign affairs contracts, both aimed at preserving American neutrality, one by keeping American ships out of foreign waters and the other giving the president authority to block loans to belligerent nations.

Financing for War

The Idaho Republican said in foreign loans are not a peace time only a means of financing for war and of increasing the danger that this nation also would be drawn in.

Loss of Women's Rights Under Nazi Leadership Flayed

Idahoan Says Europe Seeks Funds Only For Warfare

(By The Associated Press)

(WASHINGTON, April 18)—Alienated loss of women's rights under the Nazi regime in Germany drew the scathing fire of 300 delegates, representing 38 nations, to the women's international congress which opened here today.

While the famed Ylvis Kirk, known as the pleasure palace of Kaiser Wilhelm, buzzed to the tongues of many ladies, the delegates voted to start feminist counter-action against Nazi policies in which Oriental women, just being freed from male domination, will seek to help save their western sisters from sinking back into like status.

Taking the senate floor during the afternoon, Borah thundered of the league.

Hitler Still Enigma

Britain, Italy Warn Germany to Keep Off Rhineland

(By The Associated Press)

An Anglo-Italian warning to Germany to keep hands off the demilitarized Rhineland was met by Germany's vigorous protest to Britain against League of Nations disapproval of German rearmament, it was disclosed yesterday.

Britain and Italian envoys (Wednesday) communicated to the reich their governments' joint decision as stress that the Rhineland status quo must be continued, the former stressed "a sizzling" expression of German displeasure at the Geneva action.

Help to Clean Air

Generational though they were, the two developments helped clear the air and German officials seemingly glad the situation more calmly, the more so because Britain and Italy reiterated their determination to carry out fully their obligations under the Geneva treaty.

British officials, however, feared that another of Adolf Hitler's "bombast" might be in the making. They had been negotiating with the British secretaries in the Bavarian mountains.

Disarmament

Disarmament quarters at London professed to believe Germany would not, in the end, refuse to participate in the series of international agreements now being negotiated, this in the face of intimations from Berlin Tuesday that such cooperation was unlikely.

Trouble in Balkans

At Paris Foreign Minister Pierre Laval prepared to go before the cabinet today to seek approval of the proposed Franco-Soviet mutual assistance pact, while Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy was said to have agreed the presidency of the Danubian conference which will meet at Rome soon.

BULLET WOUNDS BURLEY WOMAN

Mrs. Frank H. Weeks in Critical Condition at Hospital

BURLEY, April 18 (AP)—Mrs. Frank H. Weeks, 32, of a family history, was a patient in a hospital here this evening, suffering from a gunshot wound to the abdomen believed to have been inflicted accidentally while she was in a field at her ranch, some 18 miles southeast of here, with a 22 calibre rifle for the purpose of shooting a wild turkey.

Her recovery.

Dr. Weeks said he heard the shot and hurried to her home and then called for a physician.

Two blood transfusions were given Mrs. Weeks following an operation at the hospital here this evening.

Mrs. Weeks is the mother of one child, a son, DAVID WEEKS.

The family has lived here for several years.

GERMANY WARNED BY BRITAIN, ITALY

Nazi Government Advised to Let De-Militarized Rhineland Alone

BERLIN, April 18 (AP)—Great Britain and Italy, it was revealed tonight, have warned Germany that they must let the demilitarized Rhineland alone.

Representatives of the two powers yesterday presented their joint statement to the League of Nations decision to maintain the status quo in the Rhineland, and Germany has been specifically forbidden from taking any diplomatic action to Great Britain and Italy.

Nevertheless, Nazi officials today were inclined to look upon yesterday's action at Geneva more calmly.

Running through the common news were repeated demands that the coppers must be pulled off. One, delivered after Adolph Bremer had requested a book to negotiate with the abductors without police interference, advised the kidnappers would be "killed" if they did not withdraw.

The same note said the "price" would be raised to $500,000 if demands for $200,000 were not met immediately. Earlier testimony had also told that Bremer was threatened with death when he was abducted.

ST. PAUL, April 18 (AP)—The death-threatening ransom notes, which demanded payment of as much as twice the $200,000 finally yielded for his release, were introduced today in the trial of ten alleged conspirators in the Edward Bremer kidnap.

PRISON TERM FOR CHICKEN-STEALING

Utah Youth Pays Penalty for Raids on Poultry Yards

Accused of stealing a down chicken from a farm poultry yard near Twin Falls early last Monday, Virgil May, 20, pleaded guilty in the district court here yesterday, and was sentenced by District Judge T. Bailey Lee of Burley to serve a 1-to-16-year term in the state penitentiary.

A prison term as penalty for chicken stealing under Idaho law had not been involved in this county for several years.

Members of the sheriff's force said May admitted to them he had raided at least 10 other poultry yards in and about Twin Falls recently. The raids have from Provo, Utah, and had been lying in a tent in the field each evening.

The old dog was for counsel when he was arraigned in the district court here today, and waived time for receiving sentence.

now preparing for war," Borah said, "we are not within the next two or three or five years, but the preparation is going on. Any money loaned to them is an aid to war."

F.D.M. Curbs Probe

But while the congressional cars have with attacks on the course of foreign nations, at the other end of Pennsylvania avenue President Roosevelt laid a restraining hand on the senate's investigations of alleged embezzlement in Great Britain.

It was the second time within a week that the president had, in effect, tempered the course of the committee headed by Senator Nye (R-ND).

Acting after Sir Ronald Lindsay, British ambassador, had made informal representations against the committee's strenuous work, the record of J. P. Morgan and Company, the crown's fiscal agent during the World War, President Roosevelt ordered the members of the committee and Secretary Hull. The senators were Nye, Clark (D-MO) and Capper (D-Idaho).

Cautious Senators

It was indicated the president frankly cautioned the senators about making use of its investigation of any war time correspondence between the British government and the banking house that might cause embarrassment.

The committee decided to continue the arrangement already made whereby any "questionable" correspondence would be discussed with the state department before being employed in the inquiry.

"We agreed," Nye said, "to avoid any action raising complications with foreign governments."

"We are a committee to promote peace, not war."

It was indicated the White House conference had taken cognizance of a warning by Stanley Baldwin in London that such investigations were "dangerous" because of the possibility of stirring up "old hatreds."

Loans Called Dangerous

Borah's introduction of his loans curbs bill aroused almost as much interest as his attack on the league. In his statement accompanying the bill he asserted that "money loaned will be used to increase armaments and make war more certain."

"It will break out and we have large investments in Europe, they will be a powerful factor in bringing us into the war," he said.

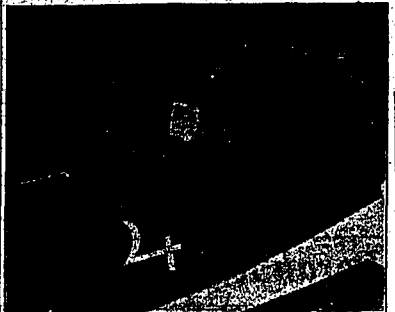

"Europe in Europe are unsafe. They are not good investments for our people. Europe has repaid about 11 billion dollars which was loaned under the most sacred circumstances."

"Article 237 of the Treaty of Versailles undertook to make confiscation of the private property of nationals of defeated nations respectable."

"We have nothing to gain by making loans where repudiation and confiscation prevail."

"Further, in the interest of our own people and our own country, our money should not be loaned abroad but should be used at home."

WEATHER

FORECAST FOR TODAY AND TOMORROW—Idaho: Fair, south and unsettled north portion Friday and Saturday; moderate temperatures.

High and low temperatures yesterday as reported by the government weather observer were 55 and 72 degrees; there was a variable wind and the sky was clear; barometric pressure at 5 p. m. was 30.3 inches and the humidity range, 53 to 28 per cent of saturation.

Weather a year ago was clear with temperatures of 78 and 49 degrees.

Temperatures Normal In Northwest States

Barometric pressures are near normal over most of the country, there being a slight depression over the southwest, and weak highs over the northwest and the middle states. Fair weather has resulted generally, the only precipitation reported, being sprinkles of rain or light showers in Washington state and the central valley. Temperatures are slightly below normal in the Great Lakes region and eastern states, but are near the seasonal average.

Utah State Official Charged With Fraud

SALT LAKE CITY, April 18 (By-AP)—J. H. Wells, secretary of state of Utah and former representative in congress from this state, was charged with failing to turn over state funds to the treasurer and with presentation of a false claim in two felony complaints signed by the state auditor this afternoon.

The complaints were signed by City Judge M. J. Broome and County Attorney Harold E. Wallace. Wells probably will be arraigned tomorrow.

The secretary of state is charged with failing to pay the state treasurer a total of $200 of state funds coming into his hands and with presenting a claim for $100 in favor of Golda Richards, representing her as an employee of his office, although she was never employed by him.

Hugh Johnson Appeals For Renewal Of NRA

General Recommends Many Changes In Recovery Act

(By The Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, April 18—Terminating NRA a "middle of the road course" between economic failure and communism or fascism, a solemnly determined Hugh S. Johnson appealed to congress today to renew the recovery law's life.

"Scrub our infant offpadding vigorously, but let us not throw the baby down the drain pipe with the dirty water," was the burden of the dynamic general's argument in behalf of the recovery act he helped write and the code rule he built for industry.

The first boss of the Blue Eagle, appearing as the final witness of the senate finance committee's NRA investigation, threw a powerful shoulder behind the administration wheel that is seeking to override congressional efforts for curtailment or abandonment of the law.

No sooner had he left the stand late in the day after reading an 88-page statement and submitting to cross-examination than Chairman Harrison closed the six-week inquiry and summoned his committee to meet in closed session tomorrow to start framing a new law.

Hugs Throng on Hand A huge throng filled the biggest hearing room in the senate office building to hear Johnson's account of his 18-month stewardship of the recovery machine. Frankly, he conceded many errors of administration, assuming the faults himself.

He contended vigorously that NRA was "the first intelligent attempt ever made by this government" to check a tendency which rapidly was turning all industry over to big business.

Through Johnson appeared as the administration's star witness and the fireworks usually associated with his name were lacking, the former cavalry officer did not attempt to "white-wash" the Democratic regime.

In typically blunt-spoken manner, Johnson testified that "one of the most vital criticisms against the whole New Deal is the fact that from time to time it has sorely lacked coordination."

Close behind Johnson as he talked sat Miss Frances Robinson, his secretary.

DEFENDS NRA

HUGH S. JOHNSON, former federal relief administrator, argues for retention of blue eagle regime as "middle of the road" course.

retary in the tumultuous NRA days. Appeals for NRA.

It was after he finished his written statement that Johnson appeared for NRA as a "middle-of-road course."

"My belief is," he said, "that we must take our capitalistic system in hand. The middle class NRA. We must not go back to what has failed. We must not go forward to communism or fascism."

In his prepared statement, Johnson had expressed the same ideas in the strong, picturesque language for which he is famous.

"On the whole question," he said, answering his own inquiry, as to whether NRA had succeeded or failed, "my conclusion is clean up NRA—don't destroy it."

Earlier, he had said that "to destroy NRA because there are some things wrong in its structure would be like burning down your house to get rid of a few rats in the attic."

Though he strongly defended NRA, including its disputed price fixing and production control provisions, Johnson recommended a number of changes. He urged a flat prohibition against monopoly in the new law with a definition of what it constitutes. Other recommendations included:

A clear definition of labor policy, forbidding coercion on either side, providing that when a majority in a shop or department chooses to be a particular union no other union should be recognized, and declaring that membership in a union should not be made a condition to employment.

A definition of unfair methods of competition, with a flat prohibition against them.

A definition of interstate commerce as any act wherever performed "materially affecting commerce among the several states."

Provision for adequate representation on code authorities of all industrial elements, including the small units which should have at least one third of the membership.

A clear definition of authority as between NRA, the labor boards, the labor department and the federal trade commission.

Opposition of an "administrative board" to see that in the relaxation of the anti-trust laws "the abuses which they sought to remedy are not allowed."

In his almost blindest endorsement of the old law, Johnson admitted only one major failure, that was in section 7-A, the provision designed to protect labor in collective bargaining.

"7-A struck section 7-A has substantially failed of its original purpose," he testified. "Section 7-A is so obscured by conflicting interpretations that it does not and cannot be construed as a definite labor policy."

Johnson said compelling him to answer "No" to his own question as to whether the law had fully insured to the rights intended to be granted to labor. But he added:

"It has done much for labor—more I think than any other law or organization or administration in our history."

Johnson was sympathetic to proposals for reducing working hours and increasing hourly wage rates, but said a blanket 30-hour week bill was too inflexible.

proposed that the federal contribution be increased to $30 and the age limit be reduced to 60. Obviously convinced that he, too, would be defeated, Knutson told the house:

Representative Monahan (D-Mont) offered the Townsend amendment, which is the gallery act. F. E. Townsend, author of the idea, there was no change of expression on the face of the white-haired Californian when the vote was announced—206 against the Townsend plan and 56 for it. Among those for it was Representative Taylor of Colorado, the sitting Democratic floor leader.

Next of the better-known proposals was the Greenway-Scruggins plan, under which the federal contribution would have been $20 in lieu of $15 and under which those over 60 on relief rolls between July 1, 1935, and June 30, 1937, would have gotten $18 a month directly from the federal government.

STUDENT JOURNALISTS HOLD BURLEY MEETING

BURLEY, April 18—Seventy-five south central Idaho high school journalists gathered at Burley Saturday for the second annual convention of high school news workers, sponsored by the chapter of the Quill and Scroll, high school journalism fraternity.

Five schools were registered prior to the meeting session which was held in the high school auditorium at 10 o'clock. The group was addressed by Henry C. Dornshak, Burley publisher and past president of the Idaho State Editorial Association. Delegates came from Rupert, Heyburn, Burley, Twin Falls and Shoshone, which was chosen as a meeting place for the convention.

Mr. Dornshak, at Vocation, was the subject of Mr. Dornshak's talk, the speaker pointing out the importance of the profession and its constant need for new blood from the best minds of each generation.

At a luncheon meeting in the Methodist Episcopal church basement, George E. Denman, Burley superintendent of schools, spoke on "Objections of a School Paper." At the sectional meeting for editors held in the afternoon, Jack Stone, Burley publisher, addressed the group on "Use and Improvement of the Editorial in Newspapers."

Victor Skiles, district president of the journalists, was toastmaster at the luncheon and general chairman of the convention which was planned under the supervision of Louis A. Soderberg with the assistance of Kevin F. Stewart and Miss Marjorie Throckmorton.

Sectional meetings for a round-table discussion of journalism problems were held after the conclusion of the luncheon. Chairmen and speakers at these discussions were: Feature writing, Linton Fremsted, chairman; Lillian Chapman, Shoshone; Robert Werner, Burley; Editor, Charles Coleman, chairman; and Walt Shear, Burley. Business managers: James Crouch, chairman; Burley; Annular, Gordon Parker, chairman; Clays Robinson, Burley; Louise Krenzel, Twin Falls; Newswriting: Alice Hansen, chairman; Barbara Young, Maxine Snodgrass and George Jenkins, Twin Falls.

The convention was concluded with a matinee dance in the high school gymnasium.

Physical Fitness Saves Athlete In Colorado Blizzard

COLORADO SPRINGS, April 18 (AP)—A former A. A. U. wrestling champion who told of wandering blindly in an overcast spring blizzard atop 14,100-foot Pikes Peak and struggling through drifts four feet deep to Cripple Creek, attributed his survival to physical fitness when he reached here today and addressed a luncheon club.

"If I had not been in perfect physical shape I probably never would have made it," said John Eareckon, national A. A. U. 135-pound wrestling champion and winner of the south Atlantic wrestling

THREE VACANCIES ON JAMBOREE LIST

Boy Scout Area Headquarters Outlines Order of Procedure

Places for three more Boy Scouts are yet to be filled to complete the Snake River Boy Scout area's, 35th "Jamboree" at the "national jamboree in Washington next August," it was announced at area headquarters here last evening.

All places are to be filled on or before May 1, when boys selected to represent the participating troops are to be identified and begin required vaccination and anti-typhoid inoculations. Applications are to be completed by May 15, and by May 1 the $75 balance of the $100 deposit for each boy's expenses at the jamboree is to be paid to the local jamboree committee.

A preliminary training camp for this area's scouts chosen to attend the national jamboree will be held early in August, it was announced last evening.

CITY EMPLOYEES IERA WORKERS ON STREET

A new crew of IERA workers assigned to employment in Twin Falls will be put to work with shovels this morning grading Diamond street, J. M. Dimond, superintendent of streets and waterworks, said last evening. A crew of 20 men under orders issued yesterday to report at the city hall at 8 o'clock this morning will be put to work on the grading project. A nine-man crew was under instructions to report for work for the city Saturday morning.

IERA workers assigned to the city the first of the week were employed on the "rush line," where, Mr. Dimond said last evening, work now is held up while waiting for pipe.

IERA offices, also issued instructions yesterday for 30 men to report for work this morning to Frank Brennan, foreman in charge of tree cutting and wood hauling projects. Ten other IERA workers were assigned to this work Saturday.

Salt Lake Family, Evicted, Camps In Front of House

SALT LAKE CITY, April 18 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Jack Allen and their three children, 6, 5 and 3 years of age, were keeping house outdoors here today, on the parking strip in front of the house from which they have been evicted, for non-payment of rent.

A rude tent provided sleeping quarters for all except the baby, who was given shelter for the night by a neighbor. Their dining-table was set up nearby, next to a coal range that provided cooking facilities and some warmth.

The Allens were evicted yesterday, spent the night in their camp and were prepared to continue the Gypsy life until something better offered.

Doesn't Blame Landlord

"I hold no grudge against the landlord," Allen said today. "He has to receive rent in order to pay taxes and I have been unable to have rent included in my relief budget. For the same reason, I have been unable to find anyone who will rent to me, so we'll just have to sit tight and make the best of it."

Allen has been exchanging the services of himself and his truck for provisions from the State Relief Administration. He has not had regular employment for about five years.

CITY PREPARES TO FETE MUSICIANS

State Music Festival Here May 3 and 4 to Include Massed Concert

Twin Falls will be host to approximately 2000 contestants at the state music festival May 3 and 4. The majority of the contests will be held in the high school auditorium and gymnasium, but since a number of contests will be held at the same time, four halls are needed. "Since this festival means considerable to Twin Falls, we are asking the city's cooperation in finding more halls," W. E. Smith, superintendent of schools, announced last evening.

Participants will include class A, B and C bands; class A, B and C orchestras; instrumental soloists, vocal soloists; vocal quartets, girls' glee clubs; boys' glee clubs and mixed choruses.

Between 25 and 30 bands will participate in a band marching contest at Lincoln field Friday evening, May 3. The field will be illuminated with flood lights, and as a climax all bands will organize in mass formation and play four marches.

Saturday night is a climax to the festival, a grand concert will be given by contest winners.

The Girl Reserves and Parent-Teacher associations are in charge of the entertainment and room reservations. Those having room accommodations are requested to communicate with Mrs. J. R. Nelson, chairman of the Twin Falls Council of Parents and Teachers.

There is no need for a lot of whangdoodle talk about cigarettes

— just plain common-sense

When you stop to think about your cigarette—what it means to you—here's about the way you look at it—

Smoking a cigarette gives a lot of pleasure—it always has.

People have been smoking and enjoying tobacco in some form or another for over 400 years.

Of course you want a cigarette to be made right. And naturally you want it to be mild. Yet you want it to have the right taste—and plenty of it.

In other words—you want it to Satisfy.

Scientific methods and ripe mild tobaccos make Chesterfield a milder and better-tasting cigarette. We believe you will enjoy them.

MR. KINYON SPEAKS

Political charges for the most part are to be dismissed as such, but when a Democrat, high in the councils of his party, as is Frank Kinyon of Boise, attacks another Democrat...

Speaking from the same platform occupied by the governor some two weeks ago when he told an audience at Homedale about "outsmarting" the Legislature in connection with the passage of the Idaho sales tax...

The Idaho sales tax as at present administered is a dishonest thing, Mr. Kinyon declared, and the passage of the sales tax law was altogether unnecessary.

As far as the sales tax is concerned there is no question but what Ross told the truth when he declared that he outsmarted the Legislature in contriving the passage of the bill.

Idaho did not need a sales tax any more than she needs an additional governor, a fact which will become steadily more apparent as time goes by.

WAITING FOR COURT DECISIONS

"It seems to me unfortunate," writes an Eastern businessman, "that the new NIRA is being drafted without an opinion from the Supreme Court as to what Congress can do in the broad field of codifying industry."

It seems so to many others. And the lack of such an opinion represents a defect in our form, or at least in our practice of government.

This is a tedious and awkward process, for it sometimes takes years to discover that an act or part of an act is invalid, and then it becomes necessary to start over again and go through the same unbusinesslike procedure.

The government's Department of Justice does the best it knows how to give us good legal advice, but it lacks authority. If officials in the executive or legislative departments ever do consult the Chief Justice...

Department and the other two departments with regard to executive and legislative procedure. It would not need to be formal to be effective, and would not necessarily commit the court and tie its hands in future decisions.

PAY IF YOU FIGHT

The United States Senate munitions committee is certainly planning to "take the profit out of war" with a vengeance. It proposes to confiscate all war industry profit above six per cent and take in taxes one-half of the profit under ten per cent.

This is called a "Pay as You Fight" plan. The committee proposes that "it will do more than any other proposal before Congress to limit profiteering and to avoid the disastrous and possibly catastrophic results of another post-war inflation."

If any such drastic measure is adopted, the country will have little need to worry about another "post-war inflation," because the dangers of another war will be so greatly lessened.

WE CAN HANDLE CRISIS TODAY

(Moscow Star-Mirror) "A 'low dam' extension of Grand Coulee from a 'low dam' to a 'high dam' is certain, we are told by Spokane newspapers. The Spokane papers probably know what they are talking about.

Under ordinary circumstances, announcement that Grand Coulee will be increased to a high dam status for impounding irrigation waters would bring a flood of condemnation. This paper would be right in line.

As circumstances exist today, however, there is no condemnation. Opposition remains silent—who to call on for spending of money.

WE ABOLISH WAR PROFITS

The house of representatives passes with a whoop a bill to limit war profits to three per cent and to a description of soldiers in war. But if you think this definitely means there will be neither excess war profit nor conscription in the next war (if any) you're as wrong as the chap who thought there'd be no drinking under prohibition or no intemperance under repeal.

War will bring an emergency in which we will have to act quickly and vigorously by doing what we can. We will have allies to hold the enemy during months of preparation as we did the last time. We'll have to protect ourselves. This means we'll either have to take over essential industry or stimulate it by adding up to its products.

Guiding Your Child

By ALICE CLARISSA RICHMOND

PARTING THE WAYS. Boys' work, girls' work. Boys' work is always boys' work, girls' work is always girls' work.

The division is made almost in the cradle. And really enough, the division is always made in the cradle. No girl is ashamed of doing a boy's chore or reading a boy's book, but a boy is ashamed of doing a girl's chore or reading a girl's book.

The fault lies largely in the mothers. In their effort to make men of their boys, they over-emphasize the qualities which seem to them essential to men. A man, being up a boy probably would not feel the need of doing this, any more than a woman bringing up girls considers it necessary to insist too strongly on feminine as opposed to masculine occupations.

The distinction is not innate in the children. Given liberty to browse in a boy who has not been warned beforehand is quite as likely to read girls' books as to play with dolls. Very many men are excellent cooks and even clever with the needle. Making beds and washing clothes are as much manly occupations, and many a college boy or engineer in the field is glad enough to learn how to do these chores.

It is very apt to be the woman whose contacts before marriage were largely with the seniors of southern Idaho and eastern Oregon at the 24th annual Founders' day program, commencing the 4th anniversary of the founding of The College of Idaho.

A New Yorker At Large

By JAMES H. BERTON

NEW YORK.—John Strachey, the English communist, is more likely to be seen in New York than in London. He is now in New York for the night in connection with the fact that the federal government threatened to deport him from the country for preaching a radical doctrine.

New York, liberal to a fault, had sentimental on occasion, whirled him from one party to another, and another that last night and everyone from Mayor LaGuardia to Jimmy Dewey, including their support.

He spoke downtown early in the evening, and then stopped in at the Newspaper Guild party and thanked the businessmen for their support. There he met Durand and the mayor, and when Strachey started back downtown to catch the Bergamini, Jimmy landed on seeing him at the door.

Strachey is perhaps the only communist who ever crossed the Atlantic in first class. When deportation proceedings were started against him, his tourist tickets on the Bernini were cancelled, and when the case was finally dropped, there were no other tourist accommodations available.

"I'll never live this down!" he moaned.

The combination of money and the stage, which is so notoriously disastrous to marriage, can't defeat the Waller Hustons, who are now touring the country. Doctor and Mrs. Huston (Nan Sutherland) is excitable. Walter is as solemn and reliable as a scale. They play golf and tennis together, always eat together, and they even built their little mountain house in California. They succeed in keeping their children from getting back to it this summer.

Only 13 years ago, Walter Huston was a singer and singing in small town vaudeville houses. His first Broadway success was in Zora. He had two more Broadway successes were Ephraim Cabot in Desire Under the Elms and as Nitty Gritty in The Barker.

ROTARIANS GATHER FOR ALBION MEET

Annual Inter-City Convention Sponsored by Burley, Rupert Clubs

ALBION, April 13.—Three hundred Rotarians and their wives from ten southern Idaho towns were guests of the Burley and Rupert clubs in Albion Wednesday night.

Arrangements were in charge of Harold Dearfoot, president of the Burley club, H. E. Sorenberg, Rupert, president, and R. H. Snyder, member of the Burley club and president of the Albion State Normal school.

With the event of the inter-city Rotary meet, the third activity of the week, Albion has been jokingly called "the convention city." A district conference on parent education was directed by Mrs. J. E. Joslyn, Twin Falls, Idaho parent education chairman, and Mrs. John H. Hester, Twin Falls, president of the Idaho Congress of Parents and Teachers, was held here Monday, and a social meeting of Burley and Rupert Business and Professional Women's clubs took place here Tuesday.

EPISCOPAL SERVICES FOR FRIDAY EXPLAINED

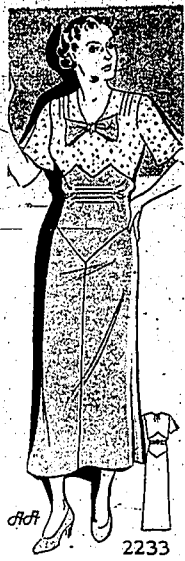

The three hours' service at the Ascension Episcopal church will be at 12 o'clock today. There will be three distinct periods of an hour's duration each, the first hour from 12 to 1, will be the opening of the service, the second hour, from 1 to 2, at the cross, and the third hour, from 2 to 3, contemplation of the cross.

Those who wish to attend but find it impossible to be present for the entire time can conveniently come for any one or two of the periods they desire.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED—Announcement of the marriage of George Fisher of Twin Falls and Miss Lelia McFarland of Jefferson, Texas, at the home of the bride's parents last Saturday, has been received by friends here.

TAILORED LINES ADOPT TWIN PRINT TREBLE PATTERN 2233

by Anne Adams

Fashion says the "navy" is in—so choose navy with white—make the bodice of the light ground, the skirt of the dark as shown. The smart bow tie is the flipp, the inverted-pleat sleeve the novelty, and the clever handling of the mid-section the feature of this all-embracing afternoon frock.

Pattern 2233 is available in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44. Size 16 takes 2 1/2 yards so inch fabric is 1/2 yard contrasting. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number BE SURE TO STATE SIZE. GET THE ANNE ADAMS SEWING PATTERN BOOK. Wells, treasurer.

CONTRACT CLUB MEETS FOR GAMES

Miss Helen Parrott entertained her contract club Wednesday evening at her home on Shoshone Street East. Miss Martha Parrish, Mrs. Helen Bayley, and Mrs. J. M. Pierce were high scorers. Refreshments were served at one long table centered with sweet peas and flanked by blending tapers.

FLOWER CULTURE IS PROGRAM TOPIC

The Mountain View club met at the home of Mrs. E. D. Hartman Wednesday afternoon. A variety of institutes were the roll call responses. Mrs. Carl Mock, Mrs. J. W. McDowell, Mrs. Clell McDowell and Mrs. Robert Eays, junior, were guests. Ellen Bayley gave an instructive talk on special flower culture. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Robert Eays, senior, served refreshments. The club will meet in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Guy Hunter.

MOTHER'S DAY LUNCHEON DISCUSSED

The Mountain View club met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Olga Malone, with Mrs. Letha Malone, as the hostess. Mrs. Malone presided at the business session. Mrs. Verna Jordan was received as a new member. Mrs. Irene Childers, Mrs. C. M. Hall, Mrs. E. T. Wells, and Mrs. Bandy, Mrs. Jordan, and Mrs. Childers. Plans were made for a one o'clock Mother's Day luncheon at the home of Mrs. E. T. Wells. Mrs. Malone presided. Refreshments were served. Refreshments were served.

DISTRICT MEETING PLANNED BY REBEKAHS

Fifty members of Princess Rebekehs are planning to hold a district meeting at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. M. Pierce. Refreshments will be served.

LINCOLN P. T. A. STAFF INSTALLED

Loyal Perry of the Twin Falls high school faculty, principal speaker at the Lincoln Parent-Teacher Association meeting, discussed "Future Tasks for Today's Children." Mrs. E. F. Brown, program leader, introduced Mrs. J. R. Nelson, president of the Twin Falls Council of Parents and Teachers, installed the following officers:

Mrs. G. W. Burgess, president; Mrs. F. A. Goodknight, vice president; Miss Clara Kofler, secretary; Mrs. Earl Johnson, treasurer. Mrs. Burgess announced the following committee chairmen: Publicity, Mrs. J. D. Platt; hospitality, Mrs. W. E. Brooks; refreshments, Mrs. Buckmaster; program, Mrs. C. F. Brown; study group, Mrs. C. F. Hingardner; hot lunches, Mrs. Paul Moseley; courtesy, Mrs. L. W. Hite; roundup, Mrs. James Harvey; membership, Mrs. Arthur Gordon.

SHOWER GIVEN MRS. VAN AUDELN

Mrs. George Ebband gave a roundup at the home making a report. Mrs. Paul Moseley reported on hot lunches; Mrs. Burgess on the school of instruction held last Friday at the high school, and also the district conference at Albion, Mrs. Nelson's cooperation in finding room accommodations for high school students who will be here for the musical festival in May.

Mrs. C. F. Brown presented the state convention at Boise, May eight-eleven. According to the annual custom, Mrs. Rasmussen read the law. Mrs. Burgess then presented Mrs. Rasmussen with a presidential pin. Program numbers in addition to the talk by Mr. Perry, included: Tap dance, boys of the second grade; puppet show, pupils in Miss Berry's room; song, second grade girls; piano duet, Marilyn Brice and Irene Davidson. Mrs. Taylor's room won the book award for attendance.

BRIDE-TO-BE GUEST AT SHOWER

Miss Opal Melton, who is to be married this month, was honored by the women of the Church of the Brethren at a miscellaneous shower Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. and Mr. J. H. Melton. Thirty-five guests attended the affair. Following presentation of the many attractive gifts, refreshments featuring the Easter motif were served.

LINK'S STUDENTS MAKE PARTY PLANS

Students of Link's Business College, meeting Wednesday, adopted a constitution and made plans for a party April twenty-sixth at the college. Miss Miller entertained the group with a number of popular piano solos.

SHOWER GIVEN MRS. VAN AUDELN

Mrs. Clyde Van Auden, a recent bride, was the inspiration for a shower at the home of Miss Helen Steene Wednesday evening. Little stories with surprise endings were read. Refreshments were served.

MAYOR OBJECTS TO LABOR IMPORTATION

New Deal Club Hears Bellicose Assertion in Wage Dispute

Duncan MEd. Johnson, Twin Falls mayor, told a meeting of Twin Falls New Deal club Wednesday evening that he opposes any attempt to bring beet field labor to the Twin Falls district from the outside.

"I haven't been in a war for 17 years," he said, "but I would suggest that we have another war if they attempt to bring in beet labor from the outside."

Under consideration was the statement of Twin Falls district beet growers based following a meeting here Tuesday evening that wages stand by a graduated wage scale ranging from $18 per acre on a 10-ton crop to $24 per acre on a 20-ton crop, and asserting that if local labor were not available work would be brought in from the outside to save the crop.

Harold L. Yeaman, blind Twin Falls attorney and candidate for the congressional nomination a year ago, discussed "Modern Inventions and on-car methods in government."

W. K. Taylor, candidate for Twin Falls councilman, was introduced.

During the business session the club elected officers for the coming year, re-electing Frank Brennan, president, and L. W. Williams, vice president, and electing Wilford Dodge as treasurer.

An orchestra furnished music for dancing at the close of the business meeting.

AN UNEXPECTED ROSE BUSH SALE

STARTING FRIDAY MORNING AT 8 O'CLOCK

800 Assorted ROSE BUSHES 2 for 25c

So many of our good customers were not able to obtain bushes on our former sale and so many requests were pouring in that we wrote our grower in Oregon and told him he absolutely must get us some more bushes at all costs. He gave us every bush he had left from cancelled orders and then took all the bushes his neighbor growers had. As far as we know there isn't a bush left in that section. In our opinion some of these bushes are not as good as those offered in our previous sales but they are still very good values. Each bush wrapped and labeled as to color and variety. We regret that we cannot accept phone or mail orders on these bushes.

LOYD GEORGE FOR VAST PUBLIC WORKS

Former Prime Minister Lays New Deal Program Before British Cabinet

LONDON, April 18 (AP)—David Lloyd George laid his "new deal" for Britain before the British government today but observers saw small prospect that his vast public works program, the heart of his scheme, would be adopted.

A special cabinet committee listened for two hours while the white-haired "Welsh wizard" explained his far-reaching plans to hasten the return of prosperity in the land. Emerging, he seemed cheerful. He refused to discuss what took place at the meeting.

After several further sessions the cabinet committee will draw up conclusions concerning the wartime premier's proposals for submission to the whole cabinet.

Invited by MacDonald

Today's meeting came about in consequence of an invitation Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald extended to Lloyd George recently to present details of his plan for the cabinet's consideration.

Previously the fiery Welshman had roused England and Wales assailing the government's asserted unsatisfactory dealing with the depression and problems growing out of it.

It was expected the balanced budget handed down this week by Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, and Lloyd George's old political enemy, would preclude consideration of the "new deal's" public works provision.

However, it was understood Lloyd George wanted to ascertain the government's opinion of his proposal to float an internal loan for national development.

BRITAIN DISCLAIMS DEBT REPUDIATION

Chamberlain Distinguishes Between Commercial and War Borrowings

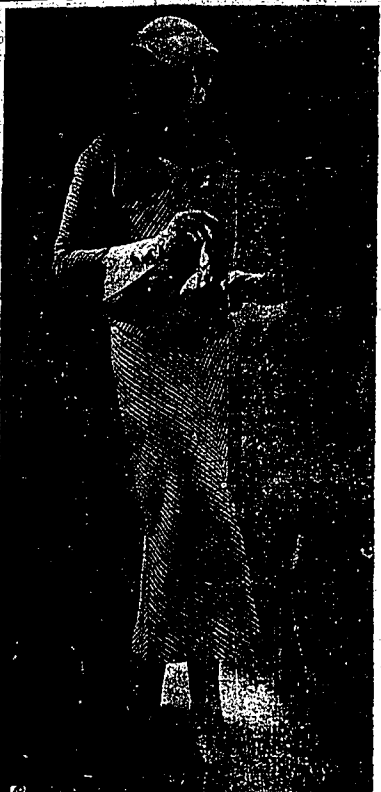

LONDON, April 18 (AP)—Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, replying to labor attacks on his 1935-36 balanced budget, told the house of commons last night Great Britain has not repudiated war debts owed to the United States.

Labor members had accused Chamberlain of balancing his books by chucking the big war debt "into the limbo of forgotten things."

"The house passed the budget, which estimates revenues for the fiscal year at $1,677,820,000 and expenditures at $2,425,000 less, without division, after Chamberlain, speaking in his decisive, said:

"I do not think anybody does an injustice to this country by suggesting that the American war debt on which the same footing as the commercial debts, nor do I think it is wise for anyone to suggest that our debt has been repudiated. That is not the case."

New Spring Frocks Sing Song Of Youth

White leather butterfly gives the 1935 spring stamp to this new gray and white striped wool frock by Marcel Rochas. They are caught on the neckline and poised on the black leather belt. A white hat and gloves complete the costume. Notice how the striped material is worked on the bias.

By ADELAIDE KERR PARIS (AP)—The new spring frocks for daytime wear bring a song of youth.

Trim little waistlines, skirts which are designed in varying degrees of fullness but are almost never light, fairly large sleeves and any number of belt and buckle gadgets make the new models as young as spring.

The fastenings and the belts on the 1935 frocks are a story in themselves. Silver filigree butterfly, white enamel tassels and silver shields in varying sizes strung down the front or side of a dress to fasten belts of rope, cord, leather, loggers strung on strings, simulated parchment, pigskin and bright tal-

COURT OPENS JAIL DOOR FOR WATERS

Sentence for Contempt in Suit for Divorce Held Invalid

BOISE, April 18 (AP)—The Idaho supreme court today ordered Delois C. Waters liberated from the Twin Falls county jail where he has been serving since March 29 on a charge of contempt of court.

The court's order was issued this afternoon by Chief Justice Raymond L. Givens after E. Forest Frazer, sheriff of Twin Falls county, had appeared before the tribunal in compliance with a writ of habeas corpus issued on the application of counsel for Waters last week.

Waters was committed to the county jail on a contempt charge made by Judge Adam B. Barclay in the divorce action brought by Waters' wife, Frances Waters. He was fined $300 and began serving the fine out at the rate of $2 a day.

Waters is charged with some such amusing devices as a golden cock, an imitation telephone dial or a white musical chair.

Novel Weaves In Wool Wool frocks for early spring wear are out in all sorts of plain and fancy weaves. Green wool flecked with gray and orange hairs, pencil blue and gray stripes, and navy wool splashed with white blobs make colorful highlights on a vast background of black and dark blue dyes.

The dark models are lightened by scores of new and shining white touches—a white linen star-shaped collar, with small stars, but out in it so the black dress beneath shows through, round plique collars with neat white bows or camellias across the front, or white organdy flowers rimming the neckline.

Suits, gloves and hats—generally of plique—are all ready to wear—while as soon as warm days appear.

Taffeta in Daytime Modé Taffeta rustles crisply through the daytime mode. It makes intricate, stiles and plaiting work on dark wool frocks, fashions entire full-skirted dresses for afternoon wear and makes tunics and jackets of top dark solids.

There is a vast array of prints ready to wear as spring advances. Suits, gloves and hats—generally of plique—are all ready to wear—while as soon as warm days appear.

Five Telltale $1,000 Bills Put Kidnapers In Gallows' Shadow

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Five telltale $1,000 bills, secured behind a framed photograph, helped bring Walter H. McGee to the shadow of the gallows—the first kidnaper to be assessed the extreme penalty in the wake of abductions for ransom which swept over America.

McGee's execution has been set for May 10, but his attorneys asked the state supreme court for a rehearing of his conviction.

The bills were part of $50,000 paid by F. P. McElroy, city manager of Kansas City, for the return of his 25-year-old daughter, Mary, spirited away by two armed men who invaded the McElroy home in broad daylight May 27, 1933.

Three Texas peace officers, testifying at McGee's trial, told of finding the currency in the kidnapers' luggage when he was taken into custody at Amarillo, Tex.

Telegram Proved Tip Police and federal agents, on a tip from an undisclosed source, were searching for McGee in connection with the kidnaping when a telegram from an Amarillo motorcar dealer to a Leavenworth, Kan., junk man with whom McGee had had dealings put them on a hot trail.

McGee was negotiating for the purchase of a car at Amarillo, and the Texas dealer sought information regarding the car to be taken in part payment, as well as the "responsibility of W. H. McGee."

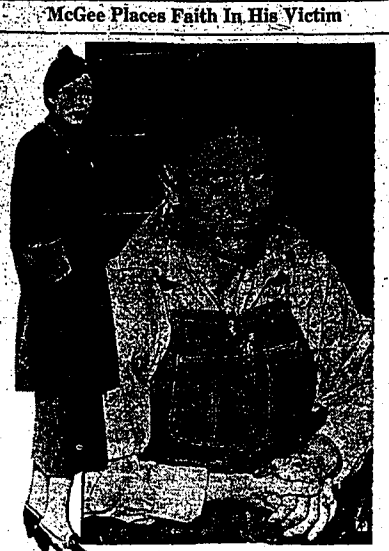

Immediately Kansas City authorities telegraphed a request for McGee's arrest, and he was returned here to stand trial in district court. He made a confession and the jury, after being out over night, found him guilty and fixed his punishment at death.

Two Accomplices Sentenced Three alleged accomplices named by McGee in his signed confession were indicted—George McGee, his brother, Clarence Click, who rented the house in which Miss McElroy was held prisoner; and Clarence Stevens.

George McGee, arrested in Virginia, was tried and sentenced to life imprisonment. Click was apprehended in Kansas City, convicted and sentenced to eight years in prison, but search for Stevens failed.

Miss McElroy, compelled to leave her bath, dress hurriedly and accompany her two abductors in an automobile, was kept chained in the basement of a bungalow across the state line in Kansas from the time of her kidnaping until the following day. Her captors, communicating with her father by telephone, agreed to accept $50,000 for her safe release instead of the $50,000 at first demanded. McElroy himself made the payment.

A witness at the trial of each of the three men convicted, Miss McElroy was under considerable strain

The hanging of Walter H. McGee (right), confessed kidnaper of Mary McElroy (left), daughter of Kansas City's city manager, is scheduled for May 10. His lawyers, appealed for a rehearing and McGee hopes Miss McElroy will intercede on his behalf.

PRELIMINARY PLANS FOR GOODING'S RODEO

GOODING, April 18—Preliminary plans for the annual Gooding rodeo, to be held here August 29-31 under the sponsorship of Perry Ryan post, American Legion, are under way.

Alex Watson is chairman for the event and Herb Love is secretary.

Due to the fact that the Gooding Rodeo association is a member of the National Rodeo association and the rodeo will be held here will count in national competition, many requests from prospective contestants have already been received for prize lists.

Gooding national guard cavalry troop is again assisting in the event. A new grandstand with a capacity of 3000 seats is being constructed and a commercial sound truck has been engaged for the three days of the rodeo. Plans for the annual show and farm exhibit have not yet been announced.

FALLING TIMBERS HIT CONSTRUCTION FOREMAN

Thomas Fry, 69, Boise, foreman of construction work at the Lower Salmon river power plant in Hagerman valley, suffered severe injuries yesterday morning when he was struck by falling timbers. He was supervising installation of a turbine when the accident occurred.

He was making satisfactory recovery at the Twin Falls county general hospital last evening, according to the attending physician. He suffered a scalp wound, concussion of the brain, severe laceration of the left hand, a fractured left ankle and shoulder injury.

GIRARD EXPLAINS REFERENDUM LAW

Cost to Sponsors and State Government Emphasized by Official

BOISE, April 18 (AP)—Machinery for operation of the state-wide referendum law is not simple and resort to it is expensive, Franklin Girard, secretary of state, said after having completed a detailed study of provisions of the act passed by the 22nd legislature.

It was recently brought into play by opponents of the sales tax. "Individuals or organizations desiring to invoke the referendum must assume the responsibility of securing the necessary forms and signatures for filing in the office of the secretary of state," he noted.

Legal Requirements

"A copy of the law upon which a referendum is requested must be attached to the forms or sheets on which signatures are written," he explained in a statement written for the guidance of the legislature.

"In the initial operation no forms or supplies are furnished at state expense. The form of the referendum petition and ballot are prepared by the attorney general and approved and furnished to the organization which sponsors the referendum; then it is the responsibility of the organization to provide, at its own expense, the necessary referendum petition sheets according to the approved form and also the necessary copies of the law upon which a referendum is requested. When the necessary number of signatures (approximately 17,000) have been obtained, petitioners are notified and filed in the office of the secretary of state, all of which is the responsibility of the sponsors of the referendum—our responsibility begins.

Copies Cost State $2,500

"We must have printed sufficient copies of the law upon which a referendum is desired to supply one copy to each voter in the state. It would take approximately 200,000 copies of the sales law which would cost about $2,500.

"Arguments for and against the measure may be distributed also at the time the law is distributed, the cost of such arguments either for or against the law to be borne by those making the argument.

" postage by the county auditors to mail approximately 200,000 copies of the law would be about $1,000. Then it is estimated that it would cost some $800 for us to mail copies of the law to county auditors and the envelopes for mailing stickers."

MRS. MINNIE SLINDEE SUMMONED AT BURLEY

BURLEY, April 18—Mrs. Minnie Slindee, 42, wife of Nels Slindee, head of the Slindee Produce company and prominent potato buyer, died at her home at 8:30 o'clock this morning following an illness of several weeks duration.

Mrs. Slindee was born at Ritzville, Washington, September 18, 1892, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Moore. With her parents she came to Burley a number of years ago and since her marriage to Mr. Slindee has lived here.

Surviving besides her husband are her mother, Mrs. Emma Moore; a sister, Mrs. B. E. West of Kent, Washington, and two brothers, Floyd Moore and William Moore of Nampa. Her father preceded her in death ten years ago.

The body rests at the Farns mortuary awaiting funeral arrangements.

Mrs. Slindee was a member of Burley Evergreen chapter of Eastern Star and a member of the Daughters of the Nile.

UTAH LENDS AID TO IDAHO HISTORIANS

University Branch Project Calls for Visit to Salt Lake City

POCATELLO, April 18 — To acquire access to valuable historical material contained in the archives of the U. of U. church for use in the Idaho Historical Quarterly and to secure the aid and cooperation of the U. of U. University of Utah, southern branch, spent their spring vacation in Salt Lake City. Those who went to Salt Lake were: Dr. Harold C. Vedeler, Professor Charles G. Laird and Mrs. Laird, Professor Edmund Morrison and Mrs. Morrison.

Among those whom they met in Salt Lake were J. Cecil Alter, secretary-treasurer of the Utah State Historical society and editor of the Utah Historical Quarterly; Leslie L. Buweek of Kimberly, graduate student at the University of Utah, who is writing a history of southeastern Idaho, and who has promised to exchange copies of diaries and picture journals now in private hands for the museum and will probably edit the journals for The Idaho Historical Quarterly; Professor Levi E. Young of the University of Utah, who expects to begin a collection of journals.

Through the help of J. Wylie Best, director of the L. D. S. Institute at the southern branch, the group met several prominent L. D. S. church leaders and arranged to exchange copies of diaries and picture journals with them. The committee was promised cooperation in locating the journals of the Lemhi Mission and typed out sections of historical journals. They met Elder Joseph Fielding Smith of the Council of the Twelve and several church historians; Alvin E. Smith, church historian; A. William Lund, assistant secretary; and LeRoy O. Snow, in charge of the church picture collection.

Dr. Vedeler will go to Salt Lake this summer to examine a collection of all Idaho historical material, which will be printed in the Quarterly.

STUDENTS AT ALBION ASK SCOUT TRAINING

"Twenty-five Albion normal school students signed an application for a Boy Scout training course that is to be given during the spring quarter at the Albion institution, beginning next Monday, April 22, and continuing each Monday and Thursday over a seven-week period. It was announced at Snake River Boy Scout area headquarters here last evening.

Offering training in the fundamentals of scouting, a major objective of the course is expansion of the scout movement in rural districts where approximately two-thirds of southern Idaho's population lives. Amby Frederick, area executive, said. In the application by the normal school students for the training course he saw a reflection of a growing demand on the part of school boards that teachers shall be qualified to handle scouting in their districts.

The training course is to deal with the philosophy of the scouting organization and scouting procedure, and will include an overnight camping during the fifth week.

FAMED LAWYERS ENTER NRA CASE

Independent Battery Maker Names Davis and Baker as Legal Aides

WASHINGTON, April 18 (AP)—Five of the nation's most prominent lawyers — some of them avowed anti-union dogmas — were selected yesterday to have become interested in the case of Fred C. Perkins, York, Pa., independent battery maker, who was convicted and spent 18 days in jail for refusing to pay the minimum wage under an NRA code.

Perkins, who said he spoke "unofficially" for many small manufacturers and officials of his business, told the senate finance committee studying NRA extension legislation that a noted group of attorneys had been prevailed upon to join George Love, his private lawyer, in appealing his conviction.

He named John W. Davis, Newton D. Baker, former Speaker, David A. Reed of Pennsylvania, and James A. Reed of Missouri, and Harold B. Eiler, of Philadelphia, president of the Pennsylvania Bar association, as the five.

White Sox Pitcher Walks In Deciding Run In Ninth

DETROIT, April 18 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers defeated the Chicago White Sox 5 to 4 today and drove the first nail into any hope they might have of leading the 1936 American league championship.

The Tigers had many chances to score but it was not until Joe Vance walked Manager Cochran in the ninth with the bases loaded, to force in the run that they were able to clinch up the deciding run.

Bridges pitched for Detroit, allowing 12 hits, one of which was a home run by Red Killebrew in the third with no one on base. Les Tietje opened for the Sox and worked for five innings during which he walked seven men and was touched for hits by eight, Vance after five hits and five runs, including the one which gave the Tigers their victory.

The Tigers led the Sox 3 to 2 at the end of the seventh but Chicago tied it up in the eighth on a fielder's choice and a single by Red Killebrew and a single by Red Killebrew and a single by Red Killebrew.

Cochran's single and Walker's double brought in the tying run. Then Owen walked and Walker stole third when Bridges fanned. The Tiger right fielder strangled a misplayed play and was supplanted by Fox. Owen advanced to second on a wild pitch and Joe White drew a pass to lead the bases. This, the stars for the Sox, gave them a free stroll to first and set the winning run by Fox.

CHICAGO, April 18 (AP)—Brother Paul Dean, handsomely assisted by Joe Medwick, conquered the Chicago Cubs today, 1 to 0, for the first of the 40 victories this season promised by the speaking member of the Dean clan, Brother Dizzy.

Medwick's contribution was a line-smash home run in the sixth inning for the only score of the battle and brother Paul did not need anything else. He gave eight hits, to only five allowed by Larry Pate, but when he was threatened, he had the Cubs popping up or striking out.

A slugging crowd of 3,200 spectators had hopes that brother Paul would last no longer than brother Dizzy did in the opener Tuesday when little August Galan shoved off in the Cubs' half of the first inning with a double. He might just as well have been anchored, however, for brother Paul fanned Billy Herman and forced Kiki Cuyler and Freddy Lindstrom to pop up to first baseman Earl Golter.

French singled with one out in the third and after Galan had popped to French, went to third on Billy Herman's single. Brother Paul was threatened by a pop-up from Cuyler. Lindstrom opened the fourth with a single and went to second on Chuck Klein's sacrifice. But manager Paul Dean and Gabby Hartnett, could do no better than files to Duersch and Roth.

After Galan beat out a bunt to open the eighth and continued to second when Pepper Martin's low throw went clear to the Cardinal dugout, Dean put the pop-up ball to work again and Herman, Cuyler and Lindstrom, who had popped to French, were out.

The victory gave the world champions an even break in the abbreviated opening series.

PHILADELPHIA, April 18 (AP)—Big Jim Weaver's debut as a pitcher was spoiled today by the hustling Cincinnati Reds who outslugged the Phillies in less than two frames and continued their cannonade against his four successors to defeat Pittsburgh 9 to 0.

Weaver's wild pitch in the second inning with the bases ruled permitted the two runs to score.

The Pirates also chased the starting Red pitcher, Hollingsworth, with a two-run stick in the fourth, and Hermann, who went to the morgue, was in turn relieved in the sixth by Frey after Pittsburgh scored two more.

Twin Falls newly organized baseball team will get its first taste of competition Sunday, April 19, when the Magic City nine will welcome South Central Idaho's most rabid diamond team, Burley. The Magic City team will play at 7:30 p.m. The potential Twin Falls aggregation will again take to the field this evening at 8:15 o'clock for the second workout of the season. Tonight's practice will serve as the first of the material available for Wednesday's session consisted of nothing but "playing catch."

The big Twin Falls diamond began to take form yesterday when it was graded and a roller will go over the field this morning to get it in top condition for the workout tonight.

Thirty-five prospects turned out Wednesday night, this number is slated to be augmented this evening.

South Central Idaho High School, College Athletes To Compete

Big Inter-District Clash Scheduled At Burley For May 10; District Event To Be Staged May 3

With the advent of spring, spiked shoes will beat the cinder paths of the South Central Idaho district today for the unofficial opening of the 1935 season of track and field endeavor.

As the mantle is drawn from the various high school camps of the district, some of the teams will vie in various invitational meets this afternoon while others, including the invited Twin Falls Bruins, will remain idle.

Sub-district competition in the three South Central Idaho divisions is slated to be held Friday, April 26, although the various places for the meets have not yet been announced.

The district contest is tentatively slated for May 3, 10. State will be the scene of the state meet, May 17 or 18.

The major event set for this weekend and starts from the field of high school sports and centers itself upon the annual Gooding college meet. The meet will be held Saturday on the Gooding college track.

Today's events include several invitational meets as well as the inter-district meet at Murlough, Buhl, Wendell, Gooding and Jerome will meet at the West End on the North Side, but teams from East End schools will vie at Burley next Friday.

As the district meet is scheduled for May 3, the sub-district competition must be run off by the week previous to the district meet. Paul superintendent of schools and district board of control president, said that the district meet will be held at Burley on May 3.

The other five former winners are the middle-aged Clarence Demar, the bricklayer Bill Kenworthy, 28; yard crum and hilly Janis, Paul Debrun, the powerful New York German, smiling Jimmy Zemanek, the bricklayer Richard Kowalski, 28; and the older, who triumph came in 1917, and Kelley's outstanding high jumper Leslie Fawcett, 24. Fawcett, N. I., who set the race record of 2:31.01 3-5 two years ago of the inter-district.
