PICNIC SEASON ARRIVES AGAIN
The not-to-be resisted lures of spring to the mountains, the lakes, and other favorite haunts is upon us and who is to blame for the picnic season? The thimble bottles, lead the family kodak and get away from it all on a sunny day.
There's no trouble these days, no spending of hours in the kitchen before you leave, for the modern stores have practically everything packed in glass and tin that you will need for an outing. Mock chicken legs, made beef steaks, and all ready rolled with cracker crumbs and attached to neat wooden sticks are to be obtained at local butcher shops.
But what's a picnic without a salad? And at last the perfect potato salad has been achieved, and a man in the "author" of it has "got after" cooking like they do golf - they're not satisfied until they become weary of it. Men can cook and concoct for art's sake. There's nothing "easy" about their cooking either. They do it with gusto. This is a great time to get out on your next picnic, and the party won't come home until it's all eaten.
Both four and six pound potatoes are the equivalent in plenty of salt. Hard boil seven or eight eggs. When cool, cut potatoes in half-inch cubes, wash in cold water, drain, and mix in large size mixing bowl. Add four tablespoons mayonnaise, three 18 stuffed olives in this ring. As many as two dozen olives may be used, depending on your preference for olives. Add tablespoon capers, two tablespoons onion chopped fine, either green or winter onions of the sweet variety, also two or three anchovies chopped fine. If you do not care for anchovies or onions, these can be omitted. Sprinkle a bit of garlic on the edge of a mixing spoon, rubbing dry on top of garlic, using your nose at garlic under other circumstances. Mix well. Marinate with tablespoon of lemon juice, one tablespoon of liquor from prepared horseradish, also three tablespoons liquor from olives. Put in cool place two or three hours to blend.

BANK'S CLAIMS ON CHECKS SUSTAINED
Supreme Court Rules: Twin Falls Man Must Refund Cash
BOISE, April 19 (AP) - In an opinion handed down today by the Idaho supreme court a district court judgment in favor of the Twin Falls Bank and Trust company in an action to recover money from P. J. Pringle of Twin Falls was affirmed.
The case was argued by William M. Morgan and was concurred in by Chief Justice Raymond L. Olvina, and Justices Alfred E. Budge, James P. Albright and Edwin M. Holden.
The decision was an appeal by Pringle from a judgment of the district court in favor of the Twin Falls Bank and Trust company for the amount of three checks, amounting to $4,400, cashed by the bank for Pringle and lost upon payment by reason of forging of the signature of the bank of Twin Falls on December 2, 1931.
The checks were for $140, $250 and $400 and were drawn to Pringle's order by A. M. Bunde of Twin Falls upon the First National Bank.
Pringle obtained the cash on them from the First National Bank, which closed before the bank and trust could get its money on them from the First National Bank.
The bank and trust received a portion of the amount it had paid Pringle. The bank held Pringle responsible for the loss and was awarded a judgment as asked in the Twin Falls court and Pringle appealed.

Mr. B sits down on "Coffee-Floating"
FOR THE ten years of their married life, Mr. Brown had patiently tolerated his wife's enthusiasm for antique furniture. During that time, Queen Anne, Chippendale, Sheraton and Jacobean pieces were shifted in and out of their home.
However, when Mrs. Brown started to serve a different brand of coffee each week - "Just for a change," she said - Mr. Brown lost no time in remonstrating.
"Listen, Mary. I'll make a bargain with you. You can float from one style of furniture to another if you want, provided you stop coffee-floating. There's not one of these brands you've been getting that has a leg to stand on, no matter how you make it, nor what cups you set in. You stick to Hills Bros. Coffee. Even though it may cost a little more, you always get more fine cups from a pound than any other brand."

Recalls How Boast
Recalling that Governor Ross, in a recent address at Homedale had openly boasted he had "reminded" the legislature in obtaining enactment of the law, Oppenheimer remarked:
"Any governor of Idaho should be proud of an act which is confiscatory, discriminatory and ambiguous is not clear."
The case is regarded as a test to determine the applicability of tax schedules which have been passed by purchases of 15 cents or more and which now are widely operative in Idaho. They were originated by the Boise Merchants association.

SEASONABLE FOOD SUGGESTIONS

Spring Delicacies Color Parade of Easter Edibles

Fresh, ripe strawberries, arriving in refrigerated cars, are the week's brightest additions to the parade of Easter food-stuffs. They are fairly reasonable for this season of the year, and will make an excellent "topper" for the Easter dinner. They are the largest, most highly colored that have reached the local grocery stores thus far this season. There are innumerable ways to serve them: with breakfast cereal, on top of ice cream, in pies, tarts, puddings, on cakes, in frozen salads and in beverages. Somehow strawberries in sponge cakes—are almost as representative of Easter fare as ham and eggs. So is asparagus, that delicate vegetable whose fresh, purple-tipped stalks even carry out the Easter color.

Meats in April have the multiple advantage of new vegetables, new fresh fruits and such spring like flavors as fresh coconut and newly made maple syrup. Menu-planning is a pleasure if you take your market basket and go out to make your own selections. With spring vegetables and fruits in better condition than ever, the Easter ensemble should be well-nigh perfect. The vegetable plate dinner should be more popular than ever in the weeks to follow. Such a plate can be very delicious and appetizing, arranged so that the servings of vegetables surround a poached egg, a nest of new spinach, young green onions with tapering root ends give a sharp zest to salads and the hors d'oeuvre dish. The vegetable plate dinner is an idea for the snacker party—radish sandwiches. Slice, fresh, mashed radishes—thin—add mayonnaise, salt and pepper and place the mixture on buttered slices of bread. Hard-cooked eggs may be chopped into the mixture for added tastiness.

April Showers For June Brides Brighten Spring Social Season

That delightful formal fete, the April shower, is prominent in the calendar of social events this month. There are many customs that date from the early days of the settlement and possessions of the girl about to be married.

Everyone who numbers a bride-elect among her friends wants to give her a shower. The chief charm of this occasion is the intimacy and affection that prompt it rather than elaborate preparations. A shower that is practical, appropriate and within means can easily be planned.

Prepare in Advance

It is amazing how completely a menu can be prepared the evening before the date for entertaining, granting that the hostess' kitchen is equipped with a refrigerator of ample size and constant low temperatures for storing foods safely after they have been made ready. Invitations to the April shower may be written on limited correspondence cards. The hostess may suggest in her invitations the nature of the gifts with which the bride-elect is to be "showered." Linen, kitchen ware, lingerie, handkerchiefs, a lovely table setting for the shower may be achieved with jonquils, tulips, flowering branches of fruit trees, arbutus or violets.

For a more formal table setting, the following are suggested: a white Spode flower container, with matching statuettes would be a stately centerpiece. A cloth of beautifully embroidered Nile green linen with matching napkins, white china and deeper green glassware would make an enchanting ensemble. The hostess with a lively imagination can employ simple Mexican or California pottery and coarse, colorful linens to advantage if the shower is to be held in a casual setting.

Break the shrimp in pieces and marinate in French dressing. At serving time, add an equal quantity of cubed cucumber which has been mixed with mayonnaise dressing. Shape into a mound and cover lightly with whole shrimp and sliced cucumbers. Dress with French dressing flavored with onion juice.

Angel Parfait

1 cup sugar
1 cup apricot
1 cup raisins
1 cup walnuts
1 cup cream
1 cup finely cut
1 cup apricot
1 cup raisins
1 cup walnuts
1 cup cream
1 cup finely cut

Boil sugar and water until the syrup forms a good thread. Beat the yolks of eggs beaten until they are thick and lemon colored and the whites, beaten until stiff. Pour the syrup slowly over yolks, beating constantly, then combine this mixture with the whites and continue beating until cool. Chill in refrigerator. Whip cream, add coconut and almonds, fold in first mixture and pile high into refrigerator tray and freeze. Makes 15 quarts.

Butter Scotch Cookies

1 1/2 cups butter
3 eggs, baking powder
2 cups brown sugar
1 cup flour

Cream butter, add sugar and well beaten eggs. Mix well. Add flour and baking powder, sifted together, and mix to a dough. Shape in balls and wrap in waxed paper and store in refrigerator. Slice thin and bake on a floured cookie sheet in a hot oven (375 degrees). The cookies may be frosted with a tinted icing which will carry out the table colors of your shower.

It Pays To Remember...

Leffler egg yolks should be beaten with fork, have tablespoon cold water added and stored in covered dish in ice box for future use. They will remain fresh for several days.

To obtain a nice brown crust, brush the top crust of pies with melted butter or milk. To secure a glazed crust, brush with a beaten egg to which two tablespoons of water have been added.

Pour boiling water over oranges and let them stand closely covered for several minutes before peeling. The white skin will come off instead of sticking to the fruit.

FRENCH COOKING SECRET

The French never cook fish in plain water, but place it in an aromatic court bouillon which has been simmered for half an hour and strained before the fish is added. If only for the cooking of fish and vegetables, the French cuisine would deserve its worldwide fame. By studying their methods we can do much to increase the enjoyment of fish and vegetable dishes on our side of the Big Pond.

Consider Fish For Balanced Budgets And Better Meals

Have you ever walked along a beach just after a heavy storm at night? The very beauty seems to have been turned up on the wet sand. It is always surprising to see what a variety of life there is in water in lakes and rivers, as well as the ocean.

The very bountyfulness of what we call "sea foods" perhaps accounts for the fact that we pick and choose so few of it. We seem to be more narrowed by custom in selecting and cooking than in the rest of food. It is interesting to note, too, that fish which is priced in one community is displaced in another—and all apparently for no good reason. The result is that the fisherman throws back a third or more of his catch and we are left with a high for the few favored fish that we will buy.

In the business of balancing both budget and menu, a study of your local fish market will prove worthwhile. If it will encourage you to try some of the less expensive varieties, just remind yourself that in some other community that kind of fish is considered a delicacy and your merchant about all the varieties he sells. Usually he can tell you whether each kind is dry or oily, free of small bones, where it is caught and how brought to market, and can give you suggestions for cooking it.

You will find recipes for cooking fish in general cook books. Supplement these with fish recipes from current newspapers and magazines.

Many women hesitate to buy fish because they know of no way to cook it except by deep fat frying. Trout, fillets and fish steaks, crisp and golden as to crust and flaky within, are worth all the work it takes to try them. The following recipe for baked fish does for fillets and steaks all that can be desired.

AMERICAN TABLES Accept Avocado

Avocado, California's leading cash crop, is more popular as a popular in the United States this year than ever before. The avocado, have announced, has been completely car loads have been shipped from the state this year, compared to eight up to this time last year. The price has gradually declined, as the result of increased acreage, and the consumer interest has increased in proportion.

top of each piece and bake in a very hot oven (500° F.) for 10 to 15 minutes, depending upon thickness of fish.

A dry, mild flavored fish, such as haddock, will be improved if served with a sauce.

MUSTARD SAUCE

1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup boiling water
1/2 cup French mustard
1 tsp. prepared mustard

Melt butter, add flour and mix until smooth. Add boiling water gradually and cook until flour thickens. Add lemon juice and mustard and season to taste with salt and pepper. Cook until smooth and hot. Pour over baked fish just before serving.

You may vary the baked fish recipe by adding to the salad milk, seasonings, such as a teaspoon of dry mustard, a dash of ground ginger, a dash of Worcestershire sauce or a few drops of onion juice. Baked fish with anchovy is a variation worth special mention.

BAKED FISH WITH ANCHOVY

A dry fish, such as fresh cod, flounder, haddock or whiting is especially suitable. Clean, bone and cut fish into serving pieces and place on a well-oiled baking sheet. Mix two parts anchovy paste with one part cooking oil and spread paste on fish. Cover with finely rolled corn flake crumbs. Bake in a hot oven (500° F.) until fish is done—about 10 to 15 minutes. Sprinkle lightly with chopped parsley and serve with lemon slices.

Modern refrigeration and transportation has eliminated seasons for many varieties of sea food, but oysters are still out when the month has no "R." This is to remind you that after April, September is the first "R" month. Oysters dip in pure flake crumbs—be on hand on an oiled sheet just like the fish. Be sure to sprinkle a few drops of oil over each oyster and to bake quickly in a very hot oven (500° F.).

Post Graduate Course In Salad Making Presented

Lesson One Tells How to "Doll Up" French Dressings

Any housewife can give a definition of "French dressing," but can you pass an examination on the variations that may be made from this one basic recipe? The foundation contains five ingredients. Mix 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon sugar and 1/2 teaspoon paprika together. Add 1/4 cup pure vinegar and 1/2 cup pure olive oil, beat thoroughly. When using a French dressing, marinate, or mix the salad ingredients until every portion is well coated, and then let them stand in a cold place for about one hour before serving. With this one foundation, as a basis any of the following dressings may be made, keeping the basic variety to your salad repertoire:

ANCHOVY DRESSING: Add 2 tablespoons of finely chopped anchovy. Especially good with romaine and endive salad or with egg salad.

CHIFFONADE DRESSING: Add 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, 1 teaspoon chopped onion, 1 hard cooked egg, chopped, and 1/4 cup cooked beet, chopped. Recommend for cabbage salad or 4/5 romaine salad.

CHUTNEY DRESSING: Add 1/2 cup finely chopped chutney and mix thoroughly. Good with tongue or country club salad.

CURRY DRESSING: Add 1/2 teaspoon curry powder and 1 hard cooked egg yolk pressed through a sieve. Mix thoroughly. Adaptable to lettuce and chicken or to chicken and vegetable salads.

KETCHUP DRESSING: Add 1/4 cup tomato ketchup and mix thoroughly. "Springs out" asparagus or lettuce salad.

MUSTARD DRESSING: Add 2 tablespoons mustard sauce and mix until well blended. Gives a "lift" to mock chicken or potato and egg salads.

FIQUANTE DRESSING: Add 1/2 teaspoon mustard, 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1/2 teaspoon onion juice and 2 drops tobacco sauce. Mix well. "Peppery" possibility for any Roquefort or for an onion salad.

ROQUEFORT DRESSING: Add 4 tablespoons crumbled Roquefort cheese and mix thoroughly. Lends "bite" to lettuce or hearts of lettuce or romaine salad.

SPINOSA DRESSING: Add 2 tablespoons capers, 1 tablespoon caper stuffed olives, 1 teaspoon chopped parsley. Mix thoroughly. Nothing better for a ham moussale salad.

SUMMER DRESSING: Use 1 tablespoon less of vinegar than foundation recipe calls for, and add 3 tablespoons pineapple juice, 3 tablespoons orange juice and 1 teaspoon sugar. Perfect for cantaloupe or lettuce and watermelon salad.

TARRAGON DRESSING: Use the largest vinegar in the foundation recipe and add 1 hard cooked egg, chopped very fine. For cauliflower or endive salad it cannot be credited.

PARISIAN DRESSING: Add 3 tablespoons chopped green pepper, 3 tablespoons chopped red pepper, 3 tablespoons chopped onion, 1/2 tablespoon chopped onion and 1/2 tablespoon chopped parsley. Mix well. Accompaniment for Jullienne or lettuce and watercress salad.

AUTOS LEAD AGAIN

The automobile industry lately has been running at full blast, with its output approaching that of 1929. This production curve was expected to start downward a month ago...

Thus it seems that the automotive industry, for the third time, is leading the way to prosperity after a business depression.

It is hard to take this last view seriously, because recent estimates of the national income show a gain, since the bottom of the depression, far greater than the government's expenditures, and there are many evidences of "ground swelling" of business activity based on new buying power.

TRAFFIC SCHOOL OR FINE

There is one hopeful factor in the motor accident situation. Every section of the country now seems to be awake to the seriousness of it, and nearly every community is doing something about it.

The head of the traffic squad believes that drivers will take traffic regulations seriously and really mend their ways after the inconvenience of having to attend school a while.

BRAZILIAN FINGERPRINTS

Fingerprinting all citizens as a means of identification and protection is waning only slowly support in the United States, because many people still regard it as a definitely connected with criminals and think that to be fingerprinted will immediately put them in the suspicious persons class.

"Perhaps Brazil is worth studying," he says. "No one is required to take out an identification card unless he comes in contact with established law. But to pay taxes on property to get an automobile license, to travel to another country, to sign any papers which will have a standing in law, one must be fingerprinted and photographed, and the police keep the record. It is a very convenient means of identification. If in no way limits freedom. Police have no interest in a registered person unless there is a call for him for some definite police reason."

Perhaps fingerprinting will some day be a matter of course, as birth registration is now in many places. Then the public will find that it hampers the crook and protects the honest citizen.

REMAKING GOD (Portland Oregonian) General Ludendorff's brazen suggestion, made publicly on the occasion of his seventieth birthday, that each nation should remake its religion to fit its state needs, is most humiliating.

Either there is something to our Christian faith or there is nothing to it. It is on that basis that man should accept or reject. But Ludendorff does not even consider the questions of truth or falsehood, faith or doubt. He is interested only in the problem of whether or not the prevailing Christianity forwards the plans of the reich. "I am convinced," he says, "that this faith is not apt for regenerating our people."

My wife, Mathilde Ludendorff, has supplied a philosophy for a new racial religion. Every race must have its own indigenous ("produced naturally in a country or climate") conception of God.

Indeed, even that is not so degrading as the suggestion of these leaders of "Prussian fury" to the effect that we should Balkanize God; that there should be a different version of him behind every tariff wall to encourage the people to lend themselves once more to the leadership of dishonored and beaten general.

WANTED—A BOY

Wanted: A boy over 17 to take an apprenticeship that will bring him fame, excitement, a lot of money and sudden death. Boy need not have educational training, less he has the better. But he needs a stern, bigoted father and a mother who cries aloud over him and takes it out in bawling; he can smoke and drink and be in bed with his girl and his girl in bed with him.

Must be a coward who takes advantage of weak and unarmed persons. Absolutely necessary he shall love good clothes and dumb, flashy and treacherous women. Must have no sense of duty and be willing to sacrifice his life for the cause of his father and his general dumbness. If entertaining, sufficiently pleasant and lucky, promotion will come fast. From any alien thing he can begin stealing jobs on Main street, go into the hot-car business, get a rum-running job that will take him all over the country where he can pick up techniques of industry and start plenty of partners.

From then on the way is smooth. A good wife, a handsome, adored, two-faced girl who will dump him for the next bigger lot.

From that point until death takes him he will live a thrilling life and fill the position for which his parents have selected him—Public Enemy No. 1. The job is now temporarily vacant. Any boy applying for it should start shooting cars in a wide open berridge and continue along the lines of least resistance. No references required.

RUSSIA ACQUIRES THE FORK

Now that the newspaper Pravda announces that the people of Russia are buying one fork for every knife, instead of twenty-five forks to one hundred knives, as was the case before the revolution, we presume that it is time to buy the fork seriously.

For that matter, it is not such a long time since we of the west were eating our mashed potato and gravy off a knife, and doing a very neat job of it. If we do so any more, almost a hundred years after Shakespeare is still only in the banqueting halls of the kings of England, and in the houses of the earls and lords, that both a knife and a fork were provided at each place at the table. And even the dukes expected the guests to bring their own spoons, if they had acquired the staid French habit of using a spoon.

And, alas, the mastery of the fork and spoon has left a lot of problems unsettled. We warn the people of Russia, now so excited over their acquisition, that the polite amenities of civilization, though at first they seem so important, are really but a form. Some of our greatest poets were men who ate with gusto out of a knife, and some of our great philosophers did their thinking with a marrow bone clutched in the fist.

ESCAPE. The current limitations to P. D. R.'s acceptance of a bonus bill are simple. First, there must be no turning on of the printing press, immediate treasury borrowing or new taxation to make the bonus redeemable at once.

A bill embodying these two principles would furnish the President with a life net into which he could jump from a rather hot spot. Give him a measure like this and Mr. Roosevelt will be able to claim that he has saved the situation.

It is calculated to appeal especially to a large number of gentlemen who come up for reelection to the Senate and House next year, who will enjoy their campaign much more if that issue is not injected.

EMPEX. The questions of interest cancellation, 25 per cent discount, etc., may be compromised when the measure finally gets to conference in order to meet House objections.

COMBINATION. President Roosevelt talked cold turkey with the congressional delegation which called on him to bank on the curtailment program, the President was willing to offer continuance of the 12c cotton policy.

APARTMENT HOUSES. Loans, blocks, hotels and other big numbered properties will be jauled out of the straits. The biggest business will be in New City, Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland and Los Angeles.

SOLUTION. The RFC Mortgage is getting under way—authorized capital $20,000,000. The amount that can be lent is unlimited.

Guiding Your Child

By ALICE CLARINE RICHMOND BAREFOOT BOY "Barefoot boy" with freckles and preferably red hair has become an American tradition.

What is saved in loose leather is apt to be paid out several times over in doctors' bills. Maybe the children of today are more liable to blood poisoning of one kind or another, or maybe there are more germ lurking in the soil—certainly the number of infected cuts and scratches which children get on their feet in summer seems greater than it once was.

The average countryside today is not safe for barefooted children. Even the beach is apt to be dangerous for the unsifted for the dirt which may cut and bruise the feet. Children at play do not look to see where they step and they are sometimes clumsy and heavy-footed.

There is no special benefit to be gained from bare feet. The essential point is that the ground be bare, not that the feet be bare. Not shoes should be eliminated.

Arrows—up like to talk about feeling the earth and grass barefooted, but in doing so you are really indulging in an emotional reaction. The child gets comparatively little pleasure from bare feet.

dress on preparedness and acknowledges that the organization backed by wealthy conservative Democrats and Republicans, may not have been making such a stir in the newspapers lately but it is getting plenty of circulation with its criticism of the Deal idea.

EDUCATION. Miss Frances Perkins, secretary of labor, has a rather low opinion of the "newspaper mind"—this referring to newspaper reporters who cover her department. Those who attend her conferences long since gave up all hope of getting any real news.

But while the prospects of a strike in the rubber industry looked very black things changed appreciably around the labor department. Miss Perkins was anxious herself in answering questions. She tried vainly to get the industrialists to pose the question.

And—she even discovered some of the reporters wanted to speak off to the eastward and had to be held back by her assistants.

NOTES. Ambassadors and ministers of foreign governments were called to their feet at the grand dinner given last night by the minister of Finland received ten times as much applause as any other guest.

Mike says he would like to be a slay job anymore, says Mike. "You gotta have your life belt torced every morning before you go out and wash the windows. You gotta slide in window no more without going inside first."

"That's quite a drop you got with it," I said, taking a quick peek from the 61st floor. "Yeah, it's a drop all right, all right, but what's the difference if you drop it from the top of the building?" "That's a good point," I admitted, keeping the conversation up to a cheery pitch, "but it takes longer to get down from here."

St. Louis 2 2 333
New York 2 2 300

PITTSBURGH, April 19 (AP)—Rookie Darrel "Cy" Blanton subdued St. Louis Cardinals with a masterful one-hit pitching achievement today and led the Pittsburgh Pirates to a brilliant 8 to 0 triumph over the world champions.
Only a solitary single off the bat of catcher Virgil Davis in the second inning prevented the 27 year old right hander from registering a no hitter and entering baseball's hall of fame.

It was the second time Blanton had taken the mound in a big league game. His first appearance was against the Chicago Cubs in the closing game of the 1934 season after the Pirates acquired him from Albany of the International league. That game he lost. Backing up Blanton's superb hurling, five pitchers pitched five innings off southpaw Bill Hallahan to score all their runs in the third inning. Cookie Lavagotto opened the attack with a hit, and Guy VanDeren, Paul Waner, Babe Herman and Arky Vaughan did likewise. Blanton never was in danger. Only three men besides Davis reached base—two on errors and one on a walk. VanDeren advanced as far as third base. Six criminals were fanned.

Red Sox 4, Cubs 0
CHICAGO, April 19 (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds turned in their third straight victory today, shutting out the Cubs 4 to 0 in the opening game of the series.
St. Johnson handed the Chicagoans their second eighth-inning white-knuckling win as many days while Jim Bottomley drove in two of the first three runs and scored the only victory City Cannibal, an ex-Cub, added a ninth inning homer.

Masked Cue Star Gives Exhibition
Displaying consummate skill with the cue, Joseph Froese of New York, billed the "masked marvel" at the H. & M. cigar store last evening brought to a close a series of billiard exhibitions that brought to Twin Falls seven of the world's outstanding billiards during the past several weeks. A big crowd witnessed the masked cue star's exhibition.

DODGERS 4-4, Braves 2-2
BOSTON, April 19 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers trimmed the Braves in both morning and afternoon games of the Patriotic War bill by 4 to 2 scores today and recorded more victories in one day than they did here all last season. They took only one decision on Braves field in 1934.
Outfielder Danny Taylor and a pair of pitchers, Watson Clark and Johnny Busch, took the stellar roles in the double triumph. Taylor belted a home run triumph, bases full in the first inning to drive in all the Brooklyn runs in the afternoon contest. Clark and Busch batted steadily, allowing nine and eight hits respectively. Busch fanned Babe Ruth three times. Clark, picking his first complete game in nearly a year, drove in the winning runs in the opener with a second-inning single.

Second Appearance
It was the second time Blanton had taken the mound in a big league game. His first appearance was against the Chicago Cubs in the closing game of the 1934 season after the Pirates acquired him from Albany of the International league. That game he lost. PHILADELPHIA, April 19 (AP)—The Phillies hit four Cincinnati pitchers with everything in sight to chalk up the biggest score of the new season as they trimmed the Red Sox 10 to 7 today.
The Phils collected 27 hits, including Dutch Camilli's third and fourth homers in two days, and five runs by Lou Clinton. Camilli batted in seven of the runs. Ed Moore was rapped freely and gave several passes at bases until the silent Orville Griggs relayed relief him.
Frank Lober belted a homer for the Phillies.

Athletics 6, Yankees 5
NEW YORK, April 19 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics routed Pat Malone's debut as an American League pitcher today by belting two hits off him to defeat the Yankees and pulling out a 6 to 5 victory.
Wally Moses hit Malone's second pitch for a homer and Camilli cracked another in the fifth after two walks and hit by Moses before the Yankees struck twice. Camilli pitched twice threatened to hit the Sox against Alton Bentall and Roy Mahaffey but fell short.

NOTTED ACREAGE AVAILABLE FOR BEETS

Twin-Falls - Burley District Quota Likely to Exceed Crop Contracts

BOISE, April 19 - Sugar beet acreage allotment has been satisfactorily adjusted for all factory districts in Idaho, according to Dean F. Benson, extension agricultural economist, director of the program in Idaho.

According to a letter just received by Benson from John E. Dalton, chief of the sugar allotment of the Idaho districts, based on the reallocation of unused acreage, are as follows:

These adjusted allotments apply to 1935 only, Benson explains. All beet producers will be given full protection in 1936 for their basic rights with respect to acreage as specified in the contracts.

The general sentiment in the state is very favorable toward the sugar beet program, Benson says. There has been no serious complaint of the contracts from Idaho, but the great majority of the first payments on 1935 contracts in Idaho have been made.

The Washington office indicated that the 1933 refund payments also will be made in the very near future. These payments will be as follows:

TIME GRANTED FOR FARM REDEMPTION

District Court Approves Buhl Woman's Petition for Extension

Mrs. Catherine Behrhorst of Buhl, widow, was yesterday granted a nine-month extension of time to redeem her 40-acre farm mortgage, which was sold under foreclosure April 14, 1935.

Extension under provision of Idaho law was granted by District Judge T. Bailey Lee of Burley following hearing on Mrs. Behrhorst's petition in the district court here today. The mortgage holder, Union Central Life Insurance company, which had bid in the property at the sheriff's sale a year ago, offered no objection to the extension of time for payment.

Under the court's order, Mrs. Behrhorst and her 31-year-old son are to farm the place this season and, unless they redeem the property by payment of $2318 in mortgage debt, they are to deliver a share of crops as rental to the mortgage holder.

The court found that the farm is a reasonably worth a sum in excess of the amount required to redeem the property; that Mrs. Behrhorst has a reasonable equity in the property, and that there is reason to believe that through extension of time she may be able to redeem the farm.

The original mortgage for $2500 was executed in January, 1923, and records show no payments were made except that interest was paid up to March, 1932. Mrs. Behrhorst's husband, Henry Behrhorst, died last February 4, following the sale under foreclosure that was entered by default.
