

WANT TO PROHIBIT SALES TAX SOUGHT

C. C. Anderson Company of Caldwell Charges Act Unconstitutional

BOISE, April 20 (AP)—An application for an alternative writ of prohibition to halt operation of the 2 per cent retail sales tax act on the grounds of unconstitutionality was filed in the Idaho supreme court late today.

In addition to questions of constitutionality it brought up the matter of applicability of the state referendum law to the tax.

The state's highest tribunal took the case under advisement, accepting the constitutionality of the act nearly an hour later although coming to any conclusion as to whether it could be upheld or nullified.

Deliberations of the court will be resumed tomorrow at 10 a. m., attorneys were indicated by the supreme application names C. C. Anderson company of Caldwell, a corporation, plaintiff in the action, and the state of Idaho, defendant.

Unconstitutionally Charged

The affidavit calling for the writ was signed by J. J. Chapman, secretary-treasurer of the C. C. Anderson company, charged unconstitutionally on the grounds that it attempts to levy a tax upon the sale of real estate, personal property, but unduly exempts sales of motor vehicles.

In addition, it is discriminated in the affidavit alleges, in that it attempts to exempt all sales of farm products or livestock therefrom, and in that it attempts to exempt all sales of tangible personal property made by religious, educational, charitable and eleemosynary institutions.

It also charges violation of the provisions of the constitution of the United States "in that it amounts to taking property without due process of law," and holds that it acts in violation of the constitution further by imposing the collection of a "contract."

The application also refers to the referendum sections of the constitution and contends that provisions of the referendum which call for the signing of petitions by approximately 15,000 signatures, that number has been obtained and that the tax will be filed, the affidavit reads.

Mr. Diefendorf, defendant in the action, said he was not in the state when Governor Ross made a similar statement before he left this morning for Washington, D. C., when he told such a statement had been instituted this afternoon.

If the court does not prefer to act on the application, the action for injunction will be brought either in the third district court or in the seventh circuit district court at Caldwell, J. L. Ezzell, Boise lawyer, who is representing the Anderson company, said. He also said that James J. Albrecht, Jr., is in the case.

The questions to be decided, said Mr. Chapman, will be whether the tax can be collected only on sales of not less than 50 cents, and only on multiples thereof and other similar questions about which the law is vague.

The decision of District Judge John E. Blaine in the seventh district court at Caldwell last week, is being applied generally throughout the state by merchants, it provides that tax will be collected and turned into the state only on "taxable" and not on "grocery" sales and that the tax can be applied only to amounts of more than 50 cents when they are of that amount or multiples thereof.

LOW RENTAL DWELLINGS, BETTER FARM SET-UP OBJECTIVES OF RELIEF

Roosevelt Sunday night outlined his work relief program to the nation in a speech before Congress, no sectional, no class distinction in the program, the four billion dollar fund.

Speaking from the oval room of the White House in one of his radio broadcasts, the President said that "never since my inauguration in March, 1933, have I been so optimistic in my outlook for the future."

He summoned all citizens to keep a watchful eye that the work program be carried out in the most efficient and cleanest example of public enterprise the world has ever seen, and that the program be carried out in accordance with the principles of the program to govern the spending of his work program.

Mr. Roosevelt also announced a series of legislative proposals he expects Congress to enact as his economic security plan, which already has been passed by the House. The President said this measure is immediately being prepared by the four billion dollar work program.

Further bills whose enactment he expects will be those to extend the NRA, to do away with the "unemployment" bill, to broaden the "unemployment" commission and to give to business and industry the federal relief.

He said that for the first time in five years relief has been provided for the unemployed during the winter months and that they are still declining.

The President said that he will govern the four billion dollar fund.

He said that the projects should be useful, that a considerable proportion of the money spent will go into wages for the unemployed.

Projects which promise ultimate return to the federal treasury of a number of workers on relief rolls are those areas.

Cubs Conquer Pirates In Wild Affair, 12 To 11; Lefty Gomez Scores Shutout Over Senators

Four Players Leave Field As Result Of Battles

CHICAGO, April 29 (AP)—Six home runs, two flat fights, banishment of four players, a ten-run Chicago rally in the eighth and a parade of pitchers marked riotous proceedings today as the Cubs and Pittsburgh Pirates, meeting for the first time this season, battled figuratively and literally through two hours and 41 minutes before the Cubs won a 12 to 11 decision.

In between a barrage of homers, including two by Gus Gehl and one by Arky Vaughan and Pirates and one each by Fred Lindstrom, Phil Cavaretta and Captain Woody English. The Cubs' players engaged in a fist encounter that led to the banishment of Shortstop Bill Jurgens and pitcher Roy Johnson of the Cubs and catcher Harry Lavagetto and pitcher Guy Bush of the Pirates.

The trouble started in the eighth inning when Lavagetto, doubling to score Manager Grifton and boost Pittsburgh's early lead to 7-6, was hit by Jurgens' spikes, as the latter covered second, Lavagetto to his feet with fists flying.

Umpires and players of both teams swarmed on Lavagetto but the situation was under control, Bush, who was traded to Pittsburgh by the Cubs last fall, charged in and threw a wild pitch, knocking the Cubs' hurler to the ground with seven feet of ball.

The Pirates, with Waite Hoyt pitching in steady ball, however, had the game well in hand until the eighth, holding a 9 to 3 advantage, thanks to home runs by Guy Durocher and Bill Swift with equal vengeance.

During the course of the rally English hit his home on a pop fly and, three men, which led to his being charged with the defeat.

They just managed to protect the lead in the ninth, however, as Clay Bryant struck out Traynor with the tying run on second and his winning run, first Bryant followed French and Carleton to the mound in the ninth.

New York's Yankees Blank Washington Club, 2-0

NEW YORK, April 29 (AP)—Vernon (Lefty) Gomez, who had not taken his turn on the mound in over a week because of a mild attack of the gripe, returned to action today and shutout the Washington Senators with four hits as the New York Yankees won the first game of the series 2 to 0 for their fifth straight victory.

In accounting for his second triumph of the season, Gomez was forced to give his best all the way for he was given a close fight by Bob Burke, who held the Yankees to eight hits and made them work hard for their two runs.

Lefty Powell was the only Senator to get as far as third base, arriving at that station in the third on his single and Lynn Lary, second baseman, and Myer made the other Washington Senators.

Earl Combs connected with three singles to bring his total to six in the last seven games at the Yankee park. He had a triple in the first game and a double in the fourth.

Stetson Cochrane, the Yankees' catcher had doubled.

Lee Gehrig drove in the other New York run with a long fly in the fifth. Red Holt and George Selkirk set the stage for Gehrig's fly by connecting with singles.

Lefty looked good for a triple but Powell sprinted about 30 yards to pull down the smash in deep center.

Canzoneri-Ambers Bout Fails To Determine Holder of Title, According to Vote of Athletic Commission

By CHARLES DUNKLEY (Associated Press Sports Writer)

CHICAGO, April 29 (AP)—The Illinois state athletic commission today voted to refuse to recognize the winner of the Tony Canzoneri-Lou Ambers fight in New York, May 25, as being holder of the world's lightweight title vacated by Barney Ross, six weeks ago.

In taking this action, Joseph Trer, chairman of the commission, declared:

"Championships are won in the ring and not in commission offices." The commissioners ruled that the championship would be regarded as open in Illinois and that to determine a new 135-pound title holder, would require an elimination contest involving Canzoneri, Ambers and other lightweight.

Joseph E. Widener's Three-Year-Old Gives Disappointing Performance in Run at Churchill Downs

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 29 (AP)—The field of some 20 thoroughbreds will try to answer the bugle call for the 61st running of the Kentucky Derby Saturday probably will be narrowed further tomorrow in a preparation race at Churchill Downs.

Of the 20 three-year-olds entered in the sixth race on Friday, five are Derby eligibles. Joseph E. Widener's Chance Sun, formerly the favorite in the race, apparently to redeem himself against such sterling colts as Weldon and Bluebird. Formed runner-up to one, Chance Sun failed to do so in the betting odds.

After his disappointing race Saturday, Widener's colt was pulled up a bit sore. The colt appeared sound today, but a mediocre showing in the mile test tomorrow might place him on the doubtful starter list.

Baseball Season Opens at Jerome

Oasis and Summers Service Crews Take Initial Conflicts

Jerome, April 29 (AP)—The Oasis and Summers Service baseball teams were victorious in the first games of the season, here Sunday. The Oasis crew downed the Woodmen, 3 to 1, while the Service took the Continentals into camp by a 4-0 score.

The games, played at the fairgrounds, were the first of a series headed by Mayor P. H. Beveridge and the Jerome high school band. Mayor Beveridge threw the first ball for the Oasis game, while the Service pitcher, John J. Wallace, who knocked a long hit into center field. The opening game followed at a repeat-swing ceremony in which members of the Roberts' yardware team, winner last year, led by Daniel of the Woodmen, met with the latter of the Woodmen of 1924 and 1925, displayed thereon.

Shawver and Brackburner handled the pins for the Oasis. Hatters, Furnum and Shuman for the Woodmen; B. Ambrose and D. Thompson for the Summers Service team; and Hansen and Kennison for the Continentals. Three base hits were made by Daniel of the Woodmen, Patterson and Ambrose of Summers Service, Schmahall, O'Connell, and two batters. Shawver and Brackburner were the pitchers. Workers Boycott Cardinal Games

Labor Union Demands Removal of Leo Durocher From Team's Lineup

St. Louis, April 29 (AP)—Leo Durocher, captain and star of the St. Louis Cardinals, today denied participation in alleged anti-labor activities in the sixth race on Friday of the baseball club by organized labor.

The central trades and labor union of St. Louis voted unanimously today to request the 75,000 members of its affiliated union to stay away from the game. Leo Durocher is removed from the lineup.

The boycott grew out of an incident last February 22 when Max Morris Smith, a garment worker, was arrested for disturbing the peace near the Cardinals' spring training camp. Some garment workers had been on strike several months.

The steam North Haven took 120 picked men and construction materials a week ago to start the project. The activities will live in tents until homes are erected.

It will not be a total wilderness into which the pioneers go. They will have radio to bring them in contact with the outside world. They can drive a few miles to Parker which has a motion picture theater.

Physicians, dentists and nurses will be available at call and an inter-denominational church will be established at Parker.

274 ALASKA-BOUND PIONEERS EAGER TO START LIFE ANEW

Holler also of Pine City walked with him.

"Frank's fight," he said, "we're going to win but there will be some play. We shot our first deer together and were going to get our first bear."

Olson, 10, echoed the sentiments of the nearly 70 young boys when asked what he planned to do on arrival in Alaska.

"Get a bear," he reported.

"That's a lot more than I had in Minnesota," said Holler, "but all I want is a chance to go to work on the Alaska. I don't want to be a farmer. I don't have much luck with them back home."

"I've a little frame, think the only man who rode to fame on a strike, that none remember his striking."

Casey Of 'Casey At The Bat' Reminisces Over Game Half Century Ago

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

WASHINGTON, April 29 (AP)—The only man who ever rode to baseball immortality on a strike out—the "Mighty Casey" of "Casey at the Bat"—smiled today as he sat in his little suburban home here and reminisced over that fateful day a half century ago.

Daniel M. Casey now is in his seventy-first year, but his eyes twinkled brightly as he gave his version of how Ernest Thayer came to write his poem about the famous bluff of the legendary Mudville slugger.

Casey's hair is gray, there's a stoop in his shoulders and age has pinched hollows in his cheeks, but his eyes are clear and zealously he recalls the good old days.

"I'm sorry he didn't save the bat used in that noted strike-out, but there was nothing important about it."

"It was just another strike-out," he said.

"A Pitcher, Not a Hitter."

And—another tradition blasted Casey was not the mighty Thayer's poem which Detroit Hopper popularized—made him out to be.

"I was a pitcher," he explains, "and not an exceptionally good hitter. My average was around .200."

But some time before the historic game Casey had knocked a ball out of the park to win a game and there were hopes he might repeat.

Philadelphia, with Casey hitting, was playing the Giants in Philadelphia, a veteran, in a "natural" game two runs behind, as Thayer's poem has it.

"But Flynn let drive a single, to the wonderment of all, and Blake, the umpire, displaced, threw the cover off the ball."

"Then from five thousand throats and more there rose a lusty yell, 'For Casey, mighty Casey, was advancing to the plate.'"

Casey doesn't remember the name of the Giant pitcher, "but he hurled a third strike across the plate, and what a miss it was!"

Thayer, Casey says, meant the poem only a joke. "None of us dreamed it would become as famous as it has," he added.

Won 38 Games

In 1887, the year of his historic bluff, Casey pitched 53 games and won 33 of them. "I had the same kind of stuff on the ball that the present day pitchers do, plenty of steam and some curve," he said.

He played for Wilmington, Indianapolis, Detroit, Philadelphia and finally wound up with Albany, N. Y. "Why I remember pitching the opening game here in Washington in 1888 when Connie Mack made his debut as the Washington catcher."

Casey has lived in Binghamton, N. Y., for years and moved here only a few weeks ago.

It's a little strange, thinks the only man who rode to fame on a strike-out, that none remember his striking.

KNOXVILLE NINE-YEAR-OLD SHOOT'S BIRDIES AND PARS

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., (AP)—"All I'm needing is a little practice and knowing-how!"

So says blue-eyed Bobby Mills, a nine-year-old lad who shoots birdies and pars on Knoxville's municipal links.

Veteran golfer says Bobby, who holds the "kids' record of 84 for 18 holes, is a "natural" natural links performer, having the correct stance, grip, poise and the technique of a coming champion.

Playing with special clubs Bobby cracks the ball 175 to 300 yards from the tee and manipulates his iron with great ease. His pars seldom are off line.

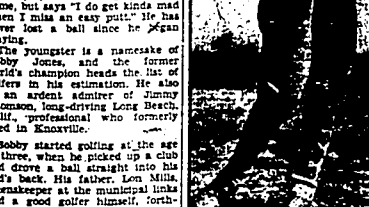

He plays a thoroughly steady game, but says "I do get kind mad when I miss an easy putt." He has never lost a ball since he began playing.

The youngster is a namesake of Bobby Jones, and the former world's champion heads the list of golfers in his estimation. He also is an ardent admirer of Jimmy Thomson, long-driving Long Beach, Calif., professional who formerly lived in Knoxville.

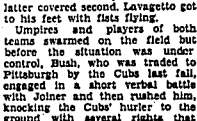

Bobby started golfing at the age of three, when he picked up a club and drove a ball straight into his dad's back. His father, Lon, was a grocer and a municipal links and a good golfer himself, forthwith began giving his son lessons.

Bobby has spent the last three years on his own. He plays nearly every day, hurrying home from school to get in a round before sundown. He is in the third grade.

"What do I want to be? Why, I want to be a golfer, of course," he says with a childish grin.

Tigers 18, Browns 0

ST. LOUIS, April 29 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers opened a four-game stand here today by handing the off-beaten St. Louis Browns their worst drubbing of the season, 18 to 0, before a crowd numbering less than a thousand. It was the seventh consecutive loss for the hapless Browns.

The veteran Buck Newson held the fieldless lead champions to four hits in seven innings, but the "Burr" batsmen drove Walkup, his successor, to quick cover during a ninth-inning onslaught in the eighth and garnered six more hits off of Walkup before the game ended.

First Class First Sacker Is Les Albee

ALBANY, N. Y., April 29 (AP)—The Albany baseball team today won its first game of the season, 12 to 2, over the Troy team.

Les Albee, first baseman, was the star of the game, hitting for a cycle and driving in four runs.

LIQUOR BLAMED IN FOUR AUTO CRASHES

State, County and City Officers Reach Agreement in Control Drive

Drunk driving in and near Twin Falls over the week end, according to local authorities, caused four automobile accidents which three persons were injured.

All of the injured persons, three young men, were occupants of a car that ran out of control and crashed against a post at the side of the highway two miles south of Hollister about 9:30 o'clock Sunday night. Driver of the car was Clayton Love, 27, of Castleton, who has been charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. His companions were Alfred Shank, 22, of Shull and Robert E. Johnson, 21, of Castleton. All three were taken from the scene of the accident to Twin Falls county general hospital.

Witnessing officers were told by one of the young men that lights of an approaching car blinded the driver. In justice of the Peace H. M. Holler's court yesterday, H. W. Anderson, 25, of Hill Blue Lakes boulevard, pleaded guilty to a drunken driving charge, and is to receive sentence today. Anderson's attorney was involved in a collision on the highway two miles north of the Washington school late Saturday night, with another car in which Max Johnson, driver, and three companions were riding. None of the occupants of either car was injured, but both cars were damaged.

Truck Runs Wild

A drunken driving charge was lodged yesterday against Cliff Allen, 30, who early yesterday morning allegedly drove a big freight truck off the highway southeast of Murtaugh, through a fence and into a field and back onto the road again.

A collision on Main avenue south last Friday resulted in killing yesterday of drunken driving charges against George Voss of Twin Falls, who was arrested by police officers after the collision.

In a campaign against drunken driving in and about Twin Falls, state, county and city authorities are cooperating under an agreement and understanding that was reached yesterday. It was announced following a series of conferences between magistrates and law enforcement officers of this area.

FIVE INJURED WHEN TRUCK, CAR COLLIDE

JEROME, April 29—Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Riley, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Servis and Miss Ona Klein, all of Jerome, were injured in an auto accident early Monday morning when the automobile in which they were riding, driven by Mrs. Servis, crashed into a truck as they passed another auto on the hill leading into Owens Ferry.

Local students and citizens have been solicited to provide sleeping accommodations for the visitors but results have not yet justified going ahead with the plans to hold the contests here Friday and Saturday.
