THREE LITTLE BOYS TO FACE TRIAL AS 'HOLD-UP' KILLERS

This Affidavit Must Be Replaced With Formal Complaint, Magistrate Declares in New York Court

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, June 17.—Three little boys—two 13 and one 11—were held tonight in children's society shelter after arraignment on charges of homicide.

Mute and apparently amazed, the youngsters, Frank Damato, 13, and his brother Julius, 11, two of six motherless children, and Edward, 11, youngest son of a Negro preacher, heard themselves charged with having killed a man with another boy who had stolen from a policeman.

The youngsters confessed, police said, that they had slain a penniless wanderer in a "hold-up" that netted them nothing.

Seemingly a bit proud, although silent, the youngsters, all boot-lickers, stepped firmly before the magistrate in a somber, unrepentant manner. They had no attorney.

"Despite their tender ages," the magistrate advised after asking each of the children his name, "you must proceed with them as with adults and they are entitled to the same privileges as adults."

Within the next 48 hours this short affidavit must be replaced with a formal complaint.

"I'm not sure this little fellow knows what it's all about," he commented as he asked the children of a short affidavit.

"Just question him," advised Assistant District Attorney William O'Hare. "You will find he knows all right. He is one of the best kids I have ever questioned."

Hearing Adjourned O'Hare was about to question the children when the magistrate adjourned the hearing until Wednesday, holding the children in the shelter without bond.

"I can't watch them all the time," the magistrate said. "I can't watch them—motherless—since 1933. I sent the boys to church but they would slip away. If they have been they will have to be shot."

Police charge the youngsters shot William Walsh, 28, a man being held intoxicated in a vacant lot when they came across him. Frank Damato shot Walsh by police to have fired the shot as the man sought to run away.

The revolver, police say, was found in Frank Damato in Jamaica police headquarters from an officer whose shoes were being shined by Lawrence.

WOMAN FOUND DEAD BEHIND CAR WHEEL

Mrs. Paul Steiner, Victim Apparently of Heart Trouble, Dies

Sitting upright at the wheel of a car that had left the road and turned into a wheat field within a quarter mile of her home, the body of Mrs. Florence Steiner, wife of Paul Steiner, Twin Falls machinist, was found shortly after 11 o'clock last night, a mile south and three-quarters of a mile west of South Park addition.

A preliminary investigation, Henry C. Givens, deputy sheriff, said, disclosed no evidence of violence, and it was believed probable that death had resulted from natural causes. It was learned that she had suffered some heart trouble for some time, although, it was stated, that she had been in apparently good health yesterday.

A physician who accompanied the officer made a preliminary examination in the absence of the doctor. Dr. H. L. Stone, who is attending a national guard training camp at Idaho Falls, said he saw the lights of a car and remarked that she probably was not mistaken when she did not appear soon afterward.

Car Lights Still Burning The car which Mrs. Steiner's body was found had pushed through a wire fence and moved about 50 yards into the wheat field before the motor stopped.

ADMINISTRATORS OF WORK RELIEF HEAR ROOSEVELT'S PLANS

State Officials, Headed by Harry L. Hopkins, Gather in Chief Executive's Office for Final Word

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS) WASHINGTON, June 17.—Asserting he believed this year would be "the beginning of the picking up of the greater part of this unemployment slack," President Roosevelt today handed over to state administrators the work relief campaign plans.

The state administrators, headed by Harry L. Hopkins, work progress administrator, were marshaled in Mr. Roosevelt's office for a final word on the administration's plans for disbursing the $4,000,000,000 fund appropriated in April a half month after congress handed the enabling legislation over to the administration.

The chief executive asserted the problem was one of arithmetic—dividing three and a half million men into four billion dollars—and the projects chosen thus would have to be comparatively simple ones—on which the cost of the work relief could not be too high. He then told the administrators to slow down or halt completely public works projects which would require the cost of absorbing relief workers.

Politics Out, He Says —Politics, so far as we are concerned, is out of the picture, he said. It applies both ways. It means, we cannot hurt our enemies nor help our friends. We have to and will treat them all evenly alike.

Meanwhile another phase of the administration program, social security, was up for senate consideration. The senate, with a roaring chorus of "yes" knocked out the "anti-wealth" amendment to the social security program offered by Senator Charles McNary, La., and Senator Charles McNary, La., which the Louisiana's most explained scheme.

Senator Hastings (R. Del.) told the senate in the absence of McNary was "impossibly grandiose and beyond the nation's economic capacity." McNary's bill, however, was to be an early vote on the bill, tomorrow if possible.

Two Chinese Cruisers Run Gauntlet Of Fire

Gunboats Desert Canton In Spectacular Dash The Chinese cruisers, Mahan and Hsiao, were seen to anchor in Hongkong harbor tonight after deserting the Canton government and running the gauntlet of the local forces.

The two ships deserted from their post at Whampoa yesterday, steaming toward the entrance of the Canton river, called Boca Tigra, "mouth of the Tiger"— jammed on the clipper as the supreme court decision lay free.

Checked on by hope—or miracle—their 15-hour dash to the house hurried through a $501,910.00 "nuisance" tax bill in 40 minutes. Then it took up the long-fought and frequently changed amendments to the agricultural adjustment act, hoping to put that legislation through the senate possibly tomorrow or the next day.

A hot sun had set when the house hurried through the bill. The speaker urged members "come a little earlier and stay a little later." Byrna "chopped" for a mid-July adjournment.

Such consolation as administration leaders got out of the social work tax law AAA work today came up with a bump against renewed effort to grind down the teeth of the measure to ban public utility holding companies and to give broader activity scope to the Tennessee utility authority.

Omaha Street Railway Bows To Governor's Demand for Arbitration to End Strike

GOVERNOR PRESSES FOR QUICK ENDING OF OMAHA STRIKE

Workers Agree to Arbitrate or Go Back to Jobs in Ohio, Tennessee, Illinois; Police Guard Milkmen

(By The Associated Press) The fight of the military ground down on one faction of the Omaha strike yesterday (Monday) as peace moves got under way in most of the country's other active labor controversies.

Notified, when the Omaha and Council Bluffs strikers' union agency ignored his ultimatum to designate an arbitrator for its difficulties with striking union workers, Governor H. L. Cochran, dictator of the city by virtue of martial law, ordered the company's cars off the street.

Strikers Here Spokeman Workers have previously named a member of the board, James H. Cochran, as arbitrator of the Omaha and Council Bluffs street railway company that the riot-strewn street car strike be arbitrated with reservations.

No disorders have occurred since the national guard moved in Saturday. Striking workers of the Toledo, Ohio, Edison company voted approval of a proposal to arbitrate their 4-day work-out. In the meantime they were to receive an immediate five per cent wage increase. They agreed to 10 per cent advance.

Employees of the American Zinc and Chemicals Company, a subsidiary of the American Zinc and Chemicals Company, ended a month-old dispute by agreeing to a settlement of conditions existing before their strike.

Guardmen Leave Strike At Freeport, Illinois, virtually all the 630 employes of the Bitter Milk and Creamery Company went back to their jobs, accepting a five per cent wage increase. National guardmen called in last week to arbitrate a clash between strike sympathizers and deputized deputies.

Military Dictator Invokes Full Power of Martial Law To Order Cars Off Streets Until Company Comes To Terms

Operators Hold Out for Three Points (By The Associated Press) OMAHA, Neb., June 17.—Governor H. L. Cochran late tonight bluntly refused to accept the proposal of the Omaha and Council Bluffs Street Railway company that the riot-strewn street car strike be arbitrated with reservations.

The company, in a counter action to the governor's demand for immediate arbitration, offered higher wages and shorter hours, but not the question of the ownership of the streetcars. Cochran, military dictator of Omaha during the occupation of the city by the national guard, promptly informed the company that his demand for arbitration for all issues.

As On Black List Cochran was told the company was unwilling to take back 63 of the 263 streetcars. No immediate reply was made by the governor, who is here as chief of the Nebraska national guard, called into duty yesterday on consecutive nights had resulted in two deaths and injury to 100 persons.

The full power of martial law was thrown into the seething street car strike situation here today as Governor Cochran's ultimatum, his right as a dictator to take the cars off the streets, and a national guard court order to remove the cars from the streets.

Ultimatum Issued Governor Cochran, determined that the battle strike must end and end quickly, ordered street cars stopped after the Omaha and Council Bluffs Street Railway company informed the company that an arbitration committee be named by 10 a. m. today.

Street cars which the governor ordered back within 15 minutes after the company had failed to announce selection of an arbitrator, were taken off the streets. The strikers had complied with the demand of the governor.

With no other choice, the governor ordered the cars into the streets. The tracks were cleared. Although the strike was not over, the job, their aid, was to do the work as the company offered instantly upon receiving Cochran's order.

The company met this action with a strike today. The time of their conference to determine the terms of the settlement.

ATHLETES SAY: "THEY DON'T GET YOUR WIND!" Read below what these famous athletes say about their experiences in smoking Camels. Follow the athletes in your search for cigarette mildness. Tommy Armour says: "Camels never bother my nerves or shorten my wind—convincing evidence that Camels are mild." Mel Ott, heavy-hitting outfielder of the New York Giants, reports: "My experience is that Camels are so mild they never get my wind." And Stubby Kruger, Amy Lou Oliver, and Lester Stoefen agree with Pete Knight, who says: "Camels—there's a smoke so mild it never cuts down your wind, never gets you out of condition." A mildness that will please you too! Camels are made from costlier tobaccos. They are mild, cool, gentle on the throat. Smoke them all you wish. Camels don't upset your nerves... or tire your taste. ROSS TO INSPECT WORKS PROJECTS

Governor Predicts Employment for 10,000 Idle In Idaho

POCATELLO, June 17.—Gov. C. Don Ross will leave Boise on Wednesday for a six-day tour of north Idaho to inspect public work projects, he announced here before proceeding to Franklin where he addressed the annual pioneer day celebration today.

He said he would return to Boise early Sunday for Boise. When the Idaho program will get under way is still uncertain, according to the executive, but he expects 10,000 idle men to be employed soon after the return of Leo Flood, state works progress director, on projects ranging from city water works improvement and water conservation to the construction of school buildings.

Stresses Board's Importance
The ideal project, he said, was one in which the municipality supplies all the material and the government the labor. Mr. Ross emphasized the importance of the state planning board in the state works set up. The board's recommendation will greatly expedite approval of the projects after they have been asked by the taxing unit, he said.

Governor Ross will be in Idaho county on June 20 where he will inspect the Green creek farm market road which has been under construction for the past three years.

He also speaks at Craigmont that day at the city's annual celebration. It will be the fifth consecutive year that the governor has addressed the observance.

From Craigmont, he proceeds to Moscow, then to Coeur d'Alene and returns to Boise June 24.

Chapter 44
DEAD DOG

"The sergeant gave a sign of surprise when the car wanted in connection with the Warley case," he said importantly.

"I want to ring up my solicitor, please," said Guy firmly. "And I'd like you to get in touch with Chief Inspector O'Connell at the Police Station. Can I speak to him from here?"

"You'll have plenty of time to talk to him," said the sergeant grimly. "Take him along to the cells, Fletcher. I'll ring up headquarters."

"It was exactly one-thirty that a car stopped at the police station and Chief Inspector O'Connell himself leaped forward and opened the door. The inspector held out his hand.

"Well, now, sir, what's all this?" he asked.

Just a statement of the facts took Guy three minutes to say, said O'Connell. "I understand! But of course, whatever he did you should have pushed him, sir."

"I know but well—I was in a hurry. I'll apologize, anything, but you get me out of this!" urged Guy.

"Well, you're O'Connell, I'm scared blue! This lady—the young lady I'm telling you about, who was with me, has come to Mrs. Fowler's flat, now and Lord only knows what's happened."

"What I want I can, O'Connell promised, but I'll have to ask you a few questions first."

"Make me as snappy, then," said Guy.

"It'll be for your good," said O'Connell. "In a nutshell, the position's this: Mrs. Sumner or Fowler, or whatever her name is, came round to see me this morning. Mrs. Sumner had said that she knew nothing—that her furniture had been moved, that she only knew down there to see it out and that she'd not been near the cellar. That was confirmed by the movers' men, who said the door was locked and the key gone. Anyway, there wasn't any doubt she had an alibi."

"Well? Guy's eyes were on his watch; he was smiling lightly.

"Well, this morning she came round to see me, and she had a number of the blue car that was seen on the down. But her garden next door spotted it coming by his cottage round about nine-thirty the next morning and had written to her—though why I don't know."

"I see," said Guy. "What do you want me to tell you?"

"Can you explain, sir, what your car was doing down at Warley that night?"

Guy hesitated. "Officially," he said.

"I'll say," said O'Connell.

"Through a pause that lasted a bare fraction of a minute and their eyes met."

Guy took out a handkerchief and wiped his face. It had a set, grim look about it.

"By the way, how's your wife?" he asked pointedly. "All right again?"

"Going on fine now," said O'Connell. "But that's not correct, sir. I'll say so."

"Or for Heaven's sake be human," O'Connell looked at the door and at the captive. But he saw neither. He was thinking of a woman who had lain ill, despatched, and of this man beside him who had saved her life. "So on, sir," he captioned.

So Guy told for the second time that day the story of his movements on the night he went to Warley, and O'Connell heard him through without expression.

"Was yourself saw no one in the house that night except the young lady?"

"No one," agreed Guy firmly.

"Could you tell me a little bit more clearly what you did down in the cellar?" he asked.

"As far as I remember, Miss Red and I went through it very carefully, flashing the light about and looking into all the corners. We found the main switch cut turned on the electric light."

"Just a moment, sir—you didn't do anything before you got on the main? Didn't shift anything?"

"No," Guy looked at him wonderingly. "Oh! Well, there was one thing."

"What?" O'Connell was leaning forward, his small pale eyes glittering.

"There was a big roll of linoleum in one corner, near the recess under

The victory enabled the Tribe to go into a tie for third place with Detroit, while the latter's lead over the Cardinals was reduced to one game. The Indians were forced to retire in the fourth inning because of an injured finger. Pitcher Gordon Rhoads, for Boston, was forced to retire in the fourth inning because of an injured finger. Plans Under Way For Title Fight
Max Schmeling Ready to Battle Braddock in United States

NEW YORK, June 17 (AP)—Friedly convinced the 'depression is over so far as the boxing industry is concerned,' Jimmy Johnston, matchmaker for Madison Square Garden, announced tentative plans today for a heavyweight title fight between Max Schmeling and Max Baer.

Despite the fact Braddock has held the title only five days and has not yet been expected to be asked to defend it before 1936, Johnston said he thought he would have little trouble arranging for the fight. He plans to confer with Joe Gould, Braddock's peppery promoter, and Joe Jacobs, American manager of Schmeling, tomorrow.

Johnston plunged into fresh activity after he had been informed yesterday that the fight in this country next month provided he was assured a title match.

New Open Champ Promises Novelty In Golf Matches

Sam Parks, Jr., U. S. Titleholder, to Give Instructions During Barnstorming Tour Next Month

(Associated Press Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, June 17 (AP)—Something novel in golf exhibition matches will be offered by the new national open champion Sam Parks, Jr. when the Pittsburgh professional starts a barnstorming tour next month.

"The former collector is not only proposed to show spectators the spots that won for him the richest and most highly-prized title in the royal and ancient game but how to play them as well. If any individual or group of spectators is interested in any one spot Parks will take time one side after the match. In other words, he plans to give instructive exhibitions.

"People don't like to part with their money just to see a fellow play golf," Parks said. "They want more than that and see fully convinced to more. I propose to show them and tell them all I know if they are interested."

Parks probably will team up with the blond, curly-haired Jimmy Thomson, the Long Beach, Calif., slugger.

Wills Hurls No-Hit Game; Kimberly Wins Over Hazelton Team

West End Moundman Turns In Brilliant Performance; Hansen And Gooding Score League Victories

As Buhl's ace hurler, Wills was turning in a no-hit, no-run performance at Murtaugh. Kimberly's aggressive Southern Idaho league baseball team broke into a deadlock for top place in the standings Sunday with a 10 to 7 victory over the one time unbeaten men of Hazelton.

Buhl's 22 to 0 win over the Hazelton surprise 7 to 6 victory over Wendell, deadlocked the two combinations in second place and Wendell dropped into the 500 class.

In the fourth game of the day, Gooding was out for a hit and one notch up the ladder with a 13 to 3 win.

MURTAUGH, June 17—Pitcher Wills of Buhl did things up brown here yesterday. He pitched a no-hit ball of fame by hurling a no-hit, no-run game as his team mates were pounding out for a hit and one notch up the ladder with a 13 to 3 win.

Wills made the entire Murtaugh team look like a kindergarten aggregation as he allowed his bullet-like slants over the pan. Every possibility of a hit was met by a brilliant Buhl out snared with uncanny precision.

Gooding started on the mound for Murtaugh and held the invaders scoreless for two innings. He then blew higher than a kite and was quickly taken care of by the brilliant Buhl out snared with uncanny precision.

Buhl accounted for four home runs and made four double plays. He pitched a no-hit game as his team mates were pounding out for a hit and one notch up the ladder with a 13 to 3 win.

KIMBERLY 10, HAZELTON 7
HAZELTON, June 17—Kimberly's up and coming baseball combination took leadership in the Southern Idaho league into deadlock here Sunday by cutting out a ninth-inning rally to place in the standings to romp on the heretofore undefeated Hazelton team.

Minus the services of the Hazelton strikeball king, Harold Albert, the Hazelton team failed to keep things in the family and started Louie Albert on the mound. Late in the game, however, the attack became too great for the Hazelton team to make good service before the close of the game. Held scoreless until the ninth, Albert then ran in the next four frames.

Hawkins hurled consistent ball for Kimberly, allowing 10 hits but striking out 13 opposing batters. The three, Hazelton pitchers allowed 16 safe hits. Albert fanned ten and Lillywhite, Al.

Lance of Hazelton hit four of the five times to lead batsmen, but he was out in the first frame and Smith made four out of five to top the invaders. Albert and Chandler of Kimberly hit circuitous home runs.

HANSEN 7, WENDELL 5
WENDELL, June 17—Before a home town crowd, Hansen's Southern Idaho league baseball team staged a six-run rally in the fourth frame Sunday to overcome a Wendell 4-1 lead and win a fast game, 7 to 5.

Wendell had a lead of four runs in the fourth frame but Hansen's team scored six runs to one for the locals as the third frame closed. Hansen's team led except for the Hansen rally.

Each team contributed eight safe hits. Wendell made five errors. Hansen's team had four errors. Hansen's team scored six runs to one for the locals as the third frame closed. Hansen's team led except for the Hansen rally.

HIGHWAY DISPUTE AGAIN IN COURT

Murtaugh District Intervenes to Oppose New Route

Involving the state highway department's plans for re-routing a section of the state highway between Twin Falls and Burley, a suit brought by the state to condemn a right of way for the proposed new highway route across lands owned by J. L. Barnes of Hansen, Twin Falls county commissioner, was brought to hearing before Judge Adam E. Barclay in the district court here yesterday in compliance with a recent supreme court ruling that permitted the Murtaugh highway district to participate in the action as an intervenor.

At issue, according to Judge Barclay's ruling yesterday, is the question whether the proposed route is of necessity and the greatest public good.

The court ruled that highway department's disclaimer of pleadings of purpose to abandon the present route was sufficient to meet the objection on that score by the highway district and owners of the proposed right-of-way.

The hearing is to be continued today.

On Witness List

Witnesses yesterday for the highway district were Oliver W. Johnson of Murtaugh; W. A. Thompson, attorney for the highway district; and public works; and M. H. Williams.

Late in the afternoon Hyrum Pickett of Murtaugh and Harold Williams Merritt, Twin Falls civil engineer, testified as witnesses for the defendant landowners.

The case for the state is being presented by Leo M. Breanahan, assistant attorney general, and W. A. Broadhead, attorney for the state department of public works; J. H. Barnes of Twin Falls appearing as attorney for the defendant landowners.

IMPROVEMENT FOR GOLDEN RULE STORE

Big New Air Conditioning Plant Delivers Washed, Cool Atmosphere

C. G. Anderson Golden Rule store in Twin Falls is putting into operation this week a huge new air conditioning plant which delivers cool washed air from basement to balcony, and is capable of making a complete change of air throughout the store every four minutes.

Installed at a cost of several thousand dollars, the air conditioning plant, in the summer time, delivers washed air making the store 15 to 20 degrees cooler than the temperature outside. In winter, the plant delivers filtered, warm air, forcing the air supply through a system of spin glass filters instead of through showers of water that wash and cool the air in the summer.

In operation yesterday, under direction of Walter Reiter of Twin Falls who installed the new system, the air conditioning plant delivered washed air with a temperature of 66 degrees Fahrenheit. The installation, Mr. Reiter said, is the largest that has yet been made in Twin Falls.

In connection with the announcement of this improvement, C. G. Anderson, store manager, announced an enlargement of the women's ready-to-wear department, and the inauguration of a new department to supply infants' needs, both departments being accommodated on the store balcony which is being extended and remodelled.

TIRES MAY LOOK ALIKE ON THE OUTSIDE ON THE INSIDE THEY ARE DIFFERENT

HEAT on the inside created by friction is the main cause of blowouts. Firestone tires are different on the inside—they are built with the patented extra process of Gum-Dipping that soaks every coil and insulates every strand with pure liquid rubber, preventing internal friction and heat. No other make of tire is Gum-Dipped.

When you realize that there were 882,000 automobile accidents in 1934, injuring 954,000 people and killing 36,000, and that 45,000 of these accidents were caused by blowouts, punctures and skidding, you will be more interested in the make of tires you use on your car.

Firestone performance records again emphasize the unduplicated quality of Firestone tires are not only blowout-proof, but give greatest protection against skidding. There are three questions and answers that will solve the problem of what tires to buy:

QUESTION 1—"Will the tread give me the greatest traction and protection against skidding?"

ANSWER—Recent tests by a leading University show that Firestone High Speed Non-Skid Tires stop a car 15% quicker than any other of the leading makes. For eight consecutive years Firestone tires have been on the winning car in the dangerous Pike's Peak Race where a skid means death. This is undisputed evidence that Firestone gives car owners greatest protection against skidding.

QUESTION 2—"Are they blowout-proof?"

ANSWER—Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires have the most amazing records for being blowout-proof of any tires ever built. In the gruelling 200-Mile Race at Indianapolis, May 30, 1934, every one of the 33 cars was equipped with Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires. Kelly Peltola won the race and broke the record over this 26-year-old rough brick track without tire trouble. In fact, 11 of the 33 drivers had the trouble of any kind.

As Jenkins drove his 5,000-pod-car on Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires over the hot soil beds of Utah, 3,000 miles in 2 1/2 hours, at an average speed of 127.2 miles per hour, with temperatures as high as 120°, without tire trouble of any kind. These are most amazing proofs of blowout protection ever known.

QUESTION 3—"Without sacrificing these two important safety features will they give me longer mileage, thus making them the most economical tires I can buy?"

ANSWER—Firestone High Speed Tires not only give you more than 50% longer wear, but also lowest cost per mile. This is made possible by the tough, wear-resisting tread built with high-grade shoulders and a flatter contour. This thick, rugged, scientifically designed tread is held securely to the Gum-Dipped cord body by Firestone's patented construction of two water layers of cords around the tread. This is a special construction feature not used in any other tire. Unequaled mileage records by thousands of car owners add undisputed evidence of the longer wear and greater economy of Firestone High Speed Tires.
