CONSTITUTIONALITY OF IDAHO'S RETAIL SALES TAX UPHHELD

Referendum Cannot Be Used to Halt Operation of Law—Under Judge-Rice's Schedule, Koelsch Rules

(By The Associated Press) BOISE, May 24—Idaho's controversial 2 per cent retail sales tax is constitutional and the state's referendum machinery cannot be used to halt its operation, Judge Charles F. Koelsch decided in an opinion handed down late today in third district court.

On the basis of his conclusions he dissolved a temporary injunction obtained by a group of Boise citizens and the state to have it made permanent and extended to prohibit the state from enforcing the tax on any other day.

The judge, however, did issue an injunction restraining Ben Diefendorf, commissioner of finance and administrator of the law, from collecting the tax on any schedule other than that approved by the seventh district court of appeal.

ROOSEVELT TRIMS PROJECT PAYMENTS

Tool and is withholding 4,000,000 jobs.

Bill Wants Two Years At his late afternoon press conference, Mr. Roosevelt repeated that he will want a two-year extension of NRA. Asked directly about the reported 2 1/2 month extension, which some administration men had labeled a "compromise," the president said he never heard of that particular figure mentioned.

Nevertheless, while authoritative sources said no definite agreement had been reached, it was added that something in the vicinity of that figure had been discussed as a point to which the president would agree in a possible "compromise" move.

Although the house committee may report out a two-year bill, one authority said, it is at least likely to be made before it of a measure that would include the following points: 1. An extension to April 1, 1937, or 2 1/2 months; 2. Power to apply codes to industries "substantially affecting" industrial commerce; 3. Provisions forbidding price-fixing; 4. An allowance of 90 days for the revision of existing codes; 5. Extension of the child labor law to the 74 garment to the right of collective bargaining. Participating in that conference

Power to apply codes to industries "substantially affecting" industrial commerce; 3. Provisions forbidding price-fixing; 4. An allowance of 90 days for the revision of existing codes; 5. CONSTITUTIONALITY OF IDAHO'S RETAIL SALES TAX UPHHELD

"We shall of course appeal this case to the supreme court because the people of Idaho want the matter definitely settled in every detail. Our present sales tax law was taken almost verbatim from Utah's statute books and the people and judges of that state have placed the construction upon it that has been given it by Judge Rice and Judge Keelich in this matter."

Reservation of Power. In his opinion, Judge Keelich, one-time law student in the office of United States Senator William W. Borah, stressed the question of applicability of the referendum law which was invoked by the Anti-Sales Tax League to halt the law's enforcement.

The referendum, he wrote, is merely a reservation of power and is not self-executing. The pertinent section of the law he quoted as follows: "Whenever a year ago was placed the requisite number of signatures shall be filed with the secretary of state not more than 60 days before the opening of the session of the state legislature which passed the bill."

"The conclusion," wrote Judge Keelich, "is that the law which acts properly carrying the emergency clause are not subject to the referendum not otherwise would not only be contrary to what would make it the plainly expressed intent of the legislature but would also conflict with the constitution."

Right Not Surrendered

"I come the more readily to this conclusion because I cannot persuade myself that the legislature would or did intentionally surrender the right to enact legislation in the most emergency cases to the people and vital, or that it would or did give up the power of a mere tenth of the voters to suspend laws of immediate and present importance and the most wholesome and necessary for the public good in the most emergency cases."

This conclusion, Judge Keelich declared, does not enable the legislature to circumvent the referendum law by passing a law in the emergency clause, since "a declaration of emergency by the legislature, while given great consideration by the courts, is not binding upon them whether there was an emergency justifying the declaration of such by the legislature or not."

Then taking up the constitutionality of the law, Judge Keelich held that the objections on that point—discrimination because of the exemption of charitable institutions and gasoline dealers from its terms—are not valid, and he discussed his conclusions at some length.

Sense Uncertainty. He conceded there may be some ambiguity and uncertainty about the law. The law, he noted, is a construction which requires a law to be upheld if any construction which upholds its validity may be placed upon it.

Pointing out that Judge Rice at Caldwell held that the collection of a fraction of a cent in excess of the computed amount was unconstitutional and void in that respect, Judge Keelich declared that Judge Rice concluded that this does not affect the constitutionality of the law as a whole, and that the schedule resulting therefrom is no tax up to 49 cents, one cent tax on sales from 50 to 99 cents, and so forth.

"My conclusion, coinciding in this respect with Judge Rice's able opinion, is that if there is any vagueness whatever in it, it is only such as can and may be clarified by the courts."

LOCAL MAN NAMED ON LAVA SPRINGS BOARD

BOISE, May 24 (AP)—Governor Ross today appointed Thomas M. Robertson of Twin Falls, to the Lava Springs board.

Robertson, a prominent business man, is a member of the Lava Hot Springs foundation. The foundation is charged with administering the state property at Lava Hot Springs in southeastern Idaho. It is valued at approximately $100,000 and consists of various baths, a sanitarium, land and various buildings.

Three Sides to Case Walter McGee's case has been tossed through every appeal that can be made to the state supreme court. He has no legal means of escaping the gallows, as the possibility of Governor Park to commute his sentence to life imprisonment.

There are three sides to cases like this. There is the law, representing society, which has the right to exact a penalty for an intrusion there is the defendant who has the right to prove his innocence or explain his guilt; and there is the victim.

In behalf of victims, I should like to say that some of us are human beings and feel that an intrusion into our lives is a violation of our rights. I consider "getting even" an unpleasant waste of time. I would not have gone so far as to ask the law to punish those cases which would have been prevented, had I been the only one concerned. I do think it should have been my right to request that the death penalty not be asked.

I have been leading up to a point which I consider worthy of consideration. To force an unwanted revenge on a person is just as great a miscarriage of justice as to convict an innocent man or to acquit a guilty one.

Local Stewart-Warner Refrigerator Test Proves To Be of Interest

Complex block containing an image of a Stewart-Warner refrigerator and text: ESTIMATE THE NUMBER OF WATTS TO BE CONSUMED DURING SPECIAL TEST. A MODEL 455 STEWART-WARNER REFRIGERATOR MAY BE YOUR AWARD. SPECIAL FIVE WEEKS CURRENT CONSUMPTION TEST NOW UNDER WAY AT RADIOLAND. ASK YOUR STEWART-WARNER DEALER FOR FULL PARTICULARS ON TEST NOW BEING CONDUCTED.

STEWART-WARNER Refrigerator - AGAIN PLACED ON TEST -

Dates Changed on Official Test Length of Time Shortened - Change Your Estimates. NEW DATES 10 P. M., MAY 10 TO 10 P. M., JUNE 26. Unexpected Difficulties Necessitated A New Start for Test. Friday, May 10th at 10 P. M. a STEWART-WARNER REFRIGERATOR was connected to the power service thru a special wattmeter. The meter and the refrigerator door was sealed by Mr. R. W. Carpenter, of the Idaho Power Co., in the presence of three contest judges. The idea of the test was to see how many watts of electrical power was consumed by the Stewart-Warner in a six weeks period.

MEDDLESOME PERSON TAMPERED WITH ORIGINAL WIRING

For an unknown reason someone jerked the wires out of the meter and interfered with the seal on the door sufficient to open the door and meddle with the controls. DUE TO THIS TROUBLE THE REFRIGERATOR HAD TO BE RECONNECTED THRU BX FLEXIBLE CABLE AND THE METER ENCASED IN A STEEL BOX. New arrangements had to be made to seal the door shut, seal a screen over the mechanism compartment, etc. It now appears to be tamper proof and uninterrupted service thru the test seems to be assured. The meter was reset to zero and connected electrically at 10 P. M. May 17th by an employee of the Idaho Power company in the presence of witnesses. Temperature controls were set to maintain a temperature below 40 degrees. This new start of the test took place just one week, to the hour, after the original start. THIS WILL SHORTEN THE OPERATING TIME OF THE TEST JUST ONE WEEK, making a five weeks test instead of the original six week test. Those submitting estimates with a six week test in mind, will be allowed to submit a new estimate.

CURRENT CONSUMPTION ESTIMATING CONTEST

In connection with the Stewart-Warner refrigerator test taking place at Radioland, a contest is being conducted whereby everyone has the opportunity to estimate the number of watts of electrical current that is consumed by the Stewart-Warner Refrigerator. Memorial Day Beckons All To Favored Picnic Haunts

Outing Vogue Begins Simultaneously With Open Season On Trout

What is a holiday—but a grand excuse for a picnic! And what is a picnic? Many are the versions. To one it may mean breaking in the grand new picnic kit that has everything in it in the way of dishes and utensils, and taking along a three-course luncheon, including a frosted cake and a freezer of ice cream. To another a picnic is a steak fry in the south hills, with coffee bubbling in the old faithful granite coffee pot in preference to the thermos bottle variety. And to still another a picnic is a couple of sandwiches wrapped in waxed paper and thrust into the pocket of a leather jacket, to be eaten on-the-go on a roading expedition.

But whether it be elaborate or simple, a picnic is a brief defiance of the hum-drum order that says: three times a day, every day in the year, pull out a chair, sit down at a table, spread a napkin on your knees, keep your elbows off the table and eat with all the formality and propriety you know and can afford.

Salute Memorial Day! With the fishing season opening on Memorial day, and with hundreds of southern Idaho families planning holiday outings, the shelves of best business firms offer all manner of intriguing out-of-door foods. The selection of cold cuts gains variety each year. Slices of turkey, olive potato chips and all the other "extras" of a picnic or outing, not to mention the customary "fishermen's" sort of foods, can be found in abundance at local grocery stores and meat markets.

If Memorial day or Memorial Sunday is the first time this season you have taken advantage of one of the numerous scenic trips—southern Idaho affairs, distinguish your picnic lunch with bacon and olive rolls. For a dozen rolls you will need 1 pound thinly sliced bacon and four dozen stuffed Spanish olives. Roll a thin strip of bacon around 2 olives. Place on the end of a sharp stick and broil over the campfire. Serve in hot rolls. If prepared at home, secure bacon around olives with toothpicks and bake more attractive.

Have you tried potato salad? Sliced frankfurters? This is very different from ordinary potato salad and is substantial as well, serving as the main dish of the meal. An excellent salad for the picnic meal or for informal suppers served on the porch or lawn.

Jelly and Jam-Making Season For Strawberries Occupies Housewives

"If God ever made a berry better than the strawberry, said Jonathan Swift, author of 'Gulliver's Travels,' it would be another strawberry." That was two centuries ago, but his opinion has been echoed by millions.

"That so good a fruit should have to wait a season is a sad thing for strawberry lovers. This is undoubtedly why the housewife bustles herself with jelly and jam-making in a season, such as now, when strawberries are plentiful and at their best. Then, when the fresh fruit is no longer in the markets, the flavor of strawberries retained in the jelly glasses sparkling in the jelly cupboard.

All summer long, and well into the following spring, the glasses of jelly and jam are brought out to add a certain zest to the table, and to add to the pleasure of eating with strawberries and pine-

Honey As Cooking Ingredient Gets Applause of Homemakers

"Sweet to the taste—health to the bones—was the manner in which King Solomon spoke of honey, and many a modern homemaker has discovered that the pleasant flavor of honey improves many a recipe. Domestic Idaho honey is particularly well-blended.

"Honey keeps best, tastes best and pours best. It keeps where it is dry and warm. If it is to be used on hot biscuits, it can be kept in a cool place for a few hours before serving. When using honey for cooking, warm it if necessary, by setting the container in hot water. This makes it pour easily. Never cook honey to a high temperature because this drives off the aromatic oils and spoils the flavor.

If Honey Granulates
Changes in temperature may cause honey to granulate. It can be brought back to a liquid by setting the container in a pan of water and gradually heating until the crystals are dissolved. Don't let the water boil.

Comb honey is usually served in its original size or cut into individual portions. It is commonly used with biscuits, griddle cakes, waffles and other hot breakfast foods.

If you have not experimented to any degree with honey as a cooking ingredient, you may enjoy the following:

Honey Currant Biscuits
1 cup bran
2 cups milk
3 cup honey
2 cups flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup shortening
1 cup currants
Combine bran, milk and honey, stir together, the dry ingredients and cut in the shortening. Add to the first mixture and stir. Turn onto flour, knead lightly, adding the currants. Shape into biscuits. Place on greased pan and bake in a hot oven (425 degrees F.) about 25 minutes. Yield: 12 biscuits, 2½ inches in diameter.

Honey Banana Bread
1 cup butter
1 cup honey
2 cups bran
1½ cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
2 teaspoons soda
1 cup chopped nuts
1 cup mashed bananas
Cream the butter and beat in the honey and egg. Add the bran. Sift the dry ingredients and mix in the nuts. Add dry ingredients to the creamed mixture alternately with the bananas. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about one hour. Yield: 1 loaf (8½x4½).

Three Variations For Baked Beans
Have you ever realized the number of different kinds of beans you can get in a can? Baked beans, Kosher beans, lima beans, beans with pork, red kidney beans, stringless beans and beans with tomato sauce all come to you in this convenient form. Of course you can make a great variety of dishes with all these different kinds of beans, but the ones most difficult to vary are the baked beans. These make a fine dish just as they come from the can, but have you ever tasted:

CURRIED BAKED BEANS: Fry one-fourth pound bacon, and remove the dish to keep hot. All two shredded green pepper, to fat, and sauté until golden brown. Add two No. 2 cans baked beans, two cups tomatoes, one-fourth teaspoon pepper and one teaspoon curry powder, and simmer from fifteen to twenty minutes or until slightly thickened. Serve garnished with the bacon slices and whole sweet pickles. Berries attract. Another Foreign Tang

If you don't particularly like curry, but do pine for a sharp taste in your beans, here is another recipe with a foreign tang:

MEXICAN BAKED BEANS: Fry sixteen rashers bacon, and remove to platter to keep hot. Pour off all but about six tablespoons fat. Add two dried onions, and sauté till golden brown. Add the contents of two No. 2 cans baked beans and two teaspoons chili powder, and heat thoroughly. Add salt if desired, to taste. Serve bacon on top. Serves eight.

And fine for picnics are:

MAKING BEAN SANDWICHES: Mash one-half cup cold canned beans, add two tablespoons chili sauce, one tablespoon chopped capers, two tablespoons chopped dill pickles, salt and paprika, and spread between buttered slices of brown bread.

IT PAYS TO REMEMBER

Peaches, pears, apricots, bananas or pineapple dipped in crumbs and egg and browned in small amount of fat make fitting accompaniments for chops, croquettes or baked fish.

Leftover canned corn can be used in soup, escalloped mixture or blended with cooked rice or potatoes and formed into cakes to be browned.

Canned fruits stuffed with white cream or cottage cheese can be used for dessert course rather formal dinner. They blend well with plenty of hot coffee.

Press indentations with back of a spoon into croquette mixtures before cooked. These "holes" can be used for holding the sauce mixture. Try press conference that despite organized labor protests there would be no immediate general increase in wage rates applying to most of the 3,500,000 men he expects to put to work.

Acting on protests of cotton garment, shoe, broom and other manufacturers, the NRA proposed formally that $50,000,000 of the work appropriation be loaned to help develop varied industries in prisons, and distribute competition of prison goods among many private industries instead of the present few.

The president, who has approved allotment of $50,000,000 for highway, street and grade crossing elimination work to be carried out by the federal bureau of roads and state highway departments, during the day was urged by the American Farm Bureau Federation to authorize expenditures on improving back country roads.

The work progress division will be in charge of local projects whose entire cost is borne by the federal government. Some officials, recalling that numerous PWA applications were withdrawn because of easier terms under the civil works administration, had predicted that unless a change was made numerous cities would make out a figurative "pauper's oath."
