SALES TAX YIELD NOW OVER $92,000

Every Mail Brings In New Remittances Under Questioned Law

BOISE, May 20 (AP)—Collections under the 3 per cent retail sales tax act passed by the state legislature totaled $92,022 at noon today, 23rd District, commissioner of finance and administrator of the law, reported tonight. Receipts were from business done between March 20, when the act became operative, and May 1, but they are incomplete for that period, he said. Each mail brings in more returns than the previous one, showing what the probable annual return from the law will be, he noted. The act is now under attack in the courts. Judge Charles P. Koelsch in Third District court now has under advisement a suit for an injunction, presumably to restrain the state from enforcing the law. He is expected to hand down his opinion in the case within a few days. Regardless of his decision, an appeal to the supreme court is inevitable, attorneys here contend. The revenue from the sales tax goes to relief of the state's needy and for distressed public school districts.

LOU GEHRIG has played in more than 1500 consecutive big league games. Such an athletic achievement takes "wind"—healthy nerves—"condition". Lou says: "For steady smoking I pick Camels. They're so mild they never get my wind or my nerves."

"THEY DON'T GET YOUR WIND" ATHLETES SAY

Of course you want mildness in a cigarette. And the athletes—to whom "wind," healthy nerves, "condition" are vitally important—insist on mildness. Lou Gehrig, baseball's "Iron Man," says: "Camels are so mild they never get my wind."

George Barker, intercollegiate cross-country champion, says: "Camels are so mild, they don't cut my 'wind' in any way." Bobby Walthour, Jr., star of the six-day bike-grinds, says: "I've got to have 'wind' in bike racing. For my cigarette I long for Camels."

Tommy Armour, speaking for golf, Bruce Barnes for tennis, and Betty Bailey for the aquatic sports—all agree: "Camels don't get your 'wind.'"

What this mildness means to you!...It means you can smoke as many Camels as you please. Athletes say Camels' costlier tobaccos never disturb your nerves—never tire your taste—never get your "wind."

LAWRENCE OF ARABIA

T. E. Lawrence, "Lawrence of Arabia," whose death as a result of a motorcycle accident is reported from London, will always remain one of the colorful, romantic figures of the Great War.

His services to the Allied cause during the campaigns in Arabia, his tremendous influence among the natives and his intimate knowledge, not only of the languages and dialects but of the method of life, habits and customs of the people, gave him an opportunity of a kind which comes to few.

But little has been heard of Lawrence for a decade or more. The war ended, his peculiar qualifications appear to have largely lacked a market. He is understood to have engaged in a variety of occupations in the years which have followed, renouncing his military rank and titles and apparently in every way seeking to get away from every connection with the old order of things.

Thomas Edward Lawrence made a notable contribution to the success of British arms yet he himself does not appear to have set a high value upon his services. He rose to fame rapidly but the high spot of his career was followed by just as rapid a decline. He was a great man but it needed a world war to supply him with his opportunity.

KICKING PROFESSORS, AROUND

"What do you think of free love?" a girl student asked a professor of political science in the University of Chicago. "I believe in it for myself," he is said to have replied. On hearing this, a business man was so horrified that he withdrew his niece from the university.

Apparently the prof was joking. "As a married man with two children," he tells a legislative investigating committee, "I obviously am not a believer in free love. I have never taught or discussed it in the classroom. If I have ever mentioned it elsewhere, I did so humorously." The subject isn't in his line, anyway. Really, hasn't there been too much badgering of the colleges lately? No doubt there are unwise professors. There are also unwise critics. Generally speaking, the colleges are doing a good job, giving their students a fair idea of what is going on in the world, and what civilized man knows and thinks and has known and thought in other times about all sorts of things, and doing it in an objective, disinterested way, without propagandizing. And that is what colleges are for.

TRAINS FOR HIKERS

The New York Central Railroad seems to have borrowed an idea from the English railroads which, last summer, offered greatly reduced rates to passengers going to the country for a day's outing. On May twelfth the N. Y. C. ran its first "hikers' special."

clials on other Sundays through the summer. The rate is less than a cent a mile. The more such experiments the railroads try, the more passengers will come out of hiding to make use of the trains.

IDAHO SOLON ON THE JOB

It is gratifying to read in an Associated Press dispatch from Washington, D. C., that Senator Pope of Idaho is making a fast head start on the job of work on completion of the Lewis & Clark highway through the upper Clearwater country in his state. This road, which will slightly more than 80 miles of construction in Idaho, will give Montana another high-way outlet to the Pacific northwest and bring Yellowstone national park much nearer to the Columbia River Basin than at present.

Between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 will complete this road, in the estimate of Idaho's senator. Such a sum, in the present scheme of things, is not out of reason (especially for the construction on the gap to be opened would be a splendid employer of men.

The country through which this highway passes is one of the finest in the west from the standpoint of recreation. It is rich in timber and in mineral resources. It is rich in game and in fish. It has unusual historic significance, for it is nearly the exact route traversed more than a century and a quarter ago by the exploration party of Lewis and Clark.

Walla Walla and Boise are vitally interested in the project to complete this transcontinental link, since it would put this community and its neighbors on a through route. For a long distance this highway traverses a region which will some day lure thousands more of settlers. It is bordered, as the late John W. Langdon expressed it, with "the scenery of production."

South Idaho has been slow to cooperate in this project, and it is gratifying to see that Senator Pope, although from that part of the Gem state, is actively campaigning for the highway.

SHEAR THE LAMBS

The dim-chin-jawer grates another proof that time and money are like time that shears the lambs again. Folks in this country can't stand prosperity. The wild scramble to gamble in stocks, by German marks, grab up worthless foreign securities back in 1929 proved this. The same itch to sink money in get-rich-quick schemes is spreading again and will soon be in control with redoubled force. Any kind of gamble, lottery, racket or game, in the judgment of this poor sinner must be gathered in every way often. There is no better illustration than the moth and the candle.

THE FOUR DUTIES OF MAN

Stepping aside one day from clerical duties, Rev. Robert Crawford, pastor of the Methodist church, presented a group of men on the four duties of man, as expressed by Lawrence Sterne: "To build a house, to plant a tree, to write a book, to have a son."

The clergyman rightly interpreted those duties in the spiritual, rather than in the material sense. Each man should build his own shelter for his spirit, a house, not made with hands, into which he could retire from the toil and turmoil of his daily life. Each man should plant a tree; a tree, that is, representing something of beauty and dignity and lasting joy which could be shared by his fellows. Each man should write a book, a book that is worth the reading, a book that is worthless fiction or the dream of false ideas behind which covers, but an honest record of his own life and his own thoughts which might help others. Each man should have a son; fulfilling the biological necessity for the race to perpetuate itself, continuing the pattern of human life into the future.

What the preacher might have said, but did not, was that every one of us is performing those four duties. But too often our house is a squalid and ramshackle structure, unattractively and unclean to us or to others; our tree is a shriveled and puny thing, offering the blessing of shade and shelter to few; our book is a flimsy or perhaps an evil volume, whose pages would not aid to the good; our son is a neglected starveling, handicapped from the start by a sire unworthy of progeny.

It is not given to many men to add greatly to the world's store of wealth or wisdom. Yet it is given to every man, if he will, to add to the world's store of happiness. There is a power which the most humble possess, the power to create life of simple goodness. Once such life glows with special radiance so that all men take on light and goodness too.

A few weeks ago there died in New York a negro named Richard B. Harrison. He had been playing for years. De Lawd was the name of his stage, "De Lawd and Whipple." His funeral was attended by thousands of persons, white and black. Some of those thousands were attracted by curiosity alone, but most of the throng seemed to display a real grief over the passing of Harrison.

He had lived a life of simple goodness. The play, an interjection of the unlearned but devout negro's idea of God and heaven, might have been laughed off the stage as an impious burlesque had not Harrison been able to endow the role of De Lawd with sincere and moving spirituality. He played the role many times on the stage, and he never stepped out of it, they said, when he left the stage and went to his room, every one he greeted found himself in the presence of a good man, kind, generous, tolerant, gentle and unselfish. Greater actors have died, and have been but briefly mourned. The tribute to Harrison was not a tribute to an actor, but to a real good man.

A great poet has said that the world is too much with us. He meant that the necessity for providing for the physical man was so urgent, so ever present, that it thrust all other interests into the shadow. Yet it need not be so. A man can learn to see the beauty in his fields, and receive the inspiration in music, can be lifted out of himself by the magnificence of the stars, can find the recreation of the human scene about him. He need not step himself utterly in the facts and figures of business, the dollars and cents of profits or a pay check, or the passions and lusts of the flesh.

A New Yorker At Large

By JAMES B. RESTON

NEW YORK: The vaudeville business may have collapsed, but few of the old trippers are still in the light of the Roosevelt. Sophie Tucker is appearing away at the Paradise restaurant on upper Broadway, and Jim Cagney, by way of contrast, is appearing in a film of Shakespeare's Midsummer Night's Dream. In between, there are several old timers starting in spring despite the competition of a new crop of players.

George Cohan is working away at the revival of Seven Keys to Baldpate, Eddie Dowling and Ray Donley have been starting in the musical, Thumbs Up, and Billy Gavton and Victor Moore are tops in Any Nightingale.

Jeeter Lester III of Tobacco Road, Jim Barton, is an old vaudeville performer, and Al Jolson recently appeared in person at the Capitol, while his latest picture was showing there. Harry Richmond, who was Miss Mary's partner in the vaudeville act years ago, is back in town at one of the clubs, and Mae, of course, is making good money in a week now than she can use.

Then there is Dennis King, who sang in an act before his opera days. Perhaps the best example of a farce called Petticoat Fever. Guy Robertson has moved on to the glitter of Rockefeller Center's Center theater, where he is singing in the Great Waltz. And that's not even mentioning Eddie Dowling, who has taken to radio. Will Rogers, who has taken to everything, or J. C. Nugent, who went from monolog act to writing.

George Jessel is still around. Too. At the moment, he is collaborating with Sidney Howard, who has taken to a play to be called God's in His Heaven.

The river police have been finally muzzled on the west side. For years the great police example of the river police has been finally muzzled on the west side. For years the great police example of the river police has been finally muzzled on the west side.

BLAINE EIGHTH GRADE STUDENTS GRADUATED

HALLEY, May 20.—One hundred eighty-eight eighth grade graduates of Blaine county schools received diplomas from County Superintendent G. C. Sullivan Friday evening at exercises held at the opera house.

W. D. Vincent, superintendent of the Blaine schools, delivered the address of the evening and winners in the declamation, dramatization and musical contests were on the program.

Miss Martha Sherbine and Lenore Southern were united in marriage Friday morning by Judge Clinton Condit in the court house. Miss Ruby Burrell and William Sherbine were witnesses and Mrs. Martha Sherbine, mother of the bride, was also present. The young people had a wedding breakfast at the Star cafe and returned to their home in Glendale.

AGREEMENT ON FACTS IN NAMP A SUBWAY SUIT

BOISE, May 20 (AP)—Probably some time tomorrow the suit of a group of Nampa residents to prevent the state from constructing a $156,000 railway subway at Nampa will be taken under advisement by Judge Charles P. Koelch, in this district court here. W. A. Brodhead, attorney for the state department of public works met tonight to stipulate the facts and their stipulation will be presented to Judge Koelch tomorrow.

No further arguments will be required. The Nampa group obtained an alternative writ of prohibition a few days ago to prevent the state's contractor from proceeding with construction of the subway on the grounds that building it would violate the plaintiff's property.

Guiding Your Child

By ALICE CLARISSE RICHMOND

ME-FIRST: Mary was not naturally a selfish child. But when she was eight, anyone seeing her behavior would have thought her a greedy little pig. She always helped herself to the largest roll of candy or anything else on the table, not even troubling to pass the dish to others. She never hesitated to take the last helping. By rights she sat in the most comfortable chair and preceded everyone through the door, in everything she assumed first place.

She was not, however, really selfish, but simply untrained. When she was tiny she naturally was a selfish consideration. She was served first, the food was adjusted to her needs, she was pushed ahead in going through a door, by adults, solicitors for her safety. The procedure became a fixed habit, and her parents never noticed that she had grown too old for such concentrated care.

Most parents are inclined to baby their children too long. The days and months and years pass almost imperceptibly, and all at once the baby is physically grown, while socially and emotionally in leading strings.

Unselfishness, thought for others, are not always natural to mankind. The child who is brought up to think of himself and his needs first is not likely to be selfless as he grows. Selfishness to assert itself. Selfishness in the interests of others can and should be cultivated in a child. Selfishness to give pleasure makes parents omit this phase of child guidance.

Let the child to give and to give up. Let him too enjoy the pleasure of doing for others. As soon as he is big enough to lift the dish, suggest to him that he pass the biscuits or cakes to the others before helping himself. Let him learn to open the door and stand back while his father or mother goes ahead. It will give him pleasure to play the grown-up.

NEW BOISE POSTMASTER: BOISE, May 20 (AP)—Harry L. Yost of Boise, Ada county sheriff and author of the Idaho automobile driver's license law which will become operative July 1, took up his duties today as postmaster of the Boise postoffice. He succeeds A. W. Thraill.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

(NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS) (Copyright McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

WASHINGTON: By Ray Tucker: CRIPPLED: "You can't chaff off the revolution," said the vice president of the National Whirligig. The president seeks to preserve the most valuable portions of this experiment in government. He has established a minimum wage and hour standards. But everybody else agrees that the Big Blue Eagle is a fairly good bird.

Its administrators are making no attempt to enforce it pending Supreme Court and Congressional action. Many manufacturers are chiding on hours and wages without any check. They even refuse to pay their code-fees, figuring that the high court may demolish it within a few days. Only Don Rieberg, who has an eye for labor and his enemies, urges its reinstatement in principle form.

Democratic Senators' opposition to extension in accord with presidential plans is almost unprecedented. In the end almost any kind of prolongation will satisfy the Whirligig. So long as they don't constitute a disastrous retreat from the front. High Johnson established with so much to address it is his own blow up, even though it may create permanent repercussions in a social and commodity values, but he lost it aside for a politically pointed talk. It was one of his best—a fighting speech.

Whether inspired and financed by the administration or not the farmers' pilgrimage has changed the atmosphere of the Capitol. The pro- and Southern Senators no longer enter at the pending AAA amendments. They now have a special of the President's passage. And the President thanks you, gentlemen of the soil.

HANDICAPS: The $4,000,000,000 work-relief program may turn out to be a handicap program. It has a help to the administration. Cyclical politicians have suggested, with reference to 1936, that "you can't beat $4,000,000,000" but its administrators are not so confident as they were a few weeks ago.

It is almost two months since Congress enacted the bill—it gave the President full authority in the belief that a program of spending over the Labor Unemployment Board there has been no sign of action so far. The key men are squabbling over their functions. Comptroller General McCall is running a tight ship as fast as they reach him and Messrs. Walker, Hopkins and Notes: Wurtzli Female lobbyist in the Capitol Secretary Perkins asks Senator to amend the Wagner bill to give her jurisdiction over the Labor Unemployment Board Delay at the top presents the Public Roads Bureau from starting the steam shovel—and its parts to go. Some PWA men say that the program's examination of work-relief projects by states will delay operations. Everything has to come to Washington for okay now. Harry Hopkins is trying to work out equitable relief wages in 320 regional districts.

State Commission Issues Rules Regulating Publicity

BOISE, May 20 (AP)—Newspaper and radio liquor advertising that has been approved by the Idaho state liquor control board will be permitted hereafter the board decided today. "No billboards, window display or other forms of advertising will be used," M. B. Yeaman, commissioner in charge of public relations, said after the board's closed session. At the same time, Mr. Yeaman announced that 14 state-owned liquor stores now are in operation and that eight more will be functioning within a few days. Those operating already are in Boise, Twin Falls, Pocatello, Idaho Falls, Lewiston, Moscow, Coeur d'Alene, Burley, St. Anthony, Wallace, Shoshone, Nampa, Caldwell and Weiser. Others to be opened will be at Blackfoot, Fayette, Preston, Malad, Montpelier, Hatley, Salmon and Rexburg, the commissioner said. "These are the only 22 places in which the commission now plans to operate stores," he said. "The work of selecting dispensers in towns not regarded as large enough to make establishment of a store economically practical will be started immediately," he added.

Relative to the Board's action on advertising he said:

"Advertisers have been notified it will be necessary for proofs of all newspaper advertising to be submitted to us for approval. All publicity in the form of advertising which offers a special inducement to use the commodity advertised in the form of lure or pecuniary inducement is eliminated. All illustrations which tentatively contain an invitation to drink are deleted from advertising copy. All recipes or any other particular mention of the specific qualities of the product for the purpose of sale are barred. No prices are mentioned in advertisements. "The only form of advertising, other than newspaper, is that on the radio after 9:30 p. m., with broadcasts to be used submitted for approval. Approved direct mail advertising is permitted, but no posting, window displays or other forms of advertising will be used."

Now principal western trains are air-conditioned. You travel in perfect comfort—enjoying ideal weather—no matter how hot or cold, stormy or dry it may be outside. Your perfect weather begins when you board the train at your home town. You pay not one penny more for this new air-conditioned service—although the Western Railroads have paid out millions of dollars for material and employment of thousands of persons to make their travel service the finest in the world at lowest cost.

Cool, Clean and Quiet. In these air-conditioned western trains the air is cool without being drafts. So clean you can wear white linen; women can wear their simplest summer dresses. So well sound-proofed you can't hear outside noises, such as passing trains. Your train could pass through a dust storm without your noticing it. The air could fly on lions in the kitchen without your detecting it in the dining car. The chef could fry the utery with heat and humidity while inside the air-conditioned train you would enjoy the ideal degree of temperature and air moisture.

Save Money on Western Trains. Travel in the West this summer—anywhere from Chicago, St. Louis, Memphis or New Orleans and the Pacific Coast, from the Canadian boundary to Mexico City—where you will find all principal trains air-conditioned. See places you have not visited before. It costs so little now to travel in comfort and safety by train. Basic fares on western lines have been reduced to as low as 2¢ per mile round trip for sleeping car travel and corresponding low rates in coach, first and Pullman cars. Year dollar goes farther on Western Railroads. Save vacation money with low cost summer excursion tickets on sale daily commencing May 15, with ample final return time.

Save Time—Be Safe. You save time, too, traveling by train. No delay on account of bad weather, detours or fog. You can depend upon a train schedule. You rest as you ride. You have nothing to do but enjoy the trip. No traffic to worry about when you feel hungry—the immaculate dining cars offer fine meals at low cost. When you feel sleepy, relax as you would in your own bed at home. Train travel is also the safest form of travel according to all insurance statistics.

See Nearest Railroad Ticket Agent. No matter where you want to go—where the Western Railroads are ready to serve you for both business and pleasure travel. For more details on special pieces of interest, descriptive literature, see any railroad agent or write to the nearest office on this list. He will gladly advise you.

BROACA TAMES CHICAGO'S WHITE SOX; BUCCANEERS OVERWHELM GIANTS, 11-4

Catcher Ejected For Using Abusive Language

AMERICAN LEAGUE SCORES

New York 7, Chicago 2

NEW YORK, May 20 (AP)—The Yankees lost an argument but won a rapped ball game today at the expense of the league-leading Chicago White Sox.

Coast Baseball Magnates Meet

The Yankees protested with such violence when Umpire Bill McCool called a balk on Broaca, in the seventh, that catcher Bill Dickey was ejected for using abusive language and pitcher Johnny Allen was benched from the bench for banging the front of the dugout with a bat.

The argument, led by Manager Joe McCarthy and Captain Lou Gehrig, lasted nearly ten minutes but had no bearing on the ultimate outcome. The Sox pushed over one run after Broaca balked, advancing two runners to second and third, but otherwise proved impotent with men on base. They filled the bases twice, in the second and sixth, with only one out. Perfect defense would have kept them scoreless.

PITTSBURGH, May 20 (AP)—Pitting out eight extra base hits, including a home run by Forrest Jensen, five triples and two doubles, the Pittsburgh Pirates overwhelmed the New York Giants 11 to 4 today as Red Lucas started and won his first game of the season.

With Lucas blanking the league leaders with three hits the first eight innings, the pirates jumped on Carl Hubbell for five runs and six hits in the first four innings and then continued their battering at the expense of Allyn Stott and Frank Gabriel.

Jensen's home run came in the eighth with Gabriel on the mound score the Pirates' final two runs. Before that blow, however, Floyd Young drove out two triples and Arky Vaughan, Paul Wagner and Tommy Thayer added one each. Three of the triples came in the fifth when the Bucks counted three times. The pair of doubles were made by Babe Herman and Lucas. The Giants sired Lucas' hopes of pitching a shutout when they pounded out five hits in the eighth, which with the aid of Vaughan's error gave them all of their runs.

League Not on Verge of 'Folding Up,' Club Owners Declare

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20 (AP)—With mingled feelings of resentment and surprise, seven directors of the Pacific Coast league will meet with their associates, Earl Mackley of Sacramento in an emergency session here tomorrow in hopes of solving the financial plight of the latter's club.

The meeting was called at the insistence of Mackley who Saturday told Sacramento newspaper his club and most of the others in the league were losing money and predicted untimely additions and player salaries were cut the league might have to disband.

Bob Grove Just About Through In Johnson's Opinion

BOSTON, May 20 (AP)—That old fireball master, Walter Johnson, today took another look at Bob Grove, but don't know if his most successful initiators a couple of seasons back, and sadly shook his head.

"You know when I lost my smoke, I had to step out and like me, Grove has nothing to fall back upon when he loses his app. I could never hit them up and give him the opposition when I ceased throwing the ball past the bat. Grove has used a lot of his pitching arm and his waist and leg has taken away a lot of his speed."

Golf Titleholder Survives Opening Round in England

Three Stars, Including Second and Third-Choice, Fall by Wayside on First Day of Amateur Championship

By GUY TALBOT (Associated Press Staff Writer)
ST. ANN'S-ON-THE-SEA, England, May 20 (AP)—Big William Lawson Little, Jr., of San Francisco, flourished all over Lancashire county today, getting mixed up in practically everything except a cotton mill, before he finally won his opening match in defense of his British amateur golf championship.

Paired against a galling player named T. J. Parker, from just a little ways down the railroad tracks paralleling this wind-swept seaside course, the amateur champion of England and the United States and the 5 to 1 betting favorite managed to pull through by a score of one up just when he was in the exhibition of golf as he ever produced.

Only the fact that Parker proved unable to shoot an even stroke in the 36-hole match permitted the husky Californian to answer present tonight after one of the most topsy-turvy first rounds in the 50-year history of the championship.

Americans in Running
With the exception of the last minute withdrawal of Robert Barbour, Patterson, J. and the defeat of Douglas Grant, the transplanted Californian now living in London, the rest of the Americans survived the first day without a single deflection.

Be sure to Drive a Pontiac before buying any car

When a car wins America as quickly as the Pontiac it may have something most buyers want. Drive a Pontiac just once and you'll know it has. The feeling of superiority you get from the solid steel "Turret-Top" Body by Fisher, triple-sealed hydraulic brakes, and full-weight steadiness is worth Pontiac's low price alone. So the dependability assured by a Sealed Chassis and Silver-Alloy bearings... Pontiac's sparkling performance and amazing economy... its title to your Pontiac dealer and you'll agree, there is no use looking further.

JUST KIDS
I had a hard day at the office, Sarah - and by the way, you look worried.
I'm not worried, what are you worried about?
I just had a letter from your father.
I don't know what he's talking about, I never get letters from him.

THE GUMPS - IF WORST COMES TO WORST
OH, MAMA - HE'S FEELING WORSE AGAIN THIS MORNING AND HE LOOKS SO PALE AND THIN.
DID HE TAKE HIS MEDICINE?
OH, YES - BUT IT DOESN'T DO ANY GOOD - NOTHING SEEMS TO HELP HIM ANY MORE. HIS HEART IS BREAKING, MAMA - JUST POSITIVELY BREAKING - WHAT CAN I EVER DO?
DO YOU GET ALONG JUST LIKE MILLIONS OF OTHER WIDOWS HAVE GOT ALONG IN THE PAST - DON'T FORGET WITH THE ESTATE HEIR, PROBABLY AND YOU'LL BE THE RICHEST WOMAN IN THE WORLD.

THERE'S ALWAYS ROOM FOR ONE MORE
I should be more like me, my dear - if I were to suffer the blon of being left a widow after a year of married life, I might bruse easy - but with an estate like that, my dear - my dear - I'd haul quick!

IDAHO'S GROCERS IN SESSION HERE

Retailers Urge Cooperation and Vigorously Attack State Sales Tax

Efforts to unite the independent retail grocers of Southern Idaho into one composite body to work for one cause were made here yesterday as some 75 southern Idaho grocers, their wives and a delegation of 20 leading merchants from Utah gathered here for the all-day session of Southern Idaho Retail Grocers association.

The grocers held sessions throughout the day in the club rooms of Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce and brought the event to a close last night with a banquet at the Park hotel.

Welcomes Delegates
Duncan - McD. Johnston, Twin Falls mayor, welcomed the delegates at the afternoon session and Donald E. Lloyd, Salt Lake City, secretary-manager of the Utah Retail Grocers association, stressed the

Willie Willie by Robert Quillen

"I won't get licked this time, because I was fighting in self-defense. That kid said my mother wasn't prettier than his."

Necessity of cooperation between grocers of Utah and Idaho.

WORKERS ASSAIL IERA OVERHEAD

Petition and Protest to Hopkins Clash for Costs Slain

Demand for a "lash in Idaho emergency relief administration cost" that "only persons actually in need be employed in the IERA state district and county set-up," was set forth in resolutions and a petition which 46 members of Twin Falls Consolidated Brotherhood of Labor met at a meeting here last evening dispatched to Harry Hopkins, federal emergency relief administrator.
