NEW LABOR TIE-UP LOOMS ON COAST Stevedore Gangs Refuse to Handle Shipments of California Firm

SAN FRANCISCO, May 31 (AP)—Possibly a waterfront labor tie-up was seen today as the Waterfront Employers' Association of San Francisco at an emergency meeting decided to demand that stevedore gangs handle shipments of fruit containers in public corporation products.

Under the Employers' association plan, as far as the gangs relate to handling the shipments, additional products of the California Packing Corporation will be handled only by the longshoremen's union as it is.

When the estate was distributed in 1922, Pelkas testified in today's proceedings, Mr. Mason "wanted" to be started out as an emergency share in the estate of the late Pelkas, who he is now worth $250,000.

Other litigation is pending, however, in Idaho courts. Mrs. Mason was named as executrix of the estate of her husband, Mr. Pelkas, who she is now worth $250,000.

The stock involved was 28,000 shares issued by the Sunbrite Mining company, now one of the largest silver producers in the world. The stock, with accumulated dividends, is worth about $600,000.

Circus In Rain Brings Pleasure-Seeking Throng

A circus in the rain. At G. Barnes circus returned to Twin Falls after an interval of several years and gave two performances yesterday before crowds that seemed to tax the capacity of the "big top" that is said to have accommodated more than 10,000 persons.

Delayed on the road while an extra locomotive was being brought up to push the heavily-laden train over the hill, after being held up by rains on the lot at Boise, the circus got away to a late start. Trains that had been expected to arrive sometime between 7 and 10 o'clock didn't actually arrive until 11:30 o'clock, and the afternoon performance did not get started until nearly 4 o'clock. There was scant interval between performances, and the circus was ready for the evening throng of customers.

It was a good natured crowd in the afternoon that sought shelter on the inside of circus wagons and trucks watching workmen with elephants and horses busily and surely bringing order out of chaos, and good humor also pervaded the tight-packed throng that stood under the downpouring rain at the entrance to the big tent.

The circus performances brought inimitable entertainment in general, and amusement in particular, completely the most ardent expectations of the pleasure-seeking throng. Flights among the performers that were new to Twin Falls, like the Escalantes, were heartily welcomed as were those with whom Twin Falls circus goers feel acquainted like Mabel Stark and her Bengali tiger, and every performer in the whole big arena came in for cordial appreciation of their efforts.

There were in the circus throng a good many who looked critically upon the condition of the circus livestock and more especially the horses, and the verdict was one of unreserved approval. The circus, going next to Pocatello, got away about midnight.

Roosevelt Calls For New Interpretation Of Powers Of Federal Government

Democrat, said that "the public had some first; it is the Constitution gets in the way, if it must yield."

Senator Dickinson (R-Ia) added the biting comment that he favored the "New Deal" following the Convention of the National Association of Manufacturers (N-A-M) which asserted such a right over the American people, if they were called upon to diagnose it.

Senator Borah (I-Idaho) long an opponent of the NRA considered that the court's ruling was enough to "accomplish everything that is of national importance, and the court has said this power is full and complete."

"Unless it is proposed to wipe out the states entirely congress already has a great power over the states as a national. To illustrate what trouble we would be in I recall there was a great deal of trouble in the situation wiped out state lines as liquor. If we wipe out state lines to let in liquor, the question is liquor coming in with the chickens?"

Democrat-Espinal "The Democratic national committee's statement by Senator Robinson (D-Ark) in which the majority leader declared "the President's 'New Deal' is the Democratic theory of states' rights at all."

Robinson, present at the press conference, said that what Mr. Roosevelt did "was to point out that the veto which is implied by the President's 'New Deal' is the Democratic theory of states' rights at all."

Robinson said that the enactment of the federal law against kidnapping was a "typical example of bank robbery, etc., was a tyrannical invasion of states' rights as to argue, as does Mr. Shouse (Westchester, N.Y.), the president of the Liberty League when he accuses the president of desiring to assume unlimited power because he sought to put an end to chicanery in trade, to the sweat shop and to child labor by means of codes."

Alternative Course Washington interpreted the president's remarks as indicating that administration policy would follow one of two courses:

The submission of an amendment to the Constitution giving congress specifically the powers it sought to wield in NRA, but which the court said were denied the federal government by the fundamental law.

A campaign of public education and agitation intended to find a reflection in a change in the court's philosophy which led it to confine interstate commerce, as Mr. Roosevelt interpreted the opinion, to goods in transit.

Suggests Referendum Mr. Roosevelt stopped short of saying definitely what would probably be the situation if the latter case were word of his plans might be forthcoming next week. He did say that the people would have to vote on the fundamental issue that had been raised—not necessarily this summer, or even next winter, but within the next four or five years, certainly within the decade.

While the president's speech, house leaders predicted early announcement of an NRA law confined to interstate business as defined by the court and supplemented by legislation to encourage state legislatures

UNUSUAL FOOD SUGGESTIONS

Proper Seasoning Is Clue To Mastering Culinary Art

Brides of 1935, with all the kitchen conveniences of the machine age and the manufacturers' marvels that make for better meals, at their command, should appreciate the fact that they were orange blossoms this season instead of 100 years ago, when according to an old book on conditions and seasons, a successful housewife "must have a quick eye and a curious nose, a perfect taste, and a ready ear... she must not be butter-fingered, nor be toothed, nor faint-hearted." The dissertation on brides' knowledge also stated: "I hold the first and most principal to a perfect skill and knowledge in Cookery... to have knowledge of all sorts of herbs belonging to the kitchen... which skill of knowledge she must get by her own true labour and experience."

Matter of Taste
One of the pleasures of a bride, endeavoring for the first time in her life, to cook like her mother, is how to season foods. She is apt to use tentatively, pepper sparingly, and onion reluctantly. If she is not already wise to the use of sauces, condiments and seasonings, she is accented to good food, she should become acquainted with this knowledge as soon as possible. The bride's pantry shelf should include "Kitchen Bouquet," a cleverly balanced blend of herbs, spices and onion—don't know what all, invaluable addition to steak gravies, for example. These should be mustard and mint and parsley and bay leaves and mushrooms, dried or in a sauce. And of course, Worcestershire sauce.

Serve Savory Soups When Days Are Cool

Nothing is more appreciated than hot, tasty soup on a cool day. Unexpectedly cool or chilly days of late spring when the sun's rays change in temperature turns soup-turkey the menu planned for a warm day. Here is a suggestion:
Blissie Idaho
Slice very thin 2 onions and 2 stalks. Smooth in 4 tablespoons of butter until colored. Add 6 sliced medium-sized potatoes and 12 cups of broth of soup stock. Season to taste with salt, pepper and nutmeg; cook slowly for 1 hour and strain into another soup kettle. Add 1/2 cup of milk and 1/2 cup of cream. When ready to serve sprinkle with chopped onion and parsley.

Devilled Outlets

A devilled outlet is one of the most savory ways in which to serve veal, highlighting its bland flavor. The next time you buy veal cutlets, prepare them in this manner:
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter and fat into outlets. Dip slightly in one beaten egg and 1/2 cup of cracker crumbs, and fry in skillet with a generous amount of hot fat.
Contrary to the customary belief, veal is not difficult to digest if it is thoroughly and properly cooked. Because veal has much more connective tissue than beef, it therefore requires longer and slower cooking. Suggested foods to serve with veal cutlets: Noodle soup, baked potatoes, sliced tomatoes, dill pickle, frozen fruit salad, sponge cake and tea or coffee.

Oven Meals Served Out-of-Doors Solve Warm Weather Problems

We spend so much time eating that a vacation atmosphere about our meals goes more than half way toward solving the weather problem. There is something about meals out-of-doors that gives the relaxation and change from year around routine which we seek in vacation activities. Good food, pleasant company and time to enjoy both, fresh air and an occasional cooling breeze, will mark long remembered days.

We must not overlook the fact that moving out-of-doors to eat usually means that food and dishes must be carried farther from the kitchen. Menus must be planned accordingly. Here, if ever, an hour of two of cool planning in the beginning will save hours of hot kitchen work in the end. The same old tinned-dish-savers such as cooking for the cook, can be done in the oven with little attention and there is no need to stand over the stove on a hot day. Oven meals have also been served in the dishes in which they are cooked. This keeps the food hot for serving out-of-doors and saves dish washing.

In summer it is sometimes more satisfactory to have the main meal of the day at noon with a light supper. The evening meal is usually suitable for dinner at either noon or evening with the lighter meal for luncheon or supper.

Saute onion in fat. Beat egg and add remainder of ingredients. Mix thoroughly. Form a flat loaf on a plink, shallow baking pan or platter. Place slices of bacon crosswise. Bake in a moderate oven (425 degrees F.) about 40-50 minutes. Cut large firm tomatoes in half. Season with salt, pepper, and a little sugar if desired. After meat has been in oven about 20 minutes, place the tomatoes around the meat and bake for another 20 or 25 minutes. The bran muffins should be ready

Boy Scout Jamboree Means 'Chow' In Terms Of Tons

Whatever else the Boy Scouts may do at the International Jamboree in Washington, D. C. August 21 to 30, they'll certainly eat! In fact, they'll eat the weight of five large railroads carrying a string of trucks one-half mile in length, every day they're in camp.

That's no "Paul Bunyon" either! Just ask Amby Frederick, who has received from officials a number of jamboree statistics: "Including the fact that 250 tons of food will be consumed daily."

Each day, while encamped on the 400-acre allotted site along the Potomac, with the White House, Washington monument and the Lincoln memorial gleaming in the distance, the 31,418 scouts and the 2850 leaders will consume 106,000 meals daily. That's an amount of food which is most equal to the greatest strength of the Continental Army, about 35,000 in November 1777, and this huge "peacetime army," 300,000 will be employed. Not so startling, statistically, but when you think of it in terms of pounds, produce and livestock, it's colossal.

Suppose you should start out one morning from Jerome, Idaho, drive over the Twin Falls-Jerome bridge to within a mile of Twin Falls, and then drive back to Jerome, pass a single file parade of chefs, safely lined up on the other side of the road to let you by.

Now that you've got a start for your morning trip, just suppose a little more, and drive a little farther. If you could come far to face with the 100,000 flapjacks that mean Jamboree breakfast, you'd see flapjacks, side-by-side, from the time you left Twin Falls until you reached Hansen, about nine and one-half miles away. As Aunt Jemima would say, "That's a jawholla amount of flapjacks."

By that time you would be glad to look across the road at the potatoes which you would see in six acres of potatoes. The potato crop from six acres will be eaten daily at the jamboree.

If you could visualize all those 1250 cows grazing near Burley, on this "supper" trip, you would see a vague idea of how many cows are involved in the production of the 30,000 quarts of milk which the camp will consume daily. The quantity of sugar produced from an acreage of Idaho sugar beets, or 4,000 pounds will be required by the cooks every 24 hours.

It Pays To Remember

Do you bang your spoon on the sink when you're skimming jelly? Put a bowl of hot water conveniently by your side, and dip the spoon into the water every time you skim. Result, no bent spoon or wasted energy.

For individual servings, next time you make ham loaf or meat loaf, place the mixture in muffin tins instead of molding it in the customary manner. Garnish each meat muffin with a ring of parsley before serving.

MEMORIAL RITES HONOR BUHL'S SOLDIER, DEAD

BUHL, May 31 — Honoring Buhl's soldier dead, a memorial service was held at 2 o'clock Thursday morning at the cemetery. Captain W. C. Gentien gave the address, prayer was offered and a rifle salute was fired.

Earlier in the morning the Legion men had arranged flags on the graves of the veterans and a quantity of flowers were placed on the graves.

Twenty-eight graves of the war honored dead received the day's homage.

EDEN-HAZELTON ROAD NEARING COMPLETION

EDEN, May 31 — The work of building the new highway from Eden east through Hazelton is practically complete. The final surface of gravel was spread Monday. Only the final grading up of the gravel remains. The work has been done under contract by the Hoops construction company.

Equipment of the company was moved here to be used in other work, leaving only two large graders here to complete the work necessary. About a mile and a half of the constructed east of Hazelton to connect with the old road from Rupert. The remaining distance will no doubt be built some time before all the elements have been secured and the fences moved back on part of the route.

RICE AND JAM DESSERT

Are the children complaining about having rice pudding so often? Well, they must not be. Rice pudding is a good one. But you can vary it so that instead of being "rice pudding again" it is a "Tasty Combination" if with strawberry jam, for example. If you will take one and a half cups of cooked rice, add a cup of whipped cream and half a cup of strawberries, combine the ingredients, folding lightly, and serve in sherbet glasses. You will have a dessert any child would find delicious.

If you have not yet made a batch of strawberry jam for the summer, you will need it for this purpose, here is a good recipe to follow:

- Crushed Strawberry Jam
- 4 cups (2 lbs.) prepared fruit
- 1 cup (2 lbs.) sugar
- 1/2 bottle fruit pectin

To prepare fruit, grind about 2 quarts fully ripe berries or crush completely one layer at a time so that each berry is reduced to a pulp. Measure sugar and prepared fruit into large kettle, cook well, and bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard 5 minutes. Remove from fire and stir in bottled fruit pectin. Then stir and skim by turns for just 5 minutes to cook slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Pour quickly into Paraffin hot jam at once. Makes about 10 glasses, 8 fluid ounces each.

RAINFALL HELPS FARMERS

A gentle rain has fallen intermittently for the past two days with no damage reported. Farmers are jubilant over prospects for bumper crops the coming season as a result of the precipitation.

ROMAN HOLIDAY

If the famous Indianapolis annual automobile racing classic proves anything at all it is that human nature is slow to change and that people in the mass are not greatly different today to what they were in the days of the Roman circus.

The great race has been responsible this year for four deaths. All but one of these took place during practice runs. The fourth man died in full view of a crowd of one hundred fifty-five thousand people, the greatest attendance in the history of speed at Indianapolis. A fifth victim was taken to a hospital with a broken back and will probably die.

The death of Clay Weatherly, a lad of but twenty-four years, must have supplied about the most dramatic feature in all the annals of automobile racing. His car going at an estimated speed of one hundred ten miles an hour, the body of the unfortunate man was literally shattered to pieces.

Speed supplies the bait. To drive a car faster than any competitor, faster if possible than anyone has ever before driven a car under the same conditions, becomes to followers of the racing game the absolute ultimate of achievement.

These race itself was a tremendous success. Those attending did not do so in the hope that so tragic a thrill might be theirs but it is safe to say that the death of young Weatherly, by say nothing of the other three, will not exactly detract from next year's attendance.

THIS WORLD TANGLE

The proposal of Senator Millard E. Tydings of Maryland, for a general conference of nations at Washington to discuss armament, debts, currencies, trade and other vital international matters, is arousing much comment.

"What that point of view fails to recognize is the extent to which already we are caught up in entangling alliances. The obligations of perhaps 25 billion dollars of foreign governments, corporations and individuals held in this country are indeed alliances of the most entangling character.

He doesn't see how the world's leading creditor can hold to a mere "nationalistic philosophy." Intense nationalism and isolation, he suggests, can only put more of us on relief and end, perhaps, with all of us trying to make a living by writing chain letters to each other. That's the latest form of taking in each other's washing.

MRS. DIONNE'S VOW

Under the headline "Mamma Dionne On Maternity Strike" the interested reader finds the astonishing news that the mother of the world-famous quintuplets has vowed to bear no more children until the government gives up its guardianship of the babies.

With ten children to their credit, the Dionnes can not be accused of promoting race suicide if they never increase the number. A disinterested person might think, too, that Mrs. Dionne could keep pretty busy looking after the five who preceded the quintuplets without having so much time and energy to fret about the government's care of the latter.

That the quintuplets are alive and healthy today is unquestionably due to the special care and outside assistance given them. So far they have needed expert physical care more than they have needed maternal love.

FOOD VS. PERMANENT WAVES

One of the greatest problems now confronting the Federal Government is to protect itself against the weaknesses of human nature in the administration of relief, direct and otherwise.

Many violations of this connection with relief work have been of such pathetic and some grimly humorous. It was a local incident, containing a smile, that prompted this comment.

It is said that a young woman appeared at a local beauty parlor to have her hair marcelled and to be otherwise beautified. The proprietress of the parlor inquired that before the work would be undertaken the patron should give evidence of ability to pay.

As was suggested that the entire city of Haiti be designated one IERA project in order that workers on relief, at government expense, could clean-up the streets, vacant lots and alleys and perform other such needed services.

WHERE DRAW THE LINE?

It has been suggested that the entire city of Haiti be designated one IERA project in order that workers on relief, at government expense, could clean-up the streets, vacant lots and alleys and perform other such needed services.

KIDNAPPING WILL BE PUNISHED

There is very little record of criminal enterprise to encourage the commission of crime by imitating the belief that one can get away with it. And especially is this true of the crime of kidnaping.

Always considered to be one of the most hideous and atrocious of crimes, the crime of kidnaping has of late in this country become a target of all law-enforcement agencies, state and federal alike.

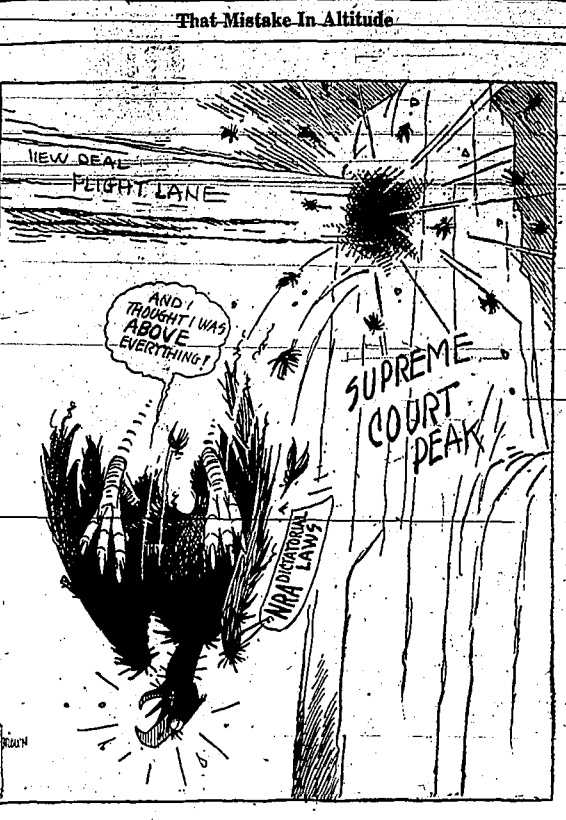

It seems that it's not such a heartless crime after all. The other day at 42nd street and 4th avenue, I noticed a group of about 30 men, dressed in little Eton suits, crossing the street.

A New Yorker At Large

By JAMES R. BESTON

NEW YORK—Pearl S. Buck has had enough of New York's literary less-than-you. And one has good reason. In addition to her natural dislike for parties and "charming" women, she met up with a rather pretentious and stupid young man—the other afternoon.

Evidently he felt he had to say something to Mrs. Buck since the party was in her honor. So he edged up to her and said, with originality, that he liked her books a great deal. And as this was well taken, he jumped up enough courage to explain how he had come to be interested in Mrs. Buck's books. Said he: "I decided to read The Good Earth after reading your husband's grand book, Bring Them Back Alive."

The town's latest feud is between Al Johnson and Dizzy Dean. Johnson had the Deans on his radio program the other night, and Dizzy claims that Al didn't exactly make them feel at home. No expert at the mike, Dizzy stumbled through the radio dialog, and when he had finished, Al mocked his speech, Dizzy claims.

In the last act of The Old Maid the script calls for Helen Menken to knit, and knitting, Miss Menken explains, is not her greatest talent. She had to learn to knit well for the show, which was a matinee show attended mostly by women, and Miss Menken knew it.

That she has mastered the art, every woman who has attended the play will attest, but they do not know what she meant by it. The show does she. It started to go a queer, but she got excited one night and the pattern, so now she's nearly knits.

Guiding Your Child

By ALICE CLARISA RICHMOND

EVERY DAY ADVENTURE Time was when men tarred forth joyously to carve themselves a future in the world. They roared danger, they braved it, they conquered it and "wild beasts." And with them there often went women, in many cases delicate, hurtled and refined who shared their husband's hardships and reared their families and lived full and varied lives deprived of the luxuries and even comforts of home.

Such pioneering largely a thing of the past. Adventure today seems to be a one-man or one-woman job or at the most the enterprise of a small and select group. But there is now as there always has been, plenty of pioneer work in our lives, much nearer home. Because it has none of the color and excitement of a mechanized war, it is overlooked by many of the youngsters who should be undertaking it. It is the pioneering of everyday life.

The boys and girls are for the most part living vicariously, getting their thrills from the drama and literature which offers them an escape from the humdrum of their life, and then settling back in luxurious ease, enjoying all this physical comfort and the security of their life. The parents of the guided young moun over their children's lack of enterprise and fear of responsibility are to be pitied and pitied. They would like their sons and daughters to marry and build lives and homes for themselves, but they cannot see in the "things" and "things" of their own lives, the thrill of making their own lives.

It is in the home that the pioneer spirit is to be taught and cultivated. There, and in the schools, the children must learn to evaluate life not in terms of having, but of doing and being.

WASHINGTON By Ray Tucker SCANTY: More and more secretly-animated each time the headlines' banner sensational stories about Hitler. Hitler's war and the "new world."

Germany has one advantage over us. This country has only a few experimental weapons in this class. The Germans are reported to have stored up vast quantities.

POSSIBLE: Controller General McCarll doesn't take his presidential boom seriously. He has told friends that he would like to see the politics would choose if they cherished any hope of winning.

ROVERS: An unpublished study of the transients' lives furnished by the Census Bureau indicates that they fall below the summer figures of other years. Statisticians say that the wanderers are finding jobs or heading for home in great numbers.

DOUBTFUL: Although President Roosevelt undoubtedly wished it otherwise the Supreme Court has vindicated his legal opinions twice. He signed both the Rail Pension Extension and the Social Security Act with lawyer-like reluctance.

BLUE: Until administration policy is restricted to the iron necessity of constitutionality it will be difficult to estimate the chances of putting through the A.A. amendments desired by Secretary Wallace. Big majority votes by farm beneficiaries in favor of AAA are not enough now to compel lawmakers to rush through bills.

NOTES: Not a soul in Washington knew what was coming from the Supreme Court—the administration was as much in the dark as the humblest citizen in Maine or Arkansas. The A.P. is hard hit by the outlook of NRA—President Green has been insisting that codes should apply to businesses within six states. Rights are on all night at the Department of Justice, nerve center of the search for the Weyerhaeuser kidnappers.

Alison rode at last. She had to leave. She was the woman who is about to marry Allison's father. She is the woman who is about to marry Allison's father. She is the woman who is about to marry Allison's father.

Chapter 29
"IT'S A DOCTOR"

But Alison could not smile at the thought that she was standing down at the paper dazed as she departed. "How could anything be there?"

"I tell you, there must be some kind of a trick, some way we didn't find," said Guy.

"You mean, you don't think that it happened the night we were there?"

"No, I don't. It's stark impossible. We'd have seen a dead kitten, let alone a man's corpse, even after the ghost. And there wasn't anything there when you went down next morning."

"I didn't look right round," admitted Alison. "I only went straight through to turn the light off, but even then, I saw it."

"Even then, you'd hardly have missed a body! There's a picture of the house, by the way, on the middle page."

She opened the paper and looked; it was impossible to mistake the house. The great fold of the paper on one side, the drop into the valley on the other and the road that would part the two gates. Alison looked at the picture and looked at it again and realized that those dark, eerie collars had a dead man.

Alison studied the picture of the gray thing outside the door, of those two nail-less hands reaching towards her with too poignant a plea for comfort. The traffic had started again and they were running down Pleadilly towards Regent Street as she thought, "I don't know what my father's going to think when he sees this."

"Your father?"

"Yes, you see, she's paused, wondering how she could put it. "I told you that she had some ally peering in his head that there was something funny about you—it's her fault."

"Your stepmother?"

"Yes, you see, she's been making mischief again. Alison grew hot and red. "She hates me and she wants to make trouble, that's all. It's no use because we were friends and she's a man's man."

"She's a man's man?"

LEAD COMPANY PAYS IDAHO'S MINING TAX

BOISE, May 31 (AP)—The St. Joe Lead company of Atlanta today paid the state $12,572, under provision of the 2-penn-cent-mining-tax law passed by the last legislature.

The money goes to the public school fund.

The tax is due June 1 and payable to Emmitt Pflitz, commissioner of law enforcement.

The tax act is under attack in third district courts here. Two companies have obtained a temporary injunction prohibiting the commissioner of law enforcement, from collecting it from them, its constitutionality is questioned.

Nationwide Scandal Seen In Measure

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—Hugh S. Magill, president of the American Federation of Utility Investors, said in a statement today that those who vote death to the utility holding companies in congress "must face the responsibility for a nationwide scandal when, at the expense of their investor constituents, Wall street gamblers reap millions."

"Such is the fear expressed to me privately by certain senators high in the ranks of Democratic leadership," he said, "those of them who have studied the inevitable effects of passage are certain that the present situation contains the seeds of a major scandal."

He said the bill would require major holding companies and investors to dump millions in securities upon a panicky market and that "many to the next of the speculators, the parasite stock gambler would receive the junk man's profit and the only benefit to be had from this bill."

Track Trials Forecast Decisive Victory For U. S. C. Cleveland Hurlers Shove White Sox Deeper Into Second Place

Columbia Sophomore Speedster Challenges New California Comet

Southern California Trojans Dash Through Qualifying Tests Of I.C.A.-A Meet Without Loss Of Contestant

By ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)
CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 31 (AP)—Forecasting a decisive conquest for Southern California's Trojans, who came through the qualifying tests without the loss of a single contestant, the preliminary battle for places in the 59th intercollegiate A.A.A.-A. track and field championships today was lifted from its otherwise monotonous routine by the sensational sprint of Columbia's Ben Johnson, Negro sophomore. Johnson, who holds the national as well as the I.C.A.A.A. 100-yard, sprint crown, served notice of his challenge to the new California comet, George Anderson, by beating the meet records in the trials for both the 100 and 200 meter dashes.

The two speedsters shared a new mark of 10.3 for the 100 meter event, clipping one-tenth second off the old record as they crossed the finish line. Johnson then reeled off the 200 in 22 seconds flat, also one tenth second under the former record. This was followed by a record of a seven-mile-an-hour following breeze. Anderson was clocked in 21.7 seconds, qualifying for the final. Johnson's performance was a brilliant deed tomorrow in the finals, for the crown.

Record Broken Out
The fitful winds which whirled through the Harvard stadium most of the afternoon finally brought a respite of rain at the finish, depriving Phil Cope, Southern California's new star, of a mark in the 110-meter high hurdles. Cope was clocked in 14.6 seconds in the semifinals, a tenth under the former record, but a five-mile-an-hour wind was sufficient to rule the performance off the books.

Los Angeles Wins by 6-4 to Gain First Place in Standings
LOS ANGELES, May 31 (AP)—Los Angeles scored Oakland out of the Pacific Coast championship by winning tonight's game 6 to 4.

Los Angeles Wins by 6-4 to Gain First Place in Standings
The Trojans placed men in eighth position. California finished in fourth place with three wins in the 200 meter low hurdles and the broad jump, two each in the 110-meter high hurdles, 400 and 800 meter runs and one each in the 100-meter dash, and discus. They doubled the quality in the 100 meter run, their rival, the University of California, which gained eight places and forecast a one-third finish for the far western contingent, with Stanford also figuring to make a good showing with its four man squad.

SHOTS THEY REMEMBER

A "Tree-Climber" Shot
A few players in the Bobby Crutchank's winning of the Virginia State open golf championship 1934 year.

Going to the ninth hole of the final round, with a three-stroke lead on the field, the put-tee-tee-tee shot landed on a terrific drive.

The rest appeared perfectly simple until Crutchank approached the ball and found it lodged against the base of a tree which had two forks.

There was a bare chance that he could hit the ball against one of the big roots and let it spin through the air as a shot. The tree trunk, Crutchank said, "I was sure I was to pick it up as an unplayable lie. As it was leaning by three shots at the time I decided to take a chance."

Bobby pulled out a chipper from his bag and hit the ball sharply. The clubbed struck the tree and the stick bounced out of his hands, but the ball hit the tree and started to carom out on a high curve.

While it was in the air the spin caused by hitting the tree turned the ball in towards the hole. Crutchank's club bounced on to the edge of the hole.

"I then proceeded to hole out for a birdie," smiled Bobby. "and I figured I saved myself three strokes—thanks to the tree. Although a freak, it was my greatest shot."

Release of Kamm Ends Quarrel in Camp of Indians

CLEVELAND, May 31 (AP)—President Alva Bradley of the Cleveland Indians issued a statement tonight in which he said he will give Willie Kamm his unconditional release here tomorrow.

Walter Johnson's continuation as manager of the Indians is "a matter for the future," Bradley said. "As far as the Kamm-Johnson matter is concerned, it is a closed incident."

"Kamm asked for his unconditional release Tuesday," Bradley continued, "and I have given it. I will grant Kamm's request."

Johnson jubilant
CHICAGO, May 31 (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis announced tonight that he has granted Manager Walter Johnson and Third Baseman Willie Kamm their unconditional release from the club of Alva Bradley, owner of the Cleveland Indians.

Although the bedridden judge did not say that he was in agreement with the two adversaries, that Johnson was within his rights as club manager in releasing Kamm from the team, he refused to give an opinion as to the justification of the "Big Train's" drastic action in releasing Chief Clem Mays out of the club and indefinitely suspending Kamm "for the good of the club."

Johnson was quoted as saying that he would be dismissed as manager if the commissioner ruled he had exceeded his rights as club manager in releasing Kamm. He said he was at the Northside hotel where the hearing was held.

The defeat left the Sox a game and a half behind the New York Yankees, who assumed the leadership yesterday, while Cleveland trailed one game further back. Brown and Harter reversed their usual roles. Brown started the game against Yarn Johnson Kennedy, who also had been used in relief roles, and when he weakened in the eighth Harter stepped in to finish the game. Between them they allowed only six hits.

Mary Hopkins, substituting for the injured Jack Hayes at second base, made three errors. The pitcher did a fairly good job in the face of difficulties, giving nine hits but making five.

BOSTON, May 31 (AP)—The fast-stepping New York Yankees stretched their winning streak to seven games and their National League lead today by trimming the cellar-dwelling Braves in both ends of a doubleheader, 15 to 3 and 4 to 2.

It was the second of three straight bargain bills for both teams and the Yankees in particular showed signs of a weariness. The second game wound up in a heavy rain and that apparently cost Carl Hubbell a shut-out.

Every man in the New York line-up made at least one hit in the opening encounter. The Braves started with Flint Rhoads on the hill and after he had lasted 1 1/2 innings for 13 hits and eight runs in seven innings tossed in the veteran Larry Benton. The Giants promptly belted him for six more runs in the eighth. To make the rout more complete, the tribe was scaly of six errors, three by Pinky Whitney, in the first inning. Wally Berger started the Braves late and brief hit of scoring with his sixth homer of the season.

American Tennis Champion's Triumph Features Day on French Courts
PARIS, May 31 (AP)—Helen Jacobs drew a step closer to the French hard court tennis championship today as play moved into the semi-final round in both men's and women's matches.

The American champion's decisive conquest of Mme. Glynis Henzotin of France featured a day of mediocre tennis in which favorites almost without exception, advanced in straight sets.

Miss Jacobs, in fine form and never threatened, blanketed Henzotin out of the tournament, 6-2, 6-2, in a match that was too one-sided to be interesting. In her victory the Berkeley, California, girl is to meet Hilda Krahwinkel Sperling of Germany in the semi-finals tomorrow. PRESIDENT'S TALK TUMBLES GRAINS Lower Prices Follow Chief Executive's Comment on NRA Decision

By JOHN P. BOUGHAN Commercial Bulletin Staff Writer CHICAGO, May 31 (AP)—Lower prices for wheat today followed reports that President Roosevelt viewed the president's NRA decision as a national reversal to the horse and buggy era.

Attention of traders focused especially on the fact that the president was reported as indicating the soundness of his NRA decision. It was the president's opinion, if it blocked any federal control of agricultural production, that it would mean wheat and wheat-and-corn under present world conditions.

Chicago wheat futures were down 1/2 cent to 1 1/2-1 3/4 for No. 1 hard red winter wheat. The market was quiet for the remainder of the day.

Many liberals, he said, believe much of the legal trouble coming along with the NRA decision is being waylaid in a stroke by reverting to the words of the tenth amendment to the constitution.

The amendment now says "powers not delegated to the United States by the constitution, nor prohibited to the states, are reserved to the states, respectively, or to the people."

The change, which Keller said is sure to be proposed at the forthcoming annual convention, would make the amendment declare that powers not delegated to the states nor prohibited to them are reserved for the United States.

BENCH OR COMMISSION QUESTION FOR JURIST

BOISE, May 31 (AP)—Justice Alfred Lodge of the Idaho supreme court today was informed that he could not legally accept a recent appointment by Governor Ross to the Idaho commission on uniform laws.

The advice came from Attorney General Bern H. Miller and was given in response to an inquiry directed to him by the justice.

The attorney general held that the law is clear that a justice of the supreme court is ineligible "to any other office for trust or profit" except that of the attorney general.

Justice James F. Aldrich, member of the commission for many years, resigned recently, a short time after he took up his duties on the bench.

A formal resignation has not been received yet from Justice Buder, attorney of the governor's office said today.

The chief member of the commission is O. O. Hags of Boise.

The commission, which is composed of lawyers and jurists from all the states, devotes its attention to studying and drafting laws to be

Committeemen Reveal Swimming Pool Plans

Municipal Plunge At Harmon Park To Be 220 Feet In Length And 150 Feet In Width, Members Of Junior Chamber Of Commerce Announce

Complete plans for Twin Falls' 171 square feet of water surface, municipal swimming pool, now under construction under the auspices of Twin Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce, were announced yesterday noon at the swimming pool executive committee meeting at a luncheon at the Rotarian hotel. Claude H. Detweiler, chairman, presiding.

All cost of construction to date has been paid, Mr. Detweiler announced, and bills were allowed for excavating work and teams. Mr. Detweiler and Duncan McD. Johnston were appointed to contract for gravel for the pool and it was moved to ask the Idaho Power company to submit plans for the lighting of the pool.

The adopted plan calls for the use of "cyclopeat" construction consisting of lava rock paving to a depth of 8' of a foot. This rock will comprise 63 percent of the mass and the balance will be filled by a sand and gravel mixture and capped with a three inch layer of cement grout, providing a smooth concrete finish.

Lava rock drains will provide drainage for the sub-area and a four inch walk-in—approximately 18 inches feet and a maximum width of 150 feet, being divided into swimming and wading areas. There will be 28 cubic yards of loose rock will be used.

One hundred thirty sacks of cement will be used in construction of the walk, along with 61 cubic yards of rock, 24 cubic yards of filler and 24 cubic yards of grout.
